HIGH SCHOOL WON FROM RUTGERS PREP.

Lively Baseball Game at the Crescent Oval.

THE SCORE WAS 10 TO 8.

SEVERAL HUNDRED PEOPLE TURNED OUT TO WITNESS IT.

Interesting Game From the Start—Edwards and the Plainfield Infield Was Too Strong a Combination—Visitors Errors Were Costly and They Couldn't Bunch Their Hits—Fine Team Work by High School.

The faculty of being able to take advantage of the other fellows' mistakes and, incidentally, helping themselves along, gave the victory to the baseball nine of the Plainfield High School, in their opening game with the Rutgers Prep School at the Crescent Oval Saturday afternoon. The Plainfield boys won by a score of 10 to 8 and several hundred people found the game a very interesting one to watch.

It was the first chance that the Plainfield enthusiasts had of seeing the High School boys pitted against outside talent. It demonstrated the fact that they could play well together and could bat when it became necessary.

The visitors were rather demoralized in the first inning when a base on balls, singles by Radford, Millar and Craig and some costly fumbling by the Prep School infield netted four runs for Plainfield. Nobody scored again until the fifth when the visitors began to bat. A single by Kip and doubles by Little and Edgar made things lively. Then Edwards threw the ball wild to Squires and let in two more runs. A single by Colson added another. The inning ended with five for Rutgers which would have been more but for a sad mistake by the umpire in calling a runner out at the plate.

Plainfield tied the score and then made five runs in the next inning on singles by Fisher and Edwards and sundry errors for the visiting infield. In the eighth and ninth innings the Rutgers team made three more runs but Edwards and the Plainfield infield held together and refused to get rattled.

Edwards pitched a good game with the exception of one wild throw. He had excellent support, Fisher at short particularly distinguishing himself.

The game was entirely free from kicking and was very interesting. The detailed score was as follows.

SAYS HELL IS DIVIDED.

Rev. H W. McKane Makes Some Novel Claims in the Pulpit.

Rev. H. W. McKane, of the Christian church, believes that hell is divided just as the Apostle teaches us that Heaven is. He preached to his people last night upon that subsubject, and taking the passages of Scripture that teach that there are different places in Heaven, used them to prove the same state of things to exist in the other place.

Mr. McKane believes that the very bad will receive a punishment heavier than that meted out to those who are not so deep in wickedness.

Changes in Residences.

The following real estate changes have been effected through the agency of E. C. Mulford, the North avenue real estate and insurance broker: S. M. Craft, vice-president of the United States Fire Insurance Company, has rented the residence at 31 Rockview avenue. M. Bazing has purchased the property at 455 Kensington avenue, and has leased the same to Mr. Garry and family, of Cleveland, O. U. B. Kinsey has rented the property at 722 LaGrande avenue. Nelson A. Miller, of Philadelphia, has leased the property at 50 Washington avenue. Mrs. LaTourette has rented the property at 20 Jackson avenue.

AN OLD VETERAN DEAD.

WILLIAM R. MOORE SUCCUMBS TO COMPLICATION OF DISEASES.

He Was Born in Mt. Horeb, But Went West Where He Enlisted for Service in Civil War—Prominent G. A. R. Man.

The death of another of Plainfield's oldest citizens occurred Saturday afternoon when William R. Moore, of New street, passed away after a long illness from a complication of diseases.

Mr. Moore was born at Mt. Horeb and was sixty-three years of age. When a young man he moved to Verdon, Ill., and from that place he enlisted in Co. D., 33d Illinois, which was known as the Normal Regiment. He enlisted in 1861 and in 1862 he was discharged for disability. After that he moved back to this State and took up his residence in Plainfield, where he has lived for thirty-four years.

By trade he was a mason. He was married in 1864. His wife and two children, Mrs. Isaac N. Wyckoff, of this city, and Willis Moore, of Newark, survive him, also a grandson, Roy Wyckoff.

Mr. Moore was one of the faithful members of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., of this city, and for many years he was Junior Vice Commander of the post.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:45 o'clock from the house and the G. A. R. will have charge. The Woman's Relief Corps and members of the Mason's Union will also attend in a body.

THE PUMP GAVE OUT.

And Then the Fire Consumed the House of Charles Doneison, Near Graceland.

The family of Charles Doneison, whe recently moved from Westfield to the Hayes house near Graceland, were rudely awakened from their quiet Sunday rest yesterday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock by the crackling of flames. An incubator burning three lamps was the cause of the fire.

As soon as the blaze was discovered the family started in to fight it and were succeeding very nicely when the pump, the only water supply about the building, broke. An alarm was then sent to the Scotch Plains Fire Department and the apparatus of both companies made a quick run of the nearly two miles but it was then too late to save the house.

Their attention was then directed towards saving the barns and outbuildings which were already on fire. After a hard fight they finally won but not until the flames had caught three times. By the timely assistance of the neighbors a great deal of the furniture was saved, and it is said the loss on the house is covered by insurance.

BUILDING THE TROLLEY.

Work Progressing on the Link Between Westfield and Garwood.

The work on the Plainfield-Elizabeth line of the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railroad Company is progressing rapidly at Garwood. The road bed has been graded from that place to Central avenue in Westfield and the workmen are now at work on South avenue between Garwood and Cranford. The rails are expected this week and then work of laying them will commence and the road between Westfield and Garwood will be completed within two weeks. The latest report has it that if the Roselle council refuses to grant the company a franchise the road will be built from a point this side of Roselle and thence to New Orange and thence to Irvington and Newark.

OIL PIPE LINE ABANDONED

Standard Company Not Likely to Build Through Elizabethport

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 1.—The Standard Oil Company's iron pipes, after lying nearly two years at Elizabethport, along the line of the Long Branch Railroad, have been carted away, and it looks as if the oil company had abandoned its project to lay its line through the town.

The people feel elated over the removal of the pipes. A gang of men had begun to dig the trench when they were stopped by an injunction secured by taxpayers.

Important Meeting of Council.

This evening an important meeting of the Common Council will be held at which time a number of measures of great interest will be considered.

Sir Knights to be Gallant.

This evening Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., will observe ladies' night, and a programme of excellence has been prepared for the ladies.

Gazelle's Last Meeting.

There will be a final meeting of Gazelle Engine Company Wednesday evening when disposition will be made of the company's effects.

"DIPLOMACY" ACTED BY AMATEUR TALENT.

Excellent Presentation of Sardou's Great Drama.

A FASHIONABLE AUDIENCE.

CLEVER WORK DONE BY THOSE TAKING THE LEADING PARTS.

Mrs. W. L Saunders Was Natural in the Part of "Dora," and as the Adventuress Miss Cooley Gave a Splendid Portrayal—Good Character Work by W. L. Saunders and F. J. Pincoff.

Before an audience that completely filled Music Hall Saturday night "Diplomacy," Sardou's popular and strong drama, was performed by a company of local players. In their dramatic attainments they ranked very close to professionals, and gave a presentation of this sterling play that was highly creditable to their talent and pleasing to the large audience.

Not since the last amateur production of a play in Music Hall four years ago has such a fashionable audience gathered within the walls of this theatre. A major portion of it was in full dress and thereby lent dash and magnificence to the affair that was fitting to accompany the admirable results that prevailed behind the footlights.

As for the performance itself, it was all that could be desired and much more than might be expected of those who took part, in view of the fact that their participation in the thespian world was but brief and only fitted by instruction in the artifices of the drama at odd moments and under circumstances not as propituous as accorded those who make acting a profession. In fact, some of the impersonations exhibited an intuitive appreciation of the theatric requirements quite remarkable in amateurs. This result was due, of course, in a large degree, to the careful rehearsing conducted by Alfred Young, under whose direction the performance was perfected as seen on the stage. But without the natural talent which was gathered together in the several characters, with which Sardou works out his interesting story, the results would not have possessed the finished touch that was given. It was due to the combined efforts of all, working in unison and appreciation of what was required, that brought out the strength of the play and impressed the audience so favorably.

It is a fact that no matter how perfect the dramatic talent of a production may be, if the scenic accessories are inadequate the performance fails in many respects. This difficulty did not exist in "Diplomacy," however, for the stage settings were of such a character that no essential was missing. A large orchestra, under the leadership of George Rogers, furnished the incidental music in a satisfactory manner during the progress of the play, and between the acts rendered overtures.

And now as to the personal work of the performers. As "Dora," around whom the action of the drama is carried out in excellent form, Mrs. W. L. Saunders scored a success that was evidenced in the hearty applause provoked by more than the perfunctory admiration of friends in the audience. Mrs. Saunders' conception of the character was skillful and true, and she played it in such an unconscious and natural way that it possessed a charming effect to the audience. In her emotional scenes she was excellent. Though amateurs are prone to be stagey at periods of their impersonations, Mrs. Saunders avoided such distressing instances, and instead gave a thoroughly sympathetic and artistic portrayal of the part.

Alfred Young's portrayal of "Capt. Beauclerc" was typical of the straightforward, resolute and faithful young fellow who puts honesty above the devious ways of society. As one experienced in theatrical work much was expected of Mr. Young, and he did not fail in fulfilling the requisites of the character.

As the adventuress, "Countess Zicka," Miss Grace Webster Cooley was splendid. Her appearance, her voice and her manner were all in accord with the character, and she furnished a clever portrayal.

W. L. Saunders appeared to a great advantage in the part of "Baron Stine." In the character make-up he looked every inch the crafty, conscienceless man the part is. The sang froid manner, the patronizing ways, the suave tongue and easy going acts of the villian were stamped in his every move. The "Baron" is a difficult character, but Mr. Saunders acted it with dramatic

RAID ON COCKING MAIN.

SPECTATORS ESCAPED, BUT POLICE CAPTURED COCKS.

Police Made a Descent on a Hotel in Garwood and There Was a Mad Rush of the Sports to Get Out of the Place.

(Special to The Daily Press)

Garwood, May 1.—There was plenty of excitement here Saturday night or rather early Sunday morning when the township committee of Cranford and Constables Hennesy, Bindenbirger and Shindler made a raid on the Union County Hotel, thinking that a cock fight was in progress. The officers entered the front door. The word was given that they were officers and about fifty sports from Scotch Plains, Plainfild, Westfield and Cranford made a rush for the back door, but they found that they could not get out that way quickly enough so the windows were tried.

The fight was to have been held was called a "shake"—that is, the birds belonging to several parties being handled by two men. The men who were to handle them Sunday were from Scotch Plains and Plainfield. The birds, numbering about twenty, were in one room and the officers captured eleven of them but the owners got away with the rest. As the officers had seen no fight and there was no evidence that there was one except the men being present and the birds on hand there was no arrests.

After the officers had returned to Cranford and the men had gathered together again they started for home. A number of men from the Fourth ward, Plainfield, were in a carriage and overtook several Westfield men, who were on foot and a few hot words brought on a fight in which, it is said, the Plainfielders came out second best.

A FUTILE CONFERENCE.

SENATOR KEAN STILL HOLDS OUT FOR CHEAP TERMS.

City Officials and Railway Company Unable to Agree on Terms for New Trolley Franchise in Elizabeth—Deadlocked.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 1.—The much talked of conference between Councilmen Ford, Corrigan and Berry and Senator John Kean on the question of granting the Elizabeth Street Railway a franchise, was held Friday night behind closed doors in the City Hall.

The franchise has been held up because Mr. Kean would not agree to a five cent fare from Elizabethport to Cranford station on the Central Railroad, distance eight miles. The conference resulted in a fizzle as both sides were obdurate. Mr. Kean agreed to send his position in the matter in writing to the City Council Monday night.

Councilman Ford, Democrat, declared that he would not recede from his stand for five cent fare. The whole matter is now practically deadlocked.

MODERN OFFICE BUILDING.

A. D. Thompson Has Plans in View for a New Business Block.

Though his plans are not fully decided yet, A. D. Thompson will soon commence the erection of a new building on the site of the structure on North avenue that was burned last fall.

At present his plans are to put up a four-story brick building of a modern design. The first floor, with its wide front, will be devoted to one large store. The upper floors will be offices, and possibly a lodge room or two. An elevator will be put in, and every other convenience of modern offices will be used.

In the rear of the lot, facing East Second street, where the stables were located, Mr. Thompson intends putting up a flat building.

MRS. PLACE'S COUSIN'S DEATH.

Andrew Kuden Killed by a Bolt of Lightning Yesteeday.

Mrs. Charles Place, of Grove street, received a telegram this morning telling her that her cousin, Andrew Kuden, of South Larona, N. Y., was killed yesterday morning by a stroke of lightning. Mrs. Place has received no further word concerning the accident, and knows none of the circumstances surrounding it. There was a heavy shower yesterday morning over that section of the country, and it is supposed that Mr. Kuden was out in it.

To Talk of the Communion Cup.

Instead of the regular covenant meeting at the Park Avenue Baptist church this week three addresses will be delivered by members of the church upon the meaning of the communion cup. The speakers will be Messrs. Dayton, Ingham and Watts. Each one will treat of the subject from a different stand point.

SOMERVILLE G. O P. GREATLY STIRRED UP.

Excitment Over Appointment of Postmaster.

ALVAH CLARK RESIGNED.

AND GEORGE W. COOPER ATTEMPTS TO STEAL A MARCH.

Mr. Clark's Resignation Came Unexpected, But There Was a Suggestive Timeliness of Mr. Cooper's Application for the Appointment—Congressman Howell Induced to Have President Withhold it.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 1.—A fierce fight over the postmastership of Somerville has been precipiated by the unexpected resignation of A. A. Clark, the present Democratic postmaster, and the active candidacy of George W. Cooper for the place. Mr. Clark was appointed by Mr. Cleveland in the last year of his term. There were a number of candidates, several of whom allege that Mr. Clark had promised to use his influence in their behalf. The town was greatly surprised one morning to read the announcement that Mr. Clark had been reappointed. His term does not expire for nearly a year, and their had been no intimation of his resigning.

There had been no open canvass for the office on the Republican side until Thursday, when Mr. Cooper started with a petition for himself. It was thought that this petition was to be sent to the department to be considered with those of other candidates, but Friday word reached here that Mr. Cooper's petition and Mr. Clark's resignation had reached Washington by the same mail that day. Congressman Howell was in Washington and received them. He filed them at once with President McKinley's secretary, with his recommendation that Mr. Cooper be appointed.

The town was stirred over the news. It was openly chargd that Mr. Clark and Mr. Cooper had worked together to accomplish Mr. Cooper's appointment, and that he was not likely to receive the place if it was left to the decision of the people. There were rumors of all sorts of deals. Republicans were particularly indignant, because they alleged that a Democratic leader was trying to dictate who his Republican successor should be, and they resented such interference.

Friends of opposition candidates hurried to New Brunswick and conferred with Congressman Howell, who had just arrived from Washington. They presented the matter in such strong terms that the Congressman consented to withdraw his recommendation and sent word to Washington at once. There is great indignation here against Mr. Cooper among many Republicans. It is probable that Mr. Clark's resignation will not be acted upon until the matter has been fixed up here.

CARTRIDGE EXPLODED.

Veteran of the Spanish War Had His Face Filled With Powder.

Thomas Welch was a gunner in the Sixth United States Artillery during the Spanish-American war but all his experiences there were not as exciting as the one that happened to him Saturday afternoon, when he nearly lost his eyesight by the premature exploding of a cartridge and incidentally nearly shot George Gould in the back.

Welch lives on Madison avenue. Recently, since his honorable discharge from the army, he has been in Gould's bicycle store and repair shop on Park avenue. Saturday afternoon he was there repairing a rifle. He was adjusting the breech mechanism and had placed a loaded cartridge in position. When he closed the breech, the cartridge exploded, blowing his eyes and face full of powder. The bullet whizzed past Gould who was in the front part of the store, struck the wall and fell at Gould's feet.

While Welch's injuries are painful, they are not of a very serious nature and will not injure his eyesight. The escape was entirely too close for enjoyment, however.

Odd Fellows Anniversary.

Queen City Lodge, No. 226, I.O.O.F., will celebrate the eightieth anniversary of Odd Fellows this evening. Arrangements have been made to make this the most interesting meeting to Odd Fellows ever held in this city. Major Gilmore, of Cadem, will be the speaker on this occasion. All Odd Fellows in Plainfield and vicinity are invited to be present —All bills against the borough must be in the hands of Clerk Frank Rowley by tomorrow evening.

GREAT ARRAY OF FLAGS.

C. E. BUELL'S DISPLAY IS OF HISTORIC INTEREST.

They Were Emblems Used by the Spaniards During Their Rule in Porto Rico—Mr. Buell Got Them While There

Today being Dewey Day and a general display of flags is to be seen all over the city, there is a special significance attached to the array to be seen at the residence of Charles E. Buell, of Craig place. Mr. Buell was secretary to the Porto Rican Commission, at the head of which was Hon. H. K. Carroll, and while in Porto Rico Mr. Buell saw a great deal of interest.

His display comprises an Admiral's flag that was in continuous use on the port boat at San Juan for several years, and under its folds every Admiral and general officer has sailed when going between ships and shore at San Juan. The last man to sail under this flag was the Military Governor of Porto Rico, Gen. Machias, as he embarked for Spain in October, 1898. The flag is a regulation Admiral flag, bearing the coat of arms of Spain in the centre, together with the colors red and yellow, while there is a display of two blue stars in the yellow.

Another flag is a marker of the Third Madrid Infantry of the army of Spain in Porto Rico, and was in active service. It bears the coat of arms in the centre and the inscription "3d Battalion Infantry, de Madrid," printed thereon.

The third flag is that which floated over historic Casa Blanca at San Juan, together with the rope that held it. This rope was shot away by a shell from Sampson's fleet in the bombardment of May 12th, 1898. This flag is a long one and three coats of arms are used. Outside of the Engineer Corps no other body uses this style of flag.

Mr. Buell experienced some difficulty in securing these flags. There were two other flags but they were sent to Washington.

It is not to be presumed that Mr. Buell is guilty of treason, for in displaying the Spanish flags he has also made a good display of the American colors.

TALKED TO THE PYTHIANS.

Dr. Raymond Addressed Secret Society Men at Y. M. C. A.

About forty Knights of Pythias, composed of members of Unity and Perseverance Lodges, attended the men's rally at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon. The speaker was A. A. V. Raymond, president of Union Theological Seminary, and during the service a trio from the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church sang.

The Knights of Pythias occupied seats in front of the hall, and the speaker's words were aimed directly at them. Dr. Raymond lived in Plainfield at the time the question of organizing a Y. M. C. A. was first agitated, and mentioned this in his remarks. The difference in the buildings and surroundings of the association now to what they were at that time was alluded to.

President Cahoone opened the meeting, and introduced the speaker. During the offering, Assistant Secretary Davis rendered a cornet solo.

DRILLING THE FINEST.

Police Put Through Maneuvers Saturday Afternoon.

The last afternoon drill of the police took place Saturday afternoon in the Crescent Rink. Each year the officers are given one solid month of training and drill, usually in April. Every Saturday afternoon during this month Sergeant Kiely puts them through an hour's work, and the good results of this little training is felt all through the year.

It was expected that the members of the Council and the Mayor would be be present at Saturday's drill, but the only spectators besides the Chief were Chairman Buckle, of the police committee, and Mr. Barrows. The officers appeared in full dress and made a fine appearance. Mr. Barrows took a hand in drilling them towards the last, and as he is a Seventh Regiment man he put a dash in his orders that the men could not fail to appreciate.

Busy in the City Park.

Within the past few days workmen have been busy with the city park, cutting the grass, trimming up the trees, and digging the flower beds. The settees have been brought out and placed in the centre, and the park begins to be an ornament to the city.

Whiskey His Trouble.

John Palco, an Italian supposed to be insane, was given a night's lodging at the city jail. This morning he was examined by Drs. Long and Carman and it was decided that he was suffering from alcoholic troubles. So he was released.

PARK GOLF CLUB'S SEASON OPENED.

Under the Shadow of the Mountain the Game is Played.

SENATOR REED A PLAYER.

MADE HIS DEBUT ON THE LINKS SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

Entered Into a Contest With Charles Hyde, and Was Beaten by the Latter—Event of the Day Was a Scratch Tournament in Which Good Scores Were Made—Tea Served by the Ladies.

Last Saturday afternoon the course of the Park Golf Club was formally opened for the season under most favorable auspices. The charming day and the fine condition of the course attracted a large number of enthusiasts to the grounds. In the morning there were a number of players going over the course, but in the afternoon the attendance was large.

It is stated by those competent to judge that the course is the equal, if not superior to any in this vicinity, and playing thereon is a pleasure. Mr. Hyde, the owner of the grounds has been making some excellent improvements, and as the grounds are well supplied with natural drainage, this precludes all possibility of having a wet and soggy course. Everyone who went over the course Saturday were delighted and expressed satisfaction.

During the afternoon there was a pleasant social event when a tea was given by Mrs. Henry A. McGee and Mrs. Samuel Townsend. Many of the guests visited the clubhouse and enjoyed a chat and cup of tea, as well as the genuine hospitality of those in charge.

The event of the day was the scratch tournament, eighteen holes, medal play, open to the active members of the club. Two prizes consisting of golf sticks were offered for the best scores. W. D. Anderson won the prize for the men with a gross score of 104, while Miss Edith Hyde, with a score of 156, secured the prize for the women.

A decided feature of the afternoon play was the contest between Charles Hyde and Senator Charles A. Reed. Mr. Hyde has played on the course a number of times and is becoming quite familiar with it. His colleague, the Senator, has not engaged in the game to any extent and Saturday he played for the first time on the course and he was beaten by a score of 154 to 136. The Senator accepted his defeat in his usual affable manner, notwithstanding the fact that he felt sure of defeating his opponent. It can now be said that the Senator is a golf enthusiast and his friends may expect to see him on the the course very often during this season.

The scores in the tournament, other than those mentioned above, include the following: B. M. Shepard, 105; Thomas S. Leeser, 106; A. Crowe, 109; W. O. Townsend, 110: W. J. R. Thiers, 120; G. W. Faber, 121; S. S. Squier, 124; W. J. Roome, Jr., 124; Arthur Peck, 125; E. T. Douglass, 142; J. H. Howell, 144; Beaman Douglass, 145; Miss Edith Hyde, 156; Miss Sadie Howell, 172; Miss Adelaide Ball, 184.

ANOTHER BIG CORDAGE PLANT.

Largest in the World, it is Said, Will be in Elizabeth.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 1.—Word was received here yesterday that the directors of the National Cordage Company held a meeting Wednesday night in New York city and decided to build on the company's land in Elizabeth avenue, in this city, what they say will be the largest cordage works in the world. The site will be where the former cordage plant of the company destroyed by fire in 1891 was located.

The plans of the immense structure were exhibited, it is said, and were approved by the company's managers.

FATHER SMYTH DETERMINED.

Again Referred to the "Cider Joints" in Yesterday's Sermon.

Yesterday morning at St. Mary's R. C. church, Rev. Father Smyth, rector, referred again to the Sunday traffic in drink and he urged the hearty co-operation of his people to suppress this evil. He reiterated what he said on the previous Sunday and said that he intends to do all in his power to put a stop to his people visiting these places where drink is sold on Sunday.

Strike Cost the County $3,000.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, May 1.—Bills against Middlesex County for wages Deputy Sheiriffs and other expenses in suppressing rioting at the recent strike of workmen at the Standard Fire Proofing Company's plant at Keasbys, have beed filed with County Collector Serviss. The bills amount to nearly $3,000.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH

A Pleasant, Simple but Safe and Effectual Cure For It.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases causing a pressure on the heart and lungs, and difficult breathing; headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surface of the stomach. To secure prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanson the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic, Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. N. J. Booher, of 2710 Dearborn street, Chicago, Ill., says: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of the stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

Send for little book, mailed free, on stomach troubles, by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. The tablets can be found at all drug stores.

REFUSES AN ARMISTICE.

General Otis Again Says No to Request of Filipino Peace Seekers

ABSOLUTE SURRENDER.

This is What He Fixes as the Price of Peace—Still Refuses to Recognize Filipino Government.

The Envoys Stated That the Natives Realize They Are Beaten but Have No Authority to Surrender Until Congress Meets—Full Amnesty Promised by Otis in Case of Surrender.

Washington, May 1.—The following has been received at the War Department from General Otis.

"Conference with insurgent representatives terminated this forenoon. They request cessation of hostilities three weeks to enable them to call their Congress to decide whether to continue prosecution of war or propose terms of peace. Proposition declined and full amnesty promised on surrender. Believe insurgents tired of war, but seek to secure terms of peace through what they denominate their representative Congress. "OTIS."

Manila, May 1.—Gen. Otis, at the the second conference with the two Filipino envoys again refused their request for an armistice. The delegates returned to the insurgent lines.

It is regarded as practically certain, however, that the next offer by the Filipinos will be unconditional surrender.

Aguinaldo, it is reported, has expressed his willingness to surrender everything on condition that the United States grant an independent form of government to the Islands under an American protectorate.

The last conference between General Otis and the Filipino commissioners lasted three hours. It was again without results. Admiral Dewey and Professor Schurman, of the Philippine Commission, were present during the parley.

General Luna's envoys were the same as previously—Colonel Manuel Arguelles, General Luna's chief of staff, and Lieutenant Jose Bernal.

The Filipino officers simply renewed the request made before that an armistice be granted until the Filipino Congress could meet and act.

They frankly admitted to General Otis that the Filipinos were whipped, and knew it. Their contention was, however, that Aguinaldo, Luna and other leaders had not the power to surrender without the sanction of their Congress.

General Otis emphatically refused the request for an armistice on those conditions. The Americans, he said, did not and would not recognize the so-called Filipino Congress or Government.

After a long parley, the meeting broke up. The Commissioners returned to the Filipino lines on the afternoon train, after taking luncheon with Mr. Schurman.

While the two days' negotiations have thus far been barren of results, the best opnion in Manila, both among the Americans and the prominent natives, is that the incident is the beginning of the end.

The Filipino envoys practically admitted that their army was in desperate straits, and thoroughly whipped

It is believed that the Filipinos will now ask for further conferences and that they will finally surrender on the best terms possible to obtain.

Queer Junta Story.

London, May 1.—Members of the Filipino Junta here made the statement that the peace negotiations between the United States authorities at Manila and Gen. Luna were unofficial in character.

Gen. Luna, the Junta asserts, does not represent Aguinaldo's Government. It is further asserted by the Junta that secret negotiations between Dean C. Worcester, of the United States Philippine Commission, and a representative of Aguinaldo have been in progress since before the attack on Malolos.

The following conditions, it is alleged, were proposed after the capture of Malolos:

The Americans to issue a proclamation granting the Filipinos self-government and political, civil and religious rights similar to those enjoyed by the people of Canada; the Filipinos to control international mercantile relations; Americans and Filipinos to enjoy equal rights in the islands; Manila to remain in the possession of the United States until Congress decides otherwise; the American flag to fly over the Capitols of the Islands and in the most prominent positions, along with the Filipino flag, except at Manila, where only the American flag shall fly; all vessels to fly the American flag with that of the Filipinos; the Roman Catholic clergy to be under the same administration as in the United States; Spanish clerical direction and intervention to be abolished; the statu quo of rural property belonging to the religious orders to be maintained, and that ante bellum hospitals and schools formerly administered by the orders be handed over to the Government, the orders to retain only their present town property; the secular clergy to retain their property.

The Junta asserts that Aguinaldo, in view of these proposals, withdrew from Malolos, but that Gen. Otis' proclamation after the occupation of Malolos failed to grant self-government on the proposed lines.

Funston For Governor.

Topeka, May 1.—Frederick Funston of the Twentieth Kansas, may be the next Governor of Kansas. It depends upon himself. He can have anything he wishes within the gift of the State of Kansas. If he will accept a nomination for Governor, Gov. Stanley will step out with the understanding that he shall be sent to the United States Senate in 1901.

Howling Blizzard Rages.

Deadwood, S. Dak., May 1.—A howling blizzard is raging through the Black Hills.

Six inches of snow has fallen here and reports from further north state that the fall is heavier than in this immediate vicinity.

THE LATEST NEWS.

SURGEON'S DUTY ABOVE FILIAL LOVE.

Chicago, May 1.—A tragedy in the operating room of the Hannemann Hospital brought out qualities in a man that showed the power of professional training over filial love. When Dr. Reuben Ludlam, President of the Hahnemann College and dean of the faculty, dropped dead while performing a delicate surgical operation, his son, who was assisting him, was compelled, with steady nerve, to complete the operation and leave his father to other hands, not knowing whether he was alive or dead. Dr. Ludlum's death was caused by heart disease.

The operation was almost half completed when he uttered an exclamation of distress, the knife dropped from his nervous fingers and he sunk unconscious into a chair. His son, Dr. Reuben Ludlam, Jr., who was assisting him, glanced a his father, over whose face the pallor of death was gathering., then at the patient in the operating chair and instantly took up the work where his sire had left off, while the attendants carried the venerable phiysician to another room and summoned Dr. Halbert and Dr. Geo. F. Shears. They applied restoratives and did all they could, but in a few moments the last signs of life disappeared. Meanwhile the son had completed the operation with care and skill, though suffering under terrible suspense. The operation was successful.

HE SCOURGED "DEVILS" OUT OF HIS CHILD.

New York, May 1.—For scourging a "devil child" until the poor little creature was almost dead and a terrifying sight on account of the bruises and welts he had inflicted, an ignorant father was held for trial by Magistrate Pool, who mourned the passing of the whipping post. He said that institution, alas! had gone with fear of witchcraft, yet he was confronted by a man who believed his daughter was bewitched and sought to whip devils ou of her by almost killing her. The father pleaded as an excuse that his daughter was possessed of many devils. To prove it he bent her hands and ankles backward in the court room until the hands touched the wrists and the feet touched the legs above the instep. The poor little victim of parent's ignorance merely was double-jointed. He did not know that was a common thing, never having seen it before, and sought to cast out imagined devils from the child by almost killing her.

TWO KILLED BY BLAST IN MINE.

Newark, N. J., May 1.—William McPeak of Port Oram, was brought to S. Michael's Hospital in this city suffering from injuries received in an explosion in the Richard iron mines in Port Oram. He is terribly lacerated about the head and face and has bad wounds in the abdomen. The explosion which injured McPeak killed two other men. James Williams, Charles McPeak and William McPeak were preparing a blast in which is known as the new slope. The holes had been drilled and the three were in the drift inserting the charges. The explosion occurred when the three loaders had the greater portion of the holes loaded. The blast threw out the iron ore in all directions. Charles McPeak and Williams were instantly killed. The drillers were stunned and some of them struck by flying fragments of the ore, but none was seriously hurt.

A BEHEADED MAN FOUND IN WOODS

Williamstown, N. J., May 1.—The headless body of Guarro F. Feo, of ths place, who mysteriously disappeared on April 22, was found in Blue Anchor, Camden County, a short distance from here. Two hours later his head was picked up in the pine field, 300 yards from where the body was found. Feo was undoubtedly murdered, and Francisco Abbatto, of this place, is in jail on suspicion of having committed the crime. On April 22 Feo and Abbatto went driving, but only Abbatto returned home. Feo is said to have had $600 with him when he left home. Searching parties were sent out each day, when blood was seen near Blue Anchor. A search was made and about seventy-five yards from the road the body was found. The head had been cleanly severed at the shoulders. There were stab wounds on the face and neck.

AN OLD PROFESSOR A SUICIDE.

Albany, May 1.—Professor Carl A. Meyer, professor of German in the Albany High School and assistant teacher of that language in the Albany Female Academy, committed suicide in a lonely spot on the Kenwood road. His body was found by Martin Knaff, a farmer. Tightly clutched in the right hand was a .32-cal. revolver, and one chamber exploded. The body was lying on the grass, face downward. Professor Meyer shot himself through the heart. The Professor was nearly 80 years old.

TWO SLAIN IN A RAILROAD WRECK.

Rochester, May 1.—There was a bad railroad wreck on the Rochester and Lake Ontario Railroad, better known as the Bay Railroad, at Rosenbaur's Corners, about one-half mile north of the city line. Two cars of an excursion train, filled with passengers, left the track while going around a curve at full speed and were completely wrecked. More than fifty persons were injured; two are dead and several are mortally hurt.

GERMANY'S WARSHIPS WERE IN DANGER.

Kiel, Prussia, May 1.—A serious fire broke out in Krupp's Germania dockyard, resulting in the destruction of several storehouses and workshops and doing damage to the value of £100,000 ($500,000). Two German men-of-war that are in process of construction in the yard were saved with the utmost difficulty.

CRITICISES GENERAL MILES

The Wade Court of Inquiry Has Concluded Its Work of Investigation.

THE REPORT IS SIGNED.

The Document Comprising Thirty Thousand Words Turned Over to the War Department.

Contents Not Made Public But Reported That the Court Attacks General Miles for Failure to Notify the War Department Promptly—Sustains Him in Part—Canned Roast Beef Not Suitable Ration.

Washington, May 1.—The Wade Court of Inquiry has concluded its work in connection with the allegations of Gen. Miles concerning the beef supplied to the army during the war with Spain. The report was signed Saturday by every member of the board, and soon afterward the members of the court left the Lemon Building, where all the meetings in this city have been held.

Col. Davis, the recorder of the court, carried the official copy of the findings to the War Department, and in the absence of Seretary Alger delivered it to Acting Secretary Meiklejohn. Mr. Meiklejohn immediately sealed the document in an envelope and forwarded it to the White House, whence it was despatched forthwith to the President in New York.

The report makes about 30,000 words and goes fully into the questions which have been raised in connection with the army beef. The text has not been made public, and will not be until after the President shall have read it. It will then rest with him to say whether the report shall be given to the public.

The verdict, however, is known to be the allegations which Gen. Miles made before the War Investigating Commission are not sustained with reference to the refrigerated beef, although his contention that the canned roast beef was not a suitable continuous ration is admitted.

There is direct criticism of Gen. Miles for failing to promptly bring to the attention of the War Department the reports made to him concerning bad beef, and several individuals are censured for failing to observe the proprieties of their positions as commanding officers in this and other respects.

The court, it appears, takes the position that the testimony is conclusive that both the refrigerated beef and the canned beef were in good condition when delivered to the Government and continued so until issued to the troops, except in especial instances, where the deterioration was due to accidental conditions in transportation or to the influences of the tropical climate.

The report admits the liability of refrigerated beef to taint quickly after removal from the ice-chests. The court finds the charges of "embalming" the fresh beef to have been substantiated by the testimony, and says that no chemicals were used to preserve it. It also finds that it would have been impracticable to secure beef on the hoof for the Cuban campaign. The finding is likewise in opposition to the assertion on the part of Gen. Miles that the use of the beef was an experiment.

Much attention is given to the charges concerning the canned roast beef, and it is stated that the testimony proves it to have been wholesome and nutritious where used in moderation and under favorable circumstances. The position is taken that too much of this article of food was supplied to the men, and that under the circumstances it was unpalatable and found undesirable as a continuous ration. The fact is set forth that the canned roast beef had not been used to any appreciable extent before the beginning of this war, and it is therefore regarded as a practically untried ration.

In view of this fact the Commissary General of Subsistence is roundly criticised for the purchase of the meat in such extensive quantities. As to the character of the meat for wholesomeness and nutrition, the reports of Prof. Atwater and Chittenden are quoted at length, sustaining the claim in this respect. The instructions of the President are followed closely, and all the points indicated by him as being those upon which he desired that inquiry should be made, are covered.

Accordingly, the court finds that the meat was not "doctored;" that it was the beef of commerce; that there was no more neglect than was incident to the hurried preparation for the war; that the inspection, while generally according to regulations, was not always up to the requirements, and that the sickness of the troops was not to any great degree occasioned by the use of either the canned or the refrigerated beef.

On the other hand it is found that Gen Miles himself did not report during the war that the beef, either refrigerated or canned, was unfit as a ration. Other officers who gave their testimony before the court are found also to have neglected what the court conceived to have been their duty in this respect, and all are blamed for this failure. But the court does not think further proceedings necessary.

Earthquake in Kentucky

Louisville, Ky., May 1.—A violent earthquake shock was felt in Louisville and Jeffersonville, Ind. The vibrations were from northeast to southwest and houses were swayed as tree limbs in a gale. In this county thousands of persons were terribly frightened and rushed from their homes. As far as known no one was hurt and no houses were demolished. There was only one shock and it lasted only ten seconds.

Recluse Left Fortune to a Girl.

Laporte, Ind., May 1.—David Hepburn, who died recently without friends or relatives at Reno, Mich., was believed to be penniless, but his will, which has just been filed, bequeaths $60,000 to Miss Maggie Montgomery, a girl of the village, who had befriended Hepburn in his life as a recluse.

RIPANS

ETHEL. The English people are reaching out in every direction to discover methods for prolonging life. They have generally determined that the road to longevity leads through the stomach. This causes fantastic notions in regard to diet, as changeable as the fashion in gowns. Almost every physician of note makes himself responsible for some dietetic formula to accomplish the object in view.

AGNES. In America they have discovered that what is needed to prolong life and banish pain is a Ripans Tabule taken when the first symptom of indisposition manifests itself. One gives relief.

A new style packet containing TEN RIPANS TABULES in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FOR FIVE CENTS. This low-priced sort is intended for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (120 tabules) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York—or a single carton (TEN TABULES) will be sent for five cents. RIPANS TABULES may also be had of grocers, general storekeepers, news agents and at liquor stores and barber shops.

DEWEY DAY IS HERE.

Who does not recall that memorable night a year ago when in every city and hamlet, thousands of anxious faces scanned the bulletin boards that at first gave meagre and garbled accounts by way of Madrid of that wonderful battle that had been fought at Manila; how at first false reports emanating from Spanish sources threw a gloom over the assembled thousands and how men held their breath in the belief that some dreadful calamity had befallen the American fleet in the waters of Manila Bay? But the suspense and anxiety caused by the garbled reports only intensified the wild joy and enthusiasm that broke loose when the hot wires began to flash with true accounts of the first and most splendid victory of our war with Spain. It seemed almost incredible that there should be so complete and so sweeping a victory without the loss of a single ship or a single man History may be searched in vain for a paralled On the following day the name of George Dewey was the most famous in all the world

Now every man knows Dewey, and he has won the confidence of the entire nation. His life and character will ever be a rich heritage. The setting aside of a Dewey Day has come not through a process of law, but through a spontaneous feeling in the hearts of the people that the Admiral is fully worthy of such an honor, an honor accorded only to our greatest and best, to such as Washington and Lincoln and Grant.

Fitting and well comes the joyous news of prospects of peace from Manila upon the eve of Dewey Day This will but add to the general rejoicing, and the Filipinos themselves will learn to honor the man who so quickly snapped the chains that Spain had forged for them We cannot yet, much less can they, appreciate the full significance of the battle of Manila A new era is beginning to dawn not only for us, but for many downtrodden people for whom our guns and the men behind our guns have liberated Amid the smoke and carnage and travail of battle this new era has been born, and he who doubts its beneficent influence in the future doubts all that America stands for. Born of liberty, her mission is not to crush but to spread it. Dewey's guns at Manila sounded the knell of old-time tyranny and wrong, and so what wonder that the liberty-loving American nation rejoices upon the first anniversary of that great victory and honors the hero of it. Dewey Day has come to stay; it will be a permanent institution

THIS IS DEWEY

Fill your glasses to the brim
We pledge the Admiral!

May Abandon Pacific Cable

Ottawa, May 1.—The proposed Pacific cable connecting British Columbia with China and Australia has received a set back that may result in its abandonment. An agreement between the British Government and the Eastern Extension, Australian and China Telegraph and Cable Company, made in 1893 by Lord Ripon, binds the British Government not to lay nor grant any concession for laying submarine cables connecting with Hong Kong, Singapore or Labuan. Great Britain can purchase the cable of the Eastern Extension Company on twelve months' notice for $1,500,000. This seems the only way to prevent a delay to the Canadian cable or its abandonment

Troops Not Needed at Buffalo

Buffalo, April 1.—Brig. Gen. Peter C. Doyle has not actually called the Sixty-fifth and Seventy-fourth Regiments into the field to fight the striking grain shovellers, but he has established a guard mount at both canals and instructed the men to be ready for active service. This is as far as Gen. Doyle could go until requested by the Sheriff or Governor to call out the troops or ordered to do so by his superior military authorities.

There are fifteen hundred union grain shovellers who refuse to accept the new schedule of wages. They are confident that they will win without resorting to violence.

Chewing Gum Combine.

New York, May 1.—It was stated in Wall street that the combination to control the chewing gum manufacturing industry of the country had been practically completed. The papers were signed at the office of Charles R. Flint. The combination will include all the principal manufactories, among them those of Adams & Sons, White & Co., and Beeman Its capitalization will be $9,000,000.

A simple and safe way to clean costly and easily-injured articles is to make a suds of hot water and Ivory Soap, and allow it to cool until lukewarm. This solution, while very effective, is perfectly harmless.

Ivory Soap contains no alkali. It will not destroy the surface or texture of any material, however delicate.

Ivory Soap differs from other soaps. It is more carefully made, and the materials used in its manufacture are the purest and best.

Cruiser Detroit, With Minister Merry on Board, Arrives at Bluefields.

Washington, May 1—The cruiser Detroit, having on board Minister Merry, reached Bluefields, Nicaragua, according to a despatch received. The Department of State expects some trouble in Nicaragua and does not hesitate to announce that in the event that Zelaya attempts to seize property force will be used to prevent it.

American citizens who have complained of the Zelaya Government levying custom duties twice have been advised to make the payment by the Department of State under protest.

The insurgent government under Gen. Reyes forced the American citizens to pay duties on all goods brought during his control of Bluefields, and the merchants naturally object to making another payment.

Minister Merry has advised the department that the Americans have refused to pay the duties a second time and have closed their stores and warehouses, sealed them and raised the American flag over the buildings. This was not in accordance with the instructions sent them by the department.

The State Department wishes to have the duties paid under protest and then recover the money, with interest, by diplomatic negotiations. This is unsatisfactory to the citizens who own property there. They assert that the duties on all goods brought in have already been paid to the de facto government, and that with this payment their responsibility to the existing government ends

The American citizens in Bluefields have refused, and as the Nicaraguan Government has threatened to confiscate their property, the Detroit, with Minister Merry, is there endeavoring to effect an amicable settlement. At the State Department it was emphatically asserted that under no circumstances would the government be permitted to confiscate or even seize the property of American citizens.

The property consists principally of warehouses and machinery for the preservation of tropical fruits and is owned largely by residents of New Orleans.

There has been constant trouble at the port for the past few years owing to the frequent rebellions in the republic. Merchants claim they have no means of telling which government should be recognized and are compelled to pay tribute to all. Secretary Hay has announced that this pernicious system will be stopped

Dewey's Bounty Claim

Washington, May 1.—The Navy Department transmitted to the Court of Claims a report of Admiral Dewey, in which he contends that the Spanish fleet that was destroyed by the American squadron in Manila on May 1, 1898, was in combination with the shore batteries, superior to the American naval forces With the report of Admiral Dewey was sent the list of the claims for bounty by officers and men who participated in the actions of Manila Bay Among the papers enclosed are those relating to the cruiser Raleigh's part in the Manila Bay victory, with a list of officers and men of that vessel entitled to bounty. The report from Admiral Dewey is the most important communication in regard to bounty claims growing out of the war with Spain Upon the views taken by the Board of Claims of Admiral Dewey's contention will depend the amount of money to be paid to Dewey and the officers and men of his May day squadron for destroying the Spanish ships. Under the law on the subject the Government is required to pay $100 for each officer and man on an enemy's ship destroyed by an American vessel when the American naval force is superior to the enemy If, as Admiral Dewey holds, the enemy's force was the superior the bounty must be $200 for each officer and man on the enemy's ships. There were about 1,800 men in the crew of the Spanish vessels at Manila, and the Court of Claims must decide whether $180,000 or $360,000 shall be divided among the American crews.

MILL BLOWS UP

Five Killed in an Explosion at Carney's Point N. J.

Wilmington, Del., May 1.—One of the press mills of the Dupont Smokeless Powder Works at Carney's Point, N. J., blew up and killed five men. One man was fatally injured. The killed were Capt. Sydney Smith, 50 years old, Government Powder Inspector; George Yearger, 22 years old, Penn's Grove; Amos Morris, 17 years old, Penn's Grove; William Freint, 28 years old, Penn's Grove; Harry Smith, 52 years old, Penn's Grove.

The mill was running at the time, and, as usual, no one was inside of it. Yearger, Freint and Smith had just come out of the mill and were but a short distance away when an explosion shook the earth. The one-story sheet-iron mill was lifted from its foundation and carried into the adjoining fields in the shape of kindling wood and scrap iron. The powder presses were entirely destroyed, and not a trace of them could be found. What caused the explosion will never be known. It was a miracle that none of the old mills or magazines exploded. Only a week ago an explosion occurred at the same place, killing several men.

Lakes of Killarney For Sale.

Dublin, May 1.—The Irish Land Court will shortly offer the most admired portion of the Lakes of Killarney for sale. The Muckross estate has already been sold to the tenants, and the mansion, deer park, etc., will be offered with the lakes. The sum mentioned as likely to be the price asked is £30,000. It is feared that the purchaser may exclude the public from the lakes.

Military Service in Mexico

Austin, Tex., May 1.—The new military service law in Mexico will soon go into effect, and several thousand Mexicans have already entered Texas to evade the service. Many of them announce their intention of becoming American citizens.

Virginia Militia Disbanded

Richmond, Va., May 1.—The Governor has disbanded all the State militia except the artillery, one company of infantry and one of cavalry, the balance being unable to pass inspection. All officers' commissions were revoked. General orders for reorganization will follow.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

Without her foibles woman would be only a female.

Only a very weak woman can make a very strong man weak.

A woman is furthest from being beaten when she will admit that she is.

If the average boy was always as polite as his mother tries to make him act before company he would grow up to be a useless man.

The indignation which every woman shows when she sees a widow and a widower making up to each other is generally intended as a warning to her husband.

There may be no marriage in heaven, but there certainly is no heaven in marriage.

Women may learn a lot about the neighbors from their hired girls, but the men go to the barber shop.

It takes all a woman's strength of mind not to hate another one at first sight whose chatelaine is prettier than hers.

Intuition in a woman is, probably, what she discovers other people's love affairs with before they do themselves.

Whether a man likes a woman or not depends on his mood; whether a woman likes a man or not depends half on his mood and half on hers.

HIGH LIGHTS.

Take time to idle, or you will run out of time to work.

At county fairs, as in life, the sideshows cost the most.

One dressy woman in a block will run a dozen innocent men in debt.

The happiest girl is one who thinks her father the best man on earth.

People who have nothing to do lead a dog's life hunting entertainment.

A snob recognizes as his superior only the man who has more money.

Zeal and duty are not slow, but curiosity gets there before either of them.

If you want a short-cut to success take hints from other people's experience.

Age is only a question of how much we are alive and how much we are ——

WHAT WILL HER FUTURE BE?

The Smart Set of New York Wagging Tongues Regarding Her Social Position.

WHAT SHE LOST AND WON

Her Millions Saved Her From the Humiliation of Divorce Court Publicity.

Lawyers Declare the Court Proceedings Were Utterly Irregular and Some Say Illegal—But No One Will Contest Illegality if Any and the Decree Will Stand Was Somebody Paid Heavily?

New York, May 1.—What will society do for the Perry Belmonts?

This is the question of the day wherever members of the Four Hundred are gathered together.

There seems to be no question that the woman, who Friday morning was the wife of Henry T. Sloane and Friday night was the wife of Ex-Congressman Belmont, will make an immediate effort to resume her position at the head of the so-called exclusive set.

It was for this purpose that she came to her husband, a "dowerless bride." It is true that she has a handsome fortune in her own right left her by her father, the late Mr. Robbins. And this she still retains.

But the palace in Seventy-second street, given her by her late husband, all her dower rights, the handsome jewels, the horses, the plate, the pictures and all the other wealth of household treasures which were hers by virtue of his generosity, she returned to him, and the avowed purpose of this giving was that she "might maintain her status in society."

It is true that Mrs. Sloane has made no real sacrifice. In place of the handsome Sloane jewels, she will wear the almost priceless gems of the late Mrs. August Belmont, sr., one of the rarest sets of gems that the world outside of royalty holds. Perry Belmont held them in trust as heirlooms.

She will have two houses, as before—a town house on Fifth avenue, which Mr. Belmont has just leased for another year, and a country house at Newport. She will have the backing of the most powerful segment of the Newport-New York society. She will have her own peerless beauty and her husband's millions and social prestige to help her. And in addition to these all she will have a courage which knows no fear. The general belief is that she will win the battle.

She gives up one husband with 9,000,000 and gains another worth $6,000,000. Her two daughters go to Mr. Sloane.

Persons of statistical turn of mind were figuring this morning on what Mrs. Belmont has renounced and what she has gained. It is a fortune of 9,000,000 for one of 6,000,000. But when one gets up to $6,000,000, they argued, it makes no difference. And in the minds of women the Belmont jewel casket—the casket which August Belmont the elder searched the wide world over for the wife who was always true to him—were balm for a loss of more than $3,000,000.

The secret divorce, which has not been secret, and which, defeating the ends of those who have tried to crush down the facts and place the skeleton behind sealed doors, has caused more talk than any which preceded it since another member of the Vanderbilt family circle was divorced by the same star chamber method.

It is one of the curiosities of the law of the Empire State that it permits a millionaire to place the character of his wife under judicial scrutiny, may have her condemned as an immoral woman with nobody but the referee and the lawyers cognizant of the evidence against her, and may grant the husband a divorce, itself a condemnation of her character and a blackening of her good name, and all the time the public be barred from knowledge even that legal proceedings are being held.

A poor woman, on the other hand, has her case dragged through the courts without much regard for her feelings. It matters not how beautiful she may be how much she has suffered what excuse there be for her offense, if she have committed any, if she lack the Vanderbilt millions and the Belmont influence there are no secret proceedings in her case, though possibly, if the judge so wills it, the reference is tried in private.

Lawyers declare that the proceedings were utterly irregular and, as a matter of fact, illegal But there is no one to contest its legality, and even if it were obtained by collusion the divorce will stand.

The case has not followed the course of the usual secret divorce proceedings. According to court rules and practice, the entry of the order of reference, with the name of the referee and the placing of the cause on the calendar of Part III of the Special Term for a confirmation of the report of the referee were all omitted.

The law and practice by which the many are bound were ignored in this case, wherein the parties involved represented two great names and two prodigious fortunes.

On April 1 Judge Truax signed an order for a reference in a formal way, both sides consenting. The papers were not filed. They disappeared. No notice of the reference appeared in the Law Journal. No record of the appointment was made. Somebody was paid heavily to keep the thing a secret. Who was it, and what is the market price for secrecy.

After a short visit at Mrs. Sam Howlands, in Washington, the Belmonts will go to Kentucky, where Mr. Belmont has a few fine horses, and then off to Europe and Elysium.

To Take the Part of Uncle Sam.

Washington, May 1.—The tallest man in the United States Navy has been selected to take the part of Uncle Sam in the Peace Jubilee to be held in Washington next month. The man who will represent this character is Chief Yeoman Wills, who stands six feet seven inches in his bare feet and is well proportioned in every way. Mr. Wills is of Scotch birth, but Florida is the State of his adoption.

TEETH.

If you have any to be extracted remember you will not be hurt in the slightest. My local anæsthetic is the best that can be obtained and is not known to the other dentists in this city. Gas strictly fresh administered by an expert if you want that. If you need artificial teeth you may rest assured that the greatest care will be exercised in selecting shape and color to harmonize with the face, also to restore the features to their natural expression and fullness. This is most important.

The reason that New Jersey's liberal corporation laws are approved of by certain newspapers and public men is alleged to be in the fact of the profit that accrues to the commonwealth from the receipt of incorpation fees. Along the same lines of approval the Ford bill in New York ought to suggest itself to these men as something that New Jersey should emulate at the earliest possible moment. But any such proposition would undoubtedly engage the earnest and active opposition of this class of men, even though it would mean millions of dollars increase in the taxable property of the State. We imagine that to get a measure like the Ford law through the New Jersey Legislature would be much more difficult than that experienced in New York last week. At the present time New Jersey is thoroughly corporation-ridden.

The political guillotine will be put in operation in Newark today by the Board of Street and Water Commissioners. Many Democrats, who have only been in office one year, will be decapitated. ## THE AMUSEMENT WORLD

CURRENT ATTRACTIONS THAT PLAINFIELDERS MAY WITNESS.

Local and Metropolitan Performances That Will Please Those Who Delight in the Art of Thespis and Mimic World.

Hoyt's "A Milk White Flag" is a far more elaborate production in several respects than anything he has attempted, and is thought by many to be the cleverest thing he has written, and it has been one of the most successful. No one can deny that "A Milk White Flag" is an ingenious and meritorious satire and the most of the situations are certainly very laughable, even if they are grotesque in the extreme. Rakish fellows, flirtatious girls, picturesque drills and effective costuming figure largely in this production. The play comes to Music Hall Wednesday night. "A Milk White Flag," with its spontaneous and electrifying humor and pungent, but good-natured satire, come to us for the first time this season. The company is headed by Mary Marble, who is versatile and talented to a marked degree, and infuses vigor and dash into her work, and John W. Dunne "Whom Napoleon Resembled." It is full of legimate burlesque and is uproariously funny. As a living picture of the brightest comedy "A Milk White Flag" ranks high.

P. A. Hincoff had a difficult character part also in "Count Orloff." Mr. Pincoff had given the part careful study and as the unwitting medium through which the "Baron" and the "Countess" endeavored to work out their respective ends, he was fully capable of the demands needed for a finished performance.

In the part of "Algie Fairfax" Laurence H. VanBuren was equal to every occasion where the young English swell had to put in a word to give the piece its comedy parts. Mr. VanBuren's opportunities were not many, but he did perfect justice to them all.

J. Frank Dalton gave a faithful portrayal of "Henry Beauclerc." He had played the same part in the production of "Diplomacy" by the Amaranth Club, of Brooklyn, and Saturday night his previous experience stood him in good stead.

Miss Lily Gorden Wickersham was very real as the doting mother of "Dora." Her make-up as an elderly woman was true to life.

Miss Florence Waring as "Lady Henry Fairfax;" Miss Marie W. Honeycutt as "Mion," the servant; Authur Murphy as "Antoine" and "Sheppard," and Harry M. Curtis as the clerk, were not afforded any chances to distinguish themselves by special work, but they acted in the spirit that "little things deserve to be done well," and thereby contributed their part towards making a highly satisfactory performance.

Hot Weather Goods

Woodhull & Martin's.

It is our custom to anticipate the seasons and to be prepared to meet the wants of our customers. We have been selling wash goods since Jan. 1st, and a great many people have wisely bought their goods and have them made up. But we are sure there are many who have yet to buy Wash Fabrics, and we invite the attention of these people to our Wash Goods Stock. It is far larger than that of former years, more carefully selected in regard to style, washing and wearing qualities, and extraordinarily fastidious must be the women whom we fail to please with so comprehensive an assortment.

Then our Shirt Waists are worthy of your attention. We don't hesitate to affirm that we have not only the largest, but best selected stock of Waists in the state. They are non-sweat-shop made, made in the newest and most original and exclusive styles, made of reliable goods and made well.

Fashion has decreed that white Waists shall be almost universally worn this coming Summer. Your wants in this direction may be satisfied in our white Waists, for even in N. Y. we question your being able to find so attractively made, and perfect fitting garments.

LADIES' SUMMER UNDERWEAR.

We are not given to buying cheap goods, but when we can buy Ladies' Ribbed Vests to sell at 10 cents, such as we bought 3 cases (3 different styles) we feel justified in departing from our usual custom, Better grades of course up to 50c each.

DRESS GOODS.

We have added to our Dress Goods stock during the past week 2 numbers in Black Henrietta that we should like you to see. They are of German manufacture, 46 in wide, extra weight and beautifully finished. We bought them at the old Tariff prices, 25c per yd less than their present value, and that is why we want you to see them. Prices $1 00 and $1.25 per yard.

FOR THE LITTLE FOLKS.

Some remarkably dainty creations in Silk, Lawn, Lace, etc., in the way of Children's Caps, Bonnets, etc. If you are particular about having your children look a little better dressed than other peoples', then fit them out at our place Be assured of this, that what you get here is the newest, most stylish and the best.

DOWN STAIRS.

We never get tired singing the praises of our Basement. People who travel the country over tell us that it is the most attractive basement found in their travels. We go further and say that it is the best stocked room to be found anywhere. The display of Summer goods rivals that of many much larger establishments.

There's a line of Piazza Chairs second to none. Made of selected stock, smoothly finished and attractively designed. They are good enough for the wealthy—cheap enough for the poor.

The New Store

So different. Judging from the results of our four days business. Plainfield was in need of just such a store.

Of course it's different—we meant it should be different. Plainfield women are showing their appreciation. The men have heard of the store, they too have visited us—to admire the store and our enterprise.

So Different; The Merchandise—up-to-date.
So Different; The Method—broad, liberal policy.
So Different; The Prices—based on quick selling,

Two new lots of Shirt waists opened today, priced at much less than you would expect; one is of excellent quality Percale, with 9 rows of braid trimming, 59c
The other is of fine Percale, with 6 rows of Cording, 98c.
All sizes, choice colorings—Perfect fitting.

We Close at 6 p. m., Saturday's 10 p. m.

"SOROSIS!"

The new and marvelous shoe for women has made a host of new friends during the past few days. The 300 pairs put on sale this week are going so fast that we have just ordered another lot. It is positively the greatest shoe of the period. "Elite," the new shoe for men, is not a whit behind for style, excellence and cheapness. The manufacturers have outdone themselves this season in giving us the finest and best shoes for the money that we have ever sold. Our sales are showing a nice increase, and our patrons are doing some telling advertising.
New lot of Peddie's Trunks from $1.98 to $15.00.

DOANE & EDSALL.

IF ADVERTISING

Only made shoes good, you wouldn't make any mistake no matter where you bought. But there's a safety line in shoe stores, just as there is in dynamite, etc., a price below which the store isn't safe. That line is never crossed here—we sell honest footwear at a moderate profit.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 1.—It has been suggested that the present council take some action concerning the park which lies a couple of blocks back from the main street. Few people realize that there is a park in Dunellen, but at present it is in such a desolate condition that it looks more like an unkept field than a park. A little money spent on it would be a good thing, and it is hoped that at the next meeting an appropriation for the purpose of fixing it up will be voted. Very little money will be sufficient, as the improvements will not cost much.

The reception given Friday night in Apgar's Hall by the Washington Avenue Card Club was a success in every way. This is the second reception the club has given, and it is possible that it will be made an annual affair. Guests were present from New York, Passaic, Roselle, Bound Brook and Plainfield, and the evening was spent in dancing, music for which was furnished by Garland, of New Brunswick. The hall was prettily decorated with palms and flowers. There are twenty-three members of the club now, and it is not likely that any more meetings will be held this season.

Chester Childs, the city clerk of Greenwich, Conn., to whom Perry Belmont gave $50 Friday night to get him a license so that he and Mrs. Sloane could be married, formerly lived in the borough with his parents.

A. S. Coriell, Jr., has drawm several good maps showing the location of all the water mains in the borough. The map has been filed with the borough clerk.

Mrs. James Manning, of Trenton, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Runyon, has returned to her home.

Mrs. Wilson Frederick, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Rugg, of Plainfield, spent Saturday with relatives in Somerville.

Mrs. Charles Rugg, of Plainfield, spent Friday with her parents, Mayor and Mrs. R. J. Swackhamer.

Miss Lillian VanMiddlesworth will return in a few days from a visit with her aunt in Jersey City.

John Runyon, of Washington avenue, has had his house painted and papered inside.

Theodore Apgar's new dwelling on Front street is about ready for occupancy.

Miss Sarah Ace, of East Stoudsburg, Pa., is visiting her sister, Mrs. George Craig.

Miss May Thatcher, of Glen Gardiner, is visiting Mrs. William E. Terry

Miss Ethel Gray, of Irvington, is a guest of her aunt, Mrs. Alvah Gray.

The regular meeting of the Borough Council will be held tonight.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

New Market, May 1.—A party of Plainfielders visited Landlord Casterline Saturday night, and partook of his hospitality.

The C. E. Society of the Baptist church are arranging for a sociable to be held in the church Wednesday evening.

The Farther Light Society held their monthly meeting Saturday afternoon in the lecture room of the Baptist church.

H. H. Kelly has rented Mrs. Hannah Roantree's house and will move into it this week.

Mrs. Hannah Roantree will move to Newark this week.

A. E. Curtis is on the sick list.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 1.—The monthly union service of the Baptist and Methodist churches was held last evening in the Baptist church. The sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Woodruff, of the Methodist church.

The encampment of gypsies on South and Mountain avenues were thronged yesterday afternon by curious crowds who were done out of many a quarter and half dollar by the tempting fortune tellers.

Mrs. George L. Dunn led the union service of the Christian Endeavor and Epworth League societies of the Baptist and Methodist churches held in the Baptist church last evening.

Rev. Mr. Shoot, together with Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hall, of Fanwood, are attending the National Baptist convention being held in Atlanta, Ga.

Rev. Dr. Smith occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church yesterday morning and preached an able sermon to a large congregation.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Reed entertained a number of their friends at their home Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlington Drake are entertaining Mrs. Drake's brother, Mr. Bliss, of Cortlandt, N. Y.

Rev. Dr. Boyle, of New York, occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church yesterday morning.

Louis Brown, of Plainfield, visited Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Paff, Sr., yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. George W. Marsh has returned from a short visit with friends in New York.

John E. Flannery spent yesterday with his daughter, Mrs. George Johnston.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Westfield, May 1—The people living in the vicinity of North and Central avenues were somewhat surprised yesterday morning when they looked out of their windows and saw that the carriage factory of Harry Wiedner had been moved during the night. Mr. Wiedner owns the building, which is about sixty feet long and fifteen feet wide and one story in height. For some time it has stood on the land owned by I. S. Lambert on North avenue. Mr. Wiedner has failed to pay his rent, it is alleged, and Mr. Lambert has been trying to have him settle up. Saturday night at about 12 o'clock a house-mover from Plainfield and a gang of men arrived in town and at once went to work moving the building to the lot next door, which, it is said, belongs to Stanbury Bird.

The Children's Guild of St. Paul's church held its last working meeting of the season Saturday morning. A large box was packed with dolls, books, games and other articles to send to the children at the New York hospitals.

Miss Pugh, of Plainfield, who has been the assistant teacher at the public school at Garwood, is now in full charge. Miss Thomas finding it necessary to resign on account of failing health.

Messrs. John B. Green, Charles Forster and C. W. Harden will go to Princeton tomorrow to attend the annual convention of the Diocese of New Jersey as the delegates from St. Paul's church.

ROSE HILL PARK.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press)

Rose Hill Park, May 1—Mrs. Edward Moore is very ill, and her friends are doubtful of her recovery.

Daniel Moore, who has been ill all winter, is recovering. His friends expect to see him out when the weather gets warm.

Jeff Doremus, of Green Village, who has been visiting his friend, Augustus Moore, has returned home.

Assemblyman Edward Cooper is improving his property, and expects to erect a new house this summer.

Our old friend, Joseph VanDyke, of Morristown, spent Thursday with George Demler.

Mrs. John P. Wolfe has gone to visit her old friend, Mr. J. Beavers, of Pottersville.

—There will be an important meeting of John Hand Camp, No. 28, Sons of Veterans, tomorrow evening.

—There will be a meeting of the Borough Board of Health this evening when an interesting report will be presented by the inspector.

—On Monday, May 8th, the Sandy Hook route will be opened for the season in connection with the Central Railroad Company train service.

—Mr. Burrows, of Clinton avenue, is the first Plainfielder to report a mess of asparagus from his own garden. He and his family enjoyed this treat yesterday. Mr. Burrows takes a great deal of interest in his garden and generally obtains good results.

Mrs. Wilson, of the borough, mother of former Chief Marshal Wilson, is improving from a severe illness. Her condition was not as serious as reported.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even set up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at L. W. A Lesson From Hamlet.

When Hamlet gave utterance to the remark, "The time is out of joint," he probably referred to a time-piece that had been monkeyed with by some itinerant tinker. There will be nothing the matter with the time reflected from the face of a watch or clock repaired at Collier's, where skilled workmanship is always guaranteed.

Alvah Carey, of New York, is visiting Plainfield friends for a time.

Proposals for Macadamizing

Sealed proposals will be received by the Common Council at the Council Chamber, No. 109 Park avenue, in the City of Plainfield, at 8 o'clock p. m., on Monday, the fifteenth day of May, 1899, for doing the work and furnishing the materials for the macadamizing contemplated in the following ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance for macadamizing West Third Street between Madison Avenue and Monroe Avenue, excepting where already macadamized," and "An Ordinance for macadamizing West Fourth Street between New Street and Monroe Avenue," approved February 9, 1899, and as provided for in the specifications on file in the office of the Street Commissioner.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals the Common Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents thereof in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also make proper record of said prices and terms.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

Separate proposals must be submitted for each street, endorsed "Proposals for Macadamizing."

JAMES T. MACMURRAY, City Clerk.

Sewer Assessments

SECOND NOTICE.

The Subscriber, the Collector of Taxes of the City of Plainfield, hereby gives notice, pursuant to Section 25 of the Act of the Legislature entitled, "An Act to Provide for Drainage and Sewerage in Cities of this State," approved April 7, 1890, and the amendments thereof and supplements thereto, that unless the assessments hereinafter specified, with interest thereon at the rate of one per centum per month, and all costs and fees, shall be paid to the subscriber at his office, No. 109 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., within thirty days after the first publication of this (being the second) notice, the subscriber will on Thursday, the first day of June, eighteen hundred and ninety-nine, at his said office, No. 109 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N.J., between the hours of one and five o'clock in the afternoon, that is to say at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day, proceed to make sale of and sell at public auction the several parcels of land and real estate upon which the said assessments shall remain due and unpaid, being those hereinafter particularly described, for the lowest term of years, but in no case exceeding fifty years, for which any person will take the same and pay the amount of such assessment, with the interest thereon as aforesaid, and all costs and fees, including the expense of advertisement and sale. The assessments above referred to are the assessments made by Harry W. Marshall, Frank Bushnell and Robert A. Meeker, the Commissioners of Assessments of the City of Plainfield heretofore appointed under the ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to Provide for the Appointment of Commissioners of Assessments under Chapter CXLI, P. L. 1895," approved April 25, 1896, as altered and subsequently ratified and confirmed by the Common Council, containing the assessments of damages and benefits or expenses, as the case may be, for the making and constructing of sewers and appurtenances (including house connections), under and by virtue of the Act of the Legislature, entitled, "An Act to Provide for Drainage and Sewerage in Cities of this State," approved April 7, 1890, and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, and ordinances and other proceedings of the Common Council had under said Acts of the Legislature, said report and assessments covering the whole of said system of sewerage and appurtenances already completed (not covered by assessments heretofore made) and particularly in and through the following described streets and parts of streets to wit:

Stelle avenue, from Plainfield avenue easterly 1148 feet to a point near Central avenue.

Plainfield avenue, from West Eighth street to Stelle avenue.

Berkeley avenue, from Ravine Road southwesterly 379.7 feet to a point near Belvidere avenue.

Orange Place, from Elm Place northeasterly 291.5 feet to a point near Westervelt avenue.

Hillside avenue, from Putnam avenue southerly 379.6 feet to a point near Watchung avenue.

Watchung avenue, from East Front street northwesterly 268.6 feet to a point near Green Brook, including house connections and including appurtenances of said sewerage system in connection therewith; the said streets and parts of streets in which the same were so made and constructed and the location and dimensions of the several lots, tracts and parcels of land and real estate so assessed being delineated on a certain set of maps numbered "1 A" and "2 A," and each map marked "Sewerage Construction Assessment Map dated, August 5, 1898," and attested by the signature of the said Commissioners and filed in the office of the Collector of Taxes, September 6, 1898, which said report and assessment were originally filed in the City Clerk's office September 6, 1898, and ratified and confirmed by the Common Council of said city on the twenty-ninth day of December, A. D. 1898.

A brief abstract of said assessments, showing the name of the owner or owners when known, a brief description of said lands and real estate, and the amounts of unpaid assessments due thereon, is as follows, the maps referred to in said description being those hereinabove mentioned and described:

HATS IN EMBRYO.

Odd Looking Shapes on Which Lovely Easter Bonnets Will Be Built.

I do not suppose that the average male creature will know what the illustration herewith is meant for. But he will soon find out. These, dear brothers, are the embryos out of which will evolve the Easter hats. You will not only learn to know them, but to take a great interest in them. You will even go so far as to hand out your shekels of gold and silver for them.

And you will never forget them, particularly those paid for by other men, when poised over the lovely faces of the other men's daughters. You will feel like singing a joyful pæan of thanksgiving when you remember that you may feast your eyes upon the beauty of the hat and that of the wearer's face without money and without price. I am sorry for the other man, for hats are very dear, far dearer than they ought to be, considering. One can get a nice full tailor made suit of good stuff, or an elegant tea gown all covered with lace and ribbon, cheaper than some of the hats.

But all that is irrelevant, as the lawyers say. I started to tell the women what Easter will bring them and then lost the thread of my discourse in sympathy for the mere men whose hard dollars will have to pay for them.

These are the foundations. They are in the primary, secondary and tertiary colors besides black and white, and the shapes beat anything I ever saw, but one consoling thought is that the more twisted the straw is the less trimming it requires to make it becoming.

One thing with a crown like a hen's nest upside down has a bent and crooked brim of rough straw of all the resada colors. The brim is scalloped in the weaving, and the left side is higher than the rest. Then in front are a pair of bent wings also of the straw. They stand up several inches and would still more were it not that they are bent down. Around, in and among these scallops and wings a perfect bed of violets, moss rose buds and mignonette sprays cluster. Nothing but the flowers.

One other hat of this same design had white violets and pale yellow crocuses with spearlike leaves standing up straight, but violets seem to be in the ascendency on these new hats. Shaded from white to the deepest hue possible for that flower, they are beautiful and springlike.

Another shape of rough straw has a brim turned down somewhat like the old gypsy, but the crown of black and white straw looks like a broken down wastebasket, yet this, with a very full drapery of silvery malines net and a baker's dozen of pink peonies—bless you, the thing is beautified!

Poppies very double and with pink tipped petals are also seen on some mingled with bunches of grasses and grains, though these are green, not ripened.

One hat is shaped just like the old sailor's "sou'easter," only the long part of this comes over the face instead of hanging down the back of the neck to carry off the rain.

There are some surprising made feathers to be put on these. No mere cold, pale, passionless words could describe them. They are too, too utterly, consummately wonderful, but they trim well, especially when they have soft tints where faint creams grow into soft pinkish drabs mottled with dark brown. They are nearly all on the plan of a wide curled quill feather, with other feathers glued to them on centers, edges and ends. With gauze, malines, a few bright spangles and a bushelful of flowers the hat is trimmed, always making these wondrous feathers the most salient point.

Then there is the "shovel nose" hat in fine black chip. There is no shape which is adapted to so wide a range of faces and ages and styles of trimming. Black tips and pink roses, with an upstanding frill of black French lace, made one of these into a "love."

The gray, drab and brown alpine is here, but with a high crown and shaded brim. It is of fine, rather flexible straw. With a scarf of velvet or veiling and a couple of fancy quills and a buckle this becomes a "duck." Then there is a most quaint little black satin straw hat with a round flat brim and a high crown flaring out much larger at the top than it is around the head. The chic of this is to have a regular little velvet necktie fastened like a cravat directly in front. This is a "darling."

The next is a chip sailor with a watered silk band, with a very mannish bow at one side. I really cannot classify this, but I may say it is very fetching above a bright young face. The capote is of dark straw and has a frill of straw. The neatest of these was trimmed with a whole lot of black lace standing up in ruffles, with a jet ornament, an aigret and fancy steel and jet buckle. For middle aged ladies there are strings of velvet.

HENRIETTE ROUSSEAU.

The state of Illinois has made an appropriation of $9,000 to be expended on having a memorial of Miss Frances E. Willard, the great White Ribboner, placed in the capitol at Washington. This, if no unforeseen obstacle prevents it, will be the first time in the history of the nation the statue of a woman will occupy a niche in the famous statuary hall of the capitol.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Freie Städte.

Hamburg. Von der Bürgerschaft wurde der Antrag des Senats betreffend die Umgestaltung der Eisenbahnanlagen in Hamburg mit großer Mehrheit unverändert angenommen.—Hiesige Fleischinspektoren fanden kürzlich in amerikanischem Schweinepökelfleisch Trichinen und in Folge dessen wurde angeordnet, daß jedes Stück Fleisch einzeln untersucht werden soll. Stichproben sollen nicht mehr genügen.

Bremen. Das große Trockendock am Kaiserhafen, das bekanntlich auch von den Schiffen der Kriegsmarine mitbenutzt werden soll, ist jetzt so weit fertiggestellt, daß seine Inbetriebnahme zum Herbst zu erwarten steht.—Der Norddeutsche Lloyd wird für 1898 eine Dividende von 7 Prozent vertheilen gegen 5 Prozent im Vorjahre. Die Betriebsüberschüsse sind um etwa 4,500,000 Mark größer als im Vorjahre. Das Plus entfällt mit 4,000,000 Mark auf die transatlantische Fahrt. Bei den Reichspostdampferlinien ergeben sich Betriebsüberschüsse von 3,194,241 Mark, gegen 2,304,159 Mark im Vorjahre.

Lübeck. Die Bürgerschaft hat in geheimer Sitzung dem Senatsantrage betreffend die Aufnahme einer Staatsanleihe von 25,000,000 Mark zugestimmt. Die Summe soll während der nächsten fünf Jahre für dringende Staatsbauten verwendet werden; unter Anderem zur Verbesserung des Fahrwassers der Trave, zur Herstellung eines Industrieviertels, zur Anlage einer Eisenbahn nach Schlutup, zur Erbauung von Schulhäusern, auch zur Bestreitung der Mehrkosten für den Bau des Elbe-Trave-Kanals dienen.

Oldenburg.

Oldenburg. Bei der Firma Telge hat die preußische Regierung den Bau eines eisernen Dampfers in Bestellung gegeben. Das Schiff soll auf dem Dortmund-Ems-Kanal als sogenanntes Werkstattsschiff dienen. Der Aufbau und die Zusammensetzung des Dampfers geschieht auf dem Helgen des Schiffsbaumeisters Brand. Für den Fall, daß das Schiff zur Zufriedenheit ausfällt, sind der Firma Telge noch andere ähnliche Aufträge in Aussicht gestellt worden.

Mecklenburg.

Redefin. In dem nahegelegenen Dorfe Belsch entstand Nachts Feuer in der dem Erbpächter Ritzmann gehörigen Scheune. Mit furchtbarer Schnelligkeit, vom Winde begünstigt, übertrug sich dasselbe auf das auf der anderen Seite der Dorfstraße gelegene Wohnhaus des Erbpächters F. Bick, so daß die Bewohner halbnackt mit genauer Noth dem Feuertode entgingen.

Braunschweig.

Schöppenstedt. In der Zuckerfabrik Altenau erlitten mehrere Arbeiter erhebliche Verletzungen dadurch, daß sie beim Abpacken des Zuckers an einer unrechten Stelle begannen und große Zuckermengen nachstürzten. Der Arbeiter Seyffert erlitt einen Beinbruch.

Großherzogthum Hessen.

Darmstadt. Dieser Tage verschied nach langem Leiden der Rechtsanwalt Ernst Emmerling. Er war in den 60er Jahren Leiter der „Hessischen Volksblätter," die damals noch in freisinniger Richtung wirkten. Emmerling machte sich namentlich die Bekämpfung des Nationalliberalismus zur Aufgabe. Eine Gemüthskrankheit, die sich im Laufe der Jahre verschlechterte, zwang ihn, in der Heilanstalt in Heppenheim Aufenthalt zu nehmen.

Gauweinheim. Verstorben ist hier das älteste Mädchen Gau-Weinheims und wahrscheinlich auch das älteste Hessens. Es ist dies die 99 Jahre 11 Monate alte Babette Schweikert.

Langen. Behufs Sanirung der Verhältnisse der hiesigen Kreditkasse hat die landwirthschaftliche Genossenschaftsbank in Darmstadt einen Kredit in Höhe von 80,000 Mark gewährt.

Mainz. Gutsbesitzer Johann Renner in Worms kaufte in acht Fällen Weizen zu je 10 Mark pro Sack von drei Arbeitern, welche die Frucht im Wormier Lagerhaus gestohlen hatten. Der noch unbestrafte Gutsbesitzer wurde von der Strafkammer wegen Hehlerei zu einem Jahr Gefängniß und fünf Jahren Ehrverlust verurtheilt.

Bayern.

München. Nach der amtlichen Uebersicht über die Erkrankungen und Todesfälle an den Pocken in Bayern sind im Jahre 1898 in ganz Bayern nur drei Personen an den Pocken erkrankt (gegen acht im Jahre 1897), von denen zwei gestorben sind. Von den beiden Gestorbenen war eine Person (ein Kind unter einem Jahr) ungeimpft, bei der anderen konnte das Impfverhältniß nicht festgestellt werden.—In der hiesigen Fischhalle der deutschen Dampf-Fischerei-Gesellschaft „Nordsee" wurden während der Charwoche für 17,000 Mark Seefische verkauft. Die Fische kosteten 25 bis 28 Pfennige das Pfund.—Ein von dem Ingenieur Huber dahier eingereichtes Gesuch um die Genehmigung zum Bau einer Zahnradbahn auf die Zugspitze wurde vom Ministerium mangels eines Bedürfnisses und wegen ungenügender Nachweise über die finanzielle Fundirung eines solchen Unternehmens abgewiesen.

CARSON WILDRED'S CRIME

A DETECTIVE STORY OF TWO CONTINENTS.

BY HARRY WOOD REYNOLDS.

CHAPTER I.

"Hullo, old chap! Who would ever have thought of seeing you here tonight? What's brought you back to civilization again?"

It was the night of Christmas Eve, and I was just entering the lobby of St. James's Theatre.

For the fraction of a moment I could not remember where I had known the man who addressed me so jovially. He was a rich mining king from Colorado, named Harvey Farnham, whom I had met in Denver when I had been dawdling through America three or four years ago.

"How is it," I said, rather curiously, "that you remembered me, 'honoring my draft on sight,' so to speak? It must be four years since that very jolly supper you gave me in Denver one night, and I fancy I have changed considerably since then."

Farnham smiled in his comical American way, which was a humorous sentence in itself.

"Well, I guess it's not so easy to forget a face like yours. You are a little browner, your eyes rather keener perhaps, your head held a bit higher, your shoulders broader and drawn back more like a soldier's than ever; but, so far as I can see, those are the only changes.

"I've always eagerly followed your doings, so far as one could follow them in the newspapers, and I read your African book with the greatest interest; but somehow I never got to hear much personal gossip about you."

We sat down in the third or fourth row of the stalls, and, as the orchestra had not yet come in, began to talk.

Farnham explained to me that he had "run over" to England on business, intending to sell a certain mine of his, which, though vastly profitable, was the one thing in which he had lost interest. The other mines in which he was part owner were situated in his own State, Colorado, while this particular one, the "Miss Cunningham," was in California, and he was tired of journeying to and fro.

"I've had a good offer," he said; "indeed, I'm visiting the house of the man who has made it—a wonderful fellow, only one degree less interesting, perhaps, than you. His name is Carson Wildred. Did you ever hear of him?"

"No," I answered, though possibly not to know Mr. Carson Wildred was to argue myself unknown.

"He seems to have plenty of money," explained Farnham, "and though he's a newcomer in London, has got in with a number of good people. He has two houses, one in Sloan street and one on the Thames—a queer, lonely old place near Purley Lock if you know where that is. I'm staying out there with him now, as it happens, though. I can't say I'm as fond of the river as he is at this season. But when a few papers and a good round sum of money have changed hands, a couple of days or so from now, I shall bid Wildred and England au revoir. I expect to sail for America at the end of the week, and jolly lucky I think myself to have run up against you tonight."

As he finished speaking the overture which had now been on for some time, ceased, and the curtain went up on a very pretty bit of stage setting.

There was no curtain-raiser, and the first act was well constructed and interesting from the commencement. It was delightful to me to feel as I did, that I was no longer blase of town life, or the mimic life of the theatre, and I was inclined to resent the interruption, when Farnham nudged me, whispering:

"There are Wildred and his friends just coming into the stage box. By Jove! what a pretty girl!"

Two years I had spent in Africa and Egypt, and I had not seen many fair faces during that time of travel and campaigning. I was in a mood, therefore to appreciate the delicate loveliness of Englishwomen, but, even had I been surfeited with beauty, my eyes would have lingered in a species of wonder on the girl just seating herself in a corner of the stage-box. It is possible that I have seen other women as beautiful, many more classically perfect of feature, but never have I looked upon a face so radiant, so bewildering.

The girl could not, I thought, have been more than twenty, and every turn of the beautifully poised little head, every dimpling smile told that she was full of the joy of life.

CHAPTER II.

En passant, my eyes dwelt for an instant upon a stout woman of a certain age, whose figure was encased in a sort of armor of steel-gray satin and beads, and whose carefully arranged head was adorned by a small tiara of diamonds, but they found no temptation for lengthy lingering.

One of the men was old, gray-bearded and large of girth, with a huge expanse of snowy shirt, and head guiltless of hair. The other was comparatively young, not many years past my own age, perhaps, and a curious thrill, which I could not myself have explained, passed through me as I looked through half-shut eyes, at his face. Where had I seen it before? Or did it bear but a haunting resemblance to some other, painted on my memory's retina in lurid, yet partially obliterated colors?

I had no doubt which of the two was Carson Wildred, Farnham's friend and host. What he had said of the man's personality assured me of his identity.

"Who is the girl?" I asked.

"A Miss Karine Cunningham. Same name as the mine that Wildred is going to take off my hands. Merely a coincidence, but I fancy it influenced him in his wish to buy the property perhaps. He is very much in love with the girl, and, rich as he apparently is, she can more than match him, I should say. She's is an orphan. Sir Walter Tressidy, who is in the box with his wife, was her guardian until she came of age, about a year ago, She still lives with them, and Lady Tressidy takes her about. The girl has thirty thousand pounds a year if she has a penny. Whew! Only think what that means in American money. She could buy and sell me."

I might have truthfully replied that the young lady could have had me without either buying or selling, since—for the first time in my callow days—these few moments had taught me what it was to experience a wild quickening of the pulses under the casual glance of a woman's eyes.

At the end of the act we went out for a smoke and a breath of fresh air, and as we were returning we met Wildred near the stairway, which at the St. James's leads to the boxes on one side of the house.

"I was looking for you," he said to Farnham, and the tones of his voice roused the same vague, unpleasant memories that the eyes had stirred.

"And we were just talking of you." Farnham annoyed me by retorting. "I should like to be the means of making you two known to each other. Of course, Wildred you have heard all about Noel Stanton. This is actually he in the flesh, and he has been telling me that he believes he must have seen you somewhere before."

Mr. Wildred tossed away a cigarette and followed it with his brilliant eyes. He was smiling, but his lips were tense, as his gaze came back to me.

"It is my misfortune to be obliged to assure you that Mr. Stanton is mistaken. I know him as well as one can do without having met him, through his book, and a world-wide reputation, but beyond that I have not, till now, had the pleasure."

We looked into each other's eyes and I knew the man lied, and that he hated me.

But the mystery of his personality and my share in his past was as profound a secret as ever before.

"Lady Tressidy sent me out particularly," he said, "in quest of you both, having recognized Mr. Stanton from his numerous presentments, and she hopes that you will come and be introduced to her and to Miss Cunningham in their box."

Farnham looked at me doubtfully, evidently fearing that I would refuse. But, grudgingly as the message was evidently delivered by Wildred, I grasped at the opportunity it gave.

I should speak to Miss Cunningham. I should know her. I might dare to look at her, and I might touch her hand.

I have gone through some queer experiences in rather an eventful life, and have generally managed to keep a cool head in emergencies. But my head was not cool to-night. Everything was dark to me, except the one lovely face raised smilingly toward mine, as some murmured words of introduction were spoken in the box a little later, giving me the right henceforth to claim Miss Cunningham as an acquaintance.

I suppose I answered coherently when Lady Tressidy addressed me, and talked without openly making an idiot of myself to Sir Walter. But I remember nothing of the conversation between the second and third acts, save the few words spoken by Miss Cunningham, and an invitation from Lady Tressidy to call on one of her "At Home" days.

After I had gratefully accepted, I turned to the girl.

"Lady Tressidy has said I may come and see her," I ventured. "Will you—may I hope to find you with her?"

She looked up with a sudden, illuminating smile that answered me. "Come soon," she returned. They were her last words for me that night, and they rang in my head as I left her, dizzy with the memory of her loveliness.

CHAPTER III.

I had taken rooms temporally at the Savoy. There was a fire burning in my room, and I drew up a chair before it to smoke an unlimited number of cigarettes and to think of Karine Cunningham.

I felt no inclination for bed, nor was I in the least sleepy, and yet, before an hour had passed, I must have fallen into a doze. Suddenly I was awakened by the impression of having heard a sound. I looked round me half-dazed still from my dreams. The fire had died down, and I had left myself with no other light. Only a ruddy glow lingered on the hearth, and a small clock on the mantelpiece just above lightly chimed out the hour of two.

I must have dreamt the sound, I told myself, for all was silent in the sleeping hotel, and even the rattle of cabs outside was dulled. Still the impression lingered, and I could hardly persuade myself that I had not heard Harvey Farnham's voice calling my name and finishing with a gurgling, despairing cry for help, the horror of which had chilled the blood in my veins, even in my sleep.

I fell at last from waking dreams to sleeping ones, hoping dimly, as I slipped over the edge of realities, that they might be of Karine Cunningham. But they were not of her. Hardly had slumber got its hold upon me when I saw myself by the river, looking down into a swiftly rushing tide. It seemed to be somewhere in the country, though I had little thought for my surroundings; and I was conscious that I was watching anxiously for the appearance of some object, whose nature I did not accurately know. It had been daylight in my vision at first—a cold, gray, wintry daylight—but suddenly night fell with the rapidity that all changes come and go in dreamland, and the only light was a spot of phosphorescent radiance that lay just under the surface of the water, floating gradually down toward me. I knew in my sleep that my eyes were destined to behold some sight of horror, yet I was bound in a species of frozen fascination to the spot where I stood, forced to wait for the oncoming of the light and its revelation of mystery.

Slowly it was borne along with the tide, until, having reached a bend in the river opposite the spot where I was standing, it ceased to move. I stooped down and saw that the pale light shone forth from a great white diamond on the finger of a dead man's hand. The body was faintly and darkly outlined; even the floating arm might also have been a floating mass of blackened river weed; but the hand was white as alabaster, and as I bent over it, staring down, one of the fingers moved and beckoned.

Then I woke with a loud cry—"Harvey Farnham!"

CHAPTER IV.

I arose on Christmas morning with absolutely nothing for me to do that day, as I had informed no one I knew of my presence in London, meaning to be for the present somewhat of a freelance.

Now, however, I felt a curious inclination to call at the house by the lock, as it was called. I would not dine there I told myself, but there most be an inn in the neighborhood where I could obtain some slight Christmas cheer, if I chose to embark upon the rather mild adventure of going up the river on this wintry holiday.

Once the idea had taken root in my mind, I was impatient to carry it out. I would go. I decided, almost immediately, lunching at the nearest decent inn to Purley Lock, and turning up at Wildred's house at 4 or 5 in the afternoon. I would spend an hour there perhaps, and return to town in time for dinner.

There was a long streak of gold along the horizon of the otherwise dull grey sky, and a rising wind moaned drearily along the lower branches of the trees.

The scene looked indescribably desolate, and yet there was a certain beauty in it, too. I had been told exactly how to reach the house by the lock and, when, after passing the somewhat weedy-looking lock, I began skirting along a species of back water, and came in sight of a long, low browed house close to the river, I knew that I had reached my journey's end.

The place had the appearance of being only a restored remnant of an ancient abbey fallen into decay

Indeed, at one end of the house a ruined wall jutted out, with a row of stone window-frames, half filled in with sombre trails of ivy; then in the middle came the habitable part of the old house, with an imposing front door, which might have belonged to some Gothic church; magnificent windows, which reminded me of a certain dear old college at Oxford, well known in younger days; and beyond, to the left, was the wing evidently added by Wildred. It was in wretched taste, I thought, with its pretentiousness and it huge round tower at the end, utterly out of keeping with the rest. Then, as I criticised, my eye was caught by a puff of fiery smoke that suddenly rose above the battlements of the hideous tall tower.

"MY EYE WAS CAUGHT BY A PUFF OF SMOKE FROM THE HOUSE

So near was I to the river as I stood waiting on the doorstep to be admitted that I could hear the soft lapping of the water against the shore. Darkness had fallen now, and an ugly recollection of my dream suddenly sprang up in my brain. Just so, I remembered, had I heard the water whispering as in that hateful vision I had bent over to see the dead man's beckoning hand.

It was long before my ring and knock were answered—so long that I had my finger on the bell again. But at the moment I heard footseps walking somewhat uncertainly along an uncarpeted floor within. Still the door remained closed, but at a long narrow window, which was the duplicate of another on the other side of the door, I saw for an instant that a face was pressed against the lattice-work of the glass.

"What ill-trained servants this man keeps!" was my thought; and then, somewhat impatiently, I rang again.

The door opened almost immediately into the dimly-lighted hall, when a respectable, middle-aged man, out of livery stood revealed. Yet I could have sworn that the face at the window, seen but a second ago, had been that of a woman, young, white-faced, and darkly bright of eye!

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

THE FEMININE OBSERVER.

Don't borrow trouble; borrow a dollar, you'll have more fun with it.

Which half of the world is it that cares for the other half to know how it lives?

Moses must have been a football player, for doesn't it say somewhere that he was found between the rushes?

The man who grumbles because his wife is away from home never thinks of the other side of it when he goes off for a fortnight's jaunt.

A woman never wishes for a big brother more than at the time when some overbearing male acquaintance becomes annoying with his attentions.

She certainly was a greedy girl who rung in lightning bugs on her sweetheart after he had bargained with her to give her a kiss every time a star fell.

It was a mean man who excused himself from attending his mother-in-law's funeral on the plea of business, saying "that business came before pleasure every time."

This is a man's view: "A woman is very much like an accordion. It takes a long time to draw her out, but then you have to knock the wind out of her to shut her up."

The good book in some place says: "It is not well for man to be alone," but never once does it assert anything like that in regard to woman, for it is well known to Him who knows everything that a great many women would be better off if they were alone.

SPORTING.

ON THE DIAMOND.

The Brookside Field Club defeated the West End Club Saturday afternoon on the Somerset street grounds in an exciting game. The score was 29 to 28. The batteries were O'Keefe and Barry for the victors and Utzinger and Giddes for the West End boys.

The Woodsides defeated the Richmond street nine by a score of 26 to 15, on the Richmond street grounds, Saturday afternoon. The batteries were Keefe and Cotter for the Woodsides and Ryan, Brokaw and Doyle for the other team.

The Outing Club, of this city, went to Westfield Saturday afternoon and defeated the Lincoln High School nine, of that place by a score of 10 to 5. Schoonmaker and George were the local battery while Hegeman, Bogard and Brown formed the battery for the Westfielders.

GOLF.

Thomas S. Leoser, a member of the Suburban Golf Club, of Elizabeth, was the guest Saturday of S. S. Squier, of the Park Golf Club, and both enjoyed playing on the fine course in the borough.

A CHURCH CONVENTION.

Seventh Day Baptists Arranging for the Eastern Association.

A special meeting of the Seventh-Day Baptist church was held last night to make arrangemets for the Eastern Association of Seventh-Day Baptist churches which will be held in this city May 25th to 28th. The association includes churches in New Jersey, New York city, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

Asa Randolph, F. J. Hubbard and Miss Ida Randolph were appointed a reception committee to receive and provide for the delegates. Mrs. Geo. H. Babcock, Mrs. F. A. Dunham, Mrs. A. E. Main, Mrs. J. D. Titsworth and Miss Luella Clawson were appointed a committee to arrange for lunches at the meetings. A press committee of Henry M. Maxson, Asa Randolph and Arthur J. Spicer was chosen. Prof. H. M. Maxson, of this city, is president of the Association this year.

Stricken Ill in Chicago.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Lincoln, May 1.—Mayor Drake received a telegram Saturday night telling him that his son, Lewis Lincoln Drake, who started west on a business trip three weeks ago, is lying very ill in a Chicago hospital with appendicitus. An operation was performed Saturday morning.

Hard Chimney Fire.

A still alarm was sent in to fire department headquarters yesterday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock for a chimney fire in the Hetfield row on Arlington avenue. Assistant Chief Jennings and the No. 2 hose wagon responded. The fire was quite a lively one and took four extinguishers to put it out.

CAUSE OF LEHIGH WRECK FROM AN EXPERT POINT OF VIEW.

Railroad Gazette Explains How the Train Dispatcher Violated a Certain Rule in the Standard Code Used.

The Railroad Gazette of March 24th last gives a report of train accidents in the United States in January. In this account, under the head of "Collisions, Butting," it describes that of the Lehigh Valley at West Dunellen Jan. 9th. After describing the circumstances of the disaster the article says:

"The immediate cause of the collision was the failure of the operator at South Plainfield, the eastern end of the single track, to show the conductor of train 71 a holding order, which had been in force at his office for more than an hour. The operator, Butland, had just come on duty (at 12 o'clock). He delivered to the conductor and to the conductor of an engine which was to run to New Market (about two miles) ahead of No. 71, two orders which had to do with minor matters, but said nothing about the holding order. Mehaffey, the operator who went off duty (as operator) at 12 o'clock, remained in the office (signal cabin) as lever man; and as soon as he saw the orders delivered he cleared the train order signal and allowed the engine and train No. 71 to go. He did this without asking Butland for authority. Butland sat with his back to the track, and, it appears, neither saw or heard the trains start. The standard code is used by the Lehigh Valley, but the train dispatcher in this case violated the rule under Form J, forbidding him to depend exclusively upon a holding order to hold a superior train. He sent an order to the eastbound train without sending a duplicate of it to the westbound."

WITH THE FAST STEPPERS.

Horsemen Enjoyed Some Lively Speeding at the Driving Park.

Last Saturday afternoon on the track of the Gentlemen's Driving Park Association there were several trial speeds between horses owned by Mayor Newton B. Smalley, Douglass Darby, Thomas Brantingham, John Osborne, of this city, and J. S. Irving, of Westfield. Some of the gypsies camping out in this vicinity entered the sport and placed their horses on the track. Altogether the events proved to be of great interest to the good-sized crowd present.

At an early date there will be a meeting of the association and an attempt will be made to arrange for a circuit association with meets at New Brunswick, Trenton and Plainfield. There is a possibility of a big meet in this city Monday and Tuesday, June 3d and 4th, and there has been some talk of holding a State meet in this city.

CHICKENS IN A GARDEN.

Lewis C. VanNest Wants the Owner of the Fowls to Pay $100 Damages.

Lewis C. VanNest lives on Duer street and Marshal Frank Whitely's home is around the corner on Steiner place. The marshal keeps chickens, and VanNest says that the fowls have been trespassing on his garden, scratching up the seeds and tender plants as fast as he put them in the ground.

VanNest has retained Lawyer J. P. D. Kirch to represent him, and has brought suit before Justice Smalley for $100 damages. The case will be tried Thursday.

Philadelphia Papers Ground to Pieces.

There were no Philadelphia papers for sale at the North Avenue station this morning. The papers came through on the train due here at 6:59, and were thrown off as usual, but this morning the bundle fell under the wheels of the cars, and was ground up into pieces.

BISHOP'S KIND WORDS.

Rev. Mr. Scarborough Spoke Highly of the Services of the Holy Cross Rector.

Bishop Scarborough, of New Jersey, paid his official visit to the Church of the Holy Cross yesterday afternoon, and in addition to taking part in the services made an address and preached a sermon.

The Bishop stated before he began to preach that he was glad to learn the rector is to enjoy a much-needed rest. He spoke of the twenty-two years of service that Rector Murphy had given to the church. He sincerely hoped that the rector would find the needed rest in his trip abroad, and that at the end of two years he would feel so much better in health that he will be willing to return to service again and live many years to do good in the church.

The Bishop at Grace Church.

Yesterday morning was the occasion of the annual visitation of Bishop Scarborough to the parish of Grace P. E. church. The rite of confirmation was omitted as the rector, Rev. E. M. Rodman, had thought best to defer the preparation of a class until his return from the trip through the Holy Land. In his discourse, the Bishop congratulated the parishioners on their liberality in making it possible for the rector to gratify the desire of a lifetime in visiting the Holy Land. The Bishop also complimented the curate, Rev. Floyd Appleton, who has conducted the spiritual affairs of the church so satisfactorily during the rector's absence, "undertaking the responsibility without the authority."

At the Church of the Redeemer.

Bishop Scarborough visited the Church of the Redeemer yesterday and confirmed a class of six—three young men and three young women. He delivered a sermon in which he congratulated the society on its prosperity in all respects and its prospect of having a home of its own.

MARRIED FIVE YEARS.

Wedding Anniversary Celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Johnson, of Harris Lane, celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary Saturday night, assisted by friends and relatives from New York, Brooklyn, Bound Brook, Plainfield and other surrounding places. Rev. Mr. Cleaver was among the guests and made an address during the evening. A number of presents were sent, most of them being of wood.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Nash, Miss Beatrice and Fred Nash, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Paddock, Miss Alice and Hervey McDermott, Miss May Elliott, Mrs. Joseph Plumtrep, Miss Jennie Pettigrew, Mrs. Margaret Johnson, Louis Neidemyer, Miss Annie Bower, Samuel Schenck, Frank P. Share and Harry Wells Nash, of New York and Brooklyn; Alex. G. Martin, Miss Jennie Simpson, Albert Simpson, James Walker, Miss May Sebring, of Plainfield; Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Cleaver, Frank Totten, Alfred Allen, Mr. and Miss Gulick, Mr. VanDyne, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Conover, Mr. and Mrs. George Vail, Miss Kate Sebring, Charles Sebring and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Giles, of Bound Brook; Miss Nora B. Henderson and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Randolph, of New Providence, of New Providence.

Enjoying Their Honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Squires, of Scranton, Pa., are visiting in Plainfield for a short time with Miss J. E. Joseph, of Washington Park, and at the same time are enjoying their honeymoon. Mrs. Squires was formerly Miss Hattie Brown, of Scranton. She is well known in this city among a large circle of friends, where she is very popular. The couple were married last week at Scranton, and are now on their wedding trip. This evening a reception will be given in their honor by Miss Joseph.

Still Alarm of Fire.

A still alarm and an alarm from box 12 was sent in Saturday night at 8:45 o'clock for a supposed fire in Voehl & Waldron's plumbing establishment on East Front street in the Voehl block. The store was filled with smoke which was found to come from the stove.

Site For Hope Chapel.

Elston M. French, who sometime ago sold a lot in the West End to Hope chapel, turned the deed over this morning to the Crescent Avenue church. No doubt the property will be built upon at an early date.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvet skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

In Summer Attire.

The letter carriers are out wearing their new summer hats. J. R. Blair had the contract for furnishing the hats this year. The style is like the broad brimmed slouch hats the soldiers wear, and are an improvement over the straw and stiff hats worn in former years.

To Start Work Tomorrow.

It is expected that the Plainfield Street Railway Company will start the work of building the extension of their line to Scotch Plains tomorrow.

Chamber Concert Tonight.

Prof. Ward Stephens' chamber concert will take place in the Casino this evening. A number of very talented artists will appear.

KNIGHTS GALLANT TO THE FAIR ONES.

Ladies' Night Celebrated in Trinity Commandery.

THE TENTH ANNIVERSARY.

A NUMBER OF DISTINGUISHED GUESTS WERE PRESENT.

They Were Received Under the Arch of Steel—Programme of Musical and Literary Selections—Interesting Address by Eight Eminent Sir Rome—Commander Sebring Gave History of Commandery.

Ladies' night was observed last evening by Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. of T., with a dash and spirit that was pleasing to all. It was also the tenth anniversary of the Commandery, although its birthday fell on February 2d. The Knights were out in all the brightness and freshness of their uniforms and paraphenalia, nnd mingling with the more sombred coloring of the guests made a pleasing contrast.

A programme of music and recitations was presented, but before any of the numbers were announced the Knights welcomed to their reception several distinguished guests. They were Grand Standard Bearer R. A. Sherrefs, of St. John's Commandery, Elizabeth; Right Eminent Sir John E. Bowe, of Newark, Past Grand Commander; Eminent Sir Charles D. Little, of Clinton Commandery, Brooklyn, and Grand Commander William H. Sebring, who, although a member of Trinity Commandery, was yet accorded the additional honor of being received, like Sirs Bowe and Little, under the arch of steel.

The programme consisted of selections by the Metronome Banjo and Mandolin Club, recitations by Miss Mary Lucky, and vocal selections by a trio composed of Mrs. Asa Collier, Miss Julia Ketcham and Elmer E Bunyon. The playing of the club was up to their usual standard, and during the evening Fred VanEps, one of the members, gave a banjo solo. Miss Lucky recited two or three times, each one being very good.

During an intermission Right Eminent Sir Bowe made a brief address, in which he paid high compliments to Commander Wm. H. Sebring, who has lately been lifted to such a high office in the gift of Free Masonry. Past Eminent Commander Jacob Kirkner, who was master of ceremonies, introduced "Our Bill," as Commander Sebring is familiarly called, and the audience was favored with a few words from him, in which he rehearsed a part of the history of Trinity Commandery.

A surprise was in store for Eminent Sir Dungan, of Somerville, commander of Trinity Commandery, for in appreciation of the esteem in which his comrades hold him he was presented with a handsome basket of roses.

This ended the speech making, and after a few more selections by those who had taken part before, refreshments were served and the reception was over.

When the Commandery was instituted ten years ago there were thirty members. Now there are about 100. Although it is still "in the morn and liquid dew of its youth," as was printed on the invitations, the Commandery has a bright future before it. These receptions will hereafter be annual affairs, as the two already held have been so successful.

CHRISTIAN WORKERS ELECT.

Annual Meeting of a Trinity Reformed Church Society.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church was held yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance and a very helpful devotional service preceded the business session, which was led by Mrs. Cornelius Schenck, wife of the pastor.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. E. T. VanWinkle; first vice president, Mrs. Cornelius Schenck; second vice-president, Mrs. P. A. Emmons; third vice-president, Mrs. A. L. Force; secretary, Mrs. H. W. Marshall; treasurer, Mrs. O. W. Dunham. The president, secretary and treasurer were re-elected.

During the business session the members decided to have a strawberry festival early in June.

Champion Cakewalkers.

Cakewalks are about over for the season, but the Lafayette Social Club last night wound up with one for the championship of Plainfield. It was won by John J. Goff, Jr., and Miss Annie Hart.

Miss Elma Rea, of Quakertown, Hunterdon county, is a guest at the home of her cousin, J. Hervey Buchanan, M. D., of Duer street.

CHAMBER MUSIC HEARD.

EXCELLENT CONCERT GIVEN IN THE CASINO BY PROF. STEPHENS.

The Affair Attended by 200 Music Lovers, Who Were Highly Pleased by the Work of the Artists Present.

The music lovers who assembled in the Casino to attend the chamber music concert, held there last night, found much to enjoy. The programme was a particularly pleasing one and included selections by artists who were thoroughly acquainted with their instruments, and consequently were able to give one of the most successful concerts of the season from a musical point of view. The concert was well attended, some 200 people being present.

The artists were Miss Marcellina Gonzalez, soprano; Ward Stephens, pianist, and the Kaltenbern String Quartette, composed of Franz Kaltenborn, first violin; Edwin Walther, second viola; Ernest Bauer, viola, and Hermann Beyer-Hane, violoncello. Clarence Reynolds was the accompanist.

The rendition of Chopin's funeral march by Mr. Stephens was particularly deserving of commendation.

PRINTERS AS FARMERS.

MEMBERS OF TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION ENJOY COUNTRY LIFE.

Pleasant Retreat on Historic Ground—About Thirty Typos Now at the Herbert Farm With Number Increasing.

From the "case" to the farm is quite a change in employment for a man, but when old age or infirmities lay hold of one who has spent the best years of his life in a printing office, so that he is no longer able to perform his exacting duties there, it is a satisfaction for the vetern printer to know that he will be well taken care of amid rural scenes during the balance of his life, says the Bound Brook Chronicle.

Such is the assurance of every member of Typographical Union, No. 6, of New York, one of the strongest and most widely known labor organizations in the country. When a member becomes so disabled that he cannot work he is sent to the Childs-Drexel printers' home in Colorado and there permitted to receive his last "take."

If a member is out of employment and requests to be sent to a retreat he now comes to the historic Herbert farm at Bound Brook where he has either the privilgee of entering the "sick ward" with no remuneration, or he can till the soil and receive therefor the sum of three dollars per week, two of which go for board.

A Chronicler visited the farm Wednesday and interviewed those in charge. The matron, Mrs. Palen, and her daughter, Miss Josephine, are the only women on the farm. Their time is pretty well taken up in preparing meals for the printers. Mrs. Palen is employed by the Union of which her husband is a member.

Order has not yet been brought out of chaos, because of the non-arrival of the necessary furniture from the former home at Pelham Bay Park, L. I. The rooms are large and numerous in this old mansion and it is the rule to put about five men in a room, they to take care of it and fixtures, which will consist of iron bedsteads, straw mattresses and only needed articles. Wednesday there were thirty men enrolled. At least twenty more are expected. The large hall is used as a dining room.

The farm has been cut up in sections, portions of which have already been plowed. Each man as he arrives is given a portion, two acres, one of which will be devoted to raising potatoes and the other to an assortment of vegetables.

Mr. Palen buys meat and groceries at wholesale, but local merchants in other lines are being patronized.

All those connected with the "home" are loud in their praises of the location, the mountain scenery being especially attractive.

The house is one of the oldest in this part of the country, having been erected before the Revolution by Philip VanHorn. It was the headquarters for several American officers during the war. Here it is that members of Typographical Union, No. 6, of New York, find rest and recreation.

Mr. Saltzman Going Abroad.

Augustus Saltzman, who is now visiting his daughter, Mrs. A. S. Fritts, at Hawley, Pa., expects to sail at an early date for Switzerland where he will remain for an indefinite time with his mother who lives at that place.

Daily Sessions in New School.

Daily sessions are now being held in the Watchung School in the borough. School was opened there last Monday when six classes were transferred from the High School.

ELEVATOR AND MAN FELL THREE STORIES

P. H. Zimmer Just Escaped Hanging En Route.

HE WAS ON THE ELEVATOR.

HAND-ROPE WAS TWISTED AROUND AROUND HIS NECK.

Rope to Balance-Wheel Became Unhooked and Caused the Accident in the Bird Building—Fell From Third Floor to Basement—Wonderful Escape From Serious Injury of P. H. Zimmer.

The elevator in the Bird building on East Fourth street, near Park avenue, fell yesterday morning from the top of the building to the basement with Phillip H. Zimmer as an unwilling passenger. En route to the bottom of the elevator shaft Zimmer managed to become entangled in the ropes and narrowly escaped death by hanging. Zimmer is still alive to tell the tale, but he doesn't know how he did it.

Zimmer has a machine shop in the basement of the Bird building. Yesterday morning he went to work as usual. There is an open freight elevator in the rear of the building. Shortly after 7 o'clock Zimmer went up in the elevator to the top floor. After leaving something there, he started to descend.

When Zimmer stepped on the platform of the elevator he did not look at the rope fastened to the balance wheel and which prevents the sudden descent of the car. In some way it had become unhooked. So when Zimmer started the the car it simply dropped without hinderance.

The distance the elevator fell is about thirty feet. As the car was falling the hand rope at the side used to stop and start the car twined round Zimmer's neck, lifting him clear of the platform of the car. The rope tore the skin off his neck. He was thrown against the wall and cut and battered. Finally the car came to a sudden stop at the end of the shaft and Zimmer landed in a heap on top.

His side and thigh were badly injured by the fall. He was also badly cut and bruised about the body. The car is a wreck. Zimmer is out again today and at work, but he is still very sore as a result of his experience.

BALES OF HAY ABLAZE.

STOREHOUSE TO CADMUS' MILL GUTTED BY FIRE.

The Loss will Reach Nearly $2,000—Insurance Amounts to $1,000—There Was No Apparent Cause for the Fire

A large storehouse on South Second street, belonging to A. L. Cadmus, with its upper story filled with nearly fifty tons of baled hay and straw, kept the Plainfield fire department busy for several hours yesterday afternoon. The flames sprang up from some unknown cause and gutted the building and its contents, inflicting a loss of some $2,000 on the owner.

The employes of the mill were in and out the stable yesterday morning and afternoon. They noticed no sign of fire. At 2:45 o'clock Henry Freeman, a colored man in the employ of Fred J. Harris, coal dealer, passed the building. Looking in, he saw the interior of the stable a mass of flames. He gave the alarm. An alarm was immediately sent in from box 45, nearby.

When the firemen arrived the blaze had spread into the hay and straw that was stored in the second story. The flames were bursting out on every side and threatened to destroy the mill close by. Four streams were turned on the fire. The flames soon disappeared but great clouds of smoke continued to pour out of the building.

Within half an hour the fire was well under control, but it was not until after 5 o'clock that all signs of fire had disappeared.

The building was gutted from roof to cellar and the contents practically ruined. The building was a good sized one. There was nearly fifty tons of hay and straw stored on the upper floor.

Assistant Chief Jennings left two men at the scene of the fire to watch for a renewal of the fire. Several times during the night the fire broke out in the bales of hay where it had been smouldering, but it was speedily extinguished.

The loss on the building itself will reach $1,000. It was covered by $600 insurance in the Hamburg Insurance Company. The loss on the stock will be $600 or over, on which the insurance is $400 with the Boston Insurance Company. All the insurance was through the agency of H. B. Tapscott.

There is no clue as yet to the origin of the fire.

PAID CALL FIREMEN ARE NOW ASSURED.

Council Adopts Ordinance Reorganizing the Department.

MR. HETFIELD OPPOSED IT.

FIRST WARD COUNCILMAN TRIED TO HAVE ACTION POSTPONED.

His Efforts Were Fruitless, But They Stirred Up Considerable Discussion as Opposition Was Not Expected—Corporation Counsel Marsh Communicated With Council About City Affairs.

There were unexpected developments in store for the members of the Common Council at the regular May meeting held last evening. In the absence of City Clerk MacMurray, who was detained on account of illness, the place was filled by George B. Wean, the stenographer.

It is said that it is the unexpected that always happens and in this case it proved to be the new fire ordinance. While no one was looking for any great opposition, it appeared through Mr. Hetfield and a lengthy discussion followed. The business of the evening was apparently concluded and the auditor's report had been called for and made. Mr. Hetfield moved for an adjournment, when Mr. Coriell happened to think that the fire ordinance was due, and, as he intended to call it up on its third reading, he asked for that privilege inasmuch as he had forgotten to do so at the proper time.

Mr. VanHerwerden asked a question as to whether it granted any additional privileges to exempt firemen, and when he was told that it did not, Mr. Hetfield took the floor and made a few remarks. He said that the ordinance had been drafted to keep in power certain officials, and he advised the Council to go slow about adopting it. He thought it should not be a question of politics or friendship, but inasmuch as the ordinance did not place any limit on ability, age, etc., he thought there should be some restrictive measures.

He stated that during the past few years the fire insurance premiums had increased and yet he could not explain this when the city is paying so much for the fire department. Mr. Hetfield then moved that action be postponed till the next meeting.

Mr. Coriell, chairman of the fire committee, said that it was necessary to start the new measures at once. He thought the only way to judge was by results and no one would say the officers are inefficient. He believed that the officers were competent and if any change should be made now it would make a great deal of trouble. He stated further that if Mr. Hetfield had any objections he should have presented them while the committee was discussing the ordinance.

Mr. Buckle coincided with Mr. Coriell. He believed in considering the merits of the men. There are persons who can find fault with Chief Doane, but he is honest, conscientious and knows his business.

Mr. Hetfield took exception to Mr. Coriell's action and words and said that he resorted to personality and did not argue to the point. He did not consider that it was Mr Coriell's business whether he remained at a meeting, came to a meeting or stayed at home. He said that last year the ordinance came up and he objected for the reason that he did not think the people's money should be voted away to pay for the advertising of an ordinance when an almost identical ordinance was on the books. There were many objections to the ordinance but the most important one is that which provides life tenure. "You will probably adopt the ordinance, but not with my vote," continued Mr. Hetfield.

After a little further discussion on the subject the ordinance was finally adopted.

The next important matter received was the report from Corporation Counsel Marsh regarding several cases in the courts wherein Plainfield is interested. The first item was that regarding the confirmation of the report of the Martin Act Commissioners April 24th. Under the provisions of this law sixty days is given after confirmation to settle, and if taxes are not paid within six month property can be sold. Mr. Marsh suggested that those affected by the Act be notified in a proper manner. He also mentioned the fact that the bills submitted to the court by the commissioners for their work, $1,500 each, were received, but the court was desirous that the Council's views in the matter should be received before allowing the same, and at the suggestion of the court the Council adopted a resolution postpon-

BIDS OPENED FOR PUBLIC SCHOOL COAL

Contract to Supply Them Not Yet Awarded.

F. J. HARRIS WAS LOWEST.

THE COMMENCEMENT TO BE HELD THURSDAY, JUNE 22ND.

Six Bids for the Coal Supply of the Schools were Received—New Typewriters for High School—Rev. Dr. Charles Cuthbert Hall, President of Union Theological Seminary, to Make Address.

The opening of the bids for the coal supply for the Plainfield public schools was the principal business considered at the meeting of the Plainfield Board of Education last evening.

The report of Tax Collector Martin showed taxes to the amount of $1,126.96 collected, together with interest amounting to $59.89, making a total of $1,181.85. Superintendent Maxson reported tuition collections amounting to $383.49. The report of the medical inspectors showed that 143 more children had been vaccinated during the month.

At 7:45 o'clock the reporters and interested coal dealers were called in and the bids opened. They were for 500 tons, more or less, of Lehigh coal, tons of 2,000 pounds. They were as follows: Fred J. Harris, for stove, egg and chestnut sizes, $4.14 a ton; for pea coal, $2 88 a ton.

C. H. Rugg, for stove, egg and chestnut, $4.25; for pea, $3.20.

TenEyck and Harris, for stove, egg and chestnut, $4.15; for pea, $3.00.

C. E. Kelly & Co., for stove, egg and chestnut, $4.35; for pea, $3.10, Jeddo coal, 15 cents extra per ton.

George O. Stevens and & Co, for stove, egg and chestnut, $4 23; for pea, $3.24.

McDonough Brothers, for egg, stove and chestnut, $4.23; for pea, $2 98.

The bids were all referred to the committee on fuel which will investigate the kind of coal to be furnished and then award the contract.

It was announced that the commencement exercises would be held Thursday evening, June 22d, and that the speaker on that occasion would be Rev. Dr. Charles Cuthbert Hall, president of the Union Theological Seminary, of New York City.

CITY FIREMEN ELECT.

VOLUNTEER COMPANY CHOOSE THEIR OFFICERS

No. 2 Engine Company Was the Last to Dispose of Its Property—The Results of the Election.—The Sale.

The volunteer companies of the Plainfield fire department all met last night and elected officers for the ensuing year. The last of the companies to dispose of its property was the No. 2 Engine Company. All the furniture was sold and the pictures given away at the meeting last night. The sale of the furniture and carpets brought a little over $40.

The Alert Hose Company elected the following officers: Foreman, Roger F. Murray; first assistant, Townsend Rushmore; second assistant, C. C. Burnett; secretary, C. C. Burnett; treasurer, Townsend Rushmore.

The Zephyr Hook and Ladder Company elected the following officers—Foreman, Jacob Blimm, Jr.; first assistant, E. J. McCann; second assistant, Charles Conover; recording secretary, George Mehl, Jr.; financial secretary, S. L. Miller; treasurer, Jacob Blimm, Jr.; auditing committee, Joseph Blimm, C. F. Glaentzer and George Ball; representatives to the Relief Association, Jacob Blimm, Jr., and J. E. Waters.

The No. 2 Engine Company elected the following officers—Foreman, Frank Hand; first assistant, Robert Eick; second assistant, Harry Connett; recording secretary, Adolph Kahrman; financial secretary, James Dawe; treasurer, Frank Schuck; representatives to Relief Association, Wm. Towaley and C. J. Neuman.

The Gazelle Engine Company elected the following officers—Foreman, L. M. Dunavan, first assistant, Wm. Addis; second assistant, D. S. Dunavan; secretary, J. E. Huntington; assistant secretary, W. T. Newman; treasurer, L.S. Spicer; representatives to the Relief Association, W. T. Newman and J. A. Hubbard.

F. Ludwig Conde's Concert.

If you miss the orchestrial concert Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Hall you will miss one of the best musical entertainments of this season. The orchestra will consist of twenty-five instruments as follows: Fourteen violins, two violas, two 'cellos, two basses, flute and claronet, two trumpets trombones and drums.

THE CENTRAL TO EXTEND

PLANS BEING CONSIDERED TO OPEN UP NEW TERRITORY.

A Branch From Upper Lehigh to Freeland Has Been Ordered—Will Give Central Equal Footing With Lehigh.

A despatch from MacAdoo, Pa., states that the Jersey Central Railroad is considering plans for extending its lines in that region and opening up new and valuable territory. For some time the Boards of Trade of MacAdoo, Hazelton and Freeland have been urging the railroad company to provide transportation, and Saturday an extension from Upper Lehigh to Freeland was ordered.

Another branch is being surveyed across the mountains to strike the Silver Brook grade, which will give entrance to the Hazelton district.

These new branches will give the Jersey Central an equal footing with the Lehigh Valley for the trade in the Hazelton region.

DENNIS FELT FUNNY.

CLAIMS HE WAS DRUGGED AND ROBBED BY TWO COMPANIONS.

William Van Horn and Young VanNest Accused of the Robbery—Dennis Says He Lost $9 and a Gold Watch.

Harry Dennis, of Warren street, made a complaint before Justice Mosher this morning against two young men who, he says, drugged and robbed him yesterday. The alleged crime was perpetrated in a livery stable, after Dennis had been taken to a neighboring saloon and given something to drink. William VanHorn and a son of Gilbert VanNest, of the borough, are the two whom Dennis makes this charge against.

Dennis says that he had $9 in money on his person, besides a gold watch. He says that after taking a drink or two he began to feel funny, and then his two companions led him over to the stable where they proceeded to go through his pockets, but not without protest on his part.

One of the young men got the watch, Dennis says, and the other took the money. Dennis sister, with whom he lives, was in court with her brother this morning, and tells the remainder of the tale. Some time during the afternoon these two men, she says, brought her brother home in a carriage. When he entered the house he was unconscious, according to her story, and unable to tell anything about where he had been.

But this morning when he awoke the rememberance of yesterday's events came back to him, and he hastened to swear out the warrant. VanHorn is said to be in Somerville today, but he will be arrested as soon as he returns. Young VanNest will be arrested this afternoon.

ODD FELLOWS EIGHTY YEARS OLD.

Anniversary Observed by Plainfield Lodge Last Night.

The eightieth anniversary of Odd Fellowship was celebrated last night by Queen City Lodge, 226, I. O. O. F. The principal attraction was an address on Odd Fellowship by Mr. Gilmore, a lodge man of some prominence, who has been making Plainfield his home for several weeks. Mr. Gilmore spoke of the grand work done by the organization. He also alluded to national affairs, and the hero of Manila, the annniversary of whose victory the country at large were keeping.

Mr. Gilmore was followed by B. W. Hand, who made a few remarks, and John H. Carney amused the audience with some German dialect stories. Refreshments closed the evening.

Two candidates were initiated, and there were three propositions for membership.

FOR RAILROAD CONSTRUCTION.

New Company Organized, With Col. C. K. Moore as President.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bound Brook, May 2.—At a meeting of the Stockholders of the Lap Joint Railway Track Co. held here today, the following were elected Directors: Alvah A. Clark, H. M. Herbert, J. E. Hillpot, Volney W. Mason, Jr. and Chas. K. Moore. The Directors immediately organized and elected: Chas. K. Moore, President; Alvah A. Clark, vice president; H. M. Herbert, secretary and treasurer and Volney W. Mason, Jr., chief engineer.

This company though being in existence but one year has contracts for construction of railways of over fifty miles.

Miss May VanDerveer, of Somerville, has been visiting Miss Laura A. Holder, of Westervelt avenue, for a few days past.

PATH FOR TROLLEY TO SCOTCH PLAINS.

Route Being Staked Out by Civil Engineer VanEmburgh.

THE WORK WILL BE PUSHED

BY THURSDAY IT IS THOUGHT THE PICKS WILL STRIKE IN.

After the Work is Started it is Calculated That it Will Not Take Over Two Weeks to Finish it, so That Trolley Cars Will be Running to the Plains by June—Trolley Work Elsewhere

H. C. VanEmburgh, civil engineer for the Plainfield Street Railway Company and the Elizabeth and Westfield Street Railway Company, commenced work this morning staking out the course of the Scotch Plains extension of the former company, which runs from the corner of East Fifth and Richmond streets over the latter thoroughfare to East Second street and thence up that street to the city limits. From thence the line will run into Scotch Plains over private property.

Mr. VanEmburgh expects to have route staked out by tomorrow night, and Thursday morning Contractor L. W. Serrell will commence constructing the road, beginning at the Scotch Plains end and working towards this city. After the work is started it is calculated that it will not take over two weeks to finish it. Unless the plans fail the trolley cars will be running to Scotch Plains by June 1st.

THE "PONIES" LOST.

Park Club Whisters Unable to Win State Cup From Roseville.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Roseville, May 2—The "pony" whist team from the Park Club came to this place last evening and contested for the New Jersey Association Cup, for which there has been such an exciting struggle. The visitors were beaten by a score of 14 to 8. This gives the cup to the team from the Roseville Club, who defeated the Ridgewood team in the contest last week.

The visitors played a weak game, and were not up to the usual standard, while the Roseville team put up a strong game throughout. In the first round the home team scored 4 to 1 for the visitors. In the second round the score stood 6 to 3 in favor of the home team, and the last round was a tie 4 to 4. This concludes the contest. Next season undoubtedly another contest will be arranged.

Waiting for a Completed House.

The marriage of Miss Kuntzman and Augustus Mobus, of Washingtonville, did not take place last evening as announced. The wedding will probably take place next week after Mr. Mobus completes the furnishing of his house.

New Telephone Offices.

It is expected that the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company will take possession of their new offices on Park avenue sometime this week. The finishing touches are now being made on the new building.

Soon to Leave the Hospital.

The remaining three patients at Muhlenberg Hospital, who were injured in the Lehigh Valley Railroad wreck at West Dunellen, will soon be able to go home. They are now almost well and improving rapidly.

A New Organist.

Mr. Miller, of Boston, who has been engaged as organist at the First Presbyterian church, will enter upon his duties next Sunday. It is quite likely that there will be some additions to the regular choir.

Engagement Announced.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Leonora Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Williams, of Somerset street, and Blanchard Elston Randolph, of West Front street.

Making Better Streets.

A number of streets in Washington Park are being macadamized and put in first-class condition under the direction of the street committee and Superintendent of Highways Thomas Doud.

Singing Tenor.

L. H. Biglow, Jr., of this city, is filling the position of George Smith, tener, at the First Baptist church. church. The latter is visiting in Europe for a time.

State Convention of Exempts.

The annual State convention of Exempt Firemen will be held Wednesday, May 17th, at Grange. It gives promise of being one of the important gatherings ever held.

To Be Depended Upon

Because it is the Experience of a Plainfield Citizen, and Can Readily Be Investigated.

Suppose you were an utter stranger in a large city and had completely lost your way, whose guidance could you place the most confidence in, a stranger's lost like yourself, or a resident's, born and bred in the city? When a ship reaches the offing of a strange port, whose hand directs the tiller and brings her safe to her moorings, a trusty pilot's or a greenhorn's? Whose opinions, experience and statements can the reader depend upon the more, those published by bona fide Plainfield citizens, or those originally drafted in every hole and corner of the union, except our own Plainfield and its suburbs? Read this Plainfield case. Mr. Jos. Van-Arsdale, Carpenter and Contractor, living at 213 Spooner Ave., says: "For several years I suffered from severe pain in my back, hips and loins, so bad at times that it was almost impossible for me to get around and attend to my work. Any stooping or heavy lifting aggravated it, and if I contracted the least cold it always settled in my back, and at such times my suffering was something intense. When Doan's Kidney Pills came to my notice I was in pretty bad shape and procuring them from L. W. Randolph's drug store, I took a few doses when I found they were helping me, and on completing the treatment I was quite free from pain. I always keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand so as to have a sure remedy close by if the trouble should ever return. I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for aching and lameness in the back and consider them an honest kidney medicine and possessing all merits claimed for them."

GILMORE AND PARTY SAFE

Navy Department Receives Information That They Are at Native Headquarters.

LAWTON IS RECALLED.

Gen. Otis Sends Word to Lawton to Return to Angat and Await the Issue of Negotiations.

Filipino Congress Met at San Fernando Monday and Further Peace Proposals Will Probably Result—Filipino Army Almost Completely Hemmed In By the Americans and Hostiles.

Washington, May 2.—The Navy Department has information from Admiral Dewey of the safety of Lieutenant J. C. Gilmore and ten of his fourteen men. They are prisoners at the insurgent headquarters.

It is inferred, therefore, that four of the men are still missing, and may have been killed in the fight in which their companions were made prisoners.

Manila, May 2.—Hostilities have been practically suspended by Gen. Otis in anticipation of the return of the Filipino envoys with new peace proposals. The only fighting that has occurred since the envoys appeared in the American camp took place Sunday.

The fighting was done by Gen. Lawton's column. Advancing toward the northwest, so as to get still further in the rear of the rebel forces, Gen. Lawton engaged a large body of the enemy in the circle of hills near San Rafael, five miles northwest of Angat. He drove a thousand Filipinos before him, with a loss to his own forces of only three wounded.

When General Otis heard of it he ordered Gen. Lawton to return to Angat and not to take any aggressive measures while the negotiations were on.

The Filipino Congress met at San Fernando Monday and peace proposals may result from the meeting. Meantime, however, the American forces are building bridges and strengthening their lines, which extend four miles in front of the enemy. The Filipino army is almost completely hemmed in by the Americans and by hostile tribes behind them.

"My God! where would we escape to?" said Col. Arguelles, one of the Filipino envoys, when Commissioner Worcester suggested that an armistice would give the army a chance to escape.

Aguinaldo, Col. Arguelles said, expected Calumpit to be the cemetery of the American army.

THEY WILL YIELD.

Chairman Schurman Sends an Encouraging Despatch—Thinks Filipino Overtures Will Have Propitious Result.

Washington, May 2.—Very gratifying information has been received at the State Department in a cable despatch from President Schurman of the Philippine Commission. Mr. Schurman says in substance that the overtures for peace are likely to have a propitious result and that with firmness and consideration on the part of the United States the Filipinos will soon be brought to a realization of the good intentions of this Government. The message is all the more encouraging because Mr. Schurman has been regarded as somewhat pessimistic concerning the chances of a favorable outcome in the Philippines situation.

The Administration officers say that they have every reason to be gratified over present conditions. They have knowledge that the forces of Aguinaldo are being threatened on the north by hostile bands of their hereditary enemies the Tagals, of which the army of Aguinaldo is almost entirely composed. MacArthur is in a better strategical position than at any time since he crossed the Rio Grande River.

Otis has telegraphed that he has sent supplies needed by Lawton in the vicinity of Nazaragay. Altogether the military-political structure is very good and the end of the insurrection is expected to occur very soon.

A despatch received from General Otis contained no reference to the Philippine situation, but conveyed the information that Capt. Rockefeller of the 9th Infantry had been missing since April 28. It is believed that he has been captured by the insurgents.

The 9th Infantry arrived at Manila on April 26, and Capt. Rockefeller immediately proceeded to the vicinity of Caloocan, where, it appears, he commanded a battalion of troops.

Gen. Otis's despatch was as follows:

"Manila, May 2.

"Adjutant-General, Washington:

"Capt. Rockefeller, 9th Infantry, missing since 28th ult., on line commanding battalion near Caloocan, visited outposts 9:30 P. M.; not seen since; diligent search made that night two miles to front, nothing discovered, no enemy in front, search proceeded ever since without success. Private papers in his possession found 29th ult. two and one-half miles to front, belief lost course and captured.

"OTIS."

Capt. Charles Rockefeller is a native of New York. He entered the United States service in 1861 when 15 years old, as a private in Company E of the 7th New York Volunteers. He later served in Company C of the 8th New York, and on April 26, 1861, was made Sergeant-Major of that regiment. On Oct. 17, 1863, he was made Lieutenant of the 178th New York and was mustered out April 20, 1866. He was appointed Second Lieutenant of the 9th Infantry, on Sept. 3 1867, and on March 11, 1878, was promoted to First Lieutenant. He was graduated from the Infantry and Cavalry School in 1883, and was made a Captain on Aug. 15, 1889.

Ex-Gov. Altgeld Ill.

Chicago, May 2.—It was reported this morning that ex-Gov. John P. Altgeld was critically ill. It was said that Drs. Senn and O'Neill went to the Altgeld home yesterday to perform an operation to relieve a serious complication arising from an attack of locomotor ataxia. Neither of the surgeons would give out any statement concerning their patient, but Mrs. Altgeld told a friend that her husband's condition was such as to cause much anxiety.

DEWEY DAY AT MANILA.

The Victorious Admiral Holds a Reception on His Flagship—Crews of Vessels Have a Holiday.

Manila, May 2.—The situation is unchanged. There is no fighting and under the circumstances none is desired, everything being given up here to the celebration of the anniversary of Dewey's destruction of the Spanish fleet in Manila Bay. Admiral Dewey granted the fleet a holiday and held a reception on board his flagship. He was visited by the American Commissioners and received a large number of congratulatory despatches.

The Nevada Cavalry, which was formerly at Cavite, has been transferred to Manila. The commands all along the line are being rearranged preparatory to resuming operations.

The Rio rande de la Pampanga bridge has been repaired sufficiently to permit the bumping of the artillery over the girders, and the baggage train will be taken across to-morrow. Calumpit is likely to be the future base of operations.

Brooklyn, May 2.—President McKinley sent this message from the Navy Yard to Admiral Dewey:

"Navy Yard, Brooklyn, May 1, 1899.

"Dewey, Manila:

"On this anniversary of your great victory the people of the United States unite in an expression of affection and gratitude to yourself and the brave officers and men of your fleet, whose brilliant achievements mark an epoch in history and will live in the annals of the world's heroic deeds.

WILLIAM M'KINLEY.

McKINLEY'S VISIT.

Accompanied by a Party He Makes a Tour of the Brooklyn Navy Yard and Lunches With Admiral Philip.

New York, May 2—President McKinley, accompanied by his brother, Abner McKinley, Colonel W. C. Brown, Abner McKinley's business partner; Dr. Rixey, physician in attendance on the President; Proprietor Hawk, of the Manhattan; Private Secretary Cortelyou and Stenographer Rudolph Forster, drove from the hotel to the foot of East Twenty-third street.

There the party boarded the Government tug Nina and crossed to the Navy Yard.

Twenty-one guns were fired as the Nina approached the pier, and the Navy Yard band assembled on the cob dock and crashed out "Hail to the Chief."

A battalion of marines, under Lieutenant Colonel Bleu, acted as guard of honor.

The President's programme included a four-hour inspection of the Navy Yard and a luncheon with Rear Admiral Philip.

The Anglo-Russian Agreement.

St. Petersburg, May 2.—The arrangement between Great Britain and Russia, reported as having been signed here last Friday, is not in the form of a convention. The terms were set forth in a note, duplicates of which were exchanged by Count Muravieff, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and British Ambassador Scott. The preamble states that both countries agree to uphold the integrity and independence of China. There is no reference to the respective spheres of influence, but the agreement makes provision against a clashing of the interests of the railways in Manchuria and the Yangtse Valley.

Paris, May 2.—The newspapers contain very little of interest in regard to the reported Anglo-Russian accord in the far East, contenting themselves with spiteful little digs at perfidious Russia.

Berlin, May 2.—The newspapers here are skeptical regarding the reported agreement between Great Britain and Russia in the far East. The National Zeitung thinks that such an agreement as suggested would be more to Russia's advantage than England's, but the Post says that the difference between the two nations are so vast that no treaty arrangement is possible.

London, May 2.—Mr. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, replying to Sir Michael Hicks-Beach in the House of Commons in regard to the Anglo-Russian agreement, gave information similar to the statements already published, that both countries agree to uphold the integrity and independence of China, with the addition that there are special stipulations protecting the New Chwang railway.

Our Relations With Germany.

Vienna, May 2.—The Fremdenblatt regards the messages which passed between the German Emperor and Presiden McKinley in regard to the German cable as important, their friendliness marking the end of the period of disturbance. "We are sure," the paper adds, "that the aims of both are so far apart that it is impossible that they should cross each other's path." The Fremdenblatt further says: "Europe has grown accustomed to regard the American Republic as a new great Power. America must admit that she does not meet with prejudice or dislike here, but on the contrary a readiness to return her friendliness."

ANGRY AT OUR TARIFF.

British Government Refuses to Ask Us to Remove Our Protective Duties.

London, May 2.—In the House of Commons Mr. Douglas Harry Coghill asked the Ministry if the Foreign Office had instructed their representative at Washington to present to the Government of the United States the great injury caused to various branches of British trade by the existing American tariff and to urge the advisibility of withdrawing a tariff so unfavorable to Great Britian. The Parliamentary Secretary for the Foreign Office said that it was not usual to make representations to a foreign power upon its tariff policy except in connection with some specific negotiations. The Government, he said, did not consider that at the present moment instructions such as the member suggested would be likely to result to the benefit of British commerce.

TROOPS TO QUELL MINERS

Governor Appealed for Regulars to Prevent Further Trouble at Coeur D'Alene.

IS THE SHERIFF REMISS?

Has Not Sent a Demand for Assistance to Put Down Riots to the Governor of Idaho.

This Attitude Presents Complications Owing to the Fact That Martial Law Cannot Be Proclaimed Unless With Consent of Sheriff or Coroner—A General Exodus From Wardner.

Chicago, May 2—General M. V. Sheridan, commander of the Department of the Lakes, has been ordered by the War Department to prepare his troops for a movement to Wardner, Idaho, to assist in keeping in check the disorderly miners in the Coeur d'Alene district.

San Francisco, May 2.—In accorddance with orders from Washington, the troops stationed at Presidio have been placed under arms and made ready to proceed to Idaho, upon the request of Governor Steunenburg, to preserve order among the rioting miners at Wardner.

Boise City, Idaho, May 1.—Dispatches from Washington to Governor Steunenburg, state that the War Department, in compliance with the Governor's request, has directed troops at Chicago and San Francisco to assist in keeping order at Wardner.

General Miles telegraphed Adutant General Babcock and informed him that General Merriman, of the Department of Colorado, had been placed in command of all troops which may be ordered to Wardner.

No demand for assistance has been received by the Governor from the Sheriff and county officials at Wardner. It is understood here that the local authorities are aiding the strikers and that they will do all in their power to prevent the sending of troops to the scene of the trouble.

This attitude on the part of the Sheriff complicates the situation, owing to the fact that martial law cannot be proclaimed unless with the consent of the Sheriff, Coroner or Probate Judge.

Two companies of militia are located at Wardner, but most of the militiamen are strikers.

A general exodus from Wardner and the surrounding territory is in progress. Many of the miners and other citizens are sending their families to Spokane and other points in the expectation that riots and bloodshed will occur.

A NEGRO LYNCHED

Alleged Barn Burner Taken From Jail by an Arkansas Mob and Hanged.

Memphis, Tenn., May 2.—Information was received in Memphis that Willis Seer, a negro, aged thirty years, was taken from the jail at Osceola, Ark., Sunday and hanged in the jail yard by a mob of forty men.

Seer was in jail on a charge of burning. After being suspended in midair twice the negro confessed the crime of which he was charged and he was then hanged.

Several houses have been burned in the neighborhood of Osceola recently, and this is given as the reason for the mob taking the law into its jurisdiction.

Chilkats on Warpath.

Skaguay, Alaska, April 24, via Seattle, Wash., May 2.—The Chilkat Indians are on the warpath.

Last Sunday twenty bucks armed with rifles gathered from their several villages along the Chilkat River and marched to Rocky Point, eight miles from Haines Mission, where eight white men were blasting rock for a trail to Klukwan. The Indians drove the whites away. Word was immediately sent to United States Marshal and Commissioner at Skaguay and to Capt. Cheatman, in command of the troops at Dyea. Sixteen soldiers, under command of the troops at Dyeaoooygc.e mand of a sergeant, were at once sent to Haines Mission.

Laundry Trust Now.

Trenton, May 2.—The United Laundries Company was incorporated here with $1,000,000 capital stock. The principal office in this State will be at Haworth, and the agent is Clarence V. Fowler. The company is incorporated for the purpose of carrying on a general laundry business. The capital stock is divided into 10,000 shares at $100 each, of which James D. Trathen holds 3,334 and William Haff and Thomas J. B. Frank, 3,333 each. The incorporators' addresses are given as Haworth.

Warden Sage Steps Out.

Sing Sing, May 2.—Addison Johnson of Portchester was this morning formerly installed as Warden of Sing Sing Prison to succeed Omar V. Sage, whose resignation had been accepted, to take effect to-day. Warden Sage and Mr. Johnson had an informal talk about several details of the institution and then the keys of the prison and the custody of the 1,486 inmates were given over to Warden Johnson. Warden Sage had everything in readiness for Warden Johnson to start off, with all accounts balanced and the work of the past months all attended to.

Mine Owners Find $10,000.

Basin, Mont., May 2.—Senator Clark and other owners of stock in the Hope Mine will divide an unexpected find of $10,000 worth of rich ore secreted by a former employe in the mine's palmy days. The man disclosed the hidden treasure to a friend, fearing he was about to die, but recovering attempted to get it himself, revealing the secret.

Swept By Tornado and Fire.

Coleridge, Neb., May 2.—A tornado ran into a prairie fire, which had been devastating the northern tier of Nebraska counties, and before they had separated the two had swept a clean path twenty-five miles in length across this county.

We won't say anything about our 20c Coffee. Everybody uses it.

One day last August, while suffering terribly from indigestion, heartburn and nervous headache, I rushed into a drug store and asked the clerk to recommend some remedy. Among those that he mentioned was Ripans Tabules, and I concluded to try them, and from that day on I am like a new man. Ripans Tabules have worked wonders with me. I have introduced them to my relatives and friends and made them presents of the five-cent cartons. My wife thinks they are really grand. They have cured her of many a tough headache. I would not be without the Tabules at any cost.

MOB DESPOILS A CHURCH.

Dr. Broughton's Church at Atlanta, Ga., Desecrated By an Angry Mob.

WAS WARNED TO LEAVE

Preached Scathing Sermon Bitterly Condemning the Lynching of Hose and Strickland.

The Tabernacle Is the Largest Church in Georgia, and When the Mob Got Through Their Wrecking It Looked Like a Cyclone Had Struck the Interior—Broughton Will Stick.

Atlanta, Ga., May 2.—The Rev. Dr. L. G. Broughton's Tabernacle was despoiled by a mob because of the intense indignation aroused by Dr. Broughton's sermon Sunday bitterly condemning the lynching of Hose and Strickland. Notice was sent to Dr. Broughton to leave town if he valued his life. Inclosed in the letter were several pieces of charred flesh torn from Hose's body. Dr. Broughton has been the target for virulent abuse ever since the lynching, which he condemned unsparingly at the time and frequently afterward. He says he will stick to his post here, come what may. The tabernacle was a new building and was the largest church in the State. The mob smashed in the doors and completely wrecked the interior of the church. Pews were wrenched loose and smashed with axes. Cushions and fittings were cut and torn to pieces, and when the angry mob finished the spoliation of the church looked as if it had been struck by a cyclone.

Big Cut in Gas Rates.

New York, May 2.—A big reduction in the price of gas has been made by two of the principal companies of the city, which lessens the cost to the consumer almost one-half. The Consolidated Gas Company and the New York Mutual Gas Light Company announced that, beginning May 1, the price of gas would be 65 cents for 1,000 feet, insead of $1.10, the previous price. No explanation for this reduction accompanied the notices, and the officers of the companies refuse to assign adequate reasons for their action. It was stated, however, that the fight which has been going on since September last between the gas companies of the city might account for the sudden and enormous lowering of the price of gas. Another explanation is that the recently started agitation for municipal ownership of gas plants has had its effect. Some of the local newspapers have been endeavoring to put the city into the gas business and furnish gas to the consumers at 50 cents per 1,000 feet.

Validity of Dakota Divorces not Settled

Washington, May 2.—The United States Supreme Court passed opinion on a case that might have settled the question of the standing in other States of decrees of divorce granted in North Dakota, but failed to do so. The case was that of Maud E. Kimball vs. the administrators of the estate of the late Edward C. Kimball, of New York. Mrs. Kimball had been married to Mr. Kimball after securing a decree in North Dakota, and the administrators refused to acknowledge the tie, holding that Mr. Kimball died an unmarried man, because of the invalidity of the divorce. The decision was against Mrs. Kimball in the State courts on these grounds, but after the case got into the Federal Courts a will was discovered. This decided the controversy as to the estate, and the Supreme Court dismissed the writ of error in which the case was brought to this court, without passing upon the North Dakota decree. Justice Gray, who formulated the opinion of the court, remarked that the court was not in the habit of deciding moot questions.

McKinley Again, says Hanna.

Cleveland, May 2.—Senator Hanna said that President McKinley would be renominated with a rush and reelected without substantial opposition. Imperialism, he thought, would not be an issue. Congress would decide our Eastern policy after the present Administration had crushed the rebels. Trusts might receive the attention of the National Committee, he thought. Hanna said he did not think Mayor Jones, of Toledo, would be the Republican nominee for Governor in Ohio. Hanna is much provoked about the rumor that he, Senator Foraker and George B. Cox, of Cincinnati, have formed a combination to dictate the nominee. "I don't believe in bossism," said the Senator, and I will take no part in any combination to foist upon the people of Ohio a Gubernatorial candidate. I have no choice myself."

INDIANS REVOLT.

Bloodshed at Election of Chiefs at St. Regis Reservation.

Cornwall, Ont., May 1.—The trouble on the St. Regis Indian reservation, which broke out on March 27, when the Indians chased away the Government police sent there to hold an election of chiefs, broke out afresh this morning, and this time the affair has assumed more serious proportions. The net result of the day's operations by ten members of the Dominion police, commanded by Superintendent Sherwood, is the killing of one Indian, the serious injury of two others and the arrest and carrying off of four prominent chiefs. It is supposed that they are being taken to Beauharnois on a tug.

On March 27 200 or 300 Indians disarmed, beat and maltreated Inspector Hogan and Dominion Policeman Chamberlain and chased them and Constable Morris of Dundee outside the reservation limits. They kept the Indian agent, John Long, a prisoner in the school house for several hours.

The cause of the disorder on the part of the Indians is a feeling among some of them that they have not been treated right by the Government. They want their old privileges back at least so far as their system of chiefs is concerned. The Government insists that they shall have an election every three years, when they are to elect one head chief and three secondary chiefs. The Indians want twelve elected for life, according to the custom in vogue before the Government assumed any control of their affairs. With the exception of a very few they insist on this. Those who favor the Government plan number only about twenty, and the ringleaders of the opposition say that these are not full-blood Indians.

The Indans have been insisting on the old system right along, but this small majority sent a petition to Ottawa asking that the new system be enforced. Then the majority sent a deputation to Ottawa, but they got little satisfaction. A powwow was held in July last, when a lot of talking was done.

In August the tribe held another, and a Dominion constable was sent to attend it, but was not admitted. Finally Mr. Long called the election for March 27, and members of the Dominion police were sent to the reservation to conduct the taking of the votes. The only result of their presence was to excite the Indians and frustrate the election.

Promotions Recommended By Otis.

Washington, May 2.—Secretary Alger recently instructed Major-Gen. Otis to designate one soldier of each volunteer organization serving in the Philippines for appointment as a Second Lieutenant in the regular army. These instructions were sent by direction of the President, who prescribed as a basis for selection that the soldier designated by Gen. Otis must, in addition to possessing all the necessary qualifications for appointment, be distinguished for good conduct and soldierly bearing. Gen. Otis telegraphed his recommendations, suggesting the following men for appointment:

California—J. B. Morse, First Lieutenant California Heavy Artillery; George T. Ballinger, First Lieutenant California Volunteers.

Colorado—Ralph B. Lister, Second Lieutenant 1st Colorado Volunteers.

Iowa—William R. Gilson, Captain 51st Iowa Volunteers.

Minnesota—C. A. Bock, Sergeant 13th Minnesota Volunteers.

Montana—E. V. D. Murphy, Second Lieutenant 1st Montana Volunteers.

Nebraska—Wallace C. Taylor, Captain 1st Nebraska Volunteers.

Oregon—Reese Jackson, First Lieutenant 2d Oregon Volunteers.

Pennsylvania—Frank B. Hawkins, Captain 10th Pennsylvania.

South Dakota—Evans A. Young, First Lieutenant 1st South Dakota Volunteers.

Utah—William C. Webb, Second Lieutenant Utah Light Artillery.

Requisition for Ordnance Supplies.

Washington, May 2.—In a general order issued from the War Department the attention of officers is invited to the necessity of making timely requisition on the Ordnance Department for such arms, ammunition and equipments as are required. Neglect on the part of commanding officers to make requisitions until their commands have received orders for active service has in many cases caused additional expense to be incurred by the Government on account of the necessity of using the telegraph for communication and the express companies for transportation, and has resulted in the troops leaving their stations without being properly supplied.

MRS. GEORGE NEEDS MONEY

Refuses to Give Her Pictures to any One or Allow Others to Sell Them.

Canton, O., May 2.—Mrs. George is after money. "I have been doing everything without pay," she says. "People do not realize how poor I am. I must make money some way to pay my bills at the hotel. If the papers want anything more they must pay for it. I will positively not give my picture to anyone. Let people wait for my book. I shall send a notice to the Canton photographers tha they must quit selling my photos."

The Cape to Cairo Scheme

London, May 2.—In the House of Commons Right Hon. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced that the Government had failed to come to any agreement with Mr. Cecil Rhodes respecting the proposed guarantee to the Cape-to-Cairo Railway. The announcement was greeted with cheers by the Radical members of the House.

Lawrenceville's New Head.

Chicago, May 2.—The Rev. S. J. McPherson, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of Chicago, has announced his intention of resigning, to become the head of the Lawrenceville Academy of Lawrenceville, N. J. The academy is the preparatory school for Princeton University.

Spanish Government Has a Big Majority.

Madrid, May 2.—The latest returns from the Senatorial elections show a Government majority of forty over the combined opposition parties.

BIG POWER HOUSE IN BROOKLYN BURNED.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 2.—Four thousand five hundred tons of coal and 1,000 gallons of engine oil in the top story of the immense boiler house of the Brooklyn Heights Railroad Company, at Division avenue and the East River, Brooklyn, were burned. The fire lasted over four hours and the illumination could be seen for miles around. Four alarms were turned in, and twelve fire engines, four truck companies and three fire boats did their best to extinguish the flames. The fire is believed to have started in the oil reservoir, which feeds automatically into the machinery of the power house. It communicated quickly to the coal, near at hand, which also is connected by automatic feeders with the boilers.

NEW YORK SOCIALISTS WALK AND TALK.

New York, May 2.—Union Square saw one of the greatest throngs that has packed its broad plaza in recent years. It marked the May Day celebrations of the Socialists of this city. They assembled on the East Side 6,000 strong, with banners, transparencies and bands, and after a parade passed in review before the balcony of the cottage at Union Square. At the square speeches were made and long resolutions were adopted. Among the statements was this:

"Capital is doomed, with its Anglo-Saxon, Franco-Russian and triple-alliances, with their insatiable greed, incurable class restrictions, murderous class rule and violent class conflict. It represents war, riot and despotism on a far more stupendous scale than did the feudalism which it supplanted."

LEHR AND FRANKS SENT TO PRISON.

Newark, N. J., May 2.—Michael Franks and Michael Lehr, members of the gang of youthful forgers who, according to the confession of Lehr, got more than $30,000 in Newark, New York, Philadelphia, Boston and other large cities of the East, were sentenced in the Court of Special Sessions. Frank, who was convicted after a short trial, got four years at hard labor in State prison, and Lehr, who turned State's evidence and pleaded guilty, got a sentence of two years and six months. The specific charge on which Franks was tried was the forging and cashing of a check for $85.60 on the German National Bank of Newark.

THREE BLOCKS ON FIRE IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, May 2.—Thirty houses have been destroyed in a fierce fire in the neighborhood of Milwaukee avenue and Noble street, and the fire is still spreading and practically beyond the control of the Fire Department. It is rumored that two boys have been burned to death. Houses of three blocks are ablaze and unless the wind, which is blowing a gale, ceases, the fire will spread much further. The plant of the Chicago Brewing Company is threatened. More than fifty families have ben rendered homeless, and men, women and children are running through the streets in an agony of fear and despair.

FATAL FIST FIGHT BETWEEN TWO BOYS.

Albany May 2.—The Whitehall Athletic Club was the scene of a fatal fistic bout. Frank Martin, of this city, agen 17 years, was knocked out by a right-hand blow over the heart, delivered by Frank McHenry, also of Albany. The fatal blow was struck in the third round. When it was delivered Martin dropped to his knees and clung to the ropes. His seconds carried him to a bench and began fanning him, thinking he had fainted. The physicians who were called in declared that this probably caused death, as, palpatation of the heart setting in, the proper treatment would have been to have kept the temperature high. McHenry and the referee were arrested.

REPUBLICANS AGREED ON CURRENCY PLAN.

Atlantic City, May 2.—The National House of Representatives' Republican Caucus Committee closed its session. The chairman of the committee, Mr. Henderson, of Iowa, said:

"The committee apointed by the Republican caucus of the House to recommend financial legislation met at Haddon Hall, Atlantic City, on April 17, and has worked steadily and earnestly for two weeks. The committee has reached a unanimous agreement and is ready to meet the Republican members of the Finance Committee of the Senate to submit its views to the consideration of the joint conference. Until such a meeting the work of the House Committee will be held from publication."

MACARTHUR FINDS THE YORKTOWN CREW.

Manila, May 2.—General MacArthur has sent officers to Gen. Antonio Luna, the Filipino commander, under a flag of truce, carrying money and provisions for American prisoners in his hands, and asking an exchange of prisoners and the names of such as he may have. It is reported that the insurgents have two officers and sixteen others; and it is supposed that among these are Lieutenant J. C. Gillmore and eleven men of the crew of the United States gunboat Yorktown, who fell into the hands of the Filipinos last month when the gunboat visited Baler, on the east coast of Luzon.

Acting Secretary Meiklejohn has received a conscience contribution of $10 in gold coin. The conributor in his letter said: "This is for stationery of the Government destroyed and used by me while a clerk in the War Department at Washington."

Looking Ahead to Fall.

In discussing the political situation the Trenton correspondent of the Philadelphia Record thinks that the contests over local offices in the big New Jersey cities are sure to have some bearing on the next State election, and whatever it may be cannot be truthfully predicted. Then seven State Senators and a House of Assembly will be chosen. The new Senators will each have a vote for a successor to General Sewell in the United States Senate. His term will not expire until 1901.

Every one concedes that the General is a hard man to beat. State elections are quite different from those held in municipalities. The same issues do not prevail. A city may go Democratic in the spring, and in the fall be carried by the Republicans.

General Sewell has a great many Democratic friends who would like to see him continue in his office as United States Senator, and that fact alone makes him a hard man to beat. Doubtless the Democrats, when the proper time arrives, will make a contest for the seat, and they may conclude to make it very hot. The hotter the better.

General Sewell may then meet a foeman worthy of his steel, and there will be an interesting time all around. One thing is certain—should the Republicans carry the day General Sewell will not fine much difficulty in having himself re-elected. In the event of Democratic success, then Allan L. McDermott, James Smith and Edward F. C Young may enter the race for Senator.

For Lower Insurance Rates.

The adoption of the fire ordinance by the Common Council last night is one of the most important improvements that the city has experienced in some years. Under the old volunteer system Plainfield ranked high in the standard of its fire department, but under the paid call system, which the new condition of affairs will bring, it will take a still higher position.

The efficiency of a fire department is generally considered to bear a close relation to the rate of fire insurance—the higher the department's reputation for good work the lower the insurance charges. Plainfield's experience, however, seems to have been a contradictory one in this respect. Notwithstanding the excellence of the fire department the insurance rates have been abnormally high, and have been a drawback to the commercial position of the city in more ways than one.

Much has been said with reference to the probability of a lower rate for insurance in the event of a paid system of call firemen, and it is to be hoped, now that that municipal feature is assured, that the change will come in the early future.

THE BIG PARIS PARASOL.

Paris is novel. Paris has a penchant for novelties. There will be many odd things at the Paris exposition in 1900. Mme. Percha-Giverne has received permission to erect a mammoth parasol over the exposition grounds. It will be large enough to shelter 30,000 persons from rain or sun. Mme. Percha-Giverne is inventor and patentee of the colossal parasol design.

As might be expected, Senator Reed is mixed-up in the quarrel in which the Somerville Republicans are involved over the oppointment of a postmaster for that place. Though the differences between the factions headed by the Senator and Mr. Thompson have been allowed to slumber quietly since last fall, the complications over the Somerville postoffice has stirred up the whole political mess again. George W. Cooper, who came near outwitting the Thompsonites by being appointed by President McKinley before they knew that Alvah A. Clark had resigned, is Senator Reed's right hand man in Somerville. It was Cooper for whom Reed sought to secure the nomination of Surrogate two years ago, and since then the former has done every thing in his power to put the Senator's influence first in Somerset G. O. P. ranks. If Senator Reed succeeds in landing Cooper as postmaster of Somerville it will be the biggest political stroke he has pulled in sometime.

Beer tabloids are about to be put on the market by a German firm. It is asserted by the makers that a small tablet dropped into a glass of water will turn it into beer as fresh as if just drawn. The next thing in order is to invent a tabloid wherewith to make a glass of water.

There is one thing sure. No match trust of $10,000,000 capital will ever be able to convince about nine-tenths of the people that it's a crime to ask for one lucifer and take a handful if the box is candy.

The girl that won't be able to loose her heart at least a half dozen times between now and October needn't think that she is much of a summer success.

Winter may have lingered in the lap of Spring, but just now Summer seems to be rushing things.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

There are more than $35,000,000 of deposits in Jersey trust companies and $50,000,000 in savings banks. The savings of the people cut a large figure and they are increasing at the rate of $2,000,000 a year.—New York Press.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

Diversion in the amusement line is found in ample measure at the Proctor continuous performances at the two Proctor theatres in New York—namely the Pleasure Palace at Fifty-eighth street and Third avenue, and the Twenty-third Street Theatre, just west of Sixth avenue. The programmes are carefully arranged with a view to presenting the strongest comedy features to be found in vaudeville. That these features are always of the most refined character is perfectly understood, for the Proctor programmes of continuous vaudeville are especially noted for the entire absence of the slightest suggestion of vulgarity. The leading performers at the 23d street house for the week are: Gilmore and Leonard, the Irish comedy stars, who have just closed their starring season in "Hogan's Alley." At the Pleasure Palace are the Russell Bros., the famous Irish servant girls; Harrigan, the tramp juggler; the Bixford Bros., musical head balancers from Europe; Lillie Western, the famous musical artist and 20 more vaudevile bright lights. The special 25 cent tarriff for the best seats in the afternoons at the Palace to the ladies and children, fills the orchestra every matinee.

No better company of comedians has appeared this season than the one supporting Mary Marble and John W. Dunne in Hoyt's "A Milk White Flag," which comes to Music Hall tomorrow night. Miss Marble's comedy work is clear cut and strong and she carries the audience with her in bursts of fun and merriment. There is no straining for effect in her efforts and she remains at all times a bright clever girl who dances exquisitely, and is pretty and piquant with a sweet singing voice. John W. Dunne is a comedian of inimitable talent, and his satirical propensities are equally active, and in matters of originality he may be said to be unequalled. The ever changing scenes and gorgeous costuming of "A Milk White Flag" presents a bright picture to the eye, and the ingeniously witty dialogue is enlivened by the introduction of the latest catchy songs and specialties that have the merit of being new and novel. The entire company is vocally strong, and is a rare combination of excellence and merit.

"Because She Loved Him So" is going prosperously on its way at the Madison Square Theatre. An important change was made in the cast last evening, Miss Annie Irish taking the place of Miss Ida Conquest as the jealous wife. "Because She Loved Him So" is one of the most amusing comedies ever seen on the metropolitan stage, as is attested by the large business that it has won in the midst of many other attractions of sterling merit. It clean and lively and is absolutely free of the suggestive scenes that are conspicuous in other comedies adapted from the French. Many Plainfielders have been to see "Because She Loved Him So," and all are high in praise of its merits.

Hot Weather Goods

Woodhull & Martin's.

It is our custom to anticipate the seasons and to be prepared to meet the wants of our customers. We have been selling wash goods since Jan. 1st, and a great many people have wisely bought their goods and have them made up. But we are sure there are many who have yet to buy Wash Fabrics, and we invite the attention of these people to our Wash Goods Stock. It is far larger than that of former years, more carefully selected in regard to style, washing and wearing qualities, and extraordinarily fastidious must be the women whom we fail to please with so comprehensive an assortment.

Then our Shirt Waists are worthy of your attention. We don't hesitate to affirm that we have not only the largest, but best selected stock of Waists in the state. They are non-sweat-shop made, made in the newest and most original and exclusive styles, made of reliable goods and made well.

Fashion has decreed that white Waists shall be almost universally worn this coming Summer. Your wants in this direction may be satisfied in our white Waists, for even in N. Y. we question your being able to find so attractively made, and perfect fitting garments.

LADIES' SUMMER UNDERWEAR.

We are not given to buying cheap goods, but when we can buy Ladies' Ribbed Vests to sell at 10 cents, such as we bought 3 cases (3 different styles) we feel justified in departing from our usual custom, Better grades of course up to 50c each.

MOTHERS' FRIEND SHIRT WAISTS FOR BOYS,

made with detachable button band. No pulling off of buttons. With and without collars. Laundered and unlaundered, white and colored. Boys' White Blouses as well.

DRESS GOODS.

We have added to our Dress Goods stock during the past week 2 numbers in Black Henrietta that we should like you to see. They are of German manufacture, 46 in wide, extra weight and beautifully finished. We bought them at the old Tariff prices, 25c per yd less than their present value, and that is why we want you to see them. Prices $1 00 and $1.25 per yard.

FOR THE LITTLE FOLKS.

Some remarkably dainty creations in Silk, Lawn, Lace, etc., in the way of Children's Caps, Bonnets, etc. If you are particular about having your children look a little better dressed than other peoples', then fit them out at our place Be assured of this, that what you get here is the newest, most stylish and the best.

DOWN STAIRS.

We never get tired singing the praises of our Basement. People who travel the country over tell us that it is the most attractive basement found in their travels. We go further and say that it is the best stocked room to be found anywhere. The display of Summer goods rivals that of many much larger establishments.

There's a line of Piazza Chairs second to none. Made of selected stock, smoothly finished and attractively designed. They are good enough for the wealthy—cheap enough for the poor.

The New Store

Every hour in the day customers tell us that the New Store is just such a store as Plainfield needs. It is not a competition of any other store here, it is so different—up-to-date methods—up-to-date merchandise—up-to-date prices.

Whenever you buy at the New Store and whatever you buy you get satisfaction. Satisfaction in quality, satisfaction in Price and satisfaction in the service.

Our showing of Shirt Waists is unrivalled, dainty, pretty effects—You might not look for such in Plainfield—but they are here, at astonishingly low prices.

We Close at 6 p. m., Saturday's 10 p. m.

"SOROSIS!"

The new and marvelous shoe for women has made a host of new friends during the past few days. The 300 pairs put on sale this week are going so fast that we have just ordered another lot. It is positively the greatest shoe of the period. "Elite," the new shoe for men, is not a whit behind for style, excellence and cheapness. The manufacturers have outdone themselves this season in giving us the finest and best shoes for the money that we have ever sold. Our sales are showing a nice increase, and our patrons are doing some telling advertising.

New lot of Peddie's Trunks from $1.98 to $15.00.

DOANE & EDSALL.

IF ADVERTISING.

Only made shoes good, you wouldn't make any mistake no matter where you bought. But there's a safety line in shoe stores, just as there is in dynamite, etc., a price below which the store isn't safe. That line is never crossed here—we sell honest footwear at a moderate profit.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 2—Beginning with yesterday the Brunswick Traction Company will give the borough much improved service between here and Bound Brook. An extra car was put on yesterday morning, so now there are two cars running, a closed one and an open one. The trips are made every half hour, too, and what is more, are made exactly on the minute. There was great congratulation yesterday when the boroughites realized that all the company said was being realized, and there will probably be no more fault finding.

Rev. Father Hyacinth, of Baltimore, who has been holding a mission in St. John's church, has finished his labors, and returned to his home. During his brief stay here his work has prospered wonderfully, and much good has been done among devout Catholics.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Oakley, of New Brunswick, spent Sunday with Mayor and Mrs. R. J. Swackhamer, of the borough.

Wm. H. Terry's thermometer registered 88 degrees in the shade yesterday. Mr. Terry thinks that is pretty hot.

Miss May Apgar spent Sunday as the guest of Miss Emma Opper, of Manning avenue, North Plainfield.

Jessie Dalrymple has gone to Jersey City to visit his daughter, Mrs. J. B. Sprowl, for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. J. W. Griggs, of New Brunswick, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Staats.

Harold Tomlinson and son, of Plainfield, spent Sunday with Mrs. James Dunham.

Miss Mildred Gaskill was in Bound Brook yesterday visiting among friends.

Miss Pauline Kratzel, of Cranford, spent Sunday with her father, Paul Kratzel.

Mrs. Wilson Frederick, spent Saturday visiting friends in New Brunswick.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Sirisky were in Bound Brook visiting friends Sunday.

Mrs. W. L. Larrabee entertained her parents from Piscataway Sunday.

Mrs. George W. Day and son are visiting relatives in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Annie Abbott spent yesterday with relatives in New Brunswick.

Isaac Stites entertained a friend friend from Bayonne Sunday.

Miss Mabel Livingston has returned from a visit in Millstone.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

New Market, May 2.—Miss Mattie Roff, of Elizabeth, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. L. B. Nelson, has returned home.

The Burger property on Washington avenue has been rented to G. T. Robbins, of Bound Brook, who will move into it this week.

The Daughters of Liberty are planning to hold an entertainment May 9.

James Dunham is cutting asparagus off his patch every day now.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 2.—Mrs. James Carter, of Washington Valley, met with a very painful accident while driving from her home to the station last night. When in front of the Central Hotel the king pin on the carriage came out, allowing the front wheels to leave the carriage. When the wagon fell Mrs. Carter was thrown heavily upon the hard roadbed, striking upon her face. Bystanders ran to her assistance and carried her into the parlors of the Central and a message was immediately dispatched for Dr. Westcott who soon arrived and did all that could be done to relieve her pain and shortly afterwards she was sent to her home.

George Baldwin has left the employ of J. K. Clark and accepted a position with the Pennsylvania Railroad on one of their piers in New York.

George R. Nichol and family moved Monday from Park avenue to Mrs. Flannery's cottage on Westfield avenue.

Walter Myams, of New York, spent Sunday with his mother who is visiting Miss Susie Parse.

George Bullman, of Brooklyn, has been visiting his friend George Allen.

John Biddolph, of Westfield, has been visiting friends in town.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Westfield, May 2.—What might have been a fatal accident occurred at the station yesterday afternoon. James Gunn, a colored man who drives for William Miller, of Mountainside, had just driven up to the station and Mrs. Miller and her daughter had alighted when the 4:22 train from New York arrived and the horses became frigthened and started to run away. The driver held fast to them and had about succeeded in getting control of the frightened beasts when a line broke and the horses ran down the street at a terrific pace and would have probably done a great deal of damage had the driver not steared them into a tree. Gunn was thrown to the ground and the horses freeing themselves from the carriage ran up Broad street where they were caught. Gunn was not hurt but the carriage was badly used up.

George Logee died at the home of his sister, Mr. Voght, on Cumberland street, Saturday evening, after a short illness from blood poison. Mr. Logee had been suffering from a carbuncle on his neck and about two weeks ago opened it with a pair of scissors. Blood poison set in and Thursday he was taken very sick and died Saturday.

Tax Assessor John M. C. Marsh started today to assess for next year's tax list.

—J. C. Blimm's newly-purchased house at East Third and Washington street has been greatly improved, and now presents a fine appearance.

Avoid all drying inhalants and use that which cleanses and heals the membrane. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and cures Catarrh easily and pleasantly. Cold in the head vanishes quickly. Price 50 cents at druggists.

Catarrh caused difficulty in speaking and to a great extent loss of hearing. By the use of Ely's Cream Balm dropping of mucus has ceased, voice and hearing have greatly improved.—J. W. Davidson, Att'y at Law, Monmouth, Ill.

Miss May Coddington, of LaGrande avenue, is now in charge of the store on Somerset street where the stationery goods belonging to Robert Rand are being disposed of.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even set up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at L. W. ### REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

Marriage may not be a failure, but a good many married people are.

The more trust a good woman puts in a man the more she will generally find in him to trust.

Lots of men would be considered braver if they didn't have sense enough to get scared.

It is a good thing for a man to be dissatisfied with himself in everything but his marriage.

If the women get to working in Christian Science on love affairs there won't be any hope for the men.

Women are better than men are. Men very seldom love their enemies, but women 'most always kiss them.

If the average man were as brave and handsome as his wife believes he is, he would probably have married some other—better-looking—woman.

You can always tell from the outside of a house which is the spare bedroom by the way the window curtains are fixed up.

The mission-school habit is probably the strongest while it lasts, but the sachet habit makes a girl's family a lot more uncomfortable.

A woman has to have a lot more patience to let the cat in and out than she has for her husband, because if she didn't it would leave her.

A FEW PLAIN TRUTHS.

As an ear trumpet the average woman is not a success.

When a girl is up in arms the young man in the case seems to enjoy it.

Happy are they who look before they marry, and overlook afterward.

Nothing so enhances the value of a thing as the difficulty in obtaining it.

Some men stand on principle and some others probably would if they had it to stand on.

Every woman knows that she talks too much, but what she doesn't know is a remedy for it.

Sharper than the tooth of a serpent is the sarcasm of one who has no sympathy with human vanity.

When a man is under a cloud of debt it's rather difficult for his creditors to see the silver lining.

The clock invariably strikes the half hour when you wake up in the night and want to know what time it is.

Life is full of ups and downs at a boarding house; you have to put up with what they give you and come down for it in advance.

SHORT LENGTHS.

There are 10,000 camels at work in Australia.

The life of a tradesman is about two-thirds that of a farmer.

In New Zealand two persons working together constitute a factory.

China is purchasing pig-iron from Pennsylvania manufacturers.

Alcohol is being used with mantel lamps to illuminate parts of Berlin's park, the Thiergarten.

Austria is the only empire in the world which has never had colonies or even trans-marine possessions.

The cost of fuel on steam railroads is about 10 per cent. of the operating expenses and on electric roads is about 5 per cent.

The Japanese foot has been praised for its strength and beauty. Japanese can walk incredible distances without feeling weary.

A curious fact has been noted by Arctic travelers—snow, when at a very low temperature, absorbs moisture and dries garments.

HIGH LIGHTS

It is only during the honey-moon that married people tolerate each other's pet dogs.

The snake had his faults, but he didn't try to make Eve think that he was a fur boa.

True friends are people we know who don't ask us to write to them when we go away.

Other people's extravagances are most distasteful when we are short of cash ourselves.

A cynic is either a young man trying to act old or an old man who is mad because he isn't young.

The woman who can speak French nearly always has a husband who pronounces it as spelled.

Sooner or later men quit crying for the moon and are thankful for a lamp that doesn't run out of oil.

It is better to be fooled once in a while than to live in a world in which you are the only respectable person.

Half the sorrows of women would be averted if men would only listen to them when they want to talk.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Mrs. Nevius, of East Fifth street, has taken up her residence in the Lincoln flats on West Fourth street.

—There will be initiation at the meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41. Jr. O. U. A. M., next Thursday evening.

—There will be a meeting of the Plainfield Catholic Club tomorrow evening to consider some important business.

—One week from this evening there will be an important meeting of Plainfield Council, Chosen Friends. There will also be initiation.

—This evening officers will be elected at the meeting of Warren Engine Company. There will also be an election at the West End Hose Company meeting.

—The finishing touches are now being put on the new macadam on Park avenue between Fourth and Seventh streets. The steam roller is also being used at that place.

—This is just the time of year when property owners are making improvements about their places, but it is doubtful there are any places more attractive than those to be found in Washington Park.

—Everything is changing, winter is gone, spring is passing away and new things rule the day, and Peck is in strict accordance with all this newness. He has new goods, new styles, all new and very pleasing. Come to Peck's.

Proposals for Macadamizing

Sealed proposals will be received by the Common Council at the Council Chamber, No. 109 Park avenue, in the City of Plainfield, at 8 o'clock p. m., on Monday, the fifteenth day of May, 1899, for doing the work and furnishing the materials for the macadamizing contemplated in the following ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance for macadamizing West Third Street between Madison Avenue and Monroe Avenue, excepting where already macadamized," and "An Ordinance for macadamizing West Fourth Street between New Street and Monroe Avenue," approved February 9, 1899, and as provided for in the specifications on file in the office of the Street Commissioner.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals the Common Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents thereof in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also make proper record of said prices and terms.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

Separate proposals must be submitted for each street, endorsed "Proposals for Macadamizing."

POINTS AND MOOT POINTS.

Man is naturally cruel—he steps on the worm unless he stops to reason.

Cruelty is the revenge we take for our own just sufferings.

We love the kind—not because they are kind, but because we are selfish.

Man is more tyrannical to the mind than to the body of man.

A very little actual power exercises all the tyranny of the universe.

Timidity, vacillation, irresolution are fatal qualities.

The black frost of fear nips indiscriminately a host of the blossoms of good and evil.

Weak wills have terrible tasks imposed upon them—those the strong cannot endure for themselves.

If the brute creation could bring mankind into court, who can doubt which side the Divine Justice would take?

WOMEN'S REALM

A Charming Dress.

The dress shown in the illustration is of blue taffetas or peau de sole of a very supple texture. The skirt, which is plain otherwise, is richly embroidered with a design coming to a point in front and round the hips; in both cases the embroidery matches the skirt in color. The corsage is cut low in an irregular line and embroidered along the edge in the same style as the skirt. The yoke is of white mousseline de soi in very fine perpendicular pleats, and should be made in such a fashion that it can be exchanged for another if desired. The sleeves are ornamental with circles of narrow pleats, and the buttons should be of blue and steel enamel.

The Art of Making a Dress.

Pressing is of great importance in dressmaking, and always undervalued by the beginner. After the seams are stitched and the bastings removed they should be opened and slightly dampened with a sponge. A moderately hot iron should then be pressed, not rubbed or stroked, over the damp seams from top to bottom. An electric iron is the ideal instrument to use for this particular work, but experience and judgment will render the use of an ordinary flat iron both safe and satisfactory. It is best, however, to use a heavy, moderately heated iron instead of a smaller one more heated. The iron should always be tested before using, and should never be used hotter at one place than at another, as this causes the cloth to "draw" in spots. The imprint of the iron showing through the cloth is an unpardonable blunder which can never be satisfactorily remedied.

The home dressmaker often spends all her energies upon fitting the waist. A skirt requires to be just as carefully fitted; if anything, an ill-fitting skirt is more unbecoming than a badly fitting waist.

Try lemon juice to remove stains on the nails. It must be well rinsed off afterward and the fingers carefully dried.

Oranges eaten before breakfast have a wonderfully beautifying effect on the complexion and can do no harm if eaten in moderation.

Sweet almond oil alone agrees excellently with some skins. Try it for a day or two. Nearly every skin requires different treatment, and the only plan is to experiment.

Fruit stains are often difficult to remove, especially when much fruit has to be picked by hand. Oxalic acid diluted will be found most useful and should be used as soon as the stains appear.

Nothing is better for sallow complexions than bathing in elder flower water. At night this should be allowed to dry on the skin. In the morning wash the face in the usual way, bathe with the elder flower lotion for a few minutes, wipe with a soft towel and finish off with a soft, clean chamois leather.

Hand Painted Dresses.

Printed muslins and silks will not do this year. They must be hand painted and very lovely and unusual designs are the result. Let not the unskilled amateur imagine that she is equal to the task of decorating a gown or parasol, for nothing could be more unlovely than awkward arrangement or crude coloring. All sorts of flowers are used—lilies, pansies, poppies, roses, tulips and daffodils—in wreaths and borders and scattered over the goods. One can choose one's favorite flower and have the design made to order, and it is not likely to be duplicated.

The gown should be cut first and the pattern made afterward, and so adapted to the style in which the dress is to be made. Parasol and fan are designed to accompany the gown. Hand painting is especially adapted to the decoration of parasols, and in this form will perhaps be more generally used, for unless one is able to do the painting oneself it is a somewhat expensive luxury.

Spoon for the Baby.

If you feel near enough to any young mother to remember her baby when it is christened or arrives at the dignity of six months and first teeth you can give her a cunning, practical little spoon which has just been introduced. The bowl is shaped as usual, slightly smaller than that of a teaspoon, but the handle is curved backward and welded to the end of the bowl, forming one like that on a mug and a loop just big enough for five little fingers to grasp.

Any one who has ever seen a youngster plunge his spoon into a bowl of porridge or soup will joyfully hail this new impliment of civilization. The tiniest tot can sit up at the table in the American style for children and not disgrace his parents through this ingenious device.

MILLINERY NOTES.

Colors and Styles of Warm Weather Hats.

Fine Milan straws are again in style. The braid is used alone or combined with fancy braids of other kinds, lace braids and chips. There are very open braids, through the interstices of which are run bands of straw of a different color. Piece goods of woven straw and chip are also to be obtained, very soft and flexible, which are used for draped toques. When these goods are of an open character, they are lined with mousseline de sole of the same color as the trimming of the toque.

Tulle and mousseline hats are a feature of the new styles and are very pretty as well as being light and comfortable to wear. The great fault of many hats is their weight, which is bad for the head and the hair. A comparatively large hat of tulle or chiffon, even although covered with ruchings and puffings, is so light as to be no burden unless it is loaded down with other trimming.

Bright colors are characteristic of the prevailing millinery. Not only are the trimmings gay, but the foundation upon which the decoration is built up is often of a lively coloring, whether it be straw, crepe de chine, tulle or mousseline. Red, deep rose, green, violet and bright blue are favorite shades, and there are also golden browns, delicate grays and fawns which are extremely attractive. Fawn with gold trimmings and gray with silver trimmings are two of the fashionable combinations in delicate effects.

The hat shown in the picture is of pinkish lilac straw. It has a waved brim, under which is a ruche of tulle to match. The left side is lifted by a cluster of small pink roses with foliage, and around the brim is a drapery of mauve taffeta with groups of tucks, passing through a gold buckle at the back. At the left side is a high trimming of plaited tulle.

BODICES.

Big Bouquets Are Worn Upon the Front of the Gown.

Light bodices are to be worn this summer. They will be made of taffeta, mousseline de sole and foulard and will be worn with separate skirts of lightweight goods like etamine, crepe de chine and mousseline de laine. Among the materials brought out for warm weather are very attractive wool and mohair grenadines in both plain and fancy weaves. They require a silk lining, as they are transparent and will compose cool and attractive gowns, especially in the light and bright colors. All the new shades are represented—a dull reddish pink, the whole gamut of bluet blues and the violet range, also a rather light but subdued greenish blue, which is particularly pleasing. Pearl gray or light beige grenadine over a highly colored lining has a changeable effect which is often satisfactory.

Immense bunches of violets are now worn upon the front of the bodice in the street, and the clusters are sometimes eight or nine inches across, suggesting great purple cabbages rather than the modest and poetically retiring violet. The latest novelty is to tie a violet silk cord with tasseled ends around the stems of the flowers.

High collars continue to be ornamented with points, tabs and wings, bordered with puffings, ruches and plaitings.

The illustration given today shows a long mantle of black bengaline. A ruffle of black mousseline de soie hemmed with black satin and headed by a vine of black embroidery designs a redingote outline upon the skirt, and the embroidery passes up the sides of the front. The yoke is tucked, and from it depend pointed pelerine sleeves embroidered with black and terminating in triple ruffles of black mousseline bordered with satin bands. In front are revers of black satin bordered with a ruche of mousseline de soie, and the valois collar is trimmed in the same way.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Aschaffenburg. Nach nur kurzer Anwesenheit im deutschen Schutzgebiet starb in Dar-es-Salaam der Lieutenant der kaiserlichen Schutztruppe für Ostafrika, Friedrich Priester, Sohn des hiesigen königlichen Bezirksamtmanns Regierungsraths Priester.

Freising. Den unfreiwilligen Tod in der Isar hat das Baumeister Alban Probst'sche Ehepaar gefunden, das beim Uebersetzen über den Fluß in leicht gebauter Zille mit dieser umschlug und ertrank.

Kronach. Im juristischen Staatskonkurs pro 1898 machte das beste Examen Rechtspraktikant Weinkam aus Friesen, Bezirksamt Kronach.

Lindau. Bei der jüngst hier abgehaltenen Musterung stellte sich ein zum Soldatenstand nicht große Lust verspürender Gestellungspflichtiger kurzsichtig. Der Arzt trat hierauf einige Schritte zurück, hob drei Finger in die Höhe und fragte: „Wie viele Finger strecke ich in die Höhe?" Ohne sich lange zu besinnen, antwortete der kasernenscheue Jüngling: „Einen Finger sehe ich, die anderen behalten kann ich nicht gut unterscheiden."

Markt-Redwitz. In dem nahen Dörflas brannten neulich Abends sieben Städel mit sämmtlichen Vorräthen und eine Schupfe ab. Als Ursache des Brandes ist Brandstiftung zu vermuthen, weil schon zweimal an den abgebrannten Städeln Feuer angelegt worden war, das zum Glück immer rechtzeitig entdeckt und gelöscht worden ist.

Nürnberg. Die Regierung erklärte, den Kampf des hiesigen Magistrats unterstützend, die ortspolizeiliche Vorschrift zum Schutz historisch und architektonisch denkwürdiger Bauten für vollziehbar.

Pförring. In Ettling bei Pförring wurde von einem Feiertagsschüler gegen ein 19jähriges Mädchen ein Stein geworfen, der dieses so unglücklich am Kopf traf, daß die Schädeldecke zertrümmert wurde und alsbald der Tod eintrat.

Schweinfurt. In Lendershausen starb der liberale Landtagsabgeordnete Ernst Sellner. Seit 1869 vertrat er im Landtag den Wahlkreis Schweinfurt.

Aus der Rheinpfalz.

Speyer. Der Schaden, der in der Pfalz dem Frühobst durch die stattgehabten Nachtfröste zugefügt wurde, ist enorm. In einer einzigen Gemeinde, dem Dorfe Weisenheim am Sand, wird der Verlust, der den Produzenten allein an der Aprikosenernte erwächst, auf nicht weniger als 60,000 Mark veranschlagt. Weisenheim am Sand ist allerdings einer der bedeutendsten Frühobstproduktionsorte der Pfalz.

Kaiserslautern. Landgerichtspräsident a. D. Julius Müller, der von 1871 bis 1893 den Wahlkreis Homburg-Kusel im Landtag vertreten hat, ist, 76 Jahre alt, gestorben.

Neustadt. Eine unter dem Vorsitz des Reichstagsabgeordneten Deinhard abgehaltene Versammlung pfälzischer Weinbauer und Weinhändler beschloß, sich an der deutschen Weinausstellung auf der Pariser Weltausstellung zu betheiligen.

Württemberg.

Stuttgart. Die Württembergische Staatsregierung bethätigte neuerdings ihr Interesse an der Entwickelung der Arbeitsämter dadurch, daß sie einem von dem Städtischen Arbeitsamt Stuttgart gestellten Antrag auf Fahrpreisermäßigung für Arbeitsuchende stattgegeben hat. Demzufolge wird von nun ab Personen, denen durch Vermittelung der von Gemeindebehörden errichteten Arbeitsämter Gelegenheit zur Erlangung einer auswärtigen Arbeitsstelle verschafft werden soll, für die dritte Wagenklasse der Personenzüge eine Fahrpreisermäßigung durch Einräumung der halben einfachen Fahrtaxe gewährt.—Hier ist der Parlamentarier Rudolf Probst gestorben.

Degerloch. Bedenkliche Ausschreitungen sind am Ostersonntag hier vorgekommen. Zwei Schutzleute hatten zwei junge Burschen festgenommen. Daraufhin zog ein Haufen Leute vor das Rathhaus und verlangten schreiend die Freilassung der Verhafteten. Als die Schutzleute im Verein mit dem Stationskommandanten versuchten, die tobende Menge zu beschwichtigen, wurden die drei Männer plötzlich zu Boden gerissen und unter dem Gejohle der Menge schwer mißhandelt, nachdem ihnen die Seitengewehre entrissen waren. Nachdem sodann ein Bombardement auf das Rathhaus begonnen war, wurden die Verhafteten freigegeben. Die Staatsanwaltschaft waltet nun ihres Amtes.

Heilbronn. Der 64jährige, bisher allgemein geachtete Aichmeister Wilhelm Stierle von hier hatte bald nach seiner im Jahre 1885 erfolgten Anstellung herausgefunden, daß es bei der Buchführung des Aichamtes nicht allzuschwer sei, von dem Drittel der anfallenden Aichgebühren, das der Stadt zufließen sollte, jeweils etwas zurückzubehalten. Begünstigt wurde sein Treiben recht wesentlich dadurch, daß in den 13 Jahren seiner Thätigkeit keine einzige Revision vorgenommen wurde. Nach einem Notizbuch, das zum Verräther geworden ist, ließ sich ein Abmangel von nahezu 3000 Mark feststellen. Das Gericht erkannte auf ein Jahr sechs Monate Gefängniß.

Kochendorf. Im hiesigen Schachte wurde dieser Tage bei der Tiefe von 151 Metern unter günstigen Verhältnissen das Steinsalzlager angefahren.

CHAPTER V.

"I should like to see Mr. Wildred and Mr. Farnham," I said, not feeling it necessary to ask if they were at home. I knew that they had definitely arranged to be so.

"I am sorry, sir," said the servant, respectfully, "but both the gentleman have gone out for the day."

He did not look me in the face as he delivered this piece of information, but allowed his narrow eyes to drop away shiftly.

"Oh, I am surprised at that," I returned, "for I have come by invitation."

The fellow's smug face changed instantly.

"Oh, I see, sir; you are the gentleman Mr. Wildred was expecting. He—they—it is possible they will be in shortly. Perhaps you will walk into the room."

"The room," and with such a queer little emphasis on the former word, sounded rather odd. It was but a trifling peculiarity of expression, however, and I did not think much of it as I followed the butler along the hall, passing through a door before which he swept the curtain aside with a flourish, and so into a passage which evidently led toward the new wing. We went on for some distance and presently arrived at a closed door, which he threw open for me. "It is here that my master requested you should wait sir," he said.

I was sure that this room must be situated in that part of the new wing which adjoined the tower. In glancing at the house from the outside, I had fancied that the square squat wall must be that of a studio, as there were no windows, but a high domed skylight on top. Now I saw that though the outer building was square, the room within was octagon in shape. It was perhaps, a studio, as I had fancied, but there was something of the free-and-easy negligence of an Oriental smoking room about it.

The walls were hung with embroidered Indian materials, and a low divan ran down part way. Between the hangings were panels of sandalwood, ornamented with bits of mirror in the Burmese way, and half hidden with curious foreign weapons, daggers, swords, and spears, and even a zulu assegai or two. On the floor stood a hookah, and on a small inlaid table were a couple of curious little objects which I knew to be opium pipes. In one corner, as though it had been pushed aside, stood an easel with a canvas upon it, which was half-covered with a piece of drapery. The skylight was partly concealed with red silk blinds, drawn across the staring glass, and from the centre of the dome was suspended a large jewelled lamp. It was from this that all the light in the studio proceeded at present, and though there was no fireplace the room was warm—indeed, insufferably hot. This fact, taken together with the studio's proximity to the tower, made me feel more certain than before some flue in this modern portion of the house had caught fire. I searched the panels for a bell, but found none, and at last lifted several of the curtains that draped the larger part of the octagonal walls. Under the first two that I raised only a blank space of dark wood was visible, but under the third I was surprised to find a small, secretive-looking door.

There was no knob or ring by way of handle, but close to the edge, and about half way between top and bottom, I distinguished a diminutive keyhole, outlined with shining metal. I let the curtain drop again, though lingeringly. It could be only a cupboard, or a particularly secure wine cellar, perhaps, behind this dwarfish door, but had I discovered it in a house not English, but of a country less conventionally civilized than our own, I should have told myself that I had chanced upon the clew to a secret.

There was still a fourth curtained space (the remaining half of the octagons being of sandalwood), and this, as it happened, was directly behind the draped easel.

I moved toward it, not intending to pry into Mr. Wildred's domestic economies, but still bent on unearthing an electric bell if I could do so, when my eyes fell upon the partially covered picture.

It was but a pinky-white, uncovered shoulder that I could see, with a glimpse of red-gold hair at such a distance above as to suggest a massive knot at the back of a woman's head, as seen in profile. There was a fraction of fluffy tulle sleeve as well, revealing the outline of a rounded girlish arm, and though the face was hidden by the drapery, I was sure as I drew aside the curtain my eyes would fall upon the counterfeit presentment of Karine Cunningham.

With half-extended hand I paused. The painting was so far covered, and it was in another man's house. Had I a right to assure myself whether my suppositions were correct? As I hesitated my ears were startled by a soul-piercing shriek.

Carson Wildred entered the room almost immediately, and in answer to my interrogation concerning the cause of the frightful and agonizing scream explained that the cook had spilled some hot grease on her foot; that while it was very painful it was not necessarily serious. He saw plainly that I half doubted his explanation and I was at no pains to conceal the doubt. I demanded to know the whereabouts of my friend Farnham who had promised to dine with him. He without displaying any emotion stated that Farnham had gone unexpectedly to London. So there was nothing for me to do but return to town.

CHAPTER VI.

As I was on my way down to breakfast a little after 10, I met one of the bell boys with a telegram which he had been on the way to bring to my door.

"So sorry not to have seen you yesterday," the words ran "Wildred has come to town, bringing my luggage, on receipt of a wire from me, saying I have just heard important financial business, calling me to America at once. Has told me of your visit. Very vexed can't keep engagement with you to-night, and that this must after all be farewell, as I am leaving immediately for Southhampton by boat train. Good-by and good luck to you. Will write you soon from other side, addressing Savoy Hotel. Yours, Harvey Farnham."

I cannot say that I felt any very deep disappointment at the thought that I would not see my friend from the States again. But I had a serious sense of uneasiness, and an inexplicable impression that in some undefined way I had done him an injustice or been careless of his interests, though, in reality, I was very sure I had done nothing of the kind.

Still, I could not shake off, the feeling, and with an odd restlessness upon me I started almost immediately after breakfast for a long walk.

As I pursued my way slowly, idly looking at those who passed, there was a flash of red-gold hair as a slender figure in dark gray cloth shot by, and I knew, with a quickening of my heart-throbs, that I had seen Miss Cunningham.

She was going very well, and I was admiring her pretty back with its girlish shoulders and slim tapering waist, when suddenly a woman, riding in the opposite direction, swerved across the road on her wheel, before Miss Cunningham had been given time either to slacken her speed or turn out of the way.

A collision was inevitable, and without waiting for it to happen, as I knew it must in another instant, I ran forward with great springing strides.

It was all over before I could reach the place. Both had fallen, and several passers-by on wheels had stopped and collected in so close a group that I could not see whether one or both had been seriously injured.

In less time than it takes in telling, however, I had elbowed my way through the well-meaning crowd to find Miss Cunningham sitting on the edge of the grass nursing a twisted ankle, her lovely face looking white and troubled.

SHE COVERED HER FACE AND BROKE INTO A STORM OF TEARS.

The cause of the accident was already on her feet, and in the midst of such voluble apologies and explanations that I could only conclude she, at least, had suffered slightly.

"Miss Cunningham," I said, warning the girl of my presence; and she looked up with a tremulous little cry of surprise and, perhaps, relief.

"Oh, I am so thankful!" she exclaimed. "I was just wondering what I should do. But—but you will help me I know."

"If you will let me," I responded, rather too eagerly. "I saw the accident from a distance. I hope you are not much hurt."

"I don't quite know," she said ruefully

"I'm afraid I can't walk!" she warned me, laughing nervously.

"Of course not. A cab's the thing, with the invalided bike on top. But may I be with you? I don't see how it is possible to let you go by yourself."

"It will be very unconventional, wont it?" she smiled. "But there are times when conventionalities must be thrown aside, and I shall be grateful if you'll take care of me and do all the planning, please." Then, woman-like, contradicting her own last sentence, she went on: "But I don't see how we can manage about a cab. Of course, there wont be any here, and—I don't very much want to be left sitting here all alone."

"And you shall not be, for a moment, I said, joyfully even at this small sign that my presence was not actually disagreeable to her. "There are plenty of people who will call a cab for us."

And I proceeded to put my statement to the proof.

Within five minutes an unusually presentable four-wheeler had appeared upon the sceene, the unfortunate bicycle had been handed up on top, and the young lady had been tenderly helped inside.

"Tell him just to go on slowly for a few minutes while we talk things over," she commanded, more cheerfully. "Do you know, Mr. Stanton, after all, I begin to hope my ankle is not so badly hurt; and though, as I told you, I shall be in a sad scrape when I get home, and have to confess, still, there's a spice of adventure in all of this that appeals to me, rather. It's a very long time since I have had an adventure of any kind."

Poor child; she little guessed how many awaited her behind the lowered curtain of the future!

"Never have I had one which would be so wholly delightful," I boldly said, "If I had not to think that you were were in pain."

"Oh, it is really not so dreadful." She blushed brightly, but when the lovely rose tint faded it left her pale even to the lips. "Let us talk," she went on more sedately, "about the way in which you are to get me out of my difficulty—for I think you have promised to do that."

"Suppose, then," I suggested, "that you allow me to take you at once to a doctor, who will examine your ankle, and perhaps be able to anoint it with some healing lotion which may prevent the limping you so dread. There used to be a man in this neighborhood whom I knew by reputation when I was in England last. I remember street and number, and it's not very likely that he has moved away."

"A good idea," she exclaimed; but, though she tried to speak brightly, even merrily, it was plain to see that she was suffering a good deal, whether more physically or mentally I could not tell.

I put out my head and gave directions to the cabman, and when I drew it in again to glance anxiously at the face which already I so passionately loved, I saw that it was even whiter than before.

"Miss Cunningham," I exclaimed, "you have made nothing of your pain, but I know that you are ill—that you are suffering."

"I am very foolish," she answered, in a low, unsteady voice. "It isn't my ankle, though of course that hurts a little, but I think it must be the shock, which I didn't realize at first. I felt quite bright until a moment ago, but suddenly I am all weak and trembling. The truth is, Mr. Stanton, I wasn't fit to be out this morning, especially alone and I didn't come simply from sheer bravado, as you might think, and for the sake of doing what I'd been told not to do. I—I felt as though I must be out in the air and in motion. I didn't sleep last night, and I didn't eat any breakfast this morning which may partly account for this silliness of mine, perhaps. I thought I should feel better out of doors, but it seems that nothing in the world can do me any good. Everything I attempt must always end in disaster, and —oh, Mr. Stanton, I am so very, very unhappy and miserable!"

To my amazement and distress she covered her face with her little gloved hands and broke into a storm of sobbing.

Where Everybody Smokes and the Cigars and Cigarettes Are Surprisingly Cheap—Smallpox the Most Fatal Disease But the Natives Are Opposed to Vaccination The Manila Newspaper.

Speaking of life in Manila, a gentleman who spent several years in the city says: "The tram car service is slow, but it is pretty good. The car is a thing by itself, as is the one lean pony that pulls it. The usual notice, 'Smoking allowed on the three rear seats only,' is absent. Everybody smokes, even to the conductor. Every car has seats for twelve persons, and eight are allowed to stand on each platform, where they are requested to distribute themselves so as to prevent derailment. When the car has gathered in its quota of passengers the driver hangs out the sign, "Lleno," (full), and doesn't stop even for the Archbishop. The Archbishop is a far more powerful and influential personage than the Governor-General.

"The rooster is the household pet in all the Philippines. He is cuddled and petted and becomes quite intelligent. He is kept for cock fighting, which, next to a combat in which the bull is concerned, is the most popular sport in and around Manila. In case of fire the rooster is the first thing rescued, for babies—common luxuries in the Philippines—are secondary considerations and more easily duplicated than the feathered biped. But the greatest sport of all is the struggle between wild beasts, which consists of a Spanish bull being pitted against a Bengal tiger, or the bull made to fight a couple of panthers. These encounters seem to one who takes an interest in college football games to be very tame affairs. On one occasion after trying in vain to make a bull and Bengal tiger slay each other, the latter was dragged away and two panthers were loosed in his place. But the bull merely licked one panther on the nose and wagged his tail at the other, while the show was declared off on account of darkness. Then everybody filed out in disgust, and the man with the tiger, panthers and pitchfork made arrangements to sail for foreign shores by the first steamer. Such was the last performance in the Plaza de Toros de Manila.

"Everybody smokes in Manila. Manila's best cigars, made of a special, selected tobacco, wrapped in the neatest of tinfoil, and packed in rosewood boxes, tied with stylish ribbon, costs about 5 cents, and is considered a rare delicacy. Below this "Incomparable," which is so choice that few indulge in it, the professional smoker, if he be a foreigner, and used to paying $50 a thousand for his favorite brand, can find the same thing here for about $1.80 a hundred. Below these grades comes an assortment of cheaper varieties, including cheroots and the three-dollar-a-thousand cigar, which is sold to merchant crews. The Filipino wants his cigarette, and he gets it at the rate of thirty for a couple of coppers. It is perfectly good form to borrow a cigarette as well as a light from your neighbor in the tram car.

"They used to have considerable cholera in Manila before the aqueducts were built, and the natives drank vile, yellowish water of the river. The aqueducts bring plenty of pure mountain water down into the town. Smallpox is perhaps the most fatal disease at Manila, but nobody seems to be much afraid of it there, and you are quite likely to sit in a tram car with a Philippine mamma side of you holding in her lap a scantily clothed child whose swarthy hide is illuminated with these unmistakable markings. In one week 400 died in Manila from the dread disease, and under the existing sanitary conditions the wonder is that there were not 4,000. Natives, by the way, are very much opposed to vaccination. When the members of the artillery band that plays on the Plaza were vaccinated, they discontinued their music until the swelling of their arms should go down. A native cannot endure the discomfiture and pain of being vaccinated. He prefers to be pitted with pock marks. But besides smallpox, fever is about the greatest enemy, and certain types of the malarial variety seem so common that the sufferers from them often walk into the club, drop into a chair and say, 'Got the fever again. Means another lay-off.' If they can keep about the old stagers never give up.

"A Manila newspaper consists of four pages, the first two of which are reserved for advertisements. Half of one of the inside leaves is likewise reserved, and the remaining half is covered with blocks full of gloomy sentiments which relate to the disease of this or that person. In the interim between the arrival of steamers or merchant vessels, bringing the mail and foreign newspapers, the news in the paper consists in telling the intelligent public that a bad odor has been discovered up some side street, that a dog fell into the river and was drowned, that the perfumery store has received a new kind of liquefied scent."

Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County.

[OFFICIAL.]

Special meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union, N. J., held on Thursday, April 20, 1899, at 2.30 p. m.

Roll-call showed all members present—17.

The clerk read the following call for the meeting:

April 12, 1899.

S. R. Ryno, Esq., Clerk of Board of Chosen Freeholders, Rahway, N. J.:

Dear Sir: You are hereby requested and directed to call a special meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union for Thursday, April 20th, instant, at 2:30 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of considering and taking some action as to the advisability of rebuilding or repairing the bridge over the Elizabeth river, in West Jersey street, Elizabeth, N. J.

Yours very truly,
J. F. Hubbard.

Director of the Board of Freeholders, Union county, N. J.

The following communication from J. L. Bauer, C. E, was read:

April 20, 1899.

To the Board of Freeholders of Union County, N. J.:

Gentlemen—I have examined the bridge over the Elizabeth River at West Jersey street, in Elizabeth, and present herewith an estimate of the cost of repairs and an estimate of the probable cost of a new bridge.

The present bridge was built thirty-five or forty years ago. It is 66 5 feet wide across Jersey street, by 46 feet long across the river, and is a two-span brick arch bridge, each arch being 21 5 feet in the clear. About one-half of the westerly arch has collapsed, carrying with it the street pavement.

An examination of the remaining arch, the easterly one, shows that the brick work is in poor condition, there being very little cement left in the joints, while the brick has in some places sagged out of line as much as two inches.

The cost of repairing the present bridge would be at least $1,250, and might be much more than that sum.

The condition of the remainder of the bridge, however, and especially of the easterly arch, is such that it seems unwise to attempt any repairs to the present arch being only twelve inches, it is not suitable for use underneath a street railway,

The cost of a new bridge would be approximately as follows:

Single span plate girder bridge, with buckled plates, and using present railings, span 46 feet in the clear, asphalt pavement, $10,075.

Two span plate girder bridge, with buckled plates and present railing, pier in centre of river, each span 22 feet in the clear, asphalt pavement, $8,430.

If a new bridge were built an important consideration would be to secure greater waterway capacity. I think the street level at the bridge could be raised one (1) foot without difficulty, and if that were done the waterway capacity would be as follows:

Present bridge, 260 square feet.
New 1-span bridge, 320 " "
23 per cent. more than at present.
New 2 span bridge, 360 square feet,
38 per cent. more than at present.

A still greater capacity could be obtained by the erection of a truss bridge, but the objections to a truss are, its great cost, and its unsightliness.

A "Milan" concrete arch bridge could be erected for about the same cost as the 2-span plate girder bridge, and would have about the same waterway capacity.

One of the two proposed iron girder bridges would probably give the best satisfaction.

Respectfully submitted,
J. L. Bauer, Civil Engineer.

Received and placed on file.

On motion of Freeholder Brucklacher the board took a recess of one half hour to examine the condition of the said bridge on West Jersey street.

Upon reassembling after recess roll call showed sixteen members present, Freeholder Scudder having been excused.

An informal discussion ensued among the members of the board, the members from Elizabeth and also other members expressing themselves in favor of constructing a single span iron girder plate bridge as being for the best interests of the property near to the bridge, as well as for the county; it was also the opinion of the members that the grade of the street be raised two feet, if possible.

Freeholder Hulskamper presented the following resolution, viz:

Whereas, After an examination of the bridge of the Elizabeth river at Jersey street by the Board of Freeholders; it is deemed inadvisable to repair said bridge; therefore be it

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to have plans drawn for a single span iron girder plate bridge, and to advertise for bids for the building of the same, the cost of said bridge not to exceed twelve thousand dollars

The said committee to confer with the Elizabeth City Council and County Attorney relative to raising grade of street.

Freeholder Farrel moved the adoption of the resolution, and after some discussion it was on roll call unanimously adopted.

The director appointed as the said committee Freeholders Hulskamper, Roll, Farrel, Brucklacher and McCandlees.

Freeholder King moved to adjourn, which was carried, and the director thereupon declared the board adjourned. S. Rusling Ryno, Clerk.

Kean Gets the Franchise.

Senator John Kean sent a long communication to the City Council of Elizabeth last night in regard to the condition of the proposed franchise to his trolley company. Senator Kean concluded by saying that the five-cent fare to Cranford which the Council wanted to impose on his company was unfair and unreasonable, and could not be accepted. At midnight the Council passed a resolution by a vote of 10 to 3 giving to Senator Kean the franchise until 1905 at his own terms. After that date the fare to be five cents.

What Roselle Demands.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Roselle, May 2—At a meeting of the Roselle Borough Board of Alderman held last evening the application for a trolley franchise, made by the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company, was at last taken from the table and acted on. A resolution was offered requested the trolley company to widen Second and Third avenues to 80 feet and to secure a private right of way between First and Second avenues. The widening to be done by the trolley company, which work it is said will cost $15,000.

A committee, consisting of Chairman Hope and Aldermen Berlew and Meeker, was appointed to confer with the trolley company and to report at the next meeting of the Borough Council to be held Friday evening at which time, if terms can be agreed upon, a franchise will be granted.

Westfield Appeals to the County.

Westfield, May 2—At a special meeting of the township committee held last evening a resolution was passed, asking the Boord of Chosen Freeholders, at their meeting Thursday, grant a franchise to the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railroad Company to to complete their line through Westfield and that part of the Rahway end where the road touches the county.

ing action for two weeks from today.

Mr. Marsh reported on the case of the city against Rev. P. S. Gibson. He said that a judgment of $300 had been secured, and that Spencer Conway, Mr. Gibson's bondsman, had turned all of his property over to his wife. Mr. Marsh asked for instructions as to whether the city desires to proceed against Mr. Conway or try and settle with him for the costs of the case.

Mr. Leifke, chairman of the license committee, reported faverably on the application for a transfer of Martin Kane's license to Hugo Kurzhals, but Lawyer Robert M. Clark, representing Patrolman Totten, asked the Council to postpone action on the license until after the charge against Mr. Totten was investigated and settled. He said that Mr. Kane was Mr. Totten's main witness and being away the case could not be settled at once. The Councilmen were not favorable to the plan and they granted the transfer.

According to requests A. I. & N. B. Smalley and C. M. Meeker were given extension of time till June 15th next on their street work.

Mr. VanHerwerden called up the tax ordinance, and it was adopted on its third reading. Another resolution by the same member provided for the borrowing of $2,000 for the general fund and $2,000 for the fire fund in anticipation of the collection of taxes.

Building Inspector Doane reported that during the past month twenty-one building permits were granted, and Street Commissioner Gavett reported that he had granted fifteen sewer permits.

Residents of Madison avenue petitioned the Council for an electric light to be located on their avenue between Third and Fourth street. Michael Walsh applied for a liquor license to sell at 211-213 Grant avenue. This matter was referred to the license committee.

Overseer of Poor Hansen reported that during the month there were fifteen applications for relief, ten of which were granted and four were for temporary aid. Two deaths occurred. At present there are twenty-six beneficiaries, twelve of whom are at the City Home.

After Mr. Barrows moved that when Council adjourn it be to meet Monday evening, May 15th, the Council adjourned.

DIDN'T KNOW ANY BETTER.

Italian Woman in a Strange Dress Accused of Stealing Coal.

An Italian woman, with a name that even City Judge Runyon couldn't spell, appeared in the City Court this morning, charged by Patrolman McCarthy with stealing coal from the cars of the Jersey Central Railroad. Her costume was rather startling. Her dress was nearly to her knees while a pair of men's heavy boots covered her feet. She wore no stockings.

An interpreter explained that she had only been in America a few weeks and didn't know any better. So the Judge suspended sentence.

An Informal Reception.

An informal reception was given last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Joseph, Washington Park, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Squires, of Scranton, Pa., who are on their honeymoon. Only a few intimate acquaintances of the bride were present and were introduced to Mr. Squires.

ITEMS BRIEF AND BRIGHT

GATHERED ALL ABOUT THE TOWN BY ALERT PRESS REPORTERS.

News in Short Paragraphs That are Interesting to Read During the Spare Moments of Many Busy Plainfielders.

—The box office of Music Hall will be open until 9 o'clock tonight for sale of reserved seat tickets for a "Milk White Flag."

—The quarterly conference at the Monroe avenue M. E. church will be held tomorrow evening, when the presiding elder, Rev. G. W. Smith, will be present.

—During the summer months A. F. Naylor, the bedding manufacturer, makes a specialty of porch rockers and lawn goods and has a large line on display.

—The America Club will hold a meeting Friday evening at Epworth House, when Rev. W. C. O'Donnell will speak on the men and battles of the Revolutionary War.

CYCLIST ATTACKED BY A DOG.

Mrs. C. H. Cory the Victim of a Canine on Grove Street.

A few days ago Mrs. E. H. Cory, of Somerset street, was riding her wheel on Grove street, and as she passed the residence of James F. Parker the latter's dog bounded over the hedge and began attacking Mrs. Cory. At one time he got close enough to catch hold of her dress, made of stout material, and his teeth penetrated the goods.

A complaint was made to Marshal Campbell and he said that he would inform Mr. Parker that he must keep his dog in the yard or the animal would be shot.

A Noonday Fire.

Another mysterious fire, the origin of which will have to be attributed to mice and matches, called the fire department to the house on Westervelt avenue occupied by Mr. Adams and family, at 12:36 o'clock this noon. The fire proved to be in the partition wall just above the second story, and was extinguished with two extinguishers. The inside of the wall from the second story to the garret is burned, and the loss cannot be estimated until a further examination is made. The house is owned by Frank S. Runyon, cashier of the First National Bank.

Plainfield Artists to Take Part.

The Cranford Musical Club will give Gaul's sacred cantata, "Ruth," tomorrow evening in the Opera House at Cranford. Among those who appear in the cantata are Mrs. F. M. Ward, contralto, of Fairview avenue, who takes the part of "Naomi." George B. Taylor, of the First Baptist church choir, takes the part of "Boaz" while Henry M. Western, formerly of Washington Park, will be the accompanist. The affair is given for the benefit of the public library.

The Police Were Generous.

George Melville and Benjamin F. Freeman, of Bayonne, both privates in the Fourth New Jersey Volunteers, were arrested by Patrolman Saffron last evening for beating their way on the 2:14 train from Philadelphia. They were going home. Both were good looking young men. City Judge Runyon suspended sentence on them, and Chief Grant "blew" them to a good breakfast.

Spreading the Gospel.

W. N. Flanders, who has been associated for the past two years with Rev. Thomas Needham in evangelistic work, arrived in town last evening. They have just closed a winter's engagement in Virginia. About June 1st Mr. Flanders will start out from Waynesboro, with his Gospel wagon preaching and doing misionary work in the different towns through the South.

Coming to Plainfield to Live.

H. E. Rider has sold two of the new houses on West Sixth street, near Monroe avenue, belonging to the Plainfield Real Estate Company, one to Albert E. Park, of East Orange and one to Chas. B. Rittenhouse, of Paterson. Both gentlemen are New York business men and will take up their residence in Plainfield, with their families, this week.

Two Fingers Crushed.

Randolph Hoagland, of 17 Linden avenue, employed in a local machine shop, had two fingers crushed while at work this morning. He went to the hospital and after the injured members were dressed he returned home.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvet skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

SENT TO SUPREME COURT.

Action of Mrs. Milliken Against the City Not Decided by Judge VanSyckel.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 2—The May term of the Union County Court convened today, Judge VanSyckel presiding in the Supreme Court branch and Judge Vail in the Common Pleas. There was a large attendance of lawyers and interested parties.

The application of John Benner, of Fanwood, for a license was granted, but the application of the Union County Hotel at Garwood, in which the alleged cock-fight was to have taken place Sunday morning, was laid over till Saturday. There is great opposition to the granting of this license.

The most important case to Plainfield is the action of Mrs. Sarah Milliken against the city for $10,000 damages growing out of the alleged nuisances incident to the operation of sewage beds in Evona. Judge VanSyckel certified the case to the Supreme Court for their opinion in the matter.

There are but few cases on the calendar of interest to Plainfield, and these not important ones.

FOR BICYCLE RIDERS.

Don't sit erect; it is too good for your health.

Don't try to knock a street car over with your bicycle until you've practiced well on pedestrians.

Don't take the other man's bike when leaving. It may be a better make than yours; but it's safer to take your own.

If in a race a rider falls in front of you, don't stop to be graceful in dismounting. Get off the best way you can without losing time.

Don't use cyclometers if you want to preserve your temper and integrity. Don't come down a steep hill without a brake; you may break your head.

Don't be nervous when you meet a young lady acquaintance. Smile confidently, take off your cap with either hand, or both, and choose a soft place to fall.

Don't ride at less than thirty miles an hour if you are passing a horse and carriage. It is so refreshing to the nerves of the horse, if the animal is a little high-spirited.

A FEW DONT'S.

Don't judge the contents of a man's head by the size of his hat.

Don't think a man looks the right way every time his head is turned.

Don't impair your happiness by borrowing trouble or lending money.

Don't refuse to let your wife have her own way—she'll have it anyway.

Don't go without things you need in order to get things you don't want.

Don't blame the upright piano if it's a downright nuisance; blame the player.

Don't ask a woman questions. Give her time and she'll tell you all you want to know.

Don't marry a girl who isn't afraid of a mouse or you'll be kept busy regretting it.

Don't get the idea into your head that a baby cuts teeth; it's the teeth that cut the baby.

Don't think because a girl loves you from the bottom of her heart that there isn't plenty of room at the top.

BOROUGH MAY HAVE TWO FIRE DISTRICTS.

Important Measure Discussed by Warren Engine Company.

WOULD MAKE EASIER WORK

SECOND ALARM COULD BE SENT IF FIRE WAS SERIOUS.

By Having Districts It Would Not be Necessary for All the Companies to Turn Out Unless the Fire was a Bad One—Officers Chosen by Warren Engine Company and West End Hose Company.

The annual meeting of Warren Engine Company was held last evening, at which time officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Foreman, Walter Bennett; secretary, J. J. Stahl; financial secretary, David Bodine; treasurer, Jacob Higgins; assistant engineer, P. Koelleger; second assistant engineer, William Newman; stoker, Raymond Schenck; representative to Firemen's Relief Association, David Bodine.

The members of West End Hose Company have also elected the following officers: Foreman, John Higgins; first assistant, Frank Perry; second assistant, William Pasch; corresponding secretary, Frank Perry; financial secretary, George Kleiner; treasurer, Herman Hansen; representative to Firemen's Relief Association, three years, William Demarest.

An important measure discussed at the meeting of Warren Engine Company last evening was that of setting the borough off in fire districts, so that each company could answer certain alarms. It was agreed that it is not necessary for both companies to turn out on every alarm, but if two companies are needed a second alarm can be given. This fact was evidenced last evening when the members of Warren Engine Company responded to the alarm for the fire in Prideville, and they were not needed. It is believed that a change will be made in a short time.

After the meeting last evening the members and guests from West End Hose Company adjourned to the Crescent Hotel, where a bountiful spread was served under the direction of the good and welfare committee.

OFF TO MANILA.

John Kennedy Joins the Regular Army and Goes to the Philippines.

John Kennedy, formerly a hackman at the North Avenue Station, left yesterday for the Philippine Island as a member of the Fifteenth U. S. Infantry regulars. Mr. Kennedy's enlistment was on a wager and considered a joke. He met his cousin, Joseph Mawry, of Newark, recently and in a joking way the latter wanted to bet Mr. Kennedy that he did not dare enlist and go to Manila. This somewhat nettled his braveryjand he accepted the wager. He then went to New York, was examined and passed. His cousin, who had also accepted a wager that he dare not go, failed to pass. Rather than show any cowardice Mr Kennedy accepted the inevitable and yesterday he started away with his regiment.

FIREMEN'S FRIENDS WIN

Commissioners Who Opposed Department Appropriation Defeated.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 3—In the election of a Board of Commissioners for Somerville the largest vote was cast in the history of the town. The ticket nominated in the interest of the volunteer firemen was elected by a majority of over 300. All the commissioners who have opposed the appropriations asked by the firemen were defeated, either at the primary or at the election.

The fight made against former Speaker of the Assembly James J. Bergen by former Congressman Alvah A. Clark received very little support, as Mr. Bergen was only about 20 votes behind the rest of the ticket. The following will compose the new board: James J. Bergen, W. H. Taylor, John Gernert, John Hardgrove, John H. Lord, John B. Osborn and A. G. Anderson.

A Chalk Talk.

Monday evening, May 15th, the members of the Primary Teachers' Union will meet at the First Baptist church and the Sunday-school lesson will be taught by W. D. Murray. A chalk-talk will also be given by a well-known Sunday school worker.

Now on the Front Street Beat.

Patrolman Weizenried has been brought in from the outskirts of the town and is now doing duty for the first time on Front street since he was appointed a regular.

KEAN ACCEPTS TERMS.

HE WILL BUILD TROLLEY FROM ELIZABETH TO CRANFORD.

The Fare From Elizabethport Will be Eight Cents Until 1905 and After That it Will be Five Cent Fare.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 3—Senator John Kean will accept the ordinance as passed at midnight Monday night by the Elizabeth City Council, and will begin as soon as possible the construction of a trolley road from Elizabethport to Cranford station.

The ordinance, as finally passed, does not take away the perpetual clause in the franchise, but stipulates that the trolley company shall carry passengers from Staten Island Sound to the Lehigh Valley Railroad bridge over Westfield avenue in Union township for five cents each way, and from that point to Cranford and Westfield stations of the Jersey Central, and to the dividing line between Fanwood and Westfield, the fare shall be three cents more. The trolley company agrees to carry school children for a three-cent fare.

In 1905 the fare over the entire route is to be five cents. It is said here today that Senator Kean will accept these terms, as they are the best he can get from Elizabeth's Council.

PICTORIAL VIEW OF THE WAR.

Interesting Scenes to be Shown in Aid of Soldiers' Monument Fund.

"The New Jersey Naval Reserve in the Spanish-American War," will be the subject of the illustrated lecture to be given next Saturday evening in the Camera Club rooms for the benefit of the soldiers' monument. It will be given by M. S. Simpson, and is probably one of the most complete illustrations of the work of the Navy in the Atlantic waters. It will depict the work of the Reserves aboard the auxiliary cruisers "Badger" and "Resolute," from the northern boundary of the United States to Santiago, the Navy, the blockade, the Cervera fight, Santiago, Havana, the fight of the marines at Guantanamo and the return north. These slides were made for a historical purpose, and public exhibition will not be given throughout the country. Almost all of them will be shown for the first time on Saturday evening, and probably no other chance will be given to see them in this city. These pictures also show the part that the Plainfield contingent of the Reserves took in the war, and scenes on the coast of Maine, at Key West, Nuevitas, Dry Tortugas, Porto Rico, Camp Wyckoff, Boston, Brooklyn and League Island Navy Yards. Only two hundred and fifty tickets have been printed for the lecture and they can be purchased of any member of the soldiers' monument committeee, Dr. Simpson, J. Hervey Doane, and at the drug stores of J. H. Leggett, A. D. Mallison, L. W. Randolph and T. S. Armstrong. Those desiring tickets should purchase them at once.

Monday Afternoon Club Officers

The following officers have been elected by the Monday Afternoon Club: President, Mrs. J. M. Whiton; vice-presidents, Mrs. Robert Lowry, Mrs. E. C. Perkins and Mrs. J. Evarts Tracy; treasurer, Mrs. A. S. Patterson; corresponding secretary, Miss Shreve; recording secretary, Mrs. Charles A. Reed.

Delegates appointed to the meeting of the State Federation at Rutherford Thursday, May 11th, are Mrs. E C. Perkins, Mrs. Isaac Miller and Mrs. Wm. L. Patton; alternates, Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson, Mrs. A. S. Patterson and Mrs. George M. Randall.

The Dangerous Dips.

The accident that occurred to the hook and ladder truck Monday afternoon, is one that may be expected anytime where sharp dips are made in the roadway. The drivers of the fire department apparatus always slow up for them but they are dangerous places, nevertheless, to wheelmen as well as vehicles.

Bayonne Exempts Coming Here.

This evening a delegation of Exempt Firemen from the Bayonne Association will visit the Plainfield Association and consider business of importance. The Legislative Committee of the State Association will also meet at this time and talk over matters of importance.

To Decide About Building.

Tomorrow evening there will be an important meeting of the Saengerbunds, at which time it will be decidd whether an addition will be made to the present building.

Children's Home Association Election.

The annual meeting of the Children Home Association for the election of officers for the coming year will be held tomorrow in the Y. M. C. A. parlors at 3 o'clock.

NAMES OF GRAND JURORS

THEY WILL HAVE BUT LITTLE TO CONSIDER AT THIS TERM.

Justice VanSyckel Made a Very Brief Charge—Quick Work Made in Returning an Indictment Against One Man.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 3—At the May term of the Union County Court the number of civil cases on the calendar is large, but several of them may be put off for the term. The criminal cases are few, there being only seven prisoners in the county jail, whose cases are to be passed upon. Nearly all these are larceny or assault and battery cases. Justice VanSyckel in his charge only referred to the case of Sophit Mary Meyer, of Newark, who is held for an alleged criminal operation.

Following are the Grand Jurors for the term: Elizabeth—Mayor William A. M. Mack, John W. Whelan, Albert D. Keys, Lewis W. Kingsley, William Edelstein, Frederick Bender, Jr., James J. Potts, Jr., Augustus G. Poole, Henry C. Woodruff. Rahway—John L. Crowell, Nathan Compton, Charles E. Reed. Plainfield—Henry G Runkle, William R. Cock, DeWitt C. Ivins, Charles E. Brooks, William A. Woedruff. Westfield—Chester M. Smith. Springfield—Peter H. Meisel. Cranford—Emmor K. Adams. Union—James H. Burnett. Fanwood—Lewis W. Miller. Summit—John W. Hughes.

The Grand Jurors after being sworn retired, and in fifteen minutes returned an indictment against a man who is wanted in Elizabeth for a crime, but at present is in jail in New York city. His term will expire Saturday, and Chief of Police Tenney wants to secure requisition papers before the prisoner is released.

THE LIBRARY DIRECTORS.

Resolutions Adopted Expressing Appreciation of Valuable Gifts.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Public Library was held last evening. There were present Director M. W. Tyler, J. B. Dumont, Rowland Cox, J. Evarts Tracy and Wm. M. Stillman.

The following resolution was passed: Resolved, that the Board of Directors hereby give expression to their high appreciation of the courtesy and kindness of General N. Bolet-Peraza in presenting to the library the full report of the Inter-continental railway commission in four large quarto volumes profusely illustrated with views of Central and South America, together with three portfolios containing topographical maps and profiles, and that the Secretary be directed to transmit to Gen. N. Bolet-Peraze a copy of this resolution.

The motion was made and carried that the secretary acknowledge the receipt of the year book of the Holland Society of New York for 1896-97 and '98 from Dr. DeWitt C. Romaine, of New York city, and express the thanks of the Board to him for the same.

It was moved and carried that the sum of $1,000 be appropriated from the Babcock fund for the purchase of books for the Babcock scientific library.

The librarian's report for April was read, approved and ordered on file.

Wants Bill of Particulars.

The case of the Brown-Green Company, of New York, against the Lap Joint Railway Track Company was heard by Justice Mattison this morning. William Newcorn, for the defendant company, moved for a bill of particulars and H. C. Suydam, for the plaintiff, not being prepared for Judge Newcorn's motion, moved an adjournment for two weeks, which was granted.

Curtain Caught Fire.

Two of the firemen on duty at fire department headquarters were called to the flat of Jed D. Smalley, in the Hand building, corner of Watchung avenue and East Second street, last evening. A curtain in one of the front rooms caught fire in some unknown manner and threatened a lively conflagration. The flames were quickly extinguished.

Building Railroads in Scotland.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Binning, formerly of this city, but late of England, are now located in Glasgow, Scotland, where Mr. Binning is superintending the construction of an electric railway. Mr. and Mrs. Binning will remain in Scotland during the summer, when they will probably return to this country.

Have Been to Germany.

W. T. Kaufman, of West Seventh street, has returned from a business trip to Germany. Pliny Fisk, of New York, who accompanied him, has also returned.

A Farewell Sermon.

Rev. James Groves, pastor of Mt. Zion A. M. E. church, will preach his farewell sermon there Sunday evening. There will be special music.

LIGHTNING STRUCK FIRE HEADQUARTERS.

Heavy Thunder Storm Ends the Hot Wave.

OTHER DAMAGE WAS DONE.

FIRE ALARM WHISTLE WAS TEMPORARILY DISABLED.

Bolt Knocked Off Masonry on Corner of Hose Tower at Fire Department Headquarters—Two Trees in the First Ward Splintered by Lightning—Storm Preceded by Great Clouds of Dust that Hid the City.

The first hot wave of the season broke up last night with a series of thunder storms that swept through this section, accompanied by a vivid electrical display and high winds. They brought with them, however, the much needed rains and for the time being drenched the parched ground and gave the spring vegetation a great boost. The lightning was of an unusually severe character and struck in several places in city and borough with varying damage.

At five o'clock great banks of clouds could be seen gathering along the mountain and slowly moving eastward. The clouds were black and threatening while the accompaning wind heaped up the grey dust clouds in front. Faint flashes of lightning and the distant rumble of the thunder told of a coming storm.

The first storm passed to the north of Plainfield but was felt in Fanwood, Westfield and all towns to the shores of Newark Bay. It was followed by a second that grew very threatening at six o'clock. The copper-colored clouds suggested a young tornado. The wind rose rapidly and whirled the dust into the air until a great cloud of it overhung the city, hiding it from view.

The lightning was sharp and fierce while the thunder crackled and roared almost continuously.

The men on duty at the fire department headquarters on East Second street, were watching the storm when there came a blinding flash, a terrific explosion and great noises on the roof above them. Each man looked about to see if his comrades had survived. Finding that they had the firemen investigated and found that the lightning had struck the north-east corner of the hose-tower, shattering the brickwork and scattered the masonry over the roof and the surrounding yards. Some of the bricks were thrown a distance of over a hundred feet. The falling masonry crashed through the roof and the dourpour that followed soon flooded the Chief's office and the old No. 2 Engine Company room on the second floor.

At the same time, the employes at the power house of the Plainfield Gas and Electric Light Company on Madison avenue, were startled by the sound of an explosion. The lightning had followed the wires from the headquarters and burned out the coil to the great fire alarm whistle. The whistle sounded one blast as if in distress and was quiet thereafter. Later in the evening, Charles W. Runyon, manager of the telephone company, and Assistant Chief Jennings removed the coil and repaired the damage.

A tree that towers up from the side yard to Abram Vail's home, 322 East Third street, was split and torn by a bolt of lightning. The occupants of the house were nearly stunned by the shock.

Another bolt struck a tall evergreen tree in the rear of the residence of Mrs. Margaret A. Meeker, 103 Watchung avenue, and stripped off the bark and cut a deep groove almost its entire length.

The lines of the Plainfield Gas and Electric Light Company did not suffer very severely from the storm. The lights in one circuit in Washington Park were extinguished for most of the evening. No wires were blown down, but there were several burnt out.

The damage done to the local exchange of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company was scattered. Several of the telephones were burned out, but the damage was speedily repaired.

One car on the main line of the Plainfield Street Railway was disabled by the storm, the motor being burned out That was the only damage received. The cars were somewhat delayed by the high winds and heavy downpour.

A tree in the yard of Charles Remsen on East Third street was also struck by lightning and badly splintered.

Last evening during the storm lightning struch a small barn on the property occupied by James Coddington

NOT AGAINST CATHOLICS

REV. C. E. HERRING REPORTED WRONG IN THE NEWS.

He Compared the Presbyterians With the Episcopal and Baptist Denominations and Not Against Catholics.

Rev. C. E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, takes exception to the report of his sermon of Sunday evening published in the News. Mr. Herring says that the account made him say things that he did not utter regarding Cathclicism.

He spoke on three points on Presbyterianism. The first point was that regarding the Old and New Testament showing upon what the denomination was founded. The second point showed the sovereignty of God and the perseverance of the saints, and the third point showed that it was not the Pilgrim Fathers, nor the Dutch of New York, but the Irish Presbyterians of North Carolina that stood out for the suppression of English rule and denounced it.

In general Mr. Herring compared his denomination chiefly with the Episcopal and Baptist denominations, and said that while people generally understood what the last two denominations stood for, they did not always know much about Presbyterian denomination. His remarks were in no sense of an antagonistic nature to the Catholics, as the News would have it appear.

BUGGY WAS UPSET.

Thrilling Experience of Two Women With a Horse Frightened at Bicycles.

Four bicycles stacked on East Front street near the "Gables" yesterday afternoon, frightened the horse attached to a buggy occupied by Mrs. Robertson and a friend from Fanwood. The horse shied acoss the road and into the ditch on the opposite side of the street, upsetting the buggy and throwing the two ladies out. The buggy was dragged into a tree where it was wrecked. The horse then ran in the direction of Plainfield and was caught at Johnston avenue.

Neither Mrs, Robertson nor her companion were injured although thrown from the caraiage while the horse was going at full speed.

MANY LICENSES GRANTED.

Judge Vail Acts on Applications in Union County.

(Special to The Daily Press)

Elizabeth, May 3—Yesterday Judge Vail granted the following yearly inn and tavern licenses in townships of the county: New Providence, Margaret Harrison; Summit, Benjamin W. Baufill, Mary E. Shea, August C. Hahr, Catherine Morrissey, William J. Shea, John A. Hicks; Union, Jacob Wenzel, John C. Bender, August Orlowsky, Richard Best, Harry A. Ilisley; Fanwood, Emily DeCamp, William H. Lee, John A. Benner, Lyness Walpole; Westfield, John Klopf; Springfield, Charles Schomp; Scotch Plains, William S. Emery; Linden, John L. Titus, Max Brose, Joseph H. Connelly; Roselle, Chambers H. McKibbin, John Taylor.

The license of James Allen, of Summit, was laid over, there being a remonstrance by H. A Twombly against it. An application made by Ferdinand Sawyer for a hotel license for the Hochkin Homestead in Union Township, was also laid over.

Mrs Atterbury Honored.

At the annual meeting of the New Jersey Society of the Colonial Dames of America, held in Trenton yesterday, Mrs. Albert H. Atterbury, of West Seventh street, was elected a deputy to the National Council in 1900.

FOR KILLING HER CHILD

COUNTRY GIRL ARRESTED FOR THROWING HER BABY AWAY.

Luella Fleming Acknowledges Throwing Infant Baby Into an Outhouse—An Inquest to Look Into the Facts

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bernardsville, May 3—A case of infanticide was brought to light here Monday, and as a result Luella, the 20 year-old daughter of Richard Fleming, a farmer living on the road to Liberty Corner, is under arrest charged with the murder of her new-born infant boy. The Fleming girl has been in the employ of her brother-in-law, Charles Dunster, for some time past.

The girl finally acknowledged that she was a mother and that she had thrown her babe in an out-house where it was subsequently found. County Physician Wagoner, of Somerville, was notified, and pronounced it live born. Word was also sent to County Prosecutor Dungan, who ordered the arrest. An inquest will be held.

STORM KEPT MANY AWAY.

Last of Members' Nights at Park Club Not a Great Success.

The plans of the house committee of the Park Club and the weather didn't agree. Consequently, the last of the members' nights, which have proved such an enjoyable feature in the social life of the club this season, was not as largely attended as was anticipated. It was held last evening. But the thunder storm managed to keep many away. Those who did attend spent a very pleasant evening however.

A library social was the attraction of the evening, arranged under the direction of Mrs. S. St. John McCutchen and Mrs. Charles A. Reed. The members and guest represented various well known books and the others were asked to guess their identity. Mrs. W. E Lowe and Mrs. Alexander Gilbert were the most successful among the ladies, guessing the same number. They drew lots for first prize and Mrs. Gilbert won. Dr. F. C. Ard and Howard Fleming also tied for first prize in the other sex. Dr. Ard winning the cut for the place.

Refreshments were served during the evening in which Mrs. McCutchen and Mrs. Reed were assisted by Mrs. Samuel Townsend and Mrs. J. H. Howell.

BOTH SAY THEY ARE INNOCENT.

VanHorn and VanNest to Have a Hearing on Charge of Robbery.

The two young men, William VanHorn and Frank VanNest, who are charged with grand larceny by Harry B. Dennis, were arrested yesterday afternoon and locked up. VanNest secured a bondsman in the person of U. B. Crane, but no one would go on VanHorn's bond, so he was left in his cell all night. The two had a hearing before Justice Mosher this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Constable Gettleson was given the warrants to serve, and had no difficulty in locating the boys. VanHorn was found at his home, and so was VanNest. They both protested their innocence, and secured lawyers to defend them.

Not This William.

The William VanHorn accused of drugging and robbing Harry Dennis is not the young man of that name employed by the Metropolitan Insurance Company. The latter's name has been connected with the offense by many who did not know that there are two William VanHorns in the city. The innocent William is greatly concerned lest people may unwittingly accuse him of the crime, and this item is made to relieve the minds of Press readers of a wrong impression.

FIRE BROKE OUT AGAIN.

Flames Still Cause Trouble in Baled Hay at Cadmus' Mill.

Despite the soaking the firemen gave A. L. Cadmus' barn Monday afternoon, and the severe drenching by the shower last night, Michael J. McCarthy, who was on duty there was kept busy during the night putting out incipient blazes. The hay stored in the barn was packed so tightly that the water could not soak in, and consequently the fire was not out, although there were no signs of it when the firemen left.

The first fire broke out soon after 11 o'clock. McCarthy saw it and tried to extinguish it with buckets of water. He was not successful in this so he telephoned for Acting Chief Jennings and turned on the hose, four lengths of which had been left attached to a hydrant for just such an emergency.

The flames were soon out, but at 1 o'clock and again at 4 the soaking had to be repeated.

—A representative of Leech, Stiles & Co., opticians, will be at 107 East Front street, tomorrow.

FOR PRESERVATION OF THE PALISADES.

Members of Newly-Appointed Commission Discuss Plans.

LEGAL RIGHTS UNDECIDED.

WOMEN ARE GREATLY INTERESTED IN THE PROJECT.

Commissioner Hopkins Thinks That it Will Not Be Hard to Form a Plan That Will Be Practicable and Equitable for the Grand Monuments of Nature—State Park May Be Devised.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Jersey City, May 3—Miss Cecelia Gaines, who is president of the State Legal Aid Association, and who has been appointed a member of the Palisades Commission by Gov. Voorhees, says that the appointment was very acceptable to her, as she had been the one to suggest to the Governor that he give the women of New Jersey representation on the commission.

"I am unable to tell you what the commission proposes to do," said Miss Gaines, "as I do not know what plans the other members have. We were appointed to ascertain what steps could be taken to preserve the Palisades. It will be necessary to consult legal authority first of all to learn our rights.

"Then we will have to find out the extent of property owned by individuals on the face of the Palisades, the value of it and the damage already done by quarrymen. I have sent an album to the Governor filled with photographs, showing how the noble beauty of the Palisades has been shamefully defaced. The views were taken last year, when an inspection of the Palisades was made from a boat by the old commission and representatives of the organizations interested in the preservation of the Palisades.

"I am deeply interested in this question. At the last convention of the National Federation of Women's Club, held in Denver, I was invited to address them on the preservation of the Palisades. I did so and the address received great attention. The women of the country, from Texas to Maine, are interested in the Palisades. The delegates at that convention represented 500,000 women, all of whom I am sure would sign a petition to Governor Voorhees and the State Legislature, if it were necessary to preserve the Palisades."

Miss Elizabeth B. Vermilye, of Englewood, is the other woman member of the commission. She is the daughter of Rev. Dr. A. G. Vermilye, a retired minister of the Presbyterian church. Miss Vermilye was one of those who most strongly urged the appointment of the commission.

The members of the commission are William A. Linn, of Hackensack, managing editor of the New York Evening Post; S. W. McClure, of Edgewater, and Francis W. Hopkins, of Alpine. In speaking of the work of the commission Mr. Hopkins said:

"I believe we can accomplish what we desire so earnestly, namely, the formulation of a practical, equitable plan for the preservation of the grand monuments of nature. I have travelled a good deal around the world and I never could find anything to equal them in beauty. Even today, disfigured as they are in several points, they are unsurpassed. It is evidently the purpose of the Legislature of New Jersey and of Governor Voorhees himself to take the necessary steps for their rescue without further delay."

The plan will, in all probability, be to create a State park, taking in all the water front up to the State line and extending back over the plateau.

AND NOW IT'S THE FENCE.

Trouble Between Borough Neighbors Assumes a New Phase.

The chicken case in which Louis C. VanNest and Marshal Frank Whitely, of the borough, are the interested parties, will come up for trial tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock before Justice Smalley. There is likely to be more trouble between these neighbors, as the boundary fence, the absence of which is causing all the trouble, is said to be out of its place and too far over on Whitely's ground.

J. P. D. Kirch represents the plaintiff, and Codington & Swackhamer the defendant. The latter's lawyers have notified the plaintiff to put up the fence on the old line, or else they threaten trouble for him.

Work Does Not Stop Instructions.

There is yet some work to be done at the Watchung School building in the borough, but this does not interfere with the holding of school. The six classes now attending the school are getting along in a satisfactory manner.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple but Safe and Effectual Cure For It.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases causing a pressure on the heart and lungs, and difficult breathing; headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surface of the stomach. To secure prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanson the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic, Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. N. J. Booher, of 2710 Dearborn street, Chicago, Ill., says: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of the stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

Send for little book, mailed free, on stomach troubles, by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. The tablets can be found at all drug stores.

EDW. ATKINSON MUST STOP

The Cabinet Decides That He Cannot Use the United States Mails.

GUILTY OF TREASON?

Restricted to the Use of Mails in the Country, But Cannot Send Anti-Imperialist Pamphlets Abroad.

Alleged Action Seditious and Disgraceful Says Postmaster General—Atkinson Not Alarmed at the Action of the Cabinet—He Is Well Known as Bi-Metallic Commissioner Under President Cleveland.

Washington, May 3.—At the meeting of the Cabinet the conduct of Edward Atkinson of Boston and his associates in sending out many circulars calculated to prejudice the success of the Administration in the Philippines was discussed at length. The proposition was made to bar the use of the United States mails to these persons so far as the transmission of such matter is concerned, and there was a long discussion on this point. It is held by some that the practice of Atkinson in a time of war and rebellion is not only morally reprehensible but positively illegal.

It was decided by the President and the members of the Cabinet that the transmission to the Philippines and foreign countries of Atkinson's circular and all similar matter shall be prohibited, but the prohibition will not apply to the use of the mails within the United States. Postmaster General Smith was intrusted to issue an order carrying out the Cabinet's decision.

A member of the Cabinet in speaking of the matter said that Edward Atkinson, of Boston, who is believed to have been largely instrumental in the preparation and sending of these circulars, was unquestionably guilty of assisting an insurrection against the authorities of the United States, and was subject to a term of imprisonment or a heavy fine, or both.

The law which, it is said, has been violated, is section 5,334 of the Revised Statutes, which is as follows:

"Every person who incites, sets on foot, assists or engages in any rebellion or insurrection against the authority of the United States, or the laws thereof, or gives aid or comfort thereto, shall be punished by imprisonment not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than $10,000, or by both of such punishments; and shall, moreover, be incapable of holding any office under the United States."

What action, if any, will be taken in the matter has not been determined, but it is said that the Government is disposed to regard the acts of Mr. Atkinson as those of a person without any proper conception of the gravity of the offense committed, and the Government may not at this time take action against him and his assistants.

The Postmaster-General stated at the Cabinet meeting that he had ordered the circulars stopped at San Francisco. Members of the Administration regard Mr. Atkinson's alleged action as seditious and disgraceful, and it is not improbable that if repeated prompt and energetic action will be taken.

Atkinson not Afraid

Boston, May 3.—Edward Atkinson expressed himself as not in the least alarmed at the news from Washington to the effect that his pamphlets had been seized by the Government.

"The documents referred to," he said calmly, "are two compilations under the titles, 'The Cost of a National Crime' and the 'Hell of War and Its Penalties' in one document, and 'Criminal Aggression, by Whom Committed' in the second.

"The first two were made very prominent in the whole debate in the House and Senate on these questions, and are perfectly familiar to all who read the Congressional Record, or who have kept up with the debate."

"When did you forward the copies?" he was asked.

"I forwarded them on April 24 and 25," said Mr. Atkinson.

"How did the Government learn of your action?"

"I wrote to the Secretary of War to get additional addresses, because I do not do anything surreptitiously. If I have a right to do this let the Government take that stand if it dares."

"Then you have no intention of receding from your attitude because of anything the Government may do?"

"Do I appear to?" was the brief reply of Mr. Atkinson.

"Have you sent any of these documents to private soldiers?" he was asked.

"Of course not," replied Mr. Atkinson. "I do not know the addresses of any of the privates. I have, however, a request from the father of a Colorado soldier to send one to his son, but he has not sent me the address yet."

Edward Atkinson, of Boston, is known all over the country as an economist and philosopher of social matters. He is about seventy-two years old and was born in Brookline, Norfolk County.

In 1887 he was appointed by President Cleveland a special commissioner to report on bimetallism in Europe. He was a founder of the New England Emigrant Aid Society and of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is an honorary member of the Phi Beta Kappa, a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the Cobden Club of Great Britain, an is an L.L. D. and Ph. D.

He is an ardent advocate of a currency based on bullion of full value, dollar for dollar; he holds that the most effective method of protecting and promoting home industry is to remove all obstructions to commerce with other nations which the necessity of the country for a customs revenue will permit.

He holds that the highest-priced labor is the cheapest, because most effective. He is not afraid of the so-called pauper labor of Europe, but agrees with Daniel Webster that there are a considerable number of undesirable kinds of work that we cannot afford to take up ourselves, when the so-called pauper laborers of Europe can be so readily hired to do them.

A SETBACK FOR THE LEAD TRUST.

St. Louis, May 3.—In the Circuit Court of Appeals with Judges Bland, Biggs and Bond on the bench, a unanimous decision was made in an appealed case to the effect that a trust cannot cloak its objects under the form of a corporation and evade the penalties for the violation of the Missouri anti-trust law of 1891. Upon this decision accounts with trusts operating as corporations in Missouri are not collectible. In 1897 the S. E. Grote Paint Store Company owed the National Lead Company $1,700 for white lead. Suit was brought to recover the $1,700. The defense was that the National Lead Company was a trust formed to control prices in violation of the provisions of the anti-trust law of 1891. The case was tried before Judge Hirzel and a Circuit Court jury, which returned a verdict in favor of the National Lead Company. The Grote company appealed. The defense of the lead trust was that the company had been reorganized in the form of a corporation.

MAHER AND RUHLIN FIGHT A DRAW.

New York, May 3.—Peter Maher and Gus Ruhlin, of Akron, Ohio, fought a twenty-round draw in the Lenox Athletic Club last night. Gameness is the one quality that was not supposed to be mixed up in Maher's anatomy, but those who entertained that opinion must do some hedging after seeing him go twenty rounds with one eye completely closed and the other in not much better condition. There still are plenty of good Irishmen willing to shake Peter by the hand and call him brother. It was the hardest twenty rounds of fighting ever seen between heavyweights. In fact, they fought so fast that the men occasionally stepped back, as if by mutual consent, for a breathing spell. At the end both fighters were battered into such a state as to remind the old-timers of the old London ring battles. Maher's right eye was closed and his left optic in close sympathy. Ruhlin had been bombarded unmercifully about the heart and bled profusely from the right eye, mouth and nose.

BLOOD SHED IN THE BUFFALO STRIKE.

Buffalo, May 3.—A noisy argument and fist fight among the quarreling scoopers on the wharves were turned into a bloody affray by John Skinner, who fired five shots into the crowd.

The non-union coopers, led by their superintendent, William H. Kennedy, were returning to the elevator after dinner, when they fell into an argument with a score of strikers. Skinner, who is not a scooper, started firing while two men were being separated. One shot hit Kennedy in the right side and passed through his lung. Another went across the street and struck James Hennessey, a fireman who was watching the fight. Skinner escaped but was captured. Kennedy's wound is dangerous, blood poisoning being feared. The police had grea difficulty in dispersing the crowd of 3,00 persons who gathered around the wounded man.

DEMOCRATIC LANDSLIDE IN BALTIMORE.

Baltimore, May 3.—One of the most exciting campaigns in the history of Baltimore city resulted yesterday in a Democratic landslide. Thomas G. Hayes was elected Mayor by nearly 9,000 majority over William T. Malster, Republican, the present incumbent, while his running mates, Skipwith Wilmer, for President of the Second Branch of the City Council, and James H. Smith, for Controller, were chosen by practically the same figures. In addition to these candidates-at-large the Democrats elected all of their candidates for the Second Branch of the City Council and eighteen of the twenty-four members of the First Branch.

KEAN GETS HIS RAILWAY FRANCHISE.

Elizabeth, May 3.—Senator John Kean, President of the Elizabeth City Railway Company, to whom a five-year franchise was granted by the City Council to change the grade and motive power of his street railroad and to extend it to Cranford, and to charge a fare of eight cents, said that he would accept the franchise and begin at once to construct the road, building a power house, etc. He has fought the city for a year, refusing during that time to accept an ordinance providing for a five-cent fare.

EQUITABLE INSURANCE CO.'S PRESIDENT DEAD.

New York, May 3.—Henry Baldwin Hyde, President of the Equitable Life Assurance Company, died at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in his home, No. 11 East Fortieth street. For more than a year the man who drew a salary twice as large as the President of the United States has been ill. A year ago he was forced to give up active attention to business, and it was said that previous to his death he was affected mentally. The trouble which caused his death was heart disease.

AN IMPORTANT INSURANCE DECISION.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 3.—The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of Brooklyn handed down a decision in the case of Emil Greef vs. the Equitable Life Assurance Society in favor of the plaintiff. Greef sued the society for $7,087, his share of the surplus. The Court held that holders of endowment policies in life societies of this kind were entitled to a share in the division of the surplus. The decision is a most important one.

GENERAL OTIS DECLINED

The Natives Must Lay Down Their Arms and Surrender Before Any Conditions Except That of Amnesty Can Be Granted—Major Bell Takes Possession of Macabebe.

Manila, May 3.—Heavy fighting by Gen. Lawton's troops was reported to be in progress near Balinag. The wires were cut and no further news is obtainable.

Gen. Lawton encountered strong resistances from the enemy near San Rafael, losing one man killed and five wounded. A reconnoitering party observed several hundred refugees near San Simon, four miles north of Apalit. Many of them were suffering from smallpox and fevers, and all were in wretched condition. A large body of soldiers are reported to be marching west from Balinag across the marsh road toward San Luis seven miles north of Calumpit. More Maccabebes continue to arrive at Calumpit. They express great fear of he Tagalogs and ask to be supplied with arms with which to fight them.

Foreigners arriving from Aparri, at the northern extremity of the island of Luzon, report that the natives are concentrating and preparing to resist the Americans.

Gen. MacArthur has received a list of the prisoners in the hands of the enemy, which includes one Englishman. The list is verified by Lieut. Gillmore, which indicates that the prisoners are near Calumpit.

The 51st Iowa Infantry has joined Gen. Hale's brigade, which crossed the Rio Chico at dawn and marched eastward, expecting to connect its cavalry with Gen. Lawton's command.

Col. Arguelles and his fellow commissoner said that the Filipinos desire the same form of government for the Philippines as existed in the South American republics.

Col. Arguelles said that since his last conference with Gen. Otis he had consulted with Aguinaldo at San Isidro. Aguinaldo, he said, wishes to surrender, but persists in his request to have an opportunity to submit the question to the native Congress. He further said that Aguinaldo had stated that he had used only one-third of his army against the Americans thus far.

Manila, May 3.—Aguinaldo, the Filipino chief, has himself made overtures for peace wiht the Americans.

Col. Manuel Arguelles, one of the envoys sent into the American lines by General Luna, revisied General Otis and presented a proposition which came directly from Aguinaldo.

It was in effect the same proposition heretofore made by General Luna, that the Americans grant an armistice until the Filipino Congress met and decided whether or not the Filipino army should surrender.

General Otis declined the proposition and told Colonel Arguelles that it was useless for the Filipinos to return unless they came prepared to accede to the American demands.

The Filipinos, he said, must lay down their arms and surrender before any conditions, except that of annesty, were granted them.

The Filipino army is known to be in bad shape. It is believed the next step taken by its leaders will be total surrender.

Major Shields and Lieutenant Hayne have been sent by General Otis to General Luna's headquarters under a flag of truce to bear money and provisions to the American prisoners held by the insurgents and to learn their names.

The envoys will also ask for an exchange of prisoners, it being reported that General Luna has two officers and sixteen others. Lieutenant Gilmore and eleven men of the Yorktown's crew are supposed to be among this number.

A guard with supplies has pushed a loaded hand car from Apalit to General Luna's headquarters at Santo Tomas, five miles north.

In response to the request of a party of residents of Maccabebe, Major Bell, with a squad of scouts, entered the town and took possession.

The inhabitants received the Americans with cheers and bells ringing. They besought Major Bell to garrison the town to protect them from the Tagalos.

General Lawton has organized a band of 40 scouts, led by W. M. Young, an old Indian fighter, to act as vanguard to his column, and he is advancing.

Young is a dead shot and holds a record of killing five Filipinos last week. Among the scouts are Diamond, Harrington, Murphy and Somerfield, of the Second Oregon Volunteers.

Col. Funston Promoted.

Washington, May 3.—On the recommendation of General Otis and General MacArthur, President McKinley appointed Colonel Funston, of the Twentieth Kansas Volunteers, a Brigadier General of Volunteers.

This reward was given the Kansas Colonel for his bravery and skill in leading his men across a river and storming and capturing the defences of the Filipinos near Calumpit.

In his dispatch to the War Department recommending the promotion of Colonel Funston, General Otis said:

"MacArthur strongly recommends Colonel Funston's appointment as Brigadier General for signal skill and gallantry in crossing Rio Grande River and most gallant service since commencement of war. I urge appointment: Funston able as leader of men and has earned recognition."

REPORT CONFLICT.

News From Samoa Reflects the State of Mind of Correspondents—One Says Quiet Another Says Not.

Wellington, N. Z, May 3.—Advices from Samoa indicate that the instructions received from the powers to cease hostilities makes the situation in the Islands very serious, as the rebels hold the main food supplies and are again near the Municipality of Apia.

The correspondent of Router's News Agency thinks it is evident that the Home authorities have misunderstood the situation in Samoa.

The Germans and rebels are already jubilant, and claim a victory over the British and American forces, and unless the rebels are made to submit the difficulties will remain unsolved.

The white people in the outskirts of the city are at the mercy of the rebels. The American Vice-Consul's store at Falifa, was looted last week, while a German store adjoining it was left untouched.

British and American residents all strongly condemn the action of the Powers in ordering a cessation of hostilities at this stage.

Two days after the last battle at Vailima, Lieut. R. A. Gaunt; of the British cruiser Porpoise, marched his brigade into Vailima unopposed and was followed by a company of British bluejackets, under Capt. Sturdoc and Lieut. Cave.

Inspection of the battle-field shows that the defenses erected by the rebels near the home of the late Robert Louis Stevenson were strong and well planned. The loss sustained by the rebels, it is evident, was greater than was at first supposed.

The main section of Mataafa's followers who were engaged in the battle of Vailima retreated westward to Lulumoenga, where they lay in wait for friendlies.

Orders had been given them to capture Lieut. Gaunt's head. The rebels were also anxious to secure the superior weapons with which his brigade is armed.

It is rumored that thirteen boats filled with armed rebels are approaching from the East. The town appears to be safe.

Quiet at Apia.

Aukland, New Zealand, May 3.—Advices received here to-day from Apia under the date of April 24 say that the rebels have demolished their forts at Vailima and retired inland. There has been no further serious fighting, but there has been some skirmishing between the rebels and the friendly natives in the vicinity of Apia.

On Saturday, April 22, the British sloop Torch arrived at Apia from Sydney, N. S. W., with ammunition.

A CURRENCY BILL

Measure Prepared by House Committee Will Be Submitted to the Senate Finance Committee.

Washington, May 3.—There is some uncertainty regarding the attitude which the Senate Finance Committee will assume toward the currency measure completed yesterday by the House Caucus Committee, which has been meeting for some time at Atlantic City. Representative Babcock of the House Committee, who is in Washington, says that the measure has been prepared tentatively, and that its provisions are subject to some modification upon consultation with members of the Senate Finance Committee. The Republican leaders regard it as quite as necessary to secure a measure acceptable to the Senate as to the House.

It is believed by leading members of the Caucus Committee that the leading Republican Senators on the Finance Committee will not be disposed to modify the proposed House measure very radically. The Caucus Committee has attempted to frame a measure which will meet the political conditions which are to be contended with in the next Congress, and the committee has had in mind the political complexion of the Senate, as well as of the House.

The object in submitting the measure to a delegation of Republicans from the Senate Finance Committee is to secure the advice of the Senators as to the best form in which the bill can be carried through the upper branch of Congress. In fact, a sort of Conference Committee will be formed to anticipate the conditions to meet in both branches and to devise a measure that shall be acceptable to both. It is not known how soon the Senate Finance Committee will take action in the matter.

Hose Beats Gun.

Lockport, N. Y., May 3.—A tramp shot and fatally wounded John Russell the watchman at Robert Little's stave mill. The tramp was ordered out of the mill by the watchman, but instead of going fired at Russell the ball lodging near his heart.

Policeman Sullivan ran to the mill, but retreated under fire, the tramp being intrenched behind some lumber. A score of men failed to dislodge him until a big hose was turned on and the tramp drowned out.

A Klondiker Suicides.

Chicago, May 3.—Howell L. Morgan of Bayonne, N. J., en route from Port Valden, Alaska, to his home accompanied by his two young sons, shot himself in a Grand Trunk train near Stillwell, Ind., last evening.

Morgan was fifty-seven years old, and it is supposed he was crazed because of money losses in the Klondike. His widow and sister reside at Bayonne.

BRIBERY TRIAL.

Ex-Representative of Delaware Davis Denies on the Stand the Allegations Against Him.

Dover, May 3.—Dover was crowded with politicians from all parts of the State, who wished to hear the trial of ex-Representative Mark L. Davis on the charge of offering a bribe to ex-Representative Lattomus to get him to vote for John Edwards Addicks. The offer made, it is alleged, was to lift a $5,000 mortgage on Lattomus's property.

The State was represented by Attorney-General White and Deputy Attorney-General Cooper. Messrs. Ward and Hayes represented Davis. The jury is composed of nine Democrats and three Union Republicans.

The jurors are Henry Knitchbaum, A. G. Sturdevant, George C. Rheim, E. F. Harrington, William Marvel, Frank E. Jones, Walter S. Green, George Kemp, Henry Pusey, John E. Bourke, Danel Sterner and Fred Satterfield.

Davis is indicted under three counts. The first charges that on Feb. 28 Davis offered Lattomus $5,000 as an inducement to vote for Addicks; the second that he offered to "wipe out" the mortgage, and the third that he made a similar offer to Mrs. Lattomus if her husband would vote for Addicks for Senator. Lattomus testified that the offers had been made. He denied that he had had an interview with a Mr. Jones about the Davis charges. Davis emphatically denied that he ever made an offer. He did not see Lattomus on the day named, he said, had no knowledge of the existence of the mortgage, and never talked to Lattomus outside of the House about the Senatorship.

More Troops to Otis.

Washington, May 3.—Arrangements are being made by the War Department to expedite the transportation of reinforcements to Gen. Otis as much as possible, but it has been found necessary to postpone the departure of the transport Sherman, which will be ready to resail for Manila on the 22d inst. The Sixth Infantry, which was to have started for San Francisco on the 5th inst., will not be able to get away until the Sherman is ready to sail. That regiment, as well as the Sixteenth Infantry, is in the vicinity of San Francisco and will start across the Pacific as soon as transports are available. Gen. Corbin said that no change had been made in the plans of the Department regarding the sending of reinforcements to the Philippines to take the place of the volunteer troops.

TROOPS TO IDAHO

Two Companies of the 6th Infantry Ordered to Wardner—Secretary of State Says Officers Have Been Remiss.

Spokane, Washington, May 3.—Company M, Sixty-fourth Infantry, left here for Wardner, Idaho. It consists of seventy-five men and one officer. A company of the same regiment now at Walla Walla will leave for the same destination.

A bulletin from Wardner says the town is in a state of terror, owing to the sudden return of a number of armed and masked rioters.

Bartlett Sinclair, Idaho's Secretary of State, has wired the Governor to send 500 soldiers immediately. He says the conditions are much worse than had been believed and that the local officers have been shamefully remiss.

Chicago's Lively Cruise.

Punta Delgada, Azore Islands, May 3.—The United States cruiser Chicago after having spent four days here on her cruise to Africa by way of the Suez Canal, has sailed.

During the st[illegible] the cruiser at this port she w[illegible]ed by the civil and military [illegible] Vice-Consul Augusto Norein. [illegible]ed Rear-Admiral Howison to t[illegible] places of interest and to the public gardens and theatre.

Torpedo Boat Somers Arrives.

New York, May 3.—The torpedo boat Somers, purchased in Germany more than a year ago, with a view to using her in destroying Spain's navy, arrived in this port. She was brought over on board the Atlantic transport steamship Manhattan. When the Somers was purchased she started across under her own steam, but was swamped. Three times the effort to sail her across was made, but on each occasion she was capsized and nearly drowned her crew. The Somers will now be overhauled and reconstructed at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

Artilleryman Drowned.

New Rochelle, May 3.—The body of a young man clothed in the United States Artillery uniform was found floating in the waters of Neptune Bay by Louis Odell, fireman on the Government steamboat Hamilton. It is supposed that the dead man was one of the two soldiers of Company I, 7th Artillery, stationed at Fort Slocum, who were accidentally drowned last February. Coroner Banning of Mount Vernon took charge of the body.

Still After Gould.

Albany, May 3—Mrs. M. E. Cody has evidently determined not to take advantage of the clemency extended to her after her conviction for attempting to blackmail the heirs of the late Jay Gould. Instead of remaining quiet, she has written a letter to an attorney here asking him how long she has to file exceptions to the judicial treatment of the case. She was told one year. P. F. Dugan who defended her expresses surprise at Mrs. Cody's action.

Coney Island A. C. Fails.

New York, May 3.—The Police Commissioners have granted licenses to the Lenox, New Broadway, Greenwood and Pelican Athletic clubs to hold boxing contests and denied the application of the Coney Island Sporting Club, where the Fitzsimmons-Jeffries contest was to have taken place. This decision leaves the big fight in doubt. The Hercules and National clubs were also denied a license.

Raleigh Goes South.

Philadelphia, May 3.—The cruiser Raleigh has sailed for Wilmington, N. C. Captain Coghlan will not be detached until the ship goes out of commission at Portsmouth, N. H.

New Evidence in the Case Against Molineux for the Alleged Sending of Poison Through Mails.

Police of New York Have in Their Possession a Letter Signed Roland Molineux Which They Consider an Important Clew—All the Evidence Will Be Presented to the Grand Jury This Week.

New York, May 3.—Prof. Witthaus who has been making a chemical analysis of the organs and viscera of the body of Henry Crossman Barnet, which was exhumed and partly dissected some months ago, telephoned to District-Attorney Gardiner that he had discovered traces of mercury and cyanide of mercury in the intestines of Barnet.

Barnet, it will be remembered, died at the Knickerbocker Club after taking a dose of Kutnow powder, which had been sent to him through the mails, and it has been charged that Roland B. Molineux sent the powder to him.

Prof. Witthaus also notified Assistant District-Attorney Osborne that he would submit a full written report of the analysis to-day.

Mr. Osborne said that he would not submit this report to the Grand Jury this week, when the authorities will seek to have Molineux reindicted for the murder of Kate J. Adams, but would reserve the report to lay before another Grand Jury, when another indictment will be sought against Molineux for the murder of Barnet.

Mr. Osborne added that this is the first official notification the District Attorney has received that Barnet died from poison, although it has been hinted at many times, and a few weeks ago Prof. Witthaus himself intimated that he had discovered evidences of the fact.

District-Attorney Gardiner has in his possession a letter written by Roland B. Molineux which is said to be the strongest evidence yet produced against him. It is said that it may show where the poison was obtained that ended the life of Mrs. Kate J. Adams.

W. J. Kinsley, the expert in handwriting, called at the District-Attorneys office. The "new Molineux letter was shown to him.

The expert instantly pronounced it to be in the handwriting of Molineux. It is exactly similar to the letters found in Moodus, Conn., and is on the blue-tinted paper with the tri-cresent crest, like the "H. Cornish" and the "H. C. Barnet" letters.

District-Attorney Gardiner decided to make the letter public without the address the name of the firm receiving it being withheld for the present. The new letter is as follows:

Enclosed please find 25 cents. In return send me sample of remedy.

Yours respectfully,
Roland Molineux.

6 Jersey Street, Newark, N. J.

Assistant District-Attorney Maurice B. Blumenthal, who is preparing the case for presentation to the Grand Jury on Thursday, examined eleven witnesses. Justice Williams dismissed the former indictment on the ground of insufficient evidence. Mr. Blumenthal will, therefore, place before the Grand Jury all the evidence obtained up to date, in the effort to avoid another failure on this ground.

Western Rate War Likely.

Omaha, May 3.—Local railway officers declare that a reorganization of the Western Passenger Association is impossible. Union Pacific officers say that they will not come in, and a rate war of vast proportion is threatened. Opponents of the Burlington lines charge John Francis, Gen. Passenger Agent of the B. & M. lines west of the Mississippi River, with manipulating rates in order to provoke a rate war. It is reported here that a Dutch syndicate has been interested to build the Pacific Short Line on to its original destination, Ogden. The line now extends from Sioux City to O'Neill.

To Settle Haytian Dispute.

Washington, May 3.—It was learned at the State Department that the dispute between the republics of Hayti and San Domingo over the boundary line between these wo countries is in a fair way of settlement. The whole question, with others involved, is to be deferred for adjustment to Pope Leo XIII. at Rome. The report that each republic was massing troops on the frontier is untrue.

New York, May 3.—Several workmen were entombed by the sudden caving in of an embankment at Broadway and Warren street. James Morelly, laborer, and Peter Burns, laborer, were killed. Domi[illegible] Maroni, laborer, injured about her [illegible] body.

TEETH.

If you have any to be extracted remember you will not be hurt in the slightest. My local anæsthetic is the best that can be obtained and is not known to the other dentists in this city. Gas strictly fresh administered by an expert if you want that. If you need artificial teeth you may rest assured that the greatest care will be exercised in selecting shape and color to harmonize with the face, also to restore the features to their natural expression and fullness. ### Trolley Terms in Elizabeth.

The terms which John Kean finally accepted from the Elizabeth City Council Monday night in connection with the authorization of a change of motive power on the horse car line in that city, together with an extension of the right of way over certain streets, to connect with his proposed county boulevard trolley road, are an emphatic argument in favor of the position assumed by the majority members of the Council in holding out for better terms than the Senator originally offered.

Of course, the conditions are not exactly what was desired, but the compromise is decidedly in favor of the people. The position of the majority members of the Council at the start was for Mr. Kean to make a five cent fare from Elizabethport to Cranford at the beginning of the operation of the proposed new line. Mr. Kean wanted to make it an eight cent fare for the distance, and have the right to charge that perpetually.

The terms finally settled upon by the Council, and it is understood that Mr. Kean has announced his intention of accepting them, include an eight cent fare between Elizabethport and Cranford until 1905, after which the fare is to be reduced to five cents. The advantages of this arrangement over that proposed by Mr. Kean is of supreme benefit to the public.

Since the negotiations have been going on the Council has been importuned constantly and aggressively to allow Mr. Kean to build the road at his own terms, it being insisted that the best interests of the city were being menaced by the failure to immediately grant everything that the shrewd corporation man asked. That such pleadings and arguments were fallacious and ill-conceived, it need hardly be said now in view of the terms that have been settled upon.

It is the custom of corporations such as street railway companies, in applying for franchises, to offer the most meagre benefits in return for the privileges petitioned for, and to attempt to drive the municipal authorities into a bargain with them by stirring up a public sentiment that is conceived in a short-sighted policy. It may be accepted as a pretty good rule for the legislative officials of every town and city not to make haste in granting franchises to corporations whose only asset of practical value is the privileges that the public grant.

The Elizabeth Council has accomplished splendid work for its constituents by the sound stand that they took in dealing with Senator Kean.

WILLIAM T. STEAD.

Mr. W. T. Stead, the famous English editor, has great faith in the coming disarmament conference. He is on close friendly terms with the czar and says the conference was suggested in good faith. Mr. Stead says that there will some day be a confederation of European states, modeled somewhat on the plan of the United States.

Drunken Men's Rights.

Justice Dixon, of the Supreme court, has filed an opinion that is of more than passing interest because it effects a class of cases with which every community is surfeited, and particularly Plainfield.

The Court holds that under the "act concerning disorderly persons" an intoxicated man is not guilty of any legal mischief by loud and indecent language, as long as he does not loiter. The syllabus of the opinion says:

"It is clear that the statue does not make the use of loud and offensive or indecent language by intoxicated persons disorderly conduct, unless such persons are loitering or assembled in the public place mentioned."

In accordances with the common practices of the City Judges the local police force has never exercised a discrimination in making arrests of disorderly persons such as Judge Dixon points out. There may be points to the acute legal mind that the ordinary layman cannot see, but from a practical standpoint we should say that there is the same degree of offense in a man leaving a trail of profanity in his wake as there is for him to stand stock still and make the air blue in chunks. We do not imagine that because of the Supreme court decision the police of Plainfield are going to stand around looking wise and and let every drunken man, who may be plodded along in reeling steps, roll off profanity without being called to account in a severe manner.

An Uncertain Phrase.

Senator E. C. Stokes, who has been instrumental in having the State Village for Epileptics in Somerset county created, is much exercised over the possibility of the State refusing to contribute any moneys for the use of the village this year. The trouble all comes about over a construction of the clause in the Appropriation bill relative to the epileptic village. The bill, in this clause, contains specific items aggregating $41,000 for the maintenance of the village, and concludes with the words, "provided such specific sums shall be authorized by an enactment of the Legislature."

The State Comptroller interprets this latter phrase to mean that the money can be paid in case separate laws have been enacted for each specific item. Senator Stokes says that the Appropriation bill itself specifically appropriates the money, and says that the phrase was an error. He thinks that it in no wise affects the law, and is urging that the money be appropriated. Governor Voorhees has referred the matter to Attorney-General Grey for an opinion.

As in this country, the woman's rights movement makes progress slowly in England. During last week in the House of Commons the question was whether women are competent under the new London Government bill to become Mayors, Aldermen or Councillors of the new London municipalities. Mr. Balfour personally favors woman's suffrage, though he declared Thursday that the possibility of women becoming members of Parliament "is an extension of the privilege which would be absolutely intolerable." The House visibly shuddered at the thougt, and the Cabinet is, like Mr. Balfour, on this subject at sixes and sevens; so woman's suffrage is practically huug up.

The Newark News observes that not children alone but even grown men and women like good fairy stories. Therefore, it is pleasant to read that the new Copper Trust, incorporated at Trenton recently, "does not propose to advance prices, but rather to prevent an undue advance, as, by keeping the price upon a fair basis, it is believed that the demand for the metal will be fostered and the profits to the company be all the greater."

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

Gathering the trolley threads in parts of Union and Middlesex tends to perfect a cross-country system which will revolutionize the workaday life of the farmer in that section. There now is a prospect of introducing tenders on the cars for the carrying of produce, and in a short time the farmer may reduce his expenses by disposing of his horses and lumbering wagons and use the trolley in reaching the markets of the cities. Once the snarl now on in Elizabeth is unraveled the great scheme of trolley intercommunication will be well under way.—New York Press.

* * * * *

We hear talk enough of a half hourly local train service between Elizabeth and Plainfield, enabling patrons of the road to take advantage of the express trains that stop at Elizabeth. This would certainly be a great convenience. Westfield is as much within the metropolitan circuit as is Harlem; but suffers in contrast as to train service and car fares; all of which is to the inconvenience of the patrons of the road. It may be remembered that it costs as much to buy a ticket over this road as it cost when labor and materials were much higher than at present. Meanwhile the settlement of the country is delayed.—Westfield Standard.

Woodhull & Martin's.

It is our custom to anticipate the seasons and to be prepared to meet the wants of our customers. We have been selling wash goods since Jan. 1st, and a great many people have wisely bought their goods and have them made up. But we are sure there are many who have yet to buy Wash Fabrics, and we invite the attention of these people to our Wash Goods Stock. It is far larger than that of former years, more carefully selected in regard to style, washing and wearing qualities, and extraordinarily fastidious must be the women whom we fail to please with so comprehensive an assortment.

Then our Shirt Waists are worthy of your attention. We don't hesitate to affirm that we have not only the largest, but best selected stock of Waists in the state. They are non-sweat-shop made, made in the newest and most original and exclusive styles, made of reliable goods and made well.

Fashion has decreed that white Waists shall be almost universally worn this coming Summer. Your wants in this direction may be satisfied in our white Waists, for even in N. Y. we question your being able to find so attractively made, and perfect fitting garments.

LADIES' SUMMER UNDERWEAR.

We are not given to buying cheap goods, but when we can buy Ladies' Ribbed Vests to sell at 10 cents, such as we bought 3 cases (3 different styles) we feel justified in departing from our usual custom. Better grades of course up to 50c each.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 3.—The regular monthly meeting of the council was held Monday night and much business of importance was transacted. Among other things it was decided to go ahead with the sidewalk ordinance and at an adjourned meeting to be held on the 15th, it is probable that the property owners who have not yet complied with the law, will be requested to lay their walks. Borough Counsel H. B. Willis, of New Brunswick, was present at the meeting, and gave advice upon these matters. C.M. Wyhusky was employed at a salary of $10 a month to patrol the streets of the borough Saturday nights and Sunday afternoon as marshall. Peter C. Staats was appointed street commissioner. His pay is governed by the amount of work he is called upon to do. Something will probably be done with the park, as suggested in these columns Monday.

The Plainfield trolley cars were prevented from running on one of the tracks ot the switch near Rock avenue yesterday afternoon for an hour, by a broken wagon that stood directly across the track. The wagon belonged to G. Cramer, of the borough, and was loaded heavily with fertilizer, which had to be removed before the track was clear.

The following people are notified that there are unclaimed letters waiting for them at the postoffice: Mrs. Wm. Winch, Mrs Louis Pollaeck, Miss Gertie Wyckoff, Mrs. Blanville and Hughes Fawcett.

William Fenner and friend, Mr. Wendell, of New York, rode out here on their wheels yesterday and visited Mr. Fenner's sister, Mrs. Harry Swackhamer.

Miss Margaret Thatcher, of Glen Gardner, who has been visiting her cousin, Mrs. William E. Terry, has returned to her home.

Mrs. Alexander Hunt, of Westfield, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Josephine Dunbam, has returned home.

Mrs. Jennie Smalley rode to New Brunswick on her wheel Monday and spent the day with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gough, of Trenton, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Brannon.

Miss Virgie Tunison will spend Sunday with her parents at Glen Garden.

Robert Smith, of Bernardsville, is a guest at the home of Mrs. Emily Apgar.

Mrs. J. G. Taylor spent yesterday with her mother in Plainfield.

Miss Victoria Snell, of Bound Brook, is visiting Miss Grace Coon.

Walter G. Runyon spent Monday in New Brunswick.

NEW MARKET

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

New Market, May 3.—Mrs. A. N. Randolph, of Dunellen, spent yesterday at the home of Manning Randolph.

I. G. Stelle, of South Orange, has been visiting his father, J. P. Stelle.

Miss Ruby Fountain, of Jersey City, is visiting Miss Georgiana Wells.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 3—Mr. and Mrs. George Goodwin, of Fanwood avenue, are entertaining their niece from New York city.

William E. Collins, John Robison and William R. Buckley have returned from Hackensack, where they have been attending a two days session of the Grand Council of the Royal Arcanum. Fanwood Council and its past regent, William E. Collins, was rewarded by Mr. Collins being elected to the position of grand guide.

Harry Flannery and Ernest Marsh attended a drill of the New Jersey Naval Reverves in Jersey City last evening.

William B. Noble, who has been detained at home by illness for nearly two weeks, is able to go to business again.

George L. Dunn, after a vacation of two months, has resumed his position again in New York.

Miss Emma Clark has returned from a short visit with her sister, Mrs. Peter Smith, of Lincoln.

Miss Minnie Hosinger returned Sunday from a short visit with friends in New York.

Miss Kittie Buckley has returned from a pleasant visit with Lincoln friends.

Mrs. George Clark is visiting relatives in Lincoln for a few days.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press)

Westfield May 3.—Miss Harding, a teacher at the Lincoln High school, was experimenting in the chemical labratory yesterday afternoon when a cork in the bottle containing nitric acid became jammed and she broke the bottle. The acid ran all over the new bicycle suit of Robert Decker and ruined it.

Gale's Club house on Elm street promises to be the scene of much gayiety Thursday evening when the Ladies Guild of St. Paul's church will give their annual dinner to the members of the parish.

At a meeting of the Board of Education held last evening it was decided to close the schools for the summer vacation Thursday, June 7, and reopen them Wednesday, September 13.

There are many complaints of the absence of the street sprinkler which has failed to make its appearance so far this season.

LINCOLN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Lincoln, May 3—Mayor Drake has heard nothing further from his son, Louis Lincoln Drake, who is ill with appendicitis in a Chicago hospital. Upon the arrival of the telegram Saturday, Mayor Drake's younger son, Arthur G., started for Chicago, and is with his brother now.

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Many Residents and Visitors Who Go and Come in a Social and Business Way

—In placing your order for breakfast try seafood. Roger's.

—Unity Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will hold a regular meeting this evening.

—James C. Trewin, of Somereet street, has had a telephone put in his place of business. The number is 1,114.

—LaRue & Cuming has rented John H. French's house, 20 Grandview avenue to Mr. Rev. J. H. Hillyar, of Corriscanna, Texas.

—Next Friday evening there will be a regular meeting of tho Borough Council at which time several important matters will be considered.

—The quarterly conference at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church will be held this evening. Rev. G. W. Smith, the presiding elder, will be present.

—The Epworth League of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church is making elaborate preparations for the "Old Maid's Convention" which will be held in the church Tuesday evening. It promises to be a very funny affair.

—The rhubarb grown by Mrs. E. Mair, of Leland avenue, is the finest that can be produced. Many Plainfield grocers have it on sale and if you are fond of it and desire a delicious morsel ask for the variety grown by Mrs. Mair.

—Yesterday Miss Jennie Simpson, of Craig place, lost a pair of gold eyeglasses. She advertised her loss in The Daily Press and in one hour's time they were returned to her by Walter Swain, who saw the advertisement in the paper.

—A regular meeting of the Association Volunteer League of the Y.M.C.A. was held Monday evening. The attendance and the interest in the meeting was very encouraging. The subject of the meeting was "The Teaching of Christ About Foreign Missions." William D. Murray, who is chairman of the foreign department of the Y. M. C. A. international committee, gave an interesting account of the Y. M. C A. work among the young men in India, China, Japan, Ceylon and Brazil. Prayer had an important place on the programme of the meeting.

PEOPLE COME AND GO.

PERSONAL MENTION OF INTEREST TO PRESS READERS.

Some Come to Enjoy Pleasures of Plainfield, Others Journey to Either Mountain or Shore for Recreation.

Miss Susie Boss, of Central avenue, is entertaining company from Hunterdon county.

Chas. Eisenberg and J. Monrye, of New York, are visiting H. Eisenberg, of West Front street.

Rhey T. Snodgrass, of Central avenue, has been home from Dickenson College for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. James Clark, of this city, have returned from a visit with friends in Philadelphia.

W. E. MacClymont and family, of New York, are stopping with Mr. MacClymont's parents on Washington avenue.

Mrs. L. Randolph, of Newark, is visiting at the home of her husband's brother, L. W. Randolph, of Washington Park.

Rev. T. Logan Murphy and wife, of Washington avenue, will not leave Plainfield for their trip abroad until the first of July.

City Clerk MacMurray, of Westervelt avenue, is much improved from a recent illness and will soon be able to return to work again.

John A. Laing, one of the substantial residents of Quakertown, Hunterdon county, is visiting his nephew, E. M. Laing, of Grove street.

John Goff, of West Fourth street, who has been a great sufferer with rheumatism, is able to be out again and the trouble seems to be disappearing.

Owing to the illness of Andrew Love, Sr., there was no meeting of the Borough Board of Health last Monday evening. The meeting will be held next week.

Mr. Ball and his daughter, Miss Maggie Ball, formerly residents of this city, and who have just returned after a long absence in the south, have rented the house corner of West Front street and Elmwood place, where they will reside.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

Denny Kane is making a great record for himself. Monday afternoon he caught another runaway. That was his twenty-fourth. Denny seems to have the faculty of always happening around when there is going to be a runaway. Monday afternoon he caught the horse attached to a two-seated phaeton, in which were Mrs. Patrick Keeley and daughter, of La Grande avenue. The horse was frightened at the trolley cars and tried to make his way along East Front street on the sidewalk. Denny was there and added number twenty-four to his collection of runaways.

The Porto Rican Commission headquarters at 124 Watchung avenue, in the Hand building, are fitted up in a convenient manner for the work of the commission. The first floor of the flat is used by Hon. H. K. Carroll and his assistants, and everything is arranged in a handy way. Over the entrance way there is displayed the American flag presented to Commissioner Carroll by Collector George F. Brown, of the borough, and which the commission used in Porto Rico. In the rooms there are also displayed American flags, and the place has an aspect of Government importance. Commissioner Carroll, his secretary, C. E. Buell, and his stenographer, Mr. Williams, confine themselves strictly to business, and they are not losing any valuable time in their work.

Cornelius B. Allen, a farmer at Mannington, Salem county, has a cat that has from choice been reared from kittenhood in a duck house. One morning Mr. Allen heard the quack of a little duck in the cellar, and upon investigating found thirteen little ducks huddled about the cat. It seems that the cat had had a litter of kittens killed, and had carried the ducks to a new home.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

"A Milk White Flag," at Music Hall tonight, is undoubtedly the best of Hoyt's plays and far away the most entertaining. It is one of the liveliest affairs before the public. In the language of the day it is "swift" and sometimes it is so swift you simply can't keep pace with it. The first act with its brilliantly uniformed and peacefully inclined military officers, its dashing vivandierres, its gaily apparelled brass band, and its attractive feminine messenger "boys" is simply astonishing and bewildering. New music, and the crisp Hoyt humor, spoken by personages who appreciate and accentuate every point, gives the opening act a vim and life that only a Hoyt comedy can possess. As the piece proceeds the action becomes simply hilarious, and the fun contageous. There are too many good things in "A Milk White Flag" to stop to enumerate them. A personal visit is the only thing that can satisfy anybody. The company is fully up to the usual Hoyt standard of excellence. It is really impossible to say too much of the entertaining qualities of "A Milk White Flag." It is simply one of the attractive and diverting comedies that Hoyt only can put forth. It gives enjoyment, no offense, and is very clever and surprising.

WOMEN OF ALL LANDS

WILL MEET IN INTERNATIONAL COUNCIL AT LONDON, JUNE 27.

"It Will Be the Greatest Convention of Women the World Has Ever Seen," Says Susan B. Anthony, Who Will Be There.

THE quinquennial session of the International Council of Women, which meets in London in June, "will be the greatest convention of women the world has ever known." Thus declares Miss Susan B. Anthony, who, though now in her eightieth year, will soon make the ocean voyage in order to be present and greet the progressive women from various countries who will compose that remarkable body.

Miss Anthony was one of the founders of the International Council, which was organized in Washington on March 31, 1888, being the outgrowth or rather the outreaching and expansion of the National Council of Women of the United States, and formed upon substantially the same lines. It is a federation of national councils and now embraces the United States, Great Britain, France, Germany, Finland, Sweden, Canada and Holland, the latter being the last to become affiliated.

The National Council of Holland was organized last summer by Mrs. May Wright Sewall, the vice president at large of the International Council, and enjoys the special patronage of young Queen Wilhelmina.

The present officers of the International Council are the Countess of Aberdeen, Haddo House, Aberdeen, Scotland, president; Mrs. May Wright Sewall, Indianapolis, vice president; Baroness Alexandra Gripenburg, Helsingfors, Finland, treasurer; Miss Teresa F. Wilson, London, corresponding secretary, and Mme. Maria Martin, Paris, recording secretary.

It is generally understood that Mrs. Sewall will at the coming meeting be named to succeed the Countess of Aberdeen as president, the constitution providing that no person shall hold that office two terms in succession. The presidents of the several National Councils are ex officio vice presidents of the international body.

The eight affiliated National Councils will give the International Council a voting strength of only 21, including the five general officers, as each country is represented officially by the president and one delegate from its National Council. Miss Susan B. Anthony is the official delegate from the American National Council, and Mrs. St. John Gaffney of New York is its president, both of whom will be present.

While the scope and purpose of the International Council of Women are broad and comprehensive and its representation is cosmopolitan, its constitution is exceedingly brief and simple. Its first article defines its objects to be "to provide a means of communication between women's organizations in all countries" and "to provide opportunities for women to meet together from all parts of the world to confer upon questions relating to the welfare of the commonwealth and the family." Its general policy is thus defined:

"This International Council is organized in the interest of no one propaganda and has no power over its members beyond that of suggestion and sympathy. Therefore no National Council voting to become a member of the International Council shall thereby render itself liable to be interfered with in respect to its complete organic unity, independence or methods of work, or shall be committed to any principle or method of any other council or to any utterance or act of this International Council, beyond compliance with the terms of the constitution."

As yet the International Council has done little besides organize. The week's programme for the quinquennial at London will show something of the results of the federation, as it will be the first convention since the eight National Councils have been crystallized into one organization.

The programme will embrace a wide range of subjects, and the speakers will include many of the most distinguished women of the world. Among the American women who have accepted invitations to address the council are: Mrs. Sewall on "The Value of Organization as a Factor In Contemporary Social and Political Life," Miss Anthony on "Present Position of the Suffrage Question," Mrs. Gaffney on "Responsibilities of Women as Citizens," Mrs. Cynthia Westover Alden on "Journalism," Rev. Anna Shaw on "Temperance," Rev. Ida C. Hultin on "The Necessity For an Equal Moral Standard For Men and Women," Miss Octavia Williams Bates on "The Study of Law For Women," Mrs. Mary Lowe Dickinson, Miss Florence Kelly, Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Stetson, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Grannis, Mrs. Adelaide Johnson, the sculptor, and Mrs. Julia Marlowe Taber, the actress.

These are a few of the many of our countrywomen whose voices will be heard at this great gathering of progressive, thinking women, whose purpose is the elevation of the sex, the increase and enlargement of its opportunities and privileges and the construction of new and higher ideals for the sex and the race.

There will be two large public meetings held in Queen's hall. The first, on June 27, conducted by Lady Aberdeen, will treat of "International Arbitration," and the other, under the direction of the political section, will discuss "Suffrage." The other meetings will be divided into sections for the discussion of various subjects in smaller halls.

These sections, which will be divided and subdivided according to their scope, are educational, professional, legislative, political and social. It is proposed that each section will hold two sessions daily, and at these sessions one or more short papers will be read, following which there will be free discussion. The headquarters of the council will be the Westminster town hall, where the sections will hold their daily sessions and where reception rooms will be provided for the international officers.

"The feast of reason and the flow of soul" at the quinquennial will be varied by social functions, where those in attendance will have an opportunity of becoming better acquainted with each other and of meeting many prominent people in London society. Among these social features will be a meeting on Monday afternoon, June 26, at the Westminister town hall, where the International council will receive and welcome its guests, and in the evening a reception at Stafford House, which the Duke and Duchess of Sutherland have put at the disposal of the council for the occasion. On the evening of Wednesday, June 28, Lady Battersea, who, with Lady Aberdeen and Lady Somerset, is prominently identified with the work of the British National Council of Women, will invite the delegates and speakers to Surrey House. On Saturday afternoon, July 1, the bishop of London and Mrs. Creighton will give a garden party at Fulham palace, and a similar entertainment is offered by Lady Rothschild and Mrs. Leopold de Rothschild at Gunnersbury Park, near London, on July 4.

Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, who is the avant courier of the large delegation of Americans who will attend the meeting of the council, is already in London, arranging details for their reception and entertainment.

Mrs. Blatch is a daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton. Her husband is a wealthy Englishman, who has a large estate in Huntingdonshire. Though her home is in England, she spends a portion of each year with her venerable mother in this country. She is a prominent member of the principal women's clubs of London and an intimate friend of Mrs. Sidney Webb, Mrs. Creighton and Mrs. Millicent Garrett Fawcett, with whom she is associated in many forms of philanthropic work.

Before her recent return to London, in referring to the coming International Council, Mrs. Blatch expressed her gratification that progressive American women are to have an opportunity to meet and become acquainted with the brilliant women of other countries. The American delegates and guests will be tendered a reception by Mrs. Blatch at her country home, The Mount, at Basingstoke in Huntingdonshire.

Notes of Woman's Work.

A colored nurse, Mrs. Sarah J. Ennis, native of Santa Crux, West Indies, was one of the heroes of Santiago. At El Caney she had 110 sick and wounded soldiers under her charge at one time.

Miss Lydia Starr is the chief of a party of six Red Cross nurses who recently sailed for Manila from New York.

The Confederate Veterans of Virginia have chosen Miss Nina Randolph, a handsome representative of the well known family of that name in the Old Dominion, as the sponsor for that state at the annual reunion of Confederate Veterans at Charleston.

Miss Aimee Osborne Moore, an English artist who has made America her adopted home, is winning fame and fortune by the painting of portraits of children and young girls.

Oesterreich.

Wien. Kapellmeister Dr. Hans Richter verbleibt in seiner Stellung an der Wiener Hofoper. Sein Gehalt wurde um 5000 Gulden erhöht. Ferner bleibt ihm die Wahl der Opern, die er dirigiren will, freigestellt, und was die Urlaubsfrage anbetrifft, wurde sie in der Weise gelöst, daß R[illegible]ter, so oft er zu einer künstlerischen Mitwirkung im Auslande eines Urlaubs bedarf, diesen auch erhalten wird.—Der Statthalter von Nieder-Oesterreich, Graf Kielmannsegg, hat sich dieser Tage, mit Bezug auf die Mißwirthschaft im hiesigen Gemeinde- und Stadtrath, unverblümt dahin ausgesprochen, es ginge so nicht länger, das einzige Mittel werde sein, daß der Kaiser an die Stelle des gewählten Bürgermeisters einen kaiserlich und königlichen Verwaltungsbeamten, etwa vielleicht unter dem Titel „Donau-Präfekt," ernenne, der dann die Geschicke von Groß-Wien im Interesse der Gesammt-Monarchie zu lenken habe.

Aspang. Neulich in der Frühe brannte die Pappenfabrik der Firma Mangold total nieder. Nur das Wohngebäude blieb erhalten. Der Schade beläuft sich auf über 40,000 Gulden.

Banjaluka. Die in Zürich approbirte Aerztin Frau Doktor der Medizin Gisela Kuhn, die seit dem 1. Juni 1898 in Remscheid als Krankenkassenärztin angestellt war, wurde zur kaiserlich königlichen Bezirksärztin dahier ernannt und verläßt demnächst ihren derzeitigen Posten, um ihre neue Stellung anzutreten.

Bozen. Der an religiösem Wahnsinn leidende Grundbesitzer Lorenz Brusci stürzte sich nächst Ala von einer thurmhohen Felswand in den Abgrund, wo er mit zerschmettertem Kopfe todt aufgefunden wurde.

Innsbruck. Die Stadt Innsbruck zählt gegenwärtig 23,909 Seelen. Mit den Vororten Wilten (10,250), Hötting und Pradl rund 40,000.

Pardubitz. Prinz Alexander Croy-Dülmen, Oberlieutenant im 8. Dragoner-Regiment dahier, hatte mit seinem Oberstlieutenant ein Duell, zuerst auf Pistolen, dann auf Säbel. Prinz Croy ist schwer verwundet, der Oberstlieutenant nur leicht verletzt.

Pöchlarn. Das nahe Dorf Plaika ist vollständig niedergebrannt. Das Feuer wurde von einem Italiener gelegt, aus Rache, weil er in einem Gasthause durchgeprügelt und hinausgeworfen wurde.

Teplitz-Schönau. Herr Karl Wittgenstein dahier hat anläßlich seiner silbernen Hochzeit 2000 Gulden für die Stadtarmen gespendet.

Schweiz.

Bern. Im Jahre 1898 sind in der Schweiz Bauarbeiten für 29 neue Eisenbahnlinien mit einer Gesammtlänge von 237 Kilometer begonnen worden. Die Kosten dieser Linien, Simplontunnel inbegriffen, sind auf 104,000,000 Francs veranschlagt.—In Interlaken ist das Hotel „Beaurivage" abgebrannt. Das Hotel ist für 343,000 Francs, das Mobiliar für 220,397 Francs versichert. Das Feuer soll durch einen Spängler, der im vierten Stock mit Lötharbeiten beschäftigt war, entstanden sein.—Bei der Anlage eines Elektrizitätswerkes in der Nähe von Hageneck am Ausfluß des Aarekanals in den Bieler See riß der Strom einen unter Wasser befindlichen eisernen Arbeitskasten weg, in dem 12 Arbeiter beschäftigt waren. Vier Mann wurden getödtet, zwei schwer verwundet.

Zürich. Das mit einem Kostenaufwande von 750,000 Francs erbaute neue Theodosianum in Zürich, ein 100 Betten enthaltendes katholisches Krankenhaus, in welchem aber Kranke jeder Konfession Aufnahme finden, ist nunmehr eröffnet worden. Die in ihrer Anlage sehr ausgedehnte Anstalt ist auf's Beste eingerichtet und enthält unter Anderem zwei große Operationssäle und ein Röntgenstrahlenkabinett.

Glarus. Die Eisausfuhr aus dem Klönthalersee war in diesem Jahre die größte bisher erlebte; man berechnet sie auf 240,000 Kilocentner.

Graubünden. In Davos, das über reichliche Wasserkräfte verfügt, werden einzelne Häuser bereits elektrisch geheizt; ein elektrischer Backofen tritt nächstens in Funktion.—Der Kurort Davos erhält nun noch eine höhere Station auf der Schatzalp, die durch eine kleine Bergbahn mit der Thalsohle verbunden wird. Gegenwärtig wird dort oben ein neues Schatzalphotel erbaut.

Waadt. Die Ausgrabungen der Gesellschaft „Pro Aventico" in den Trümmern des alten Akenticum fielen in letzter Zeit besonders ergiebig aus. Es wurden am Standorte des römischen Theaters Säulenschäfte, Münzen, darunter ein prächtig erhaltenes Stück mit dem Bilde Marc Aurels, ein Kapitäl mit schönen Skulpturen zu Tage gefördert. Die Dimensionen der freigelegten Umfassungsmauer des Theaters bilden die Bewunderung der Besucher.

Wallis. Das etwa zwei Wegstunden oberhalb Zermatt auf dem Wege über das Zinalrothhornjoch zum Triftthorn gelegene Gasthaus ist von einer Schneestaublawine hinweggerissen worden. Als der in Zermatt wohnende Eigenthümer des Gasthauses dieser Tage zu seinem Anwesen aufstieg, um zu sehen, wie es den Winter überstanden habe, fand er nur noch Trümmer des Hauses vor.

CHAPTER VII.

"What can I say—what can I do?" I stammered. "If there was only some way in which it might be possible for me to help you."

"Ah, if—if!" she echoed desolately. "Don't you think it strange that, though we scarcely know each other—though this is only our second meeting, and quite by chance. I turn to you with such a confession? I am ashamed now"—and she impetuously dashed her tears away with a toy of a handkerchief. "But the words spoke themselves before I could stop them. You see, I have no one to talk to— no one to advise me. I think I must be the loneliest girl in all this big pre-occupied world."

"I should have thought you would have more friends than you could keep within bounds," I said hotly.

"Friends? Has any one many friends? I have plenty of acquaintances, but I think no friends. Let us not talk of this any more, though, Mr. Stanton. I have forgotten myself."

"Forgive me—I can't obey you." I protested. "Just one word. As you said, this is only our second meeting, and I have no right to ask a favor of you, yet I am going to do it. I beg of you, as I never begged anything before that you will forget how short a time we have known each other, and that you will take me for a friend—a friend in the truest and best sense of that good, much-abused word. I swear to you that you would find me loyal."

"I believe that I should find you so," she answered falteringly. "And, oh, how I do need a friend—though you may think me disloyal to say that, when I have a home with those Who—have meant to be kind to me." Her eyes had dropped, but now she raised them again and met mine earnestly. "Yes," she exclaimed—"yes, I will have you for a friend."

"Then wont you begin making use of me at once?" I pleaded with an eagerness I could no longer disguise.

"I—am I not making use of you now? Ah, I know what you mean! You mean I am to tell you the things which I have let you see are troubling me? But much as I need help and advice, could I do that now, so soon? You must already think me a very strange girl—half mad, perhaps. Well, I have had almost enough of late to drive me mad. Some time, in a few days maybe, when we know each other a little better, I—. But the man is stopping. We have come to the doctor's you spoke of, I suppose?"

Dr. Byrnes was to be seen. I introduced Miss Cunningham to him, described the accident, and left him with her to do what he could for the injured ankle. Afterward I had still the joy of driving to Park lane with her in anticipation.

I was only called when Dr. Byrnes was ready to send his patient away.

"Do you know what was the first thing that this young lady did before I had time to begin my ministrations?" he jocularly inquired, and though the girl looked up at him with imploring eyes, he persisted. "Why, she fainted away, and if she had to do it she couldn't have chosen a more proper occasion. There I was, with all the known remedies at hand, and I proceeded to use them, with the most satisfactory results, as you may see. I don't think you will have any further trouble in going home; and now that she has been well dosed and well bandaged, the best thing she can do is to eat a hearty luncheon."

Once again settled in the cab, we were but a few moments' drive from Sir Walter Tressidy's house in Park lane, as I knew to my intense regret. With wily forethought, however, I suggested going somewhat out of our way to the establishment of a certain bicycle manufacturer and mender who would send for Miss Cunningham's machine and repair it before the accident it had met with would be conjectured by those not supposed to know.

Try as I would I could not induce her to continue the conversation that had been broken short. The brief interval that had passed since then had severed the threads of intense emotion that had for the moment united us, and she evidently repenting her frankness, was visibly ill at ease. It was only at the door that her manner warmed a little toward me again.

"Yes, I believe I am quite all right," she said, in answer to a question. "I shall not even have a suspicion of a limp." She held out her hand to me, and did not try to draw it away, though I held it rather longer and more tightly than conventionality might have approved. "You will come—soon—to see Lady Tressidy and me?" she asked softly.

"I thought of calling to-morrow afternoon. May I?"

"I shall be glad—very glad. Never shall I forget your kindness to me to-day. Don't think me any more—odd—than you can help. Good-by."

Before I could begin to tell her how impossible it would be to think any save the most reverent thoughts of her she was gone, and a cloud seemed suddenly to darken my sky.

CHAPTER VIII.

At Lady Tressidy's at home the next day I had scarcely more than a glance and a smile from Miss Cunningham, and then I found myself obliged to converse with simulated amiability to a semi-young woman, who was anxious I should know how often she had heard of me and my "travels," and that she had read the two or three books I had been idiot enough to write. Half an hour passed. I had been passed on to the other ladies, who seemed in my prejudiced eyes to bear an astonishing likeness both in mind and face, to the first of the series. Three or four people had gone. One or two new ones had come in, but at last I had had the good fortune to escape from the latest on my list of acquaintances.

I could still see Karine. She had got rid of one of her adorers, but had a couple yet in hand, and it appeared to me that she would not be sorry to bid them adieu.

At length, however, as I said, I had contrived an escape, and was finding my way toward Karine, when, before I had reached her, I saw her start, staring past me with a white frozen look on her face that for the moment blotted out much of its innocent youthfullness and beauty.

She was gazing in the direction of the door with dark, dilated eyes and lips tightly closed in a line of scarlet that faded to the palest pink.

It was as though into the midst of the gossip and laughter and brilliant light had crept a spectre which she alone could see. Some such look I had seen in the eyes of a dove which had been offered up as food for a constrictor. Involuntarily I turned and glanced behind me.

No name had been announced though I had heard the opening and closing of the door, and now, as I faced round in that direction, I saw that Sir Walter Tressidy and Carson Wildred had come in together.

Evidently this was not Wildred's first entrance, for, like Sir Walter, he had neither hat nor stick. He moved forward by his companion's side with the unmistakably assured air of the friend of the house, and I instinctively understood that he had lunched with the Tressidys, and since that time been closeted on some business of importance with his host.

I was determined that the former should not approach her (as he seemed inclined to do) if I could prevent it.

I hurried to Karine accordingly and shut her away from the room, with a pair of broad shoulders, with an air of monopolizing her which I should not have dared at any other time to assume. But was I not her friend? Had I not the right to protect her, if I could, from all that I believed to be distasteful to her?

Presently the callow youths whose claims I had hardly considered, seemed to melt away, and I was left alone with her. People were going and it was getting late, no doubt, but I did not yet mean to follow their example. After all— despite my dismal presages—it did appear that I was to have her for at least a moment or two to myself.

I had kept my word, I had outstayed them all—all but Carson Wildred.

"Have you quite recovered from yesterday's accident?" I asked, glad to share even so insignificant a secret with her.

"Yes; oh, yes!" She spoke hurriedly, and her eyes had moved, under a veil of lashes, to the distant group near the fireside—Lady Tressidy, Carson and Sir Walter.

SHE GAZED AT THE DOOR.

You haven't reconsidered your promise that I should be your friend?"

She turned to me quickly, and her eyes brimmed with unshed tears. "So many things in my life, though it is not so very long as yet, have come to me too late. Even—my friends—sometimes."

Before I could beg her to tell me what she meant Lady Tressidy had called her name, and she sprang up obediently. I followed suit of course.

"Come here, my dear girl. Mr. Stanton, this is quite a momentous day for us, and I can't resist the temptation to take you into our circle and our confidence," said the elder woman graciously. "It is just settled that this sweet adopted child of ours is to leave us—and at short notice, too. She and Mr. Wildred are going to be married."

CHAPTER IX

"Too late!" the words that Karine had just spoken echoed in my ears like a knell of doom.

For a few tremendous seconds, that seemed endless, I stood paralyzed by Lady Tressidy's announcement, unable to speak. Then I turned and looked at Karine. Her eyes seemed to have been waiting for mine, and for an instant I held them with my gaze, until they fell and veiled the answer mine had asked with long shadowy lashes.

It was perhaps the hardest task I had ever been forced to perform when after that omnious pause which doubtless seemed far more prolonged to me than to the others, I held out my hand as I was expected to do, taking Miss Cunningham's ice-cold fingers in mine and wishing her happiness.

Then I was obliged to turn to Wildred, in whose eyes I saw, or fancied I saw, a malicious light of comprehension and triumphant defiance. But his hand I would not take.

"It is hardly necessary to congratulate you," I said haltingly. "You are one of the most fortunate men in the world."

"And the most undeserving?" It was he who added the words, as though he had read them in my own mind.

I have a dim recollection of saying something more or less conventional to Sir Walter and Lady Tressidy, and then, at last, I got away.

I had fancied that not to have her face before my eyes, that not to endure the pang of seeing them together, and to escape into the open air, would relieve the tension of my feelings. But it was not so. The moment the door had closed behind me the agony of the thought that I had seen her perhaps for the last time, and the poignancy of my regret that I had not been able to put to her one question which rang in my brain, became well-nigh unendurable.

I walked aimlessly in the darkness, knowing not and caring not where I went. I heard a clock strike eight, realizing suddenly that I was far from my hotel, and that I had wearied myself uselessly.

I hailed a cab and drove back to the Savoy, from a distant and more or less (to me) unknown region of London.

As I entered the hotel, my eyes dazzled by the sudden brilliant light, I could hardly for an instant believe that it was not an optical illusion when I saw in the flesh the face that had been haunting me.

There had been a dreary drizzle of rain outside, and I was conscious that my long wanderings through muddy streets had rendered me unpresentable. Still my wish had been granted me. There stood Karine Cunningham, in white from head to foot; a long soft evening cloak, with shining silver threads straying over its snowy surface, hung loosely about her, for she had fastened it at the throat, and I could see a gleam of a bare neck, hung with a rope of pearls, and the delicate folds of chiffon belted in with jewels at her girlish waist.

Her head was turned aside and slightly bent, a light from above streaming down on her uncovered hair, and transforming the copper into gold.

Sir Walter and Lady Tressidy were close by—not six feet away—and all were evidently waiting for some one—Carson Wildred, no doubt, I bitterly told myself.

None of the party had as yet seen me. Sir Walter and his wife were talking very earnestly together, and had perhaps moved a few steps from the young girl that their words might not be overheard by her.

I knew that, if I were wise, I would at once take myself off without announcing my presence, but a sudden impulse seized and overmastered me. It was a desperate one, doubtless, but none the less alluring and powerful because of that.

CHAPTER X.

Without giving myself a second for further reflection, and with the blood surging to my temples, I found myself, with a few strides, beside her. Mud-stained boots and trousers were forgotten. I would waste no time in apologizing for my appearance.

What she must have thought of my pale and eager face, suddenly bent over I do not know. She uttered no exclamation, however. Without one spoken word I made her see that she must come with me, and the quick realization of my power over her, as she laid her hand upon my arm unhesitatingly, thrilled me to the very core of my being.

I led her down the hall to a small public drawing room, and not once did she hesitate or look back, unconventional as was the adventure in which she was engaged.

Luckily the place was empty, save for two elderly Frenchwomen, who gossiped and gabbled with their heads close together on a sofa in a corner.

"What is it—oh' what is it?" questioned Karine. "Quick! there will only be a moment, I know, for they will see that I have gone, and will soon find me here."

Without any preface I came straight to the asking of the bald, crude question which was in my mind to ask.

"For the sake of—our friendship, Miss Cunningham forgive me, and tell me whether you love Carson Wildred?"

She started and quivered almost as though I had struck her a blow, and her large, frightened eyes studied mine for a long second without answering. Then she said, simply: "No my friend, I do not—love him."

"Yet you have promised to marry him?"

"Yes."

"And you mean to carry out that promise?"

"Yes unless"—

"Unless what?"

"Something—happens to prevent me."

"If you do not love him something shall prevent. Let me help you. For Heaven's sake, let me! Only give me an idea how it can best be done—I ask no more. I will teach you what such a friendship as mine can have the power to do."

"You are very kind," she said, gently and sadly. "I am not looking forward to any great degree of happiness in my life, but I daresay, after all, I shall get on as well as most women. I don't think anything will happen to prevent—what we were speaking of..

"Why, is it to come so soon, then?" I questioned impetuously.

"In six weeks. It was all arranged to-day"—with a soft little sigh at the end of her sentence.

"Tell me this: Are you in any way being forced into the marriage?"

"Not by people—exactly. Only by circumstances. I—I can't tell you any more, though believe me, I am grateful for all you mean, and all you would do for friendship's sake."

"Tell me what could prevent it?" I persisted imploringly. "If you found that he was unworthy would that"—

She half smiled, though without any mirthfulness. "There are so many degrees of unworthiness, aren't there? And I am not near enough to perfection to believe myself a judge."

"If he had committed a crime?" I went desperately on.

"Ah, then! But it is wrong to wish that he should have been guilty of any wickedness. I thing Mr. Stanton, that as I have promised to be his wife we must talk no more of this—you and I. I have always had a horror of disloyalty."

"I know," I said, "that I have done an unheard of thing in thus stealing you away from your friends to ask you questions which only the most intimate friends could claim the right to ask. You are good to me—don't think I will misunderstand. I shall always remember you and—what you would have done for me.

"What I shall try yet to do, in spite of all," I amended. "I meant to leave England soon, but now—I shall stay."

"Yes—stay." She faintly echoed: "though you must leave me now. I—would rather anything than that you were with me when they come to me. I will make some excuse for having separated myself from them. Only go now—please go!"

As she spoke outside in the hall we heard voices and footsteps coming nearer.

FACTS AND FANCIES.

Russet complexions are now much worn in connection with tanned shoes. The former are rather more expensive than the latter, and there is really no limit to the amount sometimes paid for them.

That tired feeling so much in request in the spring and early summer is now considered pasee, and in its place strong and elastic sensations are widely affected.

Persons with stern purses find it convenient to wear a gloomy expression trimmed with corrugated brows. The cutting is on the bias and usually by old acquaintances.

Court plasters of varying hues to suit the taste of the wearer, are much affected by the devotees of the wheel, while tetanus is quite common with persons who have been struggling with golf dialect.

Shoes which were formerly worn with the sole carried horizontally now appear with their heels on a bias, and pantaloons formerly of a dull surface are now seen with quite a glossy exterior.

It is still quite common with young gentlemen to wear their names as well as their hair parted in the middle. In the case of some gentlemen no longer youthful the parting of the hair is done with a towel.

One of the freaks of fashion apropos of the dismemberment of China, is to have the house plentifully supplied with broken dishes. The lady of the kitchen is usually charged with the duty of supplying these, with very gratifying results.

HEALTH SUGGESTIONS.

Try cranberries for malaria.

Try a sun bath for rheumatism.

Try clam broth for a weak stomach.

Try cranberry poultice for erysipelas.

Try gargling lager beer for cure of sore throat.

Try eating fresh radishes and yellow turnips for gravel.

Try swallowing saliva when troubled with sour stomach.

Try eating onions and horseradish to relieve dropsical swellings.

Try buttermilk for the removal of freckles, tan and butternut stains.

Try the croup tippet when a child is likely to be troubled with croup.

Try hot flannel over the seat of neuralgic pain, and renew frequently.

Try taking cod liver oil in tomato catsup if you want to make it palatable.

Try hard cider—a wineglassful three times a day—for ague and rheumatism.

Try taking a nap in the afternoon if you are going to be out late in the evening.

Try breathing the fumes of turpentine or carbolic acid to relieve whooping cough.

Try a cloth wrung out from cold water, put about your neck at night, for a sore throat.

Try an extra pair of stockings outside of your shoes when traveling in cold weather.

Try walking with your hands behind you if you find yourself becoming bent forward.

Try a silk handkerchief over the face when obliged to go against a cold, piercing wind.

CYCLING COMMENT

Amos Grey, of Elmwood place, has purchased a bicycle.

Residents of East Front street and Sandford avenue are enjoying the efforts of one of their neighbors, Noah Webster Pike, who is learning to ride a wheel. He sticks to it nearly every evening, notwithstanding the fact that he has several times "bit the dust" in his endeavor to tame the unruly steed.

HEAVY THUNDER STORM.

on Harrison street, Prideville. Mrs. Charles Kellar, who lives nearby saw the fire, sent in an alarm from box No. 155, corner of Harrison and Cedar streets.

The West End Hose Company turned out promptly and fought the fire bravely. The barn was burning fiercely when the firemen arrived and the sharp lightning, accompanied by a heavy downfall of rain and the roar of thunder, made it exceedingly difficult for the firemen. However, they succeeded in saving most of the burning building and about the only damage done was that caused by the lightning which tore off about two feet off one end.

There was very little in the barn, the principal thing being a small quantity of hay, and it was this that burned the most. The members of Warren Engine Company also responded to the alarm, but by the time they arrived the fire was well under way and they were not needed.

A large tree standing in front of Abraham Vail's place, on East Third street, was struck by lightning and a deep groove was torn all the way down the trunk. No other damage was done to the tree.

Crop Report.

The weekly bulletin of the New Jersey Weather Service contains the following from Observer Naegle, of this city:

During the week there has been excessive sunshine, with only a trace of rain, but notwithstanding the drought the ground is in good condition for working; planting of potatoes and plowing for corn are progressing rapidly; wheat growing very fast, but in some places crop will be poor, owing to being frozen out; oats and rye look well. John Neagle.

New Lodge Instituted.

Loyal Council, No. 17, Sr. O. U. A. M., was instituted last night in Washington Hall with about 25 charter members. Delegates from Camden, Trenton, Elizabeth, Rahway, New Brunswick and other places were present. The next meeting will be held May 10, in Exempt Firemen's Hall, when more names will be enrolled.

Fire Loss Fixed.

The company in which A. L. Cadmus, whose barn was burned Monday, was insured, has adjusted the loss, and will settle this afternoon. There was no insurance on the barn, but $400 on the contents.

HONORS OF THE G. A. R.

OLD VETERAN GIVEN A MILITARY FUNERAL BY HIS COMRADES.

Impressive Services at the Grave of Late William R Moore—Casket Covered by Beautiful Flowers and American Flag.

The funeral services of the late William R. Moore were held yesterday afternoon at 3:46 o'clock from the residence on New street, and was attended by Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., the Woman's Relief Corps and Mason's Union. Rev. C. L Goodrich, of the Congregational church, had charge of the services and was assisted by Rev. C. E. Herring, of the First Prebyterian church.

The casket was covered with an American flag and beautiful flowers There was a pillow from the G. A. R., another one from the children, an anchor from the Woman's Relief Corps and a large floral piece from the Masons Union.

At the grave the G. A. R. comrades had charge of the services and were assisted by a detachment from the Independent Fife and Drum Corps. Commander Chas. Stevens was in charge and assisting him were Chaplain Goodwin, Officer of the Guard, Albert G Perry, M. C. Dobbins, J. C. Atwood and Andrew Cox.

I. L McVoy had charge of the firing squad which consisted of John Emmons, Alex. Sergeant, H. C. Drake, J. W. Fink, J. I. Finley, Jas. M. Lewis, W. H. Stites, J. Vail, J. W. Wagner and Israel Compton. Several salutes were given during the services at the grave.

Those who acted as pall bearers were from Post 73, G. A. R., as follows: Eugene VanCourt, W. R. Mattox, Robert Walker, Augustus Runyon, Job Coddington and Francis Whitely.

OF EXTRA SIZE.

The largest existing library is the National Library of Paris. It contains forty miles of shelves, holding 1,400,000 books.

The largest cave in the world is the Mammoth cave of Kentucky. Its length is ten miles, though to explore its avenues, grottoes, galleries, domes, rivers, and cataracts would entail a journey of 150 miles.

The largest room in the world, under one roof and unbroken by pillars, is at Saint Petersburg. It is 620 feet long and 150 feet wide. Its roof is a single arch of iron. This room is used for military displays, and a whole battalion can maneuver in it.

The largest city in the world is London, which has a population equaling the combined population of Paris, Berlin, Saint Petersburg, and Rome. Its streets, placed in a row, would reach around the world, leaving a bit over long enough to reach from London to San Francisco.

The largest sundial in the universe is Hayou Horoo, a large promontory extending 3,000 feet above the Egian sea. In the course of each day the sun throws the shadow of this mountain on one after another of a circle of islands, which act as hour marks as surely as the fingers on an ordinary dial.

Why the polished writer on dramatic art goes by way of choice to the flimsiest burlesques in town?

Why the editor who writes so learnedly on political reform goes as a delegate in the interest of the machine?

The man who writes comic ditties about the woes of a man with a mother-in-law lives with his wife's mother?

Why the philosopher who tells the world how to be happy though married never entered the matrimonial state?

The young husband who indulges in airy persiflage on the subject of Easter bonnets wedded a woman who makes her own?

Why the newspaper man who writes articles on "How to live on fifty cents a week" goes in debt trying to manage on $25 per?

Why the authority on social etiquette receives visitors in his shirt sleeves and goes out to lunch with a disreputable-looking corncob pipe?

The chap who evolves funny paragraphs on the pushing of a lawnmower hurries home to trim the lawn with that instrument of torture?

SOME FUNNY ADS.

Somebody has been collecting queer advertisements from the papers; here are a few specimens:

"Wanted—An organist and a boy to blow the same."

"Bulldog for sale; will eat anything; very fond of children."

"Wanted—A boy to be partly outside and partly behind the counter."

"Widow in comfortable circumstances wishes to marry two sons."

"Annual sale now on. Don't go elsewhere to be cheated—come in here."

"For Sale—A pianoforte, the property of a musician with carved legs."

"Wanted—A room by two gentlemen about 30 feet long and 20 feet broad."

"A lady wants to sell her piano, as she is going abroad in a strong iron frame."

"Wanted—For the summer, a cottage for a small family with good drainage."

"Wanted—By a respectable girl, her passage to New York; willing to take care of children and a good sailor."

"To be disposed of, a mail phaeton, the property of a gentleman with a moveable headpiece as good as new."

"Lost—Near Highgate archway, an umbrella belonging to a gentleman with a bent rib and a bone handle."

"Lost—A collie dog by a man on Saturday evening answering to Jim with a brass collar round his neck and a muzzle."

"Mr. Brown, furrier, begs to announce that he will make up gowns, capes, etc., for ladies out of their own skins."

SECRETS OF LONG LIFE.

Eight hours' sleep.
Sleep on your right side.
Exercise before breakfast.
Have a mat at your bedroom door.
Keep your bedroom window open all night.
Eat little meat and see that it is well cooked.
Do not have your bedstead against the wall.
No cold tub bath in the morning, but a bath at the temperature of the body.
For adults—Drink no milk.
Have change of occupation.
Daily exercise in the open air.
Take frequent and short holidays.
Live in the country if you can.
Eat plenty of fruit to feed the cells which destroy disease germs.
Avoid intoxicants, which destroy those cells.
Limit your ambition, and keep your temper.
Watch the three D's—drinking water, damp and drains.
Allow no pet animals in your living rooms. They are apt to carry about disease germs.

DEVIOUS DEFINITIONS.

A heeler—The shoemaker.

Barytone—The singer who is classed as a bass imitation.

Sympathy—The connecting link between joy and sorrow.

Bluff—A pretty good substitute for anything but brains.

Roomy—The flat with many rooms but with no room in any of them.

Heaven—The place where we imagine everyone is as good as we are.

Sentiment—A good thing so long as it can be kept on a paying basis.

Silence—Something that is especially golden when we have nothing to say.

Conscience—The part of a man that hurts him when his neighbor does wrong.

"Stealing downstairs"—The burglar who confines himself to the cellar and ground floor.

Hypocrisy—Something that always makes a man act different when he knows some one is watching him.

SHORT CALLS.

Realization is never a luxury to the man who did not hope.

Only the fear of endless torment causes some sinners to repent.

It is safer to learn from an enemy than it is to instruct a friend.

It's useless for a man to seek a steady job if he isn't that way himself.

Turn some men loose in a brewery and trouble would very soon begin to brew.

TOM BOWLING AT THE GUN

How Yankee Gunners Fired in the Battle With Montojo's Fleet.

WHY WE WON AT MANILA

Good Marksmanship on a Rolling Vessel Means More Than the Public Appreciate.

The Big Guns Under Perfect Control of the Hydraulic Cylinder—Some of the Difficulties the Manipulator Has to Contend With—The Remarkable Work of the Crews.

Lieut. Bradley A. Fiske, U. S. N., of the Petrel, who took part in the engagement of Cavite bay, contributes an article to the Century on Why We won at Manila. Lieutenant Fiske says of the "man behind the gun:"

Look at him as he stands, lock-string in hand, behind his gun, his legs wide apart as he balances himself on the unsteady deck, his eyes fixed on the sights of his gun and on the enemy, whom he sees through the narrow aperture of the gunport. He knows that his gun is all right, and the powder and the shell and the fuse, and that, years ago, the necessary steps were taken which placed this terrible weapon in his hand to-day, so fashioned that if he fires it right the shot will hit the mark. But the rolling of the ship from side to side throws the line of his gunsights high up against the sky, and then down into the sea; and, as no ship steers exactly straight, the line of sight moves irregularly to the right and left; so that his sights appear to be describing irregular curves, now against the background of the sky, and now against the background of the sea. An average roll may be said to be about seven degrees on each side, or fourteen degrees from one side to the other. The average time of making this roll is about seven seconds, making the line of rolling one degree about half a second.

Suppose now that Tom Bowling is firing at an average ship, say twenty feet high, about twenty-five hundred yards away. If he fires at the middle of the target, as he should do, this gives him a margin on each side of ten feet, which subtends an angle at Tom Bowling's eye of about one-twelfth of a degree; so that Bowling must appreciate the fact that his sights are "on," and do everything required to fire the gun in one-twenty-fourth of a second., or else he will miss the target. Now, no man living can be depended on for such rapid thought and nerve-action, even under the best conditions of quiet and calmness; that is, he cannot be depended on to do it every time.

Much can be done by a good gun-captain, however, by watching for a smooth time, and firing a little before the sights bear. No one knows this better than Tom Bowling. So he braces his feet on the unsteady deck, every nerve stretched to its utmost tension. He sees that the gun is pointing a little to the right of the enemy's ship. "Left!" he orders and the gun-trainers work their training-levers, or if in a turret, start the turning engine so as to turn the gun to the left. Meanwhile, as the line of sight gradually is approaching the target from the right, it is also rising and falling with the rolling of the ship. Tom Bowling sees that, the next time the sights rise to the level of the target, the trainers will have got the gun trained in the proper direction. He braces himself for a quick pull of his lock-string; and then a wave strikes the ship on the starboard bow, or the helm is shifted a little, and away goes the line of sight far off to the left, before the sights get up. "Right!" orders Bowling instantly; and the gun-trainers work the gun back to the right quickly, but cautiously, for much depends upon them now. "Well!" "Right!" "Left!" etc., come the orders in quick succession, as Tom Bowling and his trainers work the gun. Suddenly the line of sight strikes the target; there is a gleam in Bowling's eys, a quick pull of his arm a tremendous noise, a stifling cloud of smoke, and in comes the gun as if it were a projectile itself, and were going clear across the ship and out at the other side; but it quickly, yet gently, slows, then stops, controlled perfectly by the hydraulic cylinder; and immediately it runs out again, and is ready to be loaded and fired once more.

In an instant the second captain has unlocked and thrown open the breach; quick hands wash off the powder residue from breech-block and bore, and then shove in the shell and powder. The second captain closes and locks the breech with a heavy clang, puts in a new primer, and reports the gun ready. "Left!" cries Tom Bowling; and the same succession of actions is reperformed.

If anybody could have gone from ship to ship of the United States fleet during the eventful hour between five and half-past seven on that beautiful Sunday morning he would have seen about fifty Tom Bowlings, all doing the same things and in the same way. He would have seen fifty guns' crews all eagerly, yet coolly, working their guns, and he would have seen each division of guns, and each turret under the charge of an officer responsible for it.

A Father's Tribute.

At the engagement at Las Guasimas Capt. Allyn K. Capron, of the Rough Riders, son of Capt. Capron, Sr., was killed. His body was left for a time where it fell. His hat was placed to cover his head and a black rubber poncho thrown over the body. Only the rough, mud-clotted shoes protruded from beneath the poncho. Word was sent to Capt. Capron, Sr., and he soon reached the scene of the engagement. White-faced, but upright, he stood for a moment looking down at that black, forbidding outline in a by-path of a thicket—all that remained of the last of three promising sons. Stooping he lifted the hat from the dead boy's face, and gazing at him with moist eyes said:

"Well done, boy!"

Then replacing the hat he turned on his heel and marched stiffly away.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvet skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

CHANGES TO BE MADE IN THE STATE GUARD

Governor Voorhees Promulgates New Order of Things.

THEY ARE NOW IN EFFECT.

OFFICERS OF DISBANDED COMMANDS ON RETIRED LIST.

As Reorganized the Guard Will Consist of Four Regiments of Infantry, Two Troops of Calvary and Two Field Batteries—Naval Reserves Will Consist of Four Divisions, Comprised in Two Battalions.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, May 4—The formal orders for the reorganization of the National Guard of New Jersey were issued yesterday. The original plan, partly made public some days ago, has been modified somewhat, the necessity for the changes appearing clear in conferences lately held by the military authorities. As reorganized the New Jersey Guard will consist of four regiments of infantry, of twelve campanies each; two troops of cavalry and two field batteries of artillery. These forces are organized into two brigades, the whole to be comprised in one division, with a signal corps to be attached to Division Headquarters.

The new regiments will be the First, with headquarters at Newark; the Second, with headquarters at Trenton; the Third, with headquarters at Camden, and the Fourth, with headquarters at Jersey. The naval reserve will consist of four divisions, comprised in two battalions, viz., the Battalion of the East with headquarters at Hoboken and stations there and at Newark, and the Battalion of the West, with headquarters at Camden and stations there and at Haddonfield. The Battalion of the East will be attached to the First Brigade and the Battalion of the West to the Second Brigade.

The Gatling gun companies of Orange and Camden are transformed into field batteries of artillery, the first to be attached to the First Brigade and the other to the Second Brigade. All officers of disbanded commands or those who may become supernumerary by reason of consolidation will be placed on the retired list and the enlisted men of such commands will be discharged. Field and staff officers reelected or reappointed to office in the rank previously held by them will be recommissioned to rank as such from the date of their original election or appointment. Commissioned officers of companies or divisions consolidated or transferred with their commands to other organizations will take rank according to the dates of their previous commissions and will be recommissioned accordingly.

WOODRUFF'S WILL THROWN OUT.

Caveat Filed by the Heirs Sustained by Judge Vail.

(Special to The Daily Press)

Elizabeth, May 4—The will of Jos. Woodruff, of Salem, the old and wealthy retired builder, whose death occurred recently, was presented for probate yesterday in the Union County Orphan's Court and was thrown out by Judge Vail.

There was a clause in the will which specified that the estate should not be divided until twenty-five years after the testator's death. Mrs. Woodruff is nearly seventy. She filed a caveat against the probating of the will, and her action was sustained by the other members of the family.

Explained Needs of the School.

Assistant Principal Torgett, of the Normal School in Fort Valley, Ga., accompanied by a quartette of young colored men were present at the meeting held in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church last evening and several characteristic songs were given, as well as some instrumental music. Mr. Torgett gave a talk explaining the needs of the school and telling of the work being carried on.

Missionary Officers Chosen.

At the meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Baptist church held yesterday afternoon in the church parlors the followings officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Reuben Knox; vice-presidents, Mrs. D. J. Yerkes, Mrs. DeWitt Brokaw and Mrs. William White; secretary, Mrs. B. J. Shreve; treasurer, Miss Ida Yerkes.

Realty Changes.

The following real estate transfers have been recorded in the Somerset County Clerk's office during the past week: John Ross et ux to Charles P. Rider, North Plainfield, $4 000; John P. Emmons et ux to Samuel C. Everett and Mary E. Bolsterli, North Plainfield, $4 000; John C Abbott to John E. Low, North Plainfield, $1.

DENNIS' STORY IN COURT

ALLEGED DRUGGING AND ROBBERY HEARD BY JUSTICE MOSHER.

VanHorn and VanNest Say They are Innocent, But They Were Held for the Grand Jury—Former Sent to Jail.

Frank VanNest and William VanHorn will now have to answer to the Grand Jury for what they are alleged to have done to Harry B. Dennis Monday afternoon. The men were given a hearing yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock before Justice Mosher, and were held in bonds of $100 to await the action of the Grand Jury, which is now in session. It is likely that their case will be attended to at once.

VanNest was represented in court by Irving Brady. William G. DeMeza was VanHorn's counsel. Both prisoners pleaded not guilty, but were not allowed to go on the stand in their own behalf. Dennis repeated his story of having been taken into a saloon by the two and given something to drink which he thinks was drugged. Then he remembers going over to a livery stable with the men.

Dennis says that when he went in there with them he had $9 in his pockets and a gold watch worth $50. An employe of the stable testified that when Dennis came in the stable there was a watch chain hanging across his vest, and another employe said he noticed that when he went out it was gone. No one saw a watch.

Dennis' sister, when he was brought home, helped put him to bed, and after that searched his clothes, and says that she could find neither money or watch. Upon this the Justice concluded to hold them. U. B. Crane went VanNest's bail, but it is likely that VanHorn will have to go to jail.

DRAIN FOR UPPER PART OF BOROUGH.

New Agreement to be Presented to the Borough Council.

The agreement drawn by Councilman Clark, of the borough, which gives A. I. Smalley, of Somerset street, the right to lay and construct a private drain, has been amended and it will be introduced at the regular meeting of the council tomorrow evening, when it is hoped by those in favor of it, that it will be adopted and accepted by the Mayor and council. There is no doubt but what the improvement is needed, but just what the terms shall be is the point that is causing delay.

WORKING QUIETLY.

Father Smythe Trying to Influence Parishoners in the Right Path.

The agitation that was started by Father Smythe to keep the members of his parish out of the cider joints on Sundays is to be quietly continued. Influence is being brought to bear to keep the young men of the parish away from the haunts and action will be taken to bring about the closing of the resorts.

Fun Got Him Into Jail.

(Special to The Daily Press)

Elizabeth, May 4.—John Downey, a petit juror of the Union County May term of court, failed to answer to his name yesterday when it was called by Sheriff Kirk. The Sheriff called the name several times and was getting red in the face, when he was told that Downey was in jail, having been sentenced to thirty days by Police Justice Hetfield for disorderly conduct, he having been charged by Donahue, a saloonkeeper in Broadway, of having entered his saloon the night before and partly wrecking it, "just for fun."

Talked of Ordinance of Communion.

Instead of the usual convenant meeting at the Park Avenue Baptist church last night, there were addresses by three members of the church upon the ordinance of communion. The speakers were Messrs Dayton, Watts and Ingham. The choir sang two anthems, and the pastor closed the service with a few appropriate remarks.

Fire Department Reorganization.

After the next meeting of the Common Council Monday evening, May 15th, work will be started at once reorganizing the fire department and making the several changes proposed by the fire committee

A Letter From Mr. Morrison.

The first part of March Mrs. George D. Morrison, of Plainfield avenue, received a letter from her husband, who is at Manila, and he writes that he and his daughter are both well and enjoying themselves.

Mr Brown's Hard Job.

Mr. Brown, of Scotland, has been engaged at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club grounds as a professional to teach the game to to those who desire to become proficient in the sport.

Brightening Up the Hospital

The various wards at Muhlenberg Hospital are being painted by Woolston & Buckle's men. The work is being done nights so as not to interfere with the hospital work.

FIREMEN SELLING OUT.

GAZELLE ENGINE COMPANY HELD AN AUCTION SALE.

Andrew Love, Sr., Acted as Auctioneer and Secured Good Prices for the Relics, Which Were Offered for Sale

Gazelle Engine Company took another step last evening toward the end of its career. All that is now needed is the formal disbandment of the company by the Common Council. At a special meeting last evening the remainder of the company's property was disposed of at auction.

There was a goodly turnout of the members to see that the auction went off all right. Andrew Love, Sr., acted as auctioneer and was very satisfactory. The furniture and most of the old trophies were disposed of. Mr. Love even grabbed hold of Jimmy Daly, the driver, and started to auction him off as well. Somebody bid 50 cents, but here Daly interrupted the proceedings by the announcement that he was not in the market.

The silver pitcher presented Gazelle Company by the Somerville firemen was purchased by James Love. The silver trumpet, a gift from the Westfield company, went to Jerry Moore, ex-foreman of the company, as the highest bidder. The silver plate off the old Gazelle engine was presented to Alex. Titsworth, who was foreman of the company when the steamer was purchased.

The sale was a lively one and added some $80 to the treasury. The pictures in the company room will go to families of the originals, where they care to take them, or otherwise to the Exempt Firemen's Association.

The company decided to await the action of the Common Council and be disbanded in a body when the Council shall take necessary action.

BOX CAR USED FOR A JAIL.

A Strange Acting Man Locked up to Wait For Officers.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, May 4.—About 10 o'clock Tuesday night, Night Watchman McCrea, of the C. & C. works at Garwood found a man in the building acting strangely. He telephoned to Westfield for an officer and then got the man to go into an empty box car which stood on a side track. He locked the door and then waited for the officers. Constables Chamberlin and Peek and Judge Tousey went down for the man and brought him here where he was lodged in the lockup until this morning.

He gave the name of John Palco and said that he lived at Millington, Pa., and worked in a mine. He was no doubt out of his mind and acted in a very strange manner. A grocery book was found in one of his pockets showing that he traded with a firm named Pursell Brothers. As the judge could get nothing from him he bought him a ticket to New York and shipped him to that city on a morning train.

NOW DOING VENICE.

Honeyman Tourists Arrive in the Austrian Capital Ahead of Time.

A cablegram was received in this city yesterday from the Honeyman party now traveling abroad. The message stated that the party had arrived in Venice ahead of time, and that all members are well. The party is now homeward bound and they are due to arrive in New York Wednesday, May 31st, or the following day.

To Get an Idea of the War.

If you desire to assist in the effort being made to erect a suitable soldiers' monument in this city you can do so by attending the illustrated lecture to be given next Saturdy evening in the Camera Club rooms. The pictures will give one an excellent idea of the recent war, and especially the part taken by the New Jersey Naval Reserves.

More Fire Company Officers.

In publishing the list of officers-elect of Warren Engine Company in yesterday's Press, there were two or three unintentional omissions. F. Merton Lunger was elected first assistant foreman, and E. J. Smith was chosen second assistant foreman. Alonzo Brokaw is chief engineer, but he was appointed by the Borough Council.

Mrs. Manley Engaged for Another Year.

The twenty-third anniversary of the West Side business men's noon-day prayer meeting was observed today at the rooms, 281 Greenwich street, New York. Mrs. John Manley, of this city, who has had charge of the music at that place for ten years, has been engaged for another year.

Insurance Settled.

The insurance companies settled today the losses that resulted from the fire at the store house of A. L. Cadmus, on South Second street. The loss allowed on the stock was $400, the entire amount of the policy. The insurance on the building was $600, all of which was allowed.

HOT POKER AGAINST A CHUNK OF ICE.

Two Servant Girls Had a Lively Time of it.

ONE HELD FOR GRAND JURY

COOK ACCUSED OF BEING SLOW BY THE WAITRESS.

The Ruler of the Range Grabbed a Poker and Did Battle With Her Enemy Who Had Only a Piece of Ice to Defend Herself With—Ran a Race to See Who Could Get to the Justice of Peace First.

Stata Coleman and Tessie Harding are two servants employed by a wealthy family on Park avenue. Stata is a waitress while the other occupies the exalted position of cook That the two cannot get along together was illustrated yesterday afternoon in Justice Mosher's court, when Stata was complainant is a case against Tessie of assault and battery.

Tuesday night things came to a climax. The cook was getting dinner ready, and was so slow about it that Stata lost her temper.

"You're so slow I thought there wasn't anything else," said the waitress coming out from the dining room, for a piece of ice to put on the butter.

"You think I'm slow, do you," Tessie is said to have replied, at the same time seizing the stove lifter, hot from the fire, and rushing upon the helpless waitress, armed only with a piece of ice. Just what happened then is hard to tell. Stata says that Tessie struck her across the cheek with the hot iron, and exhibited a dark red streak as evidence.

Tessie claims that Stata waved her hands, in which she held the chunck of ice at her, threatening to throw it That was all there was to the incident, but as soon as they had their evening's work done they ran a race down town to see which could get out a complaint first.

Stata won, and yesterday morning the cook was arrested. The hearing came off at 4 o'clock. Stata was represented by Counsel for McClure, and after hearing the stories Justice Mosher held Tessie in $100 bonds to await the action of the Grand Jury. A brother of Tessie's went on her bond.

YOUNG WOMEN CADETS.

MILITARY IDEAS PROMULGATED BY MISS MARIE HONEYCUTT.

The Daughter of an Old Army Officer, and When the Drillmaster is Absent She Fills His Place in Her Capacity as Captain

The cadet corps of young women in the Borough Public High school held their weekly drill yesterday afternoon in the school yard under the direction of Mr. Fitzer, the drill master. The young cadets are growing more proficient in the tactics and progress is made every week.

The corps was organized at the suggestion of Miss Marie W. Honeycutt, who is now attending the school preparing to go to Vassar College. She will graduate next year. Miss Honeycutt is the daughter of an army officer, now deceased, who at one time held a position of responsibility at West Point. When Mr. Fitzer, the drill master, is unable to attend drill, Miss Honeycutt acts in his place. She has been elected captain.

The opposition corps of young women who have organized under the direction of Arthur Smith, who acts as drill master, met yesterday afternoon, as usual, on the grounds at the Watchung school. A very satisfactory drill was held and there was a large attendance of members.

HOTEL MAN ARRESTED.

Outcome of the Raid Made on Alleged Cockfighters at Garwood.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 4.—Capt. John C. Gernant, proprietor of the Union County Hotel at Garwood was arrested last night on a warrant issued by Justice Cox, charging him with keeping a disorderly house, and was held in $200 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

Gernant's place was raided early last Sunday morning by the police because a cocking main was about to take place there, and nine gamecocks were captured by the officers. The birds will be sold at public auction next Tuesday by Agent Morrison, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, in whose possession the gamecocks now are. It is said a suit for their recovery will be brought by the owners against the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals on the ground that no cock fighting was in progress when the birds were seized.

NO WORD FROM TRACY.

THE YOUNG PHYSICIANS' ABSENCE UNACCOUNTED FOR.

His Family are Still Hopeful of Getting Some Trace of Him—Searching for Him in the Adirondack Mountains Yet.

As yet not a word has been received regarding Dr. Robert Tracy, son of J. Evarts Tracy, of West Eighth street, who disappeared from a sanitarium at Saranac Lake, New York, about a month ago.

People are still engaged in searching through the mountains for the missing young man in the hopes that some clew may be obtained to his whereabouts. There seems to be an opinion among some of the young man's friends that he may have wandered off from a trail and got lost among the bog lands.

The family has not given up hope of finding him and they still think that he is safe in some out of the way place. Everyday they anxiously await news concerning the young man.

BETTER PROSPECT FOR PEACHES.

Hunterdon Growers Expect to Market Half a Million Baskets.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Flemington, May 4.—Out of a large number of replies received from the peach growers of Hunterdon County regarding the prospects for this year's crop of peaches, more than one-half report that the outlook is most encouraging, and that although the yield will not come up to the standard, Hunterdon County will probably market over half a million baskets. Some of the enthusiasts predict a yield of three-quarters of a million baskets. The buds that suffered the most appear to have been the yellow varieties.

The early reports sent out that the crop had been ruined by the severe cold weather, have proven to be untrue, although the growers at that time predicted that the yield would be very small. The buds have now opened and are healthy in appearance.

AWARDED $17,000 DAMAGES.

Ex-Congressman Clark's Share as Result of Change of Grade.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 4—The Elizabeth Assessment Commissioners, who were ordered by a peremptory mandamus from the Supreme Court to assess damages and benefits to the property of former Congressman Amos Clark, resulting from the abolition of grade crossings and the consequent depression of several streets in this city under the tracks of the Pennsylvania and Central Railroads, filed their report on the matter at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon with City Clerk Manning. The damages awarded ex-Congressman Clark for the injury to his holdings, after the benefits are deducted, will be over $17,000

Longest "Spite Fence" on Record.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Hillsdale, May 4—A "spite fence" 12 feet high and 250 feet long has been built by Herman Krone to divide his property from that of his neighbor, Theodore Schulke. Mr. Schulke conducts a summer boarding house. The families had a disagreement over a house on the Schulke place. The fence runs from the sidewalk line to the rear of Mr. Krone's lot and leaves the Schulke household but one view—to the west. Mr. Schulke hopes to obtain satisfaction in the courts. He has had his land surveyed and found that the posts of Mr. Krone's fence traspass three inches upon the Schulke property.

On the Road to Recovery

George Gayle, of 18 Vine street, who last week was attacked with a severe nose bleed, had a return of the trouble Monday evening, necessitating the services of his family physician, Dr. Long, who succeeded in checking the flow of blood. Today Mr. Gayle is doing as nicely as can be expected, considering the amount of blood he lost in both attacks, and with perfect quiet and rest he hopes to soon recover and be restored to his accustomed health.

Big Judgment for Col. Moore.

William Newcorn appeared in the Circuit Court at Elizabeth Tuesday and obtained a judgment in the case of Col. Charles K. Moore, of Elizabeth, formerly of Fanwood, against John R. Moore. The amount of the judgment was $2,388 and costs. It was a case of money loaned, and the suit was begun last January by attachment.

Attended a Pow-wow

Great Senior Sagamore Newcorn and Chairman of the Laws Committee Westphal, of Miantonomo Tribe, attended a reception accorded to the great chiefs at Pamprapaugh Tribe, Bayonne City, Tuesday night. The great chiefs were all there, and so were representatives from Atlantic City, New Brunswick, Elizabeth and Newark.

FALVEY FELT INSULTED.

HE WAS ARRESTED BY DOG CATCHER FRISBIE.

He Thought the City Ought to Have Given Him the Honor of a Regular Patrolman to Land Him in Rookery

John Falvey felt insulted. It was bad enough to be arrested by anyone but to be arrested by the dogcatcher injured his feelings greatly. He wasn't any dog and he thought any well behaved city would give him a policeman for a captor instead of a dogcatcher.

Falvey is a gardener by trade. He has been working down near Princeton all winter and started for his home in Newark to look after a pension that ought to come due. Falvey fought in the Civil War and thought that Uncle Sam ought to remember him now. Falvey struck Plainfield yesterday afternoon. He had walked over from Metuchen and having stopped at sundry bars enroute, his gait was not as steady as it might have been.

The course of his wanderings in this city have not been recorded. He finally landed in front of the residence of Dr. Berg, on East Fifth street, and lay down in the gutter for a nap. Dog Catcher Frisbe happened to pass by and was summoned to take him away. He did so and Warden Tommie Martin locked up the prisoner.

This morning Falvey was arraigned before the City Judge. Judge Runyon heard the story and found the prisoner guilty. He sentence was a fine of $3 or eight days in jail. Lacking the funds, Falvey will visit Warden Dodd in Elizabeth.

SILK MILL TO START.

Machinery to be Operated Under Direction of Ralph Whitney.

The looms at the silk mill are rapidly being set up and in about two weeks the company expect to begin the manufacture of silk. Ralph Whitney, of Paterson, a well-known silk man, has been secured as superintendent and will take charge immediately. Mr. Whitney is well-known in Paterson where he has been associated with the silk trade for years.

Call for Washington Pastor.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizadeth, May 4.—The congregation of the First Presbyterian church met last night, and after hearing the report of the committte appointed to select a pastor to succeed Rev. Everard E. Kempshall, who served for thirty-five years, unanimously decided to call Rev. John E. Stuchell, of the First Presbyterian church, of Washington, D. C., and until a year ago pastor of the Presbyterian church in Gilroy, Cal.

Rev. Mr. Groves May Not Return.

Rev. James E. Groves, pastor of Mt. Zion A. M. E. church, goes to Orange Tuesday to attend the annual conference of his church. Mr. Groves has now been pastor of Mt. Zion church for four years, and does not know whether he will come back or not. The limit for Methodist preachers is five years in the colored churches as well as in the white.

Death of Miss Wilcox.

Word has been received of the death of Miss Carrie Irene Wilcox, of Elizabeth, who died yesterday after an illness of over two years. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late residence, corner of Morris avenue and Cherry street. Miss Wilcox has many friends here.

Fanwood Treasurer Elected.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Fanwood May 4 — An important meeting of the Fanwood Borough Council was held last evening. Chas. Sheelen was elected treasurer and collector. The street committee was authorized to purchase a street sprinkler for use in the borough.

The Lehigh is Grateful.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company has sent Drs. Zeglio, Buchanan and Fritts each a substantial check for their professional services at the time of the collision at West Dunellen on January 9th.

Flag for New Borough School.

A handsome American flag now floats from the flag pole in front of the Watchung School in the borough. It was a gift of Henry A. McGee, a member of the Board of Education, and it is a beauty.

Pipes on the Ground.

The pipes for the Park avenue storm sewer have arrived and are being distributed where they will be needed. The work of laying them will be started very soon.

—Mrs. L. Adams, of 114 East Front street, has just placed on sale a new line of trimmed and untrimmed hats at very low prices.

Charles DeGraw, of the firm of Putnam & DeGraw, is reported as being improved from his recent severe illness.

DR. RIGGS TO TALK TO BOROUGH GRADUATES

Details for the Commencement Exercises June 22d.

THIRTEEN IN THE CLASS.

POSSIBLE THAT FOUR OF THAT NUMBER MAY NOT GRADUATE.

Miss Rita Pond Will be Valedictorian and Arthur Smith Salutatorian—Young Men Form the Majority of the Graduates—Musical Programme Will be in Charge of Professor Charles L. Lewis.

Arrangements are now being completed for the graduation exercises of the Borough Public High school which will take place in the Y. M. C. A. Hall Thursday evening, June 22d. The prospects are that they will be the most interesting ever held. There are thirteen members in the graduating class this year, but there is some doubt as to whether four of them will be graduated. Illness and other causes places this matter in doubt at present. The other scholars who are sure to graduate are Miss Rita Pond, Miss Grace Codwise, Miss Emma Line, Miss Lulu Jacot, Miss Grace Emmons and Douglas Drake, Fred Overton, Arthur Smith and Charles Bryan.

The honors will fall to Miss Rita Pond, who will give the valedictory, and to Arthur Smith, the salutatorian. The friends of these scholars are congratulating them on their meritorious achievements.

It will be noticed that the young men exceed in numbers those previously graduated. Last year there was only one young man. The work accomplished by the class during the year is of the highest order.

The address to be delivered at the graduation exercises will be given by Prof. James F. Riggs, D. D., of Orange, and the committee in charge is to be congratulated upon securing so able a person to take this part.

The music for the occasion is left entirely in the hands of Chas. S. Lewis, instructor of music at the school, and Miss Laura Sydenham, one of the teachers.

Regarding the prize honors there is still some doubt, and not until the end of the term will these be announced. There has been much hard work for these prizes and the contests promise to be very close. Announcement of the winners will be made on the evening of graduation.

MISS NEWMAN IS MISSING.

Her Mother Believes She Joined a Traveling Show—The Police Notified.

Miss Kate Newman, the twenty-year-old daughter of Michael Newman, of 536 West Third street, disappeared mysteriously Saturday night and nothing has since been heard of her. She went down town that evening after announcing her decision to attend the tent performance of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." She said nothing about leaving home.

Since then her parents have seen nothing of her. Her mother became alarmed at her continued absence and notified the police today. She believes that the young woman joined the troupe, and the mother went to Elizabeth this afternoon, where the company is now playing, to see if she could find her.

SCHOOL OF METHODS.

Important Work in Connection With the W. C. T. U

The School of Methods of Union County, under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, will be held in St. James M. E. church, Elizabeth, next week Tuesday, May 9th. There will be morning, afternoon and evening sessons. In the morning Mrs. J. H. French, of this city, will lead the devotions, and Mrs. E. A. Parse, of the borough, will respond to the greetings by Mrs. Baker, of Elizabeth. In the evening there will be an address on "Temperance Sunshine," by Miss Anna M. Ramsey, of this city.

The Plainfield persons who attend the meeting will leave this city on the 8:48 o'clock train Tuesday morning.

Dr. Bliss to Talk at Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Dr. John C. Bliss, a former pastor of the Crescent Avenue church, will address the Y. M. C. A. rally Sunday afternoon. The colored jubilee singers will be present, and will do most of the singing.

To Debate Capital Punishment.

The Y. M. C. A. Literary Society will debate upon capital punisement Monday night, at their next meeting. The question to be decided is whether it ought to be abolished or not.

To Be Depended Upon

Because it is the Experience of a Plainfield Citizen, and Can Readily Be Investigated.

Suppose you were an utter stranger in a large city and had completely lost your way, whose guidance could you place the most confidence in, a stranger's lost like yourself, or a resident's, born and bred in the city? When a ship reaches the offing of a strange port, whose hand directs the tiller and brings her safe to her moorings, a trusty pilot's or a greenhorn's? Whose opinions, experience and statements can the reader depend upon the more, those published by bona fide Plainfield citizens, or those originally drafted in every hole and corner of the union, except our own Plainfield and its suburbs? Read this Plainfield case. Mr. Jos. Van-Arsdale, Carpenter and Contractor, living at 213 Spooner Ave., says: "For several years I suffered from severe pain in my back, hips and loins, so bad at times that it was almost impossible for me to get around and attend to my work. Any stooping or heavy lifting aggravated it, and if I contracted the least cold it always settled in my back, and at such times my suffering was something intense. When Doan's Kidney Pills came to my notice I was in pretty bad shape and procuring them from L. W. Randolph's drug store, I took a few doses when I found they were helping me, and on completing the treatment I was quite free from pain. I always keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand so as to have a sure remedy close by if the trouble should ever return. I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for aching and lameness in the back and consider them an honest kidney medicine and possessing all merits claimed for them."

FIGHT SEEMS IMMINENT.

The Arrival of U. S. Troops at Wardner Idaho Not Attended by Any Casualties.

MINERS NOT IN SIGHT.

Retired to Strongholds in the Hills and Are Ready For Battle at Any Moment.

General Merriam Makes Threats to Arrest the Leaders at Any Hazard and Such Action Will in All Probability Precipitate Bloodshed—Miners Will Resist to the Last.

Wardner, Idaho, May 4.—Three companies of the Twenty-fourth Infantry (colored) have already arrived here, and it is expected that the greater portion of the regiment will be here.

The hills around about are filled with armed union men, who are watching every movement of the troops.

A clash is expected at any moment, as the miners are determined and thoroughly enraged over the arrival of the soldiers.

State Auditor Sinclair, the Governor's representative on the ground, is keeping as near the troops as possible. Some of the more hot-headed miners have threatened to lynch him, and he fears they may carry out their threat.

Sinclair has had more trouble with Sheriff Young, who is a union sympathizer.

A force of Bunker Hill and Sullivan employers were armed by the company and placed on guard at the Last Chance mill, which is believed to be the next point of attack. Young sent fifty of his deputies, all strikers, to the mill and disarmed the company's men, who believe they would have been killed had the slightest resistance been offered. They were told there was a force of union men in the brush back of the mill ready to fire on them at a given signal.

Sinclair has made a formal demand on Sheriff Young for the rifles. He also urges the Governor to promptly remove Young from office.

Boise, Idaho, May 4.—General Merriam, commanding the Department of Colorado left here for the scene of the trouble in the Coeur d'Alene mining district, where he will assume charge With him was United States Marshal Ramsey, who takes with him a writ of injunction issued by Judge Berry of the United States Court, similar to that issued at the time of the riot in 1892. It is to be served upon the officers and leaders of the Miners' Union if possible.

General Merriam was very reticent as to his plans but very vigorous in his denunciation of the outrages. He said he would co-operate to the fullest extent with the State administration to preserve order and bring the guilty parties to justice, intimating that he would not stop to inquire into any legal questions that might arise as to the Governor's action.

"We are not here to quibble over the trifles in such an emergency," he added. Asked as to how many troops he was going to send in, he declined to answer saying that information was "just what those murderers in the North wanted to know." He added: "After I have placed a hundred or so of them under arrest I will tell you what my plans are."

It is the proposed attempt to arrest the strikers that is expected to precipitate trouble.

A letter has been received here from the Coeur d'Alene written by a sympathizer with the union men, in which the following language is used: "The people of the State generally do not understand the situation here, or they would withhold their judgment. It is better that we, the workingmen and those who depend upon their support and their trade, should be starved to death and trampled under the heels of the grinding Bunker Hill and Sullivan and other companies, or that we should take things into our own hands in the absence of any protection of the law? Shall we be destroyed or shall the property of a wealthy corporation be reduced to ashes as an indication of the wrath of a long-suffering people?

"We can secure no help from others against the infamous conduct of the wealthy corporations, so we must help ourselves and keep bread and butter in the mouths of our children, who might starve to death before the very eyes of the mining corporations without a shadow of sympathy. We have mapped out our course. The Bunker Hill and Sullivan or any other company like it cannot longer operate here under past arrangements. Troops can be sent in, but we will wear them out, and if they attempt to arrest any of us under the Government by injunction arrangement of the mining companies our creeks will run red with the blood of blue-coats. We would all regret to be forced into such a position, but we cannot permit ourselves to be ironed and packed by the United States for the worst, and propose to have the best of it."

Quiet at Wardner.

Wardner, Idaho, May 4.—The presence of soldiers has eased the situation remarkably.

Gen. Merriam's Message.

Washington, May 4.—The War Department did not anticipate serious difficulties at Wardner after the troops on the way should arrive. Gen. Merriam has sent the following dispatch to Adjutant-General Corbin:

"Adjutant-General, Washington:

"Arrived this morning. Conference with Governor discloses usual difficulties of dealing with riots and conspiracies. Some hope of identifying offenders through Coroner's inquest. One union man dead and one non-union man mortally wounded. Destruction of mining property reported very great.

"Troops from Boise, Vancouver, Walla Walla and Spokane moving for Wardner to-day. Troops from Harrison, Assiniboine, Russell and Douglas ordered to-day to Mullan. Will go to Wardner to-night myself. Number of non-union miners in district about fifteen hundred; number armed and acting in riots about one hundred.

"Merriam, Brigadier-General."

THE LATEST NEWS.

FEAR OF STORM COST HER LIFE.

New York, May 4.—Mrs. Schuyler Hamilton, Jr., granddaughter of Governor Mercer of Maryland and daughter-in-law of General Schuyler Hamilton, died in her home, in the Florence apartment house, at Fourth avenue and Eighteenth street, from an overdose of morphine. She had become addicted to the morphine habit after an operation in Paris some years ago, when the drug was given to her to allay pain.

A thunder storm invariably threw her into great agitation, and she would shut herself in a dark closet and emerge when the storm ended, trembling and on the verge of collapse.

On last Tuesday night, when the lightning began to flash, she ran to a dark closet and shut herself in. Her husband, who was in another room, brought her out when the storm was ended, and tried to soothe her. She had fallen into a slumber before he left her, but yesterday morning when he went to wake her at 8 o'clock, Mrs. Hamilton was unconscious. She had risen in the night and swallowed, no one knows how many, of the morphine pills. Two physicians worked over her for five hours, but to no avail. She died at 1:30.

THE UTE INDIAN RESERVATION OPENING.

Durango, Col., May 3.—The Ute Indian reservation will be thrown open to settlement to-day. The first man took his place before the land office door here at 6.30 a. m., Tuesday, and began his long wait. He is Philip F. Voght, of Blanco, Costello County. News of Voght's initiative spread quickly over the city during the morning and at noon the line began to lengthen at a rapid rate. By nightfall it had extended down the stairway into the street, the last man being compelled to stand in the wind and snow, which has been playing fitfully upon the thoroughfares all day. Two young women, Misses Emma and Adela Stollsteimer, neither of whom is over 20 years ,occupy the third and fourth places in the line. Those in line have agreed to take turns at eating and sleeping.

JUDGE ALLEN CLASHES WITH THE ARMY.

Chadron, Neb. May 4.—Judge William V. Allen, former United States Senator from Nebraska, has ordered First Lieutenant and Adjutant G. Langhorne of the First United States cavalry, stationed at Fort Robinson, to appear before the District Court here on May 30 to answer to he charge of contempt of court.

The question is one of the jurisdiction of the civil or military authorities, and arises from the arrest by the Dawes County Sheriff of two United States troopers on a charge of housebreaking.

Lieutenant Langhorne, who had ordered the men arrested for desertion, claimed the civil authorities had overstepped their authority, but Judge Allen holds otherwise.

NEGROES STEAL THE ELKS' RITUAL

Cincinnati, May 4.—Last October a lodge of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks was organized here by negroes with the same ritual as used by the white Elks. Arthur Riggs, a Pullman porter, who became general organizer, was suspected of having secured the ritual, and lost his place with the Pullmans. He devoted himself to organizing the colored Elks. There was a row among the colored Elks, and some of their number gave the secret away. The janitor of the Cincinnati lodge let some colored men into the Elk hall here last summer, when a copy of the ritual was stolen, and many copies were printed for the use of the negroes.

3 SCHOONERS STRANDED ON CAPE COD.

Highland Light, Mass., May 4.—As the result of foggy weather and a brisk northeasterly gale, three schooners lay stranded on Cape Card. Their crews escaped.

The large three-masted schooner Alice B. Phillips of New Haven went ashore near Race Point. The schooner Robert Byron is on the beach at Crow Hill, just west of Race Point life-saving station. Both schooners are well up on the shore.

The three-masted schooner Helena, from a Maine port for the South, with a cargo of fish scraps, struck on Peaked Hill bars. She was in a bad position, as the force of the gale and sea was increasing.

120 OF KITCHENER'S MEN KILLED.

Cairo, Egypt, May 4.—Ibraham Ali, whom General Lord Kitchener sent upon a mission to Ibraham's uncle, the Sultan of Darfur, has returned to Cairo. Ibraham Ali found upon reaching Darfur that his uncle had been dethroned by Ali Dinar. Ali Dinar., on the appearance of Ibraham Ali, turned out with his troops and routed the escort of General Lord Kitchener's envoy, numbering 150, of whom 120 were killed.

STATEMENT BY EQUITABLE

Views Given by Vice-President Alexander of the Decision on Surplus.

THERE IS NOTHING FINAL

He Explains That Greef Has as Yet Old-Secured Permission to Sue the Company.

Real Question of How the Surplus Shall Be Divided Not Yet Touched—Surplus Divided Into Two Parts—One Held For Benefit of Deferred Dividend Policy Holders.

New York, May 4.—James W. Alexander, Vice-President of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, made a public statement regarding the decision against the company which was rendered by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn in the suit of Emil Greef to recover $7,087 as his additional share of the surplus fund.

The decision allows Emil Greeff, a dry goods commission merchant, to bring an action against the Equitable Life Assurance Society to recover $7,087 as his additional share of surplus on a fifteen-year endowment policy for $20,000, which matured in May, 1897, on which he paid a premium of $1,457 a year, and on which at maturity he received besides the face, $3,932 as his share of surplus. Greeff asserted that this was not his full share of surplus, and brought action to recover what he considerd as due. The society interposed a demurrer to the effect that Greeff had not set up a good cause of action. This demurrer was sustained by Judge Daly, but overruled, the Appellate Court holding that a good cause of action had been presented. The society is permitted to serve an answer to the suit.

Mr. Alexander's statement of the case was as follows:

"The bald statement of the recent decision in the Appellate Court is the cause of Green against the Equitable Life is calculated to give the affair an air of greater importance than it deserves. For example there is no question about the entire surplus of the Equitable and other mutual companies belonging to the policy holders. The only question is how it shall be divided, and when.

"Neither is there any question about the immediate division of the entire surplus of the society—the question arises in regard to a marginal surplus of $56,000,000, or thereabouts, very properly carried over from year to year as a guarantee against fluctuations in values. The plaintiff in this action believes he is entitled to receive a part of this in addition to his share of surplus which he has received. By reason of the forms of legal proceeding an inquiry into what he would be entitled to would come up on a trial of the action In order to brush away certain legal questions the society's counsel preferred to demur to the complaint, which, in common parlance, is as much as to say: 'Even admitting the facts alleged, the plaintiff has no standing in court.' Judge Daly in the court below, held, in a learned opinion, that the discretion of the officers could not be invaded.

"The Appellate Court is divided in its opinion, but the majority hold that the matter is a fair subject for inquiry. The surplus of the society is divided into two parts, one, and by far the larger part, being held under contract for the deferred dividend policy holders. The holders of these policies receive their full share of surplus profit as determined by the actuaries of the society as soon as they become entitled to it. The other and smaller part is divisible from year to year according to the existing state of affairs among the annual dividend policy holders.

"Mr. Greeff was one of these annual dividend policy holders, and if his view of the case prevailed his share would be not he $7,000 claimed, but a very small sum. An application is to be made at once to have the case certified to the Court of Appeals, and even upon an adverse decision there the question would come up on trial with the new light of facts which in the opinion of our counsel would dispose of the whole thing satisfactorily. It must be remembered that in arguing legal points on a demurrer, the appearance is necessarily and perhaps unfortunately, that of an acceptance of the statement of facts made by a plaintiff which might be entirely changed and modified, and would be in the present case on going into that side of the subject."

There did not seem to be much fear in insurance circles that the $57,000,000 of surplus with which the company is credited at present will be dissipated immediately as a result of the decision. In fact, it is said, if the decision is not upset in the Court of Appeals, litigation will follow which will last a lifetime.

"This question," said C. W. Anderson, a general agent in this city, "has been settled time and again in various ways. So far as I am able to understand the decision of the Brooklyn court it means that he plaintiff is entitled to an accounting from the company. I may be wrong, but it seems to me that the decision is directly opposed by the decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, Third Circuit, in the case of Everson against the Equitable. The plaintiff had brought action to compel the company to exhibit its books and make an accounting. It was held by the court that a policy holder who is dissatisfied with the amount of the surplus apportioned to him by the company under the terms of his policy cannot maintain a bill for accounting and discovery where there are no sufficient allegations of fraud.

"As I understand the present case, the plaintiff Greeff in his original action really asked for an accounting, and in the decision I have just quoted and in may other decisions the courts have held that the policy holder in a stock insurance company cannot get such an accounting, that he has no legal standing in court. The whole trouble that the Equitable has had with Germany and Russia is that the Russian and German authorities insist on the right to examine the society's books as a condition of the society's doing business in those countries."

He was a retired shipbuilder—and hails from Staten Island, New York. He was in pretty good health, but every day when he took what he called his constitutional, that is, his afternoon walk, he was sure to have a sort of cramp which seized him in the calf of his leg with almost the severity of an assault by a ferocious dog. He read about the case of a man whose rheumatism was cured by Ripans Tabules and laughed at the idea. He thought the man a fool, but realizing that his own difficulty was a sort of rheumatic twinge, he finally bought and used some Tabules and of late his friends have noticed that he is more chipper than he had been for years. A lady who knew him well asked him about the dog that used to bite his leg in the afternoons and the old man said: "He is dead and Ripans Tabules killed him."

A new style packet containing TEN RIPANS TABULES in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FOR FIVE CENTS. This new cheap form is intended for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (120 tabules) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York—or a single carton (TEN TABULES) will be sent for five cents.

THREE NEW TRUSTS.

Capital of All $140,000,000—Standard Oil Makes a Combination With the Copper Pool.

Jersey City, May 4.—Three corporations, the combined capital of which foot up to $140,000,000, filed incorporation papers in the County Clerk's office at Jersey City at noon to-day. The biggest was the American Hide & Leather Company, with a capital of $70,000,000, which is divided into $100 shares.

The incorporators were Robert S. Green, of Elizabeth; Frederick P. Voorhees, of No. 330 West Twenty-third street, Manhattan, and Edward M. F. Miller, of No. 40 Wall street, Manhattan. The principal office will be at No. 60 Grand street, Jersey City. The second largest corporation was the Republic Steel and Iron Company, whose capital is $55,000,000.

The incorporators were Thomas Mills Day, Jr., Hamilton H. Durand, Edwin C. Holter, John J. Treacey, the addresses of all being given as Jersey City.

The company has a very wide charter and can produce and deal in iron and steel, mine ores, construct and purchase pipe lines and operate the same, so that water, gas and electricity may be utilized. Furthermore, the company can build railroads and operate canals.

The third incorporation was that of the National Light and Power Company, with a capital of $15,000,000. The incorporators were Carl Roswell Miner, Frederick L. Austin and Frank V. Robbins, of Jersey City.

The American Hide and Leather Company and the Republic Steel and Iron Company are said to have a majority of the stockholders of the Standard Oil Company and the big copper mine owners in the West in both. They incorporated the big Amalgamated Copper Company a few days ago.

TO STOP LYNCHINGS.

Bill to Be Introduced at Next Session of Georgia's Legislature.

Atlanta, Ga., May 4.—Representative Morris will introduce a bill relative to lynching at the next session of the Legislature. Mr. Morris's bill provides for the trial of the accused within five days after his arrest and, upon conviction, the measure provides for a public hanging five days after. A unique provision of the act is that the testimony of the assailant's victim may be taken in private by a special commissioner in the presence of the accused while the trial is in progress.

A Protest From Boston.

Boston, May 4.—The members of the historic Twelfth Baptist Church (colored) of this city, in which the battle over the Fugitive Slave law was largely fought, and where hundreds of fugitives were sheltered while on their way to freedom, prompted by the recent lynchings in Georgia, have adopted resolutions protesting against the "atrocities that put to shame the damning deeds of bloodthirsty Spain in the worst time of the inquisition."

A copy of the resolutions has been sent to President McKinley.

PLOWS.

Chicago, May 4.—Representatives of a number of large plow manufacturing concerns are here to discuss a combination of all the makers of agricultural implements in the country. According to rumor, the makers of threshing machines will follow the plow manufacturers in the work of consolidation. These two consolidations once completed, the general scheme includes like action among the makers of harvesters and other agricultural implements.

FRUIT.

San Francisco, May 4.—The California Packers' Association has been incorporated with a capital stock of $2,500,000. It is composed of some of the large fruit packing interests in the State. It is probable that some of the concerns interested will be closed, while others will limit output to a single variety of fruit. Only three establishments remain out of the combine.

SHODDY.

Cleveland, May 4.—The latest proposed combination of capital is a woolen mill trust, to include all these mills that manufacture shoddy. There are about a dozen. Cleveland mills turn out 60 per cent. of it. There are large shoddy mills in Philadelphia and others in Connecticut, Vermont, Massachusetts and Rhode Island. S. Rawlster, proprietor of the Riverdale shoddy mills, at Riverdale, Conn., has been in the city three or four days conducting negotiations.

GLASS.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 3.—H. B. Van Cleave, formerly president of the Van Cleave Glass Company, and a number of Cleveland and Pittsburg capitalists have organized a company under the name of the Pennsylvania Window Glass Company to oppose the window glass trust. The company will construct a plant at Kane, Pa., which will be the largest window glass factory in the country outside the trust. Hiram Palmer, an extensive lumber operator of McKean County, Pennsylvania, is president of the new company.

OLD RETIRED BANKER SHOT

Alexander Masterson, 72 Years Old, Killed by James N. Plumb, of New York.

RUINED SLAYER'S HOME.

Plumb, in 15-Page Manuscript, Accuses Masterson of Having Stolen His Children.

Also Charges Banker With Attempting to Alienate Mrs. Plumb's Affections in Order to Obtain Control of Her Property—Remained in Europe Three Years With Family to Escape Him.

New York, May 4.—A quarrel over domestic affairs between two white-haired men in a room of the Burlington Hotel, at No. 10 West Thirtieth street, resulted in the murder of one of them.

The murdered man, Alexander Masterson, who was seventy-two years old and lived in Bronxville, was shot four times by his friend, James N. Plumb, of West Thirty-eighth street. Plumb is a man of fifty-five years. The murdered man was a retired banker.

Masterson was occupying a room in the Burlington, and Plumb visited him in his room.

The two men had been together in the room for more than an hour when the sound of a shot was heard in room No. 86. It was closely followed by other reports.

The hotel attendants rushed to the room and were astonished to find Masterson in a badly wounded condition. Altogether five shots were fired.

Immediately succeeding the reports of the pistol shots, Plumb dashed out of the room and ran to the elevator and attempted to board it.

The elevator man refused him admittance, and the man, beside himself with fear or anger, ran down the stairs.

So fast did he descend that he reached the ground floor in advance of the elevator, but the elevator boy called to a boy at the front door and the door was closed in time to make Plumb a prisoner. By this time a messenger had been dispatched for a policeman, and within a few moments Plumb was placed under arrest.

When he reached the West Thirteenth street police station Plumb was talking loudly and gesticulating.

"This man had ruined my home," he said. "He has stolen my children. The whole trouble was caused by this man ruining my family."

When he grew more calm Plumb refused to answer any questions whatever concerning the cause of the trouble between himself and Masterson.

Plumb also said: "If you will open this satchel you will find a document in there which will explain itself.'

Captain Price opened the satchel Plumb handed over the desk and found a voluminous typewritten document. It was entitled "Why I, Neal Plumb, Shot Alexander Masterson."

The document, fifteen pages long, set forth the family affairs of Plumb for thirty-seven years, during which time Masterson, according to the story, had attempted to alienate the affections of Mrs. Plumb, to obtain control of her property.

The paper stated that on one occasion, in 1876, to escape the machinations of Masterson, Plumb had taken his wife and children to Europe, and had remained abroad for three years.

On Plumb's return to this city, the document declared, Masterson, his life-long enemy, again put in his appearance, and Plumb caused his lawyer, W. H. Thompson, to write Masterson a warning against further annoying him.

"Captain," said Plumb, "you have known me for years. I am a temperate and sober man, but this Masterson has taxed my endurance beyond all measure. I have thought this matter over, and there was no course left open to me but to get him out of my way finally and forever."

When taken before Magistrate Deuel Plumb was remanded to the custody of the Coroner. At the police court Plumb stated that he had not seen Masterson before for ten years.

Mr. Atkinson's Case.

A prominent man close to the President said: "The case of Mr. Atkinson puzzles the President and his Cabinet. Experience has shown that treason or sedition is difficult to prove, and that conviction is likely to make a martyr of the offender and involve a whole class of citizens in the constructive "treason" of espousing his cause. The easiest way often is to ignore."

But the opinion is expressed by some that if treason actually exists, it is not optional with the officers of the Government, sworn to enforce the law, to ignore the fact, and practically pardon or condone the offense, without indictment or trial or any attempt to bring the offender to justice.

Senator Chandler on Treason.

Washington, May 4.—Senator Chandler, of New Hampshire, speaking of the order prohibiting the sending of literature of the Anti-Imperialist League to the Philippines, said that, in his opinion, the sending of such literature was undoubtedly treasonable.

"But I think it would be very foolish to prosecute Atkinson and his associates," said he. "The literature might have created dissension among our troops in the Philippines. That is all we cared about; but with the prospect of peace we do not care much about that now."

Italian Cabinet Quits.

Rome, May 4.—The Italian Ministry has resigned. It was constituted June 29, 1898, as follows:

President of the Council and Minister of the Interior—Gen. Luigi Pelloux. Foreign Affairs—Admiral Felice Napoleone Canevaro. Treasury—Pietro Vacchelli. Finance—Paolo Carcano. Justice and Ecclesiastical Affairs—Camillo Finocchiaro Aprile. War—Gen. Alessandro Asinari di San Marzano. Marine—Admiral Giuseppe Palumbo. Commerce, Industry and Agriculture—Alessandro Fortis. ## MAY BE SNUBBED.

Predicted That Mr. and Mrs. Belmont Will Not Be Entertained by Lexington Society.

Lexington, Ky., May 3.—Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont, who arrived in this city last night in their private car, are likely to suffer pointed snubs at the hands of society, as Mrs. Hal P. Headley, the recognized leader of the foremost social set, refuses to entertain them.

The news that the Belmonts intended coming here has aroused no end of criticism and comment, and the couple recently married in Connecticut four hours after Mrs. Belmont had been divorced from her husband, Henry T. Sloane, are, to all appearances, to be given a cold shoulder.

Their object in coming to Lexington is to look over Mr. Belmont's thoroughbred race horses which are quartered at Hal P. Headley's Beaumont farm.

Mrs. Headley, who has so peremptorily declined to entertain the Belmonts, was formerly Miss Annie Lee Bryan. She is the head and spirit of Lexington society, and, in all likelihood, the other prominent women of the city will follow in her lead and subject the Belmonts to poignant mortification.

FIFTY CENT GAS

The Amsterdam Gas Light Co. of New York Cuts Price of Gas to 50 cents per Thousand.

New York, May 4.—Fifty-cent gas, is an assured fact. The directors of the Amsterdam Gas Light Company after a secret meeting in the Equitable building announced that their company had cut the rate from $1.20 to 50 cents per thousand.

The Standard Gas Company through Russell Sage announces that it will meet any reduction in price made by any other company, so it will also have to come down to 50 cents.

The Consolidated and Mutual Gas Light companies, which were the first to reduce the price, must also go to 50 cents or lower, or belie every statement made by their officers.

In response to a note General Jordan president of the New Amsterdam Company, sent word to the newspaper men.

"We decided to cut gas down to 50 cents.

"We will make no overtures to any other company; neither do we expect to receive any overtures from any other company."

"Will you cut below 50 cents?"

"I don't know; it's time for others to cut now. That is all I can say now."

SOME BILLS SIGNED

Albany, May 4.—Gov. Roosevelt signed the bill of Assemblyman Fallows exempting from taxation the property of the Salvation Army in this State.

He also signed the bill appropriating $20,000 for the payment of the expenses of Austin G. Fox and Wallace MacFarlan, of New York City, the special counsel who are examining the testimony taken before the Canal Investigation Commission.

Another bill signed by the Governor continues in existence the commission which is investigating the decline in the commerce in the port of New York and appropriating $15,000 for that purpose.

Report From Dewey.

Washington, May 4.—Admiral Dewey cabled the Navy Department as follows:

"Following from Yorktown are prisoners insurgent headquarters at San Isidro: Lieut. Gillmore, Chief Quartermaster William Walton, Sailmaker's Mate Paul Vandoit, Coxswain John Ellsworth; apprentice, third class, Albert Peterson, Landsman Fred Anderson. Provisions have been sent them by Otis. Am continuing inquiries as to fate of other seven.

"DEWEY."

Fire at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, May 4.—A fire destroyed Charles Bacharach's clothing store at Thirteenth street and Ridge avenue, and before the flames were subdued about fifteen other buildings, principally small dwellings in the vicinity were badly damaged. The entire loss is estimated at $150,000, covered by insurance. The store burned like paper and some of the employees escaped with difficulty. It was a shell-like frame and brick structure and not one of the walls was left standing.

$20,000,000 Gold Yield.

Seattle, May 4.—The estimates of the gold yield of the Klondike are that it was nearly twenty millions this season, distributed among the various creeks, including branches, as follows: El Dorado, $5,500,000; Bonanza, $5,000,000; Hunker, $3,000,000; Dominion, $3,500,000; Gold Run, $300,000; Sulphur, $500,000; Quartz, $250,000; Eureka, $250,000; all other creeks, including Stewarts, over $1,000,000.

Depew For Quay.

Detroit, May 4.—Senator-elect Depew when asked as to what the Senate was likely to do with Senator Quay, replied that it was hard to say.

"If I feel when I take my seat as I do now," said Mr. Depew, "I shall vote first for a rule governing the case, applicable to Republicans and Democrats alike, and then vote to seat Quay."

Peace Delegates Sail.

New York, May 4.—Captain Alfred T. Mahon, U. S. N., and President Seth Low, of Columbia University, delegates to the Universal Disarmament Congress at The Hague, sailed for Southampton on the American liner St. Louis.

With them was F. W. Holls, of Chicago, who will act as secretary to the American delegates.

Raleigh Goes South.

Philadelphia, May 4.—The cruiser Raleigh has sailed for Wilmington, N. C. Captain Coghlan will not be detached until the ship goes out of commission at Portsmouth, N. H.

Gen. Anderson Assigned.

Washington, May 4.—Brig.-General Thomas M. Anderson, who has returned recently from the Philippines, has been assigned to command of the Department of the Lakes.

Mr. Barrows' Views.

In the Real Estate News of this week Councilman Barrows, of the Third ward, addresses a letter to Silas D. Drake over the event of the latter identifying himself with Plainfield interests. Inasmuch as Mr. Barrows is the recognized head of the Republican majority in the Common Council, and wields not a little influence in city affairs, we take pleasure in presenting his communication in full as follows:

I have noticed with pleasure your advent in our fair city, and some newspaper gossip on same. I trust that you may realize how much the true citizen of Plainfield yearns for just such hustlers as yourself, to let the outside world know that, as a city of homes, Plainfield cannot be equalled anywhere within the suburbs of New York.

No place has finer water, police, or fire protection, and this year will see the sewer and street system brought up to the highest point. Schools, both public and private, stand at the head, and crime and disorder are unknown.

If the "Board of Trade" would stop buying gold bricks concealed in silk mill plants, encourage instead of complaining about the commuter in city affairs, and realize those improvements which bear heavily now, will reap future benefits, they would see results.

If the local papers would fill New York papers with items of importance relative to the improvements and advancement of the city, instead of magnifying petty quarrels and gossip, they would attract new residents, which are the one thing necessary for the growth of any suburb.

Trusting that your efforts will meet with success, I am

Very truly yours,
Elliot T. Barrows,
Councilman 3d Ward.

New York, April 25, 1899.

What Mr. Barrows says of the natural advantages of the city is strictly true. His observations upon the silk mill venture are those induced by the sequence of events, and his solicitation for the commuter is very natural inasmuch as he is of that class himself. His optomistic view of "improvements that bear heavily now" depends entirely upon the size of respective tax bills as tending to induce others to share the same opinion.

The final comment in Mr. Barrows' letter about the local papers is entirely untrue in the inference it carries. It has been one of the ills of local newspaperdom for sometime that Mr. Barrows has been in a critical frame of mind over the ways of newspapers, his ideals being in strange contrast to what practical, everyday experience has taught is the successful and satisfactory way of conducting a newspaper. The local papers in Plainfield have no more to do with the items that appear in New York papers concerning this city that the Councilman himself does. Whatever the local newspaper workers do for the New York journals is dictated solely by what those papers want in the line of news, and this latter policy is shaped entirely by the tastes of the people who buy those papers. Inasmuch as the papers that Mr. Barrows would put the ban on have the most extensive circulation in Plainfield of any of the New York papers, we suggest that the Third ward councilman commence his good work by reforming the literary inclinations of a large number of his townsmen.

It is a matter of fact, recognized throughout New Jersey newspaper circles, that there are no papers in the State that devote the time and space to booming their home city like the papers of Plainfield do, notwithstanding the expert opinion that the Third ward selon has advanced.

While speaking of the need of getting the good name of Plainfield before the world, Mr. Barrows' letter shows a marked inconsistency in its finish. He dates it New York. We have noticed that this is a frequent practice of Mr. Barrows when signing himself "Councilman of Third Ward." It scarcely befits the sentiments expressed by him in his letter to Mr. Drake.

THOMAS B. REED AND HIS LAW PARTNERS.

After a vacation of several weeks in Europe Thomas B. Reed, whose retirement from congress was recently announced, will begin the practice of law in New York City. The ex-speaker's partners constitute the present law firm of Simpson, Thacher & Barnum. It is said that Mr. Reed has been guaranteed an income of $50,000 per year.

President McKinley has appointed Herbert W. Bowen, of New York, minister to Persia. Mr. Bowen is a brother of Henry C. Bowen, of Plainfield, and is well known here, where he has visited many times. Mr. Bowen was Consul General at Barcelona before the Spanish war broke out. President Harrison appointed him as Consul to Barcelona in 1890. The consulate was raised to the rank of a consulate general in 1894, and President Cleveland appointed Mr. Bowen to the new office. He was continued there by President McKinley. Just before the outbreak of hostilities with Spain a large mob attempted to remove the American eagle and shield from the consulate building, but Mr. Bowen, who is an athlete and more than six feet tall, with his back to the wall and his face to the foe, succeeded in keeping the crowd at bay until the police arrived.

The communication of M. E Dwight printed in The Daily Press a few days ago, in which he advocated a more central and conspicuous location of the Muhlenberg Hospital when the proposed improvements are made, is a suggestion that meets with our approval, as well as a very large number of Plainfielders. Mr. Dwight made several strong points in favor of the proposition, and doubtless before the contemplated improvements are made to the institution the matter of changing its location will be seriously considered.

Out in Kansas City three month ago a churchgoer wrote to a newspaper that he would pay no more pew rent at his house of worship unless some guarantee should be given him that his view of the minister should be unobstructed. Out of this missive grew an anti-hat campaign, with the result that on Sunday last the feminine members of the church capitulated and removed their new spring headgear at the opening of the service. Such is the power of the press.

When you see a young man weighing 127 pounds trying to teach a woman weighing 177 pounds to ride a bicycle you can immediately conclude that he is either doing it for pay or love. Such an undertaking is not commenced in the spirit of doing it for sake of being simply agreeable and accommodating.

The sum of $140,000,000 was the aggregate amount of capital of companies organized under the protecting wing of New Jersey yesterday. What a lot of ficticious capital New Jersey is getting.

To advertise sparingly and at intervals is not the policy that make merchant princes. Keeping everlastingly at it is what brings success.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

The Delaware, Lackawana and Western Railroad Company, under its next management, will be a temperance society on a large scale. An order has been issued prohibiting the use of tobacco in any form by employes while on duty, and the drinking of intoxicants at any time. Superintendent Russell explains that he has two reasons for forbidding drinking. The first is that the service demands sober men; the second that the employes cannot afford to spend their money for drink. Few roads have gone to the extreme length of absolutely prohibiting their employes from the use of liquor when off duty, but it is doubtful if there is a railway company in the country which does not discourage drinking, and upon which a saloon frequenter can long hold a position. In fact the railway companies have become active and powerful agents for the promotion of temperance. Their service demands the employment of men with steady nerves, cool heads and clear brains. It is not always enough to secure these that men shall refrain from drinking while on duty.—Newark News.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

Nailed to the side of a suburban railway station not fifteen miles from New York is the following ludicrous notice: "Passengers desiring to take train will please show yourself so that the engineer can see them in ample time to stop train."

Mr. Stelle, father-in-law of A. D. Thompson, of this city, who recently celebrated the fifty-seventh anniversary of his marriage, has had a remarkable experience. Mr. Stelle is one of the oldest and best known residents of Long Hill in the Passaic Valley, and the room in which he was born seventy-nine years ago, he has occupied continuously ever since his birth and is still sleeping in the same room. There are very few people nowadays who can say as much.

Robert G. Wyckoff, of this city, is one of the crowd of gold prospectors who are now working in the Klondike in their search for the precious metal. A copy of the Yukon Sun, a weekly newspaper published at Dawson, Yukon Territory, has just been received at The Press office from Mr. Wyckoff. It is a breezy sheet and the editor thereof finds many exciting incidents to chronicle in his paper. It has a real modern appearance and shows how fast the modern civilization has pushed its ways into the Klondike country.

GRAIN-O BRINGS RELIEF

to the coffee drinker. Coffee drinking is a habit that is universally indulged in and almost as universally injurious. Have you tried Grain-O? It is almost like coffee but the effects are just the opposite. Coffee upsets the stomach, ruins the digestion effects the heart and disturbs the whole nervous system. Grain-O tones up the stomach, aids digestion and strengthens the nerves. There is nothing but nourishment in Grain-O. It can't be otherwise. 15 and 25c. per package.

Hot Weather Goods

Woodhull & Martin's.

It is our custom to anticipate the seasons and to be prepared to meet the wants of our customers. We have been selling wash goods since Jan. 1st, and a great many people have wisely bought their goods and have them made up. But we are sure there are many who have yet to buy Wash Fabrics, and we invite the attention of these people to our Wash Goods Stock. It is far larger than that of former years, more carefully selected in regard to style, washing and wearing qualities, and extraordinarily fastidious must be the women whom we fail to please with so comprehensive an assortment.

Then our Shirt Waists are worthy of your attention. We don't hesitate to affirm that we have not only the largest, but best selected stock of Waists in the state. They are non-sweat-shop made, made in the newest and most original and exclusive styles, made of reliable goods and made well.

Fashion has decreed that white Waists shall be almost universally worn this coming Summer. Your wants in this direction may be satisfied in our white Waists, for even in N. Y. we question your being able to find so attractively made, and perfect fitting garments.

LADIES' SUMMER UNDERWEAR.

We are not given to buying cheap goods, but when we can buy Ladies' Ribbed Vests to sell at 10 cents, such as we bought 3 cases (3 different styles) we feel justified in departing from our usual custom. Better grades of course up to 50c each.

DRESS GOODS.

We have added to our Dress Goods stock during the past week 2 numbers in Black Henrietta that we should like you to see. They are of German manufacture, 46 in wide, extra weight and beautifully finished. We bought them at the old Tariff prices, 25c per yd less than their present value, and that is why we want you to see them. Prices $1 00 and $1.25 per yard.

FOR THE LITTLE FOLKS.

Some remarkably dainty creations in Silk, Lawn, Lace, etc., in the way of Children's Caps, Bonnets, etc. If you are particular about having your children look a little better dressed than other peoples', then fit them out at our place Be assured of this, that what you get here is the newest, most stylish and the best.

DOWN STAIRS.

We never get tired singing the praises of our Basement. People who travel the country over tell us that it is the most attractive basement found in their travels. We go further and say that it is the best stocked room to be found anywhere. The display of Summer goods rivals that of many much larger establishments.

There's a line of Piazza Chairs second to none. Made of selected stock, smoothly finished and attractively designed. They are good enough for the wealthy—cheap enough for the poor.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 4.—Street Commissioner States has begun at once his work upon the borough property. Yesterday he spent all day trimming up the park, and by night the place would not be recognized. The trees and shrubbery will be cut and the paths will be cleaned.

The annual meeting of the Presbyterian church will be held tonight. Besides the election of two trustees, other business of importance will come up for consideration.

A. S. Coriell has resigned his position as engineer for the borough of Bound Brook, and will hereafter devote all his time to his duties as borough engineer.

The Ladies Aid society of the Presbyterian church met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Sutton, of Washington avenue.

Garretson & Gray will begin shipping crushed stone to Seawarren this week. They have a contract for 2,500 tons.

Mr. Fisher, of Prospect avenue, has sold his property to a Newark man who will move out here at once.

Mrs. R. J. Swackhamer and Mrs. Wilson Frederick spent Tuesday with relatives in Lebanon.

A. F. Warden and family have moved into the Thompson house on Prospect avenue.

Charles Smalley, of South Orange, has been visiting his mother, Mrs. L. B. Nelson.

S. C. Staples has moved into Jessie Marks house on Prospect avenue.

Mrs. Nancy Thomas is visiting her sister, Mrs. Roe, of New York.

Miss Jessie Fraley, of Newark, is visiting Mrs. Harry L. Terry.

Mrs. William E. Terry is in New York today.

NEW MARKET

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.

New Market, May 4.—Landlord Casterline, of the Nelson House, had an opening last night, and formally threw open his hotel doors to the public. Stages ran from the trolley cars in Dunellen to the hotel, conveying the guests free of charge.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 4.—Supt. Adleman, of the Plaidfield Street Railway Company, assured the Press correspondent several days ago that work was to begin on the proposed trolley extension as soon as it was possible to get the rails. It is expected that the branch will be in operation by July 1. The fare between Scotch Plains and Plainfield will be the small sum of 5 cents, or if desired the same fare will carry you to Dunellen. The branch which is being opened up through Garwood is to be part of the same road and the reason for starting there first was because of the swampy land which the company expect will settle some and it will be necessary to fill it in as fast as it does. By the time the road is completed there will be no trouble from this source.

Rev. Mr. Shott has returned from Atlanta, Ga., where he attended the National Baptist Convention which was recently held in that city.

George Evans and family, who have been residents of the village for sometime, have moved to Bayonne.

The showers of Tuesday evening have put the roads in excellent condition for wheeling once more.

Charles Frentz, the mason, is spending several weeks in Flemington where he has a large contract.

Goodwill Lodge, K. of P., will meet in their rooms this evening.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press)

Westfield, May 4—At the seventeenth annual session of the Grand Council, Royal Arcanum, held at Hackensack Monday and Tuesday, Ludwig A. Lightfoot, of Westfield, was elected Grand Regent, and C. H. Day, of this town, was appointed a member of the finance committee.

Dewey Brothers' Uncle Tom's Cabin Company arrived in town yesterday intending to give their performance under a tent, but when the canvas was unpacked it was found that they could not get the tent up. At Somerville Tuesday evening the wind tore the tent down and damaged it to such an extent that it will take several days to repair it. The company gave their show at the Westfield Club Hall, and the place was packed.

Miss Maggie Thompson and James Manning, both of Lenox, were married at the home of bride's parents last evening.

Paul Goff, of Branch Mills, was bitten by an unknown dog Monday, and it is thought that the dog was mad.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

His Life Was Saved,

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even set up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at L. W. ## Proposals for Macadamizing

Sealed proposals will be received by the Common Council at the Council Chamber, No. 109 Park avenue, in the City of Plainfield, at 8 o'clock p. m., on Monday, the fifteenth day of May, 1899, for doing the work and furnishing the materials for the macadamizing contemplated in the following ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance for macadamizing West Third Street between Madison Avenue and Monroe Avenue, excepting where already macadamized," and "An Ordinance for macadamizing West Fourth Street between New Street and Monroe Avenue," approved February 9, 1899, and as provided for in the specifications on file in the office of the Street Commissioner.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals the Common Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents thereof in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also make proper record of said prices and terms.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

Separate proposals must be submitted for each street, endorsed "Proposals for Macadamizing."

Little girl 'at lives next door
Never plays wive me,
'Cause she says 'at I don't move
In society.

She wears jes' the finest clothes—
Cost a lot, I guess—
While the bestest gown I has
Is a gingham dress.

She has the most b'u'ful hats—
My! but they is fine;
An' her shoes—I guess they cost
A dollar more than mine.

She has ponies 'at she drives
Almost ev'y day;
An' they goes so fast—oo—oo—ooh!
Takes your bref away.

She is rich, but I jes' bet
'At she envies me.
'Cause her name is Maggie Smif
An' mine is Althea Penelope d'Arcy

JEWELS OF ALUM.

How to Make Them for Charades and Amateur Theatricals.

A very pretty and amusing way of making jewelry to be used in the production of charades or in juvenile amateur theatricals is here shown. Dissolve a pound of alum in a quart of hot water and suspend in the saturated solution a crown or some other shaped form made of wire and covered with strips of flannel or wound with woolen threads. In order to obtain the very best results it is necessary to select a vessel of glass with an even, highly polished inside surface, which must remain undisturbed for twenty-four hours in a quiet place after the solution of alum has been poured in and the article to be covered with crystals has been suspended so as to hang free in the solution without touching on any side. A cool room is preferable, for the crystals covering the wire will then be larger and more brilliant.

After remaining twenty-four hours in the solution the article, now covered with crystals, can be withdrawn, and will keep indefinitely in a dry place. The addition of some chemicals will result in very fine color effects; thus the use of iron alum will bring forth very fine blue crystals, and chromo alum equally fine yellow ones. The simplest additions for coloring the crystals, while not bringing about fine results, are a few drops of ordinary blue-black writing ink or of a solution of litimus, which can easily be obtained in any drug store.

A Scientific Puzzle.

The problem is to see how many coins can be dropped into a wine glass filled quite to the brim with water without making the water overflow. Were you to be told that the glass will hold as many as twenty quarters or shillings after it is quite full of water you would all shout, "Impossible;" however, a trial will prove to you the truth of this surprising statement. Wipe the glass dry so that not a vestige of moisture clings to it either inside or out; then, with a vessel having a spout, fill it slowly and carefully with water to the exact brim. Now with steady hand very gently drop in the coins, holding them edgewise. As soon as the coin touches the water let it fall, so that as little disturbance as possible will be made. As each coin goes in the water rises a trifle above the brim until its elevation is readily perceptible to the eye. Of course, there comes a time when just one more coin will make it overflow, but you can stop just before this occurs. The scientific explanation of this interesting experiment is that the "attraction of gravity" is not so great as the "cohesive attraction" of the water—that is to say, up to a certain point. Some day this will be made clearer to you, but just now you can amuse yourself with the fact.

Forcing an Egg Into a Bottle.

Atmospheric pressure furnishes some interesting facts, some of the experiments being enough like magic to find a place in a parlor entertainment. Take an ordinary decanter and a hard-boiled egg. Take the shell off the egg. Then push a piece of paper down into the decanter and light it and let it burn. As soon as you see that the paper is nearly consumed, put the egg on the mouth of the decanter like a cork, small end down. In a few minutes the air outside presses the egg through the neck of the bottle down inside. The egg being at least twice as large as the mouth of the decanter is requires force enough to make it grow long and narrow. The vacuum inside made by the burning paper and the atmospheric pressure get the egg through and it falls to the bottom and regains its own shape. We will not discuss the question of getting the egg out again.

FORCING AN EGG INTO A DECANTER.

Reminding Him.

Helen and her father and mother were dining in a hotel, and Helen, who was six years old, had never before dined in a public place. The waiter was so attentive and courteous that Helen's mother said he must be tipped at the end of the meal. The word "tipped" was one Helen had never heard used except in connection with a dumpcart on her father's premises. When they got up to leave the dining room she said: "Oh, papa, papa! You forgot to dump the waiter!"

THE TAILOR MADE GIRL.

She Is Correct If She Wears English Made Goods.

If one wishes to be right up to date in the latest styles for the street, the English tailor model gowns are undoubtedly the best and most correct. There is a certain stiffness in all English garments, and just that quality which makes all others undesirable makes the tailor suits perfection, each after its kind.

The ugly box coat is one of the coats of this season, though very few even of the smart set care to adopt it, for nothing can make its unlovely lines graceful. A few horsey society girls wear it because it is so ugly that it attracts attention, and we must admit that there are few of the Lydia Languish style of girls in these days.

I don't know when I have seen a girl blush, except with anger, and that was not exactly the tender pink, verging on to crimson, that is the proper and acknowledged tint of a genuine blush. And girls do not hang their heads any more—not they. Their chins are held out straight, and their eyes look out ahead of them in a fearless glance.

Stay! Perhaps that aggressive manner is due to the stiff collar. It comes so high under the chin and is so stiff and unbending that I shouldn't wonder if there the secret lies. It matters little, after all, for girls are as sweet as winter strained honey whatever they wear.

Still tailor made gowns and garments are more suitable than anything for the street. And so let us see what there are in that line of gowns. English tweed is a favorite material, it is just rough and coarse enough to have a decided style of its own. There is a new color in that useful stuff, a sort of brown between Havana and tan, with black threads woven diagonally through it in broken lines. The skirt has a couple of straps, ending in front with buttons of the same color. Otherwise it is untrimmed.

The jacket has the bottom strapped and stitched. It is open in front to show a fancy white or colored vest or shirt waist, according to the season. There is a wide, rounded, flat collar and revers of pure white linen duck, and this is also edged with a strap. The gloves to be worn with such a suit should be white with black stitching, and the hat should match as closely as possible. This is an easy matter since there are straws in sailor and English walking shape in every color under the sun.

Another very stylish runabout is a black and white plaid cut in two pieces, so that the whole skirt hangs bias. There is a short jacket with the front closed by frogs and loops. There are pointed revers and a flat collar faced with the plaid set on in bias lines. It makes a very jaunty little suit particularly adapted to smallish sized girls. The hat may be of the mixed Japan straw in black and white, and it should be rather plainly trimmed, as the plaid is so "voyante."

An English tailor suit with an indefinable French twist to it was of pearl gray broadcloth. The skirt fitted around the hips like the proverbial glove and was untrimmed save for one row of half inch castle braid with alternate picot loops along the edges. The back closed with buttons and loops. The waist was in form of a blouse with a guimpe, and this was overlaid with all over point de venise in close design. It was arranged to close invisibly. The blouse had a revers collar in form of a scalloped bertha, edged by the braid. Three trefoil hussars ornamented the front.

HANDSOME TAILOR SUITS.

This peculiar shade of gray is very much liked by all Frenchwomen, so much so that it is usually spoken of as French gray. It is elegant, always in refined taste and also dressy. The less trimming put upon it the more elegant it is. White as an accessory is always beautiful and artistic. A white satin or cloth vest wrought with gold or silver soutache is beautiful with a gray gown.

Red is one of the fashionable colors and may be worn in the street as well as at home, the suitability being determined by the style of making. One shade is deep poppy red, and the other is called ox blood, though it really has more of a red brick shade to my eyes.

The aggressive red gowns are of poplin, cashmere and silk; also in a stuff not unlike loose cheviot with black figures and broken lines. Some are of veiling, and others are of the delicate soft wool barege which is so much liked just now.

There is a new fancy, perhaps it will be a short lived one and perhaps not, but it is very pretty. The dressmaker takes a bright piece of taffeta, if iridescent, so much better, and cuts a dress of it. She cuts another on exactly the same lines of fine, smooth meshed iron frame grenadine, and this is laid smoothly above the other and sewed up with it. The bottom of the skirt is trimmed with lace or perhaps very narrow ribbon quillings.

The effect of these two materials thus joined is that of a rich moire with ever shifting lights and shades, a thing to dream of, if you go to sleep in the peaceful possession of one, and to have the nightmare about, if you can't get one.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Baden.

Karlsruhe. Unter Zurücklassung seines Abschiedsgesuches von hier verschwunden ist der Münzmeister Ottmann, Vorstand der großherzoglichen Münzanstalt. Ottmann, von Haus aus Kameralist, war von einer Disziplinaruntersuchung wegen grober Dienstvernachlässigung bedroht.

Heidelberg. Der hiesige Spezereihändler Gimber begoß den Speicher des von ihm bewohnten Hauses in der Nacht des Ostersonntags mit Petroleum und entzündete es. Seine Unthat wurde noch rechtzeitig entdeckt. Der Brandstifter, der sich die Nacht hindurch herumtrieb, wurde Morgens in einer hiesigen Wirthschaft verhaftet.

Mannheim. Auf Schiff „Kiefer u. Streiber Nr. 1," das am sogenannten Hechtkopf ankerte, fiel Nachts der 20 Jahre alte Schiffsjunge Johann Flickinger über Bord und ertrank.

Triberg. In Rohrbach wurden der frühere Landtagsabgeordnete Loeffler und seine Frau von einem Unbekannten überfallen und durch Revolverschüsse schwer verwundet. Der Revolverheld wurde verhaftet und die Polizei ist damit beschäftigt, seine Personalien festzustellen.

Elsaß-Lothringen.

Gebweiler. Eine schreckliche Bluthat wurde in dem nahen Dorfe Ungersheim verübt. Der Ackerer Wauses erstach im Streite einen 39jährigen Verwandten und verletzte dessen Bruder tödtlich.

Metz. Die „Vereinigung zur Schmückung der Kriegergräber" hat beschlossen, sämmtliche um Metz befindlichen Kriegergräber mit hochstämmigen Rosen zu bepflanzen. Zu diesem Zwecke sind 300 Rosenstämme angekauft und etwa ebenso viel von hiesigen Gartenbesitzern geschenkt worden. Die Stelle, von wo Kaiser Wilhelm der Erste am 18. August 1870 die Schlacht leitete,

Provinz Brandenburg.

Berlin. Von hier sind zwei italienische Schriftsteller ausgewiesen worden, weil sie für die Sozialdemokratie Propaganda machten.—Bei einem im Uebrigen unbedeutenden Brande in Berlin Ost ist die Schneidersgattin Anna Felsmann, welche in dem in Brand gerathenen Hause wohnte und nicht rechtzeitig aus dem brennenden Gebäude zu entfliehen vermochte, nebst ihrem Töchterchen, einem lieblichen Kinde von etwa vier Jahren, im Rauche erstickt.—Für eine Trinkerheilanstalt, welche der „Verein gegen Mißbrauch geistiger Getränke" in Berlin auf einem Terrain unweit Fürstenwalde an der Spree zu errichten beabsichtigt, ist jetzt ein größeres Grundstück in Neuendorf, und zwar zum alten Zernikow'schen Lehngute gehörig, von Herrn Dr. med. Waldschmidt in Westend-Charlottenburg Namens des Vereins angekauft. Das Areal umfaßt 170 Morgen Wald, Wiesen und Aecker. Mit dem Bau der Anstalt soll noch im Laufe dieses Sommers begonnen werden.

Köpenick. Die Stadt hat zum Preise von 1,000,000 Mark die Gasanstalt der Gebrüder Budde angekauft, um vom 1. Januar 1900 die Verwaltung in städtische Regie zu nehmen. Die vor zehn Jahren erbaute Anstalt, die gleichzeitig auch Friedrichshagen mit Gas versorgt, produzirt jetzt jährlich 850,000 Kubikmeter.

Spandau. Der Feldwebel Albrecht von dem in Bromberg, Provinz Posen, in Garnison stehenden Infanterie-Regiment Nr. 129, der wegen Landesverraths verhaftet worden war, ist auf dem Transport hierher entsprungen und bis jetzt noch nicht wieder ergriffen worden. Albrecht soll russischen Agenten Pläne von Festungswerken und über die Mobilmachung ausgeliefert haben.

Provinz Hannover.

Hannover. Von hier ist der Bauunternehmer Lips verschwunden, wie üblich mit Hinterlassung einer großen Schuldenlast, die sich in diesem Falle weit in die Hunderttausende beläuft. Wahrscheinlich hat sich der Durchgänger nach Amerika geflüchtet.

Celle. An der Hannover'schen Straße versuchte sich der Arbeiter Karl Gläßner aus St. Andreasberg zu erhängen; doch konnte er seinen Vorsatz nicht ausführen, da sein Beinkleid am Staket festgehakt war. In dieser verzweifelten Lage wurde er erst am anderen Morgen halb erfroren von Vorübergehenden aufgefunden, abgeschnitten und nach der Polizeiwache gebracht, wo er nach einigen Stunden Schlafes wieder ganz munter wurde. Als Ursache seiner unseligen That gab er häusliche Zwistigkeiten an.

Provinz Hessen-Nassau.

Frankfurt. Wie sich jetzt herausstellt, hat der Rechtsanwalt Wilhelm Wolff, der kürzlich Selbstmord beging, ihm anvertraute Gelder von über 100,000 Mark unterschlagen.

Marburg. Der Kaiser bewilligte der Gemeinde Mellnau im hiesigen Kreise aus dem Gnadenfonds zum Bau eines Schulhauses 13,000 Mark.

Witzenhausen. Nach einem fröhlichen Gelage vergnügten sich drei junge Leute in der Fährstelle bei Frieda mit Kahnfahren. Am Wehr schlug das Boot um und alle drei Insassen fielen in's Wasser; zwei konnten sich durch Schwimmen retten, der dritte, Schlosserlehrling Junghaus, ertrank.

CHAPTER XI.

Karine's face grew paler than before. Throwing up her head with a proud, spirited little gesture, she walked quickly to the door, and passed out into the hall.

It had, indeed, been Sir Walter and Lady Tressidy and Carson Wildred whose voices we had heard.

"Why did you run away? We have been looking for you everywhere, and wasting so much time!" I heard Lady Tressidy say fretfully.

"I was very tired of standing," the girl promptly returned, "and of waiting, too"—with a certain imperiousness in her tone. "I wandered away to fill up the time till Mr. Wildred should have straightened matters in the dining room."

She had contrived to satisfy their curiosity without telling an actual falsehood, of which I knew instinctively she would greatly dislike making herself guilty.

It did not seem to occur to them to enter the drawing room where she had left me, and when I was sure that they had passed out of sight and hearing I came forth from the ignominious hiding place to which her command had condemned me.

In the exalted mood which had possession of me the thought of dinner would have been abhorrent. For the rest of the evening I kept my room, meditating many things and becoming more and more desirous of learning Carson Wildred's secret, if secret indeed he had.

At all events, I still had six weeks in which to work, with the hope ever before me of saving Karine Cunningham from the man whom, by her own confession, she did not love.

On the following day, Monday, I went to my old club, the Wayfarers, which I had not yet troubled with my presence, and picked out a man named Driscoll, who made a business of knowing everybody and everything. Beginning with some conventional talk about the changes in England in general, and London in particular, since I had seen it last, I managed to mention Carson Wildred without appearing to have dragged his name into the conversation for any particular purpose of my own.

It sprang from some talk about a British Christmas, and I made as humorous a story as I could about my having gone down to the house by the lock, only to miss my friend and my dinner after all.

"It is a queer place indeed," I said, "I wonder how he came by it?"

"Oh, if the stories are true, in a way as peculiar as the place itself, therefore appropriate. It was owned, I know for a matter of fact, by an Italian whose father was exiled, and came over here to live after 48; a chap by the name of Di Tortorelli, belonging to a good family and all that—had the entree everywhere. The son, a nice fellow except that he was weak, loved nothing so well as baccarat. Somehow he and Wildred got acquainted, when Wildred was little known, if it all, in society, and the two played cards on rather a big scale at the house of a mutual friend. Di Tortorelli had bad luck one night, lost a pot of money, and finally, having nothing else left that was worth having, staked the house by the lock—very dilapidated and in a shocking state of repair.

"Well, that's the way Wildred got it, and there are those that do say that after having won almost everything Tortorelli had Wildred financed him till his marriage with a rich American, on the proviso that Tortorelli should get him into the smart set. Those are only Wildred's enemies, of course, for, like most men of strong character, he has a few, though, on the whole, his generosity has made him extremely popular."

"Then he knew no one when he first appeared over the social horizon?" I went on questioning.

Driscoll laughed. "I never heard of anyone who knew him before the day when he first blazed forth as a social luminary, about three or four years ago. He took a house in town for the season, I remember—it was the Duke of Torquay's—one of the finest in town, and let for a fabulous sum. Then he and Tortorelli gave a ball together, somehow securing several royalties, to say nothing of Paderewski and La Belle Otero and one or two other celebrities, who must each have cost him somewhere from a thousand to two thousand pounds for the one night

"After that Wildred was made, of course, for the ball was a brilliant success. By the way, that was the first time he ever met the beautiful Miss Cunningham, who had just made a triumphant debut as the beauty of her season—in fact, most people think, the most beautiful girl who has been seen since the day when Mrs. Langtry created her first sensation in London. Miss Cunningham was at the ball with the Tressidy's, and, blase chap as he was even then, Wildred went down at the first shot from a pair of dark eyes—violet?—brown?—no one ever yet was was sure of their color. Of course, she's a great heiress, but the man must be blind and paralyzed who couldn't fall in love with Karine Cunningham for herself, and, however he gets it, Carson Wildred has no lack of money of his own."

"How does gossip say he gets it?" I went on to inquire with eagerness which I concealed as best as I could.

"Oh, gossip doesn't trouble itself much in that way!" Driscoll laughed.

"It only concerns itself to eat his dinners, for, as a matter of fact, though I can't exactly vouch for it myself there isn't much secret about the way the money pours in. It's the man's extraordinary luck! He seems to have a lot of relations who are always good-naturedly going off the hooks and leaving Wildred fortunes just when he needs them most. Old fellows in the antipodes, don't you know, who might really quite as well be dead as not. It's all straight enough, of course, but the funny thing is that if one hears one day that Wildred has come rather a cropper at Newmarket, or the Derby, or somewhere else, the news within the month is pretty sure to be that another Johnny in Australia or elsewhere has conveniently slipped his cable and left Wildred a cool fifty thousand or so at the very least."

Hardly had the laughter prompted by his own words died on Driscoll's lips when, to my astonishment, the man of whom we spoke sauntered into the room. He was looking at peace with all the world, and as nearly handsome as it was possible for him to look, the contrast between him and the podgy elderly gentleman by whom he was accompanied being much to his advantage.

"Talking of angels!" ejaculated Driscoll beneath his breath, "what do you think of that for coincidence?

Half an hour dragged along, and I was thinking of moving on, when, as I passed Wildred with a slight inclination in return for his, somewhat to my surprise he followed me.

"How do you do?" he said, with an attempt at an ingratiating smile. "Now, if you wont think me rude for the suggestion, I'd be willing to bet you a hundred pounds to a fiver that you and Driscoll were doing me the honor of discussing some of my affairs, if not myself when I happened to look in just now."

THERE STOOD KARINE CUNNINGHAM.

Here was a good opening for a conversation unweighted by polite fictions, and I unhesitatingly accepted it. "Yes," I replied quietly, turning more fully toward him, "we were talking of you and your affairs."

"I readily divined that from the look on Driscoll's innocent old mug as I entered. I am remarkably quick at reading other people's faces."

"I have flattered myself that I am the same—when the faces have not been altered almost (if not quite) beyond recognition."

"I have already frankly assured you, Mr. Stanton," he went on, "that I am not aware of having met you before the other night—Christmas Eve, I think it was—at the theatre with my very good friend Farnham. But you evidently wish me to see that you still firmly believe I am—er—mistaken. Am I not stating the case correctly? But it is certainly far from flattering to me that you should have almost completely forgotten me, to say the least."

"I wonder"—very slowly and lazily—"whether it be possible that I can in any way, quite inadvertently, have interfered with your plans?"

"Rather say," I broke out imprudently, "that it is possible I may interfere with yours."

"As you will. I see you don't intend to take my overtures of peace in the spirit in which they were offered. Well, you seem fond of proverbs, so here is a Roland for your Oliver—'Forewarned is forearmed.' You will not have me for a friend: you are indiscreet enough to advise me that you intend to make mischief for me if you can—if you can, mind! My conscience is clear as to my past, and here and now I dare you to do your worst!"

Leaning his elbow on the table, his head upon his hand, he faced me, looking up sideways with a mocking brilliancy in his pale eyes.

"It is my turn to give you a warning, and it is this: I make a bad enemy. Even had I some black secret, jealously guarded for years—which I haven't—you would never drag it from me. I believe myself to be a cleverer man than you, and if I had chosen the role of villain I should have been a successful one, there is no doubt. You would not, Mr. Stanton. Had I something which it was vital to my interests to conceal, I should have gone about it in such a way that not the devil himself pitted against me should worm my secret from me. Had I elected to commit a crime, it would not have been until after I was ready with an absolutely infallible alibi.

"Now, if you are sensible, the very fact that I have made these admissions will prove my innocence to you. It will be a waste of your valuable time if you attempt to stand in my way, in any quarter whatever." He rose lazily. "Good-evening Mr. Stanton," he said, in a louder tone, which he made both cordial and impressive for the benefit of any listening ears. "This has been a most interesting chat with you, one I am not likely soon to forget. I hope it may not be long before I have the pleasure of meeting you again."

He had certainly scored. I was obliged hot with indignation and self-scorn, mentally to confess as much He had kept his temper, and he had got the better of me. If my time would only come!

CHAPTER XII.

I had persuaded myself that the oftener I could see Karine and impress upon her the strength and disinterestedness of my friendship, silently assuring her of my unforgotten resolve to help, the better it would be for her. She had said once that she had "many acquaintances, but no friends," and she had seemed glad to welcome my friendship; so that now I wanted her to see I did not mean to fail her—that, after all, it might not be as she had thought, too late. At least, I succeeded in convincing myself that these were my only motives in calling again within the week on Lady Tressidy.

It was Thursday, and the family was to flit away to the country on the following afternoon. I was informed of this by the footman, whose duty it was to tell me that his mistress was superintending her packing at the moment, but would be down almost immediately. Meanwhile, Miss Cunningham was in Lady Tressidy's boudoir, and would see me.

I could scarcely believe in my good luck and in her courage—or good nature.

She had been writing at a little davenport by the window, but rose to receive me, and extended her hand. In the other—the left—she held a pen, with ink still wet, and so it was that as she greeted me my eyes fell upon a ring which had not before adorned her finger.

It was the third of the left hand, and to my amazement I recognized the magnificent diamond—still in the old setting—worn for so many years by Harvey Farnham.

KITES AND KITE FLYING.

You Can Build One That Will Sail in the Lightest Wind.

Almost every boy who ever owned a jackknife and lived near a vacant lot has made kites of some sort. Most of these have been of the old flat shield-shaped kind, weighted with long tails and needing a good bit of wind to sail them. Often it required the united efforts of a whole company of boys and an afternoon of experiment to get the kite properly balanced and floating steadily above the treetops. I remember that we used to braid iron weeds and wisps of grass into the tail, and sometimes we would have a long streamer of this nature—ten or fifteen feet in length—trailing behind the kite, and then if the wind died down suddenly this heavy tail would drag like an anchor and bring our flying toy thumping to the ground away off. This usually tangled the guide twine in the trees and telegraph wires and the kite was often ruined.

Since grown men began experimenting with kitemaking for scientific purposes, however, the tailless kite has been invented, and any bright boy can build one that will sail in the lightest wind and float to the ground like a parachute. The accompanying picture shows how the contrivance looks at close observation, but no picture can give a faithful idea of the grace of the kite when it is sailing at the end of

THE TAILLESS KITE.

1,000 or more feet of twine, soaring like a bird or steadily drifting to the hand of the boy pulling in the twine at the close of the afternoon's sport. For you do not have to "run down" these kites, but can pull them in till the last foot of twine is wound up and the kite floats to the hand of the operator.

Out of the Mouths of Babes.

Two little girls were gazing at the stars one evening. "I wonder what they are?" said one. "Oh," replied the other, "I guess they are good little night lamps that have died and gone to heaven."

A visitor who was trotting 4-year-old Freddie upon his knee, remarked to the little fellow's mother: "Do you know, there is something in this young man I like?" "Say," exclaimed the precocious youngster, "who told you that I swallowed a penny?"

Ethel, aged 5, was learning to sew, and one day, after vainly trying to make the preliminary preparation with a needle and thread, she asked: "Mamma, don't they call the hole in a needle an eye?" "Yes, dear," was the reply. "Well," continued the little miss, "I'll bet this old needle's cross-eyed."

Little 5-year-old Willie had a very bad memory and his mother had a hard time teaching him to say "if you please" when he wanted anything. The other evening at dinner he said: "Mamma, hand me the butter." "If you what, Willie?" she asked. "Why, if you can reach it," was the reply.

Little 4-year-old Harry was not feeling well and his father suggested that he might be taking the chickenpox, then prevalent. Harry went to bed laughing at the idea, but early next morning he came downstairs looking very serious, and said: "You're right, papa; it is the chickenpox; I found a feather in the bed."

TO HELP THE LEPERS.

FATHER CONRARDY WILL RISK HIS LIFE IN A NOBLE WORK.

The Good Priest Has Chosen China as His Field of Action and Is Now Studying Medicine Preparatory to His Great Sacrifice.

For years Father Conrardy has been looking for the very worst place on earth, and now at last he has found it. Many may think that no more loathsome place can be found than the leper colony in the Hawaiian Islands, in which Father Conrardy has been working for the last eight years, but they are mistaken. An infinitely worse place is the leper colony in the province of Canton, China, and precisely because it is so unspeakably vile this good priest has resolved to spend his remaining days there, doing what good he can to the host of unfortunates who are slowly perishing.

There are 60,000 lepers in the province of Canton, and they never saw a white man until Father Conrardy visited them two years ago.

Only a man bent on self sacrifice through noble motives would dream of spending his days amid such ghastly surroundings, and it is fortunate for humanity that such a man has been found.

Father Conrardy, who is now in Portland, Or., where he is eagerly studying medicine and surgery, is well equipped for the work. He has been all over the world, and for 14 years he labored among the American Indians. He also worked in Japan, China and India, and his last eight years have been spent among the lepers at Molokai. He well knows, therefore, the fearful life before him, and yet he does not flinch.

Father Conrardy was recently interviewed about his work, and he said: "I must study medicine for some time before I go to the leper colony in Canton. It is hard work, but I like it. If I had not become a priest, I would have become a physician. After I have finished studying medicine I intend to visit several large cities throughout America with the object of interesting charitable persons in the unfortunate lepers. Seeing what is before me I sometimes shiver, but that feeling does not last long. I hope, with God's help and with that of the friends of humanity, to prove of some service to the poor Canton lepers. When Christ cured lepers, he never asked them to become members of his church, and I purpose following his example. What I mean is that I will try to do good to all, no matter what their creed may be. Sufficient will be my happiness if I can bring a smile of contentment upon the faces of the wretched Chinese lepers.

"When I was in Molokai, I received very many proofs of gratitude from the lepers. If you could only have seen how they cried and kissed my hands and how they would even have kissed my feet, if I had permitted them! When they were sick, I would sit on their beds and comfort them as best I could, and then the wonderful look of gratitude that came over their poor diseased faces proved clearly that this divine sentiment of gratitude has been implanted in the hearts of all races of men. Since I left Molokai I have received many letters from the lepers there, and they all contain expressions of the deepest gratitude."

When the priest told the American minister to China that he desired to visit the leper colony, that gentleman was naturally surprised.

"It is impossible for you to go there," he said, "as no white man has ever lived among them. You would be committing suicide if you carried out such a plan."

Father Conrardy, however, would not be thwarted, and finally the minister gave way. First, however, he brought the matter to the attention of the German, French and English consuls, and he did everything else that was possible to protect the fearless priest's life.

That Father Conrardy will be able to render immense services to the Canton lepers can readily be seen. In a few months he will be a trained physician, and only the trained physician knows to what extent the terrible curse of leprosy can be alleviated by a use of science and of medicine. True, leprosy once contracted seems to be incurable, but then much can be done to lessen the pangs of those thus afflicted and to ward it off from those who are in danger of contracting the disease.

All honor, then, to the fearless priest who is doing in our day what Father Damien did so well until he, too, became afflicted with leprosy and died of the disease on April 15, 1889. A similar fate may be in store for Father Conrardy, but he cares not. He is doing what he believes to be his duty, and not all the powers on earth can restrain him from this splendid act of self sacrifice. There are 60,000 living souls who need his services as a spiritual guide and as a physical healer, and for their sake he will shut himself out from the society of civilized men and will bury himself for his remaining years in a place worse than a living tomb, since in a tomb there are rest and peace, whereas surely nothing like peace is to be looked for in the abode of 60,000 Chinese lepers.

To us, quietly pursuing our daily vocations at home, this awful Chinese colony may seem a pandemonium, but in Father Conrardy's eyes it is, if not an earthly paradise, at any rate the one place desirable on earth. And during the next few months no young medical student will study more eagerly than he, whose object is not gain or worldly reputation, but simply such knowledge and skill as will enable him to alleviate the pangs of his unfortunate patients. A noble ambition truly and one which entitles Father Conrardy to the respect and admiration of all friends of humanity!—New York Herald.

YOUR MISSION.

If you cannot on the ocean
Sail among the swiftest fleet,
Rocking on the highest billows,
Laughing at the storms you meet,
You can stand among the sailors
Anchored yet within the bay;
You can lend a hand to help them
As they launch their boats away.

If you are too weak to journey
Up the mountains steep and high,
You can stand within the valley
While the multitude go by;
You can chant a happy measure
As they slowly pass along.
Though they may forget the singer,
They may not forget the song.

If you cannot in the conflict
Prove yourself a soldier true,
If where smoke and fire are thickest
There's no work for you to do,
When the battlefield is silent
You can go with careful tread,
You can bear away the wounded,
You can cover up the dead.

If you cannot in the harvest
Garner up the richest sheaves,
Many a grain, both ripe and golden,
May the careless reapers leave.
Go and glean among the briers
Growing rank against the wall,
For it may be that their shadow
Hides the heaviest wheat of all.

Do not then stand idly waiting
For some greater work to do.
Fortune is a fickle goddess—
She will never come to you.
Go and toil in any vineyard.
Do not fear to do and dare.
If you want a field of labor,
You can find it anywhere.

—Pittsburg Catholic.

DRESSING FOR CHURCH.

A Word to Those Who Rush Any Old Way to Early Mass.

The Rev. Father John O'Hara of the new St. Luke's Roman Catholic church of Whitestone, N. Y., has reproved those of his parishioners who arise at the last possible moment before early service on Sundays and rush to church in untidy dress. He censured them publicly from the altar, saying:

"I see at early service every Sunday morning men with unshaved faces and without shirt collars. I meet these later in the day with carefully creased trousers and all the little points of their toilet carefully attended to. It must be that they are afraid to disturb the creases in their trousers in kneeling in them, for they don them in the afternoon. They dress up in their best when they go to the theater and prepare an elaborate toilet, but when they go to church anything is good enough. I mean to discourage this feeling. I will not have this thing go on. These men must respect the church and enter it properly clothed."

Father O'Hara is 6 feet 2 inches tall and built in proportion, and his large head is covered with snow white hair. By hard work he has succeeded in having one of the largest and handsomest churches on Long Island erected in Whitestone.

Rev. Joseph Grimmelsman.

Announcement is made of the appointment of the Rev. Joseph Grimmelsman, S. J., president of St. Louis university, as provincial of the Missouri province of the Society of Jesus, to succeed the Rev. T. S. Fitzgerald, S. J. The new provincial is a man of a very engaging personality and made many friends in St. Louis. He is a man of scholarly attainments, and, in addition to receiving the regular thorough course of the Jesuit fathers in this country, studied several years in Europe. His headquarters will be in St. Louis. Father Fitzgerald, who retires from the provincialship, has held the office four years.

The Sin of Detraction.

When we listen willingly to a detractor, we are guilty of the same sin as he is. The detractor is a coward; he never has the courage to strike his enemy an open blow; he dare not stand before him face to face; he is like the sneaking assassin. The only remedy, if we would not be guilty of this great sin of detraction, is not to assist in circulating stories calculated to harm our neighbor. Neither should we as much as listen to such stories, but should show by our manner, if not our words, that we do not wish to hear them.

PERSONAL.

Rev. John J. Donnelly, rector of St. Veronica's church, Philadelphia, has just celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood.

Father Judge, who recently died in Dawson City, was one of the first missionaries in the Klondike. He built a church and hospital in Dawson City and acted as priest, doctor, nurse and cook.

The Rev. Eugene A. Garvey of Williamsport has been appointed pastor of St. John's church, Pittston, and vicar general of the diocese of Scranton, Pa., in succession to the late Very Rev. John Fennen.

The Rev. B. W. Maturin, who was formerly an Episcopal minister of Philadelphia, but who is now a Roman Catholic priest, preached a course of Lenten sermons in the Church of San Silvestro-in-Capite, Rome.

Sister Mary Helen Ellis, one of the few survivors of the band of Roman Catholic Sisters of Mercy who under Miss Nightingale went to attend the English soldiers in the Crimean war, died lately at Walthamstow, England, in her eighty-second year.

Prince Maximilian of Saxony, recently appointed to the see of Kuem, is the youngest living bishop. He will not have turned his thirtieth year until after the beginning of the century. His eloquence is wonderful, and his friends say he is surely destined eventually to become pope.

Cardinal Vaughan is making arrangements for the holding of a special mission in every Catholic church in London during next year. The services will be held simultaneously, and preachers will be engaged not only from the religious orders of the British isles, but from other parts of the world.

Mrs. Lillian R. Irwin, State Councilor of the Daughters of Liberty, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Stratton, of Park avenue, yesterday. Mrs. Irwin left last night for Hornersville, N. Y., where she attended an anniversary of the order.

Quiet in the Borough.

The borough is just now experiencing a remarkable state of quietude, and the marshals have nothing to do but cover their territory. Only once under the present administration has a borough arrest been made. The officials can hardly hope to receive much revenue from arrests if the present regime continues. No one seems to be violating the ordinances and making themselves liable to arrest. It is of course to be presumed that the marshals are vigilant and on the lookout all the time. If everything is as quiet as the police blotter shows the borough is to be congratulated in having such a quiet and orderly community.

Still Alarm for Chimney Fire.

There was a still alarm of fire this afternoon shortly after 1 o'clock from Mrs. Samuel Milliken's house, 830 Central avenue. The fire proved to be somewhere in the chimney. It was necessary to cut a hole in the wall and to pull away the base of the chimney in the cellar before the fire could be reached. Three extinguishers were used.

To Start Work Tomorrow.

Contractor Serrell will start a gang of workmen at Fanwood tomorrow morning building the Scotch Plains extension of the trolley road.

Hail and Lightning do Damage in Jersey.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 4—The storm which passed over this section Tuesday night did serious damage in the German Valley. There was a terrific fall of hail, which lasted for an hour, at Califon and Anthony. The fruit trees and early crops in that section are reported to be ruined. Lightning struck the extensive stock barn of Charles Craig at New Germantown. The barn and other out buildings were burned to the ground.

Need Not Kiss the Bible.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 4—Judge VanSyckel in charging the Grand Jury said that they need not kiss the Bible, but lay their hands on it as the oath was being taken. This is in conformity with a new rule adopted by the Supreme Court of the State.

No Important Business.

The exempt firemen held a long meeting last night, but transacted little business of importance. Two visitors from the Bayonne association were present and the evening was passed pleasantly with them. The committee on the new building reported progress.

Manager of Railroad at Eight.

The Chicago and Jerico railway has for its general manager pretty little Miss Dorothy Warneford. The line is but 100 feet in length, in fact is nothing more than a wonderful plaything. The Rev. Harry Lancelot Warneford, at Windsor, England, had it erected for his children. The railroad is complete, with tunnels, stations, bridges and surrounded by the most picturesque landscape in miniature that could be imagined. The engine, a perfect model, runs by steam and pulls the car loads of dolls at a clipping rate.

Giraffe as a Mimic.

The giraffe has such powers of mimicry that, although its size might be supposed to make it a conspicuous object for its enemies, the most practiced eye has been deceived by the animal's resemblance to one of the dead and blasted tree trunks which abound in its haunts. Lions have been known to gaze long and earnestly at a motionless giraffe, and, being unable to decide that it was not a tree, turn and skulk away.

ABOUT THE PHILIPPINES.

The following newspaper squib manages to convey quite a cargo of information about the Philippine islands:

No brooms.
No hats worn.
Girls marry at fifteen.
No knives or forks.
They sleep at midday.
Horses are a curiosity.
More women than men.
Rice is the chief product.
Cattle as small as goats.

CURRENT ATTRACTIONS THAT PLAINFIELDERS MAY WITNESS.

Local and Metropolitan Performances That Will Please Those Who Delight in the Art of Thespis and Mimic World.

The Manhattan makes a quick but effective change in its bill this week, presenting the droll, whimsical and immensely popular comedians, Matthews and Bulger, in their hilarious farce comedy "By The Sad Sea Waves," together with Anna Held, in piquent specialty, as an added attraction. The engagement is for this week only, and will be Miss Held's farewell to America as she sails for Europe May 9th. It is an emergency which enables the combining of two such admirable attractions, and the public will be the gainers nevertheless. Monday May 8th, Blaney's big extravaganza company, headed by Miss Johnstone Bennett, will appear in the great success "A Female Drummer."

* * * * *

"Mother Goose" has proved to be an absolute and attractive novelty at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, and a sure enough success. Since the opening night the theatre has been completely filled at every performance by enthusiastic audiences, that applaud with great vigor all the special features, including the songs and dances. The new extravaganza is a strong magnet for children, who are attending the matinees in great numbers. As the piece introduces many characters familiar to boyhood and girlhood days, it is exceedingly interesting to children of a larger growth. "Mother Goose" promises to be a popular entertainment for several weeks to come, or until the advent of extreme warm weather. Manager Rosenquest announces a large sale of seats, and several "children's theatre parties" for next week.

* * * * *

Next week will be the closing week of the present dramatic season at Music Hall, and for this occasion Manager Maze Edwards has secured Mitchell's All Star Players, an organization that comes highly recommended by manager, press and public of cities wherein they have apeared. It is composed of first-class performers, who will present a repertoire of standard plays, supplemented by new and beautiful scenery, superb mechanical and electrical effects. The opening bill Monday will be Bartley Campbell's great play "The Galley Slave," to be followed by other strong and worthy productions during the week. Only one matinee will be given Saturday, May 13th. Popular prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents will prevail. "Ladies' tickets" will be a feature Monday night. Reserved seat tickets are now on sale at box office.

From Bicycle to Crutches.

James H. Buckley, who is employed at the freight house, sustained a bad fall from his wheel at the corner of Watchung avenue and East Fifth street this morning. He was badly bruised, and is now out on crutches.

Prof. Conde's Concert Tonight.

P. Ludwig Conde's annual orchestral concert will be given in the Y. M. C. A. Hall this evening, and a programme of fine music will be presented.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvet skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

AN ORDINANCE

FOR THE ASSESSMENT OF TAXES FOR THE YEAR 1899.

The Inhabitants of the city of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1.—That pursuant to the statutes and ordinances and resolutions in such cases made and provided, there shall be assessed and raised by tax for the year eighteen hundred and ninety-nine, for the general purposes of said city, exclusive of poor, library, school, fire, state and county taxes, the sum of Forty-one Thousand ($41,000) dollars. This sum includes the sum of Twenty-four Thousand dollars ($24,000) to be raised by general tax for street improvements; for the expense for said year of lighting the public streets and places in said city, pursuant to Chapter ccexviii of the Pamphlet Laws of 1894, (page 477), as ascertained and determined by resolution of the Common Council and certified to the Assessors of said city the sum of Twelve Thousand dollars ($12,000); for the principal of such bonds, except obligations payable out of assessments and temporary obligations as may mature during the ensuing fiscal year, under and by virtue of the Act of the Legislatute entitled "An Act to provide for drainage and sewerage in cities of this State," approved April 7, 1890, and the several amendments thereof and supplements thereto, and proceedings had and taken thereunder in said city, the sum of Four Thousand dollars (4,000); for interest on the obligations of the city issued under said last mentioned acts, the sum of Five Thousand dollars ($5,000); for the support of the city poor, the sum of Four Thousand dollars ($4,000); for the maintenance of the public library and reading room, the sum of Three Thousand Eight Hundred dollars ($3,800); for the purpose of making alterations in the buildings already erected for the purposes of the Plainfield Public Library, Art Gallery and Museum, and to provide new apparatus for heating and lighting and making other improvements therein, as specified in the resolution and certificate of the Board of Directors of the Plainfield Public Library and Reading Room, under the provisions of the act of the Legislature entitled, "An act to authorize cities to establish and maintain free public libraries and reading room," approved March 14, 1879, and the act amendatory thereof, and supplemented thereto, in pursuance of resolution adopted by the Common Council and approved by the Mayor, under Chapter 15 of the laws of 1896, (P. L., p. 36), the sum of Two Thousand dollars ($2,000); for the maintenance of a Fire Department to be under control and government of said city, the sum of Eighteen Thousand dollars ($18,000); and in addition to the foregoing, a license fee of Two dollars to be paid by the owner of every dog within the city of Plainfield.

Adopted by the Common Council May 1, 1899; approved by the Mayor May 3, 1899.

BOROUGH EDUCATORS ARE STILL PERPLEXED.

New School Building Does Not Afford Enough Room.

CLASS ROOMS CROWDED.

DESIGNED TO HOLD 45 PUPILS, BUT 50 WILL BE PUT IN THEM.

High School Department is Now Taxed to its Limit With the Scholars and the Transfer of Six Classes From Old Building to the New One Has Not Given the Relief That Was Anticipated

Notwithstanding the fact that the borough now has a new public school, which was intended to relieve the overcrowded condition of the High School, the present condition of affairs is not as encouraging as was anticipated. Last Monday six classes were removed from the High School to the Watchung School. Miss Tantum is the principal of the new school and also teaches the fifth grade. Miss Acock teaches the fourth grade, Miss Claypoole the third grade, Miss Filkins the second grade, Miss Terry the first grade and Miss Horton teaches the kindergarten.

The new school will accommodate about 45 scholars in each class room, while there were 50 accommodated in the High School. Thus there are five scholars left over from each of the six classes removed, and these, together with the new scholars who want to attend school, runs the number up to the limit, leaving no spare room, as was expected.

Five classes have been coming on half-day time and this course will have to be adopted next year, which leaves some of the grades worse off than ever. The principal has been obliged to stop enrollment in the kindergarten department. The seating capacity of the High School is about 750 and it is now taxed to the utmost. When a child reaches the age of six years he or she is then placed in the grammar department. This also is now up to the limit.

The Board of Education realizing the condition that confronts them are now making arrangements to put extra seats in the new school, but this has disadvantages for the reason that 45 scholars is all that one teacher should be expected to take care of, and additional scholars is sure to handicap her.

In the High School there are 110 scholars enrolled, the highest average attendance reported in the State. In comparison with the Plainfield High School, which has about 134, it is exceedingly large. The fact that borough scholars do not now attend the Plainfield school accounts in a measure for the increase, for the establishment of the Borough High School keeps borough scholars home.

It is the desire of those in charge that the citizens of the borough shall fully realize the condition of the schools and be wide awake as to the needs apparent.

DANCED IN MR. HAYNES' HOUSE.

A Pleasant Social Affair Enjoyed by Forty Guests.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Haynes, on North avenue, was the scene, last evening, of a very enjoyable sociable and dance. The affair was arranged by Miss Susie Boss, of Central avenue. There were about forty guests present including relatives and friends from Bound Brook, Somerville, Elizabeth, Newark and this city. The feature of the evening was dancing. Music was furnished by O'Reilly. About midnight a boutiful supper was served by the host and hostess after which dancing continued until 2 o'clock, when the guests departed, thanking Mr. and Mrs. Haynes for the very pleasant evening furnished.

In a Critical Condition.
(Special to The Daily Press)

Lincoln, May 5.—Mayor Silas D. Drake has heard from his son, Lewis L. Drake, who is ill with appendecitus in Chicago, and the physicians report the case a serious one. Mr. Drake is in a private hospital, under the care of the best surgeon in Chicago, and is doing as well as could be expected. The doctor said that if one hour more had elapsed before the operation was performed, the man could not have lived. As it is, it will be five days before it can be positively said whether the patient will recover or not.

Gavett to Move.

J. W. Gavett, the crockery and glassware dealer, has decided to move from his present location in the Jackson building on West Front street to one of the stores in the Schepflin building opposite. Mr. Gavett will move July 1st and will locate next to Peck's.

A PECULIAR AFFLICTION

SOMERVILLE MAN BECOMES INSANE EVERY SPRING.

Daniel Weipert's Condition Caused by a Terrible Experience Years Ago—Doctors Believe the Present Fit is Incurable.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 5—Daniel Weipert, a business man of this place, was taken to the insane asylum at Trenton yesterday, violently demented.

Five years ago Weipert was crossing a bridge over the Black River, near Liberty Corner, with a horse and wagon. The river was greatly swollen, and had undermined the piers of the bridge, which gave way and precipited Weipert and his horse into the stream. A desperate struggle for life followed, and it was believed Weipert was drowned. It was revealed later that he escaped from the river and wandered in the mountains in a demented condition for a week.

As the result of serious wounds which he received in the head in his struggle with his horse in the river, every spring since the accident Weipert has had periodical fits of insanity. The doctors believe that his case is now incurable.

BY THE SAD SEA WAVES.

THE COLORED PEOPLE WILL BE ABLE TO SPEND THE SUMMER DAYS.

A Piece of Property Purchased Near Asbury Park Which Will be Used as a Resort for the Jersey Colored Folks.

The colored Baptists of New Jersey have just completed the purchase of a piece of property in Asbury Park which will be used this summer and during succeeding summers, if the scheme turns out to be successful, as a gigantic camp meeting ground. The project is of particular interest to the colored Baptists in this city because Rev. E. E. Jackson, pastor of Mt. Olive Baptist church, has been retained as superintendent and manager.

The piece of ground lies just north of the city towards Long Branch, and is fitted up with a mansion house, a hotel, pavilions and bath houses. Beginning July 15th and continuing until September 15th a series of camp meeting or "Spiritual Harvests" will be held there daily. Preachers from all over the country are expected to be in attendance during the summer.

The place will be a sort of headquarters for colored picnicers in the summer, who can go to this particular part of the beach, for the land fronts on the ocean, and enjoy all the privileges of the white folks without being with them.

The property is said to have cost $40,000, and it is for the use of colored people of the Baptist denomination. There are five acres, and the accomodations are sufficient for over two thousand. The pavilion alone will accomodate that many.

Mr. Jackson will divide his time between that place and wherever his church happens to be then.

REV. MR. HERRING TO THE NEWS.

He Says That What They Called Manuscript Was Not That Paper.

In reply to the editorial in the News of last evening regarding the sermon preached by Rev. Charles E. Herring last Sunday evening at the First Presbyterian church, he has written a communication to the editor of the News, in which he says:

"What you call my manuscript was not that paper, but notes taken for preparation, quotations, reflections, etc., modified both in the final manuscript and in the extemporaneous delivery. After carefully outlining the sermon to one of my church young men I gave him these disconnected papers. These papers were not to leave his hands. The only time the Catholic church was mentioned in the sermon was at the conclusion, when the broadness of the Presbyterian church was emphasized and the assertion made that Catholics have been admitted into the Presbyterian church without re-baptism. The sermon was on Presbyterianism and not Catholicism."

Rasores Club Election.

The annual meeting of the Rasores Club was held last Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. Wesley Johnson, LaGrande avenue, at which time the election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Horace Kimball; vice presidents, Mrs. A. S. Patterson, Mrs. I C. Pearson; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Henry R. Halloway. The next meeting Tuesday, May 9th, will be held at the home of Mrs. Humphrey, of Belvidere avenue.

Woodhull & Martin have just opened a large bill of mattings—part of the shipload recently received by Arnold, Constable & Co., of N. Y. city, the largest importers of matting in this country.

YOUNG MUSICIANS SHOW MUCH TALENT.

Annual Orchestral Concert Arranged by Prof. Conde.

APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE.

PLAYERS SEEMED FILLED WITH CONDUCTOR'S ENTHUSIASM.

An Orchestra of Twenty-five Pieces Did Excellent Work—Spirited and Sympathetic Playing by the Young Pupils—A Septette Was Especially Fine—Prof. Conde's Solo Had a Charming Effect.

The annual orchestral concert of P. Ludwig Conde, one of Plainfield's leading musicians, and his pupils, was held at the Y. M. C. A. Hall last evening. An appreciative audience filled all available seats in the hall.

There were four numbers by the entire orchestra of twenty-five pieces, all given in an excellent manner, far surpassing the orchestra work of previous years. An especial success was the gavotte from "Mignon," in which the intricate time was followed without a fault, and the delicate harmony was rendered as if by one performer. The orchestra was very well balanced, and the players kept excellent time, showing by their perfect accord and instant response to the conductor that they had been thoroughly trained. Mr. Conde controlled his players easily, and appeared to have communicated to them some of his own enthusiasm, as their playing was spirited and sympathetic.

Four of Mr. Conde's younger pupils, Lewis Minford, Richard Minford, Louis Eggerding and Andrew Weber, played a quartette for violins, consisting of three numbers, of which the last, in which the young players were accompanied by the entire orchestra, was the most successful.

The finest number of the evening was a septette, "Intermezzo, Happiness," by Gillet, rendered by Messrs. Gloeckner, Conde, Wilmarth and Gloeckner, violins; Mr. Lang, viola; Mr. DeNike, 'cello; Mr. Weber, bass. The parts were perfectly balanced, and the exquisite execution and delicate harmony, suggestive of all manner of happy things, charmed the audience and called out enthusiastic applause.

Miss Blossom Fitz Randolph and Miss Charlotte Cave played a difficult duet for violins, accompanied by piano, with grace and spirit. Another of Mr. Conde's young woman students, Miss Florence Katherine Wohlfert, played a violin solo, a Hungarian composition, with orchestral accompaniment. Miss Wohlfert played with ease, correctness and feeling, winding her way smoothly through the rapid alternations of grave and gay musical effects that mark the compositions of the emotional Hungarians.

W. Paulding DeNike, 'cellist, played two short solos, which showed off to advantage the possibilities of the 'cello, especially in delicacy of tone. Mr. DeNike showed that he had complete control of his instrument, and played with feeling and brilliancy. His accompaniment was played by Miss Clyde B. Burnett, the pianist for the orchestra, whose careful and sympathetic work all through the concert added much to to the success of the affair

Mr. Conde played one violin solo, accompanied by the orchestra. This was a very brilliant fantaisie, 'Scene de Ballet," by DeBeriot, full of fire and spirit, and containing many very rapid passages Mr. Conde played entirely from memory, and with his usual ease and warmth of feeling. As an encore he played Schubert's "Serenade," the quiet harmonies and delicate musical effects contrasting strongly with the foregoing composition.

The ushering was under the direction of Edward Maxwell Honeyman, assisted by Lindley M. Hillman, Edward J. Kline and Abbott Brainard.

"Masonry a Fact—Not a Mummery"

Is the subject of an address by Rev. J. W. Richardson before the members of Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M., Tuesday evening, June 6th, at which time the Most Worshipful Grand Master of the State and other officials high up in the order will be present. Rev. Mr. Richardson is an enthusiastic member of Anchor Lodge, and his address will no doubt be very interesting.

First Year of a Pastorate.

Rev. E. E. Jackson, ot the Mt. Olive Baptist church, willl celebrate the first anniversary of his pastorate here the first Thursday in June. Mr. Jackson is not sure that he will remain here another year.

Receiving Pensions.

Yesterday was pension day, and the local justices of the peace and those who handle pension claims were kept busy making ot the papers.

MRS KIMBALL PRESIDENT

ANNUAL MEETING OF CHILDREN'S HOME ASSOCIATION.

Election of Officers Held Yesterday Afternoon — Treasurer's Report Read —Two More Children Were Admitted.

Yesterday afternoon the annual meeting of the board of managers of the Children's Home was held at the Y. M. C. A. building. There was a good attendance and business of a routine nature was considered. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Horace Kimball; vice-presidents, Mrs. Isaac W. Rushmore, Mrs. Martin I. Cooley, Mrs. Laura S. Gilbert; recording secretary, Mrs. Ruth C. Leonard; corresponding secretary, Miss Lucy H. Everett; treasurer, Miss Ella Serrell. ## BIG SALVATIONISTS' DAY.

NOTABLE STAFF OFFICERS COMING NEXT SUNDAY.

Col. Higgins, Chief of the Staff, Brigadier Scott and Several Other Important Officers Will be in This City.

Next Sunday at the new Salvation Army Hall, 118 East Front street, Col. Higgins, Chief of Staff of the Salvation Army, will lead the meetings all day. The Colonel is a Salvationist of over fifteen years experience in many lands. His coming is a cause of great rejoicing among the local soldiers, who feel that they are being highly honored by having one so high in rank come and spend a whole day with them. Mrs. Higgins will also be present. Her special work is the oversight of the Rescue Department throughout the States.

Brigadier Scott, the divisional chief, will also be at all the meetings. Then Dr. Nice, the violinist, so well-known because of his skill with this instrument, will be on hand to render violin solos during the day.

The Staten Island Singing Brigade, who met with so much success when they were here before, will also take part in the day's services. This looks as though there will be plenty of talent around. The first service take place at 11 a. m., and at 3 o'clock there will be a praise service. At 8 p. m., a salvation meeting. The meetings on the street will be held as usual. The special visitors will all take part in them.

RUN THROUGH "MUD LANE."

Eighty-Foot Street Made in Westfield by Trolley Construction.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, May 5—The grading on the trolley line for the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railroad Company from Garwood to this town is finished, and an eighty foot street has been cut through where it was once a mud lane; in fact, it was called "Mud Lane" by the residents of the town. The gang of men employed on the road will be taken to Scotch Plains to work tomorrow. The company has opened an office on Elm street in this town. The Borough Council of Roselle will hold a meeting this evening, when it is expected that the company will accept the terms asked for by the Council, and then the right of way will be completed from Plainfield to Elizabeth.

United in Wedlock

Rev. W. D. Johnson, pastor of the Filmore Baptist church, performed a marriage ceremony last night in uniting in wedlock Augustus Johnson and Miss Mazie Downs. The wedding took place at the home of the bride at 519 West Third street.

BURGLAR FITTED OUT AT HARRY WERNER'S

Helped Himself to Several Suits and Departed.

GOT IN THROUGH BASEMENT.

CRACKSMAN WAS EVIDENTLY ACQUAINTED THERE.

Forced Grating to Cellar Window and Then Opened Bolt to Door at the Head of the Basement Stairs With Loop of Wire—Exact Loss Impossible to Tell—The Clues are Very Faint.

Burglars seem to consider Harry Werner a good thing. They visited his clothing store at 206 West Front street again last night and departed with sundry suits and extra trousers. The manner in which the theft was committed showed that the intruder or intruders, which ever it was, were acquinted with the place.

Nothing eventful happened at Werner's store yesterday while Mr. Werner and his clerks were there. There were customers, of course, some strangers and some well-known to the proprietor. The store was closed up as usual shortly after 9 o'clock. A light was left burning in the front of the store and another in the rear.

The policeman who was on that beat tried the door during the evening and looked in occasionally but there was no sign of trouble within. The burglary was not discovered until this morning when Will Richards, one of the clerks, came to open up the store. He found the door to the basement stairs open and some of the piles of clothing disarranged. Then he began to investigate.

The burglar, for the police are inclined to believe that there was only one of them that entered the store, first gained entrance to the rear of the basement under the store. There is an areaway to the one basement window which is covered by a wooden grating. This grating was pried off, for the fastenings were not strong, and laid at one side. Then the burglar crawled through a small passageway that leads to the basement proper.

There is a flight of stairs running from the basement right into the store. The door at the head of the stairs is usually fastened with a hook and a bolt. The burglar here removed the facing to the door frame so that he could get at the crack between the edge of the door and the side of the frame. With a loop of wire, that was found near the door this morning, he slipped back the bolt and lifted the hook. The door then easily opened.

Mr. Burglar was evidently rather a fastidious sort of an individual. He went immediately to the most valuable stock and carefully picked out what he wanted. When the piles of suits were on in the same order in which they were left, he took care not to throw those around that he did not want. He also visited the trousers counter and helped himself.

He then retired to the recesses of one of the dressing rooms and tried on the results of his raid. Those that didn't fit he left behind on the sofa in the dressing room, where they were found this morning.

It is impossible to say as yet just how much was taken. It is probable, however, that there are three or four suits and as many pairs of trousers. The loss will be in the neighborhood of $100.

The burglar wasn't kind enough to leave his card behind, so the police have little to work on. The only clues are the missing clothes, and Mr. Werner is not yet certain what kinds were taken. No attempt was made to force the cash drawer or open the show cases.

THEIR SECOND MARRIAGE.

Colored Couple Venture Out Into the Matrimonial Sea Once Again.

A quiet wedding took place last evening at 9 o'clock at the home of Madison Williams, 806 West Second street, when L. L. Croom, formerly of 519 East Sixth street, and Mrs. Lucretia Jones, of 651 West Third street, were married. This is the groom's second wife and the bride's second husband. They were married by Rev. W. D. Johnson, pastor of the Fillmore Baptist church, in the presence of only the immediate relatives and a very few friends.

The bride and groom were attended by Madison Williams as best man and Miss Mary Williams as bridemaid, and after the marriage an informal reception was held when a wedding supper was served.

The bride and groom have taken up their residence at 612 East Third street, which property they contemplate purchasing.

HILLSIDE'S NEW EXPERT

MATTHEW RODGER BROWN COMES TO PLAINFIELD LINKS.

Was Formerly Greenkeeper and Professional of the Aderdown Club, of Edinburg, Scotland—Will Commence Monday.

Through the efforts of L. E. Waring, chairman of the golf committee, the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, of this city, has secured the services of one of the best professionals and coaches for this season. A contract has just been closed with Matthew Rodger Brown, late green-keeper and professional of the Aderdown Golf Club, of Edinburg, Scotland. Mr. Brown comes here with the best of letters from men prominent in the golfing world of Scotland, vouching for his excellence as a teacher and club maker.

Mr. Brown will be ready to give lessons Monday afternoon on the Hillside links. His charge will be the same as Mr. Fox charged last year, fifty cents an hour.

The golf committee considers the club very lucky in being able to secure the services of such an efficient man and his coaching will undoubtedly be of great help to the members of the club. Mr. Brown will carry a full line of golf balls and clubs which he will sell at the regular prices.

MISS PRAY'S NEW WORK

SHE IS NOW GENERAL COLLECTOR FOR THE RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

The Difference Between the Relief Association and the Organized Aid Association—They Work Together Successful.

Miss Pray, for years the valued superintendent of the employment bureau of the Relief Association, has recently received the appointment of general collector.

The officers and managers cordially commend Miss Pray to the interest of the residents of Plainfield and bespeak for her a kindly reception when she solicits contributions for the work she so thoroughly understands from her long connection with the Association.

A word of explanation seems needed in regard to the work of the Relief Association and of the work of the Organized Aid. Some people think that when contributing to one they are giving to both organizations. Such is not the case.

The work of the Organized Aid, done by the agent, Mrs. Woodruff, is the work of visitation, investigation and registration of all cases brought to the notice of the agent. It expends between seven and eight hundred dollars a year for office expenses, operating expenses, printing of reports, etc.

The Relief Association, through its executive committee and corps of visitors, consulting constantly with Mrs. Woodruff, using her knowledge of individual cases, decides as to the help to be given which is always by giving work, (payment for which is never given in money) unless illness or old age renders work impossible. Work may be done by men in the wood yard or by women in the rooms of the employment bureau in sewing, ripping and making over garments from the second hand clothing bureau, cutting rags for carpets, and cleaning the rooms, etc.

The two associations are mutually helpful and both deserve the hearty support of the citizens of Plainfield.

A PLUM FOR CODDING.

The Westfield Politician Appointed Deputy Supreme Court Clerk

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, May 5—Chas. N. Codding, the ex Assemblyman and at present chairman of the Union Republican Company, was yesterday appointed Deputy Supreme Court Clerk in place of Senator E. C. Stokes, who resigned to take the presidency of the Mechanics' National Bank of Trenton. The office pays $3,000 a year. The term is at the pleasure of the Supreme Court Clerk.

Mr. Codding was a member of the House of Assembly in 1894 and '95 and since that time has been active in the lobby, representing large trolley and telephone interests. He is very close to Senator Kean, who has had extensive trolley interests to be cared for in the Legislature.

To Aid the Monument Fund.

Tomorrow evening in the Camera Club rooms an illustrated lecture will be given for the benefit of the soldier's monument fund. The pictures will show much of interest regarding the recent war and anyone wishing to assist a good cause and also spend a pleasant evening can do so by their presence. Tickets can be purchased at the local drug stores and from the monument committee.

A NEW METHOD OF TEACHING ARITHMETIC.

To be Adopted in the Plainfield Public Schools.

HAS BEEN A GREAT SUCCESS

DESIGNED ESPECIALLY FOR USE IN THE PRIMARY GRADES.

Miss Sumner, Principal of One of the Chicago Schools, Has Been Instructing the Local Teachers in the New Speer Method of Instruction — It Appeals to the Young Pupils' Senses

The success of the Speer method of teaching arithmetic in Chicago has caused other cities to adopt that method as well. Superintendent H. M. Maxon, of the Plainfield Public school, has looked into the method and is so pleased with it that he will probably put the new methods into use next year. The Speer method of teaching affects only the work in the primary grades but enables the children there to grasp the principles more surely and do work really difficult for older pupils taught by the old method.

Mr. Maxson saw the workings of the Speer method under the direction of Miss Sumner, principal of one of the Chicago public schools, and was so pleased with the results that he made arrangements to have Miss Sumner come to Plainfield and instruct the teachers here in her methods.

Miss Sumner came to Plainfield and spent Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, visiting the schools and meeting the teachers twice each day, giving them talks on arithmetic and the general methods for brightening primary work. Miss Ida F. Rocap was present from the local private schools at these talks.

The distinctive feature of the Speer method of work is in its appeal to the child's senses. He is trained from the start to recognize the difference in sizes of objects, to estimate the proportion between them as the basis for the exercise of his judgment and gaining a knowledge of the combinations of numbers. The whole work aims to train the child in sharpness and quickness of observation, both in seeing and in touch and also in hearing.

The teachers were very much pleased with the methods presented by Miss Sumner. Mr. Maxson has already been experimenting with some of the workings of the methods and will probably put them in use in the coming year.

DR. KELLOGG KILLED.

A Well-Known Missionary and a Brother of E. P. Kellogg, of Park Avenue.

Dr. Samuel Henry Kellogg, the American Presbyterian missionary, who is reported to have been killed while on a cycling trip through the Himalayas by falling over a precipice, was a brother of E. P. Kellogg, who lives on Park avenue just across the city line.

Robert E. Speer, the secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, has received no information concerning the death of Dr. Kellogg, who has been stationed in India since 1865.

From 1865 to 1871 Dr. Kellogg was stationed at Futtehguhr, when he removed to Allahabad. Since early in 1893 he lived at Landour, North India, where he devoted his attention to the translation of the Old Testament into Hindustani. Dr. Kellogg was an author of great attainments, his best known work being "The Jews; or, Prediction and Fulfillment."

To Assist the Dr. French Memorial.

The monthly business meeting and sociable of the Christian Endeavor society of the Park Avenue Baptist church was held last night at the home of Miss Laura Runyon, of West Fourth street. This society decided to purchase one share of stock in the new memorial home that is to be erected near Orange in memory of Dr. French. The share will cost $10, and all the members of the society will be expected to share in the expense.

Busy Bees Were Sociable.

The Busy Bee Club of the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church gave a concert last night in the church, consisting of vocal and instrumental music. There was a violin solo by Edward Blair, and vocal solos by William Groves, Miss Soulder, and a duet by Mrs. May Henry and Miss Bertha Groves. Prof. Bolden also entertained them with some sleight of hand tricks.

Officer McCue on Duty Again.

Officer McCue is back on duty again after being ill for three weeks. Officer Flanagan, who has been doing duty on Park avenue and Front street in McCue's place, has been sent back to the West End.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple but Safe and Effectual Cure For It.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases causing a pressure on the heart and lungs, and difficult breathing; headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surface of the stomach. To secure prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanson the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic, Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. N. J. Booher, of 2710 Dearborn street, Chicago, Ill., says: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of the stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

Send for little book, mailed free, on stomach troubles, by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. The tablets can be found at all drug stores.

KAUTZ HUMBLES MATAAFA

Threat of Attack by American and British Forces Persuaded Him to Retire.

KAUTZ SENDS CABLE.

Navy Department at Washington Received a Cipher Message—Contents Not Yet Translated.

The German Planter on Whose Estate the Recent Ambush of Americans and British Occurred is Still Under Restraint on Board the German War Vessel—Everything is Quiet.

Auckland, New Zealand, May 5.—The Government steamer Tutanekai has arrived here from Samoa with despatches anouncing that the request of the International Commissioners that the inhabitants peacefully await the arrival of the Commissioners, who are now on their way to the islands from San Francisco, has been without result.

Admiral Kautz, U. S. N., and Capt. Stuart, of the British cruiser Tauranga, sent a French priest to Mataafa, ordering him to withdraw his forces outside of a line ten miles long and six miles broad.

Mataafa replied defiantly, refusing to withdraw unless the German Consul and the captain of the German cruiser Falke agreed. Admiral Kautz and Capt. Stuart thereupon sent an ultimatum to Mataafa, threatening to compel the withdrawal of his forces.

In support of this ultimatum a plan of action was decided upon. Lieutenant Gaunt's Brigade was strengthened a heavy gun was landed at Mulinu, and war-rockets were gotten in readiness. Being informed of these preparations, Mataafa made prompt reply, agreeing to withdraw immediately.

On April 25 an important meeting of King Malietoa and his chiefs was held. They were informed of the action that had been taken by the British and American Naval Commanders, and gave it general approval.

Lieutenant Gaunt's Brigade is now patrolling the prescribed area.

King Malietoa Tanu visited Admiral Kautz and Captain Stuart on board the American and English ships, respectively, and was received with the customary salutes on his arrival and departure. Hufnagel, the manager of the plantation upon which an attack was made on British and American sailors, resulting in the death of Lieut. Freeman, of the British Navy; Lieut. Lansdale and Ensign John R. Monaghan, of the United States cruiser Philadelphia, and two others, is still detained on board the German warship Falke.

On April 23 there was some bush fighting. Lieut. Gaunt's Brigade, numbering nine hundred men, advanced under a hot fire. The enemy lost several men, the bodies of the dead being dragged away.

Of the friendlies one was killed and three were wounded. The British Lieuts. Innes, Hickman, Shuter and Heathcote, under Lieut. Gaunt, led the loyalists.

The rebel loss by the shelling of the Mataafan stronghold at Vailima by the warships of Great Britain and the United States was quite heavy Many of the rebels were wounded.

The house in which the late Robert Louis Stevenson lived was riddled with shot.

On April 22 there was a sharp skirmish between rebels and Lieut Gaunt's Brigade near the town of Vailima in which one Mataafan was killed.

The lines of the friendlies were attacked in the darkness at two points, but none of them were killed.

Auckland, N. Z., May 5.—A despatch from Apia says that in consequence of the attitude of Mataafa, the rebel chief, who, in response to Anglo-American pressure, threatened hostilities, the British and Americans have agreed to an armistice pending the arrival of the joint Samoan Commissioners who are en route from San Francisco.

Berlin, May 5.—The "National Zeitung" publishes a despatch dated Apia, April 22, which says: "Orders from London and Washington to suspend hostilities have brought tranquility and peace. In compliance with the demand of the German Consul, Mataafa has gone back a long distance westward into the interior, so there is no danger of a collision with his troops. We Germans, of course, are satisfied that our patience and impartiality have finally triumphed after all."

The Cologne "Gazette" says that by reason of the suspension of hostilities the situation in Samoa has become exceedingly grave. Indeed, the present tension has no precedent in the history of the Anglo-American disturbance.

Washington, May 5.—The following despatch from Rear Admiral Kautz describing conditions in Samoa, was received and made public by the Navy Department to-day:

"Apia, April 27.

via Auckland, New Zealand, May 5.
"Secretary of the Navy, Washington.

"All quiet at Apia. Mataafa and his chief * * * agreed to keep outside line prescribed by British senior officer present, and * * * aid to * * * peace until Commission * * *. There will not be more fighting. KAUTZ."

The Navy Department officers say that the omissions marked by asterisks in the body of the despatch, as translated from the original cipher message, represent undecipherable words and do not mean that some thing has been withheld from the public.

In the light of press despatches, however, the message is thoroughly understood by the officers. It is evident that one of the undecipherable code symbols is "armistice," making it clear that Mataafa and his chiefs (sent "chief" in the despatch) have agreed to a suspension of hostilities until the international Commission reaches Apia. This information is very gratifying to the Government, and the authorities are now apparently satisfied that there will be no further bloodshed.

They are naturally greatly relieved over the prospect of a restoration of peace. It has been feared all along that the conflict between the British and American forces on one hand and the Mataafas on the other might result in a collision involving Germany Now, however, the chances of such an unfortunate occurence have been greatly lessened.

There was nothing in that part of the despatch which the code experts of the Navy Department succeeded in deciphering to confirm the press reports that the Germans refused to sanction the armistice. It is possible that one of the untranslatable cipher words may have represented a phrase containing that information, but the naval authorities do not think so, and are satisfied that they fully understand the contents of the message.

UNDER MARTIAL LAW.

The Governor of Idaho Issues a Proclamation—142 Alleged Rioters Under Arrest.

Boise, Idaho, May 5.—Gov. Steunenberg issued his proclamation declaring Shoshone County, the scene of the recent miners' riots, under martial law.

Spokane, Wash., May 5.—The Idaho State authorities, assisted by Federal officers and regular troops, are proceeding vigorously to restore order in territory affected by the recent miners' riots. The leaders in the disturbances are being arrested by scores, 142 men being prisoners in the hands of United States Marshal Ramsey last night.

Capture of Santo Tomas.

Manila, May 5.—Word has just come from the front that General Wheaton's brigade captured Santo Tomas after hard fighting, the insurgents resisting desperately.

Santo Tomas is about five miles northwest of Calumpit, where General Luna's new headquarters are.

When the American soldiers finally entered the town they found that the enemy had evacuated, first setting fire to many houses, so that the entire town was in flames.

The troops engaged were the Kansas and Montana regiments and the Utah battery and Nebraska, South Dakota and Iowa regiments.

The rebels made their principal stand at a bridge four miles this side of Santo Tomas.

There Aguinaldo's men were assembled in force and they desperately fought the advance of the American troops.

When they were finally driven away and the bridge carried by assault, the insurgents lost heart and fled through the town, which they had first set afire.

General Hale is now pursuing the insurgents toward San Fernando, and Summer's brigade of Lawton's command is now advancing northward toward Maasin.

Reed and Croker in England.

Southampton, May 5.—The steamship New York has arrived

Richard Croker's health is much improved, and the carbuncle from which he was suffering when he left New York, is now practically well.

Mr. Croker said to a correspondent that he would remain in England until the season closed. He had had an enjoyable trip. He felt at home in England, he said, and expected to have the same pleasant time as on the occasion of previous visits here.

TOM REED IS ANGRY

Southampton, May 5.—Speaker Thos. B. Reed, who arrived on the liner New York, was shown a cablegram, in which it was stated that he had not resigned his post as Speaker of the House of Representatives, and that he may be a candidate for the Presidency. Mr. Reed expressed great indignation, and said that he regretted that people could not leave his affairs alone. He had come here, he said, away from newspapers, for absolute repose. With his family he was going to Winchester and Salisbury and thence to Paris. Ex-Speaker Reed is in excellent health. He had great luck at poker on the voyage, cleaning everybody out.

Victim of Buffalo Dock Row.

Buffalo, May 5.—Michael McNamara, 60 years old, the grain shoveller who was sandbagged in Elk street on Tuesday night, died at the Fitch Hospital. This is the first death due to the violence along the docks of Buffalo this season. William Kennedy, the boss scooper, who was shot on Tuesday, will recover.

There was no trouble around the docks to-day. A strong force of police is on duty there, a new station having been established at the foot of Michigan street.

The members of the State Board of Arbitration have arrived here to investigate the situation. Contractor Conners has gained a point by the action of the Lake Carriers' Association, which, through its Executive Committee, has adopted resolutions to stand by him. Mr. Conners obtained the Police Department permission for his foremen to carry revolvers while at work on the docks.

Advertising in Sunday Papers.

Charleston, W. Va. May 5.—A decision of considerable moment to West Virginia newspapers has been rendered by Judge Guthrie of the Circuit Court, who holds that legal advertisetions do not hold good in law.

In the Davis-Swann land case, involving much property, one of the parties to the suit contended that a notice published in a Charleston Sunday paper was not legal. Judge Guthrie so decided the case and upon this decision a former decree was set aside.

Attorney-General Rucker of West Virginia refused to pay an account of 50 cents claimed for subscription to the West Virginia Herald on the ground that delivery of the paper was irregular. The case was fought out in court by two attorneys for each litigant, and the Attorney-General won the suit.

Additional Casualties.

Washington, May 5.—Gen. Otis cabled to the War Department the following list of casualties not heretofore reported:

"Killed—4th Cavalry, April 23, K, Corporal John Golambeski. Wounded—K, Privates James F. McGreevy, hand, slight.

"First Nebraska, May 1, C, Private Paul Ossowiski, hand, severe, accidental; 4th, F, Private John D. Keeney, hand, severe, accidental; April 23, I, Privates Charles Schaffer, leg, slight; K, William S. Gilbert, thigh, slight; Leo Hunter, hip, slight. "OTIS."

FIGHTING IN PHILIPPINES

Three Fierce Battles, at as Many Different Points, Fought by Troops.

COL. FUNSTON WOUNDED

Lawton's Division Charged Enemy, Driving Them Northward, Inflicting Great Loss.

MacArthur's Command Found Filipinos Entrenched and Led by Luna—Hale's and Wheaton's Brigades Do Effective Work and Dislodge Native Forces—Delayed by Partially Destroyed Bridge.

Washington, May 5.—News of hard fighting by Lawton's division north of Calumpit reached the War Department in the following despatch from Gen. Otis:

"Adjutant-General, Washington:

"Col. Summers, with six battalions Oregon, Dakota, 3d Infantry and piece Utah Light artillery of Lawton's division proceeded north this morning to Maasin. Crossed river, charged enemy in strong intrenchments, driving him northward and inflicting considerable loss. His casualties, two wounded. Both Wheaton and Hale of MacArthur's division found enemy in force strongly entrenched and commanded by Commander-in-chief Luna about four miles south San Fernando. Hale, on right, dislodged enemy and Wheaton, on left, leading in person, made a brilliant charge, scattering his forces and inflicting great punishment. Several officers and enlisted men seriously wounded. MacArthur proceeds to San Fernando in morning. Delayed by partial destruction of bridge across river. Not believed enemy will make another determined stand until he effects retreat to Mount Arayat, short distance from San Isidro. OTIS."

Manila, May 5.—Three fierce battles, at as many different points, were fought yesterday by the troops under General Otis. In one of them General Funston, the gallant commander of the Kansas volunteers, was wounded in the head while leading his men in a charge.

The most spectacular and surprising battle of the day, was fought in the unexpected quarter of Malate, south of Manila. The natives have been gathering there in force, and from 2,000 their numbers have been increasing in the last few days until they now have 9,000 men south and east of Manila.

The natives attempted to force the lines of General Ovenshine.

The Filipinos charged forward through mud knee deep. The Americans opened fire near the shore opposite Paranque.

Soon the whole line was engaged, and after half an hour's fighting the Americans drove them back.

Washington May 5.—The War Department received from Gen. Otis a long despatch describing the situation with reference to the movements against the enemy. He made no mention of the capture of Santo Tomas, five miles northwest of Calumpit, but later information is expected any time.

Gen. Otis says: "Situation as follows: Lawton holds Balinag, captured second instant after rapid movement from Aguat, where supplied with wagon train, packed animals and rations; he scattered the strongly entrenched enemy to the north and northwestward, capturing large amounts food supplies, and has his detachments to north and eastward; his successful movements attended with great difficulty, because of character of country, rain and heat; he now covers our railway communication, and will be supplied from Malolos; MacArthur's column, concentrated, took up advance on San Fernando at 6:30 this morning; do not apprehend stout resistance on part of enemy, who will probably leave railroad and retire in north-easterly direction to north of Lawton; destruction of railroad near Calumpit necessitates dependence on wagon transportation; enemy to south and east of Manila, about 9,000, opposed by sufficient force under Ovenshine and Hall; his demonstrations thus far promptly met by these officers, with slight losses. Many requests received from outlying cities for protection against insurgent troops.

In the opinion of the officers of the War Department there are two or three distinct sources of encouragement to be found in advices from Gen. Otis. Perhaps the most significant fact brought out in the despatch is that Lawton's division will now be supplied with food and ammunition by railroad.

For more than a week there has been no little anxiety on account of the difficulty of communication between Lawton's force and the main base of supplies. On one or two occasions food has been sent forward by wagon trains under a heavy guard, and these expeditions have always been attended with great danger.

Not only has there been constant danger of an attack by insurgent bands on the way, but the routs traveled has led through one of the most difficult regions in the whole island of Luzon. It is good news which Otis reports in the words: "He (Lawton) now covers our railway communication and will be suplied from Malolos." The railroad near Calumpit has, however, been destroyed and wagon transportation has to be maintained there. But it is probable that before long it will be possible to repair the line.

Significance is attached to the concluding statement of Gen. Otis's message that many requests are being received from outlying cities for protection against insurgent troops. This is takin in official quarters as an indication that in some places at least the insurgent campaign is not meeting with unanimous sympathy and support.

Very little is said at the War Department in explanation of the present movements of Lawton and MacArthur. While there is a disinclination to discuss the strategic plans of our military commanders in detail, it is understood that the general purpose is to continue the effort to cut off the retreat of Aguinaldo's forces to the north and east.

The latest position captured by Gen. Lawton is recognized as forming an important step toward that end.

"I HAVE BEEN ON THE MINSTREL STAGE FOR FORTY YEARS, and although I am sixty-two years old am in almost perfect health. Time has not sat lightly upon my shoulders and my profession is one that causes a great strain on its members, both physically and mentally. From a physical standpoint I am younger than I was ten years ago. Then I could neither sleep nor eat well and indigestion was constantly with me. I lost flesh and my nervous condition was very bad. This condition was brought about by the irregular living that almost every member of the theatrical profession is subjected to. Road life is both unpleasant and menacing to health. Sitting in sleepers, often sitting up half the night to make a train, eating hurried meals at railroad lunch counters, as well as eating the heavy and often improperly cooked food served up at hotels in small towns, coupled with the hard and wearing work incidental to the profession, all combine to wreck one's nerves and stomach. Such was my condition. My nerves were unstrung and at times I thought I had no stomach. I was in almost constant pain and was forced to diet, limiting myself to the simplest and most easily digested dishes. Last August, after having suffered in this manner for over nine years, I was at Asbury Park. The change did not benefit me as I expected, but instead I had a severe attack of nervous prostration. A friend advised me to try Ripans Tabules, saying he had used them and found much relief. I was very skeptical, not believing that they could have any good effect on such a severe case as mine, but I tried them. Much to my surprise I was relieved at once. I continued to take one a day and sometimes two, and within a few weeks was almost well. I gained in flesh, was able to sleep quietly and refreshingly, and eat heartily and enjoyably of almost any dish I fancied. My nervous condition was broken up and strengthened, and before cool weather came I felt as well as I ever did. The promptness with which Ripans Tabules relieved is astonishing. They tone one's entire system and not only put one in good condition but keep him so. I recommend Ripans to every one, and especially to members of the profession."

WANTED:—A case of bad health that R·I·P·A·N·S will not benefit. Send five cents to Ripans Chemical Co., No. 10 Spruce Street, New York, for 10 samples and 1,000 testimonials. One gives relief. Note the word R·I·P·A·N·S on the packet. Accept no substitute.

PLUMB PERFECTLY CALM.

The Man Who Shot Masterton Seems Like One Having Gratified Ambition.

HE REFUSES TO TALK.

His Lawyer Thinks His Mind Unbalanced From Brooding Over His Wrongs.

The Long and Carefully Composed Typewritten Statement Was Copied Ten Days Ago, But Copyist Had No Idea Her Work Foreshadowed a Crime—Seemed Perfectly Sane—Work Confidential.

New York, May 5.—Perfectly calm and self-possessed, as one who has satisfied his life's ambition and now rests from his labors, James Neale Plumb, who shot to death the millionaire banker, Alexander Masterton, spent the day in his cell on Murderers' Row, in the Tombs, quietly reading the papers or napping on his cot. He had told his story, and so to the reporters he had nothing to say. "I am sorry," he wrote, "but by advice of counsel I have nothing to say.

Keeper Thomas Gilbert, who watched his new ward with more than usual interest, said that Plumb seemed perfectly contented. At 9 o'clock he retired for the night and soon afterward dropped into a profound sleep from which he did not awaken until 7 o'clock. He ate a light breakfast, declined an invitation to exercise, and again called for the papers.

Henry Thompson, of No. 2 Wall street, who for the past ten years has conducted Plumb's interests in the numerous litigations set forth in his client's long typewritten statements of the motive of the crime, said that he had no doubt that Plumb's mind had become unbalanced.

Mr. Thompson expressed himself as shocked by the affair, but scarcely surprised.

"I should not have been surprised," said the lawyer, "if he had shot Masterton at any time during the past ten years previous to the decision of the courts in his favor and against the daughter, who at Masterton's instigation, sued her father for an accounting of her mother's estate. This was in 1888, when she came of age. Mr. Plumb seemed half frenzied at the thought that a child of his should have gone to his enemy for advice. His accounts were found to be all right though and he won the suit.

Mr. Thompson said that Masterton had not broken up Plumb's home, but in many ways had seemingly persecuted him. When asked if he had had any intimation of Plumb's intentions or the typewritten annal of his grievances, he said that he had not.

"The document was written," he said, "wholly without my knowledge or consent. As to the motives, they have, I think, been correctly stated. Of this much I am positive—there was no question of money involved. I do not know at present just what Mr. Plumb's financial status is, but he certainly was not in financial distress.

"When Mrs. Plumb died, in 1877, she left her husband $5,000. She left him no more because he so requested it, for fear that his father's creditors would try to hold him as a partner in his father's business in order to seize such of the estate as might be left him. The $5,000 he used in putting a memorial window to his wife into a church on Long Island. Her appointment of Masterton as guardian of the children's interest was done at Plumb's request."

The long and carefully composed typewritten statement in which Plumb recited in minutest detail his reasons for taking the life of Masterton were copied ten days ago from Plumb's own manuscript at No. 71 Broadway, in the office of Miss Laura Rosenfield, a stenographer. This manuscript contained about 20,000 words and showed every evidence of careful preparation. The two shorter statements, which recited the same facts in less detail, were evidently prepared from this longer document.

The titles of the statements were not typewritten, and so nothing was known of them by the Misses Rosenfield. Mr. Plumb himself wrote in ink on the cover of the shorter statements the words, "Why I, J. Neal Plumb, shot Alexander Masterton," and the part ending the statement, in which he says he was the chosen instrument in God's hands to kill Masterton was also written in ink, so that the typewriters did not forsee a murder.

Miss Rosenfield said that she noticed the statement when it went out, because of the strong language used, but had no idea of its seriousness. The work done in the typewriting office is confidential, and she, of course, did not mention the matter to anybody.

She said that Plumb, when he came to the office to have his work done, and later to get it, did not appear excited, and she did not get the impression that he was insane. He appeared to her just as other business men who get their work done, pay for it and go away.

Takes Refuge in a Mine.

Punxsutawney, Pa., May 5.—Isaac Lewis, the negro who took refuge in an old coal mine here to escape arrest for shooting Constable Frank McClure of Lindsey, has not been captured. Every outlet to the mine is guarded, and Lewis must soon surrender or die of starvation. McClure's injuries may prove mortal. Lewis will be punished speedily if caught, but there is no danger of a lynching. His companion, who is known as Black Diamond, was caught at the entrance to the mine and taken to jail.

May Make Son Cuba's Head.

Havana, May 5.—The widow of Carlos Manuel de Cespedes y Quesada, first president of the Cuban Republic, the most prominent social figure in native society, will, it is believed, succeed in having her son, who bears his father's name, elected to the chief magistracy of the new Republic. Mme. Cespedes has a salon here. Entree to her house is considered a great honor. General Gomez and all the leading Cubans frequently visit Mme. Cespedes.

The New Jersey National Guard is now undergoing reorganization.

Examine the new oil cloth on the kitchen floor; its color and gloss are being destroyed and you may see where a cake of common soap fresh from the hot water in the scrubbing bucket has been laid on it for a moment, the free alkali having eaten an impression of the cake into the bright colors.

A more careful examination will show small "pin holes" here and there where the alkali has cut through the surface to soak into and gradually weaken the whole floor covering.

This is what cheap soaps do. Use Ivory Soap, it will not injure.

IVORY SOAP IS 99 44/100 PER CENT. PURE.

AMERICAN BRIDGE FOR INDIA

Pennsylvania Steel Company Working on a $700,000 Contract.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 5.—The Pennsylvania Steel Company has given the English bridge manufacturers another twinge. Once more the bridge builders of Great Britain have been defeated on their own ground and in open competition with the Americans. This time it is not the Soudan, where the Phoenix Bridge Company distanced the English bidders in competition for a bridge, but in India, where the Pennsylvania Steel Company will construct one of the largest viaducts in the world for the Burmah Railway Company ,at a cost of $700,000.

This contract has recently been closed, the India company preferring the American bidder for the better price, time and the plan of construction. Already the work on the materials for the great undertaking has been begun in the bridge and construction department of the Pennsylvania company at Steelton. The viaduct will be 2,260 feet long and 320 feet high and will span the mighty Gokteik gorge eighty miles east of Mandalay. This gorge is one of nature's wonders. The river cleaves the mountain and flows under a natural bridge, which will form the foundation for the steel structure of the viaduct. The river washes the base of a cliff 500 feet below the natural bridge.

Steel towers will be erected at intervals of 125 feet, and 5,000 tons of steel will be necessary to complete the work. Half the material will be shipped in August and the construction of the viaduct will be begun at the close of the rainy season in November. The Pennsylvania company will send its own men to do the work.

Heirs to a Rich Estate.

Wheeling, W. Va. May 5.—A novel suit has been entered to wind up the estate in Marshall county of Alexander Caldwell, who died intestate half a century ago, leaving six large tracts of land to which he had secured Government patents in 1840. The land lies in northern West Virginia, and after the owner's death no attempt was made to close the affairs of the estate. Heirs multiplied, and now more than 100 of them have been discovered living in West Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. As the property is in the Washington, Pa., and Sistersville oil belts, it has appreciated in value until its mineral wealth can hardly be estimated. The heirs talk of forming a large company for the purpose of developing its oil and coal resources.

Speed of an Earthquake.

The course which an earthquake runs is usually very rapid. From the instant when the first shock was felt at Lisbon to the period when all was over, and many thousands of people killed, not more than two minutes had elapsed. Usually from ten to thirty seconds elapsed between the first and last shocks of severe earthquake. But this lightning speed is not always the earthquake's mode of traveling. While Caracas, in Venezuela, was almost totally destroyed and 12,000 people were killed in less than twenty seconds by the great shock there many years back, there are cases in which constantly recurring shocks have lasted for weeks. No matter how brief the span, the most frightful havoc can be wrought and the wave of destruction propagated from the most distant regions. The rumbling earth-sound travels at the rate of about 10,000 to 11,000 feet per second, and the earth wave, on an average, about 1,200 feet in the same space of time.

Salaries of Presidents.

Very few persons would suspect how small the salaries of presidents of republics are, when the enormous sums crowned heads receive are taken into consideration. The foreigner often thinks the $50,000 salary of the President of the United States is merely a joke, and that he receives ten times as much in reality, but the same foreigner may not know that the French President, in a country where the wealthiest monachs once reigned, receives only $120,000 a year. The President of the little Andorra Republic contents himself with a salary of $15 a year, and the President of the Swiss Republic must be satisfied with $3,000

Demagnetizing a Watch.

A simple method of curing a magnetized watch consists in hanging it from a string, which latter is twisted as tightly as possible, and then holding the string and watch near a dynamo or strong magnet. The watch is then released, and, of course, begins to spin, and while doing so is gradually carried away from the dynamo and out of the magnetic field. The demagnetization is due to the rapid alternations of the poles of the magnetized parts in a magnetic field that is decreasing in intensity.

THE LATEST NEWS.

A PROSPECTIVE BRIDEGROOM DEAD.

Greenville, S. C., May 5.—News reached here from Glendale of a murder mystery involving a pretty girl, a disappointed suitor, the father of the girl and the death of the prospective bridegroom.

Louis McAbe, Tom Smith and Rowland Black left their homes to bathe in the river. They had not been gone long until the news began to spread that young Black had been drowned. Foul play was suspected, and it was decided to hold an inquest. The postmortem examination revealed the fact that young Black's neck was broken and signs of finger prints were on his throat. The jury's verdict was "murder," and McAbe and Smith were hustled off to jail. Black was to have married McAbe's daughter on May 10. It is said that McAbe was opposed to the match, and it is charged that this was a prearranged plan to get Black out of the way. Smith also wanted to marry the girl.

TRIED TO BURN UP THE CHURCH.

New Haven, Conn., May 5.—A mysterious attempt was made to burn Christ Church, Centreville. A fire blazed up under the belfry stairway and the door was broken open by a crowd of villagers. A hundred willing hands extinguished the flames by forming a bucket brigade. The fire was found to be of incendiary origin. Oil had been poured over the carpets of the church, ruining them.

Christ Church society has been in a state of turmoil ever since charges of immorality were preferred against its pastor, the Rev William H. Bean. He has not been seen in Centreville for some time till last night. He departed after the fire and was not at his lodgings in this city to-day.

MOTHER DROWNS SELF AND CHILD.

New York, May 5.—Ill unto death with consumption and at odds with all the world, Anne Sakariasen took her little boy, three and a half years old, whom she had just learned also was afflicted with the same disease, to the beach at Barretto's Point, 156th street and East River, and there committed homicide and suicide by drowning herself and her child. Not far from the place, their bodies were found. The mother had been washed ashore on the rocky point just below, while the child had been carried near 138th street. The autopsy of Deputy Coroner Geary left no doubt that the cause of death was drowning.

SHOT SWEETHEART AND HIMSELF.

New York, May 5.—In a paroxysm of jealous rage, Thomas McGrath shot Jennie Coyle four times in the hallway of her father's house, killing her. Then he tried to kill himself. He sent his last bullet into his head. It is possible he may recover.

McGrath is 18 years old and a butcher, but has been idle since the mustering out of the Twenty-second regiment, in which he served as a private during the war. He was introduced to the Coyle family by George Allen, a brother-in-law of the girl he killed, and for four months he boarded with them in Thirty-fifth street, near Tenth avenue.

HIS ACTING WAS TOO REALISTIC.

Belleville, N. J., May 5.—There was great applause when the curtain went down on the last act of "The Veteran," a play presented by amateurs in Belleville Hall, for the climax was the shooting of a British spy by an American patriot. It was very realistic more so than the audience dreamed, for in his zeal one of the actors, Martin Jordan, who was the patriot, had forgotten that it was only a show, and thrust his revolver so close to the face of the spy, Samuel Hughes, that the exploding powder burned Hughes's eye and cheek, severely injuring him. The young man's sight in the injured eye may be destroyed forever.

BRIGGS WILL BE ORDAINED PRIEST.

New York, May 5.—Dr. Charles A. Briggs is to be ordained as a priest in the Protestant Episcopal Church on Sunday, May 14. He has at no time expressed any intention of withdrawing his application for holy orders; Bishop Potter has never suggested or intimated that such withdrawal should be made because of the ecclesiastical controversy which has arisen about Dr. Briggs's latest contribution to theological literature, and the Union Theological Seminary, in which Dr. Briggs is a prominent factor, has not suffered from any action of his or any of his utterances, oral or written.

FLOATED DOWN A SEWER TO DEATH.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 5.—Rufus Winston and James A. Williamson, plumbers, had an awful experience in a Broad street sewer, which cost them their lives. The men entered a manhole at Fifth street to repair a private sewer. Thirty minutes later a heavy rain fell. The sewer was soon flooded and the men were carried five blocks to the Tennessee River. An alarm was given, the sewer broken open near the river bank, but nothing could be seen of the missing men. Their bodies have not been recovered.

LAWYER WILE IS STILL LIVING.

Chicago, May 5.—David J. Wile, the lawyer who was shot in a house on Wabash avenue by Mabel Burke, who, it appears, he had deceived into believing that he was a single man when in fact he was married, is still alive. It is said that he will probably recover unless blood poisoning sets in.

TEETH.

If you have any to be extracted remember you will not be hurt in the slightest. My local anæsthetic is the best that can be obtained and is not known to the other dentists in this city. Gas strictly fresh administered by an expert if you want that. If you need artificial teeth you may rest assured that the greatest care will be exercised in selecting shape and color to harmonize with the face, also to restore the features to their natural expression and fullness. This is most important.

Freight on the Trolley Roads.

Though nearly every city in which electric street railways operate have clauses in ordinances providing against the use of the trolley lines for carrying freight or express matter, the time will undoubtedly come when the roads will be put to such uses. It can be depended upon that at the opportune time local authorities will be asked to authorize changes in ordinances needed to make such traffic possible, and if there is any reluctancy on the part of the former the corporations will probably exert their usual influences with fair chances of success.

In sparsely settled districts the use of the trolley roads for the carriage of express and freight matter would undoubtedly be a great convenience to the people living along the various routes, inasmuch as the facilities afforded by steam railroads for such transportation are now accompanied with considerable inconvenience and expense to the rural resident in transferring his consignments from depots to their homes. On the other hand the trolley would be able to deliver consignments almost to the very doors of the people it would serve.

It would not only be a good thing for the country resident, but an advantageous system for merchants in towns out of which trolley roads run. The opportunity to use the trolley lines for the carrying of small parcels would tend to stimulate trade in the sense of making purchases more frequent and in the long run would increase the bulk of goods purchased.

Already in some cities the trolley roads are being put to such uses. For several years there has been freight and express cars run on the trolley road between Albany and Troy, and they do a very large business, and the same service has been instituted in Pittsburg recently. Whether or not the trolley companies are compelled to pay those cities anything in the way of benefits for the privilege of such a service we do not know, but it is certain that they ought to, because it means a great increase in their profits.

AMERICAN AND ENGLISH SAMOAN COMMISSIONERS.
There is little likelihood that the incidents connected with the Samoan trouble will cause an open rupture. It is believed at Washington that the commissioners of the three governments will be able to arrange satisfactory settlement. Mr. Elliott is the English commissioner, Mr. Tripp the American and Baron Speck von Sternberg the German.

The debt of cities of New Jersey is shown by facts and figures compiled by the Bureau of Statistics and Labor to be in the aggregate $69,870,094, an increase of nearly $20,000,000 over 1890. Over $50,000,000 of the gross debt is due by Hudson and Essex counties, and the sinking funds of all municipalities amount to only $8,685,493. While all the counties but Union, Burlington, Hunterdon and Middlesex show more or less increase of indebtedness since 1880, the increase in the seashore counties is noticeably large. Atlantic jumps from a per capita debt of $2 66 in 1880 to $31.21 last year, and Cape May increased from $9 77 to $19.75. The Paterson Press thinks that the cause of this great increase in these counties is the betterment of the famous seaside resorts of Atlantic City and Cape May, which are now provided with all the public utilities which tend to make cities grow and prosper.

At last! At last! The Hon. Charles N. Codding, he of the pure white smile of Westfield and of the Union County Republican Committee, has found a birth. Yesterday he was appointed Deputy Supreme Court Clerk at a salary of $3,000 per year. It would seem that, when accompanied with the proper pull, all things come to him who waits for political plums. This appointment doubtless means the graduation of the Hon. Mr. Codding from the Third House at Trenton during the Legislative session. Let us hope so at any rate.

If Princeton University finds it difficult to secure a capable person to occupy the chair of politics to be established there, we know of several right here in Plainfield who are up in all the practical sides of the political business and might possibly be induced to serve. For fear of being accused of favoritism we decline to give names.

The trouble growing out of the Republican appointee to the Somerville postoffice still forms a dark cloud to hover over the Somerset G. O. P. The anti Reedites are urging the name of James V. Smith for the place. Congressman Howell has got a hard job on his hands in trying to make a satisfactory selection to the politicians.

The Somerville Unionist-Gazette this week issues its "Annual" calendar, which, though slightly belated in appearance, is none the less complete with statistical and interesting information concerning New Jersey and Somerset county. The "Annual" reflects credit upon the publisher and editor of the Unionist-Gazette.

What we would like to know is what chances a pickpocket will have when the condition of the sexes is reversed and the women carry the cash and valuables in their pockets? None of the light-fingered gentry will ever be able to find a pocket in a woman's dress.

The time will soon be here when it will be well for the property owner, in making a price on his property, to know whether he is talking to a real estate speculator or a tax assessor.

Missouri goes to one extreme in dealing with trusts and New Jersey to the other, but Missouri comes the nearest being right.

The general results of cut-rate wars between corporations dealing in public commodities are seldom of benefit to the people.

Many a man who falls in with a friend gets up to the neck in trouble.

—The Woman's Relief Corps will hold their regular meeting this evening.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

If Justice Nixon's decision in the Gilhooly case is not reversed it practically annuls the Veteran act. Gilhooly's job as a bridge superintedent was desired by the Hudson County Freeholders. Gilhooly is a veteran and evidently performed his public services properly, although he did not vote right. He was fired, shunted, put out and away from his job. He appealed to the courts, and is now told that a veteran "has no more right to a position than any other man." Champions of the Veteran act must get together.—New York Press.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

Hon. Herbert Bowen who has been appointed minister to Persia, is a son of the late Henry C. Bowen, founder of the Independent, and was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1856. He entered Yale College, and after graduating in 1878 spent a year in Florence, Italy, studying Italian and music. He then went to New York and entered Columbia College Law School. After graduation he was for a time in the law office of William M. Ivins and George C. Holt, in New York. Mr. Bowen published a volume of verses in 1887, and since then has published several volumes of poetry and prose, including a work on international law.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

Performances of interest and merit will mark the engagement of Mitchell's All-Star Players at Music Hall next week and it is said that the organization is superior in every respect of production and presentations of the several plays in their repertoire They carry new and beautiful scenery and are fully equipped with new mechanical effects. The several members of the company are highly praised for their very effective renditions, and the plays themselves are above the average order. For Monday night "The Galley Slave" will be the opening bill. Seats are now on sale for the entire engagement.

Bismarck's Iron Nerve

If you want these qualities and the success they bring, use Dr. King's New Life Pills. They develop every power of brain and body. Only 25c at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The Christian Endeavor Society of Warren chapel will celebrate its anniversary next week.

—Street Commissioner Gavett had some repairs made yesterday to the iron and stone work at the catch basins corner of Front street and Park avenue.

—Dyckman Winckler, of Grace M. E. church, now has charge of the music each Sunday, and the choir under his direction is attaining proficiency.

—Washington avenue, in the borough, is being macadamized and rolled in a way that is sure to please cyclists and people who use horses and wagons.

—A meeting of the America Club will be held this evening at Epworth House. Rev. W. C. O'Donnell will speak on "The Men and Battles of the Revolutionary War."

DRINK GRAIN-O

after you have concluded that you ought not to drink coffee. It is not a medicine but doctors order it, because it is health ul, invigorating and appetizing. It is made from pure grains and has that rich seal brown color and tastes like the finest grades of coffee and costs about as much. Children like it and thrive on it because it is a genuine food drink containing nothing but nourishment. Ask your grocer for Grain-O, the new food drink. 15 and 25c.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 5—It is said that the borough officials are to enforce the ordinance against riding wheels on the sidewalks this summer. The nuisance has assumed such proportions that some action will have to be taken with it.

The subject for Rev. Mr. Sindall's remarks tonight at the meeting in the Seventh-Day Baptist church is, "Our Part of the Kingdom." Tomorrow morning he will preach upon "The Trial of Faith."

Saturday afternoon, May 13th, at 4 o'clock, Rev. S. H. Davis, of Westerley, R. I., will speak in the Seventh-Day Baptist church upon the subject of "Missions."

The election of officers for the Epworth League, of Methodist church, was not held Tuesday night on account of rain. The election will be held later.

There will be a wash of the fire company tonight. The alarm will be sounded at 7:45 o'clock, and a full attendance of firemen is requested.

R. B. Titsworth has been appointed to take the school census in the borough. The compensation is to be four cents a word or name.

The postoffice inspector of this district was in town yesterday, and inspected the books and records of the postoffice here.

Rev. J. W. Richardson, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, Plainfield, was a guest of Rev. Frank Fletcher yesterday.

T. C. Bodine has finished his new barn, which was erected on the site of the one recently burned down.

Mrs. Phillip Smith went to Belvidere yesterday where she will visit her parents for a few days.

Mrs. George Day and son have returned from a visit with friends in Philadelphia.

Miss Hattie Kauffman, of New Brunnswick, is visiting friends in town.

George Scherck is having his delivery wagons treated to a coat of paint.

Miss Sadie Dayton, of Summit, is visiting friends in the borough.

Charles Coriell was in Bound Brook yesterday on business.

NEW MARKET

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

New Market, May 5.—Mr. and Mrs. William H. Tabb have gone to the Thousand Islands where Mr. Tabb has a position during the summer months.

The entertainment given last week by the public school pupils, netted over $20 which will be used to buy books.

The entertainment which was to be given by the Daughters of Liberty has been postponed until May 16th.

A change in the time table of the Lehigh Valley Railroad will be made in two weeks.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 5.—The Fanwood Fire Company gave one of their always pleasant entertainments in their hall last evening, and from the audience gathered to listen to the well-known humorist, Bert N. Forrest, of New York, the treasury of the company must have been enriched by a neat little sum. Mr. Forrest kept his audience interested and pleased during the entire programme. The entertainment was followed by a dance which was attended by the young society people of the borough and Scotch Plains. The fire company with its pleasant entertainments and receptions takes quite a prominent place in the social life of the borough.

The Township Committee met in their rooms last evening. Several bids for the proposed jail or cages were received and were referred to the commitee in charge of same, and Scotch Plains will shortly have a temporary abiding or resting place for its lawless residents and visitors who come to Scotch Plains to have what they call "a good time."

Isaac Farley has returned from Little Washington, this State, where he has been attending the funeral of a brother.

Some one took the trouble to set the mountain brush on fire again Thursday along Johnston's drive.

The Board of Health met in the town rooms last evening. Routine business only was transacted.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stamets and daughter, of Westfield, spent Thursday with friends in town.

Miss Cunningham, of Westfield, was the guest last evening of Miss Sadie Reger.

Goodwill Lodge held an important meeting in their rooms last evening.

L. W. Miller has been drawn as a grand juror for the May term of court.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press)

Westfield, May 5—It commences to look as though it was only a question of time when the Board of Trade and Improvement Association of this town would be a thing of the past. A meeting was held last night, and nine members out of a membership of fifty were present, although it had been advertised that business of importance would come up for consideration. The treasurer reported that already $102 had been collected from the subscribers and that $77.62 had been paid out for advertising in the city papers and trolley cars This leaves a balance of something like $25, and the outstanding advertising contracts will foot up about $80. It was decided at the meeting to fix the monthly dues at 50 cents.

The Woman's Guild of St. Paul's church have reason to feel proud of the success of their annual supper, which was held in Gale's Clubhouse last evening and largely attended. Among those aiding the affair were Mesdames George T. Noe, William Barton, Robert Sumner, E. H. Faulkner, Harry White, D. W. Barnes, Paul Philip, George Steeb, Lawrence Bastable, Edwin Shields and the Misses Hilda Green, Ethel Green, Maud Elliott, Gertrude Noe, Adelia Bogert, Marie Simpson, Alice Moore, Grace Harden and Ada Sargeant. The tables were prettily decorated with apple blossoms and the lamps were shaded with pink.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even set up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at L. W. ## Proposals for Macadamizing

Sealed proposals will be received by the Common Council at the Council Chamber, No. 109 Park avenue, in the City of Plainfield, at 8 o'clock p. m., on Monday, the fifteenth day of May, 1899, for doing the work and furnishing the materials for the macadamizing contemplated in the following ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance for macadamizing West Third Street between Madison Avenue and Monroe Avenue, excepting where already macadamized," and "An Ordinance for macadamizing West Fourth Street between New Street and Monroe Avenue," approved February 9, 1899, and as provided for in the specifications on file in the office of the Street Commissioner.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals the Common Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents thereof in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also make proper record of said prices and terms.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

Separate proposals must be submitted for each street, endorsed "Proposals for Macadamizing."

Red-Haired People.

An eminent man of science has recently declared that red-haired people are far less apt to go bald than those who are possessed of other colored hair. The average crop on the head of a red-haired person is only 29,200 hairs. Ordinary dark hair is far finer, and over three dark hairs take up the space of one red one; 105,000 is about the average. But fair-haired people are still better off; 140,000 to 160,000 is a quite common number of hairs on the scalp of a fair-haired man or woman. This authority does not comment on the peculiarities of red-haired people, but it is well known that they are of a more passionate nature than others, and often of a fine and sensitive disposition, akin to what is known as the artistic temperament.

COOKING FOR SPORT.

HOW TO MAKE A CHAFING DISH PARTY A SUCCESS.

Lucy Cleveland Suggests a Novel Way of Entertaining Your Friends For an Evening—Each Guest Should Have a Finger In the Pie.

A celebrated definition of the genus homo classifies man as a "cooking animal;" a proud title, believe me, for it differentiates mankind from Mr. Darwin's theory, as not even the climax of monkeys has been known to make fire with the topmost stick.

And it is a proud title for woman—"a cooking animal." Some of us women, we know, are all fire and tongs, 'tis true! But that's not what I mean. I am a true oriental thus far. I am a fire worshipper—of the fire on the home hearth which woman's loving little hands should tend for him who is her head.

I love a woman who smells of the lamp—the chafing dish lamp—and I believe that is the true version of "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp."

Yes; there are many opportunities for delightful home entertainments. But I have just made the acquaintance of a "new womanly party." It is going to tighten the links that bind you to your neighbor. It is going to send you far ahead on the wave of popularity. It is going to set you far ahead in the heart of your husband, your lover, your brother, for man is, too, "an eating animal."

The "new womanly party" is a chafing dish party. Now, of all methods of fun and genuine frolic give me a chafing dish party. It beats progressive euchre all to pieces, for it will include a dance, too, if you will read on to the close.

A friend of mine who recently attended a giant chafing dish party in South Africa among the Maori tribes, who were simply enjoying stewed potatoes in a tent a quarter of a mile square, erected over the funeral obsequies of their chief, tells me that at the end of their savage chafing dish party, where each knot of tribesmen made their own fire and stewed their own potatoes, at the end of it all a grand dance ensued.

And, after all, we are only veneered savages, said the New England Thoreau. How eager we are to divest ourselves of the trappings of city restraint and plunge into camp life, bathing dress existence.

Now, obey my rules for your chafing dish party and the fun at your house will be talked of all through the year. Send out your invitations two weeks ahead, so that man can look to his firearms too, for man is to take part. A man loves to help cook, if it's only the fringes and the gravies.

If you are artistic, you can "get up" your invitations in any novel, fascinating little way. I would suggest painting a chafing dish on the cards, or a lobster with its scarlet claws clasping the chafing dish legs. Underneath write "The cardinal at the feast."

Each invited guest, gentleman or lady, is taking his or her own chafing dish. The hostess supplies all the materials. On the evening of the "new woman party" spread down on the floor a linen drugget, as for dancing. Have as many little tables as you have invited guests, or a table for a lady and a gentleman. The table of "materials" is to stand handy to all. At each table the recipe to be made by that table's chafing dishes is laid. A little bell is rung at a certain moment, and the cooking is to begin.

And here comes in part of the fun, with the explosions of laughter. So much time given only for the cooking; when the little bell rings again every table must stop. A "judge" has been appointed, who must taste of each dish's contents, and who awards the first, second and third prizes—and the booby prize for the worst! Each guest must eat his own cooking, and I have laughed till the tears stood in my eyes at the results.

Of course you may have other refreshments after this, if it so pleases you. I have known pretty little aptitudes for sweet and strong things develop from this "new womanly" party, served on hot plates of the heart—and tasted at the wedding! At the dance the winner of the first prize in chafing dish excellence will lead the cotillon.

Stargard. Der von der hiesigen Staatsanwaltschaft wegen Unterschlagung und Veruntreuung steckbrieflich verfolgte Bankier Karl Meißner ist hierher zurückgekehrt und hat sich den Behörden freiwillig gestellt. Er hatte sich nach den Ver. Staaten geflüchtet und hielt sich zuletzt in Chicago auf.

Provinz Posen.

Posen. Die Handelskammer bewilligte 500 beziehungsweise 300 Mark zu Vorarbeiten für die Ostlinie des Großschifffahrtsweges Stettin-Berlin und den Oder-Warthe-Kanal. Er nahm ferner den Antrag an, den Exportmühlen sei die Getreidezollrückvergütung nach dem Werthe des exportirten Mehls zu zahlen.

Samter. Neulich früh wurde der Brennereiverwalter Münchberg vom Samter Schloß in dem in der Brennereiverwaltung befindlichen Maischraumkeller erstickt aufgefunden. Derselbe hatte am Abend zuvor in später Stunde den Verlauf der Vergährung der Maische feststellen wollen; hierbei hat er vermuthlich die zu beobachtende Vorsicht außer Acht gelassen.

Provinz Ostpreußen.

Königsberg. In dem etwa 1500 Einwohner zählenden Dorfe Baldian sind durch eine Feuersbrunst 17 Gehöfte in Asche gelegt worden.

Fischhausen. In Rauschen ist der Gendarm Eichler beim Versuch, zwei steckbrieflich verfolgte Einbrecher, Namens Steinke und Mohns, festzunehmen, von den beiden desperaten Mühlhausen. Die Vermessungsarbeiten für die Eisenbahnstrecke Eschwege-(Schwebda)-Treffurt sind in der Hauptsache beendet. Die Strecke von Schwebda bis Wanfried weist gegen das frühere Projekt nur unwesentliche Veränderungen auf; dagegen sind von Wanfried bis Treffurt drei Linien zur Vermessung gekommen, von denen die über den Rothen Berg führende die größte Aussicht auf Verwirklichung hat. Man hofft, die Bahnstrecke bis zum 1. Oktober 1900 vollenden zu können.

Nordhausen. Ein Bismarck-Denkmal ist nunmehr auch in unserer Freiinnsstadt geplant. In ganz kurzer Zeit haben die Zeichnungen schon 13,000 Mark ergeben. Diese Betheiligung für eine Ehrung des großen Kanzlers war hier kaum erwartet worden.

Provinz Schlesien.

Breslau. Der Hauptgewinn der Berliner Hedwigs-Kirchenlotterie im Betrage von 100,000 Mark fiel in eine hiesige Kollekte. Der Gewinner ist ein Maurermeister aus Waldenburg.

Greiffenberg. Vor Kurzem wurden auf städtischem Terrain zwischen Greiffenberg, Friedersdorf und Schosdorf Bohrungen zur Ermittelung einer Quelle für Hochwasserleitung unternommen. Auf den nach Schosdorf zu gelegenen Feldern stieß man circa 40 Centimeter unter der Erdoberfläche auf drei ergiebige Quellen mit schönem Wasser. Als Untergrund fand sich hier Sand vor. Es ist anzunehmen, daß die aufgefundenen Quellen gutes Trinkwasser enthalten, da Greiffenberg selbst wie auch die Umgegend reich ist an Sammelstellen guten Wassers.

Provinz Schleswig-Holstein.

Kiel. Hier hat die Regierung Versuche mit einem Schiffe angestellt, welches mit einem Motor, der von einem Ungarn Namens Etienne Petricano erfunden ist, versehen ist. Die Heizung erfolgt mit rohem Oel und eine besondere Vorrichtung erleichtert die Steuerung und bewirkt, daß das Schiff sowohl nach vorwärts wie nach rückwärts gesteuert werden kann. Durch den Motor sollen 50 Prozent am Feuerungsmaterial gespart werden, auch braucht derselbe nicht so oft gereinigt zu werden. Herr Krupp hat eine große Summe für das Patent geboten, doch ist der Erfinder auf die Bedingungen nicht eingegangen.

Ellerbek. Wegen Majestätsbeleidigung, begangen im Familienkreise, wurde der hiesige Einwohner Eggers zu dreimonatigem Gefängniß verurtheilt. Der Denunziant war Eggers' Schwiegersohn.

Provinz Westfalen.

Dortmund. Die für die Provinz Westfalen dahier gebildete landwirthschaftliche Ein- und Verkaufs-Genossenschaft hat sich in großartiger Weise entwickelt; ihr Umschlag beziffert sich nach mehreren Millionen. Die Gesellschaft benutzt das im hiesigen Hafen gelegene große Lagerhaus. Da aber die Stadt nach der Eröffnung des Betriebes auf dem Dortmund-Ems-Kanal das Lagerhaus für ihre eigenen Zwecke bedarf, so hat sich die Gesellschaft entschlossen, im Hafengelände ein eigenes Lagerhaus zu errichten. Sie rechnet auch die Gewährung eines Theiles der Bausumme zu billigem Zinsfuße durch den Minister. Die Stadtverordneten bewilligten der Gesellschaft auch ein Darlehen von 120,000 Mark für den Bau. Der Platz, auf dem das Gebäude errichtet wird,

CHAPTER XIII.

Had I paused for an instants reflection I must have felt that it would be impossible for me to take any open notice of the ring, but so great was my surprise at seeing Harvey Farnham's treasured possession on Miss Cunningham's finger that, involuntarily, I uttered a slight exclamation.

"Why do you look so astonished," she cried, a certain bitterness in her voice, "at seeing me wear the sign of my bondage?"

"It was not wholly that, Miss Cunningham," I returned. Say, rather, I was surprised at seeing you wear this particular ring."

"It is a remarkable one, isn't it? Far too gorgeous and conspicious to please me, for myself; but Mr. Wildred was anxious for me to have it. I believe it has been in the family a long time, and has been handed down from generation to generation of betrothed brides—happier than myself."

"Did Mr. Wildred tell you that the ring was a heirloom in his family?"

"Yes. There is a romance attached to it."

She sighed faintly, as though at the death of romance in her own young life. Then, more quickly:

"Why, Mr. Stanton? Why do you ask me that?"

"Forgive my curiosity," I said, evasively. "I am interested in all that concerns you.

Would it be asking too much," I said, "to have the wonderful heirloom in my hand to examine for a moment?"

Without a word she slipped the ring off and gave it to me, almost as though it was a relief to feel its absence.

In a flash a certain recollection had leaped into my mind. There was an inscription inside, Harvey Farnham had told me. If the ring had been cut doubtless the words written within would show some trace of the violent treatment to which the band of gold had been subjected, and I wished, for a reason I hardly dared admit, to myself, to ascertain if this were the case.

I moved toward the window and, ostensibly catching the light upon the facets of the matchless stone, peeped into the circlet. To my surprise, the words inscribed on the gold were "Kismet and Miss Cunningham." They were absolutely unbroken, not a letter blurred, and the surface of the ring gave the appearance of having been untouched since first it was fashioned. I was certain that it had not been cut. I could have explained the "mystery," I had been told by Farnham that the stone had come from the first diamond mine in which he had been interested. It had been fancifully dubbed "Kismet," and the gold mine, which he had lately sold to Carson Wildred had (as he had informed me that night of our meeting at the theatre) rejoiced in the name of the "Miss Cunningham." Doubtless the inscription was to commemorate the fact that the gold forming the ring had been taken from the one mine the diamond from the other. But, knowing all this, I was none the less anxious to hear what Karine might have to say.

"What an odd coincidence!" I remarked. "Will you tell me the story?"

"You may hear the little romance if you like," the girl said, a faint wistfulness in her sweet voice. Sixty or seventy years ago, Mr. Wildred tells me, a very dashing ancestor of his fell in love with a Miss Cunningham. That is not a very uncommon name, you know. He was penniless, and she an heiress. Her father would have nothing to do with him, and told him he need not hope to win his daughter unless within a year he could afford to buy her the finest diamond betrothal ring ever seen in the country.

"The lover vowed it was 'Kismet' that he should marry Miss Cunningham, and swore to return and claim her, by slipping such a ring on her finger, exactly twelve months from the day he was sent away.

"He had the most extraordinary adventures in search of a fortune, always ending in failure until the last month of the appointed time. He was in India, working in the diamond mines when one day he found this very stone.

"He sailed at once for England, had the ring made, and the words you see engraved inside. As he had said, he arrived on the day appointed, but only to find the girl coming out from church after her marriage with another man. He threw the ring at her feet, and flung away; but at her death it was sent back to him again, and though he never married he gave it to his brother's bride on her wedding day. Since then it has remained in the Wildred family."

Something of what was in my mind must have been visible on my face, for Karine, as she finished her story, looked at me searchingly. "What are you hiding from me, Mr. Stanton?" she anxiously questioned. "It's about the ring—and if you are my friend, as you say, you will not keep it a secret from me."

"It is about the ring Miss Cunningham," I replied impulsively. "I can't tell you all, for the facts have hardly grouped themselves in my own brain. But if they have such bearing upon your happiness as I have some reasons to think you shall know them soon as I can make them clear to you. Will you trust me meanwhile—will you try to remember that I am striving to collect facts which may help to release you from the necessity of a marriage unworthy of you? Never for one moment since I saw you last have I let slip the hope of saving you from what you confessed must be a blighted future. Now, I may be mistaken, but I believe that I begin to see my way."

"There are only six weeks—less than six weeks to do it in!" she murmured, but a faint color had sprung to her cheeks, a light of hope to her eyes.

"Is it not possible," I begged, "if I and myself near success, yet stopped temporarily midway by some unforeseen obstacle, that you can delay your marriage? Let me have that to hope for. It will help me to win."

She shook her head sadly, and the rosefush died.

"It is useless to think of it," she said. "You may imagine, since I have confessed so much to you, that it was not my plan to name such an early date. It was Mr. Wildred who suggested it—indeed, he insisted, and unfortunately he is in a position to insist."

"Has nothing changed since we met at the Savoy?" I hurriedly asked. Can't you explain to me the power which you admitted then that this man holds over you?"

"No, nothing is changed. Mr. Stanton! The reason that I cannot explain is—a part of his power, if you like to call it that."

"Heaven knows, I do not like it!" I exclaimed, almost savagely. And as the words fell from my lips Lady Tressidy entered the room.

CHAPTER XIV.

Lady Tressidy was so full of plans for the future—Karine's future with Carson Wildred—that my soul sickened of her chatter and I took myself away as soon as decently possible to do. With no further chance of private talk with Karine much of my incentive for remaining was gone, at all events, and I was anxious to think out the puzzle regarding the transfer of the ring.

Strange fancies flitted luridly through through my brain. In a few days more Harvey Farnham would have landed in New York, and I could reach him there at the hotel he had mentioned as his favorite: or in Denver, Col., if he had chosen to pursue his homeward journey without a night's delay. I counted the hours which must pass before I could attempt any such communication, and they seemed to rise like a high wall between me and my hopes and my suspicions.

As I walked homeward, involutarily hastening my footsteps, I heard the newsboys crying out some item of intelligence from the evening papers. Extry-speshul! Extry-speshul!" "Mysterious discovery in the Thames!"

Suddenly, however, a grimy infant of tender years and appalling precocity flourished a pink sheet smelling of the printer's ink, directly under my eyes.

"Buy a paper, guvner!" he cajoled me. "Hall abeout the orrid murder and the 'eadless man."

I flung the child a copper and found the halfpenny Journal thrust into my hand.

I would have tossed it from me carelessly, but the head lines relating to the latest sensation caught my eye.

Then forgetful of the crowds who stared at me in my agitation, I strode nearer to the white ball of electric light which had shone down upon the page.

SAVAGE AND FEROCIOUS.

The Devil Dancers of Ceylon and Their Mysterious Ways.

The real Singhalese devil dancers in Ceylon are ferocious and savage fellows. Their dances are revolting and horrible. But their profession is popular and affords a royal living for the men who go into it. There is a superstition among the Singhalese that when a man falls sick he is supposed to be afflicted by a devil. In order to rid him of the disease the devil dancers are called in to propitiate the demon. Two or more of them go by night to the sick man's house, in front of which a small, square inclosure about six feet high, has been made of grasses and palm leaves. This answers the purpose of the green room at a theatre. The men appear at first without masks and with long yellow grass streamers hanging from their head and waists. The only light cast on the scene is by torches, made of sticks, round which pieces of cloth are wrapped, dipped in oil. To the music of a tam-tam, kept up on one note, the dancers sing a peculiar, wild funeral dirge, in which the spectators often join.

The dancers begin by slowly moving about, stretching the right foot and bringing the left up to it, and appear as if they were searching for something, during which the singing sounds like crying. They are then asking the devil to appear. There are twenty-four different sorts of devils, and after the first part, the dancers are constantly changing their clothes to represent the entire species; some wear masks, some don jaws and terrible teeth reaching to their ears. The jaws open and close in a very realistic manner.

A dance lasts over two nights, as the whole twenty-four devils have all to be personated before the particular demon who is afflicting the man is pitched on. When he gives signs of his presence the dancers go into a sort of frenzy, which increases as he takes possession of them; the tam-tam beats faster and faster, the chanting grows into yells, the men whirl and stamp and the bells on their ankles jingle and clash.

At this stage the dancers appear to be looking for some object to give the devil in sacrifice, and into which he may pass. A chicken is usually offered by the friend of the sick man, and the unfortunate bird is seized upon, twisted and tormented and bitten between the false teeth, until the dancers, worn out, move slower and slower, and the chicken sinks into a sort of trance, which is a sign that the devil has accepted the sacrifice, and is willing to pass from the man into the bird.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON VI, SECOND QUARTER. INTERNATIONAL SERIES, MAY 7.

Comments by Wm. K. Fisher—Subject: The Vine and the Branches, John 15: 1-11—Golden Text: I am the Vine, Ye are the Branches, Compare John 16: 16; Matthew 7: 16-20—(Commit Verses 6-8.)

"I am the true vine and my Father is the husbandman."

It is through Christ, the true vine, that the divine life "is reproduced in all his members and is spreading over the whole earth." Dr. Gumhart says, "This lesson furnishes us with the material for a beautiful and instructive nature study; or rather, a study of spiritual truth from one of nature's pulpits."

While Jesus is the vine, the Father is the husbandman, which is indeed a "symbol of God's love and care for us."

He is the vine, we are the branches. Hugh Macmillian says: "What a beautiful and appropriate type does the vine afford of the mystical body of Christ. Each member has his own personality, his own individual existance; and yet, living or dead, he is regarded as a branch of one common stock—a component and integral part of one tree. The same bond unites each to all, the same sap pervades all; the same life animates them all. Christ is not the trunk, nor the branches, but the whole vine; they are members of His body, of his flesh and of his bones.

"Cambridge Bible" says: "There is a curious play of words in sound between taking away (hairei) of the fruitless branch and the purging (kathairei) of the fruitless branch." "In the East dressers wash the leaves and shoots and tendrils and clusters, each by themselves in turn, so as to clear off the dust and mold."

The word "clean" in the third verse is the same as "purge" in the second verse. Peloubet says, "The fruit is the faith, love, and obedience referred to so often in the last lesson. It includes all the fruits of the Spirit—love, joy, peace, long suffering, etc. (Gal. 5:22,23). It includes the Ten Commandments and the Beatitudes, and all the Sermon on the Mount. It includes all labors for the conversion of souls and for blessing of mankind. It is not measured by results, the amount of money given, the number of souls saved, as we are too often inclined to measure fruits; but by the love of obedience the graces the devotion, which lead to these outward results, as we see in Christ's words about the widow's two mites."

"I am the vine, ye are the branches. He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit; for without me ye can do nothing."

All of God's promises are conditional, but the conditions are easily met. The power or ability to bring forth fruit is promised to all his children, and the only requirement or condition is that we abide in him, and this is an absolute necessity for we all know the truthfulness of the statement, "Apart from me ye can do nothing."

"If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch and is withered; and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned."

Prof. Drummond says: "Do not imagine that you have got these things because you know how to get them. As well try to feed upon a cookery book." Because a branch once had the life of the vine flowing through it, and at one time did bear fruit, it does not save it from being gathered by men, when it has become withered, and being cast into the fire and burned. A "withering" is sure to take place where the cares of life crowd out the love of God, or where disobedience, even in little things, interfered with Christian growth.

In the seventh verse is another promise made upon a certain condition: "We will get what we ask for if we abide in him. If we thus abide we will know his will, and so should not ask amiss; this being true, if we do not get the things which we desire, it will be because in some way we do not abide as we should, for the promise is sure; if you abide in him, and his words abide in you, "it shall be done unto you."

"Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples."

Bearing much fruit is a test of discipleship that not only shows to the world, but also brings a blessed consciousness to our own souls, that we are abiding in the true living vine, and so numbered among "The branches which are the means through which God bestows his choice fruits upon men. The branches are the conductors of God's life and blessing."

"As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you; continue ye in my love."

Peloubet says: "This is a marvelous statement of the measure and quality of Christ's love for us. It is true, warm, personal."

"If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love."

The Son and the Father were one, and so he could easily keep the Father's commandments. Even so it is with us. If we love Jesus, we can easily keep his commandments.

"These things" were spoken that we might be free in him, and have the joy that comes to the hearts of those who "let the blessed sunlight in." More than that, he wants us to have the "fulness of love" that is enoyed and retained by those who yield themselves fully to God.

Superstitions of the Great.

It is said before every one of his important battles Napoleon would throw dice to see whether he was going to lose or win. A delusion which caused him great suffering was the "red men" he always saw going to battle with him. He feared December 2 as an unlucky day.

Louis XI of France was a firm believer in signs and omens. It was he who, when the prediction of an astrologer that a beautiful woman, a friend of the king's, would die, was fulfilled, had the unlucky man brought before him and ordered the courtiers to throw him from the window. As the order was about to be put into execution, the king, with a sneer, said to the astrologer: "I suppose you can tell me the date of my own death."

"Sire," said the quick-witted man, "I shall have the honor of dying just three days before your majesty!" Needless to say, he was not thrown from the wndow.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 7—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Patient continuance in well doing.—Rom. ii, 1-11.

In this passage Paul points out to the Jews the fact that they need not hope to escape God's judgment simply because they are Jews. In judgment he declares that God is no respecter of persons, but "renders to every man according to his deeds; to them who by patient continuance in well doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, eternal life; but unto them that are contentious and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, indignation and wrath, tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil of the Jew first and also of the gentile."

There are many discouragements to patient continuance in well doing. Difficulties are constantly putting themselves in our way. In the first enthusiasm of our faith it is easy to meet and overtome them, but as our religion becomes more of an accustomed thing with us it is not so easy to do so. Those for whom we labor are often ungrateful, and forgetting for a time that we are laboring primarily for Him who died for us we become faint hearted and wearied. Results are often not as apparent as we think they should be. The master builder is encouraged by seeing his building constantly growing, the artist joys to see his picture developing before him, but he who labors in spiritual spheres very often has not the encouragement of apparent results, and this is discouraging. These and other things are thorns in the flesh of continuance in well doing, and specially so in patient continuance.

But there are also encouragements to even patient continuance in well doing. The greatest of these is the assurance of the reward for our patient continuance. Eternal life Paul here declares to be the reward, and since it is a gift of God it is positively assured to us. "In due season we shall reap if we faint not." Due season is God's season, and we may safely leave the time with God, knowing for a certainty that in His time and in His way the reward is sure to come.

This fact should be a great inspiration to patient continuance in well doing. All depends upon it. The race is never won until the goal is reached. To begin well, to run well for a time and then to drop out means to fail. "Faithful to death" should be our watchword, for it is unto those who are faithful unto death that a crown of life is promised. That crown is also at death. Here the cross, yonder the crown; here the church militant, yonder the church triumphant. "Be thou faithful unto death."

Bible Readings.—Eccl. ix, 10; Isa. xl, 28-31; Math. xxv, 31-46; John ix, 4; xv. 16; Rom. v, 1-5; xii, 11; I Cor. x, 31; xv. 58; Gal. iii, 1-10; Col. iii, 17; II Thess. iii, 13; Heb. vi, 10-15; Rev. ii, 10.

Salvation Only Through Christ.

Is faith in this truth outgrown? Some say so. But the proofs point to the contrary. When forced to a frank declaration, those who pin their faith on worthy attainments in character and service, such as they claim we can make for ourselves, have to acknowledge that the best men have their faults. No one can be trusted absolutely and always, for he sometimes lacks wisdom, if never virtue. We do not and cannot often attain to any exalted standard of excellence and never reach perfection.

If, then, the best men cannot save others or even themselves, who can? Nobody excepting Jesus Christ, and He can and does. He claimed this when He was on earth, and He began to make good the claim then and has been proving it ever since. It is as truly a matter of fact, of ordinary human experience, that there is salvation in Jesus Christ, and that nobody knows of any other opportunity of being saved than through Him, as the fact of birth or growth or death. It has been regarded and discussed altogether too much as a matter of philosophy and theology. It is much more a matter of solid, practical, everyday fact.—Congregationalist.

Resist the Devil.

The great enemy of God and man is of course the sworn foe of every good work. Among the causes which he heartily hates and persistently opposes is that which carries the glad tidings of salvation to the heathen and seeks to lift up to life and hope the benighted of the earth. Missions to the heathen are so entirely unselfish, in such perfect accord with the purposes of heaven and likely to be so influential in extending the reign of the Lord that it is not wonderful the great conspirator plots and schemes and strives in every conceivable way to discredit and defeat all such enterprises.—Lutheran Observer.

The Difference.

Many appear outwardly righteous before men. They are honest, upright, influential, respected, cultured and many of them wealthy, but when externals are removed and the secrets of the heart are known it shall be found that interiorly one belongs in the heavens, the other in the infernals. "One shall be taken, and the other left."—Rev. E. D. Daniels in Helper.

The Windows of the Soul.

They have very little in this world, but a great deal in the next. They take short views of this life, but long views of the life to come. They have the knack of setting open the windows of their souls for the Sun of Righteousness to stream in.—Theodore L. Cuyler, D. D.

Gestures Versus Thoughts.

The orator who makes gestures so waving and graceful that attention is called to them will often excite admiration. But, commonly, there will be a corresponding decrease in the hearers' estimate of the orator as a thinker and a truth teller.—Christian Register.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 7, "Patient Continuance In Well Doing"—Text, Rom. ii, 1-11.

"Ye have need of patience, that after ye have done the will of God ye might receive the promise."

Paul had never yet been in Rome, but had long planned a visit to the great city. A small community of Christians was already to be found there. Most of them were probably Jews, though some few may have been converted heathen connected with Jewish families by ties of marriage or service. It is possible that some Britons may have been among the number. Many of these Christians were known to the apostle personally or by reputation. In his letter to the Roman Christians he clearly contrasts the gospel of Christ with the abominable practices and beliefs of idolatry. Rome was an immense city of violent contrasts. A few nobles possessed great wealth and lived in extreme luxury, while the mass of the people were slaves or in deep poverty. Licentiousness abounded in all grades of society, and the worship of the gods, whose temples were numerous and costly, exercised no restraint on vice, but rather seemed to give it encouragement. Paul declares that God's nature and will can be surely known by His works and that His wrath against all wrong is clearly shown. The existing condition of vileness among men was due to the disregard of God's will and dislike for His service. The result was a fearful condition of society, almost too black to be credited by later ages.

That He did not overstate the immorality of the times is certain from the writings of the Roman authors of this period.

The remedy for this condition of affairs is found in the salvation offered by the Christ. Repentance and complete turning from evil, with acceptance of service for Christ, would bring consciousness of pardon for guilt, cleansing from the love of the evil formerly practiced and power to lead a pure life.

The change was to be in feelings and thought and in actions. The old habits would not be broken without earnest effort. The corrupt surroundings would ever be tempting to a return to the former practices and associations. Patience—patient continuance in well doing—was absolutely necessary if one was to obtain the promised glory and eternal, bleesed life.

One must keep the inner spirit from irritable passion and impatience, and must do the good deeds, must practice over and over again acts of kindness, self restraint and self denial, till the habits of life become fixed in the mold of righteousness and shaped after the pattern of godliness.

Hu King Eng.

Chinese character is proverbial for its quality of patient application and uncomplaining endurance. A good example of it is found in Miss Hu of Fuchau. Trained in the mission school of our church in that city, she, while quite young, decided to devote her life to helping her countrywomen as a physician. It became necessary for her to leave home and native land, cross the ocean and spend several years among a people of strange language in a foreign country to fit herself for the work. She studied at the university in Delaware, O., and after a thorough course in medicine has returned to her native city of Fuchau, China. Here she has charge of the hospital of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society and in medical practice and teaching others of her people the healing art is efficiently helping the cause of the Great Healer, who in His earthly life found a way to reach many souls by curing their bodies.

HU KING ENG.

Jesus saw the sin of the world clearer than we can. He saw the great work He must accomplish in His three years of ministry. Yet He never hurried nor worried. He had time to love His friends, to mingle in their feasts and sit in quietness in their homes, to be alone on the mountains and by the sea and listen to God everywhere. Do what you can, don't fret and leave the rest to God.

Tithers are increasing in number. In all the young people's societies there is a growing tendency to encourage the setting apart of a tenth of one's income for the Lord's particular service. It is an encouraging sign of consecration and liberality.

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Many Residents and Visitors Who Go and Come in a Social and Business Way

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dreier, of West Front street, are entertaining Mrs. Dreier's sister, Miss Sandberg, of New York.

Mrs. Sutton, of Liberty street, who has been quite ill for sometime past, is now greatly improved and able to be out again.

Early this summer Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sandford, of this city, will leave for Maine, where they will stop during the warm weather.

Mr. Stout, of Gen. Theo. Runyon Council, Newark, paid a fraternal visit to Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., last evening.

The new parsonage of Grace M. E. church is now completely furnished and Pastor Gardner and wife are exceedingly pleased with their new home.

A COUNTY ASYLUM.

First Step in That Direction Taken by Freeholders Yesterday.

(Special to The Daily Press)

Elizabeth, May 5—The first step toward building a Union County lunatic asylum was taken yesterday by the Board of Freeholders at their regular meeting when Freeholder Martin Boll advocated it. He said that the county had 237 patients in the Morris Plains Asylum. Each patient cost the county $3.50 a week. He believed that if the county built its own asylum it could keep its lunatics at $1.50 a week and thus save $10,000 a year. A committee of seven to inquire into the cost of a building was appointed.

WIFE WANTS A DIVORCE.

Mrs. Mary C Hargraves Alleges That Her Husband Has Been Cruel.

Mrs. Mary Cornelia Hargraves, wife of Frederick W. Hargraves, of East Front street, has applied to Chancellor McGill for a partial divorce from her husband. Irving L. Brady is her counsel, and the grounds on which a divorce are asked for are alleged cruelty. Mr. and Mas. Hargraves are young people and have lived in this city for several years. Mr. Hargraves is a New York business man. The wife is at present at her mother's home in Newark. William G. DeMeza is his counsel.

Ill Health Handicapped Her.

Many of the friends of Miss Dwight, of Washington Park, are sorry to learn that there is a possibility that she may not be graduated next month from the Borough High School. Illness has detained her at home a great deal with a consequent loss in her studies. If she applied herself studiously for the balance of the term she could complete the course, but her health is such that her parents do not deem it wise.

SPORTING.

GOLF.

The committee in charge of the schedule for the Park Golf Club hope to have the same completed by next week so that it can be announced.

There will be no special event on the course of the Park Golf Club tomorrow but no doubt there will be a goodly number of players out.

The Meadowbrook Golf Club, of Bound Brook, expect to open their new grounds next week. The work of preparing the course is being rapidly pused.

The finals for the Fisk cup will be played on the links of the Hillside Tennis and Gold Club tomorrow afternoon. The play will be eighteen holes, match play. George Richards, J. Parker Mason, N. Pendleton Rogers, Jr., Morris J. Dumont, Owen Fleming and Augustus G. Fisk have all qualified for the finals, having won the cup. The results of the finals will decide the permanent possession of the trophy. As all of the young men are playing well this season, a lively match may be expected.

VARICUS SPORTS.

The interscholastic athletic games under the auspices of Princeton University will be held at Princeton tomorrow afternoon. Plainfield will be represented in them by Carroll L. Runyon, of Leal's School, who will be one of the contestants in throwing the hammer. Runyon has won honors in that event in past years. This is his first appearance this spring.

AMONG THE STEPPERS.

It is quite likely that there will be some exhibition trotting on the track of the Plainfield Driving Park Association tomorrow afternoon.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Miss J. Geary, of South Plainfield, and A. Lyngard are riding wheels purchased from Bockfellow's agency on Park avenue.

Entertained a Church Choir.

Miss Etta Raybert, of North avenue, who, until recently, was a member of the choir of the First M. E. church, gave a musicale at her home last evening, and entertained the choir members, previous to her entering upon the duties of her new position as soloist in the Third Reformed church at New Brunswick. All of the members of the choir were present and a delightful evening of vocal and instrumental music was enjoyed by all.

Had a Tedious Time of It.

Joseph Milleski, of Shenandoah, Pa., one of the Lehigh Valley Railroad wreck patients that was injured at West Dunellen, left the hospital today for his home. A man named Seeley is the only wreck patient now remaining at the hospital and he will probably go home inside of a week.

Assisting His Father.

Raymond Corroll, of Westervelt avenue, has given up his position in New York to assist his father, Hon. H. K. Carroll, in his work of compiling the report for President McKinley on his observations in Porto Rico.

Inspecting the Street Railway.

Thomas Nevins, of Orange, President of the Plainfield Street Railway Company, was in this city making a tour of inspection of the road. He expressed himself as being highly pleased with the road.

Those Who Will Debate.

Those who are to take part in the debate Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. upon whether capital punishment should be abolished or not, are S. H. Craig, Frank MacDonald and Henry Eggerding for the affirmative, and Charles M. Dolliver, Carl E. Drange and Harvey Linbarger for the negative.

NO CAUSE FOR ACTION.

Marshal Whitely Not Held Responsible for Damages Done by His Fowls.

No cause for action was the verdict of the jury in the chicken case tried before Justice Smalley yesterday afternoon, in which Lewis C. VanNest was plaintiff and Marshal Frank Whitely defendant. It was proven that Whitely was not responsible for his fowls trespassing on his neighbor's land, as he had offered to build a fence dividing the two properties, but VanNest would not permit it.

The case was fought by Lawyers J. P. D. Kirch for the plaintiff and S. S. Swackhamer for the defendant. Ten witnesses were sworn on one side or the other, and the trial occupied all the afternoon. The jury was out but a short time when they returned with their verdict.

When the verdict was announced, VanNest declared at once that he would begin another suit against his neighbor. But the two lawyers have put their heads together, and it is likely that the matter will be settled out of court.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvet skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

BOROUGH CELLARS ARE TO BE DRAINED.

A. I. Smalley's Project Sanctioned by the Conncil.

TERMS ARE SETTLED UPON.

MR. SMALLEY WILL START THE WORK IMMEDIATELY.

The Council, on the Suggestion of Mayor Smalley, Decides to Hold Semi-monthly Meetings so That the Street Employes May be Paid Oftener—Money Appropriated for Memorial Day Observance.

Two important matters were considered and decided at the May meeting of the Borough Council held last evening, at which time the Mayor and all members of the council were present. The first was that granting A.I. Smalley a license to lay and construct a private drain through certain streets in the upper part of the borough for the purpose to carry off surface water and draining cellars. This matter was laid aside at the special meeting last evening owing to certain conditions which Mr. Smalley could not agree to. Last evening the agreement came up in an amended form and was adopted.

The agreement provides among other things that Mr. Smalley shall construct this drain within sixty days, that it is to be used solely for the purpose of carrying surface water, that the applicant for the license shall file a map showing the exact location of the drain, that he is liable for all damages resulting from its construction and to defend all suits, that the Mayor and council shall maintain the right to order its removal or to stop the use of the same, if it is deemed wise, that all persons using the drain shall pay to Mr. Smalley $40 for fifty feet frontage and in proportion to that rate for a greater or less number of feet frontage. These are the principal points in the agreement and as Mr. Smalley accepted the agreemens and the council granted the license the drain will now be constructed.

The second matter of importance was introduced by Mayor Smalley, which was presented in the form of a suggestion that the Mayor and council hold a semi-monthly meeting so that the laborers can be paid oftener than once a month. Mr. Smalley stated that the importance and convenience of such action had been impressed upon him and he would like to see a change in the present method of paying the laboring men at work on the streets. He also said that business men were obliged to give these men credit until they could get their money, and this was one reason why he desired a change.

Mr. Clark spoke in favor of the method and said that he would like to see the men paid weekly.

Mr. Valiant said that he would vote to bring about a change, but he could not quite understand why there was a demand for a change at this time. He had not heard of complaints before. He said that he would favor the plan, and if it was adopted it would expect to attend the semi-monthly meeting if it was possible.

Mr. Swackhamer, Mr. Burtis and Mr. Rogers spoke briefly on the subject showing their approval of the plan and it was unanimously decided to hold a semi-monthly meeting at the call of the Mayor. It will probably be held on the second Monday after the first Friday in each month.

Mr. Clark, chairman of the street committee, presented his monthly report for April and it was a very complete one, showing in detail the expenditure of money on street work. It showed that it cost for labor, grading and scraping streets, $290.60; for regrading, $31.75; repairing street, $68.90; for crushed stone, 258 tons and 425 pounds, $232.20; supplies, $30.02; sidewalks, old bill, $49.55; repairs to tools, $3.65; culverts, $2 95; total expenditure, $681.58.

The report of Collector George F. Brown showed the total collections to date to be $3,899.35 for 1897-1898 taxes. The disbursements during April were $1,964 39, leaving a balance on hand May 1st, of $4,561.74, divided as follows: Borough fund, $1,760.69; Watchung avenue account, $2,801.05. Clerk Rowley reported that he had received during April from fines, licenses, etc., the sum of $93 35.

Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., petitioned the Council for the usual Memorial Day appropriation of $25 and the same was grented. Borough Recorder Long reported that $5 had been received from fines during April. The members of West End Hose Company and Warren Engine Company submitted the names of the newly-elected officers, and the Council con-

EARLY AMERICAN EVENTS

HISTORICAL LECTURE DELIVERED BY REV. W. C. O'DONNELL

The Men and the Battles of the Revolutionary War Talked About Last Night—Last Lecture Next Friday Night.

The members of the America Club, that popular organization at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, listened to another of the series of talks on early American history by Rev. W. C. O'Donnell, the pastor, last evening. It was the eighth and last for the season with the exception of a review lecure that will be illustrated with the stereopticon.

The early history of the country has been touched upon in previous lectures. The last before the one last evening dwelt especially on the causes of the Revolution. Last night Rev. Mr. O'Donnell spoke on "The Men and Battles of the Revolutionary War." It was an interesting sketch of the principal battles, with a thread of narrative connecting them together. The principal generals and statesmen who played the most important parts in that conflict were shortly described and some of their characteristic acts mentioned.

Next Friday evening Rev. Mr. O'Donnell expects to conclude his series of talks to the club with an illustrated lecture, in which he will briefly review the substance of all the series that have proved so successful this winter.

CARE OF COUNTY INSANE

A PROJECT FOR UNION TO MAINTAIN HIS OWN ASYLUM.

Freeholder Roll Believes That the County Can Save $10,000 a Year by Doing It—A Committee to Investigate.

(Special to The Daily Press)

Elizabeth, May 6.—As told briefly in yesterday's Press the first step towards securing a county insane asylum was taken at the meeting of the Board of Freeholders Thursday afternoon, when Freeholder Roll offered a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of seven to make an investigation and estimates of costs for building and maintaining the institution.

Mr. Roll's resolution stated that the county's bill for lunacy patients last year was $40,000, and the expense increases each year. In his remarks Mr. Roll said since he came in the Board the annual lunacy bills had increased from $19,000, more than double in amount. He believed a county asylum could be maintained at a saving of $10,000 per year to the county.

Freeholders Swain, Brucklacher and Tier, members of the committee on lunacy, agreed with Mr. Roll that the increase of the expense for support of the county's insane patients is alarming. They all spoke in high terms of the Morris Plains Asylum, but were of the opinion that the county could do as well and at a great saving.

Freeholder Tier said there are 237 patients in Morris Plains chargeable to Union county, and $40,000 per annum meant $3.50 per week for each patient, a cost which he belived to be excessive.

Freeholder Farrell said that the State allowed an additional $2 50 per week for each patient, so that the cost for maintenance at Morris Plains is $6 per week.

Director Hubbard said the State would continue its allowance to the county if it built its own institution, so that the county would have to provide only its share as it does now.

Freeholder Roll said Essex county has a fine asylum, and gives its patients the best of care at an average expense of $1.60 per week. He believed Union county could do equally as well.

The resolution was adopted, and Director Hubbard appointed as the committee Freeholders Roll, King, Tier, Farrell, Scudder, Brucklacher and Higgins.

After a Requisition for a Horse Thief.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 6—Chief of Police Tenney, of this city, has gone to Albany to obtain the signature of Governor Roosevelt to requisition papers for the removal to this city of Charles Baldwin, alias "Skipper," a young man, who is now in jail in New York city, charged with the theft of a horse and wagon belonging to Christian Rau, a produce dealer here, by whom Baldwin was employed. The latter drove to the Staten Island ferry, crossed to Richmond county, sold his load of produce there, and then fled to New York, where he was caught with the rig.

Looking After School Matters

S. St. John McCutchen, president of the Borough Board of Education, accompanied by Principal Wightman, went to Trenton today to look after some school matters.

NEW RESIDENCES ARE BEING BUILT.

Building Operations Active in Plainfield Now.

A HOUSE TO COST $6,500.

TWENTY-ONE PERMITS GRANTED DURING APRIL.

J. L. Hallock Has Plans Out for the Erection of a Handsome and Costly House on Madison Avenue, South of Stelle Avenue—Smaller Improvement Being Made in Various Sections of the City.

The month of April has shown an increase in the business for the building fraternity of this city. The records of Building Inspector T. O. Doane show that twenty-one permits were granted during the month. Of that number, nine were for new houses, which will cost their owners from $1,200 to $6,500, in course of erection. The remainder of the permits were for barns, small buildings and various alterations and additions.

Of the new residences started during the month, the one building for J. H. Hallock on Madison avenue, south of Stelle avenue, is the most pretentious. It will cost in the neighborhood of $6,500, and will be one of the handsomest residences in that part of the Third ward. It was designed by A. L. C. Marsh.

David N. Force has started a frame cottage on Richmond street near La-Grande avenue, that will cost about $2,000, Phillip Cottrell has begun work on begun work on another frame dwelling at 560 East Second street, which will cost about $1,900.

A handsome twelve-room residence is now under way on Belvidere avenue, back of the Hotel Hunterston. Manning & Runyon are building it. It is of pretty design and will reach $6,000 in cost of erection.

Most of the new buildings are in the Third ward. Mrs. J. R. Truell is having one built on West Fourth street, in the rear of her present home. Then there is the Hallock residence. Miss Catherine Kelly is putting up a $1,400 frame cottage on West Fourth street, near Hope Chapel.

There are two new additions for the rapidly growing colony in the vicinity of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church. Alonzo Aldrich has begun operations on a pretty little cottage on Monroe avenue, between Third and Fourth streets, which will cost about $1,500. J. S. Higham has a more elaborate residence under way on Monroe avenue, near Sixth street. It is a two story and attic residence and will cost in the neighborhood of $4,000.

Of the alterations going forward, the most important are those to O. T. Waring's handsome residence on Park avenue and Blair's livery stable, on West Sixth street, owned by F. A. Pope.

IN THE KENSINGTON'S PARLOR.

Work of Colored Industrial School Explained by Pupils.

J. H. Torbert and four pupils from the Industrial school at Fort Valley, Ga., were given the use of the parlor at the Hotel Kensington last night where they entertained the guests and at the same time presented their plea for aid.

The quartette of pupils sang and played, and one of their number described his experiences as a school teacher in one of the little log schools in the "Black Belt.".

Among the songs was one called the "Watermelon Song," which, they said, they sang for Mr. and Mrs. George Gould, at their home at Lakewood a few weeks ago. Mr. and Mrs. Gould were pleased with the song, and so were the listeners last night.

Reception to Graduates.

The alumni of the Plainfield High School will tender a reception to the graduating class there this year as usual. It will be held at the Casino the same evening as the Commencement exercises, Thursday, June 22d. The reception will be under the charge of the classes of '97 and '98. Sydney R. Titsworth, of Alfred University, is chairman of the commiteee. The reception will begin at 10 o'clock at the close of the exercises in Music Hall.

Dr. Hedges to Lecture.

Dr. Hedges has consented to give a talk upon the subject of "First Aid to the Injured," before the Young Woman's Club, 465 West Front street, Monday evening at eight o'clock. All members of the club are most cordially invited to be present.

To Start the Drain Monday.

The work of constructing the private drain in the upper part of the borough will be started Monday by Patsy Christmas, the contractor. H. C. VanEmburgh is the civil engineer.

TROLLEY TO 'PLAINS BY FIRST OF JUNE.

Large Foece of Men Put at Work Yesterday Morning.

GRADING THE ROADBED.

THAT WORK WILL BE FINISHED IN A WEEK OR TEN DAYS.

Elizabeth and Westfield Company Unable to Get Their Ordinance Progressed in Roselle—Aldermen Want Them to Widen Second and Third Avenues in Return for the Franchise.

Contractor L. W. Serrell started a gang of fifty Italians, under the charge of George Conover, of North Plainfield, as foreman, yesterday, in constructing the roadbed for the Scotch Plains extension of the Plainfield Street Railway Company. The men commenced work at the corner of Westfield and Martine avenues, Scotch Plains, and will work towards this city.

Unless there are unforeseen obstacles it is expected that the roadbed will be graded to the city line on East Second street within a week or ten days As soon as this work is finished the rails will be laid, unless there is further delay in securing the material, which, is feared, may be the case. An official of the road told a reporter last night that the line to Scotch Plains would probably be in operation by June 1st.

At a meeting of the Board of Aldermen of Roselle last night the application of the Elizabeth and Westfield Street Railway Co., which is owned by the same stockholders as control the Plainfield road, was considered again, but it was impossible to put the ordinance on second reading because the Aldermen and the company have not come to an agreement in respect to the improvements which the former want the company to make in widening Second and Third avenues. A hearing on this matter will be given by the Aldermen Friday, May 19th.

A GREAT DAY FOR SALVATIONISTS.

Prominent Staff Officials to Lead the Meetings Tomorrow.

All is ready for the big meetings which are to be led by Col. Higgins, Chief Secretary of the Salvation Army and second in command of the Army throughout the country. The meetings are to take place at the Army barracks at 118 East Front street, tomorrow. Those who have been responsible for the arrangements for the meeting feel confident that they will be the best that the army has had here in many years. Col. Higgins is no novice in leading special salvation meetings.

Dr. Nice has been here before and many have heard him tell his thrilling experience. Dr. Nice is a high-class musician and will render violin solos during the day. Brigadier Scott will also be present. The Brigadier is in charge of the New York and New Jersey division. The Staten Island Singing Brigade from the Stapleton Corps will help to make these meetings interesting.

The first meeting takes place at 11 a. m., subject: "Consecration." At 3:15 p. m. there will be a praise meeting, and the crowning meeting will take place at 8 p. m., subject: "Salvation—How, Where and When it Can be Obtained."

LIFE AND WORK OF DR. ABEEL.

Interesting Papers Read on a Great Missionary in China.

The Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church held their regular monthly meeting in the church parlor yesterday afternoon. A pleasant and profitable time was spent listening to the reading of several carefully prepared papers on the life and work of Rev. Dr. Abeel, the first missionary to China, sent out by the Dutch Reformed church. Two other papers were read by members of the band, one on "The Obstacles and Hinderances in China," and another on "The Opium Habit of the Chinese."

Miss Anna Searing and Miss L. Remsen were chosen to represent the band at the annual meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions, Reformed church of America, to be held in the Collegiate church, Fifth avenue and Forty-eighth street, New York, Tuesday next. A barrel of clothing and useful articles valued at $20 will be sent today by the band to the Schofield school, at Aiken, South Carolina.

Mr. Heath as a Poet

Arthur Heath of Central avenue, is a contributor this month to the "Inland Printer," a trade journal published in Chicago. Mr. Heath has a poem entitled, "The Filler Question Dissolved" in the columns, which occupies a prominent place.

THE CENTRAL TO MEET TROLLEY COMPETITION.

Changes to be Made in Route From Elizabeth to Newark.

GREAT SAVING OF TIME.

TRAINS TO RUN THROUGH BROADWAY IN ELIZABETH.

It is Currently Rumored That a Larger Number of Trains Will be Run and That the Rate of Fare Will be Reduced, but No Definite Information—Better Facilities in View for Plainfield.

The Central Railroad Company began yesterday what is alleged to be the first step toward increasing the number of local trains between Newark, Elizabeth and Plainfield, in order to compete with the trolley railroads in contemplation. The rumor current is that trains will be run at frequent intervals and the rate of fare will be materially reduced. No definite information as to the company's plans in this respect can be obtained, but what the company has done is to stake out the land on Broadway, in Elizabeth, for a connection of its tracks on that street with the Long Branch Railroad tracks for the the purpose of running the trains between Roselle and Newark over that route instead of on the main line from the Spring Street station.

By turning off Broadway, in Elizabeth, the company will be able to avoid the switching that is now necessary to get the Newark trains to the Elizabethport station from the meadow route, which connects with the main line at Schiller street. At present trains going to Newark leave the main line a short distance east of Schiller street and run out on the meadows a considerable distance, and back down to the station on a spur that connects with the Long Branch tracks. The trains from Newark run into the Elizabethport station in this way, and back over again to the meadow tracks to resume the route to the main line. This method causes a waste of time and is a matter of great inconvenience.

By abandoning the Schiller street connection, and making the connection by way of the Broadway and Long Branch tracks, all these inconveniences and loss of time is avoided, and the trains will approach the station in their regular course.

The change will be made as soon as the connection can be made. The Broadway route is the original main line of the railroad company in use before the Newark bay bridge was built. All trains ran over the Broadway tracks to the steamboat wharves, and passengers were conveyed to and from New York on the steamboats Waterwitch, Kill von Kull, Red Jacket, Chancellor and other steamers.

ROPE CAUGHT HIM IN THE NECK.

John French Met With a Thrilling Experience Riding a Bicycle.

Superintendent John French, of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, met with a peculiar accident at Bound Brook yesterday while riding through the town on his wheel. There was stretched across one of the main streets a piece of rope rather small in size and Mr. French did not notice it. He was riding at a pretty good gait and the rope caught him in the neck, throwing him with much force from his wheel.

Workmen in the vicinity, who were using the rope to assist in getting a line for curbing, rushed to Mr. French's assistance, thinking that he was seriously injured. It was some minutes before he recovered, and after he was able to walk he sought a physician who applied proper treatment. There is one thing that saved Mr. French from serious injury and that was a standing collar which he wore.

Trolley Franchise Granted.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 6—The Westfield and Elizabeth Traction Company applied to the Freeholders for a franchise to lay tracks on seventeen feet of the county road between Rahway and Westfield, and also for the privilege of crossing a bridge over the Cranford river between Cranford and this city. Both applications were granted and the work of laying tracks connecting Plainfield with this city will be pushed rapidly.

A Late Roll Call.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 6.—Justice Van Syckel gave an order in court yesterday which is intended to secure the presence of petit jurors when wanted. Some jurors have a habit of going to court and after a roll call running away. Judge VanSyckel's direction to County Clerk Howard was not to call the roll of the general panel until after 10 o'clock each day.

HOME FOR OLD FOLKS.

A WORTHY INSTITUTION FOR AGED COLORED FOLKS.

The Enterprise Fathered by Rev. E. E. Jackson, Who Has Secured a Site for the Institution in Hunterdon County.

A week ago the colored citizens of Plainfield and the State were presented with two acres of land through the influence of Rev. E. E. Jackson. The land is intended for the erection of an old folks' home and a State reformatory. J. D. Drake, of Flemington, presented the land to the colored people.

Mr. Jackson states that his plan for building and maintaining this is, that in every church of the State shall be formed an organization which will pledge itself to lift so much of the required amount per year. There will be a Board of Directors who will take entire charge of the property, and a financial agent to travel in the interest of this home. This plan seems to be appreciated by the better thinking white and colored people to a greater extent than the multiplicity of colored churches.

The object seems to be a worthy one and if Mr. Jackson carries it out it will be a worthy one for his race. When the Board of Directors shall have organized there is an offer of $500 for the erection of the home. The building will cost about $2,000. The ground is situated in Hunterdon county one mile and a half from Pittstown, and is one of the choice sections of the State.

CYCLE RUNS ARRANGED.

Y. M. C. A. CYCLERS HELD IMPORTANT MEETING LAST NIGHT.

Elected Raymond Carroll President and Eric Moraller Vice-President — Also Adopted Summer Schedule of Runs.

A meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Cyclers was held last night in the association parlors to complete their organization and to decide upon some things in connection with the semi-monthly runs. At the last meeting C. B. Egan was elected captain, F. Marcley lieutenant and L. I. VanAlstyne secretary and treasurer.

Last night Raymond Carroll was made president and Eric Moraller vice-president. It was decided to hold meetings at the end of each month. The schedule of runs was adopted and a pennant of white, with a red triangle, was chosen. The members also will wear red triangles on their hats. The schedule of runs will be as follows:

May 11 — Springfield road around Westfield to Elizabeth and home. Distance, 12 miles.

May 25—Rahway by way of Elizabeth and home, 22 miles.

June 8—Summit by way of Springfield road, returning home same way, 25 miles.

June 22—New Brunswick by way of Park avenue, returning by way of Stelton. Twenty-six miles.

July 6—Cranford by way of Westfield, and home by Springfield. Sixteen miles.

July 20—Home club entertains visitors.

August 3—Rahway by way of new road, returning by way of Westfield. Twenty-two miles.

August 17—Summit by usual route. 25 miles.

August 31—New Brunswick by way of Stelton road, returning by way of Park avenue. 26 miles.

May 30th and July 4th special runs will be taken to points to be decided upon later.

DIDN'T SECURE A PERMIT.

Street Commissioner Did Not Authorize Voehl to Dig a Trench.

Jacob Voehl, Jr., the plumber, dug a trench in Westervelt avenue without getting permission from the city. The arm of the law threatened to fall heavily upon him and a warrant was issued for his arrest at the complaint of Street Commissioner Gavett.

Voehl sent a Peace Commission to confer with the Street Commissioner. He surrendered unconditionally and the Street Commissioner agreed to withdraw the charge if the street was put back in its original condition without delay.

Death of Mrs. Fahey.

Mrs. Anne A. Fahey, sixty years of age, died at the residence of her son, Thomas Fahey, of 409 West Third street, yesterday. The funeral services will be held from the residence of her son Monday morning at 8 o'clock, and from St. Mary's church at 8:30. Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

The Carriers' New Hats.

The letter-carriers appeared today wearing their new summer hats. They are patterned after the regular U. S. Army hat, and are preferable to the straw hat usually worn.

CHASE FOR BURGLARS WAS A FRUITLESS ONE

Man Who Robbed Werner's Store Was Not Caught.

LEFT WITH A HUCKSTER.

ON THE WAY TO LINCOLN SOLD THE MAN A SUIT FOR $5.

Will Richards, Clerk at the Clothing Store, Spotted the Suspected Man Acting Suspiciously at West Front Street and Central Avenue—Chief Grant and Richards Gave Chase, But Did Not Get Him.

The burglar made his appearance again yesterday. This time he departed from the city with his ill-gotten gains, taken from Harry Werner's clothing store, amid sundry dramatic happenings in which Chief Grant figured prominently. The burglar is still at liberty but it's safe to say that he's miles away from Plainfield at present.

Thursday evening, the night of the burglary at Werner's, a stranger came into the store. He was a man of middle height, fairly broad shoulders, and apparently about 38 years of age. He had a stubby untrimmed beard and wore a black slouch hat. He wanted to purchase some packing boxes and went into the basement with Will Richards, the clerk, to look at them. They wouldn't answer his purpose, he said.

Yesterday morning Roundsman Flynn discovered the footprints of the burglar in the earth in the passageway leading to the basement window. The man had worn rather small pointed shoes.

Yesterday noon as Richards was returning to work from lunch he noticed the stranger of the night before standing at the corner of West Front street and Central avenue. The stranger wore the same suit that Richards had seen on him the night before, but he wore a new brown derby hat, one of which was found missing at Werner's. A huckster's wagon came along and Richards heard the driver say, in response to the stranger's question, that he was going to Dunellen. Then the stranger climbed on the front seat with the driver. He had two bundles.

Richards hurried back to tell his employer. When Werner was found there was a hunt to find a policeman. Chief Grant was finally dragged away from his dinner table.

Putting Richards on a bicycle the Chief aud Richards set out in pursuit of the huckster's wagon. The Chief says they rode at a 2:40 clip. On arriving at Dunellen they could find no trace of such a wagon. Nobody remembered having seen one. Then they went to New Market and followed up several hucksters, who proved to be the wrong men.

Chief Grant then returned home to get something to eat, while Richards rode on toward Lincoln. Half a mile beyond there he found the huckster, but he was alone. The huckster said that he was W. G. Nolman, of 207 College place, New Brunswick. He said he purchased a suit of clothes from the stranger for $5, but refused to give up the suit, however. The stranger had left him at Lincoln and taken the trolley.

Richards went back for the Chief and then the two went to Bound Brook. They found that the burglar had reached there by trolley and then disappeared, probably by a passing train.

The New Brunswick authorities know of no Nolman and say there is no College place in New Brunswick. Chief Grant is confident of finding the huckster, but mourns the burglar as gone forever.

Newsboy Bitten by a Dog.

Henry Bender, a newsboy, of East Third street, was severely bitten in the hand by a small dog Thursday night while delivering papers on East Front street. The lad put up his hand to ring the door bell at the house where he was to leave a paper, when the dog sprang at him and sank his teeth in the soft flesh. Dr. Marc Clawson cauterized the wound yesterday.

The Last Sociable.

The last sociable of All Soul's church for the present season was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip V. R. VanWyck, Stelle avenue. The parish was well represented and all had a thoroughly good time. Music, games and general sociability enlivened the hours.

Afternoon Card Playing.

The afternoon card club, of which Miss Daisy Eiseberg, of Prospect place, is a member, was delightfully entertained last evening by Miss Eiseberg, assisted by Miss Ida Strauss. This is the last meeting of the club for this season, but the meetings will be resumed next fall.

VIXEN GOING TO BLUEFIELDS

Converted Gunboat Ordered to Back Up Detroit in Nicaraguan Waters.

VIKING WILL GO ALSO

Present Situation in Nicaragua Responsible for Sending of Boats—No Word Since April 22.

Trouble Between American Shippers and Central American Government Not Yet Adjusted—Our Citizens Claim They Are Subject to Persecution Through the Influence of Colonel Torres.

Washington, May 6.—The converted gunboat Vixen has been ordered from Norfolk to Bluefields, Nicaragua, to assist the Detroit in the protection of American interests. Orders have been issued also for the converted gunboat Viking to be fitted for service along the eastern coast of Central America. She will be used in making frequent visits to ports in Nicaragua and Honduras where Americans are subjected constantly to petty persecutions.

The Vixen has been under orders to proceed to Manila for service in Philippine waters. She was ready to leave on her long voyage, when the Naval Board of Inspection and Survey discovered defects which would render her unstable on her 10,000-mile journey.

The Vixen was accordingly ordered a few days ago to the Norfolk Navy Yard to undergo the necessary alterations. This work will consume about ten days, and at the end of that time the little vessel will proceed to Bluefields.

The Vixen is expected to remain in Central American waters only until the Viking gets there. When the Viking relieves her the Vixen will probably start for Samoa instead of Manila. This change in her orders has been in contemplation lately, and it was stated at the Navy Department that it would very likely be made.

The present situation at Bluefields is responsible for the orders to the Vixen. Although the cruiser Detroit arrived there on April 22 no word has come from her commander, and the Navy Department has been unable to communicate with him. It is suspected that the Nicaragua authorities are tampering with official telegrams, and as the Government knows from experience that the only way to remedy such things is by taking positive action, the orders to the Vixen and the Viking have ben forwarded.

The troubles at Bluefields between the Nicaraguan authorities and American shippers have not been adjusted. It is claimed by the Americans that they are subjected to constant persecution through the influence of Col. Torres, a rabid anti-American, who is Governor of the Department of Zeleya in which Bluefields is situated.

Americans in Honduras have complained to the State Department that they are ill treated by the authorities of that country, and it is at their request that the Viking is sent to Honduran waters.

Confession of Murder a Trick

London, May 6.—The police think that Richard F. Nicholson, the convict in Wormwood Scrubbs Prison here, who has made an alleged confession of killing Dolly Reynolds in New York, is merely playing for respite from his imprisonment and a free trip across the Atlantic.

Captain McClusky, chief of detectives said that the confession made by Richard T. Nicholson, a prisoner in Wormwood Scrubs prison, London, that he killed Dolly Reynolds, for whose murder Dr. Samuel J. Kennedy is now under sentence of death, was absurd.

"The fact that the man says that he shot the girl," added Captain McClusky "is enough to discredit his story and so-called confession. However, we shall look into his record and into the facts of the case, although I firmly believe that we have the right man from the start in Dr. Kennedy."

He does not know Nicholson.

Bishops, in Council, Hear a Squabble.

Syracuse, May 6.—Chancellor Day, head of the Syracuse University, raised quite a storm in the College of Bishops, whose sessions have just closed here, by attacking Bishop Hurst, of the Methodist University at Washington, because the latter made an appeal for subscriptions in this State. He spoke of Bishop Hurst's college as "that visionary institution of learning at the national capital." The incident was closed by a resolution giving the money subscribed to the Syracuse institution.

Catacuzene-Grant Engagement.

Paris, May 6.—Mrs. Potter Palmer has given a reception in honor of the mother of Prince Michael Catacuzene and as a public recognition of the engagement of the Prince and Miss Julia D. Grant, who is in her care. Ambassador Porter and the leaders of the American colony were present.

The Chicago at Gibraltar.

Gibraltar, May 6.—The cruiser Chicago has arrived here. Salutes were exchanged with the British squadron in the Straits. Rear-Admiral Henry L. Howison and his staff landed and called upon the Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the British forces here. The Chicago will sail to-day for Tangier.

Soldiers Dig Up $60,000.

Seattle, Wash., May 6.—A message from First Washington soldiers at Manila says the boys of the regiment have recovered buried treasure amounting to $60,000, mostly in gold coin. It was hidden in various amounts from $500 to $5,000.

The transport Sedgwick, formerly the Chester, will proceed direct to New York under slow speed to have her propeller shaft repaired.

THE LATEST NEWS.

AGUINALDO ANXIOUS TO SURRENDER.

Washington, May 6.—The surrender of Aguinaldo is believed to be close at hand.

President Schurman of the American Philippines Commission, cabled to the President the belief that Aguinaldo is ready to surrender. He informed the President of a new plea for peace made by the Tagal representatives.

The Tagal officers have passed between the Commission and Aguinaldo several times. They have now brought a new proposition for peace, coupled with terms which show, by their modification from the original, in what extremes the leaders of the rebellion find themselves.

Aguinaldo offers to surrender, but he makes through his representatives, a plea for certain assurances. The conditions call for no sacrifice of principles. They involve no compromise on the main question or recognition of United States authority. They are of minor consequence so far as this Government is concerned. In them, however, Aguinaldo apparently sees partial relief from the abject humiliation of unconditional surrender.

The American Commission is inclined to deal fairly with the Filipinos, but does not wish to assume responsibility for the concessions asked. Therefore President Schurman cabled asking instructions.

The matter was considered by the President to-day. The answer has been sent.

If, as the Commission believes the representatives of Aguinaldo are in earnest in their appeals for peace, the instructions forwarded to President Schurman are calculated to make the way easy. There will be no surprise at the White House if, when the Filipino officers get back to Aguinaldo with the assurances given by cable, the white flag goes up to stay.

ABRUPT ENDING TO A FISTIC BOUT.

New York, May 6.—Kid McPartland of New York and Jack Bennett of Philadelphia were the offering at the Broadway Athletic Club last night, but they proved a rather poor attraction, and, in consequence, one of the smallest crowds of the season was in attendance. They were matched to box twenty-five rounds at 138 pounds. Two minutes and twenty-five seconds after the beginning of the fifth round marked the finish. A wicked left hand punch in the pit of the stomach took all the fight and breath out of the Philadelphian. After he had been carried to his corner and revived he declared he had been hit below the belt, which certainly was not the case. The blow was delivered low in the stomach.

VERDICT DRIVES MEN INTO JAIL.

Louisville, Ky., May 6.—George Dinning, the negro who shot and killed Jodie Conn, leader of the mob that came to burn his house received a verdict of $50,000 against his surviving assailants in the Federal Court. The jury, composed of white men, gave him the full amount of damages he asked for.

The defendants are Doc Moore, Ab. Freeman, Joseph Flowers, John Flowers, John Phelps and C. H. Conn, administrator of Jodie Conn. They are farmers of Logan and Simpson Counties.

Under Judge Evan's instructions to the jury six of the defendants were let out, the evidence being insufficient against them. Lawyers for the defendants say that Dinning will not receive a cent, notwithstanding the verdict. They will remain in jail for ten days and then take the poor debtors' oaths.

THE BELMONTS ARE IN LEXINGTON.

Lexington, May 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont have arrived in Lexington. They came on the C. and O. express. There was nobody at the station to greet them except Hal P. Headley. Several telegrams had been delivered to the couple just as the train stopped and Mrs. Belmont was reading one of them when Headley came up. He assisted them into his rockaway and took them to the Phoenix Hotel, where they will stay for the night. The couple will go to Beaumont farm to-morrow morning to inspect Mr. Belmont's horses, and if they get through in time they probably will leave Lexington to-morrow. Lexington society leaders apparently care nothing about entertaining the New Yorkers.

BIG STRIKE INAUGURATED IN HAVANA.

Havana, May 6.—The stevedores have inaugurated a strike for an advance of $3 a day in American money, instead of $2.50. An attempt to supply the places of the strikers with Chinese resulted in a severe fight, but about one hundred Chinamen are employed, in spite of the opposition of the strikers.

The Chinese Consul has asked Gen. Ludlow, the Military Governor of Havana, for protection for the laborers. The Chinese Consul has also protested against the removal of the Chinese quarter outside the city, which has been ordered by Surgeon Major John G. Davis on the request of citizens of Havana.

ANOTHER JERSEY CORPORATION.

Trenton, May 6.—The Chicago Electric Vechicle Company was incorporated here with a capital stock of $1,000,000. The company proposes to manufacture, sell and operate carriages and vehicles of all kinds. The capital stock consists of 10,000 shares, 4,000 shares being preferred, bearing an annual dividend of 5 per cent. The incorporators are: Anson D. Fox, Pleasant Prairie, Wis.; Smith C. Shedrick, John Trier, Gustav Lukes, M. M. Chesrown and J. W. Creekmur of Chicago, and David Harvey, Jr., of Asbury Park, N. J.

SAN FERNANDO IS TAKEN

Boasted Filipino Stronghold Fired by Retreating Rebels. Natives Escape on Trains

SUPPLIES ARE CAPTURED

Filipino Prisoners Say Many Spaniards Are at San Isidro—Destruction of Bridge by the Natives.

Monitor Monadnock Bombarded the Town of Paranaque—That Natives Did Not Expect Americans to Take Calumpit Is Shown by the Fact That Railroad to the North is Intact.

Manila, May 6.—Gen. MacArthur advanced and occupied San Fernando without loss. The small garrison of Filipinos left in the town burned the place and made their escape on trains. Gen. Lawton has established his headquarters at Balinag. He has sent Col. Summers with two battalions each of the Oregon and Minnesota regiments beyond Maasin to capture the large stores which the enemy is reported to have near San Ildefonso.

Filipino prisoners say that there are many Spaniards at San Isidro, and that the main body of the native refugees is traveling toward the Biac cobatte Mountains. The campaign appears to be entering the vicinity of San Isidro. The destruction of the bridges by the natives necessitates the abandonment of attempts to run railroad trains beyond Calumpit and wagon trains have been substituted. Monitor Monadnock bombarded Paranque.

Santo Tomas is two miles from San Fernando, which town the rebels boast is even a stronger strategic position than was Calumpit. That the rebels never expected the Americans to take Calumpit is shown by the fact that railroad track to the north was intact, the bridge across the river being the only thing that was destroyed before the American advance.

Peace Conference Expenses.

The Hague, May 6.—The Second Chamber passed the bill of credit for the expenses incident to the holding of the International Disarmament Conference at The Hague. Deputy Dobbelman protested against the vote because the Pope had not been invited to take part in the conference, and Deputy Van Kol, Socialist, made objection to the passage of the bill on the ground of Russia's proceedings in Finland.

Deputy Van Kol, in explaining why he and his colleagues voted against the credit, said that the conference originated with the Czar, in whose name thousands of fighters for the people's welfare had been prosecuted, tortured and massacred.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs protested against the several statements unfavorabe to the bill and the credit was adopted by a large majority.

The President's Vacation.

Washington, May 6.—Arrangements have been nearly completed for the President's trip to Hot Springs, Va., next week. The present plan is to leave on Monday, but it may not be convenient for Mr. McKinley to start before Tuesday or Wednesday.

It was said that the President's decision to spend two or three weeks at Hot Springs was not brought about by any serious condition of ill health, but because it has for some time been believed that Mr. McKinley should have as thorough a relaxation from official duties as possible. He has suffered intermittently for some time from toothache and from facial neuralgia. His physician believes he should have a rest.

Secretary Gage is already at Hot Springs, where he went a few days ago to spend two weeks.

Uncle Sam Will Sue.

Philadelphia, May 6.—The Government will begin legal proceedings for the recovery of every dollar that can be squeezed out of the Jacobs-Kendig gang of counterfeiters. All the personal property of the four men accussed will be attached and sold to the highest bidder.

The schedule includes the stock and fixtures of the two cigar factories in Lancaster, valued at $15,000, all of the valuable machinery in the counterfeiting plant and the machinery and fixtures of the engraving establishment of Taylor & Bredel in this city, valued at about $3,000. The title to the cigar properties, it is said, is held by Jacob's father.

WANTS TO KNOW.

Atkinson Asks if His Communications Can Be Legally Delivered in the Philippines.

Washington, May 6.—Postmaster-General Smith said he had received a letter from Edward Atkinson asking if the Government could suggest any method by which his communications to army officers and others in the Philippines could be legally delivered. The nature of the Postmaster-General's reply, if any, was not indicated.

Porto Ricans Enlist.

Washington, May 6.—Gen. Henry at San Juan is making fair progress in the plan for the enlistment of 400 Porto Ricans in the United States army. The town of Tares has already supplied its quota of twenty-five men, and Acatjutla all but two or three. Gen. Henry reports that he has good material to select from and that most of the natives consider it an honor to wear the uniform. The recruits will be distributed among the different infantry companies.

Spanish Money Cleared.

New York, May 6.—The Spanish warrant for $5,000,000 passed through the Clearing House in the regular course of business. The Sub-Treasury, against which the warrant is drawn, will pay the amount in gold at such time or times as the Clearing House may desire. The money will be placed to the creditor banks of the Clearing House, those banks in the meantime receiving certificates therefore.

A Brooklyn policeman, living on Lafayette Avenue, makes some well-considered remarks on the habits of the force: "Their sleep is irregular, their meals irregular, and their business is an irregularity from beginning to end." He says: "Is it any wonder that you find many of them of irregular character and habits, brought on by a disordered stomach? I wish samples of Ripans Tabules could be placed in the hands of every policeman in the country, if for no other reason than the purifying effect upon their character and habits. Ripans Tabules can never be known except by trial. I shall continue to take one whenever necessary. I have found them to be unsurpassed by anything. Policemen are subject to indigestion and dyspepsia perhaps more than others. For them I consider Ripans Tabules a great blessing."

A new style packet containing TEN RIPANS TABULES in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FOR FIVE CENTS. This form of RIPANS TABULES is intended for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the 5-cent cartons (120 tabules) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York. A single carton (TEN TABULES) will be sent for five cents.

REPORT FROM OTIS

Says That Lawton Has Captured Filipino Subsistence Supplies Worth $1,500,000.

Washington, May 6.—A despatch from Gen. Otis received at the War Department, giving a list of casualties at Santo Tomas, also conveyed the information that the retreating Filipino army set fire to the town of San Fernando, where it has been expected that Gen. Luna might make a stand.

Gen. Otis also remarked upon the capture by Gen. Lawton of large quantities of subsistence supplies of a total value of $1,500,000. He says:

"Adjutant General, Washington:

"Following casualties at Santo Tomas yesterday: One officer, Lieut. Taggart, 20th Kansas, and four enlisted men killed, three officers, twenty-two enlisted men wounded. Among wounded Gen. Funston, hand, slight. Lawton reports capture over 150,000 bushels rice, 265 tons sugar at Balinag. Values of subsistence captured at Malolos $1,500,000. Large capture rice and corn belonging to enemy at other points. Insurgents destroyed by fire town of Santo Tomas and fired city of San Fernando. "OTIS."

The advices from Gen. Otis conveyed no information in regard to the plan of the campaign. This was evidently unnecessary, however, for the despatches received from Otis previously made very clear the general plan of operations to be pursued by the American leaders.

Great results are expected from Gen Lawton's sweeping march to the northward, and it is confidently expected by the officers of the War Department that such of the insurgents as are driven to the mountains will be cornered there and effectually cut off from receiving supplies.

The report that the insurgent force nearest Manila numbered 9,000, instead of 4,000 men, was not reassuring, but the American military commanders evidently expect that it will be possible to hold these in check, even if it shall appear impracticable to pursue them until the arrival of reenforcements from the United States. There is no doubt that the War Department feels the need of a larger force in the Philippines, and the arrival of the 13th and the 19th Infantry now on the way to Manila, is looked forward to with confidence that these regiments will greatly strengthen the army under Gen. Otis's command.

Dive of 40 Feet to Death.

New York, May 6.—With his hands joined above his head, a well-dressed young man, bent on self-destruction, dived from the stone wall at Riverside Drive and One Hundred and Third street, to the park, forty feet below.

His body rolled down the steep incline thirty feet further and would have landed on the track of the Central Railroad had it not been stopped by a tree.

The man was taken to the hospital unconscious. It was found his skull had been fractured, and he died soon afterward.

In one of his pockets a pawn ticket was found bearing the name "Dorn." The ticket showed that a diamond ring had been pledged on January 25, 1899, for $25 at a Park row pawnshop.

Henry A. Reynolds, who lives at One Hundred and Fourth street and Broadway, saw the man make the dive. He called Policeman Maclare, who summoned an ambulance.

The young man was not known in the neighborhood. Besides the pawn ticket the only thing found in his pockets was a pocketbook containing two cents.

The man was about thirty years old.

Bridegroom Weighs 85 and Bride 384.

South Bend, Ind., May 6.—At Prescott, Charles Howard and Miss Mabel Grace Hamilton were married by Justice John R. McDonald. The bridegroom, who is 34 years old, is the smallest man in the State, weighing only 85 pounds; the bride, 30 years old, tips the scales at 384 pounds.

The Incorporation of the Union Match Company Said to Be the First Step Toward the Consolidation of the Match Industries of America—To Secure Control of Diamond and Continental.

Chicago, May 6.—John W. Gates returned from New York and brought confirmation of the reports of the combination of all the large steel companies in the country. He says that the headquarters of the new company will be in New York, and that the capital stock will be between $500,000,000 and $800,000,000, possibly $1,000,000,000. The President of the new company will be H. C. Frick of Pittsburg, who has been so closely identified with Andrew Carnegie.

Mr. Gates said that Mr. Carnegie would not have any interest in the new concern provided the terms he proposed to the combination were accepted. "And I suppose they have been," he said, "else the combine would not now be an assured fact."

The American Steel & Wire was one of two concerns he said, that held out against the combination until recently. The other is said to have been the Federal Steel Company. Mr. Gates said that the difficulty was really a small one, and intimated that it was a matter of price. The new company, he says, will be ready for operation by July 1.

Pittsburg, May 6.—There are many conflicting rumors here concerning the Carnegie interests and the consolidation of the big steel and iron companies. Officers of the Carnegie company here positively refuse to talk, and the representatives of other concerns are equally reticent.

New York, May 6.—There was much interest taken to-day in Wall Street in the story circulated to the effect that the interest of Andrew Carnegie in the Carnegie Steel Company had been purchased by a new concern. H. C. Frick was said to be at the head of the new company, which included all of Mr. Carnegie's partners.

The price paid, according to the story, was $150,000,000, and it was further said that the new concern was to retain the name of the present company.

Thomas M. Day, Samuel F. Jarvis and John J. Treacy, all of Jersey City, yesterday incorporated in Trenton, N. J., a new company under the name of the Carnegie Steel Company.

The capitalization was given as only $2,000, but the statement of purpose is most extensive, and this has given rise to the impression that the men named are not the men behind the scheme. The story circulated connected this company with the transfer of the Carnegie interests, and it was said that within a week the company would file at Trenton a certificate of increase of stock bringing the capitalization up to $500,000,000 at least. The new company it is said, would include the H. C. Frick company as well as all the Carnegie steel plants, the Oliver Mining Company, the Pittsburg, Bessemer & Lake Erie Railroad and the Carnegie holdings in the natural gas regions in Ohio and Pennsylvania. The H. C. Frick company has about 40,000 acres of good coal land in what is known as the Connellsville district and the Oliver Mining Company owns many acres of ore in the Lake Superior district.

The Pittsburg, Bessemer & Lake Erie Railroad was built by Carnegie to carry ore from the lake region to his big furnaces in Pittsburg. It was built in a hurry, and is said by railroad men to be one of the best freight-carrying roads in the United States.

John D. Rockfeller and H. H. Rogers of the Standard Oil Company were named as men who were interested in the new company. Simpson, Thacher & Barnum were also mentioned.

Akron, Ohio, May 6.—According to reliable authority a gigantic trust to control the match industry of the world is in process of formation.

The incorporation this week, under the laws of New Jersey, of the Union Match Company with a capital stock of $10,000,000, is said to be the first step toward a consolidation of the match industries of America. One-half of the capitalization of the new company is to be preferred stock, with 7 per cent. cumulative dividends. The incorporators are: E. H. Bronson, E. Cranel, W. E. Cook, William M. Ivins, C. H. Williams and C. G. Kidder.

The new company is to secure control of all the match manufactories, independent of the Diamond and Continental companies. When its object is accomplished, the match business will be controlled by three companies, the New Union Match Company, the Diamond Match Company and the Continental Company. The latter, owned by the Goulds, is the Diamond's greatest rival. The plan is to then unite these three companies into one gigantic corporation.

The semi-publicity which has been given these plans has had the effect of making an increased demand for Diamond Match stock. The stock is now selling at $1.40, but it is expected to go higher. A good deal of stock changed hands in Akron at $1.40.

The Diamond Match Company is capitalized at $11,000,000 and the capitalization of the Continental Company runs away up in the millions.

STRIKE AT BUFFALO

All Union Men in the Freight Houses and Elevators Threaten to Go Out.

Buffalo, May 6.—The police who are on duty along the docks reported at 10 o'clock that there was no sign of trouble anywhere. It was announced by the members of New Local 51, the organization of the men who are opposing grain contractors Kennedy and Conners, that all the union laborers employed in freight houses and at elevators were going to strike at noon to day if the contractors did not reach an agreement with the shovellers. If the strike is declared it will affect about 2,500 men.

The situation is still complicated. It means much to the contractors to have the Lake Carriers' Association stand by them, and they will try to carry out their contract so long as the association is willing to support it. The Lake Carriers' Association has decided to relieve the contractors from paying any demurrage for the delay which some boats will have to suffer because of the trouble. The contractors are willing to make a number of concessions to the scoopers, but the scoopers will listen to nothing but the entire abolition of the contract system. Chairman Johnson of the Board of Arbitration says of the situation:

"I am afraid it is going to be a difficult problem. Mr. Conners has a valuable contract, which he naturally refuses to throw up. Almost any man would take such a position. On the other hand, the grain shovellers make certain allegations. They claim that the saloon boss system, which certainly is an objectionable and abnoxious system, remains in force. They say that they should be paid at some office and not in a saloon. They also claim that the contract sysem is prejudicial to their interests, and that the proposition made by Mr. Connors to pay the men by the hour instead of by the number of bushels of grain unloaded would prevent them from earning a fair and just wage.

"Mr. Connors is willing, he says, to abolish the saloon bosses. In fact, he declares that there are no saloon bosses now. He also appears to be willing to pay the men at the elevators or any place else they may select. The contract therefore, seems to be the only stumbling block.

Shooting at Buffalo.

Buffalo, May 6.—Bartholomew Connor, Secretary of the New Local 51, grain scoopers, entered the room of Henry C. Barter, Secretary-Treasurer of the International Longshoremen's Union, at the Robinson House and fired a shot at him, missing him, however. Connor escaped. The situation on the docks is practically unchanged.

MANY ARRESTS

Citizens of Burke in the Coeur d'Alene Taken Prisoners by the Troops.

Spokane, Wash., May 6.—A detachment of the 4th Cavalry, dismounted, under command of Gen. Merriam, proceeded to the town of Burke, in the Coeur d'Alene district, and virtually captured the inhabitants of that place. Among the prisoners taken were not only miners but men in every profession—lawyers, physicians, clergymen and the Postmaster of the town.

Burke was the hotbed of the riot movement that resulted last Saturday in the loss of two lives and the destruction of $250,000 worth of property. For this reason Gen. Merriam made his unexpected move. It was feared a pitched battle would result when it was learned that the General and his troops were on the way to capture Burke, but no fighting took place.

Altogether there were under arrest in the Coeur d'Alene district more than 200 men. There will be few more arrests in Wallace or Wardner. About 120 of the prisoners are quartered in a big barn near Kellogg, half a mile from the ruins of the mills which were blown up last Saturday. Another band of prisoners is under guard at Mullan. Since martial law was declared in Shoshone county the soldiers have been thorough in their search for ams and for rioters.

Washington, May 5.—Acting Secretary of War Meikiejohn received the following despatch from Gen. Merriam at Wardner, Idaho:

"Inquest still in progress with closed doors. One hundred and twenty-eight arrests made by State officials under military support; no signs of resistance, but indications are that leaders of mob have escaped going east and west into Montana and Washington; others hidden in the mountains. Sheriff at Thompson Falls, Mont., reports many arriving on foot over mountain trails. Governors of Idaho and Montana corresponding for arrests in Montana; troops in position to do all that is possible. There is now no appearance of organized resistance.

"MERRIAM."

Tricks of Asphalters.

In view of the fact that Plainfield expects to put down a permanent pavement in the business section in a short time, and that asphalt will probably be the material used, it is of particular interest that the officials and the townspeople should be informed as to the practices of other municipalities in dealing with the firms who furnish this commodity. In line with this thought the Paterson Press publishes an editorial in yesterday's edition that contains some excellent information. It is as follows:

Some time ago we noted the fact that Jersey City authorities had found a way to checkmate the action of the asphalt paving companies in combining to keep up prices. This was to fix a maximum price for such paving. For a time it resulted in competition which secured asphalt streets at the really fair price of $1.38 per square yard, but it is evident from bids opened in Newark last week that the paving companies are again in a combination, for the latest bids are greater by 51 cents per square yard than the minimum price of last year. The various bids run close together in amount. It has been said by the companies that the prices of last year were low beyond the possibility of doing good work at a fair profit. That may be true and again it may not. It is the natural defense of the asphalt people, who, it will be seen, by that defense tacitly admit that they are organized to get their own prices; but the fact remains that numerous cities throughout the country are still getting asphalt pavements much below the price now set in Newark—$1.89 on the average—and the contractors do not appear to be going out of business. The new combination in Newark forces that city to the point where it must either adhere to its maximum price ultimatum and go without asphalt or yield to the "combine." The former action would probably soon bring the asphalt men to terms. It is not easy to explain the infatuation of some communities for asphalt if they have had such contrasting object lessons as are now afforded in Paterson by the vitrified brick roadways and their rivals. The beauty of the former, when considered in connection with their well established superiority in the matter of durability and other obvious advantages, ought to be sufficient to convince cities that they are not very sorely afflicted if compelled to forego asphalt.

A despatch says that representatives of a number of the great plow manufacturing companies of the country are in Chicago to form a combination, which shall be the nucleus for a corporation of all the makers of agricultural implements in the United States. The only thing practical for their combine to do now is to gobble in the earth and then their trust will be effective.

When Editor Runyon makes an editorial note one day that the Hon. Charles Codding, of Westfield, is an active candidate for appointment as Game Warden, and the next day he is named as Deputy Supreme Court Clerk, it is a pretty good indication that the News man is not as wise politically as he would have people believe.

The Borough Council has acted in an entirely wise manner by resolving to hold semi-monthly meetings for the purpose of paying the men employed on the streets oftener than once a month. It will cause the members of the Council but little extra work to do this, and it will be of inestimable help to the street workers.

If devotion and hard work for a political party deserves reward in appointment to an office with a fat salary, the luck of Hon. Charles Codding, of Westfield, is strictly in good form. The Union county G. O. P. has had no more active and earnest worker than the man with the pure white smile.

Under its present management the New Brunswick Fredonian has been making steady progress along lines of improvement. It is now printed in an eight page form, and has increased its price to two cents.

Not a single New Jersey Congressman has announced his candidacy for the Speakership to succeed Mr. Reed. And yet there are those who say that there are no modest politicians in the Garden State.

The most demure and precise of young women are bound to make a sensation when they appear upon the tennis field, for forsooth they always raise a racquet.

We suppose that the reason many baseball pitchers are easily rattled is due to the fact that they are in a box, and are pounded all over.

As a press agent for Prof. Atkinson, Postmaster-General Charles Emory Smith seems to be an eminent success.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

The Pennsylvania press are unanimous in praise of Mitchell's All Star Players who are to appear at Music Hall next week, and a late issue of a prominent paper has this to say of them: "Barely, if ever, in the history of our Opera House, has there been such large and enthusiastic audiences as has greeted Mitchell's All Star Players all this week, but the excellence of each performance warranted it. The company without an exception is superior to any that has visited this city in years. The company is under the personal management of B. F. Mitchell, and has his careful attention to the minor details of each play, and his laborious efforts to present just such pieces as will please his patrons, regardless of cost, had much to do with the success of the week. He has provided an excellent cast, new and magnificent scenery with novel mechanical and electrical effects." Among the specialists who appear in the performances are the famous little artists, the Elmore Sisters, who are a host in themselves. The opening bill Monday will be "The Galley Slave," and the box office will be open until 9:30 tonight for the sale of reserved seat tickets.

THE BOROUGH COUNCIL

firmed the same.

Mayor Smalley appointed as special marshals J. W. VanHorn, Wm. N. Pangborn, John Coley and P. Cullen. The Council confirmed the appointments.

Among the usual batch of claims was one for $2 for the drawing of a deed for Henry Ruppert. It seems that Lawyer J. H. VanWinkle drew the deed, and Mr. Ruppert secured the same. Mr. Brown submitted the bill. In the latter's opinion the borough should pay the $2 fee for a deed in the transfer of property, but Counsel Reed said that the man owning the property should pay. Inasmuch as Mr. Ruppert has his deed it will probably fall on Mr. Brown to pay the $2 fee, unless he can get Mr. Ruppert to do so.

This concluded the business of the evening and the Council adjourned.

SPREADING INTELLIGENCE.

But it Takes Money, and the Fort Valley School Wants Some.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—The greatest agencies for solving the negro problem in the South today are institutions of learning that tend to better the conditions of the lower classes; institutions that are imparting practical knowledge, that are teaching the colored people self reliance and self-respect.

Under the present condition of affairs in the South today, the terrible race conflicts which tend to threaten the life of a Christian civilization, there seems to be nothing left for the negroes but to pray that through the schools and churches established for them, they may enter into a higher and more useful life of service to their country and to their God.

The Fort Valley School, reaching 600 students annually, is rapidly bringing about the desired result. The institution, however, is greatly in need of funds at the present time, and any contribution from $1 upward would be thankfully received.

The quartette sang last Wednesday at the Crescent Avenue church. They will sing tomorrow evening at the First Baptist church.

Gardening.

This is becoming such a popular and healthful pastime that the suburbanite is growing to alternate it with his wheeling as an early morning indulgence. The essential thing about this, however, is to know just when to break off in time to catch your train, and your watch should keep time on the minute to be depended on. That's just what you can rely on its doing if you have it regulated at Collier's.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 6—At the annual meeting of the Presbyterian church held Thursday night, F. T. Dickerson was elected a trustee to succeed Frank Wyncoop, and John Doty was re-elected. It was decided to retain Rev. A. I. Martine as pastor at the same salary. The annual reports which were presented showed the church to be in a healthy condition spiritually and financially.

A successful "wash" was held by the fire department last night. The alarm was sounded and the old veterans ran out as though they were going to a real fire. It has been so long since there was a conflagration that it was necessary to give the men a run to limber them up.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Seventh Day Baptist church will hold their regular business meeting tonight at 7:45 o'clock, which will be followed by a programme of musical and literary features.

Rev. Dr. Jamison, of the Methedist church, has organized a class of Sunday school teachers who meet once a week, Friday nights, for the study of next Sunday's lesson.

The Holy Communion will be celebrated in the Methodist church tomorrow morning, and the pastor's theme for the morning sermon will be "Christ Memorial."

The young ladies of the Crokinole club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Janie Churchill and spent the afternoon in playing crokinole.

Arrangements are being made by the Presbyterian Sunday school to observe Children's day which occurs early in June.

The next meeting of United Order of the Golden Cross will be held Thursday night. There will be several initiations.

Mrs. DeWitt Smith, of Somerville, spent yesterday with her parents, Mayor and Mrs. R. J. Swackhamer.

A new boiler has been put in the Central engine house to replace the old one which is worn out.

Missionary day will be observed in the Methodist church tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. W. H. Cole has been entertaining her sister from Landstown.

Miss Minnie Holstein, of Brooklyn, is visiting Miss Nestor.

Walter G. Runyon was in New York yesterday on business.

NEW MARKET

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

New Market, May 6—Captain Joseph Coddington, of Elizabeth, is visiting Landlord Casterline.

Mrs. and Mrs. H. L. Pierce, of Westfield, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pierce.

Miss Sarah Day is visiting relatives in Summit.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 6—The local hotels are making preparations to entertain a large number of wheelmen tomorrow, and should the weather be fine there is no doubt but what their hopes will be realized.

Rev. Mr. Shott, who has returned from his southern trip, occupied his place once more as leader of the Baptist prayer meeting last night.

Stephen S. Day, a former principal of the public school, but now of Newark, spent Friday renewing old acquaintances in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hyams and daughter spent Friday with Mr. Hyams' mother, Mrs. Elias Hyams.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A M., held an interesting meeting in their rooms last night.

The Christian Endeavor Juniors of the Baptist church met in the church parlors yesterday.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press)

Westfield, May 6.—At a meeting of the Board of Health held last evening Dr. J. B. Harrison, the township physician, reported that the sanitary condition of the public school was excellent but he recommended that some action be taken in regard to placing fire escapes on the Lincoln high school building. After a long discussion the recommendation was referred to the Board of Education with the request that some action be taken in the matter.

At the meeting of the township committee held last evening the tax collector was instructed to use every effort to collect the back taxes due the township and if it was necessary call on the township attorney for assistance in the matter. The committee is determined to have these long due taxes collected and will, if necessary, arrest all delinquents.

George Campbell, of Pittsfield, Mass., has been appointed by the township committee to number the houses about the town, looking toward a free postal delivery.

Miss Georgie Eick, of East Third street, has returnd from a visit with friends at Red Bank.

Miss Emily A. Weaver, of Brooklyn, is the guest of Mrs. W. B. Maxson, of West Sixth street.

High Chief Ranger Titsworth and High Journal Secretary Alex. Dick were present at the meeting of Court Watchung, I. O. F., held last evening. A most interesting meeting was held.

Rev. Dr. Littleton Sturges, of Atlantic City, presiding elder of the First Episcopal District of the New Jersey A. M. E. Conference, has been visiting Rev. James E Groves, of the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church.

Rev. James E. Groves, pastor of Mt. Zion A. M. E. church, will preach his farewell sermon Sunday night, as Tuesday he goes to Orange to attend the conference, and does not know whether he will come back or not.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even set up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at L. W. ### Clever Fishermen.

Dutch fishermen make astonishing catches by means of the following very simple plan: They put a number of live worms and insects in a bottle partially filled with water, and then cork it securely. The bottle is dropped into the water, the fishermen sinking his line alongside. It appears that the sight of the wriggling contents of the bottle so excites the appetite of the finny tribes that they fall easy victims to the baited hooks.

Eat Raw Ants.

Australian savages eat the green ants raw. They stamp upon an ant hill until the ants run up their legs, when they scrape them off as fast as they come up and transfer them to their mouths.

Steel Billiard Balls

As the supply of ivory is becoming short, billiard balls of cast steel are being made in Sweden. By making them hollow, the weight is made to correspond with that of ivory balls.

The Pope's Gold Ornaments

The gold contained in the medals, vessel, chains and other objects preserved in the Vatican would make more gold coin than the whole of the present European circulation.

FLOWERS OF PAPER.

HOW TO MAKE ARTIFICIAL BLOOMS WITH SIMPLE TOOLS.

Olive Harper Tells the Beginner Just What to Get and How to Set About the Work of Imitating Nature's Smiles.

We cannot all be painters, nor yet sculptors, but no one among us need despair of doing really artistic work in making paper flowers. It is a very fashionable form of art work, too, just now. Some might call it a mechanical art, but it is only mechanical as far as the cutting out of the petals of the flowers is concerned.

There is just as much room for real artistic talent in the making, choice of color and grouping of paper flowers as in painting them on canvas. Old people can achieve real delight in the work, and young folks employ their spare hours and nimble fingers with pleasure and profit.

The outfit for making paper flowers is simple and easily obtained generally

FLOWER MAKER'S OUTFIT.

1. Awl shaped implement for veining leaves. 2. Implement for shaping rose petals. 3. Mucilage. 4. Small hard cushion for shaping. 5. Ivory knife.

at local stores. If, however, they are not supplied, they will obtain them on order. The tools or utensils are a pot of good mucilage, a hatpin, an ivory or bone paper cutter, a pair of strong scissors for cutting wires and fine one for snipping notches, etc., in tissue paper; also a blunted instrument marked 1 in the diagram and a flat, hard cushion, like the shape marked 2. Another one like that marked 3 is useful in rounding rose petals, but it can be dispensed with. A small pair of pliers is very handy for twisting wires.

Those are the tools. The supplies for the work consist of cotton batting, wire, both plain and covered with green thread, beeswax and a full line of colors and qualities of tissue paper.

After the artist—we insist that the worker in paper flowers be called that—has learned how to manage she can make her own centers for daisies, roses, poppies, etc., but at the first it is better to purchase stamens all prepared.

These supplies comprise, as I said, wire in three qualities—viz, hair wire, very fine for trailing branches, small steel wire for small blossoms, which the artist is to cover with green paper, and the wire already covered. The stamens are for roses, violets, pond liles, poppies, buttercups, daisies of all sizes and color like nature. There are moss stems, calyxes for roses—of cloth these are—culots for pinks, mosses, rubber tubes for stems, muslin tubes also for stems, grasses, yellow cotton for pond lilies and rose centers and poppy buds.

The beginner would do well to buy sprays of the leaves of such flowers as she wishes to make, as they are more difficult to make than the flowers. There are sprays of rose leaves, three leaves each on wire in bunches of a dozen sprays, aster, daisy, pink, ivy, pond lily, fern, and, in fact, every kind of leaf, most natural and beautiful. Later the artist may take the natural flower leaf and cut out a paper one just like it and crease and vein it. The nearer the artist keeps to nature the better results will be.

Now come the tissue papers from which all these flowers are evolved. I may as well make a complete list of what is considered necessary for an outfit, together with the retail price, first saying that one sheet is about 18 inches wide by 36 long, and such a piece ought to make two dozen nice roses.

Deep, heavy jacqueminot (for roses), 15 cents; pansy, velvet, 20 cents; variegated tissue for pinks, 6 cents; light blue, 1 cent; white G. B., 1 cent; nile green, 1 cent; dark olive green, 2 cents; T, 4, for tea roses, 1 cent; purple, all shades, 1 cent; cream, 1 cent; dark and light yellows, 2 cents; poppy red, 8 cents; rose red, 3 cents; pink, all PARTS OF FLOWERS.

1. Calyx. 2. Spray of rose leaves. 3. Rose leaf. 4. Shape to cut petals of roses.

shades, 2 cents. Craped paper may be purchased ready or made by squeezing it between the hands downward and rubbing it always down. The greens in tissues are mostly of the light varieties, such as are seen on the stems of flowers, but naturally there are thicker qualities, out of which leaves are cut. There has been a demand lately for soft and tender greens to use for lamp shades, tied with shell pink ribbons.

The little hard cushion is used to mold rose petals on and to crease all sorts of leaves with their veinings and to crease chrysanthemum petals by means of pressing them with the paper knife or the regular creaser. It is hard, but soft enough to allow the proper degree of depression.

A rose is the easiest flower to make—if you have the true artistic taste which leads you to copy nature. To choose your color, have a natural rose and put pieces of crumpled tissue paper beside it until you find the exact tint, changing its position in the light until you do. One strip of paper is doubled into six folds 3 inches wide, double it so that you can cut all six together into the shape shown as No. 1 in second diagram. Then cut six more half an inch smaller and four more only 2 inches across. This makes 96 petals, enough for an ordinary rose. American Beauties, being larger, require more petals. Then take a wire and bend a loop in it where you have not made stamen and work soft a lump of yellow beeswax into the loop, flattening it on the top. Glue a little yellow cotton to this and then clip fine the edges of a piece of the papers you are using and leave it fringed. Crumple this between your fingers and then wind it around the bunch of wax and cotton and press it close. Then the four smallest rounds of petals should be pushed up the stem to the wax. One petal is laid up over the top of wax, cotton and fringed paper, the next lapped over that and pressed down by the thumb, and so on until all the ten are lapped over each other. They must be squeezed until they remain there.

The next size of six rounds is put on in the same way and held closely. Before this has been done four of the outer or largest petals should be laid on the cushion and rounded by pressing the round ball into each until it is hollow. Then with the paper knife take the largest part on each side and curl it a little, just as the natural leaf is. The other two large petals may be put on like the others and bent over.

The outer ones now go on and are carefully squeezed into shape. The calyx is now slipped on the wire and brought up over the wax and bent into shape, a moment's manipulation being enough, with an occasional glance at the model. A little green wax is now worked around the bottom of the calyx, as it is seen in nature. This holds all in place. Sometimes a drop of glue is needed.

The rose is finished by the hatpin. With this the crushed petals are delicately lifted and unfolded like real roses in the sunshine. It will be a revelation to the amateur.

Then a bud may be made, using but one-third as many petals. Two or three sprays of leaves are to be fastened to the wire stem and the bud too. Then all the stems are to be wound with strips of green tissue one-eighth of an inch wide with serrated edges. These little notches represent thorns. In the next article will be further instructions

Mrs. Bellamy Storer, the wife of the new American minister to Spain, is a devoted patron of art, being especially interested in ceramics. Possessed of ample means with which to gratify her tastes and ambitions in this direction, she has done much to raise the artistic standards of the city of her home, Cincinnati, and has helped many an aspiring young artist up the ladder of fame. Her patronage of art takes a practical turn. The Duveneck life class, connected with the art school in Cincinnati, founded by her father, owes its establishment mainly to the efforts of Mrs. Storer, as also does the fund for the European scholarship, offered as an incentive to students in this class.

Mrs. Storer is an amateur artist as well as a patron of art, and has produced studies on canvas and through other mediums which show decided talent. The famous Rookwood jars are decorated with her designs.

Mrs. Storer has traveled widely and has gathered in many countries rare and beautiful art treasures, among them being an extensive collection of ceramics. She is the daughter of the late Joseph Longworth, one of Cincinnati's most prominent and wealthy citizens, from whom she inherited a fortune of several millions. She is identified with many philanthropic enterprises, and there is scarcely a worthy charity within the scope of her acquaintance which does not receive her liberal support.

At the time of her marriage to Mr. Storer she was the widow of Colonel George Ward Nichols. She has a daughter who married the Marquis de Chumbrunn Konitz. Mit der Freisprechung der Besitzer Julius Zahrt'schen Eheleute aus Hüttenbusch (Kreis Flatow), welche angeklagt waren, in der Nacht zum 29. November v. J. gemeinschaftlich ihr Wohnhaus und ein Stallgebäude vorsätzlich in Brand gesetzt zu haben, endete die erste diesjährige Schwurgerichtsperiode.

Marienburg. Ein Unglücksfall ereignete sich bei dem Hofbesitzer Wiebe in Stadtfelde. Das etwa acht Monate alte Kind, welches in der Wiege lag, zog die Decke eines daneben stehenden Tisches mit der darauf befindlichen Kanne heißen Kaffees derart herab, daß es von dem Inhalt der Kanne verbrüht wurde. Es ist kurze Zeit darauf seinen Verletzungen erlegen.

Rheinprovinz.

Düsseldorf. In Germersheim ist die Feuerwerkskörperfabrik von Keil in die Luft geflogen, mit ihr der Fabrikbesitzer Keil selbst und drei in der Fabrik beschäftigt gewesene Mädchen, die sämmtlich ihren Tod gefunden haben.

Krefeld. Der jüngst verstorbene Johannes Junkers hat der Stadt außer 5000 Mark für die städtische Armenverwaltung das 2.15 Hektar große Waldgebiet auf dem Hülserberge mit dem Wirthschaftsgebäude, der Erfrischungshalle und dem als Johannesthurm bekannten Aussichtsthurm unter der Bedingung vermacht, daß es für alle Zeit zur freien Benutzung der Bevölkerung offen bleiben soll.

Mülheim. Hier kam es bei dem Brande eines Lagerschuppens an der Bahn zu Ausschreitungen gegen die Feuerwehrleute und Polizeibeamten, so daß Militär zu Hilfe geholt werden mußte. Vier Personen wurden verhaftet. Das Militär stellte die Ordnung wieder her. Ein Feuerwehrmann wurde durch einen Steinwurf verletzt.

Werdohl. Durch den elektrischen Strom wurde der Obermonteur Körner, ein Angestellter der Lenne-Elektrizitätswerke, getödtet. Er wollte eine Störung an der Transformatoren-Station in Eiringhausen beseitigen, kam mit der Leitung in Berührung und erhielt dabei den tödtlichen Schlag.

Sachsen.

Dresden. Ein Veteran starb hier nach längerem Leiden im 90. Lebensjahre, der Kammerrath, Kriegszahlmeister a. D. Karl Zwicker. Der Verstorbene, ein geborener Sachse, der von der Pike auf gedient hatte, machte den Krieg 1866 als Kriegszahlmeister mit, und als solchem war ihm ein großer Theil der sächsischen Kriegskasse anvertraut. Nach 50jähriger Dienstzeit trat der vielfach vom König ausgezeichnete Beamte in den Ruhestand, den er noch 25 Jahre genießen konnte.

Aue. Ein kürzlich hier gegründeter Anarchistenklub hat die von der Behörde geforderten Statuten nicht eingereicht, sondern mitgetheilt, daß er sich wieder aufgelöst habe.

Bischofswerda. Der neunjährige Knabe des Cigarrenmachers Prosche war auf einen an ein Scheunenthor gelehnten Balken geklettert, dieser kam in's Rutschen, der Knabe fiel herab und schlug mit der Stirn so heftig auf das eiserne Thorband, daß in Folge Schädelbruches der Tod sofort eintrat.

Chemnitz. Der Jahresbericht der hiesigen Handels- und Gewerbekammer für 1898 bemerkt, daß im Chemnitzer Bezirk die seit 1895 günstige Lage der Industrie in einzelnen Zweigen bereits einer merklichen Depression gewichen sei. Aus der Mehrzahl der Erwerbszweige werde berichtet, daß der Reinertrag der geleisteten Arbeit nicht entsprochen habe. Vielfach sei es zur Erhaltung des Absatzes nöthig gewesen, mit äußerst geringem Nutzen zu arbeiten, obgleich sich die Kaufkraft des deutschen Marktes gehoben habe. Den geringen Geschäftsnutzen führt die Kammer auf den gesteigerten Mitbewerb des In- und Auslandes zurück.

Leipzig. Ueber das starke Auftreten der Grippe im vergangenen Winter enthält der Geschäftsbericht der Leipziger Ortskrankenkasse nähere Angaben. Im Jahre 1898 hatte die Kasse insgesammt 2755 Grippefälle zu verzeichnen. Dagegen waren in diesem Jahre im Januar 484, im Februar 1692 und bis Mitte März schon 1619 Fälle angemeldet, das sind in 2½ Monaten 3795 Grippe-Erkrankungen oder über 1000 mehr, als im ganzen Vorjahre zur Meldung gekommen waren.

Sebnitz. Hier fiel der Arbeiter Wenzel auf offener Straße drei von einem Tanzvergnügen kommende erwachsene Mädchen an und verwundete sie mit Messerstichen schwer. Die eine der Verletzten, eine Tochter des Blumenfabrikanten König, starb kurz darauf an ihren Wunden.

CARSON WILDRED'S CRIME

A DETECTIVE STORY OF TWO CONTINENTS

BY HARRY WOOD REYNOLDS.

CHAPTER XV.

It was the name, Purley Lock, which which had fastened my attention. 'Horrible Discovery near Purley Lock" the headline announced. I read on, rapidly but thoughtfully. Two boys from Great Marlow had, it seemed been wandering beside the river bank, between that village and Purley Lock. Straying, along a small backwater leading out from a larger one, they had noticed a peculiar object caught among a number of reeds. One of the boys had curiously poked at it with his stick, bringing it nearer to the shore, when it appeared to be a heavy, almost formless mass, sewn up in a rough sack. The boys, being frightened had run home with the story, and a member of the local police force, going to the spot, had found the children's suspicions confirmed. The unclothed body of a man, partially consumed by fire and lacking the head, as well as otherwise mutilated in a seemingly aimless way, had been doubled up and sewn in the sack. Weights had evidently been attached to the horrible bundle, but had in some manner become detached. So far no clew whatever, either as to the identity of the murdered man or that of the murderer, had been brought to light. The body had been in the water for some days, but might still have been recognizable had the head not been removed.

"I DARE YOU TO DO YOUR WORST."

The horror of my dream on Christmas Eve came to me as I read.

I could even picture the very spot where the boys must have seen the sack caught among the dry and rattling reeds. "A small backwater leading out of a larger one, between Great Marlow and Purley Lock." The larger one was doubtless that on which Carson Wildred's house was situated. A smaller one—a mere alley of water leading away under a drooping tangle of willow and chestnut branches—one had to pass in walking from Purley to the house by the lock. I was sure, as I recalled the place in memory, that the scene of the discovered mystery could have been no other than this.

Suddenly came the recollection of the awful cry I had heard as I waited in the curious octagonal room, looking at the covered portrait of Karine. The sound had been explained, but there had been a certain flurry and clumsiness in the explanation, I had thought even then.

I remembered the smoke and sparks which had so mysteriously risen from the tower, and the heat of the octagonal room adjoining it. All this, too, had been accounted for. I had not cared at the time to invent romances to fit into the strange appearances, which had assured myself were doubtless strange only in appearance, but now I could not help dwelling upon them with an almost morbid persistency that would not be set aside.

I thought of the woman's face which had for an instance gazed at me through the narrow window beside the door. I reminded myself of the surprise on the features of the decorous male factotum when he had learned that I was not the man expected by the master, and I went over word for word, as nearly as I could, each sentence whispered by Wildred and his servant in the hall.

What if there were some ghastly connection between the apparent mystery in the house by the lock and the half charred, headless body found to-day in the Thames!

But I could not banish them even if I would. Continually throughout the remainder of the evening and night I pieced together various theories, all more or less defective, and the next morning the desire was strong within me to go and see the headless corpse.

Permission to view the body at the mortuary was easily obtained at the local police station, when I had given my name and mentioned that I had come for purposes of identification.

I had a theory, which as yet I had scarcely dared dwell upon in my mind so wild, so improbable did it appear at and other time than dead of night when all strange things seem possible. But now, as I judged what the height and size of the body must have been, and let my glance travel almost fearfully to the left hand, I saw that which tended in a ghastly manner to confirm it. All the four fingers were missing, having been cut off between the second joint and knuckles.

Harvey Farnham had worn the ring given to Karine Cunningham by Wildred on the little finger of the left hand; and in the light of this discovery my dream of Christmas Eve came back to me as a prophetic vision.

CHAPTER XVI.

The case being one of great local importance, having thrown the countryside into a whirl of excitement, the inspector himself had thought it worth while to accompany me on my journey to the mortuary.

I extolled the arrangements of the local authorities, and ended by saying that, as the sight I had just witnessed had considerably upset me, I should be glad if he would do me the favor of having something with me at the private bar of the adjacent inn.

"Well, sir, it's against the rules, you know," he said, smiling sapiently. "But I certainly consider it an honor to be invited by so celebrated a gentleman as you, Mr. Stanton. And—if you'll go first, sir, I'll just look in a little later and find you at the private bar."

I followed the prudent suggestion, and was presently joined by the inspector, who appeared relieved at finding himself shut in and alone with me.

We had whiskey-and soda ad libitum and then I cautiously began: "The fact is, Inspector," I said, "I was particularly anxious for this chance of a little friendly chat with you. I have certain suspicions, which may be, of course, without a grain of foundation. What I mean to say is, I have grave fears that the murdered man is the friend I thought it possible I might identify. Quite between ourselves, may I ask what your police surgeon had to say regarding his examination?"

SHE HAD BEEN WRITING AT A LITTLE DAVENPORT.

The inspector looked dubious, then brightened visibly. "You being the man you are, Mr. Stanton," he said sociably, over his third glass of old Scotch, "I can't see that there'd be anything amiss in my answering you so far. Our surgeon, Mr. Potter, reported that the corpse was that of a well-nourished man probably between forty and forty-five years of age, all the organs healthy, though there were traces of opium in the system—not, however, enough to have caused death. The head had been severed from the neck by a skilled anatomist, who knew exactly where to strike; but it had been separated after death, not before. Also, the mutilation of the left hand had been done in the same way. I suppose that is, roughly, the sort of thing you wanted to know?"

"Exactly," I returned, "and every detail you have mentioned goes to strengthen my suspicions. Being an amateur, I was obliged to judge principally by size and height. The surgeon's report fits in with my theory exactly. Still, it does not comprise everything. It would be a great assistance if I might know whether the police have as yet had any reliable information to work upon."

We had grown very friendly, indeed, almost fraternal now, and the inspector kindly allowed me to refill his glass. "Do you know who Mr. Carson Wildred, of the house of the lock, is, Mr. Stanton?" he inquired confidentially.

"Yes, I not only know who he is, but have a slight personal acquaintance with him," I said, conservatively.

"Well, sir"—slowly and with some unction—"Mr. Wildred has been the only one so far—not counting what you yourself may have to say presently—who has given any information of value."

"Indeed? He has given information?" I could not eliminate the astonishment and perhaps something of the disappointment from my voice.

"Yes, sir. As you know Mr. Wildred, you're probably aware that his country house is close by our town, and close, too, to the spot where the body was found. He was in yesterday evening as soon as the matter got noised about, and asked to see the body."

"Incredible!" The word sprang to my lips, but I forced it back, and refrained from uttering it.

"He was unable to identify it, but he spoke of having seen something in the neighborhood of the small backwater not far from his house, just before Christmas, which seemed likely to throw light on the matter. The surgeon's idea is, as I think I forgot to mention, sir, that the body has been in the water since Chrismas time, or thereabouts, which made Mr. Wildred's supposition the more feasible.

"It seems that the gentleman had a friend staying with him at the House by the Lock until a week or so ago—a Mr. Farnham, an American—who has since sailed for home. They were in the habit of taking daily walks together whenever they were not in town, and a week before Christmas noticed that close to the little backwater two men were living in a tent.

"It was a quiet place enough in Winter time, and the fellows might have expected to escape observation perhaps, but it was the smell of their smoke which first attracted Mr. Wildred and his friend to the spot, and as it was his land Mr. Wildred at first thought of ordering the chaps away. He thought better of it, though, as he seems a good-natured gentleman, and said it didn't really matter to him whether they stayed or went. A strict watch was kept on all the locks up at the house, however, as it occurred to Mr. Wildred the men might have some queer designs. A day or two went by, and the tent was still there, but on Christmas Day, when Mr. Wildred and Mr. Farnham were walking out, they heard the sound of loud voices, and went near enough to see that the two men were quarreling outside.

"He says he wishes now he had interfered, but it didn't seem worth while at the time. That night there was an unpleasant smell of burning, which came up to the house by the lock with the wind from that quarter, and was noticed by all the servants, as well as the two gentlemen, who talked about it at their dinner. Next day, when Mr. Wildred sent down to find out, the tent and the men were both gone."

"I suppose," I said, "that you have already taken means to ascertain whether there are any remaining traces of such an encampment by the backwater?"

"Certainly we have. That was done immediately, sir, and the ashes left by a big wood fire were found close to the water; also four rough stakes for tentropes, and—a coal sack—much of the sort in which the body up there at the mortuary was sewn. There was something else, too, sir. I wouldn't mention it thus early in the proceedings to anybody for whom I hadn't the respect I have for you; but, even as it is, I must have your promise it shan't go any further till it comes out in the proper course of events."

I gave him my promise, hiding my impatience as best I could.

"Well, Mr. Stanton," the inspector went on, lowering his voice, though there was nobody within earshot, "in the wood ashes was found what looks like a most important clew. Nothing less, sir, than the calcined bones of four human fingers, cut from the left hand!"

"By Jove!" I ejaculated involuntarily, springing to my feet, and beginning to walk nervously up and down. I hardly knew whether to feel that I had been brought to a dead stop in my operations and suspicions, or to tell myself that Carson Wildred was the most cold-blooded and at the same time, the cleverest scoundrel who had ever walked the earth.

TEN LITTLE SERVANTS.

Ten little servants Johnny has,
That know but to obey,
And to his slightest beck and call
They never answer nay,
And never argue or reply,
Nor vexing questions ask,
But with a good and hearty will
Do their appointed task!

Of different size and different strength,
Yet willing all a. true,
And glad to give each other aid
In anything they do.
Five on his right, five on his left,
And each one has his pair,
Which matches them in size and form
Exactly to a hair!

In every duty of the day
Each nobly bears his part,
At school or home, no matter where,
In labor or in art.
And Johnny never speaks his wish,
He only need to think,
And straight his servants do his will
As quick as you could wink!

And should these busy brothers work
A single deed of shame,
Not theirs the fault—you may be sure
That Johnny is to blame;
And so are you in the same case—
All children and all men—
For who has fingers strong and well
Can count his servants ten!

A MAGIC NUMBER.

Strange Things That Can Be Done With Certain Figures.

Everybody knows the tricks that can be played with the number 9—that mysterious property known as the power of nine." But strange things are sometimes discovered with regard to other numbers, even where we get into hundreds and thousands. There is the number 142,857, for instance. At first sight one would not suspect it of anything singular; it is only when we take to multiplying it that we discover its power. We shall find that if we multiply it by any number, from one up to six, we shall arrive at products expressed by exactly the same figures as the original. Not only so, but, with the exception that a different figure leads off each time, the order of figures is the same:

142,857 multiplied by 1 is, of course, the same.
142,857 multiplied by 2 is 285,714.
142,857 multiplied by 3 is 428,571.
142,857 multiplied by 4 is 571,428.
142,857 multiplied by 5 is 714,285.
142,857 multiplied by 6 is 857,142.

But with this multiplying by 6 the strangeness stops, though the result of multiplying the number by 7 gives the rather odd figure of 999,999, simply lacking one to make the million. If the process is carried further and the number is multiplied by 8, 9, 10 11, etc., the result will be almost as startling as in the case of the smaller multipliers.

penter. The ends are cut in a pattern out of a thick board, as in cut No. 2, and are held together by a bevelled bar, which, passing through the supports, is firmly held in place by wooden pins, as shown in No. 1. A simple contrivance, but nothing could be stronger.

Birds Dress Their Own Wounds.

Some interesting observations made by M. Fatio on the surgical treatment of wounds by birds were recently brought before the Physical Society of Geneva. In these it was established that the snipe had often been observed repairing damages. With its beak and feathers it makes a very creditable dressing and has even been known to secure a broken limb by means of a stout ligature.

On one occasion M. Fatio killed a snipe which had on its chest a large dressing composed of down from other parts of the body and securely fixed to the body by coagulated blood. Twice he had snipe with interwoven feathers strapped on to the site of the fracture of one or the other limb. The most interesting example was that of a snipe, both of whose legs he had unfortunately broken by a misdirected shot. He only recovered it on the following day, when he found that the wounded bird had contrived to apply dressings and a sort of splint to both limbs. In carrying out this operation some feathers had become entangled round the beak, and not being able to use its claws to get rid of them, the poor creature was almost dead from hunger when found.

THE CHAMPION'S RECORD

Has Indulged in 800 Bouts of All Sorts —Gardner the Best Featherweight.

When George Dixon, the champion featherweight pugilist, knocked out "Young Pluto," of Australia, at the Lenox Athletic club recently there was hardly one of the 5,000 spectators who did not say:

"That boy Dixon is the most wonderful fighter in the world."

Modest and unassuming, Dixon had just shaken hands with his foe and was hurrying out of the ring as if anxious to get out of public gaze. There was no proud stalking, no grand stand business about him, such as other champion fighters like to indulge in, but he simply followed out his old habit of taking his victory with indifference.

When questioned, Dixon said: "I have fought about 100 limited round bouts since I first came into prominence in 1888, and I have also taken part in 700 four-round contests, meeting all comers on the road. That's quite a record, isn't it?"

"In all that time how many times have you been knocked down?" the reporter asked.

"Only once," replied Dixon, and that was in a three-round exhibition bout with the 'Kentucky Rosebud' in Philadelphia several years ago. I got out of a sickbed to meet the engagement and in the second round the 'Rosebud' thought he saw a chance to gain some fame. We were boxing lightly per agreement, when suddenly he sneaked in a punch on my jaw which sent me to the floor like a log. When I got up the 'Rosebud,' ran around the ring until the bout was over. That was the only time I lost my legs."

"What was the hardest battle you ever fought?"

"With Young Griffo, at Coney Island," answered Dixon. "It was a 25-round bout. Griffo weighed 147 pounds and I scaled at 122, the featherweight limit. I found the Australian was a wonderful boxer, more scientific, in fact, than anybody I ever met before or since. It was a fast fight and one of the best on record, to look at I believe."

How many times have opponents marked your face?"

"Solly Smith made me bleed quite a lot when we met at Coney Island some years ago, but that did not prevent me from knocking him out. Erne, Tommy White and several others also succeeded in making the claret flow, but that is nothing if a fellow is sound in body, limb and wind."

"What are the lowest and highest weights at which you have fought?"

"The lowest was 103 pounds and the highest 124. I am lighter now than for some time past. When I began training for the 'Pluto' fight I weighed 109 1-2 pounds, but I soon built myself up to 119. Then I worked to 115, at which weight I entered the ring. Yet I am just as strong as I would be if I weighed 124."

GEORGE DIXON

"Who is the best featherweight in this country, barring yourself?"

"I think Gardner is the man. I've met him in a 25-round bout and know what he can do. Some day he may succeed me as champion, for he is improving steadily and is a powerful hitter. Ben Jordan, the English champion, who got a decision over me, is also a splendid featherweight, but I think I can beat him if we ever meet again."

"Do you prefer limited round bouts to finish fights?"

"I have no preference. Finish fights decide beyond a doubt who is the better man, while sometimes there is a difference of opinion when a limited-round bout ends. But finish contests appear to be out of date nowadays."

Dixon, in training for fights generally conducts his own work, as he knows from experience how to get fit. He is a hard worker and is conscientious to a fault. Some day Dixon will be summarily beaten, as nearly all pugilists are, but he will always be remembered as a phenomenal fighter and a square little man.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Scrappy Bill Joyce, late captain of the New York Club, may quit the diamond for good. It is reported that he is going into the saloon business in St. Louis. Joyce has saved considerable money.

Both Bill Hill and Jake Stenzel have received contracts for next season. The contracts call for their services with the St. Louis Club, and not with the Clevelands, as was reported some time since.

Catcher Hunt, of Traverse City, Mich., wants to join the Phillies. He is willing to pay all his expenses, and if his work is not satisfactory he will not try to break in on the Reach and Rogers pay roll.

The constant bickering among League magnates increases the impression that the organization is in need of some iron-handed leader like Spalding, Mills or Brush. The weak policy of President Young is thought to have been at the bottom of many troubles.

"Is there any hope for me?" he plaintively asked.

"Yes," she said, "a little. Papa is coming down the stairs and there is just a possibility that you can get away before he heads you off."

DUST FROM THE DIAMOND

INTERESTING ITEMS ABOUT LOCAL BASEBALL PLAYERS.

Games That Have Taken and Are to Take Place—Personal Work of Different Players—National League Scores.

Newark Academy plays a return game at the Crescent Oval this afternoon against the local High School team. The usual admission fee will be charged and the management expects a good turnout.

It was a matter for regret that the uniform stockings donated to the High School team by the Girls' Athletic Association of the High School were not received in time to be used for last Saturday's game.

Manager Wm. A. Fisher, of the High School team, reports that the game Saturday with the Rutgers Prep. team was a financial success. The expenses were unusually heavy, as it was really the first match game at home, and the fact that the game was a paying one is excellent promise of a good season for the boys.

The Dunellen boys are preparing to open the baseball season shortly with a rattling good team. They will probably not start until June when they will continue until fall. Last year the nine made an excellent showing. This year the weak points are to be strengthened and Dunellen hopes to make a brilliant record for itself.

There has been some talk of a match game between the High School boys and the team from the Pond Tool works. It is a question as to which team would come out the victors but the Pond Tool men have the big advantage of weight and could probably out-bat their opponents. There is little probability of the game taking place, however.

The baseball enthusiasts, employed at the Pond Tool works, have formed a powerful nine this spring and are prepared to enter the arena for local honors. Last week, they met and defeated the Clinton avenue team. Another game will be played between the two clubs this afternoon. Stevens, who was with the Plainfield Crescents last year, is captain of the team and has coached his fellow workmen into excellent shape. The Pond men are planning for an active season and are even discussing the advisibility of securing the Crescent Oval for the games as the season advances.

The High School boys didn't go to Newark Thursday to play the High School there. Instead they went to the Crescent Oval for practice. Manager William A. Fisher did some hustling in the first part of the week when he found that the local High School team was minus its pitcher for the game in Newark. He called the game off as there wasn't any use trying to play ball with nobody to pitch for them. He will try to have the game postponed until they day set for the game with the Newark High School here. Then it is his plan to have the Newark boys come here Mamorial Day instead.

AMONG THE STEPPERS.

Harry Gwynett is the happy owner of a thoroughbred colt which was born last Monday morning, and judging from appearances she gives promise of being very fast.

In a few days the members of the Plainfield Driving Association will hold a meeting for the purpose of arranging some events for the coming season on the local track.

There are a good many local horsemen who drive fast horses that would like to see a state meet in this city, and the fact mentioned in The Daily Press Monday has caused quite a sentiment in favor of it. The local men think that they could hold their own with a majority of the horses and it would furnish Plainfield people with some great sport.

GOLF.

A tea will be given at the Park Golf Club house this afternoon by some of the women.

This evening there will be an important meeting of the board of trustees of the Park Golf Club to arrange the schedule for the coming season. In addition to the handicap cup left over from last year there will be four additional cups to be contested for this season. The schedule will probably be followed after today's general play.

James Donavan, en route from Trenton to Newark, stopped off at Plainfield last evening to get drunk. The fact was he was nearly there already and only needed a few more glasses of Plainfield rum to send him under. Patrolman Wenzenreid found him a physical wreck, lying on the sidewalk and therefore locked him up for the night.

This morning City Judge Runyon delivered a lecture to the prisoner on the unadvisability of stopping at Plainfield for a "jag" when bound for Newark. As Dunavan hadn't been disorderly, however, he agreed to suspend sentence if the prisoner would start for Newark at once.

Bad Fall From a Bicycle.

Percy Hand, of West Seventh street, had a bad fall yesterday noon on North avenue which compelled him to seek the services of some one skilled in doctoring wounds. As he was mounting his bicycle in front of the United States Express office the wheel slipped on the smooth cobble stones and sent the rider sprawling on his right side on the hard stones. When he picked himself up it was found that there was a big bruise on the right elbow, so he was taken to Shaw's drug store and the wound attended to. The wheel, too, was scratched.

Wagon Toppled Over.

While the driver to one of the big suburban delivery wagons was turning around on East Sixth street near the Bryant School yesterday noon the wheel caught and the heavy wagon toppled over on one of the horses. The wagon was unloaded and the horse released. The animal was not injured beyond a few cuts from the new macadam.

Dr. Carroll to Lecture.

Hon. H. K. Carroll, the President's special commissioner to Porto Rico, will give an illustrated lecture in Grace M. E. church Tuesday evening, May 16th, on "Porto Rico." The proceeds will be for the benefit of the church.

—The infant son of Charles and Anna Ellis, of Duer street, died yesterday. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the house. Interment will be in the cemetery at Samptown.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvet skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

JOLLY TIMES FOR HIGH SCHOOL BOYS.

Easily Defeated the Newark Academy at Baseball.

VISITORS MADE BAD ERRORS

EDWARDS HELD THEM DOWN TO FOUR SINGLE HITS.

At Batting the Plainfield Pitcher Distinguished Himself by Making Two Doubles and a Single—Clever Batting by High School Boys and Expensive Errors by Newark Decided the Game.

The Newark Academy nine fell a victim to the Plainfield High School team in the return game played at the Crescent Oval Saturday afternoon. Plainfield won by a score of 12 to 2.

McCoy, the crack young Newark pitcher, proved an easy mark. His curves were batted at will, and when the High School boys couldn't hit him safely the Newark infield usually managed to foozle the ball and present them with the base. Edwards was a puzzle that the Newarkites were never quite able to understand. Only four scattering hits were made off his delivery, while he was given good support from the infield.

It looked like a hot game at the start. Newark batted first and Ridgway opened the battle with a clean hit. He stole second immediately, reached third on a passed ball and scored on a wild pitch. The next three men went out in one, two, three order. Morgan scored for Plainfield on a single, a stolen base, a passed ball and a fumble by McCoy.

In the second inning, the Newark boys tried hard to score but without success. Craig made the circuit of the bases on a single stolen base, a sacrifice by Mason and one of Bramhall's fumbles. Newark's many errors in third netted three more runs for Plainfield which were rounded up by singles from Mullar and Droll.

Newark's only other run was made in the fourth, when a dropped fly by Droll and fumbles by Craig and Mason sent Bramhall round. Edwards opened the inning for Plainfield with a beautiful two-bagger. A single by Morgan and more foolishness by the Newark infield gave the High School team three more runs.

But the really joyful time was in the fifth. Mason and Squires made singles. Edwards pounded the ball for a jolly double, bringing in two runs and came home on safe hits by Badford and Fisher. Droll struck out with two men on bases and ended the inning. Craig scored the last run in the sixth on a dropped fly, sundry other errors and a well-placed hit by Billy Morgan. Newark made brave attempts to score, but it wouldn't do against the solid infield of the High School.

The individual scores were as follows:

A Worthy Appointment.

F. VanLiew, of 521 LaGrande avenue, for many years station-master of the Central Railroad at Jersey city, has been appointed as general superintendent of the Sandy Hook boats, at Pier 8, North river, and entered on his duties today. The many friends of Mr. VanLiew in Plainfield are glad to hear of his appointment, through Mr. Beach, the new superintendent of Terminals, and the Press joins them in their prediction that he will prove to be the right man in the right place.

GAME COCKS IN DANGER.

JUSTICE COX MAY DECIDE TO HAVE THEM SOLD BY S. P. C. A.

The Fowls Were Captured in the Raid of the Alleged Cock Fight at Garwood—Plainfield Sports Are Worried Over It.

An interesting hearing is expected to take place in the office of Justice of Peace Stephen J. Fox in the Opera House Block in Cranford tomorrow morning when the application of George A. Morrison, agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, for the right to sell nine fighting cocks, secured in the raid at the Union County Hotel at Garwood Sunday night, April 30th, will be passed upon by the Justice.

A portion of the fighting cocks belong to the Plainfield sports who attended the main, and are considered to be quite valuable property. The sports are in a quandary as to what course to pursue, however, for they fear that if they appear before the Justice and attempt to prevent the permanent confiscation of their fowls they will be asked such embarrassing questions to why they were gathered together under such suspicious circumstances that their position will not be a pleasant one.

Several of the sports, however, declare their intention of facing the music, and say they do not propose to see their game cocks sold by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals if they can prevent it.

FOR ARMY AND NAVY MEN

UNCLE SAM'S PROTECTORS EXPECTED TO FREQUENT THE HUNTERSTON.

Major Coleman's Proprietorship is Expected to be the Drawing Card—A Big Ball Room Built on the Third Floor.

The Hotel Hunterston, under the management of Major F. W. Coleman, the well known hotel man, will open its doors to receive guests May 20th. The hotel has been thoroughly overhauled and repaired throughout, and thousands of dollars have been spent on it. When it opens for the season, Major Coleman will no doubt book some of the most prominent people in the country as his guests.

Major Coleman, known so well to army and navy men in Washington through his connection with the Richmand House of that city, will cater especially to army and navy men. As New York is full of them, and likely to be so all summer, the gallant protectors of our country will be in evidence at the house.

One important change that Major Coleman has made is in the south side of the hotel. The immense parlor has been made into a ball room, with a fine hard wood floor. The small parlors, of which there are several, will be used instead of the large ones.

Major Coleman has already booked many guests, and if the patrons of the hotel stand by him, the Hunterston will be open all the year. B. A. Moulton is Major Coleman's assistant.

TO STUDY RAILROAD RULES.

Central Employes to Receive Instruction in Classes.

Commencing today and continuing until further notice the Central Railroad Company will conduct classes of instrction in the "Book of Rules." At Somerville they will be held Mondays and Wednesdays at 7:30 in the evening. Wednesdays there will be a class at Elizabethport at 9 o'clock in the morning, and at Phillipsburg there will be classes held at 9 o'clock in the morning and at 1:30 in the afternoon. On the same day a class will be held at Elizabeth at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Papers in the Waiting Room

An innovation in the news selling business has been adopted at the North Avenue station. A branch stand of the Union News Company has been established in the women's waiting room, where a full line of magazines, periodicals, daily papers, candies, etc., are to be found. This stand is in charge of Miss Della DeVere, under the direct supervision of Theo. A. Roeder, agent.

Rented Instead of Purchased.

In connection with the revival services to be held at Asbury Park this summer under the auspices of the colored people, it should be stated that the land where these meetings will be held has been rented and not purchased.

EARLY FIGHT FOR SOMERSET'S SENATOR.

Interesting Gossip About Next Fall's Possibilities.

E. FRENCH MAY BE NAMED.

BOROUGH'S YOUNG ASSESSOR CONSIDERED GOOD TIMBER.

The War Between the Reed and Thompson Factions is a Bitter One and Makes the Chances of Democratic Success a Great Deal Better—J. F. Frelinghuysen Thought to be a Strong Candidate.

The Trenton correspondent of the Philadelphia Record furnishes the following very interesting political gossip concerning Somerset county affairs:

Although election is six months off, yet Somerset county seems to be in a turmoil over the nomination for State Senator. There are so many candidates on the Republican side that it is impossible now to predict who will be named. The most prominent among them are the present incumbent, Charles A. Reed, who was president this year; Joseph F. Frelinghuysen and Matthew Suydam. Should the contest become too hot, which is probable, former Senator Thompson is mentioned as a good compromise candidate. The Democrats are not idle by any means. They, too, have quite a list of candidates from which they expect to select a winner. Those in the foreground are former Speaker James J. Bergen, Nelson Dungan, the present prosecutor of the pleas, and Elston M. French.

Somerset is a very close county politically. Sometimes it goes Republican and at other times Democratic. At elections for the Legislature, however, the Republicans seem to have better luck than the Democrats, particularly in recent years. The reason for this is that national issues prevailed at those elections, and many Democrats have been voting the Republican ticket in order to uphold the gold standard. It takes a very very popular man, no matter what his politics may be, to carry Somerset. Mr. Thompson has three times been chosen Senator, and that fact is a marked evidence of his personal popularity. Mr. Reed demonstrated his popularity three years ago by defeating one of the best Democrats in the country. For some reason or other he and Mr. Thompson had a falling out, and unfriendliness between them has existed to the present day. Each leads a faction of his party, and there is war to the knife. Unless these leaders agree upon a candidate for Senator this time there will be a poor chance for the election of a Republican.

Many people believe that Mr. Frelinghuyson is the strongest man mentioned on the Republican side. The name alone suggests strength in New Jersey. His father, the late Frederick T. Frelinghuysen, was a great lawyer and a brilliant orator. He was a United States Senator, a member of President Arthur's Cabinet and served as Attorney General of New Jersey. Mr. Frelinghuysen's friends assert that he does not belong to any faction of his party, and that he is popular with both. The friends of Senator Reed, however, insist that he should be given a second term, if only as a recognition of the able and satisfactory manner in which he discharged his duties during his first term. He filled the presidential chair with more than ordinary ability. He is a young and an ambitious man, and his rejection for a renomination would be considerd rather humiliating to him, and besides, it might be avenged at the polls. It is very evident that the Republicans of Somerset must be on their good behavior or else they may meet with a crushing defeat next November.

The Democrats seem much elated over their prospects for victory. They incline to the belief that the people of Somerset are tired of Republican ascendency and that it is full time a change was made. Their intention is to put their best foot foremost for the purpose of electing a Senator that they may gain a vote for United States Senator and, besides, pave the way for carrying the county for their next candidate for Governor. This they say they can do by nominating either of the candidates mentioned.

Former Speaker Bergen is considered a very strong man, indeed. The only danger that would confront him in the event of his nomination is his record on the money question. He is a warm supporter of the gold standard, whilst most members of his party in Somerset are on the other side of the question. But it is said that the silver men are willing to support Mr. Bergen, despite this difference of

UNABLE TO HIT SQUIRES

PONDS BASEBALL CLUB DEFEATED THE CLINTON AVENUES.

The Score Was 14 to 7, But it Was a Hard Fought Game and Was Witnessed by a Big Crowd of Rooters.

The second of the series of three games between the Ponds Baseball Club and the Clinton avenue team was played on the latter grounds Saturday afternoon, and resulted in a victory for the Pond boys by a score of 14 to 7. It was a hard fought game and was witnessed by a large crowd of rooters.

The Clinton avenue boys had their strongest team in the field, but, except in the seventh inning, they failed to make any impression on Squires' delivery. In two innings he succeeded in striking out all three men. Bulmer held the Pond boys down fairly well until the eighth inning, when they batted him all over the field and he was withdrawn, Morgan taking his place.

Stevens batted and fielded in great shape. Two home runs were credited to him while Scott made a three-base hit.

The score by inlings was as follows:

| | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|

CENTRAL'S NEW SHOPS.

GROUND STAKED OUT FOR BUILDINGS AND ROUNDHOUSE.

The Shops to Cover Seventy Acres of Land in Elizabethport—Plant to be Ready by the Last of This Year.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 8—The Central Railroad Company has begun staking out the ground on the north side of its main line at Elizabethport, where the big machine shops and roundhouse of the company are to be built. Thirty-two tracks, it is said, will be laid on this land, and the eight shops which the company intends to erect will, with their surroundings, cover seventy acres.

The shops will have connection with the main line and the Long Branch division, and also adjoin the Newark and Elizabeth branch of the Central. It is expected that the plant will be ready for occupancy before the end of the year.

The ground along the water-front, where the present machine shops are located, will be converted into a yard for freight and coal trains.

A PITIABLE CASE.

Collin Jones, Aged and Helpless, Needs Assistance Badly.

Rev. E. E. Jackson, pastor of the Mt. Olive Baptist church, calls the attention of The Press to a very serious case of illness at the city poorhouse, which is eliciting a good deal of sympathy.

The patient's name is Collin Jones, a colored man, seventy years of age, who is afflicted with an incurable disease. So much care and attention is required by this patient, and so many and manifold are the duties of his attendants that two inmates have left the institution rather than have anything to do with him.

There is a young colored man who is paid for looking after Jones, but it is said that he will leave unless he gets assistance. Mr. Jackson has offered to add $4 to his pay for a couple of weeks if he will stay.

Mrs. TenEyck, the matron, does all she can for Jones, and the patient is grateful for it. Mr. Jackson appeals to his friends, both white and colored, to help him in this case. Several of his own parish have promised to do what they can.

Clothing Store Flooded.

Sometime during Sunday the clothing store of M. Weinberger, next to Music Hall, was visited by a miniature flood. The cause was the overflowing of the sink in the flat over the store, the tenants forgetting to turn off the faucet when going out for a few hours. As a result, about twenty-five suits were thoroughly wet, a number being entirely ruined. Mr. Weinberger has the inconvenience of wading through about an inch of water in the rear part of the store.

Rev. Mr Taylor Resigns His Charge.

Rev. Dr. John P. Taylor, of Park avenue, has resigned the pastorate of the Episcopal church at Middletown, where he has been preaching for five years, the resignation to take effect July 1st. Dr. Taylor has commuted all this time, taking charge of two services every Sunday, and he now feels that the work is too much for him.

ATTEMPT TO POISON A BOROUGH FAMILY.

Evidence of Carbolic Acid Found in Milk.

DISCOVERED JUST IN TIME.

ENMITY OF A BOROUGH FAMILY IS THOUGHT TO BE THE CAUSE.

Affected Milk Was Served by B. R. Waldron, But the Portion Left in Mr. Moran's Pail Was the Only Part That Caused Trouble Among His Patrons—Carbolic Acid Had Been Put in the Pail.

What appears to have been an attempt to poison the family of T. D. Moran, of Regent street, occurred one day last week. The family has been a patron of B. R. Waldron, of Coddington avenue, a milkman, who has been in the habit of putting the day's supply of milk in a pail left on the back stoop each morning.

The milk was supplied as usual the morning in question, but when Mr. Moran's sister arose and took a drink of the milk before it had been served to any of the other members of the family, she became deathly sick. Remedies were given and after a time she recovered, but not until she had shown every evidence of carbolic acid poison. As none of Mr. Waldron's customers were affected in any way by the milk, it is believed that the poison was put in the pail sometime during the night.

The Moran family have had trouble, it is said, with a family in the borough lately, and suspicion is directed against some members of the latter as the ones who committed the act. As the affected milk was thrown away as soon as Mr. Moran's sister was taken ill it was impossible to determine exactly what was put in the milk.

The matter is being investivated and arrests are likely to take place in a few days.

DEATH OF D. A. T. RANDOLPH.

Has Been Afflicted With Consumption—Leaves a Family.

Daniel A. F. Randolph, of 210 Spooner avenue, died yesterday at his home after a long illness. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Seventh Day Baptist church, of which the deceased was a member.

Mr. Randolph was a son of the late Barzilla Randolph, and has always lived here. At one time he was a brakeman on the railroad, and later kept a meat market. Prior to his last illness he took up a position with the Potter Printing Press Company, and worked for them until a year ago when ill health compelled him to give up active work.

The deceased had consumption, and has been a great sufferer. He leaves a wife and two children, a boy and girl. He was about 40 years of age. He was a member of Star of Plainfield Lodge, Shepherds of Bethlehem, and has been past commander. The members of this lodge will attend the funeral.

KEEP OFF THE SIDEWALK.

Policeman to be Stationed in Evons to Arrest Offending Cyclers.

Ever since the weather has been fit for wheeling, bicycle riders have been taking the sidewalk on West Front street from Clinton avenue to the Dunellen line. The road bed was in a bad state, and is yet for that matter and that was some excuse, but the police have determined to put a stop to it. Many complaints have come to the police from the residents in that vicinity, who have had some narrow escapes from being run down by careless wheelmen who shoot past their gates at high speed, whether anyone is in sight or not. Hereafter an officer will make it his duty to keep a lookout for violators of the ordinance, and some arrests will doubtless be made. It is said that the most persistent violators of the ordinance are out-of-town riders.

New Department in Sunday School.

The Sunday-school of the First Baptist church, under the superintendence of George H. Bachelor, has formed an inter-mediate department from the classes between the primary drpartment and the senior classes, when, after the opening exercises they can receive appropriate instruction. This department is under the charge of Miss Edith Cairns, of West Fifth street, who has had some experience in this line of work.

A Life or Death Subject.

The subject of the debate at the meeting of the literary society at the Y. M. C. A. tonight is one of interest to all. "Should Capital Punishment be Abolished?" An invitation is extended to all.

WITH NAVAL RESERVES.

DR. SIMPSON SHOWS PICTURES OF JERSEY TARS IN THE WAR.

Given for the Benefit of the Soldiers' Monument Fund—The Views Included Many That Were of Local Interest

It was a small but appreciative audience that gathered at the Camera Club room last Saturday evening to witness Dr. Simpson's illustrated lecture on the "New Jersey Naval Reserve," which was given under the auspices of the soldiers' monument committee for the fund that is being secured to erect a monument in this city.

Rev. W. C. O'Donnell, chairman of the committee, made a few appropriate remarks in which he asked those present to give their hearty co-operation in the work of securing a monument. Dr. Simpson was then introduced and, as John Naegle exhibited the slides, the doctor explained them and told many interesting things about the war with Spain.

The pictures had mostly to do with the part taken in the war by the New Jersey Reserves, including many Plainfield boys, and the pictures as well as the explanatory remarks were enjoyed by all.

The lecture included the trip of the Reserves during the war, and it was shown how capable the boys were to handle a ship like the Badger and do so with credit to themselves and to the Government. The doctor showed that while the boys had plenty of work there was also time for enjoyment and pleasure. Altogether the lecture was an interesting and instrucive one and everyone present was glad they had attended.

ON THE HILLSIDE LINKS.

PRELIMINARY ROUND FOR THE FISK CUP WAS PLAYED.

There Were Six Contestants—Honors Divided Between George Richards and Morris Dumont—Semi-Finals to Come.

The superb weather of Saturday attracted a large number of golf enthusiasts to the links of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. The course was well occupied throughout the day with devotees of the popular sport, and the improvement of the greens made it a pleasure to play. The event of the day was the preliminary round, eighteen holes, match play, junior handicap, for the Fisk Cup. According to the schedule the finals were to have been played, but the golf committee could not arrange matters that way. There were six contestants, Messrs. George Richards, Augustus Fisk, Morris Dumont, Owen Fleming, Parker W. Mason and N. Pedleton Rogers, Jr., who qualified last year for the play. The result of the first round is as follows: George Richards beat Augustus Fisk by 5 up and 4 to go; Morris Dumont beat Owen Fleming by 4 up and 2 to go; Parker W. Mason beat N. Pendleton Rogers, Jr., by 4 up and 3 to go. The honors being divided between George Richards and Morris Dumont, they will play the semi-final round next Saturday, and the winner will play the final round with Parker W. Mason, who is exempt for play in the semi-final for the reason that he drew the bye.

The result of the final play will determine the permanent owner of the cup and the interest is now growing very keen. The semi finals and finals will be played next Saturday afternoon.

The Steward had quite a number of people for lunch Saturday and during the entire day there was a goodly number of people at the clubhouse. An idea of how many persons were playing on the links in the afternoon can be imagined from the fact that there were nearly fifty caddies out.

NEW VOICES HEARD.

Mr. Potter Sings Tenor and Miss Perry Contralto in Crescent Avenue Church.

A change has been made in the choir of the Crescent Avenue church and two new solists have been secured to fill the places formerly occupied by Miss Hardenburg, the contralto, and the tenor, Mr. Strickiet.

Mr. Potter, of New York, is the new tenor, and Miss Perry, of Brooklyn, contralto. They sang for the first time yesterday and pleased everybody. The choir is composed now of Mrs. Brooke, soprano; Miss Perry, contralto; Mr. Potter, tenor; and Mr. Lewis, baritone.

A Very Hot Topic.

Rev. Mr. Lewis, of St. Paul, Minn., made things decidedly warm at Reform Hall last night for the members of Calvary Baptist church in his sermon on a "Damned Hot Day." The day was hot in more ways than one. It was the Judgment Day the speaker alluded to, and conceived the idea of preaching this sermon from one preached by Rev. Henry Ward Beecher upon the same topic.

WILL FIGHT SIN IN NEW QUARTERS.

Big Day Marked of Salvation Army Hall.

COLONEL HIGGINS PRESENT.

CHIEF OF STAFF TO GEN. BOOTH-TUCKER LED SUNDAY MEETINGS.

The Local Soldiers of the Army Have Moved Into the Old Y. M. C. A. Hall on East Front Street—Large Crowds at Services Yesterday—Prominent Officers Present—Active Campaign.

The battle is still on. There's no sign of its ending either. The indomitable soldiers of the Salvation Army are steadily going forward in their campaign against the forces of sin. After valiantly fighting under great difficulties, the local soldiers of the Army are still pressing forward. Some of the obstacles have been overcome. Saturday night the new local barracks of the Army were opened with special exercises which were continued yesterday,

The career of the soldiers of the Salvation Army in Plainfield has been a hard one. They have now moved into new and better quarters. The new Salvation Army Hall is located on the second floor at 118 East Front street, in the hall once occupied by the Y. M. C. A.

To assist in the opening of the new hall and give Plainfield an awakening, a delegation was sent out from the headquarters of the Salvation Army in New York to assist Captain and Mrs. Traub who are in command here. Colonel Higgins, Chief of Staff for General Booth-Tucker, the head of the Army, came, accompanied by his wife, who is in charge of the rescue work. Dr. Nice, the violinist of the staff, accompanied them. Then there was Brigadier Scott, who is in command of his division of the Army, and the Staten Island Singing Brigade, six in all, who can sing, pray, preach and do everything else that a good Salvation Army soldier is expected to do.

After an enthusiastic open-air meeting at the corner of West Front street and Madison avenue, in which the visitors took part, the meeting in the hall was opened. There was a crowd present, filling all the seats. Brigadier Scott led the singing with his concertina and conducted the meeting.

Yesterday the campaign was continued with unabated vigor. There was a consecration service in the morning, largely attended and preceded by the usual open-air meeting. In the afternoon there was another out-door meeting and a praise service at the hall. A salvation meeting, with an open-air meeting before it, was held in the hall. While all the services were well attended the crowd in the evening overflowed the hall.

Colonel Higgins proved to be an energetic leader. He conducted the meetings yesterday and soon secured the attention of his hearers. He was an interesting speaker and told his illustrations and stories of the army life in a dramatic manner. His enthusiasm was contagious and the audience sang in a way that rejoiced the local officers.

There was plenty of music and singing with here and there a prayer or exhortation. There wasn't any pretence at fine discourse. The earnest Salvationists presented their plea so all could understand and begged their hearers to come to God before it was too late.

Captain Traub, the local commander, was everywhere. He assisted in the meeting and received visitors at the door, ushering them to seats and doing what else he could to aid in the success of the meeting. He was seemingly an earnest, straightforward soldier, working hard to advance his cause and setting his fellow-soldiers a fine example.

It was a big day for the Salvation Army in Plainfield. The campaign, so auspiciously started, will be energetically continued. Meetings will be held every evening and some special events are promised for the future.

Prompt Settlement of Death Claim.

A draft for $2,000 mortuary benefit held by the late Gustav Grotmann in Court Plainfield, No. 1144, Independent Order of Foresters, was paid over to Mrs. Grotmann last Saturday by the lodge officers. From the day proof of claim was filed till settlement was made, only five days elapsed.

INTERNATIONAL COMBINE.

Next Possible Development of the New Carnegie Steel Company.

MR. CARNEGIE RETIRES.

Stated That He Is Endeavoring to Perfect Steel Organization in England, Scotland and Wales.

Mines, Fuel and Mills Here Are All Under One Control—Carnegie May Take All Cash Or Part Bonds in Pay—Rumors Are Afloat That Carnegie Will Retire and Fight Trusts.

London, May 8.—Mr. Andrew Carnegie, in an interview, said he had put terms before his young partners and purposed to sell his business to them and retire. He had as yet received no definite information as to whether or not they would accept his terms, but thought that they would. Mr. Carnegie thinks the property the most valuable of its kind in the world.

New York, May 8.—Henry C. Frick, who is at the head of the new steel corporation, has left New York for his home in Pittsburg. Before he left he reiterated the statement he made on Friday night, that the proposed company would include only the Carnegie Steel Company (limited), the H. C. Frick Coal Company and their subsidiary and allied organizations. Mr. Frick added that the new company had already acquired the Carnegie properties and that Mr. Carnegie had retired.

A director of the Carnegie Steel Company (limited), who is considered to be Mr. Carnegie's personal representative in New York, says:

"There is really nothing to add to the story already published, which gave about all the facts that anybody knows about the new company. I may add, however, for the benefit of the public who may be stockholders in other steel and iron properties not included in the Carnegie properties, that at present no other than Carnegie companies, except the H. C. Frick Coke Company, are included in the new company, and there is no indication that others will be. The Carnegie Steel Company (limited) absorbed long ago the Edgar Thomson Steel Works, the Duquesne Steel Works, the Upper and Lower Union Mills and the Keystone Bridge Works. It controls the Pittsburg, Bessemer and Lake Erie Railroad and the Oliver Mining Company of Minnesota, and has for an ally the H. C. Frick Coke Company.

"The new company will thus own the fuel and ore fields to feed the mills which will turn out its products. The only thing I can add is this: It has not been definitely determined yet whether Mr. Carnegie will pay cash for his interests, or part cash and part bonds. This will be determined later and the capital of the Carnegie Steel Company, recently incorporated in Trenton, and which will be the name of the new company, will soon be increased from $2,000. Now you know all there is to know."

It was reported in Wall street that the common stock of the new company will be put on the market at $40 a share. It was also said by a man who was an intimate friend of the director of the Carnegie Steel Company (limited), quoted above, that the ultimate aim of Mr. Frick and his associates is to form an international steel company, steel and iron interests in England, Scotland and Wales being amalgamated with the American Company. It was added that Mr. Carnegie himself is now giving attention to this in London for the men who are to succeed him. This man added:

"If this end of the deal goes through the International Steel Company, or whatever it may be called, will be the biggest corporation the world has ever known."

It is also stated that Mr. Carnegie is retiring from business so as to devote his energies and wealth to fighting trusts.

So far as the connection with the American Steel and Wire Company with the new steel company goes, this statement was made:

"Mr. Gates has made overtures to Mr. Frick to include the American Steel and Wire Company in the new steel company, and there the matter stands. Mr. Frick has told the steel and wire folks that any such proposition must be held in abeyance for the present."

A representative of the Federal Steel and Wire Company has this to say:

"The Federal Steel Company has so far in no official way been approached to go into a new combination. Those who know most about it think the time is far off when it will even consider the matter. But it may be to the advantage of all the steel companies to get the benefit of the great economies which can be introduced by still closer alliances. At present it cannot be stated too clearly that the Federal Steel Company is not in any combination and is doing a satisfactory business in its present operations."

It was announced in Wall street that the Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke Company, which recently acquired practically all the iron interests in southwest Virginia, has completed the purchase of the important iron and steel properties of the Watts Steel and Iron Syndicate of London, England. These properties are in Kentucky and Tennessee, at and near Middlesborough.

Rival of Combine.

Philadelphia, May 8.—The combination of steel manufacturers in the deal engineered by H. C. Frick is not to have things all its own way. It was said here on trustworthy authority that the steel interests in the eastern part of Pennsylvania are about to organize for self-protection, and that there will be a close fight for supremacy that may cause changes in the plans of the Western steel men. Among the companies that are said to be interested in the new combination are the Cambria Steel Company, Bethlehem Iron Works, Pennsylvania Steel Company, Tidewater Steel Company and Diamond Steel Company. An official of one of the companies said:

"Such a combination would be desirable, and there is no reason why it should not be entered into. With one exception the Eastern Companies possess great advantages over those in the Frick trust, for the reason that they are at tidewater."

He cited as an instance that the big contract from abroad taken by the Maryland Steel Company, at Sparrow's Point, for 80,000 tons of steel rails, which it was able to make and deliver cheaper than any of the Western competitors, on account of its location. Among the works possessing the tidewater advantages are the Tidewater Steel Company, Pennsylvania Steel Company and the Diamond Steel Company. What tends to confirm the rumor of this new combination is that there are heavy buying of all these stocks by inside interests.

THE LATEST NEWS.

DOWNS, SMITH AND WHITTLE IN DISGRACE.

New York, May 8.—To the breasts of Colonel Wallace A. Downs, Lieutenant Colonel Clinton H. Smith and Major John H. Whittle, of the Seventy-first Regiment, National Guard of the State of New York, a court of inquiry has pinned badges of disgrace.

It is a terrible arraignment that the Board of Inquiry, composed itself of volunteer officers, presents against these three skulkers, who hid behind blankets and behind trees and refused to take their men into action, although peremptorily so ordered by their commanding officer. The evidence of their unfitness, their cowardice and their deceit is overwhelming, and probably is without precedent. Indeed, it is certain that in no battle of the Civil War did three officers in one regiment show the white feather so conspicuously at one time. There is no record of a regiment lying prostrate in a trail because there were no officers to lead it, and permit other regiments to pass over their bodies in advancing against the enemy.

The court, which was convened in the Twenty-second Regiment armory on December 21, 1898, yesterday made public the evidence laid before it, together with its findings, opinions and recommendations, in which they state that the regiment was anxious to fight but were retarded through the cowardice of these officers, which left them without a leader. The report has received the approval of Gov. Roosevelt.

MILES CRITISISED BY BEEF COURT.

Washington, May 8—The Army Beef Court report, covering fifty-three printed pages, has been given out for publication. President McKinley's indorsement is brief and to the point as follows:

"Executive Mansion, May 6, 1899.
"The findings of the Court of Inquiry are approved.
"WILLIAM McKINLEY."

A summary of the findings of the court is as follows:

General Miles's charges that beef was "embalmed" not sustained. General Miles criticised for "error" in failing to promptly report his opinion about beef.

Commissary-General Eagan criticised for the too extensive purchase of canned beef.

Colonel Maus, of Gen. Miles's staff, criticised for not reporting on Dr. Daly's findings on "embalmed" beef.

Beef rations did not cause sickness of troops.

Packers were not at fault for condition of beef.

Meat, when supplied to the army, was good.

Interviews published with General Miles were correct, despite his denials.

Canned roast beef not a suitable beef ration for the army.

Recommendations that no proceedings be taken in the case against any one.

THE BUFFALO HOME FROM MANILA.

New York, May 8.—Flying a "homeward bound" pennant 286 feet long, the United States cruiser Buffalo, formerly the Brazilian dynamite ship Nictheroy, and before that El Cid, came into port after a record-breaking run from Manila. She brought 596 officers and men from Dewey's fleet more than half of whom participated in the battle of Manila Bay. The men are those whose terms of enlistment have expired. Among the officers were Paymaster John R. Martin, Captain Dutton of the Marine Corps, Lieutenant A. G. Rogers, of the Monadnock; Lieutenant S. S. Robinson, of the Boston; Surgeon F. Rogers, of the Monterey; Surgeon R. S. Blackman, of the Boston; Ensign Stephen Douglas, of the Monadnock; Ensign Lang, of the Manila (one of the captured gunboats) and nine naval cadets, who came home to take the spring examinations at Annapolis.

MANY IN PERIL ON OLD IRON PIER.

New York, May 8.—With a roar that could be heard far away, more than fifty feet of the old iron pier at Coney Island were washed away by the waves. At the time sixty men were at the end of the pier. About forty of these were able to cling to the pier wreckage, which, after the collapse settled slowly into the water. They were rescued by the prompt action of the police and firemen. The remaining twenty were left on a bulkhead, cut off from land by a gap in the pier. These were taken by the United States revenue cutter Scout.

PERISHED BY INCHES IN A MARSH.

Evansville, Ind., May 8.—News of the horrible death of Jesse Kinley is received here from the lower end of the county. Kinley worked on Diamond Island and was taken ill with measles. His associates thought he had smallpox and drove him from the island. He came over to the mainland and in trying to cross a marsh sunk to his armpits. Being unable to extricate himself he perished. A bridge was built across the marshy soil and the body of Kinley was recovered.

WANTS HIS EXILE TO END.

Republican Nominee for Congress From South Carolina Makes Statement.

R. R. TOLBERT'S APPEAL.

Makes Promises for the Future and Even Offers to Change Politics If Proved in Error.

Believes in White Supremacy But Thinks Men Should Not Be Disfranchised On Account of Color Alone If of Established Good Character and Intelligence, and If Owners of Property.

Columbia, S. C., May 8.—Through the editor of a weekly newspaper published at Greenwood, R. R. Tolbert, the Republican nominee for Congress the last election for the Third district in South Carolina, and at present contesting Congressman Latimer's seat, has sent to his former neighbors at Phoenix a statement. Tolbert was expelled from that region during the election troubles in November. He wishes to return and makes promises for the future. He is willing to change his politics if it is shown that he is in error. He says:

"If a year ago I could have foreseen what was going to occur I would not have accepted the nomination for Congress. I have been a Republican and I have never been afraid or ashamed to declare my principles, but I have never knowingly given any man any advice that would tend to make him other than a good citizen or cause him to set at defiance any established law. Why should I desire to bring about a state of lawlessness? My home is in Abbeville County and a large part of my interests lie in Greenwood. All that I care for in life, everything and everybody that I hold near and dear, is centred in these two counties, and any evil that would befall them would come upon me, too.

"I certainly have some interest in trying to preserve law and order, and I had always thought until last November that my neighbors gave me credit for trying to do so. It has been very humiliating to me for my neighbors and many whom I regarded as personal friends to charge me otherwise. It has been charged that I have too strong a predilection for the negro in politics. I want to set myself right as to that. I am not and never have been in favor of negroes holding office. I am not now and never have been in favor of any man, white or black, exercising the right of suffrage unless he is qualified to do so. But I do not believe in disfranchising on account of their color men who, because of property or education or established character as good citizens should be allowed to vote. I am not a believer in social quality. I am a believer in white supremacy in the broadest and strongest sense of the term, and if I see that it is in danger I will go as far as any man to defend it.

"I cannot see that here is the remotest danger of negro domination, and I simply cannot believe the white people, in the strength of their superiority, should commit crime against a weaker and defenseless race.

"When I was nominated for Congress by my party in the Third district I wanted to make as good a showing as possible. I want to refute the statement that Republicans were securing nominations for office in this State solely for the purpose of getting money out of the national campaign fund. I did not make any money out of the campaign. In the contest if I am not seated, I will not get anything but the actual expenses in making the contest, and the expense account will be carefully itemized."

Tolbert repudiated the interview with him published in the New York Independent, which caused much feeling against him. In that he is made to allude to the people in Greenwood as "white trash."

"In short," says Tolbert, "I have been misrepresented and misunderstood on so many points that I hardly know what to say or where to commence to set myself right. I want to get right before the people of my home, though, for I am sure if I can do that the people will have a very different opinion of me.

"I do not take it," he said, "that the people of Greenwood County want me to humiliate myself, and I could not do so even if they wished it. I have been a Republican from principle, and am one yet. I do not see how anyone can consider that a crime. But I am open to conviction, and if any man can show me that my position is wrong, I will speedily abandon it. I have never held night meetings with negroes and preached incendiary doctrines to them and never expect to do so. I have never thought that I was a menace to the peace and safety of the community, but if any man can show in what way I have been such I will try to change my conduct. I am not an outlaw and don't want to be considered as such.

"I want to go back to my home with my wife and children and live there in peace to the end of my days. I want to have the friendship and good will of all my neighbors, and am sure that when they understand me clearly I will have that to the fullest extent. I want to be able to go about the community and attend to my business affairs freely and without molestation, and without the consciousness that I am looked upon with distrust and suspicion. I simply want a white man's chance in a white man's county. I do not ask for anything more than this, and I will not be satisfied with anything less."

Tolbert is wan and thin. The nearest he has been to his home since the troubles was when at Greenville attending the trial of the conspiraotrs on charges brought by Jim Tolbert.

ATKINSON'S TALK.

Writes to Attorney-General Gripps About His Pamphlets—Tried to Send Copies to Manila as a Test.

Boston, May 8.—Edward Atkinson has addressed the following letter to Attorney-General Griggs at Washington:

Sir—It is alleged in the public press that I am charged by yourself and other members of the Cabinet with having sent seditious matter through the mail to United States soldiers in the Philippine Islands. Orders are said to have been given to take this matter from the mail. To this charge I reply:

First—I have sent no pamphlets, letters or other documents, nor any telegraphic messages or verbal communication of any kind to any private soldier or regimental officer of the United States in the Philippine Islands, or to any Filipino in the Philippine Islands or elsewhere, directly or indirectly, by mail or otherwise.

Second—The two pamphlets which it is alleged will be taken from the mail are not seditious pamphlets. One I know to have been, and upon the authority of Senator Caffery the other I believe to have been, presented to the Senate of the United States and to have been printed as Senate or public documents, from the first editions; subsequent editions the same in form with addenda in support.

Third—It was reported to me upon what was considered good authority that the parents of Nebraska Volunteers had not been allowed to communicate with their sons on duty in the Philippine Islands. This statement I have not seen denied.

Fourth—Moved by a sense of profound indignation at this state of affairs, and for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the United States mails were or were not open to the citizens of the United States residing in Manila, I addressed on April 22 a letter to the Secretary of War in the following terms:

"I desire to send a large number of the enclosed pamphlets (naming the pamphlets and enclosing copies of them) to the officers and privates in the Philippine Islands. I therefore desire to know whether or not these documents can be sent directly through the War Department or may be forwarded in due course by mail. A list of regiments is desired, and if there are printed lists of officers available they would serve me a very useful purpose."

I received no reply to this letter.

Fifth—On April 24 and 25 I put into the United States mail as a test eight copies, one of each of these two pamphlets, addressed to the following persons: Admiral George Dewey, President Schurman, Professor Worcester, Gen. H. G. Otis, Gen Lawton Gen. Miller and J. F. Bass, correspondent of Harper's Weekly, two copies. I now understand that these gentlemen are not to be allowed by the Cabinet of the United States to read these documents, even if they cared to do so.

Sixth—I informed the Anti-Imperialist League of Boston, of which I was an officer, of the above facts. Without consultation with me, and moved by what motive is now immaterial, they addressed a letter disclaiming any responsibility for any action that I may take, which letter was made public.

Seventh—Since then I have been subjected to the grossest misrepresentation both of my motives and my actions in a certain portion of the press of the country. This has culminated in the present action of the Cabinet of the United States, upon the wisdom of which the public will pass judgment.

Eighth—This action of the Cabinet being the first and only answer of any kind which I have received to the letter above referred to, I shall act in accordance with its mandates.

Ninth—It is said the circulation of these pamphlets in the United States will be permitted. I shall continue to use the United States mail for their transmission in this country, deeming my action not a matter of permission but a matter of right.

Tenth—Such being the fact, I send this letter to you, and also address it through the press. Respectfully,

EDWARD ATKINSON.

Food for Troops in the Tropics

Washington, May 8.— A special order respecting the food supply of the United States troops in the tropics was sent to Gen. Otis at Manila, Gen. Brooke at Havana, Cuba, and Gen. Davis at San Juan. The order reads as follows:

"By the President's direction you have from time to time been requested to make suggestions as to the change of rations for your troops, which you have complied with, but to better enable the President to determine, under provisions of Section 1,146, Revised Statutes, what alterations, if any, in established ration would be conducive to the better health of troops serving in tropical climates, the Acting Secretary of War directs that you institute a board of three officers, noted for their ability and experience, serving respectively in the line, medical and subsistance departments, to fully examine in to the subject of any desired changes in the ration for the troops of your command; and that you submit the substance of the report, of its investigations by cable, and a full report by mail, together with your recommendations. Refer to the board previous correspondence and other valuable information relating to dietetics. Particularly should the experience of officers and enlisted men of long service in the tropics receive full consideration."

Plumb Heavily in Debt

New York, April 8.—On Jan. 17 last a judgment for $86,306 was entered against James Neale Plumb, the murderer of Alexander Masterton, in favor of William Berrian and Charles C. Hibbard as executors of the estate of Charles H. Contoit for the amount due with interest on six bonds which Plumb gave, several drafts and bills of exchange, one being dated in San Francisco and another in Washington, D. C., from 1891 to 1896. Execution was issued to the Sheriff, but it was returned "no property" on March 22.

Tybee Island Fortifications Named

Washington, May 8.—By direction of the President the fortifications on Tybee Island, Georgia, and the military reservation at that point will hereafter be known as Fort Screven, in honor of James Screven, Colonel and Brigadier-General of Georgia militia during the war of the Revolution, who was killed in action at Medway Church, Nov. 24, 1778.

THEY WILL NOT YIELD.

Many Conferences Between Strikers and Contractors at Buffalo Fail to Bring About Settlement.

Buffalo, May 8.—The grain contractors are willing to make almost any concession to the striking scoopers except to give up the contract. The strikers are fighting to do away with the contract system.

W. J. Connors and J. J. Kennedy have given a bond of $100,000 to carry out the contract. The Lake carriers have committed themselves to stand by the contractors. The strikers have individually taken an oath before a notary public not to go to work for the contractors.

Contractor Connors promised in advance to stand by any agreement or compromise measure that a committee of the Lake carriers adopted. Even the strikers admit that its terms providing for payment in a regular office at the rate of $1.85 a thousand bushels are fair enough. But before the agreement was submitted to them they passed a resolution refusing to consider any settlement which recognized the contractors. Some of the labor leaders not of the strikers are trying to persuade them to accept the compromise. The Lake carriers will guarantee that the contract made shall be carried out. What the outcome will be no one knows.

In the meantime the situation is daily growing worse. The contractors managed to secure many Italian workmen, so that the total number of scoopers now employed is about two hundred and thirty. These are carried to the dock in wagons guarded by the police, but the men were not molested. Nearly every scooper at work is armed. Thus far about one hundred grain vessels have reached Buffalo, of which thirty have been unloaded. There should be 1,800 men at work, and it should be kept up day and night.

Vessels ordinarily loaded in eight hours have been at an elevator four days. In the meantime the workers in the elevators, the coal passers and the dry dock men are being taken into the Scoopers' Union, so that these men may be called out at any time.

The package freight handlers who are on strike have not caused much trouble as yet. The one hundred men at work can unload the small amount of package freight that has thus far arrived. About seven hundred men are needed when the season is in full swing.

The situation is growing more serious each day. If the contractors can get enogh men to handle the grain there is bound to be trouble, because the delay is not improving the temper of the strikers. If they cannot get the men it means that the through freight trade of the lakes must remain at a standstill or the carriers must repudiate the contract with Connors and Kennedy.

A Royal Arctic Explorer

Rome, May 8.—The young Duke of Abruces, King Humbert's nephew, took a tearful farewell of his royal relatives on Tuesday and started via Norway for the Polar regions. He proposes to make straight for Franz Josef Land in a specially prepared steamship, the Star of Italy, penetrate as far north as possible, and when frozen in to make a rush for the Pole with sleighs. He promised his friends to be back in Rome on June 1, 1900, with relics of Andree.

The Duke is not rich as royal Princes go, and he had considerable trouble in raising funds for the enterprise. He first proposed to sell part of his landed property, but the King objected. The King and Princes of the blood then made a whip around, and although times are rather hard in Italy they managed to raise $200,000. The King, moreover, advanced the Duke three years civil list salary, and finally the Duke obtained a loan on the security of three years' rents. Being a thoughtful young man, he made a will before leaving Rome and handed it to the King, who is his executor.

The President Needs Rest.

Washington, May 8.—Personal friends of President McKinley have become somewhat anxious on account of the state of his health. Those who had not been informed recently in regard to his condition, but who knew of his indisposition two or three weeks ago, immediately attached a good deal of insignificance to the announcement that he had decided to a rest of two or three weeks at the Virginia Hot Springs. It is learned at the White House that, although there is no cause for alarm regarding the President's health, it is, nevertheless, true that he has reached a point where partial rest from official cares is absolutely imperative. He has, under the specific advice of his physician, cancelled several appointments which would call him away from the capital on public occasions within the next few weeks.

HUMORS OF DIVORCE.

Some Reasons for Untying the Marriage Knot Are Ludicrous.

Although is is happily not possible in every country to dissolve the marriage tie because a husband has an aversion to soap or because a wife has a tongue more active than her fingers, there is a ludicrous facility in many lands for getting rid of an undesirable wife or husband.

In Greece a wife, to maintain her position, must be the very "pink of propriety," and if she goes to theatre or race meeting or even dines with a friend without her husband's sanction he may send her back to her mother and bid her stay there.

Time was, and not long ago, in Crete, when a man might divorce his wife if she appeared likely to add too many quivers to his bow; and in Russia, if husband and wife wished to part for any reason whatever, all they need do was to adjourn to some public place, and in the presence of onlookers tear a strip of muslin in two.

In Morocco it is not fashionable to be attached too long to any particular wife, and a man's social position may be gauged by the number of wives he has divorced. It is quite common for a man to have married and parted from a score of wives before he has reached the age at which the average Englishman thinks it prudent to marry.

In France, during the "time of terror," the daring experiment was tried of allowing divorces at will and without any assigned cause. The result was disastrous or happy, according to the point of view; for within a year 4,000 couples agreed to part in Paris alone, and within a short time there were actually more divorces than marriages every year.

In Japan if an oblique-eyed beauty gives too much rein to her tongue, "off she goes," to learn that a discreet reticence is a virtue in a wife.

In Germany if the wife uses her husband's purse too freely he can keep the purse to himself and bid her go, while he looks out for a fraulein of simpler tastes.

In Australia a man can divorce a wife who is too fond of her cups, or rather glasses; and no Chinaman is called upon to tolerate a shrew.

From the oldest times divorce has been in some countries almost as simple a matter as untying a shoe lace.

In ancient Rome a man who wearied of his wife could free himself by the simple process of telling her to go.

In biblical history, too, we learn that Abraham divorced Hagar by providing her bread and a bottle of water and sending her away.

Marigolds and chamomiles in North Africa reach a height of four or five feet.

Switzerland has 1,693 hotels for tourists, with 88,000 beds and 24,000 employes.

A doctor states that tight, unventilated hats are one of the chief causes of baldness.

Hominy is from anhuminea, the North American Indian word for parched corn.

Succotash is a dish borrowed from the Narragansett Indians and called by them m'sickquatash.

More than 500,000 sewing machines are made in this country annually, which is 90 per cent. of the production of the world.

Charlotte is a corruption of the old English word charlyt, which means a dish of custard, and charlotte russe is Russian charlotte.

Gumbo is simply okra soup, gumbo being the name by which okra is often known in the south. Chicken gumbo is soup of okra and chicken.

Elephants have only eight teeth—two below and two above on each side. All elephants' baby teeth fall out when the animal is about 14 years old, and a new set grows.

WORK FOR MAC ARTHUR

Large Body of Native Troops Reported Moving Around Left Flank.

ALL IS QUIET AT ILOILO

One of MacArthur's Brigades Advancing Toward the Enemy at Antipolo and San Mateo.

Dewey Cables That Gunboat Bennington Ran On An Uncharted Shoal But Not Seriously Damaged—She is the Vessel Which Stopped at Guam and Established United States Authority.

Manila, May 8—Experiments demonstrate the practicability of utilizing the Rio San Fernando as a means of conveying supplies from Manila to the front instead of using the damaged railroad for the purpose of making such connection with Gen. MacArthur's division. In pursuance of this plan army tugs will proceed by the Rio San Fernando to the front.

A large body of Filipinos is reported to be moving around Gen. MacArthur's left flank toward the railroad. Reconnoitering parties have also located strong forces of the enemy at Antipolo and San Mateo Gen. King's brigade, which is temporarily under command of Col. Whalley of the 1st Washington Regiment is moving toward Antipolo.

Reports received here from Iloilo and Cebu say that all is quiet there, and that commerce is improving, but that Samar and Leyte show considerable military activity since the arrival of the Tagalog delegates.

Bennington Ran Ashore.

Washington, May 8.—The despatch was received by the Secretary of the Navy from Admiral Dewey this morning:

"The Bennington on shoal not on the chart on the north side of Panay, P. I. Came off twenty-three hours later. Has been examined by divers. Damage is not serious, but it is necessary to dock vessel. I have sent to Hongkong. No blame attached to any one."

The Bennington has been in the Philippine waters for about two months, having been ordered there from Honolulu.

She is commanded by Capt. Taussig, and it was under his command that the vessel stopped at Guam on the way from Honolulu to Manila and established the authority of the United States in the island.

It is evident from Admiral Dewey's message that no serious damage has been sustained by the vessel and that it will only be necessary to replace the injured bottom plates.

There being no dock at Cavite, in which a vessel of her size can be repaired, it became necessary to send her to Hongkong, where she will go in a British drydock.

In Search of a Husband.

St. Louis, May 8.—A little woman dressed in a bicycle suit of army blue and giving her name as Ernie Bloss called at police headquarters and searched the rogues' gallery for the picture of a man named Warren Bennett Ulysses Russell Mayne, who married her at Fort Worth, Tex., one year ago, and she says then deserted her.

Ex-Banker Acquitted.

Salt Lake, Utah, May 8.—The jury in the case of the ex-banker, J. M. Stout, formerly president of the National Bank, has brought in a verdict of not guilty.

The case has been on trial all the week. The specific charge was that Mr. Stout had made false returns to the controller of the currency. The prosecution attempted to show that he signature to a certain note signed "J. H. Hedges" was a forgery. On that point the defense made argument to show that the signature was genuine and that the bank had such assets as were required under the national banking law.

New Jersey Incorporations.

Trenton, N. J., May 8.—A corporation called the General Carriage Company has been chartered. The capital stock is $20,000,000, and $4,000 was laid down as the incorporation fee. The company's business will be the hiring, letting and trafficking in cabs, carriages and vehicles of all kinds. The incorporators named are Peter H. Evans, James U. Clarke, Richard C. Ellis, E. Frederick Gentner and Robert I. McKinstry.

The Universal Fuel Company was incorporated with a capital stock of $1,000,000. This company will manufacture and deal in furnaces, ovens and fuels of all kinds and operate fuel distilling plants. The incorporators are Charles A. Brown, George L. Cragg and Max W. Zabel.

Death of Mrs. Whitney

New York, April 8.—Mrs. William C. Whitney died Saturday at the country residence of the Whitneys at Wheatly Hills, in Westbury, Long Island. The cause of death was paralysis, resulting from an injury received while riding to the hounds in 1898. The second vertebra of her neck was either fractured or slightly dislocated. This resulted in a presure on the spinal cord. Mr. Whitney, his son, Harry Payne Whitlaide Randolph, and her stepdaughter Miss Dorothy Whitney, were at the bedside. Mrs. Whitney was about 40 years old.

Tornado in Northern Texas

Dallas, Texas, May 8.—A report reached Dallas that a tornado has swept over parts of northern Texas and the Indian Territory, causing great damage to property and killing and injuring several persons. The storm is said to have been particularly severe at Tom Bean, in Fannin County, Tex., and in the Chickasaw Nation in the Indian Territory. A bad storm is reported also from Guthrie, Oklahoma.

Street Car Strikers use Dynamite

Duluth, Minn., May 8.—The street railway sympathizers and strikers used dynamite to stop traffic. Four cars were derailed. One was smashed almost beyond repair and all of the glass in the others was broken. One man was seriously injured and four others were slightly hurt.

TEETH.

May 9—Gymnasium men's social at Y. M. C. A.

State Superintendent of Public Instion Baxter is endeavoring to secure the adoption of "Bird Day" in the schools. He says, however, that it may be celebrated contemporaneously with Arbor Day. "The youth of our State," he says, "should be taught to appreciate our fathered friends and cultivate the birds." This leads the Orange Journal to say: "We agree with Superintendent Baxter that the youth of our land should be taught to appreciate the birds and should receive instruction in regard to the various species, their ways and habits. If they know more about birds and bird life they would be more anxious to protect them and prevent thesr destruction."

In a prospective editorial the Summit Record takes this view of the Republican party in Union county the coming fall: "Westfield, Plainfield and Rahway are already clamoring for a fair share of the spoils and threatening vengeance deep and terrible if Elizabeth insists on grabbing all of the offices. Sheriff Kirk's term expires this fall and several weeks ago he began the work of seeking delegates for the nomination as County Clerk. The law prohibits a Sheriff from serving two successive terms and Kirk believes that the office of County Clerk is admirably suited to him."

A law just passed in Minnesota authorizes park boards in cities to plant trees when petitioned by property owners concerned and to assess the cost, not exceeding 12 1-2 cents a front foot, on the property improved, this to include the expense of maintaining the trees for three years and replacing any that may die. The system has been tested in Minneapolis for fifteen years, and 15,000 vigorous, well protected trees along the streets prove its success. The outlay has been remarkably small.

It is reported that Andrew Carnegie is to receive $100,000,000 as his share for the sale of the steel works in which he is interested to the syndicate that is being organized. At this rate Mr. Carnegie might be able to help his young friend, Aguinaldo, to get a start in the world after Uncle Sam gets through with him.

The Lower House of the Connecticut Legislature has defeated the bill aiming to give woman's suffrage. The perseverance of the women who would vote is equalled only by the Prohibitionists who are among the "also rans" every election.

Notwithstanding the competition of Delaware and West Virginia in the cheap incorporation of trusts, New Jersey still continues to do business at the old stand, observes the Newark Advertiser.

Governor Roosevelt has declared in favor of the whipping post for wife-beaters. That is the sort of a Rough Riding Governor that we like to see.

BRIGADIER GENERAL HARRISON GRAY OTIS.

"The pen is mightier than the sword," said Bulwer-Lytton, but Brigadier General Harrison Gray Otis seems to do well with both these mighty weapons. He commands a brigade in the Philippines and owns a paper in Los Angeles, Cal. A Manila correspondent says: "When not fighting General Otis is writing dispatches for his paper."

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

The best road to official preferment at Trenton is through the legislative lobby. Former Assemblyman Charles N. Codding, of Union county, who has figured for three years in the Third House as a representative of trolley and telephone interests, is to succeed Senator E. C. Stokes, of Cumberland as deputy Supreme Court Clerk. —Newark Daily Advertiser.

* * * * *

There will be elected in November seven State Senators and a House of Assembly, and sheriffs for all the counties with the exception of Passaic, Bergen, Somerset and Cape May. The Senators will be elected in Essex, Monmouth, Union, Somerset, Gloucester, Salem, Warren and Camden. They will each have a vote for a United States Senator in 1901. The outgoing Senators are Republicans with the exception of Senator Barber, of Warren county. The Republicans will undoubtedly elect their candidates in Essex, Union, Somerset, Gloucester, Salem and Camden counties; Warren county is Democratic and Monmouth doubtful.—Orange Journal.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

The Middlesex County Jail holds either a notable prisoner or a surpassing liar. He calls himself the Count Rocco Dianovitcha, and says he has been in jail in every country in the world except Canada, and he is on his way there now. He claims to have worked in the treadmills of England, served in the chain gangs of Peru, dug in the mines of South Africa and plowed the farms of Australia. He has spent two and one-half years in jail out of the thirty-four he has travelled. The Count says that America treats her criminals the best, England the worst. Australia has the foulest prisons on earth, the largest criminal classes and the severest punishment. The punishments of the Chinese, Turks and Russians do not equal the flogging of criminals by the British in Australia, he says.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

A dramatic treat is promised the coming week at Music Hall in the performances of Mitchell's all-star players who are to make their first appearance tonight in Bartley Campbell's great play "The Galley Slave." New scenery and effects are promised, and a number of novel specialties will be introduced between acts. The members of the company are among the best that has appeared here, including some well-known people, and the stage management is under the direction of E. M. Crane, long identified with the Waite Comedy Companies. The Elmore sisters, hosts in themselves, are also members and will appear every evening in a new idea, which has won for them great favor. "Ladies Tickets" are a feature tonight. There should be a crowded attendance.

called Grain-O. It is a delicious, appetizing, nourishing food drink to take the place of coffee. Sold by all grocers and liked by all who have used it because when properly prepared it tastes like the finest coffee but is free from all its injurious properties. Grain-O aids digestion and strengthens the nerves. It is not a stimulant but a health builder, and children, as well as adults, can drink it with great benefit. Costs about ¼ as much as coffee 15 and 25c.

Woodhull & Martin's.

An ever broadening, ever deepening current of traffic is flowing through, our immense establishment. The constant opening of new channels of business is rapidly inundating us with a freshet of out-of-town business. All this goes to prove that our efforts to make our store an ideal one in which to shop are being more and more appreciated. These growing conditions are peculiarly gratifying to us, as many predictions of our failure to make a success on the lines along which we have been working have been freely made. But we know and have known that the people of Plainfield and vicinity appreciate and will support a first-class establishment, that they will respond to fair treatment, and prefer new, fresh, clean, honest merchandise.

The Summer Season.

The warm weather is now due, and the wise housekeeper will make prompt preparations for Summer comforts.

For Summer Floor Coverings we would suggest Straw Matting. A large shipment of new, fresh mattings gives us an unusually attractive line from which to select. Goods were imported by Arnold Constable & Co, a guarantee of their reliability. Extra Heavy China Mattings in small neat patterns, closely woven of heavy straw they are suggestion of extraordinary wear. Superfine Japanese Mattings, woven with linen warp. Designs are all orginal, ranging from very small, dainty figures to more elaborate carpet effects. All are peculiarly quaint and oriental in appearance. We are making a great many Piazza Rugs from Cocoa Mattings. Ends are finished with corrugated Rubber. They prevent in large measure the marring of paint. We have the new grass carpets with colored warps for the same purpose.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 8—An accident occurred Saturday afternoon on Front street, just east of the borough, line in which two New Brunswick wheelmen were injured. They were riding from Plainfield side by side. At the turnout near Rock avenue the outside rider did not turn out far enough to clear the trolley track, and being forced against his companion both fell to the ground. As they were riding at a stiff pace both sustained bruises. Dr. Brakeley was sought, and patched them up with court plaster so that they could ride home.

The Middlesex county W. C. T. U. will hold their annual convention in New Brunswick May 19. Delegates from the union here will be appointed to attend.

William J. Winges has been making some improvements about his property which enchance its value materially.

Eugene Bunyon is overhauling the house recently purchased near the Grove street crossing.

A dance will be given in Apgar's Hall some time this week by the young men of the borough.

The Saturday half holiday was inaugurated at the steel works at Lincoln Saturday.

Miss Lillian VanMiddlesworth has returned from a visit among relatives in Jersey City.

Miss Mary Hughes, of New York, spent yesterday with friends in the borough.

Mrs. Annie Abbott has returned from a visit with relatives in Somerville.

Mrs. Elizabeth Heyser has returned from a visit to Brooklyn.

Mrs. A. A. Lake has recovered from a bad attack of malaria

Robert Lowry has recovered from his attack of illness.

Harry Dodwell is riding an Eagle wheel.

T. J. Todd has been painting his house.

NEW MARKET

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

New Market, May 8.—Mrs. Hannah Nelson and grandson have returned from Cadwell where they have been spending a week.

W. B. Smith will begin the erection of a large house in a few days.

Miss Emma Naylor spent Sunday with relatives in Newark.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 8.—Ground was broken Friday morning for the trolley extension from Scotch Plains to Plainfield. Contractor Serrell with a large force of men arrived in town shortly before 7 o'clock and the long delayed work was soon begun. Several of the residents of the village, who have been enthusiastic supporters of the road, hung out old glory in honor of the event. Work was started at the beginning of Park and Westfield avenues and the company says that the contract will be rushed through with all possible haste. The residents of the village say it can not be finished to soon to suit them.

Miss Edith Randolph and her friend, Irving Quereau, of New York, had an exciting experience with a runaway horse Sunday evening. The young people had been for a drive out to Rahway. When near Schenck's farm on the way home, the bolt on one side of the shaft broke, when the latter fell and struck the horse. This frightened the animal and he started to run away. The couple were thrown out upon the hard roadbed. Mr. Goodwin's coachman at Fanwood saw the frightened steed coming up the road with only a pair of shafts dangling along. He ran out and grabbed the horse by the head and after a struggle subdued the frightened animal. Mr. Quereau and Miss Randolph were both quite badly bruised and shaken up.

Mr. and Mrs Chas. Grant, of Plainfield, were the guests Sunday of Mrs. Grant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Paff, Sr.

Paul Justa, of New York, and Tom M. Elhose, of Newark, were the guests Sunday of Miss Minnie Hosinger.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press)

Westfield, May 8.—The Cranford Athletic Club's baseball team opened the season Saturday afternoon when they met and deated the team of the Spring Lake Athletic Club at their grounds in Huntley. There was a large attendance and the Cranford boys put up a good game, but the home players seemed to be a little afraid of the ball and acted as though they had had but a very little practice. The score was 23 to 7. Tabor and Hall did the battery work for the Cranford team, while Foster did the twirling for the Spring Lakers and Davis the backstop work.

The Board of Education will hold a special meeting in the Prospect Street School building tomorrow evening for the purpose of making the arrangements for the annual Commencement exercises of the school. The annual sermon to the graduates will probably be delivered by Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, pastor of the Methodist church.

At the Congregational church Sunday a special musical service was held under the direction of the organist, Lawrence Bogert. Mr. Bogert resigned as organist and musical director at the last meeting of the board of trustees, but he has reconsidered it and will remain for another year.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

BARNEGAT'S QUEER CATS.

Some With Tails, Some Without, and All Expert Fishers and Hunters.

"Speaking of cats," said Capt. Josh Reeves, keeper of the lighthouse at Sea Isle City, N. J., "recalls to mind the time twenty years ago when every day for several years I saw hundreds of the most peculiar cats any man ever looked upon. At that time I was keeper of Barnegat Light, on the upper Jersey coast, and in those days Barnegat was a mighty lonesome spot. There were no pretty summer cottages spread out along the beach as there are nowadays, and our only visitors were the lighthouse inspector and an occasional sportsman in search of wild fowl. Much of the island, back to the big sand dunes, adjacent to the beach, was covered with a thick growth of cedar, holly, oak and half a dozen other varieties of trees.

"Some years before I went to Barnegat an English brig was wrecked during a terrific nor'easter on the beach a short distance from the lighthouse. In addition to her crew the ship carried a score or more of Manx cats, which were being carried from the Isle of Man to New York. Nearly all the cats succeeded in reaching the shore. They took to the woods and no effort was ever made to reclaim them. For awhile these tailless animals loitered around the lighthouse in search of food, but as the keeper had no liking for so numerous a family of cats he drove them away.

When I took charge of the lighthouse the cats had become wild, and while I could approach within a short distance of them, they would not allow themselves to be caught. The woods were full of cats. A number of domestic cats were brought from the mainland by members of the life saving crew on the Island, and several of these joined the Manx cats. There soon were tailless cats, cats with a half a tail and cats with the regulation tail. The animals thrived and soon became a nuisance. In the thick underbrush of the woods they raised large litters of young ones. They found plenty of food by preying on the birds that lived in great numbers in the woods. Rabbits, which were plentiful on the island before the cats were cast ashore, were soon killed or driven away, for they were no match for their feline antagonists.

"The cats even became expert fishers. I have often watched them at work. In the spring and fall of the year large schools of fish swim about in the surf and these gave the cats many a feast. As the breakers drove the fish upon the beach, into a few inches of water, the cats would rush into the surf and, fastening their claws in the sides of the half stranded fish, would carry them high up on the beach and devour them. I have seen dozens of these cats sunning themselves on the sand hills. They became so troublesome that cat hunting parties became quite popular among the men living on the mainland. Dogs were used in chasing the cats to cover and the sport was quite exciting. Many cats were killed, but their places were soon filled by others. I never saw such peculiar cats as I found at Barnegat."

Offensive Cargoes on Board.

"Sometimes the cargoes brought from the hot countries play havoc by the fumes they give forth," said an old sea captain. "On one voyage the sugar we had aboard made every one sick. Matters finally became so bad that we could not live below deck. I chased a big Newfoundland dog out of its kennel aft and used the place as a berth, while the crew threw themselves around the deck at the imminent risk of being washed overboard. The cook had to go into the hold occasionally for provisions, and when he did so he tied a piece of cloth over his mouth and nose. After several such hurried visits he was overcome and two other men, similarly protected went down and secured him with ropes and he was hauled out. The hatches could not be battered down, for fear the cargo would spoil, so we had to put up the best we could with the fumes until we reached port.

"The usually pleasant aroma of coffee becomes sickening, indeed, when a man has to sail for weeks in a ship loaded with the grain. Pine lumber is worse, and petroleum as bad as pine lumber. You taste the stuff in everything you eat, and meat and bread are the same so far as your palate is able to distinguish, all savoring strongly of whatever your cargo happens to be.

"Under the influence of the tropical sun these fumes get to be simply terrible. Once we left port with our drinking water in pine casks. We had been out only a few days, when the water began to taste resinous, and from day to day the taste became more disagreeable. At last we were forced to stop drinking altogether and make for the nearest port, which happened to be in the Island of St. Helena. There we changed the wooden receptacles for others of a material not so easily affected by the heat. But in the meantime we had suffered cruelly for our ignorance."

When a New Ambassador Arrives.

When a new Ambassador arrives in London he does not feel at liberty to accept any invitations until he has been received by the Queen. If the Queen is at Windsor or Osborne, this audience is granted without delay. If she is in Scotland, or in the south of France, the Ambassador must await her return before making any public engagements. Etiquette requires him to pay his respects to the sovereign before accepting hospitality from her subjects.

An ordinary visit to the Queen is made on what is called a "dine and sleep" invitation from the Lord Steward. The new Ambassador takes his predecessors's letters of recall and his own credentials and presents them to the Queen. He dines at the royal residence as the Queen's guest, and converses with her on the friendly relations of the two countries. After dinner he takes leave of the Queen and retires to his room to write private letters on paper bearing the royal crest. The next morning he breakfasts by himself and is driven in the royal carriage to the station for the London train.

After this formality the new Ambassador is the duly accredited representative of his Government, and is at liberty to accept general invitations. When his mission is at an end almost the last visit which he pays is a similar one for taking leave of the sovereign.

TWELVE BUSINESS MAXIMS.

1. Have a definite aim.
2. Go straight for it.
3. Master all details.
4. Always know more than you are expected to know.
5. Remember the difficulties are only made to overcome.
6. Treat failures as stepping-stones to further efforts.
7. Never put your hand out farther than you can draw it back.
8. At times be bold; always prudent.
9. The minority often beats the majority in the end.
10. Make good use of other men's brains.
11. Listen well; answer cautiously; decide promptly.
12. Preserve, by all means in your power, "a sound mind in a sound body."

DON'T.

—Don't get into the habit of talking to yourself if you are easily bored.

—Don't attempt to borrow money on your wheel. It won't stand alone.

—Don't think because you can fool some people that others can't fool you.

—Don't judge a woman's complexion by the box it comes in.

—Don't provide yourself with a wife and expect her to provide you with a home.

—Don't think a man appreciate a cyclone because he is carried away with it.

—Don't take worry with you on your travels; you will find it on tap everywhere.

—Don't think your milkman has pedigreed cows because he supplies you with blue milk.

—Don't get the idea into your head that with women on juries there would be fewer disagreements.

—Don't attempt to train up your children in the way they should go unless you are going that way yourself.

Household Talks

Fan on the Sewing Machine.

A neat contrivance in the line of sewing machine attachments is a fan recently invented. A bracket carrying a rotary fan is provided to be fastened to the table of the sewing machine and which is adjustable, to permit of a fricton wheel being allowed to act on the wheel of the machine, thus revolving the fan. The blades are directed toward the operator of the machine and a constant current of cooling air is playing around the latter's face all the time that the machine is being worked.

To Make Ice Cream.

Some good points to remember in the making of ice cream are these: Milk should always be scalded or it may taste watery. If flour is used to thicken, cook in a double boiler for twenty minutes. If corn starch, cook an hour. When candied fruits are used a double amount of sugar is required. In making brick ice cream, allow two tablespoonfuls of gelatine to each quart. For ginger ice cream, use the preserved ginger. In freezing ice cream takes one-third as much salt as ice, and the ice should be on top. In packing after the freezing, leave the salt on top. Always allow the cream to stand for two or three hours before serving, as it makes it richer. Caterers in making cream for entertainments usually make it two days ahead.

Pineapple Pancake.

The Germans make a delicious pineapple pancake that is worthy of general adoption. A plain, thin pancake batter of eggs, flour and milk is made and poured into a big buttered frying-pan, hot enough to begin the baking at once. As soon as the batter spreads out, cover with a layer of stewed pineapple, not too juicy, and dredge with powdered sugar. Put the pan in a hot oven, and bake for eight or ten minutes, until brown and well done. Cut the cake into triangular pieces and serve hot.

Things About the House.

After mixing a wedding or any rich fruit cake, allow it to stand three days in the refrigerator before baking. An expert in making wedding cakes always steams them first, then bakes.

Bananas make delicate fritters used in combination with rice or corn starch and served with lemon sauce. They may be combined also with pineapple, which furnishes the acid the bananas lack.

If grease is spilled upon the kitchen floor, do not pour hot water upon it, but cover the spot with a strong solution of unslacked lime and sal soda dissolved in cold water, and scrub vigorously with a clean scrubbing brush.

Cocoa is frequently used in place of chocolate for icing cake. Add to the white of an egg a teaspoonful of cold water two teaspoonfuls of cocoa and as much confectionary sugar as is needed to make it of the consistency required to make it spread well.

New flatirons should be allowed to stand on the stove some time before using in order to get off the coating of black. When they are rusted they must be cleaned with fine scouring soap, and when stowed away for any length of time kerosene or vaseline should be put over them.

Where space is desideratum in a pantry a groove should be made at the back of one of one of the lower shelves, so that the platters can stand up. Hooks screwed into the bottom of the shelf above where the cups and saucers are kept will permit the hanging of all cups that have handles.

For the Housewife.

To clean a spice mill, grind a handful of raw rice.

A whiskbroom is just the thing to clean a horseradish grater.

Corsets with the whalebones removed make good cleaning cloths.

Wood ashes put in a woolen bag and placed in the water will make hard water soft.

Pickles or vinegar will not keep in a jar that has ever had any kind of grease kept in it.

Clam shells are more convenient for scraping pots and kettles than a knife, requiring less time.

Ceilings that have become smoked by kerosene lamps should be washed off with a weak soda water.

Put a little household ammonia on a rag and clean off the rollers of the wringer before putting it away.

Drain pipes that are sour and impure may be cleaned with lime water or carbolic acid or chloride of lime.

When you drive a nail into the wall, clothespress or closet to hang things on, drive it through a spool up to the head.

A small box filled with lime and placed on the shelf in a pantry or closet will absorb dampness and keep the air dry and sweet.

To brighten the inside of a coffee or teapot, fill it with water, add a small piece of soap and let it boil about forty-five minutes.

Potatoes, say physicians, must not be given to little children. They contain too much starch and too little nutriment, and while they may give the child flesh they will not give it strength.

AN AMERICAN PRINCESS.

Kaiulani of Hawaii as a Citizen of the United States.

The Princess Kaiulani, whose portrait is given here, has by the annexation of Hawaii become a full-fledged American. She had claims on the English-speaking race from her birth, as her father is the Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, an Englishman, who married Princess Likelike, a sister of the deposed Queen Liliuokalani. The title to the throne of Hawaii has come from the maternal side, and as the fourth Queen had no children, the Princess Kaiulani, or Miss Cleghorn, which is her American name and title, would have been the heiress of the island domain. She has been educated in England and on the Continent, and is said to be most accomplished and charming and extremely fond of her home in Honolulu, which is a perfect paradise of tropical beauty and luxuriance of foliage. The young woman is still a social leader, although she has lost her throne.

The Kissing Spot.

A number of years ago an enterprising writing-paper manufacturer placed upon the market some sensational note paper known as "lovers' stationery."

It sold like hot cakes and soon became a fad, particularly among the young.

The popularity of this "freak" stationery was due to an almost indistinguishable spot located in the lower left-hand corner of the fourth page. In shape this mark was round and of about the size of a quarter. It was covered with an aromatic gum which gave it an agreeable odor when the lips were pressed to the ingenious device of Cupid, for the mysterious symbol was known as the "kissing spot," and was affected by those desirous of employing a novel messenger of love.

The paper which bore the imprint of affection was of some delicate shade preferably pale pink or blue. When held to the light the water-mark of this sentimental stationery was seen to be the appropriate emblem of two hearts transfixed by an arrow.

Washes and Irons Her Bank bills.

The demand for new bills for shopping is on the increase among women, said a bank teller, "and is getting to be a nuisance. A great many women won't handle any currency that is not absolutely fresh and crisp.

"It is not generally known, but bills can be washed and ironed as easily as a pocket handkerchief. A wealthy woman of my acquaintance has all her money laundered before she use it. She turns the notes over to her maid, who washes them thoroughly in hot water with ordinary soapsuds and spreads them out on the table to dry. Then she dampens them slightly and presses them with a medium hot smoothing iron.

"If the bill is not frayed this process will make it as bright and crisp as when it first left the Treasury. It is astonishing how dirty money gets. If one could see the water in which a dozen commonly circulated bills were washed it would give them a permanent aversion to the tale of teller.

Gymnastics for Neck.

The best gymnastics for developing the neck are: Slowly bend the head forward until the chin nearly touches the neck, then gradually raise the head and throw it backward as far as you comfortably can. Repeat this movement twenty times, then bend the head sideways to the right twenty times and to the left twenty times. Roll the head slowly first to the right and then to the left twenty times. After these exercises bathe the neck in warm water and olive-oil soap, rub with a soft towel and anoint with a good skin food before retiring. If this treatment is persevered in the neck will become firm, white and beautiful. In the morning it is an excellent plan to bathe the neck in cold water and to massage the muscles.

Beaded Purses.

Beaded purses and bags are more in evidence than ever. Silver and gold beads are used freely while the effort is made to imitate gems with the colored glass beads which are worked into purses with the metal ones. The groundwork is of silk, in great contrast to the beaded design.

Richness of coloring is the aim, and the effect is heightened by the most elegant mountings, very freely jeweled to match the body of the bag.

These bags are finished with flat belt bag clasps or with the collapsible round tops and some even with the sliding rings of the old fashioned silk purses, but all are as elaborate as possible in coloring, with conventional floral design of Persian patterns.

Tartar on Teeth.

Do not let tartar remain upon the teeth. If you do, the result will be inflammation and frequently loss of the teeth by loosening or decay. The diet has a great effect upon the teeth, and it has been noticed that persons who live largely upon meat are more troubled with tartar than those who subsist on fruit and vegetables chiefly

It is best to have a dentist remove the tartar, but where this is not possible one can take it away by rubbing the spot with a little pulverized pumice stone moistened with lemon juice. Use an orangewood stick, sharpened to a flat point, to apply the pumice to the tartar. Rub back and forth until the spot is removed

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Thüringische Staaten.

Kamburg. Im nahen Schleuskau wurden bei Bauausschachtungen 30 schichtweise über einander lagernde Gerippe aufgefunden. Da an jener Stelle im Jahre 1806 bereits ein Gebäude gestanden hat, so wird angenommen, daß es sich hier um die Auffindung eines Massengrabes aus dem sieben- oder dreißigjährigen Kriege handelt, und zwar um so mehr, als die Gerippe in einer dichten Thonschicht, welche alle Luft- und Wassereinflüsse abgehalten hat, fest eingelagert waren.

Schleiz. Von den thüringischen Staaten haben nur noch die beiden Reuß Verträge mit dem Königreich Sachsen, betreffend die sächsische Landeslotterie. Gegen bestimmte Jahreszahlungen ist die sächsische Lotterie in den beiden Staaten allein zugelassen. Jetzt hat Reuß ä. L. mit Ablauf des Jahres 1900 den Vertrag mit Sachsen gekündigt und wird sich jedenfalls auch der thüringischen Staatslotterie anschließen.

Weimar. Der Großherzog überwies für Abgebrannte in Kranichfeld 10,000 Mark. — Der Exportverein „Musterlager thüringischer Erzeugnisse" errichtet am 1. Januar 1900 eine Zweigstelle in Sydney.

Freie Städte.

Hamburg. Der hiesigen „Börsenhalle" zufolge geht der seit Jahren schwebende Plan, hier ein neues Theater für das Schauspiel und feine Lustspiel zu errichten, nunmehr der Verwirklichung entgegen. Das Kapital des groß angelegten Unternehmens wird auf 1,250,000 Mark beziffert. Als Platz ist ein Grundstück der Kirchenallee, gerade gegenüber dem neuen Centralbahnhofe, ausersehen. Die artistische Leitung soll Herr v. Berger in Wien übernehmen.

Bremen. Für Rechnung der russischen Regierung ist dieser Tage auf der Werft des „Bremer Vulkan" in Vegesack eine Dampfyacht fertiggestellt worden, welche zur Erforschung der Fischereiverhältnisse und der Strömungen an der Murmanischen Küste (Halbinsel Kola) bestimmt und entsprechend ausgerüstet ist. Das auf den Namen „Andrej Perwoswannij" getaufte schmucke Fahrzeug, das eine Länge von 152 Fuß und eine Maschine von 400 Pferdestärken besitzt, ging bereits nach St. Petersburg ab, um dort mit den nöthigen wissenschaftlichen Instrumenten ausgerüstet zu werden und dann direkt nach der Murmanischen Küste zu dampfen.

Lübeck. Vermuthlich in Folge von Selbstentzündung von Heede brannte ein in der Fischstraße gelegenes sechsstöckiges Wohnhaus nebst Speicherräumen völlig ab. Auf dem Boden lagerten Heede, Dreguen und Bettfedern. Von der todesmuthig arbeitenden Feuerwehr wurden drei Wehrleute durch einen herabstürzenden Giebel verletzt.

Darmstadt. Wegen unbefugten Tragens einer Uniform wurde Jakob Steiner von Jugenheim zu acht Tagen Haft verurtheilt. Steiner hatte sich in der Uniform eines mit ihm befreundeten Einjährig-Freiwilligen öffentlich gezeigt; auf der Schloßwache wurde er jedoch entlarvt.

Gießen. Der Provinzialrabbiner Dr. Levi ist im 93. Lebensjahre gestorben.

Mainz. Eine wunderbare Rettung gelang neulich Nachts dem Schiffer Michael Groß. Er befand sich am Rheinufer und war Augenzeuge, wie sich eine Frau hoch oben von der Straßenbrücke in den Rhein stürzte. Groß wagte trotz der Dunkelheit einen Rettungsversuch und schwamm der Frau nach. Die Rettung gelang ihm auch mit unsäglicher Anstrengung. Die Gerettete ist 33 Jahre alt, heißt Martha Fertsch und scheint im Irrsinn gehandelt zu haben. Eine goldene Uhr und eine Börse mit 60 Mark hatte sie auf der Brücke niedergelegt.

CARSON WILDRED'S CRIME

A DETECTIVE STORY OF TWO CONTINENTS

BY HARRY WOOD REYNOLDS.

CHAPTER XVII.

"You seem surprised, Mr. Stanton!" exclaimed the inspector.

"I am surprised," I echoed, "and I intend to explain why presently. Meanwhile, I suppose you are trying to get on the track of the second man who lived in that tent?"

"That's what we are doing, sir,—hard at it."

"You will never find him," I said.

"No, sir? May I ask what makes you so sure of that?"

"Simply because my opinion is that he does not exist—never did exist."

The inspector's jaw dropped. "But—but—Mr. Carson Wildred"—he began, when I turned on him and cut him short.

"You shall judge for yourself whether I have any evidence to offer worth building upon," I said. And then I told him everything, beginning with my chance meeting with Harvey Farnham at the theatre on Christmas Eve.

His face grew graver and graver as I went on, and when at last (having dwelt with due insistence upon the mysterious proceedings attending my call at the house by the lock) I mentioned the reappearance of the ring on a young lady's finger he shook his head regretfully.

"You've made out a fairly good case against Mr. Wildred, sir," he observed. "Would it be indiscret to ask whether you've any personal enmity against the gentleman?"

"I don't like him," I admitted. And then went on to describe in a few words my haunting impression of having been disagreeably associated with him in the past.

"I wish," I added hurriedly, "to keep the name of the lady now in possession of the ring entirely out of the question if possible. It must only be brought in, Inspector, at the last extremity, should no other means remain of detecting a murderer. As for the ring itself, to save trouble in that direction, I think I could if necessary engage to get hold of it, and I am quite ready at any time to swear to its identity with the one worn by my old friend Farnham."

The Inspector thoughtfully scratched his head. "It'll be a nasty business to examine Mr. Wildred's house, in case your friend, Mr. Farnham, should prove to be over in the States. But we can't lose any time. What you've told me to-day is very serious, sir, and must be attended to at once. A couple of detectives will call at the house by the lock with a search warrant before nightfall. I can assure you of that. Until some definite conclusion is arrived at, Mr. Stanton, I suppose you would prefer that your name didn't appear in the matter?"

"I don't care a hang whether it appears or not," I retorted recklessly. Perhaps if I had been a little less reckless—. But it is never profitable to dwell on or brood over the mistakes of one's past.

The inspector assured me that a detective should call that night at the hotel in Great Marlow, where I had volunteered to remain, and give me all particulars concerning the examination of the house by the lock. The appointment was made for 8 o'clock, by which time, allowing for obstacles and delays, all was sure to be well over.

Though the inspector had promised that the New York police should be comunicated with, a great restlessness was upon me, and I resolved myself to cable to America.

It was possible that the St. Paul, the ship in which Farnham had been supposed to sail in was arriving in New-York that day, though the chances were, as the weather had been rough, that she would not have made one of her record trips. However, there could be no harm in wiring, and if the ship had got in all waste of time would be avoided.

I wrote out a dispatch to the office of the American Line in New York, to be answered (reply prepaid) the moment the St. Paul got in. In this I inquired whether Mr. Harvey Farnham, of Denver, Col., had been among the passengers. And, not contenting myself with this, I cabled Farnham, both to Denver and New York, and to the manager of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, in the latter place, where I had been told that he usually put up.

I LOOKED INTO THE CIRCLET.

The answers to these messages I requested to have sent to me at the hotel I had chosen for my headquarters in Great Marlow.

Eight o'clock struck, however, and I was reluctantly obliged to give up all idea of receiving any news from America for the night. Five minutes later, as I restlessly paced the room, the wished-for knock sounded, but there was no cablegram to be presented on a tray. A young, fresh-faced man in plain clothing stood there, who I knew before he spoke must be the expected detective.

"I think, sir," said the young man of the cheerful countenance, "that we've been on a false scent to-day."

I got him to sit down and launched him upon the full tide of narrative.

"Mr. Wildred was away when we first arrived at the house by the lock, sir," he went on, "but we should have made use of our search warrant without waiting for his return had not the passage and the octagonal room you described, as well as the tower, been shut off from all comunication with the older part of the house by a heavy iron door, of which Mr. Wildred invariably carries the key. This his butler explained by saying that the door had been placed there on account of his master's chemical experiments, which were sometimes of a slightly dangerous character, unless great precautions were used, and in case of an explosion or other accident the safety of the living rooms might be assured by means of the iron door. The only way of opening it would have been to employ dynamite, the lock being impregnable; and as the grounds for suspicion against Mr. Wildred were not yet strong enough to resort to such violent means, there was nothing to do but wait. He was wired for to London at once."

"Naturally he would prefer being on the spot," I said, with something like a sneer. "All the same, I am very sure that there is another means of comunicating with the octagonal room and the tower besides the main door through the passage." And I mentioned the mysterious dissappearance of the servant, which had on Christmas day led me to believe in the existence of a secret way of exit.

"We did look about for something of the sort, and even went down the cellar," said the detective, "but saw not the slightest sign to suggest a secret door."

"Well, go on, then, to Mr. Wildred's return," I exclaimed impatiently. "I am anxious to learn why it has been decided that I put you on the wrong track."

"When he came home he admitted very frankly that he had been annoyed at the bother occasioned by our telegram, but appeared by that time to have recovered from his vexation and to be inclined to laugh the matter off. He let us know in a moment that he guessed how the information had come but we said nothing, of course, to confirm his suppositions.

"In the first place he opened the iron door, explaining its workings as though he took some pride in its mechanism, which he said he had invented himself. Then he showed us into the octagonal room, which he had fitted up as a studio and smooking room combined. The little door you had seen behind the drapery merely led into a cupboard containing boots, an artist's model—a jointed figure of wood—and other odds and ends. It was concealed only because it was not 'an object of beauty,' Mr. Wildred said.

"We then proceeded to the tower, where the chemical experiments are made. There is a small room, reached by mounting a skeleton stairway of iron, and there we were shown Mr. Wildred's apparatus, I know something of chemistry myself, having had a fad that way when I was a boy, and I could see that everything was straight and above board.

"A big fireplace in the room accounts for the sparks you saw when you approached the house that day, and Mr. Wildred voluntarily mentioned that there had been something wrong with the flues, so that his experiments could not be conducted properly, and he had sent for an expert to come down from London to look at everything. The man had been expected on Christmast eve, then on Christmas day, as Mr. Wildred considered the matter urgent, and finally arrived the day after. Mr. Wildred gave us his address without waiting to be asked to do so. That accounted for one more point in our story sir—the man who was so anxiously looked for, the man the butler seemed at first to take you to be.

"We then said we had been informed that screams or groans had been heard issuing from his house on Christmas day. Mr. Wildred laughed, remarking that judging from what he knew of our informant, he had been waiting for us to come to that.

"And he repeated the explanation which had been given you, asking us also if we would care to see the scar (which was not yet quite healed) made by the methylated spirit on the cook's foot or ankle.

"We thought it best to do as he suggested—indeed, if we had not, we should have proposed the same course ourselves, for the sake of making assurance doubly sure. The cook was sent for; a very handsome young woman, sir, bright and ready with her answers. She described the accident, and whipping off her shoe and stocking from the right foot, showed us a red mark which spread from the ankle down over the whole instep."

"So the cook was a handsome young woman, was she?" I asked suspiciously, remembering the face which had peered at me through the narrow window by the door. "Had she great black eyes, a very white face and a quantity of dark hair?"

"She had, sir. That would describe her very well. A woman not more than twenty-five or six, and evidently of a superior class."

I turned this bit of information over in my mind. To be sure, I could not at the moment make any thing of it apropos of the case in hand but afterward I was to remember it under somewhat startling circumstances.

"So you see, sir," the detective continued, "every point you made was met and in our opinion frankly and sufficiently met. Nothing was found which could possibly justify an arrest, and unless unfavorable reports are received from the New York police the case against Mr. Wildred will have to be dropped. The Inspector is having an interview with him to-night, and doubtless some details with which we, in enforcing our search warrant, had no concern will be satisfactorily cleared up. I mean to say, details relating to the American gentleman, his ring and his departure to the States. Should we hear from New York that he has not returned, why, of course, in spite of appearances at the house by the lock and failure of circumstantial evidence, suspicion will be renewed again.

There was absolutely nothing more to be said. Deep as was my chagrin, I held my tongue as to my opinion of the way affairs had been managed, and parted with the young detective with apparent nonchalance.

Naturally I slept little during the night, and was awake even before the knock which sounded at my door.

"Two cablegrams for you, sir," said the waiter, when I had bidden him come in.

Sewer Assessments

SECOND NOTICE.

The Subscriber, the Collector of Taxes of the City of Plainfield, hereby gives notice, pursuant to Section 25 of the Act of the Legislature entitled, "An Act to Provide for Drainage and Sewerage in Cities of this State," approved April 7, 1890, and the amendments thereof and supplements thereto, that unless the assessments hereunafter specified, with interest thereon at the rate of one per centum per month, and all costs and fees, shall be paid to the subscriber at his office, No. 109 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., within thirty days after the first publication of this (being the second) notice, the subscriber will on Thursday, the first day of June, eighteen hundred and ninety-nine, at his said office, No. 109 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N.J., between the hours of one and five o'clock in the afternoon, that is to say at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day, proceed to make sale of and sell at public auction the several parcels of land and real estate upon which the said assessments shall remain due and unpaid, being those hereinafter particularly described, for the lowest term of years, but in no case exceeding fifty years, for which any person will take the same and pay the amount of such assessment, with the interest thereon as aforesaid, and all costs and fees, including the expense of advertisement and sale. The assessments above referred to are the assessments made by Harry W. Marshall, Frank Bushnell and Robert A. Meeker, the Commissioners of Assessments of the City of Plainfield heretofore appointed under the ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to Provide for the Appointment of Commissioners of Assessments under Chapter CXLI, P. L. 1895," approved April 25, 1896, as altered and subsequently ratified and confirmed by the Common Council, containing the assessments of damages and benefits or expenses, as the case may be, for the making and constructing of sewers and appurtenances (including house connections), under and by virtue of the Act of the Legislature, entitled, "An Act to Provide for Drainage and Sewerage in Cities of this State," approved April 7, 1890, and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, and ordinances and other proceedings of the Common Council had under said Acts of the Legislature, said report and assessments covering the whole of said system of sewerage and appurtenances already completed (not covered by assessments heretofore made) and particularly in and through the following described streets and parts of streets to wit:

Stelle avenue, from Plainfield avenue easterly 1148 feet to a point near Central avenue.

THE MAGIC TUMBLER.

A Simple Way to Prove the Great Pressure of Air

The air which for about forty miles surrounds our earth has a definite weight; and although we can neither see nor feel it, we are conscious of its presence by the momentary operation of breathing. The weight of a column of air one inch square, and forty miles high, is about fifteen pounds. The reason why we are not crushed down by this enormous weight is, because we are surrounded on all sides by it, and as the pressure or weight is equal all around, it becomes, as far as we are personally concerned, insensible.

THE MAGIC TUMBLER.

That the air does exert a definite pressure, in consequence of its weight, may be easily proved by any one with the above simple apparatus—only a tumbler and a sheet of paper. Fill a tumbler quite full of water, and carefully draw over its top a sheet of clean letter paper, and be careful to see that there are no bubbles of air in the water; place your hand over the paper while inverting it, and when the glass is mouth downward the water will be kept in, until the paper becomes wet through. The air pressing against the mouth of the tumbler is of greater weight than the contained water, and so, until some air can get in to supply the place of the water, it cannot fall out.

Sweet Charity.

"Mamma, does you know anyfing to play? I'se so lonely and tired," and little Fay Allison looked up at her mother, the picture of abject misery.

"Why, yes, dear, mamma will tell you of a lonely game to amuse yourself with. Did you ever play charity?"

"No, ma'am. Please tell me all about it." Fay's little face expressed interest now.

"Well, you go to Jane, and tell her to dress you up warmly, and then come to me."

Fay trotted off, looking very important, and presently she returned, arrayed in her thick winter garments.

Mamma was waiting with a large bundle in her arms, and taking Fay by the hand, they started.

As they walked along the child noticed that they were leaving the pretty homelike streets for the tenement house district. Presently they stopped in front of a large, ill kept house, where several dirty, hungry looking children played. Mrs. Allison paused and, opening her bundle, took out some bread, which she distributed among the children.

On she went, all through the wretched house, bringing relief to suffering families. When Fay was in her little bed that night she gave thanks in her prayer for the sweet game of charity.

What is Good.

"What is the real good?"
I asked in musing mood.
"Order," said the law court:
"Knowledge," said the school:
"Truth," said the wise man:
"Pleasure," said the fool:
"Love," said the maiden:
"Beauty," said the page:
"Freedom," said the dreamer:
"Home," said the sage:
"Fame," said the soldier:
"Equity," the seer.
Spake my heart full sadly:—
"The answer is not here."
Then within my bosom
Softly this I heard:—
"Each heart holds the secret; Kindness is the word."

A New Pump.

Bicycle tires can be quickly inflated by a new pump which is formed of the central tube of the frame, with valves at each end, the seat post being used as a plunger for compressing the air and fastened by a clamping lever when not in use.

An Active Volcano.

The most active volcano in the world is Mount Sangay, 17,190 feet high, situated on the eastern chain of the Andes, South America. It has been in constant eruption since 1728.

Quenched at Last.

More than fifty years ago a coal mine at Daily, Scotland, caught fire. All the attempts made to put it out have failed, but it is out now, apparently from lack of fuel.

Well Washed.

The nurse had been giving the twins a bath. Later, hearing the children laughing in bed, she said, "What are you children laughing about?" "Oh, nothing," replied Edna, "only you have given Edith two baths, and haven't given me any."

Friends of the Sailor.

The cries of sea birds, especially sea gulls, are very valuable to sailors in misty weather. The birds cluster on the cliffs and coast, and their cries warn boatmen that they are near the land.

Spider's Production is Small.

The amount of silk produced by each spider is so small that scientists computes that 663,522 would be required to produce a pound of thread.

How Toads Pass the Winter.

"Studying the physiology of the toad," "Professor Simon Henry Gage combats the opinion that this creature hibernates under leaves or tree-trunks. It is often found in such refuge, but only when it has come out of its hole at the opening of the spring and has been caught by a return of cold weather. Ordinarily it hibernates in the earth, preferably in dry soil not apt to freeze. It buries itself backward, its hind feet and the end of its body serving to scoop out its hole, while it pushes itself in with its forelegs. Once buried, it leaves no trace whatever of its hiding-place. When it is in a temperature near the freezing-point its own temperature is three-fourths to one and one fourth degrees higher than that of the surrounding medium. When toads are found under frozen leaves, they are still able to move about. Mr. Gage has seen these creatures with feet and skin absolutely frozen solid, but with internal organs in good condition, and able to come to life perfectly."

Why Fishes Are Slippery.

Fish of almost every sort are, when fresh caught, slippery and hard to hold. This slipperiness is due to a sort of mucus exuded through the scales and is of the greatest importance to all finny creatures.

One of the important functions of the fish's slimy coating is to protect it from the attacks of fungus, a form of plant life found in all waters, salt and fresh, foul and pure. If the fish is so injured that some spot becomes uncovered by the slime, a barely visible fungus will be likely to lodge there, and when it is once lodged the process of its reproduction is very rapid. It soon extends over the gills and kills the fish.

The primary purpose of the slime of the fish is to reduce its friction when in motion through the water and increase its speed. It also serves as a cushion to the scales, which it thus protects from many injuries.

CYCLING COMMENT.

E. L. Blauvelt, of Newark, says that the Irvington Milburn road race will be run this year as the hotel keepers along the route will contribute enough to pay the levy for police service. He further says that more prizes than were offered last year have been obtained, including a tandem and a half a dozen single cycles.

Among the pleasant routes for wheelmen furnished by the L. A. W., is the following: To the Delaware Water Gap, 90 miles from the Pennsylvania station in Jersey City, through Newark, Elizabeth, Westfield, Plainfield, Bound Brook, Somerville, Clinton, Glen Gardner, Washington, Oxford Furnace, Manunka Chunk and Portland. The return trip may be made by continuing on up the Delaware river to Port Jervis.

GOLF.

There was a regular meeting of the board of trustees of the Park Golf Club Saturday evening when business of a routine nature was considered. It was stated that at present there are three cups to be contested for during the coming season. One is the Edward Hooley cup, the other one is donated by Charles Hyde and the third was left over from last season.

The attendance at the Park Golf Club grounds Saturday was very large and during the afternoon the course was filled with enthusiasts of the game. There was no special event on for the day, but those present seemed to get a great deal of amusement from playing around the course for mere pleasure, and thus becoming better acquainted with the grounds. The best score for the day was made by Mr. Anderson, who made the eighteen holes in 96. There were a number of other scores almost as good, but no attempt was made to keep them. A pleasant feature of the afternoon was the delightful tea given in the clubhouse by Mrs. Benjamin Arrowsmith Hegeman, Jr., assisted by Miss Helen Martin, Miss Bessie Bowen and Miss Virginia Hegeman. There was a large number of the fair sex and their friends who engaged in the social features, and thus enjoyed the genuine hospitality of those in charge.

AMONG THE STEPPERS.

There was a goodly number of local horsemen on the track of the Plainfield Driving Association Saturday afternoon when some interesting events were run off. There were several exhibition mile races given by Douglass Darby, Harry Gwynett, Robert Fairbain and J. S. Irving. An interesting race was run off by J. Osborn, Thomas Brantingnam and N. B. Smalley. It was run in two heats and Mr. Osborn won the first heat in 2:41. Mr. Brantingham won the second heat in 2:43, while Mr. Smalley was third.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The "Longs" and the "Shorts" of the Park Club battled on the club alleys Saturday evening, the "Longs" defeating their tiny rivals in two exciting games. In the first game there were seven men in each side, the "Longs" winning by a score of 1075 to 1060.

SOMERSET'S SENATOR.

opinion. They are willing to forgive and forget in order that their party may become united and strong so as to give the enemy an old fashioned fight.

Prosecutor Dungan is also considered a strong man, despite the unpopularity of his office among a certain class of voters. He is said to be an able lawyer and a good debater. There is no question at all as to his respectability, and he is a thoroughgoing Democrat. Elston M. French is a resident of Plainfield, a hotbed of Republicanism, and it is said that he would poll quite a number of Republican votes if the Thompson-Reed faction fight continues. Mr. French being a new man in politics, he has no public record, and perhaps that is all the better for him.

The early skirmishing for the Senatorial nomination in Somerset makes it certain that there will be a very lively campaign all around. No doubt General Sewell, who is much interested in the result, is keeping himself in close touch with the situation. He will probably see that the Republican factions are so harmonized that a vote for United States Senator may not be lost to his party. Good generalship is very essential in Somerset just now. Had the Democrats as skillful a leader on their side as General Sewell their prospects for victory would be very bright, indeed.

Mashed His Finger.

TAXPAYERS WERE MAD.

THEY DO NOT LIKE THE WORKINGS OF THE MARTIN ACT.

Collector Martin Had Some Exciting Interviews With the Delinquents Who Hated to Pay the Bills Rendered Them.

In applying the Martin Act to this city there is one thing that the city fathers forgot to arrange for and that is a coat of armor or a Gatling gun for City Collector James A. Martin, whose duty it is to receive these taxes. Last Friday Mr. Martin sent out the proper notices to those affected by the Martin Act and Saturday the effect of this action was felt in no uncertain tones in the office of the collector. During the day there was a large number of people who called at the office, carrying with them the tell-tale bill which they had just received.

There was a small per cent. of those who called who were willing to settle without any words, but the balance came "loaded" to have their say and express their opinion to the collector, who by the way, does not happen to be to blame for the enforcement of the Martin Act, although some received that idea because his name happens to be Martin. Some used expressions more forcible than elegant. On several occasion Mr. Martin was glad that he was not on the same side of the fence with the delinquents.

One party receiving a bill amounting to something like $300, exclaimed: "Phat am I goin to do?" When the party was informed that they would have to pay, she replied, "They's moight as well take me out and shoot me did."

However, before the delinquents left the office they decided that they had better pay, and did so, feeling that they had at least had satisfaction by expressing themselves. Today there was not so much trouble, but Mr. Martin is prepared for all comers and and if there is any trouble he will deal with them in a gentle a pleasant manner.

SUDDEN DEATH.

J. S. Schoonmaker Subjected to a Fit of Apoplexy This Noon.

The death of J. S. Schoonmaker, of 1016 Central avenue, occurred at 1 o'clock this afternoon at his home from apoplexy. Death was very sudden, although Mr. Schoonmaker had been in ill health for some time.

He was fifty-five years of age and had been living a retired life for some time, being formerly engaged in business in New York. He leaves a widow and four children.

F. L. Schoonmaker, who resides at the corner of Central and Stelle avenues, is a brother of the dead man. He also leaves a brother who is engaged in the drug business on Forty-second street, New York.

NOT GOING OUT OF BUSINESS.

Spicer & Hubbard Still Prepared to Furnish Building Material.

Though Spicer & Hubbard's mill, one of the oldest industries in Plainfield, has shut down insofar as its doing general work is concerned, the firm is and will continue to be headquarters for all builders' materials. Mr. Spicer told a Press reporter this morning that they could buy general building material much cheaper than they could manufacture it, and therefore it was poor policy for them to attempt to make it themselves. They will carry a full stock of the material, however, and are prepared to do special work and repair work the same as ever. See their advertisement in today's Press.

Directors to Meet.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Union Building and Loan Association will be held this evening at the office of R. A. ### SHAVING IN PORTO RICO.

No Use for American Razors or the Customary Soap.

The natives of our new territory, Porto Rico, have no need to buy soap, for the wooded country abounds in plants whose leaves and bulbs supply most fully the place of that indispensable article. Among the best of these is the soaptree, so called, though it is more a bush than a tree. Its bulb when rubbed on wet clothes makes a snow-white lather, which has an odor like brown Windsor soap. The Porto Ricans, who are all, from the highest to the lowest, great dandies in their way, make soap out of cocoanut oil and homemade lye—and a fine soap it is, smooth and fragrant. This cocoanut oil soap is used for shaving. When a man wishes to have a shave in the morning he starts out with his cocoanut shell cup, and his donkey tail brush and bottle. It is never any trouble to find an empty bottle in Porto Rico, Cuba Jamaica, or almost any of the larger West India islands, even in remote spots in the mountains. At least twenty generations of thirsty people have lived there and thrown away bottles. The man carries no mirror; he is too poor to own such a luxury. Not one house in twenty in Porto Rico has even the very cheapest looking glass. But generously rich nature provides the mirror, as well as the soap. The man goes to some convenient pool in the mountain stream where the water is quite still—there is his mirror. He breaks his bottle on a stone, and deftly picks out a sharp piece of suitable size. Then he lathers his face profusely, and begins to scrape away with his piece of glass, which in his hands works as well as the best steel razor. A cut, or even a slight scratch, is extremely rare as a result of this al fresco form of shaving.

Betrayed by a Postage Stamp.

Some folks always stamp their letters upside down for luck, said a postoffice inspector in a reminiscent mood, "and others put the stamp on the back, which makes the cancellation clerk forget his religion. I remember we caught a fellow once through the peculiar way he stamped a letter. He was wanted for frivoling with the laws of Uncle Sam, but had skipped out and couldn't be located. In looking over some of his correspondence I had noticed that he always put the stamp crosswise, so as to leave a small triangle of the envelope at the upper right hand corner. Why he did it I don't know, but the stamp was always in that one particular spot, and gummed down with mathematical accuracy. One day I was in a certain Georgia town, and while loafing near the cancellation table at the postoffice noticed several letters stamped as I have described. Just on chance I took a memoranda of the address and postmark, which was Chattanooga, and happening to be in that place on the following week I collared my man as he was inquiring for his mail. The letters I noticed turned out to have been addressed to his wife. When I told him how I got my pointer he was mad as blazes, and I guess he stamps his letters straight now—if he is out yet.

Safety Paper.

A new kind of safety paper for banks etc., is announced, though the inventor's name does not appear. It is a foreign idea, one feature of the invention consisting in printing or otherwise impressing on the paper employed a plurality of sets of lines or marks, one or more of which sets are indelible and the remaining sets delible; these lines or marks are made so fine and so closely alternating or relatively disposed that, to ordinary observation with the naked eye, no single line or mark is distinguishable. Again, the indelible lines or marks are made of a color differing from though complementary to that of the delible lines or marks, so that, owing to their close juxtaposition, they will convey the impression of a color differing from those of either of the sets of lines or marks. Thus, any chemical action or erasure on such paper would, it is claimed, be at once discernible, and the shade made by the two color combinations would be hard to duplicate.

MAYOR WILL NAME THE NEW CALL MEN.

A List of Eligible Candidates Has Been Prepared.

GOES TO THE MAYOR TODAY.

HE WILL SUBMIT HIS SELECTION TO COUNCIL MONDAY.

Some Forty Good Men Want to be Call Men and Their Names Will be Sent to Mayor Rockfellow This Afternoon—He Will Choose Twenty-four and Present Them to the Council.

After many months of waiting the "call" system for the Plainfield Fire Department will be a reality next week. The ordinance providing for the change from the volunteer service to the form of professional department, commonly designated as the "call" system, was passed at the last meeting of the Common Council. Now the selection of the men who are to form the companies is being made and will be presented at the meeting of the Council Monday night for adoption, as that evening the new ordinance goes into effect.

It was predicted by many that the city would have considerable difficulty in finding twenty-four men who were willing to enter into the service as "call men" for the sum of $25 a year. These predictions were far from right. When it was assured that the new system was going through the fire committee and the board of engineers were overrun with applications from those who were anxious to secure the appointments.

When the selection of the twenty-four men for the four companies came there were nearly 100 candidates for the places. A list of some 40 of the best candidates for the call men have been chosen and their names will be presented to Mayor Rockfellow this afternoon. The Mayor will then select the twenty-four men which he will recommend to the Council.

The call men are to be selected by the Mayor and presented by him to the Council, who will approve or disapprove of them as the members may decide. The Mayor will select from the list furnished by the fire committee and board of engineers.

As the Mayor will not consider the names until this afternoon, it is impossible to tell who the call men are going to be. At the next meeting of the Council there is also to be selected two extra paid firemen recommended by the fire committee. Louis M. Dunavan, foreman of Gazelle Engine Company, will be one of the two men appointed. The other will probably be George Mehl.

The new engine house in the West End is nearly ready for occupancy. The curb has been put down and all now lacking is the brick roadway from the doors to the curb. The telephone was put in yesterday.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS TO DRILL.

Will Be Reviewed by Lieutenant-Colonel John I. Holly Thursday Night.

The Plainfield High School cadets will meet in the Crescent Rink Thursday evening for drill and review by Lieutenant Colonel John I. Holly, quartermaster of the New York National Guard. It was first intended to hold a battalion drill with the Leal School cadets, but the latter were not ready and the joint affair fell through. So the High School boys will turn out by themselves to show their friends just how fine an appearance they can make. It will be an invitation affair, to which all the families and friends of the cadets will be welcome.

A Fall in Beer.

A delivery wagon belong to the City Brewing Company, of Elizabeth, broke down on West Front street yesterday afternoon. The two wheels on the right side of the wagon gave way and let the body fall to the ground. There were several cases of beer in the wagon and these were unloaded and placed on the sidewalk until another wagon could be secured in which to deliver them.

Repairing the Hose Tower.

The damage done to the hose tower at fire department headquarters by the recent thunder storm is being repaired and the top of the tower will soon be in as good condition as ever. William C. Smith, the mason, has the contract for the repairs. The roof is also being repaired where the falling bricks made holes in it.

Fine Roads for the Borough.

The borough street committee believe that they will at an early date complete the work of macadamizing in that locality. Some fine roads are now being made in various parts of the borough.

PURSUIT DIDN'T SUIT.

HARRY WERNER WAS NOT SATISFIED WITH CHIEF'S METHODS.

So He Made a Complaint to the Police Board Last Evening—No Action Taken by Board—Nothing Done With Totten.

There was a meeting of the Plainfield Police Board last night. Patrolman Totten was before the board again on the old charge, but no action was taken in the matter. It is not yet a sure thing that the case will come before the Council for trial. The board received a formal complaint from Harry Werner about the escape of his burglar.

Werner was not satisfied with the manner in which the pursuit had been conducted by Chief Grant. He said that the Chief had allowed William Richards, Werner's clerk, to continue the chase alone while the Chief came back to Plainfield to get some dinner. He claimed that the burglar might have been captured had the Chief continued the pursuit. No action was taken on the complaint by the board.

STUMBLED OVER A BURGLAR.

Westfield Woman Had a Thrilling Experience Sunday Morning.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, May 9.—Mrs. William DeWitt Pierson, of Broad street, had an encounter with a burglar early Sunday morning which she will remember for sometime to come. She lay in bed awake when she thought she noticed a shadow thrown across the light which entered one of the windows from an electric light at the railroad crossing, and at once got up to investigate. She stumbled over what she supposed to be some of her husband's clothes, but what proved to be a man. A little frightened, she went to the other side of the room and lighted a match and as she did so a man sprang up and ran out through the open window. Mr. Pierson at once got up but all trace of the man was gone. He had entered the house by climbing up one of the piazza posts and then in through the open window.

COUPE ROLLED OVER HORSE.

An Exciting Experience for One of John Keeley's Horses.

One of John Keely's rubber tire coupes was wrecked yesterday morning on Watchung avenue, near the Crescent Axenue church. Keely stepped out of the carriage at Neuman Brothers' grocery store and walked up towards the door a few feet when something frightened the horse and away he went down the avenue at full speed.

At the corner of LaGrande and Watchung avenues the horse and carriage collided with the curb and both went in a heap, the carriage rolling over the horse. Luckily the animal was not hurt at all by the experience, but the coupe had to be sent to the repair shop.

A Baked Shad Dinner.

There was a baked shad dinner at the home of William R. Stansbery, assessor of Fanwood borough, Sunday, as the result of an expedition that went a fishing last Saturday afternoon. In the party were Hon. and Mrs. W. R. Codington, of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Stansbery, of Fanwood. They went out on the Raritan river below the dam, near Bound Brook, and Mr. Stansbery caught five roe shads that weighed 5½ pounds on a small hook. These same shads were baked and eaten by the party Sunday.

Madame Bartlett in Mexico.

The Daily Press is in receipt of an illustrated Mexican paper from Madame Elizabeth Menzelli Bartlett, formerly of this city, who is now in Mexico appearing on the stage. The paper gives a full page illustration of Mrs. Bartlett in dancing costume, doing the celebrated fire dance. The main inside page is devoted to six pleasing pictures of Mrs. Bartlett in various poses.

Paid a Fraternal Visit.

Department Commander W. C. Smith, of Winfield Scott Post, G.A.R., accompanied by Edward Morse and Robert Mattox paid a fraternal visit to the post at Rutherford last night. Saturday night they go to Woodbridge.

Purchase of a Residance.

Harry F. Johnson, of LaGrande avenue, has purchased the property, 1220 Watchung avenue, from the owners, the Misses Davis, through J. T. Vails's real estate agency. He will occupy the residence in a short time.

The Summer Cantata.

At an early date and before the choir of the First Baptist church disbands for the summer a cantata will be given and arrangements are now being made for the presentation.

Building a Railroad in Mexico.

Bernard Brady, of this city, has returned from Mexico, where he has the contract to build a railroad. He will remain home about one month when he will return to Mexico.

CRISIS IN COUNTRY CLUB

PROPERTY TO BE SOLD AT SHERIFF'S SALE.

Mortgage for $20,000 is Foreclosed by Mutual Life Insurance Company—The Club Will Probably be Reorganized.

The property of the Union County Country Club, an organization which includes many of Plainfield's wealthiest and most influential citizens in its membership, is to be sold at sheriff's sale June 7th. This action is the result of the foreclosure of a mortgage of $20,000 held by the Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York. The interest, due January 1st, was not paid and the company finally took steps to sell out the property of the Club.

While the club revenues have never more than barely covered the expenditures, the fact that there is so much wealth included in the membership makes it evident that the obligation could be met if so desired. While the inside facts of the case are only known to a few, it is generally understood that the property will be bought up by the members and the club reorganized free from debt.

The annual meeting of the club will be held this evening when the directors will be elected and some action on the subject of the sale taken.

HOUSEKEEPER MUST BE PAID.

Herbert Randolph Has a Verdict Rendered Against Him.

Herbert Randolph, of West Front street, was sued in Justice Nash's court yesterday afternoon by Miss Henrietta Stoll, who used to keep house for him when he lived on a large farm near Mt. Pleasant.

The services were rendered from September 28, 1897, to February 24, 1898, at $10 a month, and the jury brought in a verdict for the plaintiff for the full amount of the claim, with interest, amounting to $170.

Randolph's defense was that he did not hire the woman, but acted as an agent for his father. This was contradicted by the plaintiff, who swore that Randolph himself had charge of the farm, and that the father lived with him.

Randolph also borrowed money from her, she says, which has never been returned. These small amounts were included in the claim. W. S. Angleman was Miss Stell's lawyer, while Robert M. Clark looked after the defendant.

The jury were out only a short time before returning with their verdict. The jurymen were: J. Pierce, George Rockfellow, M. Brokaw, William Stewart, J. T. Montanyea, R. C. Rand, William Greenwood, George Wyckoff, S. Hoffman, William Forestel, William Miller and James Babbitt, the latter a colored man.

DEATH DUE TO APOPLEXY.

Thomas Benedict's End on Earth Came Very Suddenly Last Night.

Thomas Benedict, aged about fifty years, died very suddenly last evening about 10 o'clock. It was about 6 o'clock that he was found by members of the family in the cellar where he had had an apopleptic fit. He was carried up stairs, remaining conscious only a few minutes. Dr. O. L. Jenkins, the family physician, was called, but all efforts to save life were fruitless.

Mr. Benedict had resided in the borough about twelve years with his mother, two sisters and a brother. The latter started yesterday on a trip to Texas, and a telegram was sent ahead of him telling him of the death of his brother. He is expected home today. As yet the arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

Fingers Cut Off in the Navy Yard.

Charles Westphal, formerly of South Second street, this city, who has been working in the Brooklyn Navy Yard, had two of his fingers taken off yesterday. Mr. Westphal was working about some part of the machinery and caught them in it. They were so badly mashed that amputation was necessary.

Educational Work in Y. M. C. A.

The educational committee of the Y. M. C. A. met last evening and planned work for the future. A class in English will be started in addition to those taught last year. A joint meeting of the committee and the instructors of the various classes will be held at an early date.

To Attend a Church Convention.

Rev. H. W. McKane, pastor of the Christian church, will attend the convention of the Deciples of Christ in Philadelphia tomorrow and next day. Mr. McKane is pastor of the only Church of Deciples in the State of New Jersey.

—Buyers are astounded at the pamorama of beautiful spring goods displayed at Peck's.

MAN OF WEALTH AND INFLUENCE IS DEAD.

Plainfield Loses a Substantial Citizen in J. S. Schoonmaker.

PROMINENT IN BUSINESS.

SERVED LOYALLY IN THE ARMY OF THE CIVIL WAR.

Born in Pittsburg Fifty-four Years Ago—Resided in Plainfield for Ten Years—A Faithful Member of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church—He Was Prominent in New York Grand Army Post.

In the death of Joseph Stockton Schoonmaker, of Central avenue, which occurred yesterday noon suddenly of apoplexy, as told in yesterday's Press, Plainfield loses one of her best citizens and a man of wealth and influence. Less than a year ago Mr. Schoonmaker was taken ill with a form of the grip and since that time he has not been at all well. However, his family did not expect his death, and at the time of his demise Mrs. Schoonmaker was at Atlantic City.

Mr. Schoonmaker was born in Pittsburg, Pa., fifty-four years ago and for many years was identified with iron coke interests. At the outbreak of the Civil war he enlisted in the 14th Pennsylvania Regiment, and held a position on the staff with his brother, Col. J. M. Scheonmaker, who now resides in Pittsburg, and is vice-president of the Pittsburg and Erie Railroad Company.

About ten years ago Mr. Schoonmaker came to this city and has resided here ever since, living a life of retirement. He was a prominent and faithful member of the Crescent Avenue church, having been brought up in that denomination. His uncle, Rev. Joseph Stockton, of New York, being one of the prominent clergymen of the Presbyterian church.

Mr. Schoonmaker was also a prominent member of Lafayette Post, G. A. R., of New York, in which he took a great deal of interest. Since Mr. Schoonmaker came to Plainfield he did not engage in my business. He leaves a wife and four sons, also another brother, S. L. Schoonmaker, of this city, who is associated with the iron and steel interests of which Andrew Carnegie is the head

REED IS FOR COOPER.

SENATOR THINKS HIS HENCHMAN WILL GET SOMERVILLE POSTOFFICE.

Cooper Has Did Good Work for the North Plainfielder and the Latter Would Like to See Him Get a Good Office.

Senator Charles A. Reed who attempted to engineer the deal by which George C. Cooper, of Somerville, was to receive the appointment to the postmastership of that place before the faction headed by L. D. Thompson was aware of the resignation of Alvah A. Clark, Senator Reed's father-in-law, stated to a Press reporter that he was confident that Mr. Cooper would be the favored one.

Cooper is Mr. Reed's right hand man in Somerville, and has done all that he could to put the former's influence first in Somerset county Republican circles. The contestion over the postmastership has caused a renewal of the differences between the Tompson and Reed factions, which is not looked upon with pleasant anticipations in respect to fall elections.

Shrewd political observers say that if Senator Reed succeeds in landing Cooper as postmaster of Somerville in opposition to Thompson's desires it will be a master-stroke for the North Plainfield statesman.

Mayor Drake Talked to the Typos.

(Special to The Daily Press)

Lincoln, May 9—After conducting the Sunday-school service Sunday morning, as usual, Mayor Silas D. Drake stepped into his carriage and was driven out to the Printers' Home, on the Herbert farm, where he found about 40 typos doing nothing in particular. Mayor Drake got the men together in the dining room and gave them a talk. The men enjoyed his remarks very much, especially his allusions to the war and to his experience as a printer.

A Social Evening Planned.

The members of the physical department of the Y. M. C. A. will meet tonight for a social evening in the large hall. A programme of music and other attractions will be presented, and there will be short talks by President Cahoone and Mr. Murray. Refreshments will be served and the medals are to be awarded.

Rev E. W. Brown to Preach.

Rev. Eliot W. Brown, of New York, will preach morning and evening next Sunday at the Crescent Avenue church. The collection will be for the Board of Missions for Freedmen.

T. A. B. ELECT OFFICERS.

PATRICK REVILLE ELECTED PRESIDENT FOR A YEAR.

Association Reported to be in a Prosperous Condition in All Respects—An Address by Rev. Father Westman.

The twenty-seventh annual meeting of the T. A. B. Association was held last evening in the hall of the association on West Fourth street. There was a large attendance of members, and during the business part of the meeting a number of new members were elected. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President, Patrick Reville; vice-president, John Hickey; recording secretary, Robert Birmingham; financial secretary, C. Waldron; treasurer, J. C. Carney; sergeant at-arms, J. J. Kane.

The association was reported to be in a healthy condition financially and socially, while the membership is fast increasing. After the transaction of the business of the evening Rev. Father Westman, assistant at St. Mary's church, delivered a powerful address. His principal points were on temperance and the objects of the association. He urged every member to do his best to advance the interests of temperance and thus increase the membership of the association. He spoke at some length upon the excellent objects of the association and what they stand for.

Father Westman's talk was listened to with the greatest interest and was cordially received. After the lecture he entertained the members with his phonograph, giving some of the best selections. This concluded the programme for the evening, and the members adjourned congratulating themselves on the success of the association.

FOR THE LOSS OF A FOOT, $4,000.

Conductor, When He Takes a Fare, Must Put Passenger in a Safe Place.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 9—Joseph Bragaw, formerly a property man for Forepaugh & Sells Brothers' circus, got a verdict yesterday for $4,000 damages in a suit against the Consolidated Traction Company for the loss of a foot in the company's depot at Jersey City in June, 1897. Bragaw asserted that he was sick and fell asleep, and when the car reached the ferry he was assisted off by the conductor. Being unable to care for himself, he fell on the track and was run over by another car. The company's counsel applied for a non-suit on the grounds of contributory negligence, charging that Bragaw was drunk. Justice VanSyckel held that it was the duty of the conductor, when he had taken Bragaw's fare, to put him in a safe place.

Hanging They Say.

The question of whether capital punishment ought to be abolished or not was the subject under consideration at the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Literary Society last night. The debate was fairly launched by S. H. Craig, chief on the affirmative side, and was followed by arguments by Frank McDonald. The negative was taken by Charles Dolliver and C. E. Drange. After hearing both sides the question was put to the society to decide, and the decision was that it should not be abolished.

Postal Clerk Transferred.

William Shannon, of this city, who is a clerk in the Government Railway Postal Service, has been transferred from the Jersey City-Washington run to the run from Jersey City to Point Pleasant, which he will hold until next October. He will then be transferred to some other run.

At the Grand Commandery.

The Grand Commandery of New Jersey, Knight Templars, are holding their annual session at Trenton today. Those present from Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., are Wm. Sebring, Jacob Kirkner, B. Frank Coriell, D C. Adams and Frank VanAuken.

Their Eleventh Anniversary.

The Warren Chapel Christian Endeavor Society will celebrate its eleventh anniversary Thursday evening, May 18th. The address will be delivered by Rev. J. W. Richardson, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church.

Digging the Surface Drain.

Patsy Christmas, the contractor, started work yesterday digging for the surface drainage pipe to be located in the upper part of the borough.

Special Marshals Sworn in.

CHANGE IN A SCHOOL.

MISSES SCRIBNER AND NEWTON ARE TO RETIRE.

The Building Occupied by Them Has Been Rented to Misses Grace Cooley and Caroline Randolph for a School.

Miss Scribner and Miss Green, principals of the Young Ladies' Seminary on LaGrande avenue, have announced that they will not continue their school after the close of the present term in June.

This well-known school has been in existence for fifteen years under the management of Miss Scribner and Miss Newton, and been largely patronized by many of the best families in Plainfield.

It is also announced that Major Miller, the owner of the building, has leased the same to Miss Caroline Randolph and Miss Grace Cooley, who will continue the school next fall, assisted by Abby Mellick in the primary department and Miss Mechardo in the Kindergarten.

TO ENLARGE A COURTHOUSE.

Plans Prepared for Addition to the Middlesex County Structure.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, May 9.—Architect Parsells, of this city, has prepared plans for the proposed extension to county courthouse. It is likely that the Board of Freeholders will make an appropriation this year to meet the expenses of the addition. For years past additional room has been sorely needed.

At each term of court Justice Collins has called the attention of the Board of Freeholders to the urgent need of a library, a retiring-room for the Judges, a waiting-room for the witnesses and improved sanitary arrangements. All of these will be provided. There are two plans, one calling for an addition to cost $8,000 the other for a smaller addition to cost about $5,000. Both will be two-story structures, to be added to the rear of the courthouse. The plans have been submitted to Justice Collins and Judge Strong for their approval, and the work of making the additions will be taken up as soon as the plans are decided upon.

WHO HAS GOT THE BUTTONS?

Some One Took the Articles Out of John Manley's Cuffs Hanging on the Fence.

Somebody has John Manley's cuff buttons. Who that somebody is, Manley would very much like to find out. Manley lives at 321 Park avenue. This morning, shortly after 6 o'clock, he was at work about the place. When he started he removed his coat and cuffs. He left them on the fence.

When Manley returned for his cuffs, he found the cuffs all right but the buttons were gone. Somebody had quiety removed them. As they were gold and quite valuable, Manley was much disgusted.

Cock Fight Under Difficulties.

(Special to The Daily Press)

Rahway, May 9.—A number of the sporting fraternity had a hard job Saturday evening to pull off a fight between Rahway, Cranford and Elizabeth. Arrangements had been made to have the pit in a roadhouse near Linden, but a constable heard of it and a Rahway pool room was selected. But the police prevented it again, and the gamecocks, sports and paraphernalia were loaded into wagons and taken to Middlesex county, where the fight was pulled off in a barn.

Rev. B. W. Hand Paid All But $10.

The Christian church on Grove street has settled up with Rev. B. W. Hand to the extent that they now owe him $10, and this amount will be paid at an early date. A report was submitted last Sunday evening at the church regarding the recent fair and it showed that there was about $140 cleared. Part of this amount was applied to the church debt and to paying Pastor McKane's salary.

Ice Company Election.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Plainfield Hygeia Ice Company will be held at the Union County Country Club Tuesday evening, May 16th, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of electing two inspectors of election and seven directors for the ensuing year and to transact other business properly presented.

A Baptist Institution.

The eighth annual meeting of the Baptist Home for the Aged will be held in Roseville, Essex county, today. The exercises will be held in the Roseville Baptist church, corner Warren street and Gould avenue. A number of Baptists from this city are in attendance.

Doing Well in Porto Rico.

Walter Martin, formerly of this city, who is now in Porto Rico, writes home that he is doing well. Recently he met a young man named Holmes from this city, who is with the Regulars on the Island.

FAULTS OF CITY'S SEWAGE DISPOSAL.

One of Mrs. Milliken's Lawyers Gives His Views.

LIABILITY OF PLAINFIELD.

HE SAYS THAT THE CITY POSSESSES A PRIMITIVE METHOD.

Notwithstanding the Depreciation in the Value of Property, the Lawyer Says That the City Felt Perfectly at Ease, But Now the Day of Reckoning is Coming—What Will the Court Do?

A great deal of interest is now centered in the suit of Mrs. Milliken against the City of Plainfield for damages alleged on account of the sewer beds inasmuch as the case has been referred to the Supreme Court for a decision.

Recently a Daily Press representative was in conversation with Senator Reed, one of the lawyers interested in the suit, and a few interesting points were obtained regarding the amendment to the law. The Senator talked thusly:

"Plainfield has adopted one of the most primitive methods of sewage known to history, and she has felt perfectly at ease over the matter, notwithstanding the fact that she is causing a depreciation in the value of property and endangering the health of people thereby.

"This system of intermitten filtration, as I have said, is one of the most primitive. Take for instance the case of a man who locates in some out of the way place, forest or woods. He builds himself a house and clears away a sufficient amount of ground for his use. His slops and waste he disposes of by throwing it on this ground back of his house. This is handy and no one is injured for the time being. In a little while other people build around him, and they are not so willing to have this one man empty his refuse adjacent to their property, and they complain. The result is the man digs a trench and runs this refuse off from the settlement, only to collect at some distant point where there is another settlement. This is the state of affairs in Plainfield. The city is throwing her refuse into her backyard, which happens to be the front yard of another community, and when this community seeks redress she is told that the law gives the city the right to locate the beds there.

"The fact is Plainfield has placed an entirely wrong construction on the law and in order that she may do so no longer, Senator VanCleef had the law amended making her equally liable with an individual, who might want to practice a similar nuisance. There is not one member of the Legislature who would willingly or knowingly give any municipality the right to locate a nuisance to the detriment of another community, and that there may be no chance for this the law was amended accordingly.

"Under the old law land could be condemned if it could not be secured any other way, but under the new law people have a source of redress. When the complainants against the Plainfield sewage system stated their case to Plainfield, they were informed that they did not doubt but what it was a little disagreeable, but then the law gave them certain rights, and not once has there been any disposition on the part of Plainfield to make amends for the evident damage to property and health.

"In my opinion the Supreme Court, when presented with the true facts, will make an equitable decision and give the people who are suffering just amends for alleged damages which seem to be apparent to those who fully understand the case."

LAND FREE FOR A GARDEN.

This Rahway Association Offers From One to Two Acres.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Rahway, May 6—The managers of the Lakeside Residence Association have decided on the Pingree system of making use of its vacant land.

The Lakeside Residence Association offers to furnish land for market gardening purposes in plots of from one to two acres free of charge to the head of any family resident in the city of Rahway who desire to cultivate the land. The only condition is that nothing shall be planted except vegetables for family use, and that the land shall be restored in as good condition as it was before such cultivation.

To Lay Borough Walks.

Patrick Kiely, of the borough, has secured the contract to lay sidewalk and crosswalks in the borough for the coming year, his bid being the lowest. He received official notification of the fact on Saturday.

IT'S A MANLY ACT.

A Plainfield Citizen Speaks For The Benefit Of His Fellow Citizens.

A plain straightforward statement.
A grateful acknowledgment of help.
Telling a personal experience.
Making it public for the public good.
It's a manly act.
It's manly because it helps others.
So many people have been misled.
So many claims made that were not true.
No wonder there are skeptics.
A Plainfield man speaks here.
Speaks in the interest of humanity.
Shows the way to our citizens.
Removes the stumbling block of doubt.
Gives local endorsement.
No better proof can be had.
No better should be asked.
Plainfield people should know what is the true kidney remedy.
Distinguish it from many imitations.
Know that Doan's Kidney Pills are the only genuine.
There are many kidney remedies, but only one cure.
Other kidney pills but only one Doan's
And they cure kidney ills.
We say so—your neighbors prove it.

Mr. Chas. Giese, cigar manufacturer of 25 Elm place, says:—"I was subject to attacks of kidney complaint for 2 or 3 years. Most of the pain was in my back and hips and I could not stoop or straighten without feeling sharp, shooting twinges. When I sat for any length of time I grew stiff and sore, and was compelled to get up and move about. I grew so bad I had to do something for it. I had read a great deal about Doan's Kidney Pills being such a good medicine for kidney troubles, so I got a box of them at L. W. Randolph's drug store. I used them according to directions and after 2 or 3 days I felt better. I continued their use until the pain disappeared. I am only too glad to be able to testify to the fact that Doan's Kidney Pills are a splendid remedy."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers; price 50c a box. Mailed on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

EMBEZZLER WAS CAUGHT

Dr. Hans Hogelsburg Formerly a New York Broker Captured in Los Angeles.

HE TOOK $100,000 ALONG

Formerly Lived in Wilmington, Del., and Was Well Known There as an Oculist.

Advertised the Investors Guarantee and Trust Company Extensively and Money Rolled Into His Business—Restaurateur May Hogelsburg's Nemesis—Will Go to California to Identify Hogelsburg.

New York, May 9.—After a chase through the South, along the Texas border into Mexico, and then up in California detectives from this city finally arrested Dr. Hans Hogelsburg, a defaulting stock broker of this city, who is said to have victimized his customers to the extent of $100,000.

Hogelsburg's place of business was at 40 Exchange place and he operated under the firm name of the Investors' Guarantee and Trust Company. He is thirty-five years old and had served in Austria as a lieutenant of artillery. Well educated, of easy address and a fluent and entertaining talker, he made many acquaintances who now regret the fact.

When H. S. May, a restaurateur, first met Hogelsburg he was an oculist and lived at Wilmington, Del. For five or six years he visited this city regularly and always lived at May's. He was well supplied with money and promptly met all bills.

He came to this city to do business about a year and a half ago, leaving his wife and son in Wilmington, whither he went every Saturday and stayed over Sunday. He advertised extensively and sent thousands of circulars through the mails. These stated that the capital of the company was $1,000,000 and always directed that all checks and drafts be sent to Dr. H. Hogelsburg.

He rapidly prospered, and in September last brought his family on from Wilmington. Giving up his rooms at May's he went to live in a pretty cottage at Dunwoodie. The gold that came to him increased in volume, and he looked about for a more imposing residence. He found a handsome place at Montclair, and furnished it in fine style. He also bought blooded horses and smart traps.

May invested money with him and also interested a number of friends. Hogelsburg would make fortunes for them all—his knowledge of stocks and the temper of the market was remarkable, they said. May ordered him to buy 300 shares of Rubber preferred at 101, putting up $3,000 as margin.

When the stock went up to 118 there was joy among May's and his friends. On April 11 the restaurateur ordered Hogelsburg to sell. He declared that the head of the Investors' Guarantee and Trust Company closed out and disappeared.

It was found that he had previously sent his family away. May and many of the investors who rued his passing estimated that he must have gathered in about $100,000. He had from 150 to 200 customers.

May lost $8,100 and at once swore out a warrant for the doctor-broker. Then he made an outlay of money and had two of the best private detectives set upon the trail of the fugutive. Hogelsburg led them a hot chase, and two or three times they almost lost the trail, but they finally overtok him in California.

May received a telegram telling of the capture, and went to see District-Attorney Gardiner to secure an indictment. He says he will go to California himself to identify Hogelsburg and see that he is brought safely back to justice.

Gen. Miles Submits.

Washington, May 9.—Gen. Miles will bow in graceful submission to the findings of the beef court of inquiry, and will let the matter drop, so far as he is concerned. Exactly what the General commanding would do was problematic, but, having slept on the report, it is announced that he will take no further steps in the matter. As he himself says, the report has been approved by the President, the commander-in-chief of the army, and the general commanding can only obey his superior officer. The only official that could act is the Secretary of War. Gen. Alger, however, like Gen. Miles, is determined to end the unpleasant matter, and he will do nothing more. He has no idea of removing Gen. Miles or giving him a department assignment. For the present the Secretary of War and the general commanding will pursue their respective ways at the War Department and outwardly there will be no friction apparent.

Mr. Sherman Not a Candidate.

Cincinnati, May 9.—Harry R. Probasco, former United States District Attorney here, and a relative of John Sherman has made public the following letter from the ex-Secretary in reference to the rumors that he would be a candidate for Governor of Ohio:

"You are entirely right in supposing that I have no thought of being nominated or elected Governor or Ohio. I do not want the office and could not accept it in my present condition of health and strength. No man of the age of 76 ought to undertake the performance of the many details of an executive office. You are authorized to say that I am not a candidate for Governor, do not wish my name mentioned in that connection, and would not accept it if nominated."

Washington, May 9.—It was stated at the Navy Department that Admiral Dewey will come from Manila direct to New York when he returns to the United States.

FAITH CURISTS

New York Health Board Takes Up the Case of Mrs. Miller Who Treated Lizzie Kranz.

New York, May 9.—The Board of Health and the Kings County Medical Society have taken up in earnest the case of Mrs. Miller, the Faith Curist whose treament of 12-year-old Lizzie Kranz, a Brooklyn girl, for gangrene, is alleged to have endangered the girl's life and to have necessitated the amputation of her leg on Saturday evening at the Eastern District Hospital, Brooklyn. President Murphy instructed Dr. Charles F. Roberts, Sanitary Superintendent, to make a searching investigation into the case.

President Murphy outlined the policy of his Department in regard to the case in these words: "It is time that this business should be stopped. There has been too much illegal practice of medicine in this city. The Health Board purposes to put a stop to it if possible."

Two months ago, according to Mrs. Schneider, the girl's mother, her daughter became ill with abdominal troubles. Three physicians at different intervals were summoned, and when a gangrenous growth showed itself in a toe of the left foot they advised her removal to a hospital. In the meantime Mrs. Schneider heard of the remarkable healing power attributed to Mrs. Miller, who lives at 312 East Twelfth street, Manhattan. Mrs. Miller called a number of times. She applied German tea and a paste to the affected limb and prayed that it might be cured.

The limb grew worse, and the mother finally had the child removed to the hospital. The gangrene had then spread to the knee and the limb had to be amputated above the knee.

May Indict Faith Curists.

Mount Vernon, May 9.—District Attorney George C. Andrews represented the People at the inquest to investigate the death of Mrs. Charlotte M. Barguet, who, it is alleged by Coroner Banning, was the victim of "Christian Science neglect." Mr. Andrews said:

"The law makes such cases manslaughter in the second degree."

ARMY WEAKENING

Otis Says Signs of Weakening Among Natives Are More Apparent Daily.

Washington, May 9.—A despatch was received by the War Department from Gen. Otis. The following is a copy of the mesage, with certain parts eliminated:

"Adjutant-General Washington:

"Situation as follows: Lawon at Maasin and Balinag; scouting parties to north and east; MacArthur at San Fernando. * * * Population of country between Manila and northern points held by troops returning to homes appear cheerful and contented. Army gunboats operating in rivers; have cleared country west of MacArthur of insurgents. * * * Signs of insurgents' weakness more apparent daily. "OTIS."

While War Department officers profess gratification that the insurgents are weakening more each day, it is admitted that the despatch contains news that it is not considered well to put before the public. Speaking of the expurgated parts of the despatch, Gen Corbin said this morning: "That refers to what we do not care to discuss."

Disappearing Islands.

Dewey to Attend Dinner

New York, May 9.—Admiral Dewey has cabled his acceptance of an invitation to a dinner to be given in his honor by 100 prominent men of this city. The despatch of acceptance was received by Alfred Chassead, the secretary of the committee which has the dinner in charge. It is likely that Admiral Dewey will return home as soon as the peace negotiations are completed.

The dinner to be held in the Waldorf-Astoria is to outdo anything of its kind ever before attempted. Its cost is thus early set at $10,000. Covers are to be set for a limited number and each ticket will have a face value of $100.

To Transfer Sixty-eight Millions

Philadelphia, May 9.—The $68,000,000 of silver dollars now in the vaults of the Mint and Postoffice buildings here, and which secure the issue of silver certificates, will be transferred to the new Mint, beginning to-day. The money is inclosed in 68,000 boxes, $1,000 to the box. The silver weighs 2,040 tons, and each wagon carrying three tons, 680 loads will be necessary. Allowing six loads per day, 113 consecutive days will elapse before the final transfer shall be made. The Government will have two representatives at each vault, and will also be represented by one guard on every wagon.

Dewey's Successor is Watson.

Washington, May 9.—The Navy Department has selected a successor to Admiral Dewey to command the Asiatic station. Orders were issued detaching Rear-Admiral Watson from command of the Mare Island Navy-yard and ordering him to report to Admiral Dewey at Manila to relieve that officer when he feels that he can be spared there. Rear-Admiral Kempff, at present on waiting orders, has been ordered to succeed Admiral Watson in command of the Mare Island Navy Yard.

Manila, May 9.—The Nebraska Regiment is asking for a temporary relief from duty. Only 375 men of the regiment are left at the front.

CHAS. B. SQUIRE ACCUSED

Monnett Says That He, Representing Oil Trust, Offered Him $400,000.

SQUIRE FLATLY DENIES.

Frank Rockefeller, Colonel Haskell and F. B. Squires Also Implicated in the Statement.

Sensational Results Are Promised From Ohio Attorney-General's Answer to the Standard—He Concurs in the Request of Defendant That the Court Appoint Commission to Take the Legal Testimony

Columbus, Ohio, May 9.—Attorney General Monnett named the men said to have offered him a bribe of $400,000 to drop the prosecution he instituted and has been vigorously pressing against the Standard Oil Company in Ohio. The men he named are Charles B. Squire, F. B. Squires, Frank Rockefeller and Charles N. Haskell.

F. B. Squires, who is no relation to Charles B. Squire, the alleged go-between, is secretary of the Standard Oil Company, and lives near Cleveland.

Attorney General Monnett filed his astonishing statement in the Supreme Court. It was in answer to a demand filed in the same court by Virgil P. Kline and Mortimer F. Elliott, attorneys for the Standard, that he name the men he charged with attempting to bribe him.

In his answer, the Attorney General says:

"The motion having been made to be heard on May 18, the Attorney General waives the length of time and asks for an immediate hearing. He concurs in the request of the defendant, that the court appoint a commission to take the legal testimony which bears upon the truth of such charges as are set forth in the complaint, or that such testimony may be taken in any other mode that this court may deem expedient.

"The plaintiff had no means of bringing the defendant into court in contempt without an order from this Court, but the same having been waived by the entry of appearance by this motion and to avoid delay, plaintiff complies with the demands of the motion so far as he is able. The Attorney General cannot comply with the first request, requiring the plaintiff to name the person who requested the Hon. Daniel J. Ryan, but the same can be had through legal process under the orders of this Court from witnesses who have the knowledge thereof."

"The plaintiff cannot comply with the second request of the Standard's attorneys, compelling Hon. D. K. Watson (former Attorney General) to furnish the names of parties who made the offers and representations in said complaint set forth, but the same can be obtained under an order from this Court from witnesses who have such information.

"As to the third request, in the motion addressed to the Attorney General, to name the party who had the conversations with him, and to name parties connected therewith, representing the Standard Oil Company, the Attorney General says that the party calling him up from Cleveland, and the party making the proposition set forth in the complaint, was Charles B. Squire, formerly of Cleveland, now of New York city, and the stockholder and officer representing the Standard Oil Company that Charles B. Squire claimed were the parties, and through whom the proposition had in some way come to him, were Frank Rockefeller of Cleveland, a stockholder of the Standard Oil Company; F. B. Squires, secretary of the Standard Oil Company, and Charles N. Haskell, late of New York city."

The Attorney General says that to ascertain in what way Charles B. Squire received his communications from the above parties, the State will be compelled to take testimony under an order of this Court.

"The only agent or employe of the Standard Oil Company," the Attorney General says, "that plaintiff can name to the court under that motion, the one who paid the expenses of Dewitt C. Jones and heard at least part of the conversation referred to in the paragraph of the original complaint, and the only name that plaintiff can furnish to this court without legal process, is the name furnished plaintiff by Dewitt C. Jones, namely, that of Virgil P. Kline, one of the attorneys in this case, then representing the Standard Oil Company.

"The true relationship existing between the Standard Oil Company and Virgil P. Kline and De Witt C Jones in this behalf, can only be obtained by the Court authorizing he testimony to be taken of such parties having the information thereof."

Squire has made a statement to the effect that the accusation is absolutely and unqualifiedly false.

Gompers's Charges Fail.

Washington, May 9.—The Secretary of the Treasury has made a report to the President upon the charges recently preferred by Samuel Gompers, of the Federation of Labor, against the conduct of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing under the direction of Johnson. Mr. Gompers' charges were based very largely upon the testimony given in the investigation of the Bureau held in 1897. The Secretary of the Treasury fails to find the charges sustained in any material degree either by the result of the investigation referred to or by the work of the Bureau since that time.

Havana's Health Condition.

Havana, May 9.—The continued absence of yellow fever fro mthis city astonishes even the Sanitary Department. Although a great deal of hard work has been done in the last three months in the sanitation of Havana, there was no expectation of such a result until the city shall have been thoroughly drained. Resident physicians believe that the steps taken since American occupation have made it possible to check the disease and look forward to a summer of comparative immunity from yellow fever.

My mother's headaches were of the sort that people call sick headache. They always were in some way the result of a disturbed stomach. She would have them sometimes more than once a week, and then she might go several weeks without having one. Generally an attack would only spoil one day, but sometimes she would be sick for two or three days. When she learned about Ripans Tabules, she found that they always relieved her decidedly, and her attacks are now much less frequent than they used to be. She continues to make use of the Tabules when occasion arises, but she says that now one or two will not produce the effect they did in the beginning. She keeps a supply of them in the house all the time, and I believe if she would take them according to directions, they would cure her entirely. You know her life is that of a farmer's wife. I suppose her experience is that of thousands of others who stay pretty closely at home and depend for food mainly upon those things which the farm produces. Under such conditions the stomach will get upset now and then unless precautions are taken to avoid it. Ripans Tabules are precautions.

THE LATEST NEWS.

EAST AND WEST RAILWAYS IN BIG TRUST.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 9.—According to a high official of the Vanderbilt lines in this city the details of a big railroad trust, which is to include all the lines between Boston and Chicago, are now being worked out, and the consolidation may be completed within the next few weeks. The recent purchase of short lines in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois was in line with the plans for the consolidation which has been in contemplation.

It is not the purpose to have all the lines under one management, but to apportion them among the Pennsylvania Company, the Vanderbilt interests and the Baltimore & Ohio Company when it shall have been reorganized, giving to each system the lines that it can use to the best advantage.

The first inkling of the scope to the plan came when the Vanderbilts announced the other day that they controlled all the roads in New England with the exception of the Boston and Albany, with which they now have a traffic agreement, and which they expect to take in soon. The Vanderbilts now control all the trunk lines between Buffalo and New York, with the exception of the Erie, the Lackawanna and the Lehigh Valley.

The Erie, it is said, will come under the control of the Vanderbilts through the influence of the Morgans, while the Lehigh Valley may go to the Baltimore and Ohio. The Lackawanna is now operated in conjunction with the Nickle Plate, a Vanderbilt line.

LEAGUE BACKS UP EDWARD ATKINSON.

Boston, May 9.—The Executive Committee of the Anti-Imperialist League adopted the following letter to be sent to Edward Atkinson:

"Whatever differences of opinion may exist as to the propriety of the circulation of your pamphlets, which you suggested (but which we understood had not been attempted), there should be but one opinion as to the far more serious issue which has been raised by your experiment of sending copies of your pamphlets only to Admiral George Dewey, President Schurman, Professor Worcester, General H. G. Otis, General Lawton, Genral Miles and J. H. Bass, the correspondent of Harper's Weekly, and which were reported to have been taken from the mails by order of the Postmaster General.

"Against this act of arbitrary and illegal power, which hardly would be attempted by any Government of Europe, except, perhaps, that of Russia, the league calls on all good citizens to protest as a serious blow to republican institutions, which are now so gravely threatened by imperial politics at home and abroad."

AN APPEAL MADE TO THE CLERGY.

Boston, May 9.—Archibald H. Grimke, Butler R. Wilson, Josephine St. P. Ruffin and Samuel S. Courtney, of this city, constituting a committee appointed by "Many citizens of Boston," have issued an appeal to the clergy of the city referring to the awful growth of mob violence in the Southern States, its appalling domination over that section, its frequent and murderous overthrow of the beneficient rule of law, its frightful outrages against life, liberty and justice; the terrific cruelty and madness of entire communities there, and of their tremendous lapses into a condition of sheer and downright savagery, and urging the preachers to "attack this fast spreading iniquity with the fearless power and uncompromising spirit of the divine founder of the Christian religion."

ARMOR COMPANY INCORPORATED.

Albany, May 9.—The Grusson Iron Works of New York city was incorporated with a capital of $500,000, to manufacture chilled iron armor, gun carriages, cast-iron turrets, casements and chilled and unchilled castings of iron and steel. The directors are P. H. Griffin and T. Guilford Smith of Buffalo, Thomas Prosser, Ernest Thalman and Herbert L. Satterlee of New York city; C. W. Barnum of Lime Rock, Conn.; D. Townsend of Philadelphia, S. Singer of Paris France, and A. E. Piorkowski of Madgeburg, Germany.

A VERY BOLD FILIPINO TRICK.

Manila, May 9.—The Filipinos surprised the United States forces at San Fernando with a daring trick. A railway train with an engine at each end was run almost to the American outposts, and in plain sight of the town. Before they could be reached a gang of natives sprang off the train, tore up several lengths of the railway track, boarded the train again and the train steamed away so quickly that there was no opportunity to capture the raiders.

A KING AMONG THE PRISONERS.

London, May 9.—The Foreign Office has received news from Unyora that Colonel Evatt attacked Chief Kabarega on the east bank of the Nile on April 9, and completely defeated him. Three hundred of the enemy were killed and Kabarega himself, who was severely wounded, and King Mwanga, were taken prisoners. Colonel Evatt's losses were two killed and twenty wounded Uganda soldiers.

Mayor Taggart of Indianapolis is in communication with New Orleans regarding the body of a woman found on Chandaleur Island. He and Mrs. Taggart left for the scene of the burial to-day to see if they can identify the body as that of their daughter, Florence, who was lost with the yacht Paul Jones some three months ago.

ON AMERICAN MEAT.

Reichstag Committee Said to Have Reported in Favor of a Very Hostile Bill.

Berlin, May 9.—It was authoritively stated that the committee of the Reichstag, to which was referred the meat inspection bill, which was substantially agreed upon between the Imperial Cabinet and United States Ambassador White, had reported against the measure and in favor of a bill so hostile to American interests that the government would probably refuse to sanction it.

The most unfortunate circumstance as regards American interests in the matter of the meat inspection bill, was the fact that there were insistent declarations in the United States that embalmed and poisonous meats had been supplied to the troops in Cuba. Representatives of the German landowning interests loudly declared that if the Americans sent poisonous meat to their own soldiers they would certainly send it to the Germans.

A bad result is that the bill as reported back provides for such examination and inspection of American meats as it will be impossible to enforce without utterly destroying American trade with Germany.

The bill as remodeled by the Reichstag Committee also proposes to exclude from importation hams, lard and soft sausages and chopped meats, and prescribes that fresh meats must come in whole carcasses or contiguous parts.

The United States and the German Government still hope that better counsels will prevail when the bill comes up for discussion in the open Reichstag on its second reading, though the chances for the enactment of the government are very slim.

Washington Takes It Seriously.

Washington, May 9.—The Berlin cable indicating the failure of the proposed legislation for the abatement of the restrictions upon the importation into Germany of American can meat products was received with apprehension.

THE BUFFALO STRIKE.

Freighthouse Workers Refuse to Work Out of Sympathy for Shovelers.

Buffalo, May 9.—An appeal has been made to the Right Rev. James E. Quigley, Roman Catholic Bishop of Buffalo, to use his influence to end the strike of the grain scoopers.

The priest's control over the people of his diocese is remarkable. A conference will be held by the Bishop and the committee representing the lake interests which are tied up by the strike.

Between 150 and 200 house men, employed by Grattan & Lattimer, refused to go to work out of sympathy for the striking grain shovelers.

Grattan & Lattimer, as contractors, handle freight for the railroad companies at the New York Central, Lackawanna, Erie and other freight houses. They handle freight inside the freight houses exclusively, and have nothing to do with the unloading or loading of boats.

Contractor William J. Conners made the following statement at his Ohio street office.

"All the men who want work at the docks will be paid at the rate of $1.85 a thousand bushels if they return today. If any man does not choose to come to work, his place will be filled. Other men will be engaged to do the work, and the work will be done satisfactorily. I have made this statement to the so-called strikers, and I now make it to the public. The number of working scoopers has already been increased considerably, and there will be no elevator idle."

The Great Northern Steamship Company has decided to employ its own men in the work of unloading boats. At its docks forty were working on Saturday. Yesterday the striking grain shovelers induced twenty of them to quit, and the remaining twenty refused to go to work unless police protection were furnished. This was forthcoming, and at 11 o'clock the men returned to work without being molested.

The contractors had been making strenuous efforts to secure enough men from out of town to man all the elevators, and expected they would be in full operation by Wednesday.

The State Board of Mediation and Arbitration: Harvey D. Goulder, counsel for the Lake Carriers' Association; Capt. Thomas Wilson, James Corrigan and H. Coulby, of Cleveland and Gibson T. Douglas, of this city, held a conference with Bishop Quigley at his residence. About the last hope of a settlement of the strike was based upon the result of this conference.

Reason for Selling.

London, May 9.—The "Westminster Gazette" publishes a report of an interview had by one of its reporters with Mr. Andrew Carnegie at the Langham Hotel. In answer to the question whether he had sold his business because of fear of trusts or dislike of them Mr. Carnegie said that trusts had never frightened him. Carnegie, he said, had no occasion to be afraid of any trusts, as it was the greatest property in the world.

"I do not sell," continued Mr. Carnegie, "because business is unpropitious, for the prospects were never so good, but in pursuance of a policy I determined upon long since—not to spend my old age in business, struggling for more dollars. I believe in a useful, dignified and unselfish reign after the age of 60. Then a man should devote his energies to a wise administration of his surplus wealth wherein so many philanthropists fail.

"I dread the name of philanthropist, which often represents a man with lots of money and little sense.

"I am not surprised at the United States cutting out great Britain in the matter of railway engines. The Americans are the ablest, quickest and most versatile people the world has yet seen, industrially considered."

"I know nothing of the reported Frick combination. I sold my interests to my partners without reference to the future management of the property. There is no truth in the reports now in circulation in London of my furthering Mr. Frick's absorption of the business. If I wished to remain connected with the iron and steel industry I never should have been so foolish as not to hold on to the best property in the world."

GUNBOATS ARE ATTACKED

Lagnna de Bay and Caradonga Have a Series of Hot Fights Along San Fernando River

OPEN UP WATER WAY.

The Gunboats Fail to Establish an Open Water Route From Manila to MacArthur's Front.

Jose Enfante Filipino Governor of Guagua Captured—First Authentic Account of Wounding of Luna—Over Four Hundred New-Made Graves Found in Native Cemetery—Guagua Found Burning.

Manila, May 9.—The army gunboats Laguna de Bay and Caradonga have had a series of hot fights with the natives along the San Fernando River, which flows through the Province of Pampanga.

They left Manila and crossed Manila Bay to open up communication by water with General MacArthur's army in the front.

Proceeding up the river they discovered bamboo obstructions in the channel and the shores lined with trenches.

All the rapid fire guns on the two boats were turned upon the rebel positions. Filipino sharpshooters made a few ineffectual attempts to pick off men on the decks, and then fled from their defences. Many dead were left in the trenches.

Another stand was made at the village of Sepmoan, which was shelled and destroyed by the gunboats.

Obstructions in the river were then removed, and the Laguna de Bay and her consort continued up the river, shelling more shore trenches en route.

A Filipino force fired upon the boats from the town of Guagua, which was then shelled and captured.

It had been partly burned by natives on the aproach of the Americans, and is now occupied by our troops. An insurgent launch at Guagua was destroyed in the fight. An inspection of the town graveyard showed 400 newly made insurgent graves.

Jose Enfante, the Mestizo Governor of Guagua under the Filipino Republic, was still at the post when the Americans arrived and did not attempt to escape. He informed the invaders that 100 armed insurgents retreated to Bacolor upon hearing the cannonading.

From 5,000 to 8,000 natives, the Governor said, had been killed since the beginning of the rebellion.

He furnished the first authentic confirmation of the report that General Luna had been seriously wounded. The General was shot both in the shoulders and abdomen at the battle of San Tomas.

There were no casualties on the American side in the gunboats running fight along the river.

Bacolor will be the next centre of American operations. A force of several thousand Filipinos has gathered there, with the intention it is believed of flanking General MacArthur's left and diverting his movements against the Filipino army to the northward.

The natives at Bacolor are well armed and have strongly entrenched themselves.

The demoralization of the Filipino army has culminated in an open revolt by General Mascardo and his 6,000 men against General Luna, second only to Aguinaldo in command.

General Luna sent orders to Mascardo at Bacolor to hurry reinforcements to him just before the battle of Santo Tomas. Mascardo flatly refused to obey the order. He sent back word that he would take orders only from Aguinaldo. Luna at once selected 1,500 of his best troops and started for Bacolor to enforce his order.

Both armies formed in line of battle, but before opening fire Luna gave Mascardo one more chance.

Mascardo still persisted in refusing, but consented to leave the question to Aguinaldo.

This averted hostilities, Luna appealing to Aguinaldo, who at once ordered a court martial. Rebels in the vicinity of Laguna de Bay are active and the brigades of Whalley and Ovenshine have been strengthened.

Wind Swept St. Louis.

St. Louis, May 9.—A violent windstorm swept through the western part of St. Louis, and unroofed a number of houses, blew down a circus tent that was just being erected and delayed street car traffic for about two hours.

About forty houses were damaged and much other injury was done by flying debris. No one was seriously hurt. The damage is about $50,000.

An Augustinian monastery will soon be built on Staten Island.

Collection of Martin Act Taxes.

Conservative citizens about the city are asking if it is good judgment or business policy on the part of the Common Council, in view of the universal depression in real estate values and general commercial trade, to press to a conclusion the operation of the Martin Act in collecting the delinquent taxes adjusted under that measure. The city is amply secured by the action taken thus far and can well afford to wait for a time until values improve and owners may realize from their holdings. It is a fact that the owners of real estate in this city have been compelled to bear many burdens of late, and the presence of scores of "To Let" and "For Sale" signs on residential and other property would seem to give force to this statement. It is a matter that the City Fathers should consider.

The prompt and inspired denials that Vice-President Hobart had determined not to be a candidate for a second term has practically caused all gossip to cease in Washington respecting a running mate for President McKinley. It is now taken for granted by all that unless the Vice-President's health will not permit him to undergo the strain of an active campaign, and four more years of public life, he will be renominated. Since his serious illness the Vice-President has not given a single thought to public matters, and by advice of his physicians he will not until his health is fully restored and his vigor returned. It may be that this result will not be reached before autumn.

Where was Roger Franklin Murray when the bill slipped through the Assembly which seems likely to make the city of Plainfield liable for thousands of dollars damages because of the alleged nuisance caused by the sewer beds?—Newark News.

He was right on the spot. But a large part of Mr. Murray's energy was engaged in looking after the sins of omission instead of commission of the Legislature. Considering the fact that it would take a man with forty heads to attempt to follow all of the Legislature matter, and in view of his limitations in this respect, we think Mr. Murray did very well in Trenton the past winter.

BATTLE GROUNDS NEAR MANILA.

It is difficult for one reading of happenings in a distant and strange land to fully appreciate the subject, because of lack of geographical knowledge. This has been especially true of recent events in and around Manila. The accompanying map will, therefore, prove valuable.

The Elizabeth Democrats are planning for their annual clambake on the shores of the Atlantic Ocean some time during the next summer. As this year will be a lively one in a political way at the fall election the clambake ought to arouse more than ordinary interest among Union county Democrats. It is said that all the great and shining lights of Demoracy of this section of the State will be present at this gathering, and that also an effort will be made to secure the attendance of William Jennings Bryan.

Colonel Gilmore, of the Fourth New Jersey Volunteers, is spoken of as a probable choice for Colonel of the new Second Regiment in the reorganized National Guard. Colonel Lee, of the old Third Regiment, is also understood to be a candidate for the Colonelcy, but it is doubtful whether he would have much success in a contest against Colonel Gillmore, who, because of his Regular Army experience, would be looked upon as a valuable acquisition to the National Guard of the State.

While Elizabeth is maintaining the antequated volunteer system of fire companies her insurance rates have dropped twenty per cent. recently. On the other hand Plainfield has taken the steps necessary for a first-class department in every respect—which, when in operation, will be the superior of any other town of its size in the State—and yet Plainfielders are still obliged to pay excessively high rates for fire insurance. Why is this?

Editor Runyon offers to enlighten us as to why the Hon. Mr. Codding, of Westfield, was named for the Deputy Supreme Court Clerkship instead of to some of the other numerous positions which the News man avers the Westfielder was after. If there is one thing that we like to know more than another it is the inside business of the politicians. Go ahead, Brother Runyon, and tell us your story.

James F. Connelly has been appointed City Clerk of Newark. Besides being among the "also rans" in the late Assembly contest in Essex county, Mr. Connelly has served a term as consul in Japan, by appointment of Mr. Cleveland, and is a good Democract all around. Mr. Connelly's appointment is in the political fitness of things.

It has taken a Missouri contemporary, the Jefferson City Tribune, to give us this tart definition of a trust: "The trust is the invention of the modern devil."

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

The State House Commission has decided to invest a portion of the receipts from incorporation fees in a new Senate Chamber. It is to be hoped there may be fewer scandals in connection with the work than attended the erection of the present Assembly Chamber.—Newark News.

Union county taxpayers have a friend in Justice VanSyckel. The head of the County Court sees no reason why jurors who are paid for their continued service in court should absent themselves between trials on which they do not happen to be impaneled, and in forcing their attendance the Justice is compelling the jurors to earn their money.—New York Press.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

Music Hall patrons have had the pleasure of witnessing several good repertoire companies this season, and Mitchell's All Star Players, who made their debut last night, kept up the standard of which Manager Edwards has insisted upon. The opening piece last night was "The Galley Slave," which was presented in a creditable manner from a dramatic standpoint. The various characters were interpreted with a spirit and dash that pleased the audience present. The specialties were exceptionally good. Of course, the Elmore Sisters, assisted by their little brother, were the stars of the bill. These bright children have always been popular with Plainfield audiences, but since their last appearance here they have improved wonderfully in their entertaining qualities. The Recks in songs and dances were also very good.

Tonight, a laughable farce comedy entitled "Why Jones Left Home" will be presented, with new specialties between the acts and the following plays will be presented the balance of the week: Wednesday, "The Red Cross Nurse," Thursday, "The Bog From Boston," Friday, "The Middleman," Saturday matinee, "The Two Kids," Saturday night, "Kidnapped." After the matinee performance Saturday, the Elmore Sisters, assisted by the several members of the company, will hold a reception on the stage, to which the public are invited. Refreshments will be served and an opportunity given for better acquaintance with these very talented young ladies and their associates.

GRAIN-O BRINGS RELIEF

to the coffee drinker. Coffee drinking is a habit that is universally indulged in and almost as universally injurious. Have you tried Grain-O? It is almost like coffee but the effects are just the opposite. Coffee upsets the stomach, ruins the digestion effects the heart and disturbs the whole nervous system. Grain-O tones up the stomach, aids digestion and strengthens the nerves. There is nothing but nourishment in Grain-O. It can't be otherwise. 15 and 25c. per package.

Woodhull & Martin's.

An ever broadening, ever deepening current of traffic is flowing through, our immense establishment. The constant opening of new channels of business is rapidly inundating us with a freshet of out-of-town business. All this goes to prove that our efforts to make our store an ideal one in which to shop are being more and more appreciated. These growing conditions are peculiarly gratifying to us, as many predictions of our failure to make a success on the lines along which we have been working have been freely made. But we know and have known that the people of Plainfield and vicinity appreciate and will support a first-class establishment, that they will respond to fair treatment, and prefer new, fresh, clean, honest merchandise.

The Summer Season.

The warm weather is now due, and the wise housekeeper will make prompt preparations for Summer comforts.

For Summer Floor Coverings we would suggest Straw Matting. A large shipment of new, fresh mattings gives us an unusually attractive line from which to select. Goods were imported by Arnold Constable & Co, a guarantee of their reliability. Extra Heavy China Mattings in small neat patterns, closely woven of heavy straw they are suggestion of extraordinary wear. Superfine Japanese Mattings, woven with linen warp. Designs are all orginal, ranging from very small, dainty figures to more elaborate carpet effects. All are peculiarly quaint and oriental in appearance. We are making a great many Piazza Rugs from Cocoa Mattings. Ends are finished with corrugated Rubber. They prevent in large measure the marring of paint. We have the new grass carpets with colored warps for the same purpose.

W. J. Davis is painting his residence.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 9—If Scotch Plains had had its proposed jail ready for occupants Saturday evening it could have been used to good advantage upon several of its own residents. Trouble had been brewing for several days between two young men of the village, and Saturday evening they met on Park avenue to settle their differences. Friends of both interfered as soon as the trouble was started, and after several blows were exchanged they were parted. A large crowd had gathered and another fight seemed imminent but soon blowed over, but not until the neighbors had been obliged to listen to language which would not look well in print. Constables Walpole and Traynor soon dispersed the crowd, and the matter will probably end there. Had either one of the young men given a thought to the excitement they were about to create it is hardly likely either one would have wanted to fight.

One of the cart horses used around Cook's stone crusher went on a strike yesterday morning and left the crusher on a run and never stopped until it reached it's stable. No damage was done to either cart, harness or horse.

Miss Edith Randolph and Mr. Quereau, who were injured in the runaway accident Sunday evening, are improving very nicely. Mr. Quereau was able to leave for his home in New York yesterday morning.

The Misses Anna and Mamie Murphy, of Brooklyn, have returned home after a visit with their cousin, Mrs. Thomas Walsh.

Miss Mabel Wilson, of Plainfield, led the Christian Endeavor meeting in the Baptist church Sunday evening.

Wm. Flanders, of Plainfield, has been visiting his uncle, Charles N. Flanders, of East Front street.

Mr. and Mrs. Carmon Hetfield, of Brooklyn, visited Mr. Hetfield's sister, Mrs. Cleaver, Saturday.

WESTFIELD.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press)

Westfield, May 9—There will be a meeting of the governing board of the Social Club this evening at 8 o'clock. The prizes won by the contestants in the ladies bowling tournament will be presented to the winners Thursday evening.

Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of this town, has been chosen to represent the Union County Bible society at the annual meeting of the American society at New York Thursday.

The Westfield High school baseball team was defeated by the Leal school team at Plainfield Saturday by a score of 17 to 11.

Irving I. Ross began yesterday to take the school census and expects to be about two weeks in completing it.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache, and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents, at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store. Every bottle guaranteed.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address.

The New Werner Edition of

THE ENCYCLOPÆDIA BRITANNICA

IN THIRTY SUPERB OCTAVO VOLUMES.

"Give Your Boys a Chance"

were the closing words of an address by Abraham Lincoln. He realized that parents are responsible, in a degree, for what their children become. If you have children, study their individual tendencies and place the best possible educational advantages before them. A way has been provided in the New Werner Edition of the Encyclopædia Britannica, complete in thirty volumes. The best thoughts on all subjects in the history of man are treasured there. A systematic study of this work is equal to any college course. Algebra, Anatomy, Architecture, Building, Electricity, Political Economy, are a few of its articles which have been adopted by Yale, Harvard and Columbia colleges. Our Showing of Shirt Waists

Comprises probably one hundred and fifty distinct styles. From a stock such as ours—each style marked at what any other store call bargain prices—it is very difficult for us to point out any particular one as being a greater bargain than another—you should see them —True we have shirt waists made of good Cambric at 39c, others at 49c and 59c, or of fine Percale 89c and 98c of Lawns, Chambreys and other materials with Plaits, tucks and fine needlework insertions 1.25 and 1 49.

Our Millinery

business has made great strides, in fact we have had some difficulty in keeping pace with it, the demand being so much greater than we anticipated, but each day finds us better prepared to take care of our Customers. Tomorrow we will show many new NETS, FLOWERS and other Hat trimmings at prices unapproachable.

NEW STRAW SHAPES received almost daily—most stores think they should get a big profit—not so with us. You can make a great saving at the NEW STORE and besides have your hat trimmed FREE OF CHARGE by a trimmer that we think has no equal.

AN ORDINANCE

TO ESTABLISH, REGULATE AND CONTROL A FIRE DEPARTMENT IN THE CITY OF PLAINFIELD.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the Fire Department of the city of Plainfield shall consist of one Chief Engineer, a First and Second Assistant Engineers, Veterinary Surgeon, and as many permanent men as the Common Council may from time to time designate to act as Drivers, Tillermen and Hosemen; also one Engineer of Steamer, and (6) Call Men for each hose or hook and ladder company that may be organized under this ordinance to act as hose men and ladder men and to perform such other duties as shall be required of them at a fire by their superior officers.

The following companies shall be organized immediately upon this ordinance taking effect as law:

Hose Company, No. 1.
Hose Company, No. 2.
Hose Company, No. 3.
Hook and Ladder Company, No. 1.
Engine Company, No. 1.

and other similar companies may thereafter be organized as the Common Council may from time to time deem necessary, and order, either by resolution or by ordinance.

Section 2. All members now employed in the Fire Department at stated salaries shall be retained and form a part of and be included in the employees enumerated above and continue in service as such, and shall be subject to all rules and regulations adopted by the Board of Engineers and to the provisions of this ordinance to the same extent as new appointees.

Section 3. The Chief Engineer shall be the Fire Marshall and Fire Inspector of the City of Plainfield, and shall perform such duties as shall devolve upon him as such by the laws of the State and the ordinances of the city of Plainfield. He shall keep an accurate record of the names of the officers and members of the Department and all appointments and transfers, resignations and removals of firemen as the same shall take place from time to time, and such other particulars as may be necessary and proper. He shall have sole and entire command of fires and alarms of fire over all members of the Department, apparatus and appurtenances belonging to the same, and all other persons aiding and assisting the Department at fires. In addition to performing his duties as Building Inspector he shall devote his whole time to the service of the Department, and shall report the condition of the Department to the Committee on Fire and Buildings as often as they shall request. He shall order the different fire companies out to work, wash, drill or for inspection, at such time and place as he may designate, and whenever he may deem it necessary for the efficiency of the Department.

In the absence or disability of the Chief Engineer the First Assistant, and in the absence of both the Chief and First Assistant, the Second Assistant shall assume command and perform the duties of the Chief.

Section 4. The Chief and Assistant Engineer shall constitute and be called the "Board of Engineers." They shall make such rules and regulations for conducting the Department not inconsistent with the laws of the State or ordinances of the city, as they may deem advisable, subject to approval by the Common Council.

Section 5. The Chief Engineer and the Assistant Engineers shall be nominated by the Mayor and confirmed by the Common Council in the same manner as other city officers, and they and drivers, laddermen and hosemen, after confirmation, shall hold their offices and continue in service as such during good behavior, efficiency and residence in the city, and shall not be removed from office or employment for political reasons or any other cause than incapacity, misconduct, non-residence, or disobedience of just rules and regulations which are or may be established for the government of the Department.

Section 6. The Chief Engineer or Acting Chief shall be responsible for the property of the Department. He shall see that the steam and chemical engines, hose wagons, trucks, hose and horses, and all other property belonging to the Department are kept constantly in order for immediate and efficient service, and shall report immediately any repairs that may be necessary to the property in his charge to the Committee on Fire and Buildings.

Section 7. Persons to be eligible to membership in the Department must be citizens of the United States, of good moral character, and able to read and write the English language. They shall be in good health, sound in body and mind, and capable of performing the duties required of them. (In case of permanent employees, they must be certified to by the City Physician that they are physically capable of performing the duties required of them). They must be nominated by the Mayor recommended by the Board of Engineers and confirmed by the Common Council, and before entering upon their duties as members of the Department they shall sign an agreement, to be deposited with the Chief Engineer, that they shall abide by and conform to the ordinance and such rules governing the same which may be approved by the Common Council.

All applications for membership shall be made in the handwriting of the applicant, who shall present the same in person to the Mayor, the Committee on Fire and Buildings or the Board of Engineers.

Section 8. The pay of the force is hereby fixed as follows, unless it shall be increased by resolution of the Common Council:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Chief Engineer | $700 | per annum |
| First Assistant Engineer | 100 | " " |
| Second Assistant Engineer when devoting his entire time to the service of the Department, $600, otherwise | $100 | " " |
| Veterinary Surgeon | 150 | " " |
| Engineer of Steamer | 75 | " " |
| Hosemen and Laddermen, on call | 25 | " " |

Drivers and Tillermen shall be divided into four classes, according to their respective terms of service, as follows:

First Class.—Those who have served continuously in the Department for a period greater than five years.

Second Class.—Those who have served continuously in the Department more than three years and less than five years.

Third Class.—Those who have served continuously in the Department more than six months and less than three years.

Fourth Class.—Those who have served continuously in the Department for a period less than six months.

The salaries of Drivers and Tillermen shall be as follows according to class:

First Class, Sixty Dollars per month.
Second Class, Fifty-five Dollars per month.
Third Class, Fifty Dollars per month.
Fourth Class, Forty Dollars per month.

Section 9. The Veterinary Surgeon shall have, under the direction of the Chief Engineer, general charge and direction as to the care and management of the horses belonging to the Department, giving such surgical and medical care as may be required. When horses are purchased he shall make such examination as required.

Section 10. Foremen of Companies shall be appointed from members thereof by the Chief Engineer, subject to the approval of the Committee on Fire and Buildings and confirmed by the Common Council; they shall have command and control of their companies and all members shall obey their orders implicitly. They shall see that the apparatus in their care, and the building in which the same is deposited, and all articles in or belonging to the same are kept clean and in order for immediate use. They shall preserve order and discipline at all times in their respective companies, and enforce a strict compliance of the rules and regulations of the Department and the orders of the Chief Engineer.

Section 11. The Call Men of the several companies shall, upon an alarm of fire from the section of the City to which they are assigned to duty, proceed promptly to the place of the fire, and perform any duty that may be required of them. They shall remain on duty until relieved by order, which shall be given only by the officer in command. They shall, when on duty at fires, wear the regulation fire hat or badge.

Section 12. Upon going to or returning from an alarm of fire, in no case shall persons not members of the Department be allowed to ride on any apparatus of the Department.

Section 13. All Call Men will be regarded as part of the working force, and may be used by the officer in command at fires as he may deem proper. And they will be required to perform at least seventy-five per cent. of duty per annum.

Any driver of an engine, hose wagon, hook and ladder truck or supply wagon, driving over a line of hose, unless it cannot be avoided, shall be subject to dismissal.

If any permanent member refuses or neglects to pay any just debt contracted for the necessaries of life during his connection with the Department, or assigns his pay, it shall be deemed sufficient cause for his suspension or dismissal.

Any officer or member making a false report of a member of the Department, either concerning personal character or conduct, to the discredit or detriment of any member, or any officer making a false record in the journal, shall be liable to dismissal.

No permanent officer or permant member of the Department shall attend a caucus or political convention as a delegate, distribute tickets at any election or take any part whatever in political matters others than to exercise the right of suffrage.

All members of the Department must address officers by their respective titles.

Any officer or member having business with the Committee on Fire & Buildings shall transact the same through the Chief Engineer.

No subscriptions, paper or books shall be circulated under the auspices of any company for the purpose of collecting money from citizens without the consent of the Committee on Fire & Buildings.

Should any member become disabled or sick while in the faithful performance of duty, he shall be entitled to such pay as the Committee on Fire & Buildings shall deem proper.

Section 14. Any member of the Fire Department who shall upon trial be found guilty of violating any of the ordinances or rules and regulations governing the Fire Department, shall in the discretion of the Common Council be subject to censure, reprimand, forfeiture of pay, or discharge from the service.

Section 15 Firemen at call will be required to attend every fire or alarm of fire in their district. Any officer or member absent, except in case of sickness or death in the family, or out of the city with permission, will be fined the sum of one dollar ($1.00). Call men who shall have performed seventy-five per cent. of fire duty in the company of which he is a member shall have all fire fines refunded him that may have been charged against him during the year.

No member of the force shall loan the Department Badge under the penalty of dismissal, and any member losing his badge shall purchase one at his own expense.

Section 16. All complaints by the Chief Engineer or Assistant Engineers against any fireman or firemen for misconduct or neglect in the performance of his or their duties, shall be forthwith reported to the Committee on Fire and Buildings.

Section 17. All complaints made by citizens or persons of good repute to the Mayor or any member of the Common Council against any fireman or firemen for misconduct or neglect in the performance of his or their duties, shall be forthwith reported to the Committee on Fire and Buildings.

Section 18. No intoxicating beverage of any description whatsoever shall be allowed on the premises of the Fire Department. Any member of the Fire Department intoxicated while on duty shall be deprived of his badge and suspended for six months or dismissed, at the option of the Common Council.

Section 19. No person or persons except officers and members of the Department shall at any time enter the houses of the Department, except the Mayor of the city, members of the Common Council, and visitors accompanied by members, or any police officer in the proper discharge of his duty, and no boys shall be permitted in any house of the Department, or to have any access whatever to the apparatus in going to or returning from fires or alarms. The foremen are hereby enjoined to enforce the provisions of this section.

Section 20. No person shall enter any engine, hook and ladder or hose house in the city with intent to injure the same or the fire engine or other apparatus contained therein, or injure or mutulate at any time or place any fire engine or other apparatus, or any public cisterns, fire wells, hydrants, or fire plugs, or draw water therefrom for any purpose, except when properly engaged in examining their condition, or for the use of the fire engines belonging to or controlled by the city, and any person violating any of the provisions of this section, shall on conviction be punished by a fine of not less than Five or more than Twenty Dollars for each offense, and shall furthermore be liable for all damages or injury done.

Section 21. No person shall during a fire drive a wagon, cart or other vehicle over any hose or other fire apraratus, under penalty of Ten Dollars for each offense.

Section 22. No person shall wilfully hinder or molest or attempt to do any violence to any officer or member of the Fire Department or other city officer while in the performance of his duty at a fire, or in going to or returning from a fire or alarm of fire, in charge of any fire engine or other apparatus, under penalty of Ten Dollars for each offense.

Section 23. No person or persons shall raise, create or continue a false alarm of fire under penalty of Ten Dollars for each offense.

Section 24. No person or persons shall for any purpose take or cause to be taken beyond the corporate limits of the city any of the apparatus of the Fire Department, except by consent of the Mayor or Common Council, or in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Board of Engineers.

Section 25. It shall be the duty of the Common Council to provide for fuel, lights and other necessary expenses for the maintenance of the Fire Department and to keep the houses and fire apparatus in proper condition and repair. No supplies shall be ordered or expenses incurred under this section without the written order of the Chief Engineer or one of the Assistant Engineers, in the absence or inability of the Chief Engineer, and no bill shall be presented to the Common Council until the same shall be certified by one of the Engineers to be correct.

Section 26—Any member of the Fire Department who shall violate any of the foregoing sections of this ordinance, to which no penalty is attached, or shall be guilty of any riotous or disorderly conduct when on duty, shall be liable to be removed as a fireman.

Section 27. That upon the organization of the several companies hereinafter mentioned, and until the further order of the Common Council, the said companies shall, severally, take possession of the Fire Department apparatus and other property of the city used in connection therewith, as follows:

Hose Company No. 1 shall forthwith take possession of that now in possession of Gazelle Engine Company No. 1.

Hose Company No. 2 shall forthwith take possession of that now in possession of Plainfield Engine Company No. 2.

Hose Company No. 3 shall forthwith take possession of that nowin possession of Alert Hose Company.

Hook and Ladder Company No. 1 shall forthwith take possession of that now in possession of Zephyr Hook and Ladder Company and Engine Company No. 1 shall forthwith take possession of the Chemical Engine and appurtenances, but the Common Council may from time to time, by resolution, make such changes or other regulations respecting the possession and management of the apparatus and other property of the city used for the Fire Department purposes as said Common Council may deem expedient.

Section 28. That the ordinance entitled "An ordinance to establish, regulate and control a fire department in the City of Plainfield," approved April 3d, 1888, and amended by ordinance approved June 5th, 1888, and all other ordinances and parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Adopted by the Common Council May 1st, 1899.

Approved by the Mayor May 6th, 1899.

MARY J. LINCOLN GIVES SENSIBLE ADVICE ABOUT COFFEE.

Differences of Opinion Regarding Merits of Cold or Boiling Water and Strength of the Article; But Fresh Water and Clean Utensils are an Absolute Necessity.

Whatever may be the difference in opinion as to the merits of cold or boiling water in making coffee or the degree of strength desirable in the decoction or the best method of clearing the liquid, there can be no question as to the desirability of using fresh water and clean utensils, and preserving the delicious aroma by care in keeping the coffee air tight and not dissipating it by long boiling.

The first requisites are secured by having a small, smooth kettle or saucepan, kept expressly for this purpose, and which should be scoured with mineral soap, whenever any scum is left on the sides, and wiped dry every time it is used; and by using fresh water right from the pump, or if from a faucet, allowed to run some minutes and used as soon as it boils.

Coffee ought to be kept in air tight jars or cans and distributed in several small jars, rather than a large amount in one jar, as the daily opening no doubt wastes much of the aroma.

For making the coffee a granite or bright tin pot having a broad spout, which may be cleansed easily, and a cover that fits tightly, will answer as well as many of the high-priced patent pots. Be careful to have the spout airtight. Sometimes a porcelain lined stewpan with a tight cover is preferred for the ease with which it may be kept clean. The coffee is strained from this into the pot for serving.

The general proportions are one rounded tablespoon coffee for each half pint cup of water. The proportion of coffee may be less, where a quart or more of water is to be used. With some brands of coffee a teaspoon is sufficient for a cup. The following recipes will illustrate a variety of methods from which one may choose according to taste, assured that if these first important general principles are followed the result will not fail to be good.

FOR MAKING BOILED COFFEE.

Rinse out the coffee pot with boiling water. Put in three rounded tablespoons ground coffee, one clean egg shell and pour on one quart of fresh boiling water. Cover closely and let it boil just five minutes, counting from the time it begins to boil. Then set it back, and pour out half a cup to free the spout from the grounds. Pour it back, adding also half a cup of cold water. This, as it settles through the liquid, will help to carry the grounds to the bottom. Set the pot where the coffee will heat again, but not to boiling point, and in serving be careful not to roll it by shaking the pot.

FOR COLD WATER COFFEE.

Into a clean, scalded coffee pot, or tightly covered saucepan, put two rounded tablespoons of ground coffee, and let it stand where the coffee will become quite hot without burning. Then pour on four cups of cold water cover closely, and let it come very slowly to the boiling point, and boil not more than three minutes. Set it back to settle and cleanse the spout before sending it to the table.

FOR COFFEE WITH AN EGG.

Wash the egg and break it, shell and all, into a bowl, add half a cup of cold water and stir in one cup of ground coffee.

Turn it into a well scalded coffee pot. Pour on six cups of freshly boiling water and stir it well. Cover tightly, stuff a cork or paper into the spout if there be no lid to it. Set it where it will come slowly to the boiling point, and let it boil not more than five minutes. Add half a cup of cold water, and let it stand ten minutes where it will be hot but not boiling.

Eggs give a richness of color, a body and a flavor, which many think are essential, but the albumen clogs the grounds, and if boiled too quickly prevents all of the strength from being drawn out. Therefore, the coffee should be cooked longer, or a larger amount must be used to have the desired strength.

The eggs should always be diluted with cold water, otherwise the strength would not be drawn from the coffee. When a similar amount of coffee is desired use part of the egg mixture and cover the remainder until wanted.—Mary J. Lincoln.

Scientific Tooth Brush.

Doctors have long told us that the prevailing way of brushing the teeth is insufficient, inasmuch as in the passage of the bristles across the teeth there is no opportunity afforded for the dislodgment of the particles held between them. An up and down motion has been recommended, but the old way seemed to be such a natural one that it was found difficult to depart from it, and the reform method has met with but faint indorsement. A sanitary toothbrush that will cleanse the molars in a scientific way has been conceived and recently patented in this country. The handle comprises a casing, which accommodates a spirally-grooved shaft removably held in the end of said casing. A hollow handle lifted over these grooves affords means for revolving the brush as it is held over the teeth. The action of this implement is much the same as the automatic screwdrivers now so generally in use, in which, in which a revolving motion is imparted to the screw by mere pressure on the handle.

To Pulverize Salt.

If you find your salt in the salt bag as hard as the proverbial "nether millstone," don't attempt to pulverize it with the hammer or potato masher, but, lifting the bag a foot or two from the table drop it down solidly several times, turning it from side to side until the contents are again reduced to crystals.

Bayern.

München. Zu dem vom 14. bis 18. Juli hier stattfindenden Kongreß des Deutschen Radfahrerbundes sind bereits über 5000 Theilnehmer angesagt.—Von einem Irrsinnigen, der mit einem Begleiter von Aichach hierher reiste und in der hiesigen Kreisirrenanstalt untergebracht werden sollte, wurde der Augsburg-Münchner Zug bei der Einfahrt in den Centralbahnhof mit der Nothleine gestellt. Der Irrsinnige wollte nach dem Anhalten des Zuges entspringen, doch wurde er von seinem Wärter festgehalten und beruhigt. Der Zug setzte nach einigem Aufenthalte die Fahrt bis in die Einsteighalle fort. Ein Wagen brachte den Geisteskranken in die Kreisirrenanstalt.

Dettelbach. Dieser Tage feierte Benefiziat Ludwig Katzenberger hier sein goldenes Priesterjubiläum. Die Stadt ernannte ihn zum Ehrenbürger.

Eichendorf. Der Großökonom Peter Sulzbeck von Lappersdorf wurde neulich früh von seinem ältesten Sohne in der Vils, in welche er die Nacht vorher gerathen war, ertrunken aufgefunden. Der 50jährige Mann hinterläßt eine Wittwe und sechs Kinder.

Kötzing. Hier wurden durch eine Feuersbrunst 20 Häuser in Asche gelegt. Zwei Personen kamen in den Flammen um.

Landshut. Für die Errichtung einer mechanisch-technischen Fachschule in Verbindung mit der hiesigen Realschule unter besonderer Berücksichtigung des landwirthschaftlichen Maschinenbaues und der Elektrotechnik ist vom Kultusministerium ein unrefundirlicher Zuschuß von 30,000 Mark gewährt worden.

Nürnberg. Dem Prinzen Max von Sachsen, der Kuratus an der hiesigen Elisabethkirche ist, wurden die Edelsteine von dem Meßgewande, das ihm die Königin von England geschenkt hatte, losgelöst und gestohlen.

Passau. Mit dem 1. November 1899 wird hier eine Baugewerkschule errichtet und zwar zunächst der erste Kurs. Das Schuljahr dauert von Anfang November bis Ende März.

Pregnitz. Im nahen Willenberg wurde ein Mädchen des Oekonomen Eckert vom Hofhunde, den es beim Fressen störte, lebensgefährlich im Gesichte verletzt.

Regensburg. In einem Anfall von Geistesgestörtheit hat die Gattin des Generalarztes Rußwurm Selbstmord begangen. Sie sprang aus einem Fenster des dritten Stockes auf das Straßenpflaster und war auf der Stelle eine Leiche.

Würzburg. Gegen eine Reihe hiesiger Kaufleute, die amerikanisches Rauchfleisch und Schweinefleisch führen, wurde Untersuchung wegen unlauteren Wettbewerbes eingeleitet, weil sie das Schweinefett als „deutsch-raffinirt" anpriesen.

Aus der Rheinpfalz.

Albersweiler. Hier erschoß sich der Landwirth Friedrich Menges, ein 82jähriger Greis, wegen schweren körperlichen Leidens.

Ludwigshafen. Der hiesige Stadtrath wählte den früheren Bezirksamtsassessor Krafft einstimmig zum lebenslänglichen Bürgermeister. Der Dienstvertrag setzt ein jährliches Gehalt von 15,000 Mark im Maximum fest, der sich nach der Einverleibung Mundenheims um 2000 Mark erhöht.

Mutterstadt. In der hiesigen Gegend blühte von jeher das Wildererhandwerk. Nun ist abermals eine Wildererbande verhaftet worden, an deren Spitze der Wirth Jakob Grübel stand.

Neustadt. In Anwesenheit des Regierungspräsidenten sowie zahlreicher Interessenten wurde dieser Tage durch den Bürgermeister Exter die Wein- und Obstbau-Schule des hiesigen Kreises eröffnet.

Württemberg.

Stuttgart. Der verantwortliche politische Redakteur des hiesigen „Neuen Tagblatts," Leopold Neuberg, ist nach mehr als 25jähriger ersprießlicher Thätigkeit im Dienste dieses Blattes in den Ruhestand getreten. Sein Nachfolger ist Redakteur Hermann Schmid, der schon seit vielen Jahren der Redaktion des „N. T." angehört. — Weibliche Fabrikaufsicht soll nach dem Beispiele Bayerns nunmehr auch in Württemberg eingeführt werden, zunächst auf Probe. Vorläufig sind im neuen Etat 2000 Mark für eine Assistentin der Fabrikinspektion ausgeworfen. Ihre Thätigkeit beschränkt sich auf gesundheitlichen und sittlichen Schutz der Arbeiterinnen.

Bissingen. Die Schuhfabrik von Wilhelm Keller ist Nachts abgebrannt. Große Vorräthe sowie 60 Maschinen sind zerstört woren. Das Vordergebäude wurde beschädigt.

Eßlingen. Die Kirche zu St. Bernhardt, deren Gründung in's 13. Jahrhundert zurückreicht, wurde im vorigen Jahre umgebaut und bedeutend vergrößert. Nachdem im Laufe des Winters alle Arbeiten im Innern derselben ausgeführt werden konnten, fand jetzt die feierliche Einweihung unter allgemeiner Theilnahme der Kirchspielgenossen, der Bewohner der Filialorte Wäldenbronn und Liebersbronn, sowie einer großen Zahl Festgäste aus der Stadt und den anderen Filialorten statt.

CARSON WILDRED'S CRIME.

A Detective Story of Two Continents,
by
HARRY WOOD REYNOLDS.

CHAPTER XVIII.

I took the two envelopes from the man and told him he might go. Now for it! I thought. Now to see whether the edifice I had built had but a foundation of sand, or whether Wildred had merely been clever enough to pull wool over the eyes of the police.

My heart was thumping with excitement as I opened the first envelope.

"St. Paul in to-night. First class passenger on board named Harvey Farnham."

I laid the bit of paper down dazedly and took up the other. It was from the manager of the Fifth Avenue Hotel in New York. "Mr. Farnham telegraphed to keep room for him. Is spending a day or two with friend."

I did not know what to think. It all sounded straightforward enough, and it was not credible that either the officials in the office of the American liners or the manager of a hotel could be in collusion with Carson Wildred. Still, I was far from being satisfied.

Days never dragged as they did with me until I received the promised intimation from my friend the inspector that tidings had arrived from the police in New York. It was all right, so far as my friend was concerned, and I need have no further fears regarding his safety. The body found in the Thames was certainly not that of Mr. Harvey Farnham, as he was in New York, and had actually been interviewed there. He had been very ill in crossing, and had had the misfortune to fall down the companionway on shipboard in a heavy gale, spraining his ankle. He would not be able to resume his journey and proceed to Denver for some time to come, but had laughed at the idea of any foul play. When questioned on the subject of the ring he said he had given it to his friend. Mr. Wildred at parting, and jokingly added that he had experienced great difficulty in getting it off.

A hot sense of injustice burned with in me. I had been thwarted on every side, not, I believed, by the revelation of truth, but by Carson Wildred's superior cunning.

I could, I thought, understand what his motive for so foul a murder might have been. He had just purchased a valuable gold mine from Farnham. Should Farnham be made to vanish without fear of suspicion falling upon Wildred, the latter might not only be the owner of the mine, but repossess himself of the purchase money, which must have comprised a very large sum.

In the midst of the cogitations which followed upon the receipt of the inspector's letter another cablegram was handed in to me from Farnham himself, merely saying: "Many thanks for kind inquiries. Have turned up here smiling, but too seedy to write at present. Glad to hear from you.—Fifth Avenue Hotel."

It was then Friday. In five minutes after reading this kind and apparently conclusive cablegram I had resolved that on the following day, Saturday, I would sail for New York.

My decisions when made are usually soon acted upon. Within a couple of hour's after receiving the inspector's letter and the message from New York my passage was engaged for the following day. A curious mood was upon me as I began my preparations. Hardly more than a fortnight ago I had been congratulating myself on the prospect of a considerable stay in London. My ideal existence had for the moment been an utterly aimless one. I was sated with excitement and what is popularly called "adventure," and had only wanted to rest and amuse myself. I had meant to be a man about town until I should again tire of the life, drifting agreeably here and there, taking pleasure as it came, troubling myself little either about other people's affairs or my own.

By 2 o'clock everything was arranged for my departure on Saturday, and I was at Waterloo, taking my ticket for Haslemere, which was the station nearest to Sir Walter Tressidy's country place.

CHAPTER XIX

"I had a long dreary drive after leaving the train, though in other circumstances I might have been charmed by one of England's fairest counties. As it was I merely chafed at the endless hill, up which the horses slowly plodded, half inclined to think that I should have done better to trust to my own feet or come on a bicycle from town.

The curtain of twilight was falling by the time my fly entered the long avenue that led to the house. Here and there lights shone out from the windows, and as the vehicle drew up before the door I caught a glimpse of something which set my heart throbbing.

It was only a ruddy gleam of firelight on a golden head, which shone for an instant in the warm light like burnished copper; only a rosy glow on a girl's white dress, a shimmer seen between the parted folds of dark rich window drapings.

For a second only the vision was granted me. A tall, slender form rose from its kneeling position before the fire, and in so moving passed beyond my line of sight. But my pulses leaped, and I rejoiced in the good fortune which had brought me at an hour when Karine was not absent.

Presently in answer to my summons a footman appeared (a fellow I remembered to have seen at the town house when I had called), and it struck me that, as I inquired if Lady Tressidy was at home, he eyed me more piercingly than a well-trained servant usually eyes a guest.

"I am sorry, sir," he answered with a slight hesitation, "that her ladyship is out at present. What name shall I say when she returns?"

"Mr. Stanton." I unsuspectingly replied, though it did dimly occur to me that the man might have left me to give him my card.

"I am sorry," I hypocritically remarked, "not to see Lady Tressidy; but I have come some distance, and perhaps Miss Cunningham would spare me a few minutes."

"I—I am afraid, sir."—still stammering uncomfortably—"that Miss Cunningham is away with her ladyship."

"I think you are mistaken about that," I boldly said. "Please be good enough at any rate to inquire."

"I am quite sure I am right, sir," he went on more firmly. "Miss Cunningham is with my lady."

There might be one way out, and I took it.

"I will wait," I announced, "until the ladies return. Or possibly Sir Walter"

"Sir Walter wont be here for a day or two," promptly responded the man.

"As for the ladies, sir, unfortunately they are not expected back this evening until—until the last train—too late, as you can understand to receive any visitors, as at all events they can't reach the house until after eleven."

I will write a line on my card, then, to be handed to the ladies, whom I regret not having seen," I said with what dignity I had at my command, and stepping past him into the hall, despite a visible gleam of consternation in his eye, I deliberately took out a pencil and card case, slowly scribbling a few words.

I conspicuously placed a sovereign on the card as I gave it to the footman, remarking quietly that I would wish the latter to be delivered in the presence of both ladies if possible. Then I seemed to have come to the end of my resources, until a desperate idea seized me.

I turned from the door and got into the cab, which the footman politely opened for me as if only too glad to speed the parting guest. The direction "to the station," was given, the gravel crunched under the wheels and horse's hoofs, the door at which I had been received so inhospitably shut me out of paradise, and no doubt the servant triumphantly watched me drive off. Halfway down the avenue, however, I thrust my stick from the window of the rattle-trap vehicle and stopped the coachman.

"I have forgotten something I curtly said. "You needn't go back; wait here, and I'll return in a few moments."

The fly was standing just out of sight from the house, and rapidly leaving it behind me. I strode over the frozen grass of the lawn, taking a shorter cut than the avenue would have been.

The falling darkness had protected me, I felt confident, from being seen by anybody in the house as I crossed the lawn, and I approached with a boldness, which only left me as I reached the window.

The curtain hung apart as before, and I could see the fireplace, with the lights and shadows travelling fantastically along the polished floor and wall. The white irradiated figure was no longer visible, but, undiscouraged by this fact, I gently rapped, trusting that Karine might be in another part of the room to which my eyes could not reach.

But I knocked once, twice, thrice, each time a little louder, a little more insistently than before, and there was no response, no sound, no movement. After all, I was thwarted, and I had but one comfort in the midst of gloom—I had not been easily repulsed, I had done what I could, and need not feel afterward, when I was far away, that I had let myself be outwitted, outgeneraled, without an effort to resist.

Fate had decided that I must go to America without a word, without a look into Karine Cunningham's eyes; and, drearily returning to my waiting cab, I commenced once more the tedious drive to the station.

CHAPTER XX.

It was a piercing cold day when I landed in New York—such cold as I had not felt since I had finished my last American visit, four years ago.

I had myself driven straight to the Fifth Avenue Hotel, which was becoming almost an old-fashioned hostelry now among its many tall new rivals of incredibly many stories in height and, walking up to the "office," prepared my most affable manner to win the confidence of the smart "clerk" or bookkeeper.

"Good-day," I began agreeably, wishing that in former visits to New York I had stopped at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, so that now, for my quest's sake I should be accorded the welcome of an old friend.

"Good-day," was the brisk reply. "You want a room?"

"I should like first to inquire if Mr. Harvey Farnham, of Denver Colorado, is stopping here," I said. "My principal object in choosing this hotel was to meet him, but "if—

"Gone three days ago," broke in the gentleman with the waxed mustache, who evidently did not want to waste time on a traveller more inclined to parley than to patronize the house.

"Ah, indeed? I'm sorry to hear that he has left. Is he with friends in town, or has he gone to Denver?" I questioned, with as bland an air as I could well command.

"Can't tell you whether he's gone to Denver, I'm sure, sir. But I think it's pretty sure he's not in town, and somehow or other I've got the impression that he mentioned he was going West."

"I suppose his health improved more rapidly than expected, then?" I went on. "I understood before crossing that his accident on shipboard had laid him up for awhile, and that it would be some time before he felt fit to undertake the journey home."

"He did seem rather seedy," vouchsafed the clerk. "He wasn't very thin, if you mean that. But he limped about with a crutch, and as he had bumped his forehead in the same fall which sprained his ankle, he wore a green shade that covered his temples and eyes."

I grew attentive at this. It appeared to me that here was a point in my favor.

"I should like to have a talk with one of his old friends in the hotel," I said; "the manager for instance. No doubt he knows Mr. Farnham very well.'

"He does, but he's out of town on business for a day or two. I think you'll find though, that our bartender and Mr. Farnham, were about as chummy together as any one in the house."

Apparently at my leisure, really with great impatience, I repaired to the very handsome "barroom" of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, and here the oracle was very communicative.

Having mixed me a peculiarly American drink called "gin fizz," the bartender was willing to chat of Mr. Farnham.

"I guess he must have been pretty bad this last time," he said in response to my first question, "for he didn't trouble the bar-room much."

"He did come in, however, did he not?" I asked anxiously.

"Oh, yes, he came in once or twice, but I thought he acted rather grumpy and queer."

"Did you have a good look at him either time?" I pressed on, with eagerness.

I LET MY GLANCE TRAVEL FEARFULLY TO THE LEFT HAND.

"Pretty good. Almost as close as you are now I guess."

"And did he appear the same as usual, with the exception of the green shade over his eyes?"

"Well, I reckon he did. I was kind of busy both times, and I don't know as I took much notice."

"Still"—and I called up a laugh—"you'd have known whether it really was Mr. Farnham, or a stranger passing himself off in his place?"

The bartender stared at me for an instant, and, had he spoken his inmost thoughts, probably they might have been appropriately expressed in the slang phrase, "Ah, what are you givin' me?"

"Well, it might have been his grandfather's ghost, I daresay," he facetiously remarked at length, "but, anyhow, there seemed to be a strong resemblance between Harvey Farnham and him."

I set down my glass untouched. A cold conviction was growing within me that I had been mistaken; that, villain as Carson Wildred was, he had not, after all, been guilty of the one great crime which I had attributed to him. It seemed almost impossible that this keen-eyed man, accustomed to Farnham's comings and goings for several years, could have mistaken another for him.

Next morning, when I had put together the few things that I had had occasion to unpack, and was "tipping" the pretty chambermaid who "happened" to come to my door as I was departing, a sudden inspiration seized me, and I called the young woman back again as she was disappearing.

"By the way," I said, "did you happen to attend a Mr. Harvey Farnham, who was here a few days ago, and who has often stopped in the hotel?"

"Oh, yes, sir," she answered, "I know him quite well, and a very pleasant generous gentleman he is—or rather" (and her face changed at some recollection) "or rather, was."

I caught her up eagerly. "Was?" I echoed. "Wasn't he the same as usual this last time?"

"No, that he wasn't, sir. I thought to myself, thinks I, 'Mr. Farnham must have been disappointed in love or something,' he was so grumpy and dull. Always before when he came he had a good word for me; 'How do you do, Ginnie?' or a smile and a nod, but now he went by me without a sign, for all the world as if he'd never seen me before, though I've been here since I was seventeen; that's six years ago. When I spoke to him first, why, he looked up and answered in a mumbling way, never even saying my name. But, then, poor gentleman, I suppose he was too sick to think of anybody except himself."

"Did he look strangely?" I went on to question.

"Oh, I don't know about that sir, except for the green shade he had to wear over his eyes; I suppose his face was much the same. Only I didn't get many chances to see it, and all his jolly ways and smiles were gone, so that made a difference. I was so glad when I saw his baggage coming up, for there's never been a gentleman so popular with us girls as Mr. Farnham; but except for his giving me something when he went away he might almost as well not have been in the hotel."

"Would you have recognized his voice," I asked, "if you had not seen him?"

'I would when he was well and like hisself, sir, in a minute, but not this time, because of the bad cold he'd got on the voyage, which he said was the worst he'd ever had. He did nothing but cough and wheeze, and could only speak in a hoarse sort of whisper."

These details were all I could extract from "Ginnie," the chambermaid; but before I left the hotel I bethought me to examine the visitors' book for Farnham's name, wishing to look at the handwriting, which, if his, I felt sure I could not fail to recognize.

Evidently he had not considered it worth while to write in the visitors' book on this occasion, though I found that he had scrawled his name on a visit some months before.

Having by dint of some exertion foud the cabman who had driven Farnham from the hotel to the railway depot, I made sure that his luggage had been "checked" to Denver, and so set forth again, with a feeling that I had something to go upon.

It was just breakfast time when I arrived, but the business world of Denver, Col., and the "great West' is astir at an hour which would appear unusual in England. I asked for Mr. Farnham, and was told by a young clerk that he had returned to Denver three or four days previously. He had not been at the offices, as he was somewhat unwell as yet, but if I chose I could see Mr. Bennett, who would tell me when he might be expected.

I remembered Bennett, now that I was reminded of his existence, as an energetic young fellow, high in Farnham's confidence, who probably knew as much about the mining and other financial interests as did his employer. I said therefore, that I would see Mr. Bennett by all means.

He came in to me briskly in a few moments, surprised and, he said, delighted to see me again. Yes, it was quite true that Mr. Farnham had returned, but was as yet unable to be troubled by business affairs.

"You look ill, Mr. Stanton,' remarked Bennett. "I guess you've had a tiresome journey. I know what a nasty run that is between Chicago and Denver."

"I believe I am a bit knocked up," I said, "though I ought to be able to stand a trifle like that and think nothing of it. I should be glad to see Mr. Farnham. I suppose such an old friend as I might venture to call on him, even though he isn't feeling as fit as I should like to think him. If he isn't likely to turn up here presently I might drive to the house, and he'd give me breakfast, I dare say."

"YOU SEEM SURPRISED, MR. STANTON," SAID THE INSPECTOR.

"You can bet he would give you breakfast, or anything else he had, Mr. Stanton," the trusted man of business said heartily, yet with certain irresolution

"But the fact is, he aint at the house this morning. He's gone away again."

"I thought he was unwell," I interpolated, in surprise.

"That's so. He's a sick man, not hardly fit to be about, but for all that he's off. He ought to be back again in—well, in a few days, however."

"A few days!" I echoed.

"I tell you what you do, Mr. Stanton, Bennet continued, recovering his wonted self-possession. "You just go up to the house, and make yourself at home there till Mr. Farnham gets back. You know what a big place it is, and how glad the chief is to fill it with his friends, especially such friends as you. Then, by the end of next week, anyhow—"

I interrupted him impatiently. "What, will he be away till then?"

'I should think it probable from what he said before he left sir."

"I wish," I exclaimed desperately, "that you could see your way to make things a little clearer for me. I don't want to pry into Mr. Farnham's affairs, ofcourse,—that goes without saying. But perhaps, without any betrayal of confidence, you might let me know exactly what he did tell you in regard to his return."

"Well," said Bennett, with a short laugh, "seeing it's you, the fact is, Mr. Stanton, it is a very considerable relief to my mind to talk over the matter and ask your opinion as to one or two points that have been rather troubling me."

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

THE FIRE BALLOON.

Can Be Easily Made With Tissue Paper and a Little Wire.

This balloon is very interesting, especially to boys who have been learning at school anything about air and balloons, for it is very like the first balloon made, more than 100 years ago, by two Frenchmen who lived near Lyons. Their baloon seemed a very astonishing thing, for it rose to a height of 5000 feet, stopped in the air for 10 minutes, and came down a mile and a half away. Everybody wondered and everybody talked about this strange thing. I wonder what they would say to the balloons of to-day, could they see them?

Look at Fig 1. It is made of two sheets of tissue paper pasted together tern drawn on it and cut out.

Twelve of these patterns go to make the balloon, and they must be pasted together to make the shape of Fig. 2. There is an opening at the top, which must be covered by a circle of tissue paper. For the bottom, get some wire and twist it into a ring, and then turn the edges of the paper round it. In this way you have a round opening that will not lose its shape. Fasten a cross wire, to which you have fastened a bit of sponge or cotton wool, across this opening, and your balloon is quite ready for flight. How is it to be sent up? Here the aid of father must be called in, although I expect that the boy who can make the balloon properly will be able to do the rest safely. First light a long scroll of brown paper, and hold the opening over it; then, when the balloon is a little inflated—blown out—with the warm air, pour spirits of wine on the sponge and put a match to it. Up, up! will go that balloon, till it is perhaps out of sight, and, if there is a breeze, it will float for a mile or two.

A New Game.

Two fans, one for yourself and one for the person whom you are going to play with, and a small sponge, are all you need for this game. Toss the sponge in the air, and hit it with your fan to your comrade and he will hit it back to you. At the beginning of the game each person has fifty points, and whoever lets the sponge drop on the floor loses one point. The game is kept up until one of the two has no points. He is the loser and the other is the winner.

Transparency of the Sea.

Near the Bermudas the sea is extremely transparent, so that the fishermen can readily see the horns of the lobsters protruding from their hiding places in the rocks at a considerable depth. To entice the crustaceans from their crannies they tie a lot of snails in a ball and dangle them in front of the cautious lobster.

The Floating Needle.

Take a tumbler or goblet and fill it to the brim with water. Moisten and heat a needle by holding it in your hand, then very carefully place it on the water, and you will see it float. Try it and you will see how easily it can be done.

Not Consoling.

Tommy (who has been indulging in unripe fruit, clandestinely acquired). "Mother, if a boy steals green apples, will he go to the bad place?"

Mother—"Yes, Tommy; but before that he will have the stomachache."

Depth of Oceans.

The Pacific Ocean covers 78,000,000 square miles, the Atlantic 25,000,000, the Mediterranean 1,000,000.

Tidbits in Porto Rico.

"The oysters you get in Porto Rico are small and have the coppery taste that the bivalves they furnish in Europe have," remarked E. M. Mercer of New York. "The fish, however, are very fine, and the fruits of the island are delicious. In fact, it is a country where human life is easily supported with very little labor. The expense of living to the natives is very light. The boys of the common class go naked till they are about ten years old. I think that the reports of native immorality have been greatly exaggerated. My own observation was that the people behaved with quite as much propriety as they do in our own country, where certainly the opportunities for a correct mode of life are superior, seeing that we enjoy a much higher standard of civilization. For an oppressed and tax ridden people the Porto Ricans do well, and there is little about them that calls for severe criticism."

Small Fame for Spanish Actors.

Theatres in Spain have no programmes. A bill in the lobby sometimes gives the cast, but most of the actors remain unknown by name. The curtain is devoted to advertisements, and in Madrid theatres advertising cards are affixed with the numbers on the back of each seat.

Workingmen of Calcutta.

The hours of work in the Calcutta jute mills are from 4:30 a. m. to 9 p. m., or 16½ hours per day, Saturdays included, and all repairs and cleaning of machinery have to be made on Sundays.

Fasts of Jains.

In fasting feats the sect of Jains, in India, is far ahead of its rivals. Fasts of from thirty to forty days are very common, and once a year they are said to abstain from food for seventy-five days.

Coaling a Warship

The rate at which modern warships take in coal is simply marvelous. The Magnificent, a first-class British battleship in the Mediterranean, recently averaged over 160 tons per hour—a rate of nearly three tons a minute.

Flowers in Tuscany.

Flowers are never used in Tuscany, but at Christmas and Easter all the walls of the cathedrals are decked with wonderful damask of almost priceless value.

Child Wives.

The latest Government census in India showed 6,016,759 girls between five and nine years of age, who were already married, of whom 170,000 had become widows.

Drafting of Spaniards.

Any Spaniard over the age of nineteen is liable to be called into military service for three years. By the payment of 1,500 pesetas ($300) he can escape military duty.

Deafness.

At least one-third of all people in middle life have one ear affected by deafness.

The Outing baseball team played the Norwood Athletic Club Saturday afternoon and defeated them by a score of 20 to 9. The battery for the victorious team consisted of Schoonmaker and George. VanNorden and McNorton were the battery for the N. A. C.

Manager William A. Fisher, of the Plainfield High School team, is doing his best to persuade the management of the Newark High School to change their minds and come to Plainfield Saturday afternoon. As the High School team from Newark defeated the Newark Academy team, the Plainfield boys are particularly anxious to meet the Newark High School team, having now defeated the Academy boys. If they will not come here, however, the Bachelors' Club team will probably be the attraction for Saturday afternoon at the Crescent Oval.

GOLF.

The Rahway and Woodridge Golf Club will formally open its new clubhouse Memorial Day with a reception and a concert, to which the fashionable people of both places are to be invited.

A meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Park Golf Club was held Saturday evening, and Alfred Fassett and Andrew Mali were elected to membership.

Matthew Rodger Brown, the professional at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, appeared on the links Saturday for a while and everyone who met him seemed to be much impressed with his ability. Yesterday Mr. Brown began giving lessons to those desiring to learn the game.

There were two Plainfield competitors in the ladies' handicap golf tournament, held at the Lakewood Golf Club links, Saturday. Mrs. N. Pendle-Rogers finished seventh with a handicap of 13 and a net score of 106. Miss. Gertrude Andrews was tenth with a handicap of 10 and a net score of 110. The tournament was won by Miss Mabel Parks, of the Richmond County Club with a handicap and a net score of 99. In the driving competition that followed, Miss Andrews was third with a distance of 356 yards for three drives. Mrs. N. P. Rogers was fifth with a total of 295 yards for the three drives.

Senator Chas. A. Reed is becoming an enthusiastic golf player and frequently can be seen on the Park Golf Club course. Last Friday afternoon he visited the links and became so interested in the game that it was dark before he realized it. He happened to remember that there was a Council meeting that evening and he hustled from the links to the Council chamber. After the meeting he found it necessary to borrow a light overcoat to go home in, as it was rather chilly and he was dressed for summer and golf playing. Great things in golf may be expected from the Senator before the summer is over.

AMONG THE STEPPERS.

Some good events are promised for July 3d, "Sampson Day," and July 4th, at the Driving Park when a large number of horses are expected to be present.

Other events will probably be arranged and the committee in charge will probably arrange to have more prizes. As yet the horses are not in good condition for racing and their owners are not willing to push them very fast on the track. However, there will be some good racing and a good crowd should be in attendance. There will be no admission fee and all lovers of good racing are welcome to attend.

A fine programme is being arranged for the opening of the Plainfield Gentlemen's Driving Park track next Saturday afternoon. There will be three events of great interest. There will be a 2:25 race with John Osborn, Thomas Brantingham, Douglass Darby and W. O. Baldwin as the contestants. There will be a 2:35 race in which John Osborn, W. A. Codington, Dr. Nelson and Newton B. Smalley will contest. The third race will be the nearest to 2:50 for a prize silver cup. The contestants are Mr. Wright, Edward Campbell, Douglass Darby and J. W. Johnson.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Dr. Endicott has purchased a Columbia chainless for his sister from Rockfellow's Columbia agency.

F. L. C. Martin and Frank E. Woodruff rode to Asbury Park Sunday, a distance of about 120 miles.

The Y. M. C. A. Bicycle club will take its first run of the season Thursday night. The route will be over the Springfield road to Springfield and and Elizabeth, returning by way of Westfield. As this is the first run, the members want to make it a success.

VARICUS SPORTS.

In the trials for the track team at Yale University, Saturday afternoon, Charles Dupee, of this city, finished second in a 150 yard dash. He had 16 yards handicap. Morey, with 18 yards handicap, won the event.

In the interscholastic games held at Princeton, Saturday afternoon, Carrol L. Runyon, of Leal's School won third place throwing the hammer with a throw of 122 feet, 2 inches. The event was won by Dewitt of Lawrenceville School.

JURY DISAGREED AGAIN.

Action of Ephraim Vail Against Frank Miles Will be Tried for Third Time.

The jury in the Ephraim Vail against Frank Miles' case disagreed again yesterday afternoon, and could not reach a verdict. This is the second time the case has been tried, and there is nothing to do but try it over again.

The dispute over a claim of F. A. Dunham against Miles for surveying, and the claim was sold to Vail, making him the plaintiff. The jury cannot tell whether the defendant can be held for the bill or not, as there is a letter in evidence showing that Mr. Dunham wrote him and told him that he would not look to him (Miles) for the money, but to the lawyers and others who had the survey made.

William Newcorn represented the plaintiff and Codington & Swackhamer the defendant.

The Electrical Show in New York.

The Madison Square Garden will be until June 3d an attractive place to visit even amid all there is to be seen in the big city of New York and the Electrical Show, which opens at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and closes at 11 o'clock at night, is a revelation in electrical accomplishment and magnificent effects. It is given under the auspices of the National Electric Light Association and their convention will be held during the show. It is not alone a display of electrical affects, but there are curiosities to be wondered at everywhere and there is something to be seen by everybody, young and old. The decorations and marvels in electric light make it a splendid scene at night, but everything is in motion during the entire afternoon and evening.

Victory for Elizabeth Firemen.
(Special to The Daily Press)

Elizabeth, May 9.—The City Council Friday night defeated by a unanimous vote the ordinance recently introduced to take away from the firemen the power to elect the Chief Engineer for the department and place it in the Council's hands. The move was so unpopular that even the members who proposed it did not vote for the ordinance when it came up to be acted upon.

Slightly Damaged By Water.

47 very fine men's suits were slightly damaged by water in our store through the neglect of one of Mr. Stillman's tenants having caused an overflow in the sink and the result was that an entire lot on one of our tables were slightly wet. This table that got wet is in the rear end of the store and the water came through the ceiling. We will place this lot of suits on a separate table and we will sell them at about 15c to 25c on the dollar.

Every one of these suits is just as they were before; they have all been dried and pressed and are now in just as good a condition as though they had never been wet.

They MUST be sold on Wednesday and Thursday, must have the room for other goods. Come at once, first come, first served.

We expect to sell all these suits very fast as they will go very cheap.

KEAN'S TROLLEY PATH IS NOT AN EASY ONE.

Elizabeth Franchise is Being Held Up by President Ryan.

MAY REFUSE TO ACCEPT IT.

SENATOR SAYS IF THERE IS ANY MORE DELAY HE WILL QUIT.

It is Feared that the County Boulevard Scheme is Doomed to Defeat Owing to the Opposition Which It Has Encountered in Cranford—Elizabethport Road May Not be Built.

(Special to The Daily Press)

Elizabeth May 10.—The franchise which the Elizabeth City Council granted to Senator John Kean May 1st to build and operate a trolley road from Elizabeth to Cranford is being held up for some unknown reason by President Ryan, of the Board, and has not been submitted to the Mayor for his signature. The trolley company is angry over the strange delay in signing the ordinance. It is said that a special meeting of the City Council will be held tonight.

In the mean time the Board of Freeholders is going ahead granting concessions to the rival trolley syndicate which is coming down to Elizabeth from Plainfield and Westfield, and it looks as if the County Boulevard and trolley scheme, for which Senator Kean received a franchise and for which he is to pay the county $250,000, may never be carried out, owing to the opposition it is meeting at Cranford.

It is rumored that a new demand on the Kean Company is to be sprung at the special meeting of the City Council.

Senator Kean's representatives declare if there is any more trouble with the franchise the company will refuse to accept it, and the Elizabethport-Cranford road will not be built by them.

BISHOP ON DIVORCE.

For Illustration of His Meaning He Points to Recent Cases.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Princeton, May 10—The annual diocesan convention of the Episcopal church of New Jersey was opened at Princeton yesterday and will be continued today. Yesterday afternoon Bishop Scarborough delivered his annual address. Among other things he said:

"I believe that ironclad laws should be adopted in regard to the separation of those who have been united in marriage. It is gross immorality that divorce should be granted one month and in the next either or both of the parties concerned in the first transaction should be again joined by that holy bond which should be regarded as eternal, but is often looked upon as a mere business contract. Illustrations of my meaning may be drawn from recent divorces granted to members of the so-called higher class of society. We must have rigid laws to erase the stigma from the fair escutcheon of our morality."

Change in Residences.

The following residential changes have been made by Conover's moving vans: F. E. Knight from Belvidere avenue to storage; Victor Keane from LaGrande avenue to West Front street; George Suydam from Manning avenue to Spooner avenue; Wm. Slape from Boonton to Liberty street; Mr. Brady from East Third street to Grove street; E. H. Ladd, Jr., from Franklin place to Stelle avenue; Mrs. Crittenden from Grove street to East Sixth street; Mrs. DeMazure from Webster place to Washington avenue; Mrs. Young from Arlington avenue to East Front street; Mrs. Messersmith from storage to Fairview avenue.

Engineer Back To Duty.

Joe Case, the veteran engineer on the Jersey Central Railroad, has returned to his duty on engine No. 370, which daily takes the 7:55 express to Jersey City. He has been ill at his home at Flemington with the pneumonia most of the winter.

Caught a Fine Shad.

The types in yesterday's Daily Press made out that William R. Stansbery caught "five" shad instead of a "fine" shad. Mr. Stansbery's capture of one of that kind of fish was a sufficient rarity without enlarging the number of them to five.

Prof. Guttman to Lead.

Excellent music will continue this year to be one of the many attractions at Boynton Beach. Mr. Boynton has secured Prof. Nathan Guttman, of this city, as leader for his band that will give daily concerts in the pavilion there.

SALE NOT TALKED OF.

ANNUAL MEETING OF UNION COUNTY COUNTRY CLUB.

Six Trustees Elected by Unanimous Action—Special Meeting to be Held to Consider the Foreclosure of the Mortgage.

Nothing has yet been done regarding the sale of the property of the Union County Country Club. It was expected that the subject would be discussed at the annual meeting of the club held last evening. It wasn't, however. The only business transacted was the election of six trustees. The polls were open for three hours according to the constitution. Then a short meeting was held at which the subject of the sale was entirely avoided.

There was only one ticket nominated and that ticket of six trustees was unanimously elected. The six trustees were E. H. Booth, H. G. Runkle, L. E. Waring, W. R. Cock, W. W. Smith and C. E. Brooks.

A meeting of the trustees will be held in a few days and officers for the ensuing year elected. A special meeting of the club will also be called shortly by the new president, when elected, and the action to be taken regarding the sale will then be considered.

ABOUT CHILD CULTURE.

SUBJECTS TO BE DISCUSSED BY FEDERATED CLUBS.

Spring Convention to be Held at Rutherford Tomorrow—New Feature Will be the "President's Hour."

Federated Club Women of New Jersey will hold their spring meeting in Rutherford tomorrow. This will be the first time the federation has met in the northern part of the State, and the selection of a small suburb as a meeting place for all the women's clubs of the State is rather surprising, but they have the assurance of a generous entertainment and hearty welcome.

The announcement that there will be no reports submitted by the secretaries or other officials has been received with joy. It is always rather an irksome task to get up an interesting report or to listen to other people's reports. The State meeting is to be devoted to the subject of "Child Culture." Prof. Edward Howard Griggs will speak on "Child and the Race," and in the general discussion Mrs. MacClary, of Rahway, will lead.

A new feature of the convention will be "The President's Hour." During that period of time Mrs. Emily E. Williamson, the president, will talk and listen to questions. In the afternoon music and readings will be given by Mrs. A. Kitchel, and those who have prepared the programme have endeavored to place upon it "just enough, and no more."

The women are always very much fatigued after conventions. They have to discuss subjects, listen to long speeches and attend to all sorts of club matters, which task results in severe headaches, late for dinner and other little inconveniences which husbands hold against the clubs. All this is to avoided at the Rutherford meeting, and the last session is to be over in time for all the women to get back to their homes before husbands arrive from their day's toil. This is considered an important new departure.

MASONIC HONORS.

Plainfielders Who Are Officers of the Grand Commandery.

At the session of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templars held yesterday at Trenton, Plainfield was awarded honors as follows: Dr. D. C. Adams was promoted from Grand Junior Waeden to Grand Senior Warden; Jacob Kirkner was brought into the Grand Commandery and made Grand Sword Bearer; Grand Commander William H. Sebring is now Past Grand Commander, having been replaced by another man.

Those from Trinity Commandery who attended were Messrs. Sebring, Adams, Coriell, Freeman, Marshall and VanAuken.

Trench Caved In.

While Patsy Christmas' men were at work digging the private drain in the upper part of the borough yesterday afternoon a portion of the trench on Regent street caved in, owing to the failure of the men to place the proper support on either side of the trench. No one was injured.

Sl. Drake, in Plainfield.

Silas D. Drake has rented the office at 153 North avenue, where he will make his headquarters in the future. Mr. Drake says that he proposes to give Plainfield some lively times in the near future.

—Trimmed hats, latest styles, for ladies and misses, at Mrs. L. Adams, 114 East Front street. Very low prices for balance of this week.

STUDYING THE RULES.

VALUABLE DRILL THROUGH WHICH CENTRAL EMPLOYES ARE PUT.

After the Instruction is Absorbed by the Classes the Members are Given a Certificate Showing Their Capability

The drill which the railroad employes of the Central from Easton to New York and from all points on the Long Branch route of the road are being given in the "Book of Rules," is something new. The rules upon which the men are being examined are not new though, but are the same old ones that have been in operation for years. To men who have been used to railroading all their lives, and who are supposed to know the regulations of the road by heart, this sudden movement on the part of the officials is a surprise, but judging by the way the men answer the simplest questions put to them it shows that it may be easy enough to act properly at the right time, yet not be able to tell why one does so and so.

Classes have been established at Jersey City, Elizabethport, Elizabeth, Somerville, Phillipsburg and at other places where railroad men are gathered, and are held at such hours as are convenient to the men. Some classes meet in the evening so as to accommodate best those men who are on duty in the day time. Others are held at 9 o'clock in the morning for the night men. Conductors, brakemen, switchmen, telegraph operators and others directy responsible for the running of trains are expected to attend these classes, and take a little instruction in them. At Jersey City two passenger coaches are used as class rooms. In one are the men who are being taught how the rules are to be interpreted; in others are the men taking an examination in what has been taught them. When they successfully pass the examination they are given a certificate which shows that they have done so, which certificate may be useful to them in a variety of ways, and ultimately lead to their promotion. The principal thing every man is first taught is the fundamental rule of the whole book: "When you are in doubt, do as your judgment dictates."

TROUBLE IN THE KITCHEN.

Cook and Waiter Aired Their Differences in City Court.

Mrs. Malinda Jackson, the colored cook at the home of Mrs. J. R. Truell, of Central avenue, and Honor Jearnaud, a young man of Hebrew descent, who waits on the table there, fought their battles over again in the City Court this morning. Jearnaud was charged by the cook with profane and indecent language and with assaulting her.

Her story was that he pestered her all day last Saturday and wound up by striking her in the face. He claimed that she had threatened him with a knife and he had merely struck her in self-defence. He was represented by William G. DeMeza. His witnesses were his brother, Emil, and Mrs. Truell's grandson. Mrs. Jackson claimed that they were all in league against her. Their stories were the same however, and so the complaint against Jearnaud was dismissed.

To Make Presentations.

No. 2 Engine Company since its disbandment has made several presents of the effects left, and in a short time a committee from the company will go to Princeton and make a present to a company at that place. There will also be a presentation to the Bayonne Department.

To Pass Fire Ordinance.

Next Monday evening there will be a special meeting of the Common Council at which time the new fire ordinance will go into effect, and arrangements will have been completed for the reorganization of the department. Other important business will be considered.

Cadets to Drill.

The cadets of the Borough Public High School will hold a drill this afternoon under under the direction of Mr. Fitzer. The other cadet corps on the east side of the borough will drill at the same time at the Watchung avenue school.

Juniors to Attend

The funeral services of the late Thomas Benedict will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from the house on Summit avenue. The members of Somerset Council, No. 104, Jr. O. U. A. M., will have charge.

Fishing for Trout.

Edgar S. Martin, of the firm of Woodhull & Martin, left this morning for the Catskills where he will spend a week in trout fishing. His brother met him in New York, and will accompany him on his trip.

Old and Young to Bowl.

The old men of the Park Club, or the "grandpas," are to bowl the young men Saturday night. The game promises to be an exciting one.

NEW ROAD BEING BUILT.

$30,000 BEING SPENT ON IMPROVEMENTS IN SOMERSET.

Movement on Foot to Have Work Done That Will Make a Continuous Macadam Road From Morristown to Trenton.

When the work of macadamizing the old Mine Brook road from the boundary line of Somerset and Morris counties at VanDorn's mills to the north branch of the Raritan river at Far Hills, a distance of six and three-quarter miles, shall have been completed, Bernardsville will be connected with Morristown by a smooth and substantial driveway. Ground was broken March 9th, and it is expected that the work will be finished in August at a cost of $29,777.44.

A movement is on foot among many of the leading business men of Somerset county to have the macadam extended to Somerville, in event of which there will be a continuous macadamized road from Morristown to Trenton, a distance of fifty-one miles, with the exception of a stretch of eight miles south of Somerville.

SEVENTY YEARS WEDDED

LONG MARRIED BLISS OF MR AND MRS. HARVEY JOHNSON.

Anniversary Celebrated in Their Picturesque Cottage in Union Township, Where They Have Lived 60 Years.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Johnson celebrated Monday in their picturesque little cottage in Union township, their seventieth wedding anniversary. The couple have spent sixty years of their long and happy life in this old cottage, and Mr. Johnson tilled the many acres adjoining it for more than half a century.

He is now ninety-five years old, but for the last five years has not done any work, although his health has been good nearly all through his long lifetime, and he attributes this to outdoor exercise and simple, regular habits. His wife is eighty-five years old, and has been an invalid for several years.

The couple has raised a family of thirteen, of whom ten children are still living, the eldest, a daughter, being seventy-three, and a resident of Newark. She was present at the anniversary, as were the other members of the family, with their children and grandchildren. It was a very happy and joyous reunion.

PLEADED GUILTY, BUT TO BE TRIED

Ash Carter's Statement Was Not Satisfactory to the Court.

Special Officer Thomas O'Gorman has been on duty at the city dump on East Third street, near Johnston avenue, to watch the contents of the carts and see that no garbage is dumped there. Robert Randolph, a local ash-carter, offended and a warrant was consequently issued for his arrest at the request of Health Inspector Addis.

Randolph came up before City Judge Runyon this morning. He told the Judge that the garbage had been hidden in the ash barrels so that he had not known of its existance until the officer told him about it and pointed out the garbage. Randolph pleaded guilty, but the degree of guilt he admitted did not satisy Inspector Addis. So the case was set down for trial for Saturday morning when the man, who pleaded guilty, will be tried.

ANGER IN DISBANDED THIRD.

Elizabeth Guardsmen to Be Inspected in Civilian Dress

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 10.—Colonel E. B Murphy, the State Inspector General, will be in this city tonight to inspect Companies C. and E. of the old Third Regiment, which hereafter will be a part of the new Second Regiment.

The order says the men will appear in civilian dress for inspection. The men are not at all pleased over the new orders and some of them vow they will demand even a dishonorable discharge before they will lose their identity.

Put Through Third Degree.

Assemblyman Roger F. Murray was put through the third degree in Anchor Lodge, No. 149 F. and A. M., last night. The attendance was large. Another pleasant feature of the evening was the presentation of a past master's jewel to Peter Emmons, a past master of the lodge. The presentation was made by John D. James, on behalf of the lodge.

Steamboat Mineola Burned.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, May 10.—The excursion steamboat Mineola, owned by Charles B. McLaury, caught fire at her wharf here shortly before midnight last night. Capt. John White and the engineer were awakened by the heat and barely had time to escape from their cabins.

MEDALS ARE PRESENTED

CLOSING SOCIABLE OF Y. M. C. A PHYSICAL DEPARTMENT.

Raymond Carroll Received First Prize for Novices in Athletic Contests—Banner Received From New Brunswick Athletes.

The annual closing sociable of the Y. M. C A. was held last night in the large hall of the Association building. Fifty young men were present, most of them being members of the physical department. After listening to music, and readings and enjoying the presentation of the medals and prizes they were invited upstairs, where refreshments were served.

Those who entertained were W. McKillopp, with violin solos; H. Pearce, with readings; Assistant Secretary Davis, with cornet solos; and Physical Director C. E. A. Heywood, with humorous readings.

President Cahoone presided, and the presentation of the medals was made by John Valiant, chairman of the physical work committee, in place of William D. Murray, who could not be present. They were awarded as follows:

In the athletic contest for novices, Raymond Carroll received the first prize, medal; W. E. Townsend the second.

In the gymnastic contest E. Moraller and H. K. Doane were first and second, respectively. This was for novices also, and the prizes were medals.

In the all-around contest the medals were taken by Walter L. Long and E. Moraller; Edgar Sheppard received a pair of Indian clubs for the club swinging contest and W. L. Long a pair of bells for winning the dumb bell and bar bell drill.

A pretty red banner, with white bar and ribbons, was presented to the association by New Brunswick, to show that the Plainfield association had won in the contest between the two associations. On the banner are the names of Ray Carroll, George P. Smith and F. O. Bristol, who upheld the honor of the association in the contest.

BROTHER AGAINST BROTHER.

Jacob J. Holmes Sues Henry J. Holmes to Secure a House.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield May 10—Papers were filed yesterday before Justice E. R Collins in a case of forcible entry and detainer brought by Jacob J. Holmes, of Mountainside, to regain possession of a house at Branch Mills. Sheriff Kirk served the writ on Henry J. Holmes late in the afternoon. The case will be tried before a Sheriff's jury next Monday.

Actions under the forcible entry and detainer law are rare, this being the first case in Union county in nearly twenty years. The people of Mountainside are greatly interested in the case, the litigants being brothers and well known.

CHANGE IN TAILORING FIRM.

Partnership of Cloos & Richardson Has Been Dissolved.

The partnership of Cloos & Richardson, the well known West Front street ladies' tailors, has been dissolved. George W. Richardson, the junior partner, has purchased Mr. Cloos' interest in the business and will continue the establishment on the same lines that it was run before. He has associated with him Henry Wald, who has been head designer and fitter for the National Cloak Company, of New York, for twenty-five years. The new firm have added a new branch of dressmaking, with the tailor-made finish.

Mr. Cloos leaves Plainfield to go to his old home at Havana, Cuba, to recuperate and improve his health, which is not good at present.

Capitalists to Visit Mountain Park.

An effort is to be made to show up the advantages of Mountain Park. Saturday John H. French, of the Mountain Park Land Improvement Company, has invited a party of New York and Brooklyn capitalists to visit the Mountain Park Inn, take dinner and look over the Park with a view of investing a portion of their capital there. The party will number sixty in all.

Barber Shop Changes Location

Will Fiering, who has conducted a barber shop in the basement under Boehm's store on West Front street for several years, has leased the store, 140 Park avenue, from Walter L. Hetfield, and will move there tomorrow. The store has been entirely refitted.

Senator Sewell Going to Ireland.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, May 10—United States Senator William J. Sewell will sail today for his former home in Ireland on the steamship Friesland. He goes for rest and a visit to his relatives. He will be absent for three months.

DESIRE TO SPREAD OUT.

PROPOSED CHANGES IN TERRITORY OF ST. ANDREW'S BROTHERHOOD.

Annual Spring Session to be Held in Elizabeth Next Week When the Matter Will Come up for Consideration.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew of the Newark Council will hold their spring session in old St. John's Episcopal church on Broad street, Elizabeth, next week. The Rev. Dr. Otis Glazebrook, chaplain of the Spanish-American war, is rector.

The first meeting will be held next Monday evening. The Elizabeth local council is desirous of enlarging its territory and organizing a council that will enable the whole diocese of New Jersey. The local council of Newark desires to do the same in regard to the whole diocese of Newark.

There is much opposition to such a movement on the part of the most prominent members of the brotherhood. The council of St. Andrew in Elizabeth includes the chapters of that city, Rahway, Westfield, Plainfield, Bound Brook and New Brunswick. The officers feel that they could not systematically cover any larger territory.

The Newark Council embraces the chapters of Newark, Jersey City, Roseville, Irvington and the Oranges.

TAX BOOKS INCORRECT.

BERNARDS TOWNSHIP AFFAIRS TO BE INVESTIGATED.

Former Tax Collector DeMun Kept a Bad Set of Books, But He is Not Thought to Have Been Dishonest.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bernardsville, May 10.—A petition is being circulated among the residents of this place for signatures the object of which is to have the courts appoint an expert accountant to examine the books of former Tax Collector DeMun, of Bernards township, whose resignation has been received and accepted. A question has also been raised as to the correctness of the books of Assessor McCollum, and the books of both officials have been turned over to the township counsel, Lindabury, Depue & Faulks, of Newark, for examination.

The accounts of the former collector show a balance on hand of $2,160.32, with an acknowledged discrepancy of $13.63. If there is anything wrong with Mr. DeMun's books it is generally believed that the trouble is due more to incompetent bookkeeping than to dishonesty. John Day has been appointed to succeed Mr. DeMun.

CONSTABLE IS BLAMED.

Claimed That he Failed to Make an Execution as soon as he Ought to.

P. M. Comstock & Company, of New York, are suing Henry Liefke and George W. Cole in the Circuit Court at Elizabeth, taday, as bondsman for former Constable Rockafellow. Some time ago this company sued John Sharkey for a bill in Justice Moffett's court and secured judgment.

An execution was issued and Rockafellow was to make a levy, but it is alleged that he postponed it so long that the execution became worthless. Pope & Runyon are the lawyers for the Company and Reed & Coddington for Rockafellow. Rockafellow claims that Mr. Runyon, one of the company's lawyers, gave him additional time in which to make the levy, and for that reason he waited.

CAPTURED GAME COCKS SOLD.

Fighting Birds Only Brought Fifty Cents Each at Cranford.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Cranford, May 10—Seven game cocks were sold here at auction yesterday morning by Justice of the Peace Cox on application of George Morrison, agent of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The birds were captured in a raid on the Union County Hotel, at Garwood, a week ago. The attendance at the sale was small. The birds sold at fifty cents each. Seven were bought by H. C. Cook, of Cranford, and one by Robert Woodruff, of Westfield.

The owners of the birds did not appear to claim them as they threatened to do.

Struck a Rusty Nail.

Frank McCormick, head bill poster for the La Pearl circus, met with a painful accident this morning. He was posting bills on the rink building, and in jumping from one roof to the ground, came down on a rusty nail which penetrated his foot. The young man was taken to Dr. Long's where the injury was attended to. The Doctor says that with careful attention McCormick will escape lock jaw and blood poisoning.

Miss Grace Adams, of Netherwood, has returned from a visit in Staten Island.

OLD MAIDS MADE FUN BY THEIR DRY HUMOR

Clever Entertainment Given in Monroe Avenue Church.

THEIR WISHES GRATIFIED.

PROF. MAKEOVER WAS A MAN OF GREAT ACCOMPLISHMENTS.

Able to Take the Old Maids and Convert Them into Entertainers of Various Kinds—Entertainment Given Under the Auspices of the Epworth League—Those Who Took Characters.

"The Young Ladies' Single-Blessedness Debating Society" held an old maid's convention last evening in the Monroe Avenue M. E. church under the auspices of the Epworth League. The edifice was hardly large enough to accommodate all those desiring to witness the fun.

Those taking part were supposed to be old maids, and while they did not care to enter matrimony they devoted most of their time in discussing man and his qualities.

The characters they represented are as follows:

Miss Charlotte Aldridge, president; Miss Charlotte Beekman, secretary; Mrs. N. Mansfield Smith, deaf old maid; Miss Emily Haff, fat old maid Miss Elizabeth Foster, played piano forte; Miss Georgie Beekman, old maid with parrot; Miss Alice Foster, old maid with dog; Miss Sue Pound, old maid who reads papers on woman's rights; Miss Mary Saums, old maid who keeps posted on hotels and marriage statistics. Others who took part were Mrs. VanPelt, Miss Anna Stafford, Miss Whittley, the Misses Wenzell, Miss Lottie Beekman, Mrs. Grannatt, Miss Kittie Ackerman, while Edward Beekman took the part of Prof. Makeoves, and N. Mansfield Smith was the assistant to the professor.

There was a piano solo by Miss Lizzie Foster, followed by Miss Susie Pound reading a paper on "Woman's Rights." The club song, led by Miss Haff, was pathetic. While Miss Saums was reading the marriage statistics a mouse appeared and created great excitement. This was followed with the reading of the market report, giving the names of the eligible men to marriage. Miss Georgie Beekman, chairman of the Congressional committee, read a report showing that Congress will help all old maids. Miss Laura Wenzell recited a pathetic poem on "Josiah," while Mrs. VanPelt reported for the vigilant committee.

At this time Prof. Makeover and his assistant, Jonathan, appeared and promised to make the old maids over.

The various participants expressed their wishes and were put in a machine, and their desires gratified. Miss Whittley wanted to be two musicians. Thereat Walter Serrell and Lindley Hillman appeared, playing flute and violin, accompanied by Miss Florence Serrell. Miss Haff wanted to be a little girl, and little Irene Aldrich made her debut and recited a poem. Miss Anna Stafford and Mrs. VanPelt wanted to be twin musicians, followed by Miss Ida Tallamy and Miss Randolph appearing and playing a piano duet.

Miss Foster and her dog went in the machine, after which a small piece of bologna appeared. As a prima dona, Miss Griswold appeared and sang a solo accompanied by Miss Filmer. Miss Mary Pound wanted to appear as a fairy, and her wish was gratified when Miss Charlotte Messersmith appeared and sang a pleasing selection. It took two old maids to make a man, and Miss Mary Beekman and Miss Kittie Ackerman agreed to go into the machine. Bert Tallamy appeared and gave a vocal selection. Miss Aldrich wanted to appear as Trilby, and she succeeded in breaking the machine. After a recitation by Miss Georgie Beekman, the entertainment closed.

Shipyards Enlarging.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 10.—The Crescent shipyard has been enlarged and is being yet further enlarged in an effort to make adequate room for the orders on hand. The keels for two yachts have been laid in the new addition and more will follow. In some of the departments the men are working overtime, especially on the vessels being built for the United States Navy.

Growing in Membership.

Plainfield Council, No. 44, Chosen Friends, received two applications for membership last night. This lodge is growing fast in membership, as applications have been received for membership or there have been one or more initiations every meeting night since the first of January.

MANY GALACIANS COMING

The German-American Liners Crowded With Emigrants for the United States.

OVER 50,000 WILL ARRIVE

At Least That's What a Cablegram From Hamburg Says—New York Officials Doubt the Story.

Galicia Is a Province of Austro-Hungary in Cislithania, Bounded by Poland, Russia and Prussia—The Population Hardly Exceeds 100,000—Said to Be Undesirable Citizens.

New York, May 10.—According to a cablegram received here from Hamburg, fifty thousand Galicians are preparing to make a descent upon this country and this port in particular. The cablegram adds that the total of five thousand have already embarked on steamers at that port. Commissioner of Immigration Fitchie, at the Barge Office, when shown a copy of the cablegram, shook his head dubiously.

"There must be some mistake about the told figures," he said. "They cannot all be Galicians, for the Austro-Hungary Government would not permit that immense number to imigrate at one time."

Chief Clerk Lederhilger, of the Immigration Bureau, who is an expert on the question of immigration, said:

"It is enough to make one faint. I have my doubts, however, about the accuracy of the dispatch. The emigration from Galicia of 50,000 of its people would be a serious beginning of the depopulation of the place. It would mean about one-tenth of the population, and the government would never permit that number to leave at one time. I believe, however, the statement that 5,000 are on the sea or about to embark on steamers for this country. No matter what the number, it is to be regretted that they are coming, for they are a most undesirable class of immigrants.

Next to the Dalmatoan, the Galician is about as bad as it is possible to be. Galicia is a province of Austro-Hungary in Cislithania, and is bounded by Poland on the north, by Russia on the east, by Bukowina on the southeast, by Hungary on the south, by Moravia on the west and also by a portion of Prussia Silesia on the south. The territory is 325 miles long and its area 30,212 square miles.

"There may be 50,000 immigrants coming from Galicia in the immediate future, but the majority of them I feel satisfied are Austrian Poles, of whom the least said the better. It will be a dreadful hardship to this country if this number comes from this particular province.

"The Galicians as a whole have nothing to do at home. They do some farming and raising of sheep and swine, but they know nothing of manufacturing or trades. They rarely become farmers when they arrive here, and 90 per cent. of them go to the mines in Pennsylvania or elsewhere in the States. They are undesirable for the reason that they never become citizens, but run back home the minute they have acquired a sufficient sum to pull their carts out of the mud."

Hamburg, May 10.—The steerage quarters of the German-American liners are crowded with Galicians who are emigrating to the United States in consequence of oppression and famine at home. Fully 50,000 are on their way or preparing to leave. The Patricia, the last steamship leaving for New York, took 2,500 and the Graf Waldersee, the next vessel sailing, will carry 2,500 more. The bookings for future sailings are filled and the North German Lloyd liners are similarly crowded.

To Make a New Gas Burner.

Trenton, May 10.—The Kern Incandescent Gaslight Company, with a capitalization of $12,000,000, has been incorporated.

The stock of the company is divided into 120,000 shares at $100 each, of which 40,000 shares are preferred, bearing a cumulative dividend of 7 per cent.

Ernest F. Ayrault of 100 Broadway, New York; Charles W. Dayton of 13 Morris Park West, New York, and J. P. Murray of Jersey City are the incorporators.

The company purposes to engage in the manufacture and sale of an improved gas burner, which is designed to effect a considerable saving in the amount of gas consumed.

MOLINEUX SET FREE.

Grand Jury Refuses to Indict—Rearrested, Charged With Trying to Kill Cornish.

New York, May 10.—The Grand Jury to-day refused to find an indictment against Roland B. Molineux, who was accused of the murder of Mrs. Kate J. Adams. Molineux was taken into court and discharged, but as soon as he had left the room was rearrested on a warrant charging him with assault in the first degree. He now stands accused of trying to kill Harry Cornish with the poison that caused the death of Mrs. Adams. Molineaux was then taken before Presiding Justice Jerome of the Court of Special Sessions, by whom the warrant had been issued.

Police Chiefs in Conventions.

Chattanooga, May 10.—The National Police Chiefs' Association is in session here.

Mayor Watkins welcomed the guests to the city, and President Jousses of Milwaukee responded.

To-morrow the business session will begin. Among those here are Chief Dietsch of Cincinnati, Chief Joseph Kipley of Chicago, Chief C. W. Soost of Mobile, Chief Will Williams of Columbus, Superintendent George E. Corner of Cleveland, Chief Henry Muth of Allegheny City, Chief Frank Cassada of Elmira, Chief B. F. Howard of Richmond, Chief A. H. Lesley, Pittsburg, and James F. Quigley, Superintendent of Police, Indianapolis. A big delegation of Western members is expected.

SAFE BLOWN OPEN

Armed Burglars Make a Big Haul at Lengel's Brewery in Wilmington, Del.

Wilmington, Del., May 10.—Six masked burglars held up Emmett Meyer, night watchman at Lengel's Bavarian Brewery, and Engineer Frank Festing, at 3 o'clock this morning, blew open the safe and carried off $500 in cash and $900 in checks.

Meyer, twenty minutes afterward telephoned the police, who are after the burglars. The Bavarian Brewery is located at Fifth and Dupont streets, an isolated part of the city, which has been infested by burglars for several weeks.

Watchman Meyer says that as he approached the main entrance to the building four masked men halted him, and, wth revolvers leveled at his head commanded him to "Shut up and throw up your hands."

Meyer complied, and, after being carried to the second story of the office, two other men bound him hand and foot and kept watch over him with guns.

All this time the four masked men who had met him at the brewery entrance were at work on the safe below, and when the explosion occurred Meyer's guards ran off.

He struggled for some time to get loose, and when he succeeded started to hunt for Festing.

He found Festing tied in the engine room closet. He cut his bonds, and together they ran to the engine room and began to blow the steam whistles. Policemen Mullin and Jacobski ran to the scene. The officers groped their way into the dark office through blinding clouds of smoke.

The huge safe was blown several feet out from the wall and the door was hanging by one hinge. A hasty examination showed that the locks in the office were forced open. On the floor with the litter were found a number of tools and several large pieces of fuse. There was a small hole in the top of the safe. This had been filled with a piece of rag saturated with nitro-glycerine. In the safe were $700 worth of stamps, but they were overlooked by the thieves.

MRS. CROKER AND QUEEN

Reported in London That the Wife of Richard Croker Will be Presented.

London, May 10.—A report that Mrs. Richard Croker is to be presented to Queen Victoria at her next levee is started by the correspondent of the Philadelphia North American in a cable despatch to his paper. The despatch goes on to say:

"Mrs. Croker is a member of the Green Park Club, an exclusive organization, which has three of the royal princesses among its members and any number of women of title.

"One of the rules of the club is that every woman must be eligible for presentation at the Court of St. James.

"As Mrs. Croker is a member of the club, she must, of course, be eligible, and will doubtless duly make her bow to the Queen.

"It is even whispered that Mr. Croker has some idea of making quite a prolonged visit this time to England. At any rate, an agent is negotiating a residence for him in one of the fashionable West End streets, and I hear that one of his sons is to pass a year or two either at Oxford or Cambridge University.

"Mr. Croker is not at all unpopular in London. On the contrary, he has many friends."

Crusade of Faith Curers.

New York, May 10.—Sanitary Superintendent Charles F. Roberts applied to Magistrate Pool, in the Centre Street Police Court for a warrant for Mrs. Muller, the faith curist, who attended Lizzie Kunz, the little girl who came near losing her life from gangrene. Superintendent Roberts was advised to take the matter to Brooklyn. Magistrate Pool said the matter came within the purview of the Kings County Medical Society, and that it would proceed against the woman before a Magistrate in that city, where the alleged offense was committed.

It is said at the Eastern District Hospital, where Lizzie's leg was amputated, that she will recover.

President Murphy, of the Health Board, reiterated to-day his determination to proceed against faith curists. President Murphy also said that the County Medical Society has been asked to join a crusade against curists and similar healers.

Philadelphia's Water Supply.

Philadelphia, May 10.—Mayor Samuel Ashbridge appointed the following committee of experts to examine into the water supply of this city:

Rudolph Herring of New York, James M. Wilson of Philadelphia and Samuel M. Gregg, Superintendent of Water Mains and Sewers, of Boston. Mr. Herring formerly lived in Philadelphia, and is a prominent hydraulic engineer.

It will be the duty of this committee of experts to suggest a new water system for Philadelphia which shall lessen the ravages of typhoid fever, due to the direct pumpage from the Schuylkill River. So far this year there have deaths due to polluted drinking water, been nearly 6,000 cases and over 600

Cruiser Raleigh Aground.

Charleston, S. C., May 10.—The cruiser Raleigh, ran aground just outside the bar. She is resting easily, and tugs have been sent to pull her off. No concern is felt about her. The ship that fought with Dewey lies near the historic Forts Sumter and Moultrie. Hundreds of excursion boats have gone out to see the cruiser.

The Raleigh will be one of the features of the reunion of the United Confederate Veterans here this week.

Convicts Whipped.

Washington, May 10.—Complaints have been received from Federal prisoners at the State penitentiary at Raleigh, N. C. Th prisoners were ordered to work at some brickyards eight miles from the prison, and refused to comply, claiming immunity under the law from labor outside the prison walls, whereupon they were flogged for insubordination. An investigaton has been ordered.

Killed Herself For Sweetheart.

Beemer, Neb., May 10.—Because her soldier sweetheart was killed in the fight before Caloocan, in the Philippines, Mary Vlach, sixteen years old, committed suicide by placing the barrel of a shotgun over her heart and pulling the trigger with her toe.

OUR TROOPS AMBUSHED.

The Filipinos Wound Major Diggles From Apparently Deserted Trenches.

TROOPS GOT REVENGE.

Americans Charged and Repulsed the Enemy One Private Being Wounded in the Assault.

Reported That Natives are Massed at Mount Arayat and a Severe Engagement Will Likely Occur There—Cruiser Charleston Leaves Hong Kong to Head Off Filibusters.

Manila, May 10—Major Diggles, while leading a battalion of the Minnesota Volunteers toward San Miguel, about a mile west of Calumpit, was shot in the head by Filipinos, who fired several volleys from apparently deserted trenches.

The Americans charged and repulsed the enemy. One private was wounded during the assault.

The insurgents are massed at Mount Arayat in great force, and a severe engagement is expected to be fought there. General Lawton has his column at Balinag and Maasin, fifteen miles east of General MacArthur, and on the other side of the Rio Grande River.

It is thought that a junction of these two commands will be made before the advance upon Mount Arayat is begun.

Gunboats have been busy in the Rio Grande River driving out the rebel bands, which, from the jungles and swamps, have been harassing General MacArthur's men.

To Capture Filibusters.

Washington, May 10.—The cruiser Charleston has left Hong Kong for Aparri, at the northern end of the island of Luzon.

It is said that the object of the trip is to head off filibustering expeditions which are taking arms and ammunition to the insurgents.

Mrs. W. C. Whitney's Funeral.

Garden City, L. I. May 10.—The funeral of Mrs. William C. Whitney took place in the Cathedral of the Incarnation. Bishop Littlejohn, of Long Island, and Bishop Doane, of Central New York, officiated, assisted by the clergymen connected with the Cathedral.

A special train, bearing the mourners left New York and proceeded to Garden City. The party included Mrs. Frederick May, Mrs. C. K. Wright, Randolph Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. T. Barnay and daughter, George G. Haven, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, Miss Ogden, James C. Hendrick, John D. Crimmins, Hans. S. Beattle, Wm. H. Page, Jr., H. McKay Twombly H. W. Whitney, P. A. B. Widener, W. L. Elkins, Perry Tiffany, Mr. and Mrs. Foxhall Keene, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Kernochan, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Havemeyer, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Havemeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Gebhard, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney D. Ripley, Mr. and Mrs. De Lancey Nicoll, August Belmont, Stephen B. Elkins, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McKay, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mortimer.

The casket was covered with garlands of orchids and roses. Near the casket rested a large wreath of roses four feet in diameter, sent by former President Cleveland and wife.

Dewey May Leave By July 1.

Washington, May 10.—It is now thought that should he so desire Admiral Dewey could leave Manila for the United States by July 1. In compliance with the order issued directing Rear Admiral John C. Watson to proceed to Manila he should reach port about the middle of June if he sails on the regular mail steamship from San Francisco on May 16, as planned. Admiral Dewey would certainly not wish to leave his post until he had an opportunity to make Rear Admiral Watson well acquainted with the work in hand. Two weeks would probably be required for this, and it is probable, therefore, that Dewey would not be ready to leave for the United States before July 1. He would not start even then probably if the situation in Luzon should remain unsettled. The object in placing Watson second in command at Manila was to give him an opportunity to learn the situation from Admiral Dewey himself before the latter starts for home.

More Drafts For Spain.

New York, May 10.—The second and third drafts drawn by the United States Treasury to the order of the Spanish Government, amounting to $10,000,000, have passed through the Clearing House.

The transaction was reflected in the statement, which made the Sub-Treasury a debtor to the amount of $10,590,542, while the National City Bank, which presented the drafts for payment had a credit balance at the Clearing House of $13,469,000. No time has been set for the payment of the fourth and last warrant.

Thirty Persons Drowned.

Adelaide, South Australia, May 10.—The British ship Loch Sloy, from the Clyde, Jan. 5, for this port and Melbourne, was wrecked on Kangaroo Island on April 24. One passenger and three of the crew were saved, and five passengers and twenty-five of the crew were drowned. Three of the survivors are still wandering in the bush.

Rhodes and Jameson Win.

London, May 10.—The suit of the trooper, Adye, against Cecil Rhodes and Dr. Jameson for damages for injuries received in the Transvaal raid was tried. Capt. Coventry, who took part in the raid, testified that the troopers were informed of the nature of the expedition after they had proceeded a mile. The jury found a verdict for the defendants.

Ripans Tabules

"I am not the sort of person to often require medicines and I am specially opposed to pills. They are too violent in their action for me. In the case of any irregularity I had always relied upon the use of fruits until one day, on a railway journey, a friend directed my attention to Ripans Tabules and gave me some from a supply he had in his hand-bag. I afterwards made use of them as occasion offered, and the result was so entirely all that could be desired that I now depend upon Ripans Tabules in the case of any irregularity of the bowels or derangement of the digestive apparatus."

GRAIN MEN ARE WORRIED.

The Strike at Buffalo Disturbs Deliveries Greatly and No Relief in Sight.

THE FLEET LOCKED UP.

Situation Aggravated by Export Demand, Owing to Reports of Crop Damages Abroad.

Exporters in a Quandary, Having No Assurance as to When They Will Receive Grain Already Contracted For—Quiet at Buffalo—W. H. Kennedy, Boss Grain Scooper, Dead From Bullet Wound.

New York, May 10.—Speculators in grain who have sold wheat for delivery this month are much worried over the extent of the grain shovelers' strike at Buffalo. A large fleet of boats has gathered at Buffalo since navigation opened, containing several million bushels of wheat and a large amount of corn. Part of the wheat is already due to arrive in New York. Only a small amount is arriving by rail. In consequence of this blockade local stocks of contract wheat are less than 100,000 bushels, and the total amount of wheat suitable for milling purposes is 35,000 bushels. A year ago at this time the local stocks were three tines this amount.

There has been no advance in this month's futures of nearly 2 cents over July options. Scarcely more than a week ago, when normal conditions prevailed, the two months were selling at a parity. If the strike continues two weeks longer, there will be serious trouble for the shorts, as not enough wheat can reach this port to cover out-standing contracts. All-rail shipments from interior points are possible, but the rates are so much higher than the rail-and-lake rate that such importation would not be profitable.

The strike affects the Northwest as much as it does the East, since shippers cannot get vessel room with the best part of the lake fleet tied up at Buffalo. Vessels that reached that city at the beginning of the strike could have unloaded and been steaming back again from Milwaukee and Duluth if they had been allowed to pursue their natural course.

The situation here has been aggravated by the export demand that has been created in the past few days on reports of crop damage in the wheat-growing countries abroad. Exporters are in a quandary, as, having no assurance as to when they will receive the grain contracted for in the West, they cannot inform their foreign customers when they may expect shipments. From this arises confusion and in some instances cancellation of orders.

Quiet at Buffalo.

Buffalo, May 10.—The situation on the docks was practically unchanged. Bishop Quigley said that while he was preparing a report of the proceedings at the conference held at his residence he would not make any propositions to either side, but would simply send copies of his report to New Local 51 and the representatives of the Lake Carriers' Association.

A man closely connected with the Lake Carriers' Association said that the deportment of the strikers and their sympathizers augured well for a quick termination of the strike.

The grain shovelers held another big meeting at St. Bridget's Hall. President Keefe of the International Longshoremen's Union, addressed the men. After he had finished, the men voted unanimously to refuse to go to work unless the contract with Mr. Connors is abrogated.

William H. Kennedy, the boss grain scooper who was shot last Tuesday during a disturbance on the docks, died from his injuries. "Buck" Skinner, suspected of doing the shooting, is in jail.

PHIL ARMOUR PARALYZED.

The Well-Known Packer and Curer of Meats Has a Paralytic Stroke.

Hamburg, May 10.—Philip D. Armour the Chicago beef magnate, has left here for the Nauheim baths a very ill man.

He was very low on Saturday night and his condition created great alarm. His American physician, who has gone with him, was at his bedside throughout Saturday night.

Mr. Armour had a slight paralytic stroke yesterday, which greatly increased the fear of the physician and his friends for his welfare.

Armour suffered a great deal with diabetes while here, and it was necessary that he be taken to the baths with all possible dispatch. He therefore left the Hamburgerhof on Sunday night, in face of his sinking spell of the night before.

Of the many millionaires of Chicago none other is so hard a worker nor any other so easily accessible as Mr. Armour.

He is distinctively American in his manners and education and comes of old New England stock. He was born in Stockbridge, N. Y., in 1832. In 1875 he settled in Chicago, having familiarized himself with every detail in the pork-packing business, in which he has $50,000,000.

He married Miss Belle Odjen in 1862. They have two sons, Jonathan Odjen and Philip D., both of whom are active partners in business with their father.

Nauheim, Germany, May 10.—Philip D. Armour has arrived in improved health.

Nauheim, to which the millionaire packer has resorted for his health, is a village of Hesse, Germany, thirteen miles northwest of Hanau. Its saline springs are prized by the medical faculty of Europe.

Movements of Troops.

Washington, May 10.—The following despatches were given out at the War Department:

"San Francisco, Cal., May 10.

"Adjutant-General, Washington:

"Transport Roanoke arrived with following military passengers: Capt. Amos W. Kimball, Quartermaser; Surgeon S. J. Frazier and seven enlisted men and twenty-three discharged soldiers. No deaths during voyage.

There's nothing in Ivory Soap but soap, good, pure vegetable-oil soap. There's nothing to make the linens streaky, no alkali to injure the finest textures. The lather forms quickly and copiously, and wash-day is a pleasure instead of a drudgery. Try it for the next wash. The price places it within reach of every one. Look out for imitations.

"SHAFTER."
Manila, May 10.

"Adjutant-General, Washington:

"Transport Puebla left San Francisco 7th; Zealandia today. OTIS."

The War Deparment has no information that these transports which are leaving Manila are bringing home any volunteers. Adj.-Gen. Corbin has cabled Gen. Otis to send his programe for the embarkation of the volunteer organizations, but no answer has come yet.

Disavowed by Gov. Thomas.

Washington, May 10.—Responsibility for the interview purporting to have been given by Gov. Thomas of Colorado, in which he was quoted as saying that he would compel the Government to bring home Colorado volunteers from Manila at once, was denied emphatically in a telegram received from the Governor by Adj.-Gen. Corbin. The telegram follows:

"Reported interview of mine in Denver "News" Sunday morning concerning Colorado volunteers at Manila false and malicious. Would have denied it earlier but supposed it too silly to receive credence. I beg you will do me the justice to discredit it.

CHARLES S. THOMAS, Gov."

Secretary Alger sent the following reply:

"Your telegram to the Adjutant-General has been handed me and I desire to thank you for it. It does credit to you and your State. In the meantime we shall spare no efforts to effect the speedy return of all the volunteers in the Philippine Islands, but it should be borne in mind that the distance and question of suitable transportation make it appear slow to waiting families and friends. It is my desire that they shall have every possible comfort. Their conduct well deserves all that the resources of the Government can furnish.

"R. A. ALGER, Sec. of War."

UNION MEN SHUT OUT

General Merriam Declares Mine Organizations in Idaho to be Criminal.

Warden, Ida., May 10.—At a conference between Bartlett Sinclair, Gen. Merriam, Sheriff France and Judge Lindley, a proclamation was issued to the mine owners of Shoshone County.

This proclamation says: "Certain organizations or combinations existing in Shoshone County have shown themselves to be criminal in purpose by procuring property to be destroyed and murder to be committed by reason whereof it has been twice necessary to declare martial law in Shoshone County. You are therefore notified that men belonging to said, or other criminal organizations during the continuance of martial law must cease. In case this declaration is not obeyed your mines will be closed.

"All parties applying for underground work in any of the mines will be required to obtain from Dr. Hugh France a permit authorizing said person so applying to seek for and obtain employment."

Denies Monnett's Charges.

Toledo, O., May 10.—Charles N. Haskell, whose name was mentioned in the answer filed by Attorney-General Monnett in the Ohio Supreme Court as one of the men from whom the alleged offer of $400,000 to withdraw prosecution against the Standard Oil Company was said to have been made, is in this city.

He emphatically denied and connection with the attempted bribery, with the Standard Oil Company, of its officers or with Monnett.

"I shall have an investigation made," said Mr. Haskell "and if Monnett made the statement credited to him, he will have an opportunity to prove that he is not talking recklessly and maliciously."

Expect Succor From Abroad.

Oberlin, O., May 10.—A band of negroes here has issued an appeal from the negroes of the United States to foreign Powers for protection against lynching. Copies have already been sent to the press of Europe. The belief is held by the authors that the foreign Powers will immediately intervene with arms to prevent any further molestation of negroes in this country.

Ask for Canned Roast Beef.

Washington, May 10.—The War Department received a dispatch from the Commissary of Subsistance at Vancouver, Washington, saying: "Rampart City, Circle City, Alaska, ask for 19,740 pounds of canned roast beef. They have tried it and apparently like it. Is there and objection to sending it?

The request for the beef has been approved by the War Department, and it will be sent to the troops in Alaska.

Hurts Relations With Germany.

Washington, May 10.—The outlook for successful reciprocity negotiations with the German Government is regarded as having been greatly prejudiced by the action of the committee of the Reichstag on the Meat Inspection bill.

Official Pique at Holguin.

Havana, May 10.—A despatch from Holguin to "La Lucha" says that the municipal officers of that city have resigned because the American Government does not pay the municipal employes.

Killed His Father at Target Practice.

Dallas, Tex., May 10.—George Moungel, 19 years old, while target shooting killed his father, Barrett Moungel, a farmer of Collin county.

FACTS OF REAL INTEREST.

The number of people at present who speaks English is said to be 116,000,000.

There are 27 royal families in Europe, two-thirds of which are of German origin.

In ten years the descendants of two rabbits, if left unmolested, will number 70,000,000.

Of the nearly 2,000,000 inhabitants of Berlin only 42,000 have an annual income of over $750.

Britain owns one-fourth of the railways in the United States of America, and half of the railways of South America.

According to careful estimates, three hours of close study wear the body more than a whole day of hard physical exertion.

In Belgium, by a recent regulation, all bulls and cows are to wear earrings as soon as they have attained the age of three months.

There are only 3,842 left of the Ainu of Japan—the true aboringines of that country. Nearly all of them live on the northern island of Yezo.

The Coeur d'Alene district of Idaho and southern Missouri together furnish nearly 44 per cent. of the total production of lead in the United States.

IRONICAL IFS.

If you would win friends you must be friendly.

If a woman has a duck of a bonnet she is right in the swim.

If you want to get a chip off the old block ax the block for it.

If clothes make the man some men must patronize mighty poor tailors.

If marriage is a lottery love-letters should be excluded from the mails.

If women are foolish it's because they were made to be the companions of men.

If a man is unable to make a distinguished name for himself in any other way he uses a hyphen.

If other people never made mistakes we would have but little cause to pride ourselves on our abilities.

If each member of the congregation was to give the minister his candid opinion of the sermon he would probably resign.

WHY?

Why isn't a good wife a woman possessed?

Why are weak-minded men usually headstrong?

Why isn't a decree of divorce a parting injunction?

Why doesn't the glutton dig his grave with his teeth?

Why is the most of the bread cast upon the waters stale?

Why hasn't the man who lives in a garret a good outlook?

Why does a girl seldom attempt to extinguish the spark of love?

Why are our losses usually much easier to bear than our victories?

Why does the average man always get less credit than he thinks he is entitled to and more than he deserves?

THE LATEST NEWS.

FOUR KILLED IN A SOUTHEPN DUEL

Okalona, Miss., May 10.—As a result of a terrible street duel all the participants—four—are dead.

Dr. J. H. Murfee and Charles D. Clark, a lawyer, were two of the most prominent persons in town, and their homes are side by side. The quarrel seems to have been due to hot Southern blood, and was quick in leading to fatal results.

Clark had called on Dr. Murfee to talk over a disputed bill of the doctor's. They had words and went into the street to fight it out. According to G. W. Foster, who lives opposite, and who was the only witness, Dr. Murfee was unarmed. Clark drew a knife and cut Murfee's throat, severing the jugular vein. At that moment Walter Clark, a brother of Charles, rushed from his yard nearby, and fired four shots into the prostrate body of the doctor, any one of which would have proved fatal.

Then Dr. Murfee's son, Howard, appeared, firing first at Charles Clark, shooting him through the head. Then he fired three times at Walter Clark, one bullet entering the forehead. Walter Clark replied, shooting Howard Murfee through the heart. Excepting Walter Clark, all died instantly, the wounded man expiring within a few hours.

DETROIT GOING BACK TO BLUEFIELDS.

Washington, May 10.—The Navy Department had a telegram from Commander Dayton of the cruiser Detroit reporting the departure of that vessel from Colon,, Colombia, for Bluefields, Nicaragua.

Commander Dayton found it necessary to leave Bluefields in order to communicate with the Navy Department, none of his messages from that place having been received. At Bluefields he took on board Mr. Merry, the United Staes Minister to Nicaragua, who had the same trouble in attempting to communicate with the State Department. Messages about the Bluefields situation, where American interests have been imperilled by the actions of the Nicaragua Government, were sent by the Minister and Commander Dayton from Colon and Port Limon, Costa Rica. The Bluefields troubles are in a fair way of settlement through the agreement between Nicaragua and the United States to turn over to the British Consul-General at Nicaragua the amount of duties to be paid by American merchants at Bluefields under protest pending a decision as to whether the assessment was just.

CHICAGO INDUCES MOROCCO TO PAY

Tangier, Morocco, May 10.—The claims of the United States against the Government of Morocco have been settled

The United States cruiser Chicago sailed from this port to resume her vayage around Africa.

Washington, May 10.—It is not believed here that any threats were necessary to induce the Sultan of Morocco to pay up. The Chicago did not go there with that intention. The Morocco authorities were reminded of the unpaid claim while the Chicago lay in the harbor.

Though the claims in question are understood to amount to little more than $100,000, they have been a matter of diplomatic correspondence for the last five or six years. The Morocco authorities have shown no undue haste in settling the matter, and the United States Consul had been directed to bring the affair to a settlement.

TELLS WHY SHE KILLED MOTHER.

Pittsburg, May 10.—Bertha Bellstein, a young woman on trial for murdering her mother, was placed on the witness stand in her own defense. Her lawyers allege that she is insane, and the young woman in telling the story of the crime to the jury declared that she had killed her mother because her father, who had dropped dead some time before ,was lonely. The idea that her father was lonely, she said, came to her through two spiritualistic mediums, whom she visited in Chicago.

"I had bought laudanum with the intention of taking my own life instead of that of my mother." "When I heard the clock strike 3 I arose and, getting the bottle of laudanum, I started to pour it into the glass. Before I had finished this the bottle dropped from my hands. My arms became like steel and I knew I must take my mother's life. I went to the bureau, took the revolver, and, going into mother's room, discharged it."

COL. HENRY'S DEPARTURE AFFECTING.

San Juan, May 10.—General Guy V. Henry, the retiring Governor General of Porto Rico, sailed for the United States on board the transport McPherson. His departure was attended with lively and affecting demonstrations. All the military and civil officials of San Juan, representatives of the principal societies, hundreds of public school children and citizens, together with delegations from the surrounding towns, thronged the quay. Many gifts were presented to General and Mrs. Henry. He was visibly affected by the unmistakable tokens of good will. Brigadier General George W. Davis, the new military Governor, and his entire staff were present.

TEXAS' DRASTIC ANTI-TRUST LAW.

Austin, Tex., May 10.—The Senate has finally passed its anti-Trust bill. When originally introduced the bill was identical with the Arkansas law. It has been materially amended, however, and is decidedly more drastic in its provisions.

TEETH.

If you have any to be extracted remember you will not be hurt in the slightest. My local anesthetic is the best that can be obtained and is not known to the other dentists in this city. Gas strictly fresh administered by an expert if you want that. If you need artificial teeth you may rest assured that the greatest care will be exercised in selecting shape and color to harmonize with the face, also to restore the features to their natural expression and fullness. This is most important.

The Daily Press' Birthday.

Today is the twelfth anniversary of the birth of The Daily Press. It has been a decade and two years of steady and gratifying increase in every detail of the paper, and on this day we take pardonable pride in felicitating ourselves upon the position that The Daily Press holds in the ranks of New Jersey journalism.

The success of The Daily Press has been attained by conducting a newspaper that appeals to the citizens of Plainfield and vicinity because of its bright and accurate treatment of the news of the day and its fair and independent editorial opinions.

During its career it has been necessary to enlarge The Daily Press several times to accommodate the constant increase in business until it is more than twice as large as when first issued. And even now we find that at times its columns are taxed to the limit to carry the patronage which has drifted naturally to the paper because of its superior position in the local newspaper field. The quantity and quality of advertising found in the columns of The Daily Press bespeaks the popularity and prestige which it obtains among business men.

Considered from a news standpoint, The Daily Press is regarded generally by the journalistic profession as one of the best conducted papers in the State, and that it is our purpose to hold this good opinion goes without saying.

Somerset County Politics.

The Trenton correspondent of the Philadelphia Record furnished considerable political news about Somerset county affairs in his letter this week, which was reproduced in the columns of The Daily Press Monday. The observations of this writer make it evident that all is not serene in the ranks of the G. O. P. in old Somerset, a fact that is apparent to those who have looked over the situation.

That there will be a hotly contested fight in the Republican ranks between the Reed and Thompson factions is assured, unless the political wand is waved with quieting effect in a short time. But this does not seem possible. Neither party is so strong in Somerset county that it can afford to have many factional bickerings, and as the Democrats seem to be pretty harmonious at the present time the conditions augur well for their success this fall.

The absence of disturbing contentions among the Democrats, however, does not mean that there will not be a spirited canvass for the Senatorial nomination. Former Speaker Bergen, of Somerville, is a candidate for the nomination, and will do his best to capture it. Another Democrat whose name has not been mentioned in that connection up to the present time, but who is laying preliminary plans to gain the honor, is former Assemblyman Jacob Klotz. Mr. Klotz intends to give Mr. Bergen the political fight of his life.

These two gentlemen will undoubtedly be the leading candidates, but in the event of the Democratic hosts becoming divided so as to prevent either one from being nominated then there are several others who are looked upon as satisfactory compromises. Among them is Assessor Elston M. French, of North Plainfield, whose name was mentioned by the Record correspondent.

The State of Missouri has succeeded in constructing an Anti-Trust law which is apparently copper-bottomed. The Appellate Judges of the St. Louis Court of Appeals have reached a unanimous decision that under the terms of the law Trusts cannot collect money for goods sold in Missouri. This decision, if sustained, says the Philadelphia Record, will put creditor Trusts very much at the mercy of Missouri debtors is so far as relates to business already done. The Trusts will in future be compelled to either abandon their credit transactions in Missouri or do business upon a basis of honor.

A Missouri preacher has hit upon an ingenious scheme to induce the feminine members to remove their hats in church. After making the usual formal request the other Sunday he added: "My request does not apply to those whose hair might come with the hat, nor to those who might be embarrassed by a display of physical infirmities." The hats were promptly removed."

The total output of the Klondike region for the season of 1898-99 is estimated at about $20,000,000—not more than the average capitalization of a small trust in New Jersey, observes the New York World.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

Somerset county is not large enough for two such statesmen as Senator Reed and Chancery Clerk Thompson. Within such a limited area, when one of these great men moves the other is bound to be jostled.—Newark News.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

While strolling along Plainfield's beautiful avenues and well-kept lawns the thought occurred to the writer that Plainfield should provide a park for those who are not blessed with the boon of sufficient area around their homes to grow a blade of grass. The plot along Prospect avenue, through which sparkling Cedar brook meanders, would, with little labor, make a most attractive feature to our city, and prove a blessing to our toiling citizens. Let the City Fathers look into this matter.

METHODS OF MILITARY SIGNALING.

Continental Europe is constantly experimenting in methods of military signaling. Improvements on old systems or entirely new ideas are snapped up on first sight. The illustration shows the wigwagging system, used by France, by which letters are made in accordance with the Morse alphabet. Two flags represent a dash, one flag a dot. Lanterns are used instead of flags at night. Wigwagging is also employed as a method of signaling by the military authorities of the United States.

Working Night and Day

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar-coated globule of health, that changes weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain-fag into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25c per box. Sold by L. W. Randolph.

Harry Page, of Elmwood place, spent Sunday in New Brunswick with friends.

—W. H. Shotwell, of the borough, has the reputation of being a most excellent landlord, for he does anything that is reasonable for a good tenant. His latest improvement to the property on Lincoln place, occupied by Rev. W. E. Honeyman, is the building of an extra room over the kitchen and fitting it up as a complete bathroom.

DRINK GRAIN-O

after you have concluded that you ought not to drink coffee. It is not a medicine but doctors order it, because it is healthful, invigorating and appetizing. It is made from pure grains and has that rich seal brown color and tastes like the finest grades of coffee and costs about ¼ as much. Children like it and thrive on it because it is a genuine food drink containing nothing but nourishment. Ask your grocer for Grain-O, the new food drink, 15 and 25c.

Woodhull & Martin's.

An ever broadening, ever deepening current of traffic is flowing through, our immense establishment. The constant opening of new channels of business is rapidly inundating us with a freshet of out-of-town business. All this goes to prove that our efforts to make our store an ideal one in which to shop are being more and more appreciated. These growing conditions are peculiarly gratifying to us, as many predictions of our failure to make a success on the lines along which we have been working have been freely made. But we know and have known that the people of Plainfield and vicinity appreciate and will support a first-class establishment, that they will respond to fair treatment, and prefer new, fresh, clean, honest merchandise.

The Summer Season.

The warm weather is now due, and the wise housekeeper will make prompt preparations for Summer comforts.

For Summer Floor Coverings we would suggest Straw Matting. A large shipment of new, fresh mattings gives us an unusually attractive line from which to select. Goods were imported by Arnold Constable & Co, a guarantee of their reliability. Extra Heavy China Mattings in small neat patterns, closely woven of heavy straw they are suggestion of extraordinary wear. Superfine Japanese Mattings, woven with linen warp. Designs are all orginal, ranging from very small, dainty figures to more elaborate carpet effects. All are peculiarly quaint and oriental in appearance. We are making a great many Piazza Rugs from Cocoa Mattings. Ends are finished with corrugated Rubber. They prevent in large measure the marring of paint. We have the new grass carpets with colored warps for the same purpose.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 10—L. H. VanSyckle, superintendent of schools, has sent in his resignation to take effect soon. W. S. Frederick, clerk to the Board of Education, has the letter, but it has not been formally acted upon by the board yet. It will come up at the meeting to be held tomorrow night. None of the board were aware of this action by their superintendent yesterday, until it became noised about town. What Mr. VanSyckle's reasons are for resigning, it is not known. Some time ago he made a complaint to the board, it is said, that he could not maintain dicipline in the schools unless he were given more power. It is also said that Mr. VanSyckle is not a favorite with all the members of the board, and that he would not be appointed to his position for another year. This may have induced him to resign.

The next meeting of the U. O G. C. will be held tomorrow night. The meeting will be held in Apgar's Hall, and on that night the charter list will be closed. A delegation from the Grand Commandery will be there, and refreshments and a social time are to be expected.

The special meeting of the Council to be held Monday night is to act upon the matter of laying sidewalks. There are several properties in the heart of the borough that are not yet flagged, and it is these that the Council are after.

Abe Nelson, who recently broke his leg, is in Muhlenberg Hospital getting along nicely. He will soon be able to leave the institution and return to his home.

Contractor Hillpot, of Bound Brook, who had the contract for laying the water pipes in the borough, was in town Monday looking over the work.

The postoffice inspector who has been going over Postmaster Corlell's books and accounts for the past few days has departed.

William Fosher, of New Bedford, was a visitor in town yesterday.

Miss Sadie Randolph was in Brooklyn yesterday visiting friends.

Miss Mary Stelle was visiting friends in New Brunswick yesterday.

William H. Terry was in Westfield yesterday on business.

NEW MARKET

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

New Market, May 10th—Stanley Moore, of New York, was a caller on Justice Storms yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pearson spent Sunday and Monday in Perth Amboy.

Emile Nelson has returned from visiting Caldwell friends.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 10—Miss Lizzie Stamets, of Westfield, has been visiting friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Emery and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Emery, all of Bayonne, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Emery.

Raphael Meister, of Newark, was the guest Tuesday of Lynus Walpole.

Henry Drake, who was quite badly kicked by one of Scheelen Brothers' horses last week, is able to be around again.

Mrs. Crane, of Plainfield, has re turned to her home after a short visit with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Parks.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cooper, of New York, are visiting Mrs. Cooper's father, Loftus Hollingsworth.

Thomas Coles, of Brooklyn, is spending a few days with his mother, Mrs. Jacob Coles.

Miss Kizzie Naegle, of Plainfield, has been visiting her cousin, Miss Helen Whitenack.

Fanwood Council, Royal Arcanum, held an interesting meeting in their rooms last night.

Miss Emma Clark has returned from a visit with the Misses Gaskill, of New Market.

John Benner, of "the Cottage," is out with a new rubber tire runabout wagon.

The Board of Education held a special meeting in the school parlor last night.

Newsy Notes of More or Less Importance Bunched Together for the Ready Reference of Press Readers

—On May 23d the scholars of the Plainfield Academy will enjoy their annual outing and picnic.

—There will be an important meeting of Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., next Friday evening.

—There will be initiation at the meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., tomorrow evening.

—Patsy Christmas hopes to start work next week on the Park avenue storm sewer, if all his pipes arrive in time.

—The work of macadamizing and repairing the streets in Washington Park is progressing rapidly and will soon be completed.

—The young set at the Park Club are arranging to give a dance Friday night. The Messrs. Roome are at the head of the movement.

—The yearly Friends' conference will be held in the New York meeting house, beginning Saturday, May 27th, and ending Friday, June 2d.

—Don't forget that the celebrated encyclopædia Britanica is on sale at Woodhull & Martin's. It is the best value for the money yet offered.

—A new fence has been erected inclosing the grounds around the Watchung School in the borough, and dividing the ground for the girls and boys.

—Spring hats, spring neckties, spring shirts and also a fine and unexcelled stock of goods can be found at the store of J. R. Blair, 126 Park avenue.

—Chas. Eisenberg, the painter and decorator, has in stock a full line of paints, oils and white lead which he is selling at wholesale, making a special price to the trade.

—One of the most interesting events of the season will be the illustrated lecture on Porto Rico to be given next Tuesday evening by Dr. Carroll at Grace M. E. church.

—C. E. Wild, a dry goods merchant of New York, will address the men's rally at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon. For seventeen years Mr. Wild was the buyer for A. T. Stewart.

—Rockview avenue that was macadamized about a year ago is in need of some repairs and the property owners have asked the street committee to give the matter consideration.

—The private drain being constructed in the upper part of the borough will be completed this week. Patsy Christmas, the contractor, has already laid over 125 feet of pipe.

—The inmates of the City Industrial Home are now served with milk from a cow owned by the city. This is considered to be much cheaper than purchasing the article from a milkman.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press)

Westfield, May 10—Two men, who gave their names as Nick Kirk and Joseph Issler, and who said they were without a home, were arrested by Constable Peek on Monday night. They were acting in a suspicious manner on Broad street about 10:30 o'clock and the constable took them to the "cooler," where they passed the remainder of the night. Yesterday morning Justice Tousey sent them to the county jail for ten days. Another man who was with them got away before the constable could get him.

Miss Florence gave a german to the members of her dancing class and their friends at the Westfield Club hall last evening. There was a large attendance and a good time was enjoyed by all. The favors were given out by Mrs. W. J. Alpers and Mrs. Joe Sherman. Mrs. S. S. Mapes furnished the music.

The Board of Education will Friday evening meet the advisory committee, which was appointed at the annual school meeting, for the purpose of acting with the board in procuring better school facilities for the township. The meeting will be held at the Prospect Street school.

Local and Metropolitan Performances That Will Please Those Who Delight in the Art of Thespis and Mimic World.

DeWolf Hopper is in New York again. "The Charlatan" has some new aspects and a brisker movement at the Fifth Avenue. The long comedian is playing his part in the manner of an individual entertainer, which is the way that his audience likes to have him do it, with a plenty of his own peculiar and familiar nonsense. His new companions in several of the roles are acceptable, and the entertainment is altogether blithesome.

"Why Jones Left Home" was the piece that the Mitchell All Star Players produced in Music Hall last night. It possessed much humorous and bright dialogue and many funny situations, which were enacted in a clever manner by the players. The Elmore sisters appeared in a new specialty last night and again demonstrated their ability as winning entertainers. To-night "A Red Cross Nurse" will be presented, which is founded on the late war. The only matinee will be Saturday afternoon when the Elmore sisters will appear in the "Two Kids," written especially for them. After that performance there will be a reception on the stage for the Elmore children, when refreshments will be served and a sociable time enjoyed by the little actresses and their admirers.

Every energy is bent in these early summer days to make the entertainments at the Proctor continuous houses more than ever enjoyable With this determination in mind, the programmes are compiled with much care and the vaudeville features are selected first, for their pre-eminence refinement and after that, for their effervescent amusement qualifications. So it is that the Proctor continuous entertainments have come to be accepted as quite the most attractive of the lighter amusements of Greater New York. The two Proctor houses are plentifully provided with laughing features for this week. A special announcement is made at the Pleasure Palace, 58th street and Third avenue, that for the summer the best seats for the ladies in the afternoon will be twenty-five cents and the family circle seats fifteen cents. The stars at the Palace this week are Gilmore and Leonard, of "Hogan's Alley" fame; Rosco's Porine circus, a wonderful animal act; Webb and Hassan, Chas. G. Kilpatrick and twenty others. At Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre for this week are Marshall P. Wilder, the remarkable little humorist and Lyceum entertainer, whom Mr. Proctor launched in vaudeville. He will present a brand new budget of humorous jokes and songs

To Visit Plainfield Next.

Deputy Internal Revenue Collector George E. VanVoorhees, of Elizabeth, was in Rahway yesterday morning, searching for parties who were selling cigars with counterfeit stamps on the boxes. Collector VanVoorhees discovered and confiscated two small lots of about 700 cigars. Plainfield is the next place he will visit.

Detained in Flower Hospital.

Timothy O. Loizeaux, of 1215 Putnam avenue, is detained at the Flower Hospital, New York, where he recently underwent an operation for some trouble of the head. The operation was successful and hopes are entertained of Mr. Loizeaux's ultimate recovery.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache, and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents, at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store. Every bottle guaranteed.

LARGE BARNS BURNED.

Structures on a Farm Near Bound Brook Were Destroyed

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bound Brook, May 10.—The large barns near the residence of Mrs Margaret M. Mather, a mile from this place on the Chimney Rock road, were completely destroyed by fire last evening at 10 o'clock. The fire is thought to be of incendiary origin. The barns and contents were destroyed, only the live stock being saved. Mrs. Mather's son, George Mather, formerly an ensign in the U. S navy, was at home alone at the time. The neighbors came to his assistance and formed a bucket brigade, thereby saving the house and some of the other adjacent buildings.

Editor Sues Alleged Assailant.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, May 10.—Fred Tyrrell, editor and proprietor of the Woodbridge Weekly News, has brought suit for $5,000 damages against Thomas Donegan, a commissioner of Woodbridge Township, alleging that on the night of March 28th Donegan waylaid and assaulted him. Sharp criticisms of Donegan in the News are said to have led to the alleged assault.

Fined $100 for Poisoning Fish.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 10—Tony Poliquio is a prisoner in the County Jail under a fine of $100 charged with malicious mischief in polluting a stream of water emptying into Spring Lake, near Summit. Deputy Game Warden Pheasant is the complainant. He alleges that the fellow threw a lot of unslacked lime into the brook, and it killed the fish. The sentence was imposed by Justice Kelly.

SUMMER COLORS.

Gay Tints and White the Prevailing Fashion.

White, which is to prevail during the warm weather, has brought into favor those relative shades which are near itself—pale ecru, blush, blue white, lavender, buff and light fawn. These colors are seen in crash fabrics, wools and silks and are very fashionable, being perishable and therefore only to be indulged in by the wealthy. Who will wear a gown of blush cloth save a woman who can afford to throw it aside at the first sign of soil?

After white and kindred tones blue is to be considered the leading effect. Navy blue is always worn, but fashion now demands a bright, vivid blue—hortensia, periwinkle, bluet. Then come green and violet, on nearly equal terms with each other. Yellow also is well represented, but there is a sudden jump from vivid to subdued shades, and gray and fawn are as well liked as green and violet, although they are usually combined with vivid colors. Nevertheless, charming and fashionable models are shown in which gray is combined with silver and fawn with gold, no distinct contrast being established.

The sketch shows an odd design for a young girl's gown. There is a princess tunic of bottle green cloth, which buttons at the back and opens at each side of the tablier over a panel of pinkish gray corduroy, across which is a sort of lacing composed of a narrow scarf of green surah. The V shaped plastron of plaited silk matching the corduroy is edged by a bias band of green silk, with little bows at the shoulders, and a similar band encircles the armhole. There are epaulets of plaited gray silk. The green straw hat is trimmed with pink satin and gray plumes.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

SUMMER APPAREL.

Pretty Clothes For Warm Weather Use.

An effort is being made to introduce boleros of bright colors, to be worn with skirts of white cheviot or pique. The idea is picturesque, and there is no reason why scarlet, blue and green boleros should not be as well worn as jackets of the same gay tints. The red golf jackets, short and of the same heavy webbing as sweaters, but with silk sleeves, are no doubt in part the cause of the launching of brilliant boleros.

Changeable effects in both silk and wool goods are still much in favor, especially in material woven with a broche design. There are a number of attractive taffetas in this class of goods, having a broken surface on which appear dots, stripes, broken lines, small geometrical figures or flowers. In wools the changeable granite suitings are very pleasing, and silk and wool mixed fabrics also appear in glace colors. Blue and white, blue and fawn, violet and mauve, violet and green, are among the favorite combinations.

Pale yellow is much seen in lawns, batistes and piques, and some dainty and fresh looking shirt waists are of this color. A rich orange also appears, but is used for silk waists plain or plaided and for chemisettes worn under boleros. Beneath a brown bolero, or one of navy blue, this deep, subdued orange is charming on a brunette.

The picture shows an attractive gown of steel gray cloth, the skirt having a deep facing of steel gray velvet and an additional decoration of steel buttons. The short coat is also trimmed with steel buttons, and the collar, revers and inner fronts are of mastic cloth. There is a vest of the gray cloth opening over a shirt bosom, a mandarin yellow cravat being worn. The hat of yellow straw is trimmed with white tulle and pink azaleas.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Household Talks

Engagement Rings.

An old saying in regard to the wearing of rings is that if a man or woman not engaged, is willing to marry, a ring should be worn on the index finger of the left hand; if engaged, on the second finger; if married, on the third finger; but if there is no desire to marry, it should be worn on the little finger.

A ring worn on the forefinger indicates a haughty, bold and unbecoming spirit; on the long finger prudence, dignity and discretion; on the marriage finger, love and affection, on the little finger, a masterful spirit.

The thumb and first two fingers represent the trinity. The next finger is the husband's to whom the woman owes allegiance next to God. The left hand is chosen to show that the woman is to be subject to the man.

The thumb is too busy to be set apart; the forefinger and the little finger are only half protected; the middle finger is called medicus, and is too apropos rious for the purpose of honor; so the only finger left is the pronubus, or wedding finger.

The engagement ring is an emblem of eternity, being round and without end, showing that mutual love should roundly flow from one to the other, and that continually and forever.

Some pretty and appropriate mottos to be engraved in engagement rings are: "In Love Abide," "Endless My Love," "Forever and for Aye," "Let Love Increase," and "While Life Lasts."

A Cabinet for Dresses.

Those who try to keep their dresses under the best conditions when not in use, know well the trials of the ordinary closets or "clothes press." To hang up a dress, especially a heavy one, is quite sure to pull the skirt out of shape and to injure the "fit" of the waist. The weight of even a light dress is quite sure to stretch the cloth in a way to give unpleasant results. Then, too, a dress that is hung up gathers more or less dust, even when protected as carefully as may be, either by covering or by turning it wrong side out—the latter practice doing as much to wear out a dress in many cases as does it occasional use by its owner.

The illustration shown herewith gives a suggestion that is invaluable. In the rear portion of the upper hall, in the "store room," or in some other obstrusive place, is built a cabinet having drawers below and an open chest at the top. The length should be about five feet. In this top dresses can be laid away without folding, and every assurance that they will come out of their resting place as "spick and span" as when put in, though they be left there indefinitely. No dust can enter, while moths can easily be kept out. The drawer below can be used for any kind of clothing, or for bedding, such a receptacle satisfying what in most homes is surely "a long-felt want."—The Ladies' World.

Embroidery Silk Rack.

A very pretty little hanging rack, made of silver wire in ornamental filigree shape, with little hooks of the bent wire, closely resembling a hat rack in miniature. But this is not a doll arrangement for hats, only a dainty adjunct to the embroidery table. On each little hook hangs still another silver wire arrangement, beat into a four-leaved rosette and intended to hold embroidery silks.

The silks to be used in any one special design may be wound upon these silk holders and hung on the rack conveniently near the embroidery frame.

This smooth silver wire may not be as elaborate as the heavily chased or all filigree silk holders, but they are better for the silk, do not fray them, and the pretty little rack keeps them together and free from the dirt the silk holders might pick up if left lying about the table

Princess a Bookbinder.

According to the London Young Woman, Princess Victoria of Wales is one of the few royal women who prides herself on the fact that she has learned a regular profession. At a recent industrial exhibition in London there was a specially interesting bookbinders' exhibit, there being contributions from the best-known binderies in Great Britain. Among them there were several artistically executed book covers which gained universal admiration, and whose maker was a certain Miss Matthews, to whom several prizes were awarded.

Some time afterward the identity of Miss Matthews became known, and great was the surprise when it was found she was Princess Victoria of Wales, who sent her work under an assumed name in order that it might get impartial criticism without consideration for her rank.

Paper Teeth.

German dentists are now making false teeth out of paper in place of porcelain or mineral composition. They are said to be very satisfactory, as they do not chip or break and are not sensitive to heat or cold. Best of all, they are very cheap.

The idea of paper teeth, however, does not sound very alluring and is rather suggestive of a menu composed of soups.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Baden.

Mannheim. Dem Schöpfer der badischen Kreisverfassung, dem vor einigen Jahren verstorbenen Minister Lamay, soll hier ein Standbild errichtet werden, dessen Kosten auf 30,000 Mark veranschlagt sind. Die Kreise haben schon ansehnliche Beiträge dazu bewilligt. Der größere Theil soll durch freiwillige Spenden zusammengebracht werden.—Eine neue Art sozialer Praxis hat die hiesige Eisengießerei und Maschinenbau-Aktiengesellschaft begründet. Sie kaufte ein großes, unmittelbar vor der Stadt gelegenes Gelände, theilte es in Parzellen und überwies diese dann ihren älteren, verdienten Arbeitern mit reichem Kindersegen zur unentgeltlichen Nutznießung.

Heidelberg. Der 22jährige Bankbeamte Ludwig Arnold von Frankfurt a. M., der sich hier in Stellung befand, hatte sich eine kleine Wunde an der Unterlippe mit den Fingernägeln aufgekratzt. Er zog sich eine Blutvergiftung zu, an deren Folgen er im Akademischen Krankenhaus starb.

Pforzheim. Hier starb der Hauptlehrer Wilhelm Schifferdecker, der wegen seiner Betheiligung an der 1849er Bewegung seines Amtes entsetzt wurde und dann von 1850 bis 1895 hier an Privatschulen thätig war. Als 1895 der Stadtrath beim Oberschulrath in Karlsruhe auf Ansuchen des alten Mannes, dessen Schule sich in Folge des guten Standes der Volksschule nicht mehr erhalten konnte, die Uebernahme Schifferdeckers in den städtischen Volksschuldienst befürwortete, war die oberste badische Schulbehörde nur schwer zu bewegen, ihre Zustimmung zu ertheilen. Der Mann sei schon zu alt, hieß es, dann habe er auch im Jahre 1849 die Flinte gegen die großherzogliche Regierung getragen. Da er nur ein Schullehrer war, so wurde ihm nach 45 Jahren noch übel vermerkt, was bei Anderen kein Hinderniß bildete, zu den höchsten Staatsstellen zu gelangen.

Elsaß-Lothringen.

Straßburg. Das hier kürzlich abgehaltene Reiterfest des 9. Husaren-Regiments hat einen Ueberschuß von 3000 Mark zu wohlthätigem Zwecke ergeben. Davon wurden dem Bürgermeister zur Vertheilung unter die Stadtarmen 1800 Mark und 1200 Mark dem Straßburger Militär-Frauenverein überwiesen.

Metz. Zwischen den Arbeitersehleuten Dietrich Hollermann entspann sich beim Nachtessen ein Streit, weil nach Ansicht des Mannes die Kartoffeln nicht weich genug waren. Der Mann stieß der Frau ein Tischmesser mit solcher Wucht in die Brust, daß sie nach etwa 20 Minuten starb. Ein 15jähriger Sohn aus erster Ehe der Frau war bei dem Vorgange anwesend. Der Mann holte nach der That, von Reue gepackt, den Arzt, der aber nur den Tod feststellen konnte. Hollermann begab sich noch am Abend mit seinem Sohne auf die Polizeiwache und meldete sein Verbrechen.

Oesterreich.

Wien. Hier hat ein Schwindler, der sich für den Verwandten eines ungarischen Ministers ausgab, dem Erzbischof Gruscha einen Check von über 36,000 Gulden zu entlocken verstanden, und eine Bank in Budapest honorirte den Check. Der Schwindler hat inzwischen das Weite gesucht.—Unter kritischer Mitwirkung des Kaisers hat der Maler Leopold Horowitz ein Bildniß der Kaiserin aus ihren letzten Lebensjahren nach Photographien, ohne sie je gesehen zu haben, hergestellt. Es nimmt jetzt den Ehrenplatz in der jüngst von Kaiser eröffneten Jahresausstellung des Künstlerhauses ein und kann als wohlgetroffen gelten. Dem Künstler wurde dafür das Ehrenzeichen für Kunst und Wissenschaft verliehen, welches bisher, neben den Malern Menzel und Boulin nur sehr wenige österreichische Künstler besitzen.

Brünn. Dieser Tage wurde den Lehrern der Gemeinden Herumsdorf, Weikersdorf und Deutsch-Libau die Auszahlung ihrer fälligen Gehalte mit dem Bemerken verweigert, daß für sie kein Geld in der Steuerkasse sei, weil die Gemeinden, in denen sie angestellt, mit ihren Steuerzahlungen im Rückstande sind.

Budapest. Die unlängst in Paris verstorbene Baronin Hirsch testirte auch für Ungarn 1,500,000 Gulden als Stiftung für arme Studenten. Der Wiener Bankverein als Finanzinstitut des Hirsch-Kuratoriums übersandte die 1,500,000 Gulden in österreichischer Rente dem ungarischen Unterrichtsministerium. Der Minister schickte jedoch die österreichischen Rententitres zurück und erklärte, die Stiftung könne nur in ungarischen Werthen acceptirt und errichtet werden.

Innsbruck. Die Lokalbahn Innsbruck-Hall bedient sich auf ihrer Strecke zum großen Theil der großen Heerstraße zwischen diesen Städten. Die Verwaltung dieser Bahn gedenkt nun, die Straßenbenützung ganz aufzugeben und daneben hierfür geeignete Gründe zu erwerben. Hiermit würde dann der beständigen Straßenkalamität ein Ende gemacht. Straße Innsbruck-Hall gilt gegenwärtig auch unter den Radfahrern als die gefürchtetste in ganz Tirol.

In stooping to conquer one may be able to rise to the occasion.

CARSON WILDRED'S CRIME.

A Detective Story of Two Continents,
by
HARRY WOOD REYNOLDS.

CHAPTER XXI.

"The fact is," said Bennett, "I haven't quite known what to make of Mr. Farnham since he's been back on this side the herring-pond. Of course he hasn't been well, but that would hardly be enough to account for the change in him. Did you see him, may I ask, Mr. Stanton, when he was in England?"

I informed him that I had done so, not thinking it best to volunteer the statement that I had only met him once.

"And did he seem like himself?"

This was rather turning the tables upon me. I was not prepared to answer many questions, but without hesitation I replied to this one, saying that, in my opinion Farnham had seemed uncommonly jolly and well.

Bennett looked thoughtful. "He got home here in Denver at night," he said "after telegraphing from New York he was coming. I went to call at his request—another wire—not a letter—and he saw me in bed. Mr. Farnham is so fond of plenty of light and noise as a rule, but in his bedroom he had refused to have the electricity turned on, and there was only a lamp on the table as far as possible from the bed. I called out: 'How do you do?' in my usual tones, but he answered me almost in a whisper. There were some important papers which had been waiting for him to sign, and I had taken them with me, thinking he'd be anxious to attend to them—he was always so keen and prompt in business—but he seemed quite angry when I suggested it, and said he wasn't to be bothered about anything of the sort for a week.

"Next evening I saw him again for a few moments, and there was the same dim light, the same whispering He was going away immediately, he informed me, and when I objected that he didn't seem up to travelling, he answered that when there was a lady in the case there was no question of a man being 'up to' things. I might send his letters to the Santa Anna Hotel, San Francisco, he went on, until further notice, which I should receive by telegraph in about ten days if his plans went well. Just as I was going he said, kind of laughing, and yet partly in earnest, too. 'Well, Bennett, if you don't hear from me at the end of that time, you'd better begin to look me up. The game that I mean to try and win is a dangerous one. There are others who want the lady besides myself.'

"Now, if there was a town on the face of the earth that Mr. Farnham used to hate, that town was San Francisco. It was because he hated the journey, and never wanted to take it again, that he sold his mine out in California to the English gentleman, Mr. Wildred. I would not have supposed that there was a woman alive would have got him to go to San Francisco, and I used to think too, that Mr. Farnham didn't care much for women; but no doubt the longer one lives the more one learns, and the more surprises one gets in such matters. I needn't say much about his being away from Denver for a few days, even at the office, he hinted to me; and with that we parted. Next morning early he left, and not a line have I had except a wire, merely announcing his safe arrival at the Santa Anna Hotel."

I listened in silence. Before Bennett had finished speaking my thoughts were far away—as far as San Francisco.

"By Jove," I exclaimed aloud. "The Santa Anna Hotel!"

"Do you know it, Mr. Stanton?" inquired Bennett, evidently surprised at my sudden vehemence.

"I was there once, many years ago," I said. "The name has brought back an old association to my mind which I had thought was lost."

I knew now where I had seen those strange eyes of Carson Wildred's, and what was the deed with which they had connected themselves in my mind, connected themselves in my mind. After all, perhaps, I had not come to America for nothing!

My memory travelled back over a space of ten years. I had then come back to San Francisco after an expedition into distant wilds with a party of friends shooting grizzlies in the Rockies. I had stopped at the Santa Anna Hotel, a small hostlery lately built having an English landlord, and therefore greatly frequented by Englishmen.

On the night of my arrival there had been a great disturbance in the house. Three men who had been stopping at the place got quarreling over a game of cards which they were playing in a private parlor. Two, who were the hosts, and were entertaining the third, had set upon him with intent to kill, being accused of cheating. I and several of my friends had run out from the billiard room, hearing a yell for help, just in time to see a man in evening dress stagger, bleeding, from the opposite door. "I'm killed! That devil has murdered me!" he exclaimed, and fell forward on his face.

At Bennett's mention of the Santa Anna Hotel, the whole scene had come up before me as vividly as though it had been enacted but yesterday. The open door, showing a brilliantly lighted interior; cards scattered on the floor; a young man—almost a boy—standing, as though frozen with horror, by an overset table; a large bowie knife, common to the country, apparently fallen from his right hand to the floor.

At the door itself an older man, who had followed his victim, no doubt with the intention of keeping him from making an outcry or escaping into the hall. But he had been too late, and the expression of his face as he met our eyes was hideous. Though the knife had to all appearance been used by his companion, it was at him the murdered man had pointed before he fell and died.

He was the one apostrophized as a wretch, and though he had a high aquiline nose, red hair, and bristling auburn brows that met across his forehead, the eyes had been those of Carson Wildred.

They were eyes not easy to forget, especially as they blazed defiance into those of the men who sprang forward to lay hands upon him. "There stands the murderer, gentlemen, as you see," he had said, making a gesture toward his young companion, a boy of eighteen or nineteen, who seemed too astonished and horrified to move. Despite the evidence of the fallen knife, however, not one among the men who witnessed the end of the scene believed that the youth was guilty. Murder was in the eyes of the other, and must have betrayed him, even if the last words of the dead man had not accused him.

California was somewhat wilder in those days than it is at present, and men were more ready to act upon impulse. So it was that, as two of us gripped the fierce, red-haired fellow, another of the party flung some whispered word to the boy, who had only spoken to murmur the four potent words, "God knows I'm innocent!"

What that word was no one knew save he who spoke it and he to whom it was addressed. But whatever it might have been, it seemed to rouse the young man to life with a realization of his position. With a leap he was at the long window and had sprung out on to a veranda which ran round three sides and three stories of the house. The room was on the first floor, and it was easy enough for an active young fellow to let himself down by one of the veranda pillars of the lower story.

It could not have been so easy to escape those who half-heartedly followed but the boy must have found some safe sanctuary nearby, for not only did he evade his pursuers, but we never found and brought to trial.

AND STEPPING PAST HIM I DELIBERATELY SCRIBBLED A FEW WORDS.

The other an Australian, calling himself Willis Collins, known as a gambler, suspected as a card-sharper, was less fortunate. But for the cry of the dying man he might have cleared himself but his reputation was against him to begin with; it was proved that the other was a young Englishman who had lost his money through Collins, and had been duped by him, and altogether matters went hard with the elder of the two confederates. He was tried and condemned not for murder, as it happened, but manslaughter, and sentenced to imprisonment for 20 years

The incident had passed out of my mind until, on a visit to America six years later (four years previous to my present one), a man who had been of our bear-shooting party in the Rocky Mountains had chanced to mention that the fellow had very cleverly succeeded in making his escape from the prison where he had been confined.

Carson Wildred had a peculiarly flat nose; Willis Collins had a particularly high one. Carson Wildred's hair was inky black; Willis Collins's had been a bright auburn. The former's face was smooth; the latter's mouth and chin had been concealed by a heavy though close-cropped red beard. So far as I knew there was but one man living who could have effected so radical a change, not only in appearance, but in in the countenance of any human being, and that was an old fellow in Paris who had gained a reputation and a fortune among men who had reason to cut loose from the moorings of their past. I had met this famous (or infamous) person in a curious way, and had heard some strange stories from his lips. If I had made his acquaintance, why should not Collins have done so, and profited by the friendship, as fortunately I had neither desire nor need to do?

Meanwhile, however, I had other work, and work closer at hand, to do.

"While you've been talking Mr. Bennett," said I, "I have been coming to a conclusion."

He smiled. "I'm glad of that, sir," he returned. "I have risked betraying Mr. Farnham's confidence that I may ask you what you think of that last hint of his, which, to tell the truth, has troubled me very much, coming, as it did, on top of so many queer actions. Although he was, or pretended to be, half in joke, ought I to let him stay away without taking some measures to find out whether his life was really threatened in California, and trying to help him out of a scrape if necessary? Of course, if all is straight, he'd be furious to have a watch set on his actions, and would never forgive me the indiscretion. Still, I haven't heard from him, as I said, since the day of his arrival, and neither my mind nor my conscience is very easy. Mr. Stanton. The question is, what would you do if you were in my place?"

I was delighted at this, and turned half away, that he might not see my change of countenance.

"It's rather a difficult position," I said slowly, "for you. But there's a simple way out of it, without any risk of losing Mr. Farnham's favor. I've been to the Santa Anna Hotel before. There's no reason why I shouldn't go there again if I choose, and no reason why I should mention having spoken with you at all if I meet my old friend I'm something of a nomad, you know, and if I'm in England one month, and turn up in Kamtchatka the next nobody is ever in the least surprised."

"But have you been thinking of going to California?" asked Bennett, half relieved and half dubious as to the course proposed.

"Oh, yes, I've been thinking of it," I promptly answered. But I neglected to add that it had only been during the past five minutes.

It was nearly dinner time two days later when I drove up to the Santa Anna Hotel in San Francisco my heart gave a quick thump as I came on the name of Harvey Farnham. It was not in his handwriting, which, though I had not seen it for some time, I remembered quite distinctly.

"Ah, gentleman's ill," said the proprietor, when I curiously questioned him. "Had his arm in a sling—got my clerk to put his name down for him, I recollect, as I was standing by. Mr. Farnham has been out a good deal, however, since he arrived, and, indeed, is out at present. He usually comes in about dinner time, though.

This was an incentive to me not to miss that meal. I got into my evening togs in a hurry, and was in the dining room before any one else, save a hungry-looking old man.

It was not a good season for the Santa Anna, so the proprietor had confidentially informed me, but two or three dozen people strolled into the room before I had been there for a half an hour. Still, I saw no familiar face, and was beginning to think in angry desperation that I had been eluded again, when the door opened to admit a tall and portly figure.

I looked up, my pulse quickening, my breath coming fast.

The man had a green shade over his eyes, was limping slightly, had his right arm in a sling, and altogether presented a somewhat battered appearance. But I said to myself if it was not Harvey Farnham it was his twin brother.

With all my eyes I stared at him. Almost as though there had been some magnetic influence in them to draw back, he came toward me, and haltingly approaching my table, motioned to the attentive waiter to draw out a certain chair.

He sat down, leaned back with an audible sigh, shook out his serviette with his left hand, slightly pushed up the green shade that shadowed his eyes, and began looking carelessly about the room.

As he did so his glance passed over my face. There was not the slightest hint of recognition in it.

"Hullo, Farnham!" I said, carefully controlling the agitation in my voice.

He started violently and nearly dropped the soup spoon, which he had picked up with his left hand. Then pulling himself together by a violent effort he smilled, without any of the old cordiality. Almost mechanically he had reached up for the green shade, and given it a hasty pull downward.

"Hullo!" he responded in hoarse voice, following the word with a cough "This is a surprise, eh?"

"Yes," I replied slowly. "People do run against each other in unexpected places, don't they? Now, I'll wager something that you've forgotten my name?"

He smiled again with a relieved expression. "Well" hoarsely again—"I'm afraid I have, for a moment. It'll come back, no doubt, but would you mind enlightening me meanwhile?"

"My name is Noel Stanton," I very quietly said. But I could have shouted aloud. Notwithstanding the extraordinary resemblance, this man was no more Harvey Farnham than I was!

CHAPTER XXIII.

I tried as I walked out of the dining room to put myself in the place of the schemers, and thus hew out, through an intricate mental process, some idea as to how the loose ends of the mystery were to be disposed of.

"If I were that fellow," I said to myself at last, "I should think it was about time to disappear. I should feel sure I'd come to the end of my tether and that somehow or other Harvey Farnham, as represented by me, had got to be unostentatiously wiped out."

Farnham, however, was too rich and important man in the Western States of his own country to disappear conveniently and with impunity. There would be a hue and cry, and suspicious facts might somehow be brought to light.

The only way, I decided, would be for the alleged Harvey Farnham to kill himself; but this it did not appear very likely that the most dazzling bribe could induce him to do. He meant to find some more comfortable way out of the hole into which he had so deliberately crept than the way of suicide, and it began to seem that the only method by which I could prove my case would be by finding out what that way was to be.

At present, unless I could have the fellow arrested, and such disguise as he might wear dragged off, I should have great difficulty in obtaining credence of my story. The incidents were all so remarkable that they must be certified with the best of evidence, and such evidence as I wanted could only be forthcoming from Bennett, or some one else in Denver who knew Farnham equally well.

What I must do, I thought, would be to keep on the man's track and never for an hour lose sight of him. I must do this without arousing any suspicion on his part as to my motives until the last moment, when I should be prepared to accuse him.

This conclusion naturally reminded me that at the very moment it was reached I had virtually lost sight of my quarry, and that already I might have missed my chance. Accordingly I hurried back to the Santa Anna Hotel, and though it was then too late to wire Bennett, I determined to do so early the next morning. I would request him to come on to San Francisco at once on a matter of extreme importance, and—his mind being already disturbed concerning his employer—he would lose no time in obeying. In Bennett, if I could fairly corner the bogus Farnham, I should have the most valuable witness in the world.

My first question was as to whether Mr. Farnham were in the hotel. He had not yet returned from a call he had gone to make after dinner, and I sat down, therefore, in the corridor inside the front doors, through which he would have to pass on entering.

I pretended to be absorbed in a local paper, but in reality my thoughts were a maelstrom. Suppose he had already escaped me.

At half-past seven, however, he came in. I did not seem to lift my eyes from the pages before them. He would have to go directly by me on his way upstairs; time enough to appear to observe him then.

"Cablegram for you, Mr. Farnham," said the clerk of the hotel.

"Ah!" The exclamation was one of surprise. He had not, then, been expecting the message.

I could not resist looking up, after all, to watch him in the act of reading it, and as I did so my eyes caught a gleam from his, under the green shade, as he turned to my face with an expression that was like a hunted animal's.

In the instant I was as positive as though he had told me in so many words that the cablegram he had received was from Carson Wildred, and intimately concerned me. Very probably it said: "If a man named Noel Stanton turns up, he is an enemy—beware of him."

I regretted immediately that I had given him my real name when we met at dinner, for warned now by Wildred he would be ever on his guard.

He was seized with a very creditable fit of coughing as he passed me, and, having growled out something about being "deuced tired, and sleeping like a log," he went upstairs.

I followed him in time to see him enter his own room, which was only half a dozen doors from mine, and to hear him noisily lock the door. It occurred to me that he was desirous to have me know that he had locked it, and I wondered if already he had begun to suspect my motive.

SPURNED $400 000 BRIBE.

FRANK S. Monnett, Attorney General of Ohio. Says He Did It.

ATTACKS THE OIL TRUST.

Predecessor Began Fight—Succeeded in Having Standard Oil Co. Declared an Illegal Corporation.

Monnett Started Proceedings to Have the Trust Declared In Contempt of Court, and States that a Representative Offered Him $400,000 to Cease Activity—Is a Very Persistent Man.

There is no reason why special credit should be given to a public official who spurns a bribe, yet the fact remains that the public is strongly inclined to give such credit, and particularly to one who spurns a $400,000 bribe which he could easily have taken under the circumstances and never have been accused of anything worse than quitting in a fight against a monster monopoly that means nothing but hard work to him.

That is why there is so much interest in Frank S. Monnett, the young Attorney-General of Ohio, who was won the plaudits of the people of his own and other States by his persistent and well directed attack on the Standard Oil Company. He has shown the sort of courage that men like, and, if the people of his State ever nominate him for a higher office than he now holds, as is not unlikely, he will make a mighty strong candidate, even though the Oil Trust magnates exert their tremendous money power against him, as they surely will do.

Mr. Monnett is not more than thirty-eight years old. He was elected Attorney-General of Ohio in 1895. His predecessors had begun suit against the Standard Oil Company which had resulted in the declaration of the Ohio Supreme Court that the trust was an illegal corporation and must cease its operations in the State. That order had been given by the court in 1895, and Mr. Monnett, like everybody else familiar with the situation, knew that the trust had made merely a pretense of obeying it.

Immediately he started proceedings to have the trust magnates declared in contempt of court and further proceedings to have the charters of its constituent companies in Ohio taken away because of the illegal alliance into which they had entered. Through these proceedings he has made life a burden to the Standard Oil Company's officers, and so wisely has he waged his war that they are fearful of the results.

It surprised nobody, therefore, when a few weeks ago Mr. Monnett told of an attempt which has been made to get him to cease fighting by a bribe of $400,000. In the presence of his brother-in-law a representative of the trust told him where he could find $400,000 that nobody need ever know he received if he would only cease his activity. He was not asked even to withdraw any of the suits he had begun but merely to let them drag along until his term of office expired.

What sort of a man is this young lawyer who puts aside an immense fortune, a fortune as great or greater than he can hope to make by a life of hard work?

Mr. Monnett is a quiet serious man, of student-like appearance, one who carefully plans his actions and weighs the results before he moves. He is tall, about five feet ten, not at all inclined to stoutness, is inclined to stoop a little, particularly when he shoves his hands in his pockets and walks up and down a room thinking over a case or conversing with a friend.

His forehead is high and broad. His dark brown hair is parted in the middle and brushed to either side, but not at all in a "chappie" style. His eyes are dark, large and expressive. His jaw is square, the lines of his mouth are firm, and altogether he looks as he is, a man with much reserve force and confidence that when he needs it it will be available.

Mr. Monnett speaks slowly and does not allow himself to get excited. In getting at the truth regarding the methods and doings of the Standard Oil Trust, Mr. Monnett has had to reason many things out and form his own conclusions, as the trust has more secrets than a political boss and pays hundreds of thousands of dollars a year to lawyers to guard them. Many of his conclusions he finds are not justified as the evidence develops, and it is there that the persistent character of the man best shows.

Starting out to establish a point with a witness, who will tell practically nothing and is constantly looking for an opportunity to ridicule him, Mr. Monnett frames his questions according to the conclusions he has reached, and as he puts them he is soon able to ascertain from the manner of the witness and the trust lawyers whether he is on the right track or not. If he is wrong they ridicule. If he is right they object and protest.

Mr. Monnett is an exceedingly affable man, in a quiet, unostentatious way. He does not regard himself as a giant-killer, or a monster-hunter. He simply knows that the laws of Ohio prohibit operations of monopolies within the State, that the Courts of Ohio have declared the Standard Oil Company to be such an illegal monopoly, and that as Attorney-General it is his business to see that the laws are enforced and the mandate of the court obeyed.

GOLF.

The course of the Park Golf Club is visited every afternoon by a crowd of enthusiasts who are becoming more proficient in the game.

The permanent ownership of the Fisk Junior Cup will soon be decided on the links of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, probably Saturday afternoon. The trophy was originally offered to the junior member, under eighteen years, who won it three times. So far George Richards has won it twice and five other young men have won it once each. As some of them were passing the age limit and almost all expect to enter college in the fall, the golf committee deemed it best to end the competition for the trophy this spring. So the finals for the cup were arranged and the first round played Saturday. One surprise of the first round was the comparatively easy defeat of Augustus Fisk by George Richards. Fisk has been playing good golf and promised to give Richards a lively rub. They met Saturday morning and Richards found no trouble defeating his opponent. Fisk was not at his best by any means. In the afternoon, when it was to late, he showed a marked improvement. The semi-finals are set for this Saturday afternoon. Then Richards and Morris Dumont will meet, Parker W. Mason drawing the bye. Dumont and Richards are well matched and will undoubtedly make an exciting match. Richards is playing a very conscientious game and is picked by many as having a good show for the cup. While no one can tell how the players will show up when the time for play begins, it is thought that the trophy lies between Dumont and Richards unless Mason shows up in particularly good form.

HOW ABOUT THOSE BUTTONS?

John Keely Will Make Trouble if They are Not Returned to Him.

There was an incident connected with the runaway and wrecking of one of Keeley's coupes, Monday evening, that threatens trouble for one of the participants. When John Keeley reached the scene of the wreck that evening he quickly removed his coat and cuffs, tossed them on a neighboring lawn, and started to right the coupe which had tipped over on the horse.

When it was all over and Keeley started to put on his coat he found that the cuffs, which were fastened with solid gold cuff buttons, set with opals, were gone. He started to investigate and found that the cuffs had been picked up. Now John Keeley says that he only cares to recover the buttons, but a certain individual was seen to pick them up and will be held accountable unless they are returned.

Roundsman Flynn Has a Disagreeable Job on His Hands.

Among the official duties to perform is that of serving notices on property owners to lay sidewalks, and this duty has been placed in the hands of Roundsman Flynn, who started on his rounds yesterday. His instructions are to serve the notices on the real owners and no other person. When he finds the owner he is obliged to ask a few questtions, and then affix his signature and date to each notice.

Some of the people who received notices were very indignant and said that they would not lay walks until their neighbors complied with the law. One woman who received a notice expended $300 last year in laying walks and her neighbors opposite did not lay any walk at all. Others claim that certain city officials have not complied with the law and they are not inclined to lay walks until they do.

Robert Hamilton Suffered a Painful Flesh Wound.

Robert Hamilton, a young son of W. F. Hamilton, of Verdon avenue, met with an accident yesterday while shooting frogs in one of the nearby brooks. The revolver accidentally discharged and the ball entered a fleshy part of the foot. The accident was a painful one, but no serious results are feared as the ball was removed from the foot.

Operation for Appendicitis.

For sometime past Mrs. Honeyman, wife of Rev. W. E. Honeyman, of Lincoln place, has been a sufferer from attacks of illness resembling appendicitis. Yesterday there was a return of the trouble and after an examination it was learned that Mrs. Honeyman had appendicitis. Acting on the advice of physicians she consented to be taken to the hospital for a surgical operation. Dr. E. W. Hedges, assisted by members of the hospital staff, yesterday succeeded in removing the troublesome affection in an entirely successful manner. Today Mrs. Honeyman is doing nicely and all the symptoms are favorable for speedy recovery.

Surprised on His Birthday.

James H. Searing, of Madison avenue, was pleasantly surprised today, the occasion being the fifty-ninth anniversary of his birthday. The affair was a family gathering and was enjoyed by all present.

—Tomorrow evening in Bethel chapel a juvenile concert, consisting of drills, dialogues, recitations and music, will be given by the young people for the benefit of the church.

HOBART MUCH BETTER.

ALL DOUBT OF HIS RECOVERY SAID TO BE REMOVED.

He Proposes to Spend the Heated Season at Long Branch and Has Leased a Beautiful Cottage There Near the Ocean.

(Special to The Daily Press)

Washington, May 10.—Vice-President Hobart's recovery from the illness which has afflicted him ever since the adjournment of Congress, March 4th, has been very slow, much slower than his physicians anticipated, but they say that his health will be excellent as soon as the recovery is complete.

Mr. Hobart is now in a convalescent condition. He is sufficiently strong to be with his family at dinner, to sit up in his sleeping-room the greater part of each day. He felt so much improved last week that he sent for Mr. McHenry, his business secretary, and with his aid disposed of some pressing personal business and urgent correspondence.

Mr. Hobart some time ago contemplated passing the heated term on the banks of the St. Lawrence River, but his physicians advised him to take a cottage at Long Branch and breath the ozone from old ocean, and he has complied with their wishes.

The Vice-President has leased Normanhurst, the beautiful seaside home of Mrs. Norman L. Munro, at Norwood Park, Long Branch, and he and his family will occupy it as soon as possible. The Vice-President will not wait for fashionable Long Branch people to arrive before he goes there, but he will take possession of his summer home as soon as he is sufficiently strong to bear the fatigue and inconvenience of travel. He may get to Long Branch between June 1st and 15th.

MR. HUBBARD DIRECTOR AGAIN.

Union County Board of Freeholders Organized This Morning.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 10.—The Union County Board of Freeholders met this morning for organization, and for the twelfth consecutive time J. Frank Hubbard, of Plainfield, was elected director. Mr. Hubbard has been a member of the Board for thirty-two years.

Dr. F. W. Westcott, of Fanwood, was reappointed county physician and J. W. Fink was reappointed county road inspector. The terms of the clerk, attorney and collector hold over another year. The Board adjourned to meet week from tomorrow when the county appropriations will be made.

Water Supply Company Directors.

The annual meeting of the Plainfield Water Supply Company was held last evening when the following persons were elected as directors: Frank Bergen, John Kean, Hamilton Kean, J. Maguire and J. Frank Hubbard. Frank Bergen was elected president and Mr. Hubbard was made secretary and treasurer.

To Hold a Reunion Every Year.

A meeting of Gazelle Engine Company of the Plainfield volunteer fire department, was held last night and the affairs of the company wound up. It was decided to hold a reunion of the company every year.

Mr. Pier, of West Front street, has about recovered from his recent severe illness.

Slightly Damaged By Water.

47 very fine men's suits were slightly damaged by water in our store through the neglect of one of Mr. Stillman's tenants having caused an overflow in the sink and the result was that an entire lot on one of our tables were slightly wet. The table that got wet is in the rear end of the store; the water came through the ceiling. We will place this lot of suits on a separate table and we will sell them at about 15c to 25c on the dollar.

They have all been dried and pressed and are now in just as good a condition as though they had never been wet.

They MUST be sold on Wednesday and Thursday, must have the room for other goods. Come at once, first come, first served.

We expect to sell all these suits very fast as they will go very cheap.

SUNDAY SHAVING MAKES DISCONTENT.

Troubles in the Ranks of the Local Barbers.

THE SPIRIT OF THE LAW.

ALLEGED THAT ALL BARBERS ARE NOT OBSERVING IT.

Majority of the Tonsorial Artists Favor Sunday Closing, But Are Not Satisfied With Methods Now in Vogue—Some Allege That the Law is Being Violated by Several in the Business.

"What? Keep open on Sundays again?" exclaimed one of Plainfield's leading tonsorial artists, pausing razor in hand while removing the stubby growth on a familiar chin. "Not if I can help it, at least."

Such seems the general opinion among the local barbers although a few would like to see the present city ordinance, relating to the subject revoked. While the spirit of the ordinance suits the great majority of the barbers, they are by no means satisfied with the way in which it has been observed. There is even some talk of complaints to the City Judge and subsequent arrests for alleged infractions of the ordinance.

The ordinance allowing the barbers to keep open only six days a week was passed by the Common Council at the express request of the local barbers. A petition was drawn up and almost unanimously signed. Then came the passage of the ordinance and, for a time, every barber shop in the city was closed on Sunday.

Several months after the passage of the ordinance, David Miodovnik, better known as "Dave," whose shop is at 213 West Front street, closed up Friday nights at sundown and opened Saturday night at sundown, keeping open all Sunday. As he is a Hebrew, he has a right to observe the Hebrew Sabbath according to the ordinance. As Dave was one of the leaders in the Sunday closing movement and signed the petition, there was considerable feeling against him on the part of some of the other barbers.

George Richter has a barber shop at 15 Somerset street. He, too, signed the petition asking for Sunday closing. After a time he rented a small establishment on Somerset street, just across the brook and the county line. The North Plainfield shop is kept open on Sunday while the Plainfield establishment runs week days. While there is no breaking of the ordinance, the other barbers claim that he has violated the spirit of the agreement.

Certain of the proprietors of the tonsorial parlors, which are closed Sundays, spend the greater part of their day in visiting the homes of certain of their patrons. This, they claim, they are compelled to do to keep their trade from the hands of those who keep open Sunday.

Several establishments have recently opened on the principle of closing Saturdays and opening Sundays. It is alleged by several other Sunday-closing barbers that the law is violated by them frequently. Their claim is that these shops are not closed Friday nights until long after sundown and open Saturdays at 5 o'clock, while the sun does not set at this time of year until after 7 o'clock. Complaint has been made to Chief Grant, and he has expressed a willingness to move forward in the matter if a formal complaint is made.

One barber has declared that he intends to keep open Sundays if the law on the subject is not better enforced. He declares that the city ordinance is really not legal and could be broken by the barbers, if they united and made a joint fight on a test case in the county and State courts.

The general sentiment is undoubtedly in favor of the Sunday closing, and any attempt to persuade the Council to revoke its ordinance would meet with strong opposition. There is, nevertheless, a feeling among the trade that something ought to be done, although none are anxious to take a lead in the movement.

Rear End Collision at Cranford.
(Special to The Daily Press.

Cranford, May 11.—A rear end collision of two coal trains, eastbound, occurred at this place yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock, derailing about six small cars and blocking the eastbound track for a half hour. The rear train drawn by engine 363 and in charge of Engineer Yatter, ran into the train ahead drawn by engine 360 in charge of Conductor Snyder. Yatter lost control of his engine on the down grade and was unable to stop quick enough to prevent the collision. No one was hurt.

Edward Hobby, of Brooklyn, has been visiting relatives in town.

SWUNG ON THE LADDER.

PAPA THOUGHT HIM TO BE A TERRIBLE BURGLAR MAN.

The Young Fellow Had Left His Keys at Home and Wanted to Get Into the House Without Disturbing His Parents

A family living on West Fifth street had an experience last night with supposed burglars which gave them all a fright. The head of the house was awakened about 2:30 o'clock by suspicious sounds in another part of the dwelling. He arose and began to investigate. The noise seemed to come from a room in the rear of the house not occupied. Opening the door carefully the father saw a long ladder leaning against the window, up which some one was climbing.

The old gentleman is a valiant man when he is aroused, but had no weapon of any kind at hand. But rushing to the open window, he seized the end of the ladder in both hands and was about to hurl it and the intruder into space when a faint cry of "Father" came sailing up to him from below, and the old gentleman recognized the voice of his eldest son. Explanations followed, and it seemed that the young man had gone out for the evening leaving his keys home in another pocket. Finding out his loss, the young man determined not to awake the folks by ringing the door bell, especially as the hour was long after his usual time for turning in. He remembered that there was a long ladder lying out by the barn, and as the window in this room was always left open to insure ventilation, he determined on this course. He might have been successful if the old folks had not been such light sleepers.

STUDENT TO PRESIDENT

REV. JOHN A. STAFFORD IS NOW HEAD OF SETON HALL COLLEGE.

Was Formerly Assistant Rector in St. Mary's Church in This City and Helped Also to Establish the Catholic Lyceum.

There is more than ordinary interest in the new president of Seton Hall College, the leading Catholic educational institution of New Jersey, because he was formerly engaged in pastoral work in St. Mary's parish in Plainfield. The one who has been distinguished by relection for this responsible position is Rev. John A Stafford, pleasantly remembered by all the Catholics and many others of this city.

The new appointee will take charge next week. Since Father Synnott's death the vice-president, Rev. George F. Brown, has been acting president and has been congratulated for his abilities in educational circles which he has shown in discharging his duties as executive of old Seton.

Father Stafford's election is very popular. He is thoroughly conversant with the duties of the college presidency, having served as vice-president for two years. He assumed the duties of president of the college when Rev. William F. Marshall, the president, found it necessary to go to Europe for his health. Father Marshall is still abroad and is not yet in good health.

Father Stafford was ordained in Rome. This was in 1888 He received the sacred orders of the priesthood in Rome Cathedral, the Church of St. John, Lateran. Cardinal Parocchi presided at the ordination ceremonies.

Shortly after returning to this country Father Stafford was assigned by the Rev. Bishop W. M. Wigger, of the Newark diocese, as curate to the Rev. P. B. Smyth at St. Mary's church, Plainfield. He was stationed in Plainfield for four years, during which time he assisted very materially in having a handsome new club house erected for the Young Men's Catholic Association connected with St. Mary's church.

From Plainfield the energetic young priest was assigned to St. Mary's church in Jersey City, where he labored under the Rev. Dr. Charles J. Kelly, now of Hoboken. While in Jersey City Father Stafford did a great deal to further the interests of the well-known Catholic Club there, and to him much credit is due for the prominent position this association holds in Catholic affairs in Jersey City today.

Father Stafford was summoned to Seton Hall from Jersey City to accept the vice-presidency of the college. After serving as acting president until a few years ago, when he was sent to St. Augustine's church, Union Hill, which was really his first work as a parish priest or pastor. He was extremely successful at Union Hill.

By earnest and energetic work he had the school reopened, and now it is in a flouishing condition. He has also paid off considerable of the parish debt.

DR. ROBERT TRACY'S DEAD BODY IS FOUND.

Discovered Floating in the Saranac River.

MISSING FOR FIVE WEEKS.

DEATH SUPPOSED TO BE DUE TO ACCIDENTAL DROWNING.

Dead Man's Relatives Notified This Morning of the Finding of the Body, but no Further Facts Received—Was a Patient at a Sanitarium When He Disappeard—Family is Heart Broken Over the News.

A telegram was received this morning from Saranac Lake, New York, that the body of of Dr Robert S. Tracy was found this morning in the Saranac river. It is supposed that he was accidentally drowned. Howard C. Tracy, his brother, will go to Saranac Lake tonight and bring the body home.

A reward of $100 was offered for his discovery. The body was found by a man named George Utting.

The above facts were furnished to The Daily Press today noon by the family, and are all that the family know at present. It will be remembered that about five weeks ago Dr. Tracy disappeared from a sanitarium at Saranac Lake, where he was taking a needed rest. The family was at once notified of the disappearance and men were employed to go in search of him. E. C. Perkins and Howard C. Tracy of this city, also joined in the search, but efforts seemed unavailing. The search was continued, however, until the body was found this morning. The condition of the body is not known.

Dr. Robert S. Tracy was born in this city and was the son of J. Evarts Tracy, of West Eighth street. He attended the Plainfield Public Schools, where he was graduated. Afterward he entered the College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York, and after graduation from there he was appointed to the New York Hospital, where he served two years. While in the performance of his duties his health broke down and he gave up his work to go to a sanitarium at Saranac Lake, and it was while there that he disappeared.

The family is heart broken over the terrible news received and the sympathy of a very large circle of friends and acquaintances are extended to the members in their bereavement.

Scared Into a Confession.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bound Brook, May 11—A young lad giving the name of Miller, from Bayonne, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Marshal David Taylor, on suspicion of having stolen a bicycle. He offered to sell the wheel for $10 and succeeded in doing so, after telling a creditable story. He purchased a ticket for Scranton and while waiting for the train was questioned by Taylor and, becoming scared, confessed to having stolen the wheel from his employer, Philip Miller, of Bayonne. Word was telegraphed to Mr. Miller, who sent a person here and everything was satisfactory and he was taken home.

A New Resident for the Borough.

J. W. Hunt, of Washington, a man of wealth and prominence, has leased the residence of former Mayor B. A. Hegeman, Jr., on Myrtle avenue, Washington Park, and will take possession May 20th. Mr. Hunt has large business interests in Savannah, Ga., and recently opened a branch office in New York. He will remain in Plainfield during the summer. Elston M. French & Co., of North avenue, were agents in the above deal.

Boards of Health Differ.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Roselle, May 11—The Roselle Board of Health is becoming uneasy because the State Board has made no report on the matter of the pollution of the brook. It is a matter of a difference of opinion between the boards of Union and Roselle. The Union board does not consider that the brook is being polluted, and therefore will not take any action in the matter.

Judgment for Powers.

Michael Powers, of South avenue, sued Adam F. Hoffman, of Westfield, in Justice Mosher's court this morning for a bill for stone. The account had been running since 1896, and the balance sued for was $128.28. Judgment was rendered for the full amount of the claim and costs.

Telephone's New Quarters.

It is quite probable that the telephone company will move next Sunday evening to their new building on Park avenue. The work of moving is quite difficult, and it will have to be done in a very careful manner so as not to interfere with the work of the company's business.

CENTRAL PLANS FOR A FREIGHT TERMINAL.

Wharves to Be Used at Elizabethport, Not Jersey City.

WILL MAKE LESS WORK.

A NEW TRANSFER STATION WILL BE ERECTED.

On the Face of the Plan the Primary Cause of the Change is That the Transfer Department in Jersey City is Unable to Handle the Increasing Amount of Work Thrown on It.

Among the many changes made and proposed by the Central Railroad Company of much importance is that which contemplates making the freight transfer terminus at the wharves in Elizabethport instead of at Jersey City.

On the face of the plan the primary cause of the change is that the transfer department in Jersey City is unable to handle the increasing amount of work thrown upon it by the growth of traffic over the road. Some of the railway men, however, seem to find another motive, in that ultimately the transferring will all be done at the yards and docks at Elizabethport with a less force of men than at present employed.

Until Monday the freight was sent from all points to Jersey City, where it was assorted for its various destinations. Cars were reloaded so as to make through ones for Brooklyn, New York and other places. This work is said to have become too heavy, and part of it has been transferred to this city. All that will run to Jersey City now will be the full cars ready for float shipment to the various connecting roads or to the nearby cities.

Plans for a new transfer station, large enough to accommodate the great amount of work, will be put into effect immediately, and the building erected. After that is done the cars will be made ready at the Port for their final destination, and sent to Jersey City for direct shipment.

High School Alumni Organized.

The classes of 1897-8 of the Borough Public High School met Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Clara VanFleet on Jackson avenue and organized a High School Alumni under the direction of Superintendent Wightman. The members decided to give a reception to the Class of 1899 in the High School Assembly Hall on the evening of Friday, June 23d. Tickets can be had of any member of the alumni.

Received Visitors.

Loyal Council, No. 17, A. O. U. A. M., which was instituted in Plainfield last week, held its first meeting in Exempt Firemen's Hall last night. Five candidates were initiated and there were visitors present from Rahway, Elizabeth and New Brunswick all of whom took part in the initiation. T. S. Gilmore, the organizer of the council, occupied the chair in the absence of the Councillor, B. W. Hand.

Exhibition Drill at Rutgers.

One of the events of the year at Rutgers College, New Brunswick, is the annual exhibition drill of the college cadet corps, which is to be held this year at Neilson field, New Brunswick, Wednesday afternoon. Ralph B. Titsworth, of Dunellen, is lance corporal of Company B. He will probably be promoted this year.

Memorial Day Detail to Meet.

A meeting of the memorial detail of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., the Women's Relief Corps, Sons of Veterans and the soldiers of the late war will be held this evening in the office of Justice Moffett, on Park avenue. Arrangements for the celebration of Memorial Day will be made.

Eighteenth Anniversary

The eighteenth anniversary exercises of the Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church will be held in the church next Sunday evening. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Schenck, will make an address and the annual report of the secretary and treasurer will be read.

Beautifying Their Homes.

The property-owners on the southside of Sycamore avenue, Washington Park, between Willow avenue, have greatly added to the appearance of their beautiful homes by taking down the front fences.

To Exchange Pulpits.

Next Sunday morning Rev. J. W. Richardson, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, will exchange pulpits with Rev. Dr. Schenck, of Trinity Reformed church

Patent for B C Ball.

A patent has been granted to B. C. Ball, of Washington Park, for a vibrating tachometer.

THE OLD GOES OUT AND NEW COMES IN

County Legislature Organizes for the New Year.

ANNUAL REPORTS MADE.

GOOD BALANCE REMAINS IN THE COUNTY TREASURY.

City of Summit Now Has Two Representations, the New Member Being a Republican—Interesting Facts and Figures From the Different Departments—Eighteen Members in the New Board at Present

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 11 —As told in The Daily Press yesterday afternoon the new Board of Freeholders organized for the year by electing J. Frank Hubbard, of Plainfield, as director for the twelfth consecutive time and after thirty-one years of service in the Board. Previous to the convening of the new members the old Board closed up its business for the year and received a number of important reports.

The receipts of the county for the year were $482,719 53, the expenditures $464 228 20, and balance $18,491.33.

County Physician Westcott reported that he investigated 160 cases of death, and gave certificates for burial.

The committee on jail inspection highly commended the management of the jail by Warden Dodd and Matron Dodd. There were 563 commitments to the jail during the year. The average number of prisoners in the jail each day was 50; present number of inmates, 41. The average cost of maintenance was 23 cents per day, and the total expenditures $4,231.13.

The county road committee reported that for road repairs there was expended $14,284.56. and for this expenditure 7½ miles of road were repaired with 1½ inch stone, 11½ miles were topdressed with fine stone, and 18 miles of gutters cleaned.

The committee on lunacy reported that the county had 237 patients in the Morris Plains asylum. During the year seven died and 16 were discharged as cured. The appropriation for lunacy was $38,000, which was exceeded by $763 03.

Following these reports the new Board of Freeholders organized. The Board now comprises 18 members, there being two from Summit since it has become a city. J. U. Cady, the only newcomer in the Board, is one of the Summit representatatives. He is a Republican, and his associate, Freeholder Swain, is a Democrat.

After his election as Director, Mr. Hubbard briefly returned his thanks for this renewed expression of confidence, and the honor of being the unanimous choice. He said he would endeavor to fulfil the duties to the satisfaction of all, and in a manner to merit the continuance of the esteem of the associations.

Dr. F. W. Westcott, of Fanwood, was re-elected county physician by a unanimous vote, and the salary was increased from $500 to $600.

James W. Finck was re elected inspector of county roads at a salary of $60 per month.

On resolution of Freeholder Hulskamper the newspapers designated to publish the minutes of the Board at a compensation of $100 are: Elizabeth, Daily Journal, Daily Leader and Freie Presse; Plainfield, Daily Press and Courier-News; Westfield, Leader and Union County Standard; Summit, Herald and Record; Cranford Chronicle and Passaic Valley News of New Providence.

Defective Valve on Fire Alarm.

The troubles with the fire alarm whistle of late have been caused by a defective valve. A new one was ordered and arrived a few days ago This morning the new valve was put in place and the old one shipped to the factory where it was made to be put in order. The whistle gave a single blast when the new valve was being put in. It is now expected to work in the future without trouble.

Hurt By a Runaway Horse.
(Special to The Daily Press)

Cranford, May 11—While Overseer of the Poor Ditzel, of this place, was out riding yesterday his horse ran away and threw him out cutting his head badly. The man was picked up by some friends and taken home where Dr McConnell is caring for him. His injuries are not thought to be serious.

An Address on Hawaii.

The annual public meeting of the Women's Association of the Congregational church will be held in the church tomorrow evening. There will be an address on Hawaii by the former pastor of the English American church at Honolulu.

SOMERSET FREEHOLDERS

WILLIAM J. LOGAN AGAIN CHOSEN FOR DIRECTOR.

The Total Cost of the County Government for the Past Year Was $116,875.96, the Roads Being the Biggest Item.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 11.—The new Board of Freeholders of Somerset county met Tuesday last for organization. The Board is composed of the following persons: Bedminster, Oliver H. Perry, D.; Bernards, John V. Bunn, R.; Branchburgh, Edward B. Hoagland, D.; Bridgewater, W. J. Logan, D.; Franklin, C. G. VanCleef, R; Hillsborough, John S. Everett, D.; Montgomery, E. V. Cruser, D; North Plainfield, Augustus Mobus, D.; North Plainfield borough, Andrew Lutkins, R; Warren, Joel Cooddington, D. The officers are as follows: Wm. J Logan, director; John A. Frech, counsel; Joshua Doughty, Jr., engineer.

The total expenditures for the past year were reported to be $116,875.96, and of this amount it cost the county $13,412 45 for the maintenance of the courts. The omnipresent tramp cost the county $238 25, and the expenses for the county jail were $1,687.19. Under the head of lunacy, the item of expense is $12,071 64. It has cost $425 for soldiers' burial, and $29,944 63 was expended on roads. Under the head of bridges the amount of expense is the largest, being $32 334.23. Of this amount $1,069.23 was expended in North Plainfield township and $2,409.91 in the borough.

During the opening session an upholstered chair was presented to Mr. Ballentine, a retiring member.

LAWYERS GOT SURPRISE

JUSTICE VANSYCKEL PUTS OFF MANY CASES FOR THE TERM.

The Justice Lost His Patience Because the Lawyers Were Not Ready to Go on Trial—Juror Discharged Till Monday.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 11th—Justice VanSyckel yesterday, in the Union County Circuit Court, lost his patience because most of the lawyers who had cases on the calendar for this term were not ready to go to trial when the cases were called. The Justice then unmercifully cut the list, and when he finished there were only four cases left to be tried, and only one of these before a jury.

The jury was then dismissed until Monday, when the case of John W. Whelan, receiver for the Victor Radiator Works, against the Moore Brothers' Company, will be tried. This is an action in tort to recover $50,000 damages from the defendants for taking possession of the machinery and stock of the Victor Radiator Works. This will practically end the May term so far as Justice VanSyckel is concerned.

The lawyers whose cases were put off for the term were much chagrined over the Justice's raid on the calendar.

A verdict for $15 812.70 was given to Mrs. Caroline C. Pratt, of Rahway, a widow, against the brokerage firm of Boody, McClellan & Co., of New York. Justice VanSyckel directed the jury, after the evidence was all submitted, to render a verdict for Mrs. Pratt without leaving its seat. She is the widow of the late Charles Pratt, the well-known Brooklyn manufacturer of astral oil.

Residential Changes.

Through the agency of E. C. Mulford & Son, of North avenue, Ernest Much has leased the house at 342 Webster place and R. A. Grant the house at 141 Grove street. Dr. William Jareckie, of New York, has taken John M. Crane's house on West Eighth street. This is the tenth consecutive season that Mr. Mulford has located Dr. Jareckie in Plainfield.

Advanced in the Ministry.

The many Plainfield friends of Louis Provost Peeke, son of Rev. A. P. Peek, of East Millstone, will be pleased to learn of his advancement in the ministry. He has concluded two years of study in the McCormick Theological Seminary at Chicago, and during the present summer he will fill the pulpit at the Reformed church at Maywood, Bergen county.

The Primary Teachers.

Next Monday evening the Primary Teachers' Union will hold a public meeting in the lecture room of the First Baptist church. W. D. Murray will teach the lesson on the subject "Christ Before the High Priest," and Rev. C. F. Ladd, of Jersey City, will give a chalk talk. A cordial invitation is extended to all persons interested.

Mr. Martine to Speak.

J. E. Martine will speak at the Rahway Board of Trade banquet tonight.

PRAISE FOR NEGROES BY COLORED BISHOP.

Rev. Mr. Grant Discusses the Condition of His Race.

SAYS NEGRO IS NO COWARD.

REBUTES THE STATEMENT THAT HE IS ALSO SHIFTLESS.

Declares That as a Race They Are Confronted With Serious Problems—Must Not Depend Upon Anything But Own Characters as Upright Men and Women—"Negro Must Not Forget God."
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Orange, May 11.—The twenty-seventh annual session of the New Jersey Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal church was begun yesterday in St. Paul's church. Bishop Grant presided. In the course of his address he said:

"We are confronted as a race and people with serious problems. With us are the solutions. We are not to depend upon any party or faction, but by showing our characters as upright men and worthy women, we shall materially contribute to the settling of all this questions. The negro is no coward. He has shown his prowess in all the wars of the republic and he will not be backward in the great fight which must be waged for the securement of all the rights and immunities due him as a true and loyal American citizen."

In answer to the charge that the negro is shiftless and barbarous, the Bishop said:

"The negro shiftless! Go over this exhibit: 350,000 homes paid for and 700,000 mortgaged homes which will be paid for in the next two years; $400,000,000 on which we are paying taxes; $32,000,000 in Texas, $20,000,000 in Louisiana, $8,000,000 in Maryland, and all this in thirty years. Does that look as if we are shiftless? At the end of the civil war there were not seventy-five colored teachers in the country; there are now 30,000."

"The negro is charged with being incapable of the civilization of this country and unworthy of American citizenship, but in what respect has he shown it? Has he not always been loyal to America, loyal to its institutions and loyal to all that goes to make up the worth of the nation? Permit me, then, as your Bishop, to urge you to the patriotic support of our country and its institutions. The way may now seem dark for us as a race and a people, but God is not slumbering. If you will in your labors among your people cultivate a spirit of good fellowship and good will among the good people, you will do much toward the creation of sentiment in favor of our people and you will bring to our support those friends of which we are so much in need. As God has always fought the battle of the oppressed, so will He fight our battle. God has not forgotten the the negro. The negro must not forget God."

Rev. J. E. Groves, of Plainfield, a member of the conference, was made a committee on Memoirs.

Miss Rummler a Charming Entertainer.

Miss Marian Rummler, of New York city, formerly of Detroit, comes to us highly recommended. Miss Rummler kindly gives her services for the benefit of the Muhlenberg Hospital, at the concert in the Casino Monday night. This young lady is a pupil of the famous Gwylin Miles, the Welsh Baritone, whose reputation is universal. She is said to be a young lady of sweet and charming personality, with an absence of that artificiality often found in young singers. Miss Rummler is a member of the Rubenstein Club of New York city.

Lieut.-Colonel Holly to Review the Cadets.

There will be an exhibition drill and inspection of the Plainfield High school cadet corps at the Cresent Rink, this evening, beginning at 7:45 o'clock. The cadets will be inspected and reviewed by Lieutenant-Colonel John I. Holly, who is a resident of this vicinity although a member of the New York militia. The drill will be an invitation affair. Only 300 tickets have been issued.

Cylinder Head Blew Out.

The 5:30 express train from New York was half an hour late last night in arriving in Plainfield. The delay was caused by a cylinder head blowing out just beyond Elizabeth, which had to be replaced before the train oculd proceed. The other evening trains following the 5:30 were also late as a consequence.

IT'S A MANLY ACT.

A Plainfield Citizen Speaks For The Benefit Of His Fellow Citizens.

A plain straightforward statement.
A grateful acknowledgment of help.
Telling a personal experience.
Making it public for the public good.
It's a manly act.
It's manly because it helps others.
So many people have been misled.
So many claims made that were not true.
No wonder there are skeptics.
A Plainfield man speaks here.
Speaks in the interest of humanity.
Shows the way to our citizens.
Removes the stumbling block of doubt.
Gives local endorsement.
No better proof can be had.
No better should be asked.
Plainfield people should know what is the true kidney remedy.
Distinguish it from many imitations.
Know that Doan's Kidney Pills are the only genuine.
There are many kidney remedies, but only one cure.
Other kidney pills but only one Doan's
And they cure kidney ills.
We say so—your neighbors prove it.

Mr. Chas. Giese, cigar manufacturer of 25 Elm place, says:—"I was subject to attacks of kidney complaint for 2 or 3 years. Most of the pain was in my back and hips and I could not stoop or straighten without feeling sharp, shooting twinges. When I sat for any length of time I grew stiff and sore, and was compelled to get up and move about. I grew so bad I had to do something for it. I had read a great deal about Doan's Kidney Pills being such a good medicine for kidney troubles, so I got a box of them at L. W. Randolph's drug store. I used them according to directions and after 2 or 3 days I felt better. I continued their use until the pain disappeared. I am only too glad to be able to testify to the fact that Doan's Kidney Pills are a splendid remedy."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers; price 50c a box. Mailed on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

PRESIDENT AT HOT SPRINGS

McKinley Begins a Course of Baths in the Steaming Natural Waters of Virginia.

HE IS A HEAVY SMOKER.

Statement that the President Has Already Reduced His Daily Allowance of Cigars to Five.

Has Been Almost a Slave to Tobacco For Years Rarely Appearing Without a Cigar in His Mouth—Nerves Began to Break Down Under the Strain of National Affairs.

Hot Springs, Va., May 11.—President McKinley has begun the course of baths in the steaming natural waters of this place, to eradicate from his system the poisons that have been instilled there largely, it is said, through excessive smoking.

The temperature of the water fluctuates somewhat, but remains in the vicinity of 104 degrees. A course in the baths requires about ten days, one bath a day. In this time, if Mr. McKinley controls his desire to smoke continuously, it is expected that the deleterious matter in his system will have been thrown off.

Every effort is being made by President McKinley to reduce the amount of his smoking. It is said that he has now got his limit down to five cigars a day, and hopes to reduce it even further within a short time. He now allows himself two cigars between breakfast and luncheon, two between that meal and dinner and one after dinner.

Mr. McKinley has a strongly rooted prejudice in favor of the American product. Although he has had thousand of cigars from the foremost factories of the world sent to him, Havana, Burmahs, Ceylons, South Africas and East and West Indian, he has always clung to an American brand for stedy use. It is made of Virginia leaf with clear Havana wrapper. It is comparatively strong and perfectly made.

But so many cigars has the President allowed himself in times gone by that recently his nerves began to break down. He had smoked during the all his waking hours for years and until this short time ago he had experienced little ill effect.

Now, however, Mr. McKinley has found that he must break away from this habit and take care of himself. For that reason he sought this place with its hot baths of mineral water.

With the President are Mrs. McKinley and Dr. Rixey; Secretary Gage and Mrs. Gage.

Local physicians highly recommend the warm baths for the cure of nicotine poisoning.

The President is held up as an example of the evil effects of too much cigar smoking.

State Bankers Meet.

New York, May 11.—The annual convention of the Savings Banks' Association of the State of New York is in convention here. More than one hundred representative bankers from all parts of the State were present. There were two sessions, divided by a luncheon, which was served in the south room of the chamber.

After the roll call Mr. John Harsen Rhoades, president of the Greenwich Savings Bank of this city and president of the Association, sounded the keynote of the whole meeting in his annual address. This was a call upon the Legislature for laws to compel every municipality in the State to render an annual report of its finances to the State Comptroller and to keep its accounts in such fashion that its financial standing may be readily and accurately ascertained at any time. Such a law is in the interest of the holders of municipal bonds.

Prosecuting Polish Press.

Berlin, May 11.—The Government is meeting the anti-German agitation in Prussian Poland by prosecuting the Polish press. The "Gazeta Grudzradzki," published at Graudenz, has had nineteen indictments brought against it based upon the paper's injunction to every child to speak Polish out of school and to every woman to constitute herself a protectress of the national sentiments.

Intending refugees who fail to find money enough to enable them to emigrate and who consequently mutilate themselves to escape conscription are being severely punished if detected. At Donah a laborer of the name Friedrichstag sawed off his index finger to evade military service and was condemned to a year's imprisonment.

Buffalo Strike Over?

Buffalo, May 11.—A conference was held between ex-Congressman Rowland B. Mahany, P. J. McMahon, president of Local 51, and several others.

Former Congressman Mallany addressed the grain shovellers and informed them that an agreement had been reached and that they had won a victory.

After the speaking 1,500 shovellers left the hall and lined up on each side of the street to receive Bishop Quigley, who drove up. He was received with hearty cheers.

Alaska Revenue Fleet.

Port Townsend, Wash., May 11.—The sailing of the Behring Sea patrol of revenue cutters will be delayed for additional repairs to the 4,000 ton coal barge to be towed to the mouth of the Yukon River, the contract for which has just been let, and also on account of a mishap which befell the Nunivak, which was being towed from San Francisco by the Rush. The Nunivak encountered severe weather which caused her seams to open, and it was with difficulty she was towed to Humboldt Bay.

First Reunion of Rough Riders.

Albuquerque, N. M., May 11.—At a meeting of the Commercial Club, to extend an invitation to the Roosevelt Rough Riders to hold the first annual reunion in this city, letters were read showing that Col. Brodie, the president of the organization, had decided on June 24 as the time and New Mexico as the place. The Rough Riders of the southern part of the Territory have voted unanimously for Albuquerque.

HERO AT FIRE.

Sergeant Chick's Bravery Helped to Save Manila City From Destruction.

Washington, May 11.—The Adjutant-General has received from Major-Gen. Otis a report submitted by Brig-Gen. S. P. Hughes, Provost Marshal General of Manila, in regard to the fires started by the insurgents in the Philippine capital on Feb. 22 and 23. In the report Gen. Hughes calls attention to an heoric act performed by an enlisted man of the United States Army. It became necessary to blow up some buildings to prevent the spread of the flames and in referring to this Gen. Hughes says:

"I wish to make special mention of Sergeant Leon H. Chick Battery H, 3d United States Artillery, who was acting under the direction of Capt. W. T. Wood, Chief of Ordnance, in placing and firing the powder cartridges. The fuse of the second cartridge failed, and the building was one sheet of flame in the lighter materials of the upper story. Sergeant Chick simply asked, when it became apparent that the first fuse had probably failed, if Capt. Wood wished the fuse replaced, and on receiving the affirmative answer he entered this fire trap, removed the fuse and caused the explosion of the cartridge, which so wrecked the building as to enable the fire to be checked with the means then at hand. This quiet discharge of so perilous a duty is, in my opinion, worthy of special recognition, and I therefore recommend Sergeant Chick for the appointment of ordnance sergeant, which I am informed is a position he seeks; and also that he be granted a certificate of merit."

In forwarding the report to the Adjutant-General of the Army, Gen. Otis says: "Gen. Hughes might have added in his report that he was present in person with his troops during the entire period covered in this report and directed in person all operations. His tact and unceasing vigilance saved the city from conflagration and possibly preserved the lives of the inhabitants."

Chicago and the Sultan.

Washington, May 11.—In a telegram to the Navy Department from Tangier, Rear Admiral Howison confirms the news officially received by the State Department that the Sultan of Morocco had paid the claims of American citizens for indignities suffered by them at the hands of the Morocco authorities. As soon as Admiral Howison was notified that the claims were satisfied, the cruiser Chicago, his flagship, started for Port Said. The Chicago's presence was the cause of the Sultan's sudden decision to pay the indemnity.

Naval officers are very much pleased at the success that attended the Chicago's visit to Tangier. When the State Department requested that she be ordered there the Navy Department found that in order to keep to her round-the-world schedule her stay must be brief, and the State Department was informed that the warship could not remain longer than yesterday.

The flagship reached Tangier on Sunday and remained off the port while the Consul-General of the United States was politely expressing to the Sultan's Minister of State the hope of his Government that the claims would be paid, and remarking on the friendliness of the United States in sending a warship to Tangier. The money was paid in time to permit the Chicago to leave in accordance with her schedule. If there had been any delay in the negotiations the Chicago would have been obliged to leave before the money had been collected.

No Agreement With Canada.

Washington, May 11.—The gravest apprehension is felt lest the negotiations of the Anglo-American Joint High Commission appointed to frame a treaty between the United States and Canada may not result in an agreement. This feeling is so strong that a report was circulated yesterday that deliberations of the Commission would not be continued. There is no authority, however, for saying that the Commission will not reassemble in Ottawa in August, according to the plan arranged at the time of the adjournment in Washington last February.

It is apparent that the State Department expects no successful result from this meeting. A good deal of irritation is felt on account of the failure of the Dominion Government to agree to the establishment of a modus vivendi on the Alaskan boundary question, and the feeling is that if Canada is unwilling to consent to such an arrangement, the fact does not augur well for the success of the continued negotiations for a permanent settlement of the Alaskan dispute.

The State and Treasury Departments have been a good deal stirred up, too, on account of the recent action of the Ontario Provincial Legislature in prohibiting the exportation of logs to the United States, especially as the legislation was made retroactive.

The Dominion Government had the power to disapprove this legislation within a certain limit of time, but did not do it. As the lumber dispute was, next to the boundary question, the greatest obstacle to the success of the Joint Commission's negotiations last winter the Washington officers are not encouraged by the unfriendly act of Ontario which was virtually approved by the Ottowa Administration.

"I'm Going to Hug Her."

Charleston, May 11.—At the Confederates reunion here Mrs. Jefferson Davis was introduced by Gen. Gordon as the one whom Jefferson Davis loved better than the Confederacy and better than his own life. As Mrs. Davis stepped to the platform the veterans went wild with enthusiasm.

Gen. Gordon shouted, "I am going to hug her," and caught her in his arms and pressed her to his bosom.

Many distinguished officers and privates were next introduced. The convention then adjourned until to-night, as Gen. Joseph Wheeler had not yet arrived.

Prosperity in Kansas.

Topeka, Kan., May 11.—Kansas banks are loaded with money. The statements from the State and private banks of Topeka show that there is over $23,000,000 now on deposit. This is $800,000 more than in May last year, notwithstanding the fact that two of the largest State banks in the State during the year were reorganized under the National Banking law.

MASSING FOR A FIGHT.

Filipinos Strongly Entrenched Behind Earthworks at San Idefonzo.

IN A STATE OF SUSPENSE

Native Troops Attack American Lines at San Fernando When Drunk on Wine From Bacolor.

Repulsed by Our Fire—Luna Bringing Up Forces by Trainloads in Sight of Lines—County Around Calumpit Filling Up With Natives Who Profess Friendship, But Are Suspected.

Manila, May 11.—The strongest insurgent position yet known in the course of General Lawton's advance was developed at San Idefonzo, nine miles north of Balinag, by a reconnoitring party consisting of companies of the Thirteenth Minnesota and Second Oregon regiments.

Heavy earthworks extend for a mile from a swamp on the left along a high ridge in front of the town, to the right, with flanking trenches, commanding a vast open country given up to rice fields.

If the enemy holds this position a great battle may be expected soon. All the indications suggest that every mile of the forward movement of General Lawton toward San Isidro will be resisted.

Thousands of hungry Filipinos are swarming into Lawton's lines. They are being fed from the large insurgent's stores of rice captured at Balinag.

General Lawton has established the first native municipal government in the Philippines at Balinag. A Filipino Mayor, who is authorized to select a Council, was elected yesterday at a public meeting of the natives. The Filippino Gen. Mascardo's Army, inspired by wine taken from the storehouses of Bacolor and by the General's oratory, on Monday evening attacked San Fernando.

There was tremendous yelling and a great expenditure of cartridges by the rebels, but very little result. Gen. Mascardo holds the outskirts of Bacolor west of the railroad.

In front of his position are the Kansas and Montana Regiments, which occupy trenches that the Filipinos built in anticipation of an attack from the direction of the sea.

During the afternoon of Monday Gen. Mascardo, with a large retinue of officers, rode along the lines, frequently stopping to harangue his warriors. At dusk a detachment of rebels rushed toward the outposts of the Montana regiment, but were met by a hot fire from the Montana regiment's line. The insurgents, from trenches nearly three miles long, responded.

After an hour's firing, during which one private soldier of the Montana regiment was wounded, the insurgents subsided, although they kept up a scattering fire throughout the night.

Prisoners who were brought into the American lines said that General Mascardo distributed barrels of wine among his soldiers, telling them that he expected to capture the city of San Fernando. The trenches undoubtedly saved the Americans from heavy loss, the bullets falling thick about them during the engagement.

General Luna is massing his army east of the railway, bringing up troops by trainloads in sight of the American lines.

The country between San Fernando and Calumpit is filling up with natives, who profess great friendship toward the Americans, but who are suspected by many of sympathy with the insurrection.

A Filipino connected with the American Hospital Corps was killed, it is supposed, by friendlies.

Cheered by Filipinos.

Manila, May 11.—The army ironclad gunboats Laguna de Bay and Cavadonga, under command of Capt. Grant, steamed up the Rio Grande to Calumpit, clearing the entire country of rebels from the bay upward.

When the vessels reached the Macabeebes country about a thousand of the inhabitants of the place assembled upon the banks of the river, cheering the expedition lustily.

Capt. Grant was given an ovation when he went ashore. Many of the Macabeebes expressed themselves as being anxious to enter the American service for the campaign against the Tagals.

Santa Fe Train Jerked On

Guthrie, Okla., May 11.—Two freight trains and a passenger train on the A. T. and S. F. Railroad were stopped by Sheriff Newblock and an armed force of deputies at Norman and chained to the track. The engines were locked and chained and traffic stopped.

This property was levied on to collect $7,000 taxes owned by the railroad company for 1898. The company tendered the County Treasurer all the taxes, less a mill levy for schools, which was in dispute, and the company now has a suit in the court enjoining collection. If the matter be not arranged at once all traffic on the Southern Division will be at a standstill.

When France's President Travels.

The French President travels free on the railways during his official tour of France, but when the return journey is concluded, his secretary calculates what it would have cost if paid for at the regular rates, and this sum is handed over to be distributed among the poorest paid of the railway men.

Capitals of the United States.

Lancaster was the capital of the United States from Sept. 27, 1777, to Sept. 30, 1777. The capital was also located for a time at Baltimore, York, Princeton, Annapolis and New York. In 1800 the seat of the Government was transferred permanently from Philadelphia to Washington.

Vase Candlesticks.

The woman who is fond of novelties for her table will rejoice to learn that candlesticks are now made with vase pedestals. The holder for the wax taper rises from a little bowl in which flowers or ferns may be held.

THE LATEST NEWS.

GENERAL MILES NOT STAYING SILENT.

Cincinnati, May 11.—The Enquirer will print an interview with H. R. Probasco, ex-United States District Attorney here, a relative of ex-Senator Sherman and recently counsel for General Miles. Probasco finds fault with the beef court verdict in the following:

"I have not read the full report, but have seen the synopsis of it. I was amused that three intelligent army officers, sitting as a court for weeks and examining several hundred witnesses, should have rendered such an illogical and uncertain decision. The decision amounts to the court finding that the beef packers were saints, sent to our soldiers with manna from heaven, and that General Miles was careless because he did not report the first vague rumor which came to his ears that this food was bad.

"The great majority of the papers and of the people, including the President (I know this from a conversation with him about three weeks since), believe that General Miles would not make a statement concerning any person or circumstance which he did not honestly believe to be well founded and true. "General Miles has no political ambition whatever, and he no more thinks of being a candidate for President, or any other office, than I do."

TO ELECT SENATORS BY POPULAR VOTE.

Richmond, Va., May 11.—At a mass meeting of Democrats from nearly every city and County in Virginia resolutions were adopted declaring in favor of the election of Senators by the people. The chair was directed to appoint a committee of twenty to start and carry on the campaign and to seek co-operation in other States.

The meeting took steps to have party primaries in Virginia until new amendments to the Constitution can be obtained.

The keynote of the speeches was that this change in the method of election is necessary because of the growth of corporations and trusts. John Goode, former Solicitor General of the United States, who was chairman, said it will be a battle of the people against trusts. Representative Jones said he had a letter from W. J. Bryan saying he approved of this movement and wanted to see it taken up by all other States.

The movement has its origin in opposition to United States Senator Martin, who is charged by his enemies with being too friendly toward corporations.

SIX LONE PRIVATES GREET INSPECTOR.

Rahway, N. J., May 11.—Company F of this city formerly of the Third New Jersey regiment, which has been attached to the Second regiment, is in a state of mutiny. Colonel D. B. Murphy of Camden, Inspector General, came to Rahway to inspect the company, preparatory to its being enrolled in the Second regiment, but only six men appeared before him in the armory. All the rest remained outside. The mutineers sent word to Colonel Murphy that they absolutely refused to serve under Captain Squire, and unless he was removed from the command of the organization they would sever their connection with it.

Colonel Murphy could do nothing in the matter but dismiss the six men who appeared for inspection. He will report the trouble to the State military authorities. It is said the members of the company may be court martialed and dishonorably discharged, the company disbanded and succeeded in the Second regiment by a company from some other place.

THE NEGRO WILL BE VINDICATED.

Nyack, May 11.—Speedy justice seems to be overtaking the authors of the outrage at Tallmans in this County on April 19, when Richard Bayless, a negro, was hanged by the neck to a tree by Martin Kelly and his two sons, Lawrence and Garret, of Monsey, until the negro confessed he had stolen money that Kelly had lost. The Rockland County Grand Jury indicted the Kellys, Martin and Garret, for assault in the first degree. Lawrence Kelly committed suicide some time after the hanging incident in a lodging house in New York.

Simultaneously with the indictment of his persecutors, the negro Bayless was freed from custody in the County jail, where he has been imprisoned since April 19. The Grand Jury refused to indict Bayless for robbery, but instead apparently believed his story that he had confessed to the stealing of the $61 which Kelly had lost because he feared that if he did not confess he would be killed.

VERDICT STANDS AS A WARNING.

Poughkeepsie, May 11.—Foster L. Cook, who was convicted of bigamy for marrying a second time after securing a divorce in Dakota from his first wife, was arraigned in the County Court. Judge Phillips, at the request of the jury, suspended sentence. The Judge said that, while Foster was not deserving of punishment because his offense was technical and unintentional, the verdict should stand as a warning to others who might make the same error.

THE UTE RESERVATION OPENING.

Durango, Col., May 11.—Two Indians have been brought here under arrest, charged with killing sheep and beating sheep herders on the Florida mesa, in the recently opened Ute reservation. The Indians are unusually sullen, and it is feared that serious trouble may yet result from the opening of a portion of their former reservation to settlement.

BOILER EXPLODES

Two Workmen in Hewitt's Trenton Iron Mill Likely to Die.

Trenton, May 11.—A large boiler in the Merchant iron mill of the New Jersey Steel & Iron Works, Abram S. Hewitt's mills, exploded and five men were injured, two of whom will probably die.

The injured men are: John Smith, 29 Turpin street, badly scalded; taken to St. Francis Hospital, not expected to live; Enoch C. Jenkins, 529 Morris avenue, back broken and scalded, not expected to live; Edward Gaggin, 320 Union street, severely scalded about the head, face and back; Charles Multop, Fall street, scalded severely about head and face. Antonio Masky, scalded about the body.

The men were preparing the boiler to start up the works. Fireman Smith was leaning over the boiler examining the fire, as he has done every working day for the past twenty-five years, when the boiler blew up. The building was shattered. A score of other workmen in the building escaped uninjured. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

Murderer Smiles at Evidence.

New York, May 11.—J. Neal Plumb, smiling and occasionally laughing outright at the evidence against him, sat in the crowded Coroner's court room listening to the testimony of many witnesses that he had in cold blood killed his aged enemy, Alexander Masterton, the banker.

The long statements which he had carefully prepared in advance of the murder, telling how he had been pursued for thirty-five years and thwarted at every step by Masterton, were produced in evidence, but Plumb, with the easy nonchalance of a clubman and a man of leisure, merely smiled.

The jury found Plumb responsible for the murder, and Coroner Rausch committed him to the Tombs without bail. Plumb bowed gracefully upon hearing the decision, and for the first time appeared to realize the gravity of his situation. He walked out of the room with head bowed.

Will Be Lynched If Caught

Helena, Ga., May 11.—The sheriff of Dodge, accompanied by a posse, is following a pack of bloodhounds through the country near here, chasing a negro. He will be lynched if caught. The negro, who is a stranger in this neighborhood, made an assault upon Mrs. Turner Smith, wife of a prosperous farmer living about five miles from here in Dodge County.

Mrs. Smith went to the spring, about 150 yards from her house, late in the afternoon for a bucket of water. As she reached the spring a negro sprang from hiding in the bushes and seized her. She fought him furiously, tearing both sleeves from his shirt. Her screams frightened the negro off, but she was almost insensible when he left her.

Raleigh Royally Received

Charleston, S. C. May 11.—The United States cruiser Raleigh steamed into the harbor while hundreds of whistles shrilled and the Government forts of Sullivan's Island fired salutes.

Thousands of Confederate veterans stood on the high battery wall and sent up cheer after cheer for Captain Coghlan, his crew and his ship.

The Mayor, citizen committees and Veterans went out to the Bar to welcome and escort the ship in. On board the cruiser Mayor Smythe made an address of welcome which was responded to by Captain Coghlan. Captain Coghlan and his staff were lunched at the Carolina Yacht Club.

Seven Burned to Death

Dalton, Ga., May 11.—A telephone message was received from Spring Place, the county seat of Murray county, ten miles distant, saying that the dwelling of Dr. Bagwell was burned last night and that Dr. Bagwell, five children and an old woman who lived in the house with him were burned to death. The cause of the fire is unknown. The first person to arrive on the scene saw Dr. Bagwell jump from his bed, pick up one of his children and start for the window. He was overcome before he reached it. Dr. Bagwell was the leading druggist of Spring Place. No one escaped from the house.

BLEW UP STREET CAR

Strikers in Duluth Place Dynamite on the Rails and Car is Smashed.

Duluth, May 11.—A westbound Superior street car was blown up by a stick of dynamite that had been placed on the track by strikers. The car was lifted three feet by the explosion and thrown over on its side. Ten passengers were in the car but none was badly hurt. Parts of the car were thrown thirty feet. The rails were spread and the pavement torn up.

Demands $150,000 From Columbia

Fort Scott, Kan., May 11.—After a confinement of about six years in a political prison in the Republic of Colombia, Archie McCarter, a civil engineer and contractor, prominent in this city until 1891, when he left for Yucatan, has just been liberated and returned here. He has made a demand upon the Colombian Government for $150,000 indemnity, and has gone to Washington to enlist the aid of the Government in collecting it.

Better Conditions in Samoa

Washington, May 11.—The following despatch was received at the Navy Department from Samoa:

"Auckland, May 10.

"Apia, May 3.

"Brutus arrived April 29. All quiet at Apia. Conditions affairs much improved. I have withdrawn marines from shore, their presence being required no longer. "KAUTZ."

Married Without Kaiser's Consent

Washington, May 11.—The failure of Adolph Von Bruening, the attache to the German Embassy, who married Mrs. Gordon McKay last month, to wait for the consent of the Government, will cost him his position. Mr. and Mrs. Von Bruening are now on their way across the ocean, and upon their arrival in Berlin his resignation will be tendered, according to request.

Gold Ship Wrecked

Seattle, Wash., May 11.—It now seems probable that the schooner Loyal, which sailed from Seattle one year ago for Kotzebue Sound, Alaska, with eleven persons on board, is lost.

MOLINEUX AGAIN HELD.

Appears Before Justice Travers on Charge of Having Attempted to Kill Cornish.

A VERY LIVELY QUARREL

Reports that District Attorney Gardner and His Assistant Osborne Are at Outs Over the Case.

Sensational Developments Expected and Case Against Molineux for the Alleged Murder of Mrs. Kate J. Adams is Not Closed—Gardner Did Not Shout "Huzza"—Why is Not Stated.

New York, May 11.—Roland B. Molineux, against whom the Grand Jury failed to find a true bill for the murder of Kate J. Adams, appeared before Presiding Justice William Travers Jerome of the Court of Special Sessions, to answer to the charge of assault with intent to kill Harry Cornish. Molineux, who was held in $10,000 bail on the assault charge by Justice Jerome spent the night in his old cell in the Tombs prison.

Major Gardiner has been looking around to find some excuse which would explain away the collapse of his case. One story current about the District Attorney's office was to the effect that he was trying to free himself of all responsibility in the matter. With this end in view, it was declared, he had placed the responsibility for the failure of the case on Assistant District Attorney Osborne. One rumor had it that Osborne would be asked to resign.

This request, it was understood, would be made because in Major Gardiner's opinion, Osborne antagonized the Grand Jury at the start and failed to present the evidence as it should have been presented.

"Osborne knows what he is about," said a friend of the Assistant District Attorney, "and he wants the evidence to come out so that the public may judge for itself whether or not he is at fault."

District Attorney Gardiner said a few days ago that should the Grand Jury refuse to indict Molineux he would throw up his hands and shout "Huzza!" But at last reports not a single huzza had been heard emanating from his private office.

"Sensational developments may be expected" said one of the Assistant District Attorneys this morning, "and the case against Molineux for the murder of Mrs. Adams is not closed by any means.

"If it appears in the examination today or at any future time that we have additional evidence against him all that we have to do is to apply to a Judge of the Court of General Sessions or to a Justice of the Supreme Court for an order for the resubmission of the case to the Grand Jury. If we present to the Judge or to the Justice additional evidence which, in his mind would warrant the finding an indictment, he may order the resubmission of the case.

"We expect that this will happen. In any event Molineux will undoubtedly be accused of the murder of Barnet. We are not through with him. We are convinced of his guilt, and we think that sufficient legal evidence was presented to the Grand Jury to warrant the finding of the indictment."

The tide turned against Roland B. Molineux again yesterday. Justice Jerome, in the Court of Special Sessions, refused to dismiss the charge against him of assault upon Harry Cornish, and Molineux was committed again to the Tombs without bail.

Molineux refused to sign the record of his commitment, thereby depriving himself of the right to be released on bail.

"We will not apply for bail," Lawyer Weeks asserted, hotly, "because we do not recognize the Court's right to hold this defendant."

BREAK IN CANAL

Embankment of Erie Canal Gives Way—Spencerport Under Water and Navigation Will Stop for Ten Days.

Spencerport, N. Y., May 11.—A break in the Erie Canal has been discovered at this point last night, and the water has been rushing in torrents through a breach in the banks, now thirty feet wide, out upon this village.

Great damage has been done to McCabe's lumber yards and buildings, and quantities of lumber have floated away. The cellars of all the stores on the east side of the main street are flooded six feet deep and caskets, boxes, hardware, &c., are piled up on the sidewalks.

A number of arms south of the village are completely submerged, and the live stock has been saved with much difficulty. The lower part of the village is a vast lake, cut off from the southern portion. Navigation cannot be resumed for at least ten days.

Americans as Bull Fighters.

Austin, Texas, May 11.—A private letter received here from Durango, Mexico, gives an account of the first bull fight in Mexico at which all the performers were Americans. The fight took place at Durango last Saturday, and was witnessed by the largest audience yet seen there at such exhibitions.

The performers were D. M. Shaw, William Fisher, E. E. Shaw, Percy Sharpe, T. W. Tisdale, Roy Kessell, J. W. Dobbins, H. L. Benson, Carlos Chapman, W. W. McVea and D. W. Barnes, all well known in that section of Mexico. The bulls were noted for their ferocity. Four bulls were dispatched, one after another, by Barnes and Shaw. Murphy had a narrow escape from death. He was caught on the leg by the sharp horns of one of the bulls and carried several times around the arena.

The fight had been advertised throughout Mexico for several weeks, and the American clergy in that country preached numerous sermons against it.

The Trolley Car as a Health Giver.

The great mass of citizens are wont to look upon trolley lines as mere transporters of human freight, and the current, as well as the trolley, things to be avoided, if possible. And this, regardless of the great strides made within recent years in electrotherapeutics and the invaluable benefits its promoters have conferred upon mankind. The Electrical Engineer takes up this subject and discourses on it in a way that is as full of suggestion as of interest. It says:

A young physician in a recent conversation made the assertion that the number of children who actually owe their lives to the electric cars may be estimated by thousands. In support of this we quote his own words: "You can hardly calculate," said he, "the good that a ride into the country does a baby which is fairly prostrated with heat. It is possible to find along the lines of the electric railways places where the temperature is 20 degrees lower than in town. The cool, fresh breeze after a stifling hot day in a close room in town means a new lease of life for a child. I wonder that some fresh air society doesn't charter a car on some of the lines and reserve it in the evenings for mothers with sickly little children, letting them ride free. I don't know of any charity that would be cheaper, and I don't know of any that would do more good here where a 5 cent ticket puts within reach of everybody a luxury our grandfathers couldn't have had for a million dollars."

As to the extent to which this desire to get fresh air is carried, it is encouraging to note the quick perception of Philadelphians in the down town districts, who, instead of sleeping in their overheated homes at night, now leave their homes at about 10 o'clock, board a trolley car, and in about an hour they have reached a spot in the woods where there is a difference of temperature af about ten degrees. Women and children go as well as men, and it is a novel sight to see hundreds of them camped about in the woods like so many traveling bands of gypsies. After sleeping or resting in the woods for several hours they return to the city and engage in their day's labor.

The term "deadly" as applied to the trolley must soon be altered to "health giving" among the populace.

PRINCE HOHENLOHE.

Prince Hohenlohe, chancellor of the German empire, is still vigorous, though 80 years of age on March 31. He has been minister of state and premier for thirty-two years. His simplicity of dress and manner is attractive. He is proud of the fact that he never has worn gold braid and other gewgaws, so much affected by European officials.

To have been a member of so important an official body as the Board of Freeholders of Union County for thirty-one years, and to have served twelve years consecutively in the presiding officer's chair, is an honor that falls to the lot of few men. But such is the distinguished consideration in which J. Frank Hubbard, of Plainfield, is held by the voters of the city and his colleagues in the county legislature. That the selection of Mr. Hubbard as Director of the Freeholders for another year is eminently fit goes without saying when one knows his admirable qualifications for the position.

Our esteemed friend, the Hon. Mr. Barrows, of the Third ward, indulged in one of his customary tirades against The Daily Press this morning because of our comments on his letter addressed to S. D. Drake a few days ago. Among some of the pleasant compliments of the Third ward solon was that there is no one competent of "thinking" in The Daily Press office. Very kind of you, Mr. Barrows, but we have to say that we are all wearing the same sized head-gear as of yore, a condition that scarcely seems to prevail in a certain place in the Third ward.

The address of Bishop Grant before the conference of the A. M. E. Zion church, a summary of which is given in the news columns of today's Press, abounds with solid wisdom for the colored folks. The Negro that would win the esteem and praise of his white brethren cannot do better than absorb some of the good thoughts expressed by the Bishop, and put them into practical operation in his own conduct.

What has become of that interesting bit of inside political business that Editor Runyon promised to tell us of if we expressed the desire to hear it? Come, Brother Runyon, speak out.

With a cool $100,000,000 in his possession who wouldn't be a philanthropist?

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

One of the state papers says that as Mr. Codding is to be deputy clerk of the supreme court nothing more will be heard of him as a candidate for senator in opposition to Judge Cross. When was Mr. Codding every a veritable candidate as against Judge Cross? A little something was heard of such a candidacy last fall; but it was only a little political scheme, not a real candidacy. Mr. Codding was not supposed to be in it very deeply on his own behalf, but at the instance of others.—Elizabeth Journal.

When at sixty years a man can sell out his business for $150,000,000 he can afford to devote the remainder of his life to philanthropy. Mr. Carnegie has, it is claimed, at various times given to public and charitable objects $12,000,000. This is a considerable sum, just last year's earnings of the Carnegie Steel Company. In proportion to their respective means there are hosts of men in moderate circumstances to whom the title of philanthropist can be applied with greater justice than to Mr. Carnegie, so far as the latter has yet earned it.—Newark News.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

Collector James A. Martin is now experiencing little trouble with those affected by the Martin Act, although occasionally one drops in and stirs up a little fuss over their bill and say that they will not pay until they're satisfied that they owe the money. One man remarked yesterday that after awhile a poor man would not be able to own a home in Plainfield if the present gait was continued.

* * * * *

Mrs. Wm. H. H. Paine, of this city, was taken to the hospital yesterday to undergo an operation, but before she went she sent for James Q. Miles, of Somerset street, stating that she wanted to see him. When he called she handed him a small package, and upon opening it he found two ambrotypes, one of himself and one of his bride. In a circle over the pictures appeared the names of the bride and groom and the date of their marriage, August 12th, 1860. Mr. Miles prizes the pictures very highly. He lost track of the pictures and for years could get no trace of them. Years ago Mr. and Mrs Miles boarded with Mrs. Paine and Mr. Miles gave the pictures to Mrs. Paine for safe-keeping, but he entirely forgot the circumstances.

* * * * *

A Philadelphia real estate man, when going through a vacant house the other evening to see that all was well, heard a slight noise behind him. Turning slightly, he saw the form of a man. As the broker was not armed, he did not like the idea of meeting a burglar in combat, and, besides, he is very timid, so he rushed to the door and fumbled with the lock, all the time yelling at the top of his lungs. When he had got the door opened he looked back, and then saw that the "burglar" was really his own reflection in the large drawing room mirror. He had no sooner made his discovery than he was seized by two policemen, who were attracted by his screams, and it took nearly a half hour for him to explain that he was not a housebreaker himself.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

Full of military enthusiasm and action the "Red Cross Nurse" proved a pleasing attraction at Music Hall last night as presented by the Mitchell players. The piece depicted many scenes of war, and was carried with a dash and spirit that gave it a realistic touch. Tonight "The Boy From Boston" will be presented. Manager Edwards is making special arrangements for a successful reception to the Elmore Sisters after the matinee Saturday afternoon, when the admirers of the clever little people will be invited to make their personal acquaintance on the stage.

DOES COFFEE AGREE WITH YOU?

If not, drink Grain-O—made from pure grains. A lady writes: "The first time I made Grain-O I did not like it but after using it for one week nothing would induce me to go back to coffee." It nourishes and feeds the system. The children can drink it freely with great benefit. It is the strengthening substance of pure grains. Get a package today from your grocer, follow the directions in making it and you will have a delicious and healthful table beverage for old and young. 15 and 25c.

Woodhull & Martin's.

An ever broadening, ever deepening current of traffic is flowing through, our immense establishment. The constant opening of new channels of business is rapidly inundating us with a freshet of out-of-town business. All this goes to prove that our efforts to make our store an ideal one in which to shop are being more and more appreciated. These growing conditions are peculiarly gratifying to us, as many predictions of our failure to make a success on the lines along which we have been working have been freely made. But we know and have known that the people of Plainfield and vicinity appreciate and will support a first-class establishment, that they will respond to fair treatment, and prefer new, fresh, clean, honest merchandise.

The Summer Season.

The warm weather is now due, and the wise housekeeper will make prompt preparations for Summer comforts.

For Summer Floor Coverings we would suggest Straw Matting. A large shipment of new, fresh mattings gives us an unusually attractive line from which to select. Goods were imported by Arnold Constable & Co, a guarantee of their reliability. Extra Heavy China Mattings in small neat patterns, closely woven of heavy straw they are suggestion of extraordinary wear. Superfine Japanese Mattings, woven with linen warp. Designs are all orginal, ranging from very small, dainty figures to more elaborate carpet effects. All are peculiarly quaint and oriental in appearance. We are making a great many Piazza Rugs from Cocoa Mattings. Ends are finished with corrugated Rubber. They prevent in large measure the marring of paint. We have the new grass carpets with colored warps for the same purpose.

Slightly Damaged By Water.

47 very fine men's suits were slightly damaged by water in our store through the neglect of one of Mr. Stillman's tenants having caused an overflow in the sink and the result was that an entire lot on one of our tables were slightly wet. The table that got wet is in the rear end of the store; the water came through the ceiling. We will place this lot of suits on a separate table and we will sell them at about 15c to 25c on the dollar.

They have all been dried and pressed and are now in just as good a condition as though they had never been wet.

They MUST be sold on Wednesday and Thursday, must have the room for other goods. Come at once, first come, first served.

We expect to sell all these suits very fast as they will go very cheap.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 10—Mrs. William Conley, who fell down during the winter and broke her leg, is able to be around again with the help of a cane.

The cinder sidewalks which are being laid over town are making very good walks. The cinders pack well, and after a few days form a firm, hard surface to walk upon.

Mrs. H. L. Terry and daughter Helen are visiting Mrs. Terry's sister, Mrs. Sherman Cooley, of Flemington.

The Watchung Water Company have about completed laying their pipes along the old stage road.

Steps will be taken to prosecute those people who persist in riding their wheels on the sidewalk.

Rev. A. I. Martine is erecting a new house on Front street, directly in the rear of his present residence.

W. N. Apgar has begun the erection of a new house on Front street next door to William Wyckoff's.

Miss Cox, a school teacher of Plainfield, has been visiting Mrs. J. G. Taylor for a few days.

Miss Sadie Giles has returned from a visit with relatives at Long Branch and Ocean Grove.

Bernard Sirisky has returned from a visit with relatives in Raritan and Somerville.

Rev. Father Metz, of Rahway, called on Mr. and Mrs. Bonhan yesterday afternoon.

Miss Julia Hardman has purchased a new wheel and is fast learning to ride it.

Miss Annie Abbott spent Tuesday with Mrs. George W. Abbott, of Somerville.

Mrs. Philip Smith has returned from a pleasant visit with relatives at Belvidere.

Adam Dealaman spent Tuesday in Newark.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 11—A company of gypsies are encamped in Mountainside, near the schoolhouse, and are doing considerable business in the way of horse trading and fortune telling. Yesterday a couple of horse traders from Scotch Plains, who thought that they had been worsted in a trade, started to take satisfaction out of the campers by kicking down tents and upsetting things generally. The gypsies rallied and the disturbers left suddenly.

Pluries tax warrants for the collection of delinquent taxes have been issued by Judge Clark and placed in the hands of Henry Cook, special constable, for collection. All taxes due on personal property must be paid during this month or they will be sold at auction. All poll taxes due must be paid this month also, or a trip to the county jail will be the result. The Township Committee is tired of borrowing money when there is so much due the township in back taxes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Stanton Pentz, who have been visiting Mrs. Pentz's grandfather, Charles Kyte, have returned to their home in Bergen Point.

Mrs. Darby and Mrs. Needham, of Plainfield, were the guests of their mother, Mrs. John R. Marsh, yesterday.

Mrs. John R. Morey and son, have returned from a pleasant visit with Mrs. Morey's parents in Brooklyn.

Fanwood B. and E. A. held their regular monthly meeting in their rooms last evening.

Miss Walker, of Elizabeth, was the guest Wednesday of Mrs. Frank Hosinger.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence of The Daily Press)

Westfield, May 11—At a meeting of the Township Committee of Cranford held Tuesday evening Paul Q. Oliver, of Westfield, was appointed township attorney at a salary of $100 per year. Mr. Oliver has been the attorney of the Westfield Committee for the past year and has given very good satisfaction, and his appointment at Cranford indicates that his worth has been seen by the Committee of that township.

There was a warm time on Dudley avenue yesterday morning, when a horse owned by Voehl's bakery ran away. The horse started from the corner of Lawrence avenue and ran down to Broad street, where he was caught by Warren Woodruff before any damage had been done.

The Westfield Local Union, Christian Endeavor, will hold a rally in the Presbyterian church May 26th, at which the address will be delivered by a member of the Yale Band.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address.
